REQUEST FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE

I. INTRODUCTION

NOTE: Appellant requests this Court take special notice of Judicial Notice Exhibit 25, the case of Flowers and Sons Development Corp. et al., v. Municipal Court of and the City and County of San Francisco, 86 Cal.App.3d 818 (1976) in further support of his Ex parte Application for Reconsideration regarding his jurisdictional challenge as it provides further supporting case law and evidence that the limited civil division and the appellate division of this Court lack subject matter jurisdiction because CCP § 85(a), which precludes jurisdiction for disputes over $35k, includes the "value of the property", in this case ~1.5 million, when title disputes are involved. In Flowers, the Court of Appeal held that "if there is present in a case any material issue involving the title of real property which property is over the value of $5,000 [present day limit $35k], the superior court has jurisdiction over the action." Flowers directly refutes Respondents' Opposition argument that "the value of the subject real property does not determine the amount in controversy" (Opp'n ¶ 5, p. 3).

The Flowers Court held that a municipal court lost jurisdiction when an amended complaint introduced a fraudulent conveyance claim affecting real property title, as such issues fell outside its authority under Code of Civil Procedure (CCP) § 86(c), which limited municipal court jurisdiction to cases with an amount in controversy of $5,000 or less and excluded title disputes. This aligns with Appellant's contentions that the UD Court and this Court lack jurisdiction over this case due to a title dispute and an amount in controversy (~$1.5 million) exceeding the $35,000 limit for limited civil cases under CCP §§ 85(a) and 580(b)(3). The relevance of Flowers is further strengthened by its emphasis on the mandatory transfer of cases exceeding jurisdictional limits, as required by CCP § 396. While Flowers was decided under the municipal court system (replaced by the unified superior court system in 1998) and a $5,000 threshold (now $35,000 for limited civil cases), its principle that the value of the property is considered in determining the "amount of controversy" when an underlying title dispute is involved and that courts must transfer cases involving title disputes or amounts exceeding jurisdictional limits. Flowers directly supports Appellants claim that the Appellate Division's refusal to transfer his appeal, denial of his Application to File an Oversized Brief, and order to submit his brief to this Court were without fundamental jurisdiction and violated due process.

This document is filed in this Court to support Appellant's jurisdictional challenge as stated in his Verified Opening Brief ("VOB"), Application for Transfer, Ex parte Application for Reconsideration and Reply to Opposition, all incorporated as if fully set forth herein.

Appellant Adam Bereki ("Appellant") respectfully requests that this Court take judicial notice of the following documents pursuant to California Evidence Code § 451(a) requiring this Court to take notice of: decisions, records, and official acts of Courts of this State and the United States (RJN, Ex.'s 1–22, 24–25, excepting Ex.'s 14 and 16), § 451(c),(d) rules of professional conduct for members of the bar and rules of practice and procedure for the courts of this state (RJN Ex.s 26 and 27). Notice is further requested pursuant to § 452 (c) and § 453 for the official acts the Orange County Clerk-Recorder (RJN Ex. 14 and 16). These documents are official records of court proceedings, official acts, and judicial precedents, and judicial notice is requested for the existence of the documents themselves and the statements contained therein, but not for the truth or validity of the statements, as they are relevant to Appellant's Verified Opening Brief, appealing the void unlawful detainer judgment in Case No. 30-2025-01459684 and related orders in Case No. 30-2015-00805807.

DOCUMENTS FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE

1. Judicial Notice Exhibit 1: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Certified copies of (a) Minute Orders for Trial dated March 27, 2017, and March 28, 2017; (b) Judgment Order dated April 20, 2017; and (c) Authenticated Copy of Docket from occourts.org as of May 25, 2025 (certification pending). Relevance: Evidences the trial court's imposition of a ~$930,000 penalty under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(a) and (b) without evidence of profits, damages, or criminal safeguards, initiating a chain of remedy denials and financial ruin leading to the wrongful foreclosure and unlawful detainer (UD) action at issue in this appeal. The judgment's voidness due to lack of jurisdiction and due process violations underpins the title dispute that was concealed from the UD proceedings (VOB pp. 19-26).
2. Judicial Notice Exhibit 2: California Fourth District Court of Appeal, Case No. G055075: Certified copies of (a) Unanimous Opinion affirming Superior Court Judgment dated October 31, 2018; (b) Rehearing Denial dated November 20, 2018; and (c) Authenticated Copy of Docket from appellate.courts.ca.gov/district-courts/4dca as of May 25, 2025. Relevance: Demonstrates the appellate court's affirmance of the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, ignoring arguments on lack of prosecutorial authority and penal nature, perpetuating extrinsic fraud and due process violations that caused financial ruin, forced bankruptcy, and the wrongful foreclosure underlying the UD action (VOB pp. 19-26).

3. Judicial Notice Exhibit 3: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Authenticated Copy (certification pending) of Minute Order Denying Motion to Vacate dated March 15, 2019. Relevance: Evidences the post-appeal refusal to vacate the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, entrenching extrinsic fraud and denying a remedy, which contributed to the financial distress and wrongful foreclosure at issue in the UD appeal (VOB pp. 19-26).
4. Judicial Notice Exhibit 4: Supreme Court of California, Petition for Review, Case No. S252954: Certified copy of Petition Denied En Banc dated January 30, 2019; Authenticated Copy of Docket from supreme.courts.ca.gov as of June 11, 2025. Relevance: Illustrates the state's highest court's refusal to review the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, denying a remedy for jurisdictional and Constitutional errors, contributing to the cascade of harm leading to the wrongful foreclosure and UD action (VOB pp. 19-26).
5. Judicial Notice Exhibit 5: United States Supreme Court, Petition for Writ of Certiorari, Case No. 18-1416: Certified Copy of denial of Petition Denied dated October 7, 2019. Relevance: Shows the federal judiciary's refusal to hear Appellant's certiorari petition, blocking relief for Constitutional violations in Case

No. 30-2015-00805807, exacerbating harm that led to the foreclosure and UD action (VOB pp. 19-26).

6. Judicial Notice Exhibit 6: U.S. District Court for the Central District of California, Case No. 8:19-CV-02050: Certified copies of (a) Dismissal of Independent Action in Equity to Vacate Void Judgment and Challenge Constitutionality of State Statute dated February 6, 2020; (b) Denial of Request for Assistant Counsel dated November 12, 2019; (c) Court Dismissal of in forma pauperis dated February 27, 2020; and (d) Docket from pacer.gov as of May 25, 2025. Relevance: Demonstrates the federal district court's dismissal of Appellant's action to vacate the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment under Rooker-Feldman, denying a remedy and contributing to the financial ruin and foreclosure underlying the UD appeal (VOB pp. 19-26).
7. Judicial Notice Exhibit 7: United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, Case No. 20-55181: Authenticated Copy (certification pending) of Dismissal of Appeal as "frivolous" dated November 12, 2020, and Docket from pacer.gov as of May 25, 2025. Relevance: Evidences the federal appellate court's summary dismissal of the Case No. 8:19-CV-02050 appeal, denying a fair hearing and ignoring new authority (Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71 (2020)), perpetuating harm that led to the foreclosure and UD action (VOB pp. 19-26).
8. Judicial Notice Exhibit 8: United States Supreme Court: Authenticated Copy of Clerk Refusal to File Emergency Petition for Original Writ of Error and/or Non-Statutory Habeas Corpus dated September 22, 2021. Relevance: Highlights administrative barriers to federal relief for the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, underscoring systemic denial of remedies that contributed to the foreclosure and UD action (VOB pp. 19-26).

9. Judicial Notice Exhibit 9: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2022-01271693: Authenticated Copy of Emergency Ex Parte Application for Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus – Denied. Relevance: Shows continued state court denials of collateral relief for the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, supporting equitable tolling and absence of remedies, which led to the foreclosure and UD action (VOB pp. 19-26).
10. Judicial Notice Exhibit 10: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2022-01271693: Authenticated Copy of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus – Denied. Relevance: Further evidences state court refusals to address the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment's constitutional defects, reinforcing systemic denial of remedies leading to the foreclosure and UD action (VOB pp. 19-26).
11. Judicial Notice Exhibit 11: United States Supreme Court, Case No. 22A426: Authenticated Copy of (a) Application for Emergency Stay Pending the Filing of Original Writs of Quo Warranto, Mandamus, and Habeas Corpus and Court website Denial by Justice Kagan dated November 15, 2022; and (b) Certified Copy of Denial by Court dated January 9, 2023. Relevance: Confirms the federal judiciary's rejection of emergency stays, leaving Appellant without recourse and contributing bankruptcy, foreclosure ,and UD action (VOB pp. 19-26).
12. Judicial Notice Exhibit 12: United States Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California, Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC: Authenticated Copy of Discharge

Order dated March 27, 2023, and Docket from pacer.gov as of May 25, 2025. Relevance: Illustrates the financial devastation caused by the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, with the discharge order highlighting violations of the bankruptcy discharge injunction (11 U.S.C. § 524(a)) through foreclosure, underpinning the UD action's title dispute (VOB pp. 19-26).

13. Judicial Notice Exhibit 13: California Court of Appeal, Second Appellate District, Case Nos. B326780 and B328264: Authenticated Copy of Denial of Permission to File Amicus Brief [and request for intervention] dated July 2, 2024. Relevance: Evidences the Second Appellate District's denial of Appellant's request to file an amicus brief or intervene in Case Nos. B326780 and B328264, further demonstrating the systemic denial of judicial remedies for the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, which contributed to the financial ruin, wrongful foreclosure, and UD action by continued denial of remedy (VOB pp. 19-26).
14. Judicial Notice Exhibit 14: Certified Copy of Trustee's Deed Upon Sale, Clerk-Recorder for the County of Orange, filed January 30, 2025, Certified. Relevance: Evidences the purported sale of Appellant's property at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA, for $371,688 to Respondent Hou (VOB p.71).
15. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Authenticated Copy of Ex Parte Application for Emergency Stay of Unlawful Detainer Action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684), Answer to Complaint, Verified Motion to Vacate Void Judgment, Complaint filed March 14, 2025 (without signatures, exhibits omitted). Relevance: Demonstrates Appellant's efforts to challenge the void UD judgment in Case No. 30-2025-

01459684 by raising the title dispute and jurisdictional defects stemming from the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, wrongful foreclosure, and bankruptcy violations, supporting the appeal's claims of due process violations (VOB passim)

16. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.1: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Certified Minute Order (March 18, 2025) – Denying Ex Parte Relief without substantive explanation, refusing to recognize Answer, Motion to Vacate, and Complaint. Relevance: Evidences Judge Hesseltine's summary denial of relief, ignoring unopposed evidence of title defects and fraud, perpetuating jurisdictional errors and extrinsic fraud in the UD action (VOB pp. 52-56).
17. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.2: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Authenticated Copy of Ex Parte Application to Vacate March 18, 2025 Order, Stay UD Action, Restore Possession (May 21, 2025). Relevance: Shows Appellant's continued efforts to seek relief from the void UD judgment and restore possession, highlighting ongoing harm and jurisdictional defects in Case No. 30-2025-01459684 (VOB pp.74-77).
18. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.3: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Certified Minute Order (May 22, 2025) – Summarily Denying Ex Parte. Relevance: Demonstrates Judge Hesseltine's refusal to address unopposed evidence of jurisdictional defects and fraud, entrenching due process violations in the UD action (VOB pp.74-77).
19. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.4: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Authenticated Copy of Motion to Vacate (Independent Action in Equity) (Reporter's Transcript omitted). Relevance: Supports Appellant's equitable challenge to the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, which caused the foreclosure and UD action, evidencing jurisdictional defects and extrinsic fraud (VOB pp. 19-26).

20. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.4A: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Authenticated Copy of First Amended Declaration of Adam Bereki for Motion to Vacate (Independent Action in Equity). Relevance: Provides sworn statements supporting the equitable action to vacate the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, reinforcing jurisdictional and constitutional arguments underlying the UD appeal (VOB pp. 19-26).
21. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.4B: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Authenticated Copy of Second Amended Declaration of Adam Bereki for Motion to Vacate (Independent Action in Equity). Relevance: Further supports the equitable action with updated declarations, evidencing the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment's impact on the foreclosure and UD action (VOB pp. 19-26).
22. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.5: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Authenticated Copy of Humphreys Opposition to Reply for Motion to Vacate (Independent Action in Equity). Relevance: Evidences opposition to Appellant's equitable action in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, relevant to assessing the procedural history and ongoing disputes impacting the UD appeal (VOB pp. 19-26).

23. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.6: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Authenticated Copy of Reply to Opposition for Motion to Vacate (Independent Action in Equity). Relevance: Demonstrates Appellant's response to opposition, supporting arguments for vacating the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, which caused the foreclosure and UD action (VOB pp. 19-26).
24. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.7: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Certified Minute Order Denying Vacatur (June 26, 2025). Relevance: Shows Judge Hesseltine's denial of the motion to vacate the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, perpetuating jurisdictional errors and due process violations related to the UD action's underlying title dispute (VOB pp. 19-26).
25. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.8A: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Authenticated copy of Verified Statement to Disqualify Judge David Hesseltine. Relevance: Evidences Appellant's attempt to address potential judicial bias in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, relevant to due process claims in the UD appeal (VOB pp. 19-26).
26. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.8B: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807: Authenticated copy of Order Striking Statement of Disqualification and Verified Answer, Judge David Hesseltine. Relevance: Demonstrates the court's refusal to consider disqualification in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, supporting claims of procedural unfairness (VOB p.26)

27. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.8C: California Fourth District Court of Appeal, Case No. G065772: Authenticated Copy of Writ of Mandate, First Amended and Exhibits. Relevance: Shows Appellant's attempt to seek appellate relief for judicial disqualification in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, evidencing ongoing procedural challenges relevant to the UD case (VOB p.26).
28. Judicial Notice Exhibit 15.8D: California Fourth District Court of Appeal, Case No. G065772: Authenticated Copy of Petition Summarily Denied by Justices Motoike, Delaney, Scott (August 7, 2025). Relevance: Evidences the appellate court's denial of relief in Case No. G065772, perpetuating denial of remedies and further evidencing bias (VOB p.26).
29. Judicial Notice Exhibit 16: Orange County Clerk-Recorder, Certified Abstract of Judgment, Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807. Relevance: Demonstrates the enforcement mechanism of the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment, causing financial and property harm through the foreclosure underlying the UD action and evidencing notice to Respondent of liens effecting the validity of the title to the property (VOB p. 47: Respondent is not a bona fide purchaser).
30. Judicial Notice Exhibit 17: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2025-01459684: Authenticated Copy of Updated Proof of Service Re: Ex Parte Hearing. Relevance: Evidences procedural compliance in the UD action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684), relevant to challenging the enforcement of the void judgment (VOB p.73 erroneous notice claim).

16. Judicial Notice Exhibit 18: Superior Court of California for the County of Orange: Authenticated Copy of Conversation with Deputy Clerk, occourt.org chat. Relevance: Provides evidence of procedural interactions with court staff, supporting claims of systemic barriers to relief in the UD action, including obstruction of filings (VOB pp. 69-70 Deputy Clerk's continued ministerial breaches– denial of petition for redress).
17. Judicial Notice Exhibit 19: U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California, Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC: Authenticated Copy of Citizens Bank's Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from Automatic Stay. Relevance: Shows Citizens Bank's reliance on the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment lien to justify foreclosure, violating bankruptcy protections and contributing to the UD action's title dispute (VOB pp. 27-39).
18. Judicial Notice Exhibit 20: U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California, Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC: Authenticated Copy of Debtors Responses and Objections to Citizens Bank Notice of Motion and Motion for Relief from Automatic Stay; Declared Statement of Intent of Adam Bereki to Commence Adversary Proceedings. Relevance: Evidences Appellant's efforts to challenge the invalid lien in bankruptcy, supporting claims of due process violations and harm leading to the UD action (VOB pp. 27-39).
19. Judicial Notice Exhibit 21: U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California, Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC: Authenticated Copy of Order Granting Motion for Relief from Automatic Stay. Relevance: Demonstrates the bankruptcy court's premature grant of stay relief, enabling the wrongful foreclosure by relying on the void Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment lien, central to the UD action's title dispute (VOB pp. 27-39).

20. Judicial Notice Exhibit 22: U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California, Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC: Authenticated Copy of Order Granting Motion to Avoid Lien. Relevance: Confirms the avoidance of the Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment lien for impairing the homestead exemption, supporting claims of bankruptcy violations and invalid foreclosure in the UD appeal (VOB pp. 27-39).
21. Judicial Notice Exhibit 23: U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California, Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC: Authenticated Copy of Declaration of Adam Bereki. Relevance: Provides sworn statements challenging the Case No. 30-2015-00805807 judgment lien's validity, supporting claims of financial devastation and wrongful foreclosure in the UD appeal (VOB pp. 27-39).
22. Judicial Notice Exhibit 24: Flowers and Sons Development Corp. et al., v. Municipal Court of and the City and County of San Francisco, 86 Cal.App.3d 818 (1976). Relevance: Provides legal precedent supporting Appellant's arguments that jurisdictional defects and due process violations render judgments void, applicable to the UD action and Appeal.
23. Judicial Notice Exhibit 25: Rules of Professional Conduct for Members of the State Bar of California, adopted pursuant to California Business and Professions Code § 6076, as published on the official website of the State Bar of California. Relevance: Provides the ethical standards governing attorney conduct, relevant to evaluating Henry Paloci's misconduct in filing an improper unlawful detainer complaint, unnotified default request, and fraudulent writ application despite knowledge of the title dispute and jurisdictional defects in Case No. 30-2025-01459684, constituting extrinsic fraud and violations of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 6068(a)–(d)

24. Judicial Notice Exhibit 26: Rules of Practice and Procedure for the Courts of this State, adopted by the Judicial Council of California, as published on the official website of the California Courts. Relevance: Establishes the procedural standards governing judicial officers and court personnel, relevant to evaluating the misconduct of Judge David Hesseltine, Commissioner Carmen Snuggs-Spraggins, and Deputy Clerks in Case No. 30-2025-01459684 and Case No. 30-2015-00805807, including summary denials without reasoned explanation, obstruction of filings, and unauthorized rulings, which violated due process and perpetuated jurisdictional defects.

LEGAL BASIS FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE

Pursuant to California Evidence Code §§ 451(a), 452(c),(d), this Court may (or shall as required by § 451 and 453) take judicial notice of records of any court of this state or of the United States, including minute orders, judgments, opinions, denials, and dockets, as these are official acts of the judicial department. Judicial notice is requested for the existence of these documents and the statements contained therein, but not for the truth or validity of the statements, consistent with California Evidence Code § 450. These documents are relevant to Appellant's Verified Opening Brief, Application for Transfer/Re-Assignment as they demonstrate the procedural history, prior judicial actions, and official acts underlying the claims of jurisdictional defects, extrinsic fraud, and Constitutional violations in Case No. 30-2025-01459684 and related Case No. 30-2015-00805807, including the void 2015 judgment, wrongful foreclosure, and UD proceedings.

REQUEST

Appellant respectfully requests that the Court take judicial notice of the above-listed documents as allowed or required by law, for the existence of the documents and the statements contained therein, but not for the truth of the statements, as they are relevant to the Appellant's Verified Opening Brief filed concurrently herewith.

Date: October 16, 2025

DECLARATION OF ADAM BEREKI IN SUPPORT OF REQUEST FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE

I, Adam Bereki, declare under the laws of California that the following is true and correct:

1. The documents listed in the concurrently filed Request for Judicial Notice (Judicial Notice Exhibits 1–23) are true and correct copies of official court records, judicial precedents, or records of the Office of the Orange County Clerk-Recorder, except for any bates numbering or non-substantive marks I may have added for reference.
2. Certain exhibits are certified, while others are authenticated copies, as noted, with certified documents in some instances not available due to financial constraints consistent with my approved fee waiver status. I accessed certain records as indicated via official court websites (e.g., occourts.org, appellate.courts.ca.gov, supreme.courts.ca.gov, supremecourt.gov, pacer.gov), as noted.

3. These exhibits are incorporated by reference into the Appellant's Verified Opening Brief and support arguments regarding lack of subject matter and procedural jurisdiction, extrinsic fraud, fraud on the court, and the exhaustion of state and federal remedies in challenging the void judgments in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 and Case No. 30-2025-01459684.

Signed on October 16, 2025, at Las Vegas, Nevada.

2nd day of trial

At 9:55 a.m. Court reconvenes with plaintiff(s), defendant(s) and counsel present as noted above.

At 9:57 a.m. Mr. William G. Bissell presents closing argument on behalf of Cross-Complainants/Defendants, Karen & Gary Humphreys.

At 10:12 a.m. Mr. J. Scott Russo presents closing argument on behalf of Cross-Defendant, The Spartan Associates, Inc..

Mr. Adam Bereki waived closing argument.

At 10:19 a.m. Court declares a recess.

At 10:52 a.m. Court reconvenes with plaintiff(s), defendant(s) and counsel present as noted above.

Having fully considered the arguments of all parties, both written and oral, as well as the evidence presented, the Court finds and determines that Mr. Adam Bereki is the contractor and he does not possess contractor's license.

The Court finds judgment for the Cross Complainants, Gary & Karen Humphreys (First Cause of Action, for Disgorgement of Funds Paid) and against cross-defendant, Adam Bereki.

The Court invites counsels to meet and discuss the plan for the remaining cause of actions and the complaint.

At 11:19 a.m. Court declares a recess.

At 11:37 a.m. Court reconvenes with plaintiff(s), defendant(s) and counsel present as noted above.

Legal discussions held with regards to remaining cross-complaint cause of actions and the complaint as set forth on the record.

Counsels are to resume discussions during lunch hour and report to the Court at 1:45 p.m.

At 11:47 p.m. Court declares a recess.

At 1:48 p.m. Court reconvenes with plaintiff(s), defendant(s) and counsel present as noted above.

Counsels reached an agreement as set forth on the record.

Mr. J. Scott Russo presents an offer of proof on plaintiff's complaint that if called Mr. Adam Bereki would be the witness and the testimony would be that Plaintiff, Spartan Associates had rendered goods and services to the defendants. The fair market value for the services and goods of $82,821.53 to be backed up by invoices and testimony about the reasonable value of those services that would be the first cause of action Quantum Merit. For the 2nd cause of action, go and in hand that it was an open book accounting was rendered to the defendants that they were given the accountings and the sum was $82,821.53 that was still due.

Based on Mr. Russo's offer of proof, the Court understand that those claims are based upon the view of plaintiff Spartan Associates, Inc. was the general contractor on the project. The Court finds that Spartan Associates does not have standing as determined earlier today that Mr.Bereki was the purported general contractor on the contract. Spartan Associates, Inc. may have been apparently substituted but it is certainly not with the permission or agreement of the defendants. Based on that, the Court finds judgment for the defendants on the complaint.

The parties have discussed, agreed and stipulates on the record as follows: The entirety of remaining causes of action on the First Amended Cross-Complaint will be dismissed without prejudice. If judgment on the first cause of action becomes final, the dismissal without prejudice will be converted to dismissal with prejudice. Pending judgment on the first cause of action becoming final, the statute of limitations on the re-filing of an action of the dismissed causes of action is waived. If a new action is filed on the dismissed causes of action , discovery deemed completed and will not be re-opened and the newly filed case will be consolidated with the remanded case for trial.

Pursuant to Mr. Bissell's Motion, the Court orders the remaining causes of action, negligence, fraud, alter ego, penalty, attorney's fees and recovery against the Contractor's license bond be dismissed without prejudice. The judgment on the First Amended Cross Complaint is on the 1st cause of action for discouragement only.

The Court directs Mr. William G. Bissell to prepare the judgment.

At 2:03 p.m. Pursuant to oral stipulation set forth on the record, exhibits are released and returned to the submitting parties/counsels for maintenance, custody and safekeeping pending any post-verdict or appeal proceedings. All identification tags and other identifying markings are to remain in place pending this period.

At 2:05 p.m. The Court is adjourned in this matter.

Appeal from a judgment of the Superior Court of Orange County, David R. Chaffee, Judge. Affirmed.

Adam Bereki, in pro. per., for Plaintiff and Appellant.

William G. Bissell for Defendants and Respondents.

This case involves the purported general contractor for a condominium remodel project, Adam Bereki, on one side, and the condominium owners, Gary and Karen Humphreys (the Humphreys), on the other. After the Humphreys terminated Bereki's involvement, a now defunct corporation formerly owned by Bereki, Spartan Associates, Inc. (Spartan Associates), sued Humphreys, claiming they still owed approximately $83,000 for work on the project. The Humphreys denied the allegations and cross-complained against Bereki and Spartan Associates. Among the remedies they sought was disgorgement of all payments made for the project, pursuant to Business and Professions Code section 7031, subdivision (b)[1], due to Bereki's alleged failure to possess a required contractor's license.

Following a bifurcated bench trial on the disgorgement cause of action, the trial court found in favor of the Humphreys and ordered Bereki to repay them all monies received in relation to the remodel work — $848,000. Its ruling and a stipulation by the parties disposed of the remainder of the case and Bereki appealed. He challenges the disgorgement on a variety of constitutional, legal, and factual grounds. We find no merit in his contentions and, therefore affirm the judgment.

I

FACTS

The Humphreys own a condominium on Lido Isle in the City of Newport Beach. It was originally two separate units. The couple hired Bereki to do some remodeling which would, among other things, turn the two units into a single unit. After an on-site walkthrough, the Humphreys exchanged e-mails with Bereki to confirm the scope of the project. In one of his e-mails, Bereki stated he and his partner would perform the work for a specified rate.

[1] All further statutory references are to the Business and Professions Code unless otherwise indicated.

The Humphreys agreed to the proposed scope and rates, and also inquired whether a written contract was necessary. Bereki responded that it was not; their "'words/commitment [was] enough.'" To start the project, Bereki asked the Humphreys for a $15,000 check deposit payable to him, personally.

Several months into the remodel the Humphreys, at Bereki's request, started making their progress payments to Spartan Associates instead of paying Bereki directly as an individual. Bereki never gave them an explanation for the change or what, if any, involvement Spartan Associates had in the project, but the accountings he sent included the name "Spartan Associates."

After approximately a year and a half, the Humphreys terminated Bereki's involvement and later hired a different general contractor to complete the project.

Believing the Humphreys still owed approximately $82,800 for materials used in the remodel and labor performed, Spartan Associates sued to recover that amount. The Humphreys generally denied the allegations in the complaint, and filed a cross-complaint against Bereki, Spartan Associates, and a surety company. Among the allegations were causes of action for negligence, intentional misrepresentation, and negligent misrepresentation. The trial court later granted them leave to amend the cross-complaint to include a cause of action for disgorgement of funds paid to an unlicensed contractor, pursuant to section 7031, subdivision (b).

At the Humphreys' request, the trial court bifurcated the disgorgement claim from the remainder of the claims in the cross-complaint, and it held a trial on that issue first. During the course of the two-day bench trial on the disgorgement cause of action, the court heard testimony from the Humphreys and Bereki.

Karen Humphreys testified it was her understanding, based on the initial e-mails exchanged with Bereki, that she and her husband were contracting with Bereki and his partner to do the work. They wanted a licensed contractor to do the work and obtain all the necessary permits, and she "took [Bereki] at his word that he had a license."

She also testified there was no mention of Spartan Associates until months after the project began and insisted they never entered into a contract with Spartan Associates.

Gary Humphreys concurred with his wife's testimony about the remodel details, the series of events that transpired between them and Bereki, and the agreement he believed they entered into with Bereki. In addition, he confirmed Bereki told him he was a licensed contractor and stated he would not have hired him if he knew it was otherwise.

In contrast, Bereki testified the contract for the couple's remodel project was between the Humphreys and Spartan Associates. He nevertheless acknowledged his initial e-mail communications to the Humphreys made no mention of Spartan Associates, including the one which set forth the proposed scope of work and hourly rates. When asked about contractor's licenses, he admitted he never possessed one as an individual or as a joint venture with his partner. Spartan Associates, however, did have a contractor's license at the time of the project.

As for the work done for the Humphreys, Bereki testified he believed Spartan Associates performed all of it. He testified that the three city permits for the project were all obtained by, and issued to, Spartan Associates. Additionally, he produced contracts with subcontractors who performed aspects of the remodel work. The majority of these contracts were between the given subcontractor and Spartan Associates.[2]

The trial court found in favor of the Humphreys on the disgorgement cause of action based on its determination that Bereki, not Spartan Associates, was the contractor who performed all the remodel work. As a result, the court also found in favor of the Humphreys on Spartan Associates's complaint. The remainder of the cross-complaint was dismissed without prejudice at the Humphreys' request.

2 Bereki filed an unopposed motion to augment the record on appeal with certain exhibits admitted in the trial court. We deny the request because the exhibits already are "deemed part of the record" by Court Rule. (Cal. Rule of Court, rule 8.122(a)(3).) We have considered the copies of the exhibits he provided in conjunction with our review of this appeal.

DISCUSSION

Bereki challenges the portion of the judgment disgorging all compensation paid to him for his work on the Humphreys' remodel project.[3] Though articulated in various ways, his arguments boil down to the following: (1) disgorgement under section 7031, subdivision (b), is unconstitutional or, alternatively, criminal in nature; (2) the trial court erred in ordering disgorgement because Spartan Associates, not Bereki, performed the work and Spartan Associates held a contractor's license; (3) even assuming Bereki performed the work, the state's contractor licensing requirement does not apply to him as a "natural person"; (4) there was insufficient evidence to support disgorgement, including no evidence of injury due to Bereki's failure to be individually licensed; (5) the court should have offset the disgorgement amount by the value the Humphreys received through the remodel work; (6) it was improper to order full disgorgement because certain payments were not made from the Humphreys' personal accounts; and (7) the court

3 Bereki appears to also challenge a postjudgment sanctions order the trial court issued based on Bereki's motion to compel a response to a demand for a bill of particulars filed after entry of judgment. The sanctions order is not encompassed by his earlier appeal from the judgment. And although such a postjudgment order is separately appealable (Code Civ. Proc., § 904.1, subds. (a)(2) & (b)), Bereki did not file another appeal. Accordingly, the issue is not before us. (Silver v. Pacific American Fish Co., Inc. (2010) 190 Cal.App.4th 688, 693 [court without jurisdiction to review postjudgment order from which no appeal is taken].)

erroneously failed to provide a written statement of decision.[4] We find no merit to any of these contentions.

A. Disgorgement Remedy Under Section 7031

Relying heavily on White v. Cridlebaugh (2009) 178 Cal.App.4th 506, 517 (White), the decision in Alatriste v. Cesar's Exterior Designs, Inc. (2010) 183 Cal.App.4th 656, 664-666 (Alatriste) aptly summarizes the nature, purpose and scope of the litigation prohibition and the disgorgement remedy provided in section 7031, subdivisions (a) and (b).

"Section 7031[, subdivision] (b) is part of the Contractors' State License Law (§ 7000 et seq.), which 'is a comprehensive legislative scheme governing the construction business in California. [This statutory scheme] provides that contractors performing construction work must be licensed unless exempt. [Citation.] "The licensing requirements provide minimal assurance that all persons offering such services in California have the requisite skill and character, understand applicable local laws and codes, and know the rudiments of administering a contracting business. [Citations.]"

[4] After briefing was complete, Bereki filed a motion asking that we take judicial notice of a plethora of items, among which are the federal Constitution and other foundational documents for this country, federal and state statutes, and a variety of case law. To begin, "[r]equests for judicial notice should not be used to 'circumvent [ ]' appellate rules and procedures, including the normal briefing process." (Mangini v. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. (1994) 7 Cal.4th 1057, 1064, overruled on another point as stated in In re Tobacco Cases II (2007) 41 Cal.4th 1257.) Further, "[a] request for judicial notice of published material is unnecessary. Citation to the material is sufficient." (Quelimane Co. v. Stewart Title Guaranty Co. (1998) 19 Cal.4th 26, 45, fn. 9.) We therefore deny Bereki's request as unnecessary to the extent it included such materials. As for the remaining items, we likewise deny the request because we find them not properly the subject of a request for judicial notice and/or irrelevant to resolution of the matters before us. (Evid. Code, §§ 451, 452; Schifando v. City of Los Angeles (2003) 31 Cal.4th 1074, 1089, fn. 4 [appellate court will not take judicial notice of irrelevant material].)

[Citation.] The [laws] are designed to protect the public from incompetent or dishonest providers of building and construction services. [Citation.]' [Citation.]

"This statutory scheme encourages licensure by subjecting unlicensed contractors to criminal penalties and civil remedies. [Citation.] The civil remedies 'affect the unlicensed contractor's right to receive or retain compensation for unlicensed work.' (Ibid.) The hiring party is entitled to enforce these remedies through a defensive 'shield' or an affirmative 'sword.' [Citation.]

"The shield, contained in section 7031[, subdivision] (a), was enacted more than 70 years ago, and provides that a party has a complete defense to claims for compensation made by a contractor who performed work without a license, unless the contractor meets the requirements of the statutory substantial compliance doctrine. [Citation.] Section 7031[, subdivision] (e), the substantial compliance exception, provides relief only in very narrow specified circumstances, and 'shall not apply . . . where the [unlicensed contractor] has never been a duly licensed contractor in this state." [Citation.]

"The California Supreme Court has long given a broad, literal interpretation to section 7031[, subdivision] (a)'s shield provision. [Citation.] The court has held that [it] applies even when the person for whom the work was performed knew the contractor was unlicensed. [Citation.] . . . . [It] explained that '"'Section 7031 represents a legislative determination that the importance of deterring unlicensed persons from engaging in the contracting business outweighs any harshness between the parties, and that such deterrence can best be realized by denying violators the right to maintain any action for compensation in the courts of this state. [Citation.] . . .'"' [Citation.] '"Because of the strength and clarity of this policy [citation]," the bar of section 7031 [, subdivision] (a) applies "[r]egardless of the equities."' [Citations.]

"In 2001, the Legislature amended section 7031 to add a sword remedy to the hiring party's litigation arsenal. This sword remedy, contained in section

7031[,subdivision] (b), currently reads: 'Except as provided in subdivision (e), a person who utilizes the services of an unlicensed contractor may bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state to recover all compensation paid to the unlicensed contractor for performance of any act or contract.' [¶] By adding this remedy, the Legislature sought to further section 7031[,subdivision] (a)'s policy of deterring violations of licensing requirements by 'allow[ing] persons who utilize unlicensed contractors to recover compensation paid to the contractor for performing unlicensed work. [Citation.]' [Citation.]" (Alatriste, supra, 183 Cal.App.4th at pp. 664-666, fns. omitted.)

Based on the statutory language and legislative history, both Alatriste and White "concluded that the Legislature intended that courts interpret sections 7031[, subdivision] (a) and 7031[, subdivision] (b) in a consistent manner, resulting in the same remedy regardless of whether the unlicensed contractor is the plaintiff or the defendant." (Alatriste, supra, 183 Cal.App.4th at p. 666, citing White, supra, 178 Cal.App.4th at pp. 519-520.) These principles are well-settled under the law.

Bereki contends the disgorgement remedy is penal in nature and, therefore, a contractor defending against such a claim must be afforded all criminal rights and protections. Not so. Disgorgement is a civil consequence — "an equitable remedy" — for performing work without a required contractor's license. (S.E.C. v. Huffman (5th Cir. 1993) 996 F.2d 800, 802 (S.E.C.); see Walker v. Appellate Division of Superior Court (2017) 14 Cal.App.5th 651, 657 [§ 7031 contemplates civil proceedings].) The Legislature created a separate criminal penalty. Specifically, section 7028 provides that acting or operating in the capacity of a contractor without a required license is a criminal misdemeanor subject to jail time, or fines, and restitution. (§ 7028, subds. (a)-(c), (h).)

For similar reasons, Bereki's attempt to characterize disgorgement as an award of unconstitutional punitive damages is unavailing. As an equitable remedy, disgorgement is not punishment and, therefore, it does not implicate the excessive fines

clause of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. (S.E.C., supra, 996 F.2d at p. 802; see U.S. v. Philip Morris USA (D.C. 2004) 310 F.Supp.2d 58, 62-63.)

B. Contractor Licensing Requirement

Before turning to application of section 7031, subdivision (b), we address Bereki's claim that he, in his individual capacity, did not need a contractor's license. His argument is twofold, one part legal and the other part factual. We reject both.

As for the legal argument, Bereki asserts that licensing requirements only apply to "fictitious" persons, not "natural" persons such as himself. He cites no authority for his unique interpretation of the relevant statutes. And, the statutes provide otherwise. Contractors who are required to obtain a license include "[a]ny person . . . who . . . undertakes, offers to undertake, purports to have the capacity to undertake, or submits a bid to construct any . . . home improvement project, or part thereof." (§ 7026.1, subd. (a)(2).) In turn, "'[p]erson'" is defined to include "an individual[,]" as well as a variety of types of business entities and associations. (§ 7025, subd. (b).) "In ordinary usage[,] the word 'individual' denotes a natural person not a group, association or other artificial entity. (See Webster's Third New Internat. Dict. (2002 ed.) p. 1152 [giving a primary definition of 'individual' as 'a single human being as contrasted with a social group or institution'].)" (City of Los Angeles v. Animal Defense League (2006) 135 Cal.App.4th 606, 623, disapproved of on other grounds in City of Montebello v. Vasquez (2016) 1 Cal.5th 409, 416.) There is nothing in the statutes that indicates a different, specialized meaning. (Halbert's Lumber, Inc. v. Lucky Stores, Inc. (1992) 6 Cal.App.4th 1233, 1238 ["In examining the language, the courts should give to the words of the statute their ordinary, everyday meaning [citations] unless, of course, the statute itself specifically defines those words to give them a special meaning"].)

Bereki's factual attack concerns the trial court's conclusion that he, not Spartan Associates, was the contractor who performed the remodel work for the Humphreys. Though he implores us to engage in de novo review of this issue, it is a factual determination which we review for substantial evidence. (Escamilla v. Deppartment of Corrections & Rehabilitation (2006) 141 Cal.App.4th 498, 514.) There is ample evidence in the record supporting the court's conclusion.[5]

Both of the Humphreys testified that on the first day they met Bereki for a walkthrough of the site, he informed them that he and his partner would act as the general contractor for the project. Bereki followed up with a written proposal and estimate, which he sent to the couple from his personal e-mail address. When they inquired whether he had a contractor's license, he assured them he did, and when they asked him to whom they should make out their payment checks, he told them to put them in his name.

At no time during this series of events did Bereki ever mention Spartan Associates. Notably, Bereki did not apply to the State Board of Equalization to register Spartan as an employer until roughly three months after the remodel work began. Then, about four months into the project, he introduced the corporation into the mix by asking the Humphreys, without any explanation, to make future payments to Spartan Associates.

5 Bereki filed a motion asking us to consider additional evidence not presented in the trial court, among which are two declarations, an e-mail correspondence and a letter. He believes the documents are relevant to establishing the identity of the contracting parties. We deny the motion as "[i]t has long been the general rule and understanding that 'an appeal reviews the correctness of a judgment as of the time of its rendition, upon a record of matters which were before the trial court for its consideration.'" (In re Zeth S. (2003) 31 Cal.4th 396, 405, italics added.) Circumstances warranting an exception to this rule are very rare and we do not find them extant here, particularly in light of the conflicting evidence weighed by the trial court. (See Diaz v. Professional Community Management, Inc. (2017) 16 Cal.App.5th 1190, 1213 ["'The power to take evidence in the Court of Appeal is never used where there is conflicting evidence in the record and substantial evidence supports the trial court's findings.'"].)

Based on what transpired, the couple believed they contracted with Bereki, in his individual capacity, to complete the remodel work.

While Bereki claims the Humphreys lied when they testified at trial because some of their factual statements purportedly contradicted those they made at the summary judgment stage, our role is not to resolve factual disputes or to judge the credibility of witnesses. (Leff v. Gunter (1983) 33 Cal.3d 508, 518.) The trial court bore that responsibility in this case, and our review of the record reveals substantial evidence to support its conclusion that Bereki, not Spartan Associates, was the contractor for the job.

C. Disgorgement Remedy Under Section 7031

Separate from his general attacks on section 7031, subdivision (b), Bereki challenges its application under the specific facts of this case. He first asserts disgorgement is an improper remedy because it gives the Humphreys a double benefit — the remodel improvements and the money they otherwise would have paid for them. In the context of the statute at issue, however, courts have uniformly rejected such an argument and required disgorgement, even though this remedy often produces harsh results. (See, e.g., Alatriste, supra, 183 Cal.App.4th at pp. 672-673; White, supra, 178 Cal.App.4th at pp. 520-521; see also Jeff Tracy, Inc. v. City of Pico Rivera (2015) 240 Cal.App.4th 510, 521.) Full disgorgement is required; offsets and reductions for labor and materials received are not permitted.

Equally meritless is Bereki's contention that there was no justiciable claim under the statute because there was no evidence the Humphreys were injured by his lack of a contractor's license. Bereki cites no authority for that novel proposition. Injury is not an element of a cause of action under the statute. The disgorgement consequence is not remedial in nature. Similar to the licensing requirement, it is a proactive measure intended to decrease the likelihood of harm due to "incompetent or dishonest providers of building and construction services." (White, supra, 178 Cal.App.4th at pp. 517.)

We also are not persuaded by Bereki's objection to the amount the court ordered him to repay to the Humphreys. He highlights evidence showing that some of the payment checks came from Gary Humphreys' corporation, and he argues the Humphreys are not entitled to those amounts given they did not pay them in the first instance. While we do not necessarily see eye-to-eye with Bereki's legal reasoning, we need not reach the legal aspect of his argument due to the trial court's factual findings.

The trial court, relying on Gary Humphreys' uncontradicted testimony, found that the contested payments ultimately were attributable to Gary Humphrey himself. Substantial evidence supports this conclusion. The Humphreys testified that the business is an S corporation, and at the relevant time Gary Humphreys was the sole shareholder and an employee. Gary Humphreys explained he was traveling often for business during the remodel, including at times when Bereki insisted on needing money "'right away.'" To facilitate the payments, Gary Humphreys had persons in his corporation with signing authority write checks from the corporate account. The amounts paid on the Humphreys behalf were then accounted for through a reduction in the regular income Gary Humphreys received from the corporation. He paid income taxes on those amounts because they were included in the figures listed on his annual W-2 form.

Under these circumstances, we find ample evidence to support the trial court's factual finding that although certain payments to Bereki were made from the Humphreys' business account, they ultimately were accounted for in a way that ensured they were personal payments from the Humphreys, as individuals. Accordingly, the Humphreys were entitled to "all compensation paid." (§ 7031, subd. (b).)

We recognize that the provisions of section 7031, including the disgorgement remedy, are harsh and may be perceived as unfair. As courts have explained, however, they stem from policy decisions made by the Legislature.

"[T]he choice among competing policy considerations in enacting laws is a legislative function" (Coastside Fishing Club v. California Resources Agency (2008) 158 Cal.App.4th 1183, 1203), and absent a constitutional prohibition, we may not interfere or question the wisdom of the policies embodied in the statute. (Marine Forests Society v. California Coastal Com. (2005) 36 Cal.4th 1, 25; Alatriste, supra, 183 Cal.App.4th at p. 672.)

D. Statement of Decision

Though he admits he did not timely request a statement of decision, Bereki claims the trial court should have nevertheless provided one after he made an untimely request. To the contrary, "[n]o statement of decision is required if the parties fail to request one." (Acquire II, Ltd. v. Colton Real Estate Group (2013) 213 Cal.App.4th 959, 970; see also Code Civ. Proc., § 632.) The trial court's denial was proper. (See In re Marriage of Steinberg (1977) 66 Cal.App.3d 815, 822 [upholding court's refusal to make findings of fact and conclusions of law due to party's failure to timely request them].)

Tentative Ruling posted on the Internet and posted in the public hallway.

The Court having fully considered the arguments of all parties, both written and oral, as well as the evidence presented, now makes the tentative ruling final as follows:

MOTION TO VACATE

The Motion "to Vacate Void Judgment" filed by Mr. Adam Bereki is Denied. The arguments presented on this motion were already raised and rejected, and the appellate decision affirming the underlying judgment on the merits is now final. Upon remittitur, the trial court is revested with jurisdiction of the case only to carry out the judgment as ordered by the appellate court. (People v. Dutra (2006) 145 Cal.App.4th 1359, 1365-1366.) Arguments on the merits of the underlying judgment cannot be entertained anew here. The Motion is therefore Denied.

Counsel for the Humphreys to give notice.

Judicial Notice Exhibit 6

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

Adam Bereki,

Plaintiff,

v.

Gary Humphreys;

Karen Humphreys,

Defendants.

Case No.: CV 19-2050-CBM-ADS(x)

ORDER RE: DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS THE FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT PURSUANT TO RULE 12(B)(1), (6) & (7) OF THE FEDERAL RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE AND REQUEST FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE [JS-6]

The matter before the Court is Defendants Gary Humphreys and Karen Humphreys' (collectively, "Defendants'" or "The Humphreys'") "Motion to Dismiss the First Amended Complaint Pursuant to Rule 12(b)(1), (6), & (7) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Request for Judicial Notice." (Dkt. No. 9 (the "Motion").)[1]

I. BACKGROUND

This action arises from a state court judgment in favor of Defendants and

[1] Following the hearing on the Motion, Plaintiff filed a document entitled "Additional Authorities and Corrected Testimony To Be Considered By the Court re: Defendants Motion to Dismiss Filed 11/19/19," which has been reviewed by the Court. (Dkt. No. 30 (hereinafter, "Additional Authorities").)

against Plaintiff in connection with remodeling work performed by Plaintiff. On April 20, 2017, following a bench trial, the Superior Court, County of Orange, entered judgment in favor of The Humphreys and against Plaintiff in the amount of $848,000 (plus costs).[2] (FAC Exs. D, G.) The Superior Court found Plaintiff (as opposed to his company Spartan Associates) was the contractor who performed the remodel work for The Humphreys, and found Plaintiff was not a licensed contractor. Accordingly, the superior court awarded The Humphreys disgorgement of all compensation paid by The Humphreys to Plaintiff for the remodel work pursuant to Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031.[3] Plaintiff appealed the state court judgment. The California Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment in favor of The Humphreys. Plaintiff's request for review by the California Supreme Court was denied, and Plaintiff's writ for certiorari with the United States Supreme Court was also denied.

Plaintiff then commenced this action on October 28, 2019. On November 8, 2019, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Complaint ("FAC") as a matter of right naming only The Humphreys as defendants. (Dkt. No. 11.) The FAC alleges this action is "an Independent Action in Equity to relieve a party from a judgment, order or proceeding pursuant to FRCP Rule 60(d)" (FAC at p.13), and that this action "is a direct attack on the jurisdiction of the California trial and appellate Courts in case numbers – 30-2015-00805897, and G055075" (id. at p.17).

II. STATEMENT OF THE LAW

A. Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(b)(1)

On a Rule 12(b)(1) motion to dismiss for lack of subject matter jurisdiction,

[2] While the superior court judgment reflects judgment entered against Plaintiff in the amount of $848,000, the FAC alleges Plaintiff was "fined $930,000 for allegedly doing remodel construction work without a contractor's license." (FAC at p.16.)

[3] California Business & Professions Code § 7031 provides: "[A] person who utilizes the services of an unlicensed contractor may bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state to recover all compensation paid to the unlicensed contractor for performance of any act or contract."

the party asserting jurisdiction bears the burden of proving jurisdiction exists. Sopak v. Northern Mountain Helicopter Serv., 52 F.3d 817, 818 (9th Cir. 1995). A motion under Rule 12(b)(1) may challenge the court's jurisdiction facially, based on the legal sufficiency of the claim, or factually, based on the legal sufficiency of the jurisdictional facts. White v. Lee, 227 F.3d 1214, 1242 (9th Cir. 2000). Where the Rule 12(b)(1) motion attacks the complaint on its face, the court considers the complaint's allegations to be true, and draws all reasonable inferences in the plaintiff's favor. Doe v. Holy See, 557 F.3d 1066, 1073 (9th Cir. 2009) (citation omitted). Where the Rule 12(b)(1) motion challenges the substance of jurisdictional allegations, the court does not presume the factual allegations to be true, and may consider evidence such as affidavits and testimony to resolve factual disputes regarding jurisdiction. McCarthy v. United States, 850 F.2d 558, 560 (9th Cir. 1988).

B. Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(b)(6)

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6) allows a court to dismiss a complaint for "failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted." Dismissal of a complaint can be based on either a lack of a cognizable legal theory or the absence of sufficient facts alleged under a cognizable legal theory. Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep't, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1990). To survive a motion to dismiss, the complaint "must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.'" Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 663, (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)). A formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not suffice. Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555. To conform to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8, the plaintiff must make more than "an unadorned, the-defendant-harmed me" accusation. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678. Labels and conclusions are insufficient to meet the Plaintiff's obligation to provide the grounds of his or her entitlement to relief. Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555. "Factual allegations must be enough to raise a right to relief above the speculative level." Id. If a complaint cannot be cured by additional factual allegations, dismissal without leave to amend is proper. Id. On a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim, courts accept as true all well-pleaded allegations of material fact and construes them in a light most favorable to the non-moving party. Manzarek v. St. Paul Fire & Marine Ins. Co., 519 F.3d 1025, 1031–32 (9th Cir. 2008). A court may only consider the allegations contained in the pleadings, exhibits attached to or referenced in the complaint, and matters properly subject to judicial notice. Tellabs, Inc. v. Makor Issues & Rights, Ltd., 551 U.S. 308, 322 (2007).

C. Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(b)(7)

Rule 12(b)(7) permits a party to move to dismiss the case for "failure to join a party under Rule 19." Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(b)(7). Rule 19 requires "[a] person who is subject to service of process and whose joinder will not deprive the court of subject-matter jurisdiction" to be joined as a party if:

> (A) in that person's absence, the court cannot accord complete relief among existing parties; or
> (B) that person claims an interest relating to the subject of the action and is so situated that disposing of the action in the person's absence may:
> > (i) as a practical matter impair or impede the person's ability to protect the interest; or
> > (ii) leave an existing party subject to a substantial risk of incurring double, multiple, or otherwise inconsistent obligations because of the interest.

Fed. R. Civ. P. 19. If "a person who is required to be joined if feasible cannot be joined, the court must determine whether, in equity and good conscience, the action should proceed among the existing parties or should be dismissed." Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 19(b).

III. DISCUSSION

A. Request for Judicial Notice

Defendants request that the Court take judicial notice of the following:

1. Judgment entered against Plaintiff in Orange County Superior Court, Case No. 30-2015-00805807 (Ex. A);
2. Plaintiff's opening brief filed with the California Court of Appeals appealing the superior court judgment (Ex. B);
3. California Court of Appeals' opinion affirming superior court judgment (Ex. C);
4. Plaintiff's Petition for Review Filed with the Supreme Court of California, Case No. S252954 (Ex. D);
5. California Supreme Court's denial of Plaintiff's Petition for Review (Ex. E);
6. Plaintiff's Petition for Writ of Certiorari filed with the United States Supreme Court, Case No. 18-1416 (Ex. F); and
7. United State Supreme Court's denial of Plaintiff's Petition for Writ of Certiorari (Ex. G).[4]

(Hereinafter, "RJN".) The Court grants Defendants' request for judicial notice because the accuracy of Exhibits A-G can be "readily determined from sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned." Fed. R. Evid. 201.

B. Rooker-Feldman Doctrine

Defendants move to dismiss the FAC for lack of subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine. The Rooker-Feldman doctrine bars losing parties "from seeking what in substance would be appellate review of the state judgment in a United States district court." Johnson v. De Grandy, 512 U.S. 997, 1006-07 (1994). "The purpose of the doctrine is to protect state judgments from collateral federal attack." Doe & Assocs. Law Offices v. Napolitano, 252 F.3d 1026, 1030 (9th Cir. 2001). For the Rooker–Feldman "to apply, a plaintiff must seek not only to set aside a state court judgment; he or she must also allege a legal error by the state court as the basis for that relief." Kougasian v. TMSL, Inc., 359 F.3d 1136, 1140 (9th Cir. 2004).

Here, Plaintiff seeks relief from the superior court judgment pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(d) (FAC at p.13), and an order from this Court (1) vacating the judgment entered against Plaintiff in the superior court action and (2) ordering the superior court to remove the property lien based on the judgment entered against Plaintiff in the superior court action (id., Prayer for Relief). The FAC also alleges the instant federal action "is a direct attack on the jurisdiction of the California trial and appellate Courts in case numbers – 30-2015-00805897, and G055075." (Id. at p.17.) Therefore, Plaintiff seeks relief from the state court judgment affirmed by the California Court of Appeals.

The FAC also alleges a legal error by the superior court and California Court of Appeals on the ground that the superior court and appellate court entered and affirmed the judgment against Plaintiff without supporting evidence, and erred in holding disgorgement pursuant to Cal. Bus. & Proc. § 7031 is an equitable remedy rather than a penalty, thereby "resulting in a void judgment." (FAC at p.82, 90.)

(1) Extrinsic Fraud on the Court

Where the federal plaintiff does not complain of a legal injury caused by a state court judgment, but rather of a legal injury caused by an adverse party, Rooker-Feldman does not bar jurisdiction. Noel v. Hall, 341 F.3d 1148, 1163 (9th Cir. 2003). Therefore, the Rooker-Feldman doctrine does not apply where the plaintiff alleges extrinsic fraud on a state court and seeks to set aside a state court judgment obtained by that fraud. Kougasian, 359 F.3d at 1141.

Plaintiff contends this action is not barred because this Court has the power to set aside or enjoin state-court judgments procured by fraud. The FAC alleges Defendants committed "fraud in the procurement of jurisdiction" in the superior court action because Defendants took one position during summary judgment (i.e., that they had contracted with Spartan (Plaintiff's company) to perform the work) and then took a contrary position during trial (i.e., that they believed they contracted with Plaintiff to perform the work). (FAC at 94-97.) Such alleged conduct does not constitute "extrinsic" fraud on the court since such evidence was presented by Defendants before the superior court, nor constitute a legal injury caused by Defendants. Rather, the FAC alleges the superior court erred in entering judgment despite Defendants taking contrary positions throughout the state court litigation. Therefore, the extrinsic fraud exception to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine does not apply. Kougasian, 359 F.3d at 1141.

(2) Constitutional Challenge

Plaintiff also argues the Rooker-Feldman doctrine does not bar this action because the FAC raises a constitutional challenge to California Business & Professions Code §§ 7071.17 and 7031. While the FAC raises a "facial" and "as applied" challenge to the constitutionality of Sections §§ 7071.17 and 7031, the relief sought by Plaintiff is an order vacating or voiding the state court judgment. Moreover, the basis for Plaintiff's constitutional challenge is that the Superior Court and California Court of Appeals lacked subject matter jurisdiction to enter and affirm the judgment against Plaintiff because (1) there is no evidence supporting the judgment; and (2) disgorgement pursuant to Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031 is a penalty and an excessive fine, and therefore unconstitutional. The California Court of Appeals, however, found there was evidence supporting the Superior Court's judgment and held disgorgement pursuant to Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031 is an equitable remedy, not a penalty or fine. (RJN, Ex. C.) Thus, despite purporting to raise a "constitutional" challenge in his FAC, Plaintiff seeks relief from the state court judgment in this action and asserts legal errors by the Superior Court and California Court of Appeals. Therefore, the Rooker-Feldman doctrine applies to bar Plaintiff's instant action.

Accordingly, the Court finds Plaintiff's action is barred pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine because Plaintiff seeks relief from the state court judgment and alleges legal errors by the state trial and appellate court. See Bell v. City of Boise, 709 F.3d 890, 897 (9th Cir. 2013).

C. Res Judicata / Collateral Estoppel

Defendants also move to dismiss the FAC as barred by the res judicata / collateral estoppel doctrines.[5]

Issue preclusion, or collateral estoppel, bars relitigation of issues that have been adjudicated in a prior action. DKN Holdings LLC, 61 Cal. 4th at 824. Pursuant to the doctrine of collateral estoppel, "a federal court must give to a state-court judgment the same preclusive effect as would be given that judgment under the law of the State in which the judgment was rendered." Migra v. Warren City Sch. Dist. Bd. of Educ., 465 U.S. 75, 81 (1984); see also 28 U.S.C. § 1738. Under California law, collateral estoppel/issue preclusion applies: "(1) after final adjudication (2) of an identical issue (3) actually litigated and necessarily decided in the first suit and (4) asserted against one who was a party in the first suit or one in privity with that party." DKN Holdings LLC, 61 Cal. 4th at 825.

Here, the FAC alleges the superior court lacked jurisdiction and violated Plaintiff's due process rights because there was no evidence supporting the judgment. The FAC, however, alleges Plaintiff challenged the jurisdiction of the superior court in a motion to vacate the judgment, which was denied. (FAC at 97-98.)

Plaintiff appealed the state court judgment. In his appeal, Plaintiff argued the Superior Court committed due process violations and lacked subject matter jurisdiction, and argued Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031 was unconstitutional because it is penal in nature. (RJN, Ex. B.) The California Court of Appeals affirmed the Superior Court's judgment, and found Plaintiff's arguments on appeal had "no merit." (Id. Ex. C; see also FAC at p.19 (alleging California Court of Appeal held the superior court judgment against Plaintiff was a "non-punitive"

[5] "Res judicata" refers to claim preclusion. Henrichs v. Valley View Dev., 474 F.3d 609, 615 (9th Cir. 2007) Since the claims asserted by Plaintiff in this action were not asserted in the state court action, res judicata would not apply to bar Plaintiff's claims here.

"equitable remedy").)

Plaintiff filed a petition for review with the California Supreme Court wherein Plaintiff argued the superior court and California Court of Appeals lacked jurisdiction and violated Plaintiff's due process rights, and argued Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 7031 and 7071.17 were unconstitutional and authorize imposition of penalties. (RJN, Ex. D.) The California Supreme Court denied Plaintiff's petition for review. (Id. Ex. E.) On April 23, 2019, Plaintiff filed a petition for writ of certiorari with the United States Supreme Court, which was denied. (Id. Exs. F, G.)

Therefore, the issues raised by Plaintiff in this federal action regarding the Superior Court and California Court of Appeal's lack of jurisdiction and violation of Plaintiff's due process rights, the unconstitutionality of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 7031 and 7071.17, Plaintiff's contention that disgorgement pursuant to Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031 is a penalty/fine rather than an equitable remedy, and the lack of evidence supporting the Superior Court's judgment and California Court of Appeals decision affirming the judgment, were actually litigated by Plaintiff in the state court action and necessarily decided in a final judgment. See DKN Holdings LLC, 61 Cal. 4th at 825; Rodriguez v. City of San Jose, 930 F.3d 1123, 1132 (9th Cir. 2019).

Thus, even if the instant action was not barred pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine, the Court finds Plaintiff is collaterally estopped from bringing this action. See Reyn's Pasta Bella, LLC v. Visa USA, Inc., 442 F.3d 741, 750 (9th Cir. 2006).

IV. CONCLUSION

Accordingly, the Court GRANTS Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, and dismisses the action with prejudice because Plaintiff is collaterally stopped from bringing this action.[6] The Court also finds this action is barred pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine.[7]

IT IS SO ORDERED.

DATED: February 6, 2020.

CONSUELO B. MARSHALL
UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE

[6] Because Plaintiff's claims are barred on collateral estoppel grounds, leave to amend would be futile. See Tait v. Asset Acceptance, LLC, 2013 WL 3811767 (C.D. Cal. July 22, 2013).

[7] Defendants also move to dismiss the FAC on the ground Plaintiff fails to join the superior court and California Court of Appeals which are "indispensable parties." Because the Court dismisses this action pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine, and finds collateral estoppel would bar Plaintiff from bringing this action, it does not reach the issue of whether the superior court and California Court of Appeals are indispensable parties.

ORDER RE: NINTH CIRCUIT'S REFERRAL AND REVOCATION OF PLAINTIFF'S IN FORMA PAUPERIS STATUS [34]

Plaintiff filed the Complaint in this action on October 28, 2019. (Dkt. No. 1.) On October 31, 2019, the Court granted Plaintiff's Request to Proceed in Forma Pauperis. (Dkt. No. 5.) On February 6, 2020, this Court issued an order granting Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, and dismissed the action with prejudice because Plaintiff is collaterally estopped from bringing this action and the action is barred pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine. (Dkt. No. 31 (the "Order").)

Plaintiff filed a notice of appeal of the Order on February 10, 2020. (Dkt. No. 32.) On February 24, 2020, the Ninth Circuit referred the matter to this Court "for the limited purpose of determining whether in forma pauperis status should continue for this appeal or whether the appeal is frivolous or taken in bad faith."

(Dkt. No. 34.)

The Court finds Plaintiff's in forma pauperis status should not continue for the appeal because Plaintiff's appeal of the Order is frivolous. Therefore, the Court revokes Plaintiff's in forma pauperis status. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(3) ("An appeal may not be taken in forma pauperis if the trial court certifies in writing that it is not taken in good faith."); Hooker v. Am. Airlines, 302 F.3d 1091, 1092 (9th Cir. 2002) (revocation of in forma pauperis status is appropriate where the district court finds the appeal to be frivolous).

The clerk of this Court shall provide notice to the Ninth Circuit and the parties of this Order.

Before: THOMAS, Chief Judge, TASHIMA and W. FLETCHER, Circuit Judges.

The district court certified that this appeal is frivolous and revoked appellant's in forma pauperis status. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a). On March 24, 2020, this court ordered appellant to explain in writing why this appeal should not be dismissed as frivolous. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2) (court shall dismiss case at any time, if court determines it is frivolous or malicious).

Upon a review of the record and the responses to the court's March 24, 2020 order, we conclude this appeal is frivolous. We therefore deny appellant's motion to proceed in forma pauperis (Docket Entry No. 3) and dismiss this appeal as frivolous, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2).

All other pending motions are denied as moot.

See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a). This court may dismiss a case at any time, if the court determines the case is frivolous. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2). Within 35 days after the date of this order, appellant must: (1) file a motion to dismiss this appeal, see Fed. R. App. P. 42(b), or (2) file a statement explaining why the appeal is not frivolous and should go forward. If appellant does not respond to this order, the Clerk will dismiss this appeal for failure to prosecute, without further notice. See 9th Cir. R. 42-1. If appellant files a motion to dismiss the appeal, the Clerk will dismiss this appeal, pursuant to Federal Rule of Appellate Procedure 42(b). If appellant submits any response to this order other than a motion to dismiss the appeal, the court may dismiss this appeal as frivolous, without further notice. If appellant files a statement that the appeal should go forward, appellees may file a response within 10 days after service of appellant's statement. The briefing schedule for this appeal is stayed. The Clerk shall serve on appellant: (1) a form motion to voluntarily dismiss the appeal, and (2) a form statement that the appeal should go forward. RE: In Re Bereki

Dear Mr. Bereki:

The above-entitled petition for an extraordinary writ of habeas corpus was received on September 22, 2021. The papers are returned for the following reason(s):

The petition does not follow the form prescribed by Rule 14 as required by Rule 20.2.

The petition exceeds the limit of 40 pages allowed. Rule 33.2(b).

No motion for leave to file a petition for an extraordinary writ of habeas corpus is required. However, a petition for an extraordinary writ of habeas corpus may not be combined with any other filing, and the Rules of the Court make no provision for the filing of a petition for a writ of error.

The Rules of the Court make no provision for the filing of documents via digital media.

Please be advised that the Court does not appoint counsel for the purpose of preparing a petition.

A copy of the corrected petition must be served on opposing counsel.

Sincerely,
Scott S. Harris, Clerk

To Elena Kagan, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court and Circuit Justice for the Ninth Circuit:

Pursuant to "Rules" 22 and 23 of the "Rules" of the Supreme Court, Petitioner Adam Bereki applies for an emergency stay of: (1) the non-judicial foreclosure proceedings initiated by Respondent Prestige Default Services, LLC in the Office of the Clerk-Recorder for the County of Orange, California; and, (2) the judgment in the Superior Court of California case# 30-2022-01271693 initiated by Respondent First National Bank of Omaha for "damages" pertaining to Petitioner's alleged breach of contractual obligation.

This Application is made pending the filing and Lawful adjudications of an Emergency Petition for Original Writs of Quo Warranto, Mandamus, and Habeas Corpus to be sent within 40 calendar days of the date this Stay is granted.

I. WHY THE RELIEF PETITIONER REQUESTS IS NOT AVAILABLE FROM ANY OTHER COURT OR JUDGE

Petitioner has been unlawfully restrained of his liberty and irreparably harmed and damaged by the repeated and deliberate denial of all rights, privileges, and immunities guaranteed to him by the California and U.S. Constitutions.

A. BACKGROUND

Petitioner is a former police officer in southern California with more than twenty years of experience in forensic civil and criminal investigations and a specialty in cases involving highly sophisticated fraud and government corruption. In March of 2017, he became aware of a criminal Enterprise orchestrated individually and/or collectively by officials of all three branches of the governments of California and the United States designed to egregiously deprive him and the American People of the rights, privileges, and immunities secured by the California and United States Constitutions.

Petitioner became aware of the Enterprise when it was used to maliciously prosecute and falsely constructively imprison him for allegedly performing construction work without a license even though he was the licensee of a general contractor license.

During the faux "trial" held in the Superior "Court" of California-County of Orange, he was maliciously prosecuted by private parties for violating the contractor "licensing laws" under the fraudulent pretense of a remedial civil action in equity for "disgorgement". He was never told the true nature and cause of the accusation(s) against him, never informed of his right to or afforded the assistance of counsel, never allowed to confront his accuser(s), denied all of the heightened protections in criminal proceedings, and then excessively fined about $930,000 resulting in a bill of pains and penalties.

When Petitioner challenged the jurisdiction of the "Court" to excessively, cruelly, and unusually punish him–including by depriving him of the right to a judicial proceeding–he was further punished by monetary sanctions obviously intended to silence his dissent.

When Petitioner was unable to pay the excessive fine (an amount more than 42 times his qualifying net worth) his general contractor license (the one he allegedly didn't have) was summarily suspended without any hearing or means of appeal by operation of the contractor "licensing laws". Consequently, he has been unlawfully restrained from earning a living in his profession as a general contractor for more than five years causing an estimated three million dollars in lost earnings, irreparable harm, and other damages that include the impairment of his private contracts and obligations. As recognized by a former Justice of this Court, "by taking away his opportunity to earn a living, you can drain the blood from his veins without even scratching his skin."[1]

Among the impairment of Petitioner's private obligations is the fraudulent and wrongful non-judicial foreclosure proceedings on the "Deed of Trust" secured by the real property held in his Living Trust because he and his estate are unable to discharge the alleged monthly mortgage obligation as a direct result of the restraint of his liberty. Prestige is also fraudulently attempting to foreclose on this "Deed of Trust" to steal Petitioner's home when it knows neither the "Deed of Trust" nor the real property are security for an entirely separate security instrument traded on the U.S. Stock Exchange as a purported "mortgage backed security".

At almost the same time as the "trial", and in mirror-like despotic fashion, Petitioner was also subjected to another bill of pains and penalties in the form of a "mandatory arbitration" proceeding executed by the Contractors State License Board and a private arbitration company. Not only was there no statutory authority for the Board and arbitration company to create or conduct a "mandatory arbitration" proceeding, or to assign the proceeding to unelected unappointed private arbitrators who don't hold public office, he was never given notice of the proceedings. After discovering what had transpired and repeatedly objecting, his license was summarily suspended/revoked without any hearing or known means of appeal.

Having honorably served in law enforcement and seen first-hand how the justice system can operate for the good of our society and with integrity, Petitioner was initially shocked and in disbelief at what had transpired. He initially thought it was just a series of sloppy government mistakes that could be corrected on appeal or through other checks and balances. What he didn't understand was that it was not a mistake at all and was just the beginning of the fraud, treason, and other crimes that would be perpetrated upon him as he sought remedial justice that continues to be denied.

Over the past five years, Petitioner put the purported system of "checks and balances" in every branch of State and Federal government to a real test as he sought relief. In addition to meticulously following the State and Federal "Court" appellate processes and being denied relief at every step, he made complaints to five municipal Police departments, the Orange County Sheriff-Coroner department, California Highway Patrol, Orange County District Attorney, U.S. Dept. of Justice and FBI, California Assembly and Senate, California Governor and Attorney General, and the California Commission on Judicial Performance. In every instance, the officials involved either acted with careless disregard or deliberate indifference to the irreparable harm and damages being suffered by him as result of the obvious and ongoing deprivation of his rights. In every instance, the officials refused to fully, fairly, and impartially investigate his criminal complaints and deprivation of rights claims and/or to intervene to stop the ongoing irreparable harm and damages.

All of the authenticated Exhibits pertaining to Petitioner's investigation, including many digital audio recordings, are available for viewing and/or download in the spirit of full disclosure and transparency at http://www.thespiritoflaw.com.

This Application and Petitioner's forthcoming Petition for Extraordinary Original Writs will evidence his forensic investigation throughout the entire process from treasonous "conviction" to every attempt at seeking relief. It will expose the egregiously anti-Constitutional policies and procedures that have been established under color of law but without lawful authority by "official" actors of the Enterprise to obliterate the system of checks and balances and overthrow the Constitutional Republican forms of government of California and the United States.

In the words of the Founders, "[a]n elective despotism was not the government we fought for; but one which should not only be founded on free principles, [...] in which the powers of government should be so divided and balanced [...], as that no one could transcend their legal limits, without being effectually checked and restrained by the others."[2]

Article III of the Constitution mandates that "[t]he judicial Power of the United States shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution" and therefore, that "[t]he constitution gave to every person having a claim upon a State, a right to submit his case to the Court of the nation"[3]. Despite this, this "Court"

However unimportant his claim might be, however little the community might be interested in its decision, the framers of our constitution thought it necessary for the purposes of has refused its mandatory duty to hear Petitioner's case twice– an act it has repeatedly admitted is "treason to the Constitution".[4]

This Court has a mandatory, non-discretionary ministerial duty to exercise jurisdiction over this case to: (1) conduct a full, fair, and impartial investigation; (2) intervene to stop the crimes and irreparable harm and damages being perpetrated upon Petitioner and the American People; and, (3) to take all Lawful action necessary and within the bounds of its authority to restore the Republican governments of California and the United States.

B. EXTRAORDINARY CIRCUMSTANCES REQUIRING THIS COURT TO EXERCISE JURISDICTION AND GRANT THE REQUESTED RELIEF

The right to liberty includes "the right to be free from, and to obtain judicial relief for, unjustified intrusions of personal security."[5] Based on the extraordinary circumstances presented herein, unless the jurisdiction of this Court is exercised, there is a complete absence of any judicial or other trustworthy and effective corrective process available in the "governments" of California and the United States leaving Petitioner and the American People without a Constitutional form of government. Even if there appears to be another corrective process available, the evidence presented herein will reveal that it is a façade intended to create the illusion of justice and that rogue "officials" will continue to abuse their authority as a means justice, to provide a tribunal as superior to influence as possible, in which that claim might be decided."Cohens v. Virginia, 19 U.S. 264, 383-4 (1821).

[4] "We have no more right to decline the exercise of jurisdiction which is given than to usurp that which is not given. The one or the other would be treason to the constitution." Cohens v. Virginia, 19 U.S. 264, 404 (1821).

to commit additional crimes and treason to aid and abet the Enterprise to ensure its survival while simultaneously denying Petitioner and the American People Lawful remedy.

1. Petitioner has exhausted all apparent remedies in the "Courts" of California and the United States and has been denied a judicial determination of his rights in every instance;

2. There is a complete and total absence of any State or Federal corrective processes as the officials of all three branches of the governments of California and the United States involved in this case are allegedly engaged in fraud, deceit, and/or treason and other crimes to deliberately deprive Petitioner of his rights, liberty, and property and have either exercised jurisdiction over his person and/or property without Lawful authority and/or have refused to exercise jurisdiction to perform their sworn duties to investigate and intervene as mandated by Law;

3. There is no judicial Constitutional Court in the State of California with subject matter jurisdiction upon which Petitioner can present these claims
    i. California "Courts" claim that they lack subject matter jurisdiction to hear and determine cases involving Federal questions. Exhibit [D] p.5438, pp.5441-5447. Amongst other structural jurisdiction issues, this has resulted in the apparent summary suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus secured by Art. I, §9, cl. 2 in all Cal. "Courts";
    ii. The Cal. "Constitution of 1879" does not vest any Court of California with subject matter jurisdiction at Law or Equity as mandated by the U.S. Constitution. Article VI, §5 of the Cal. "Constitution of 1879" that once granted the Superior Courts subject matter jurisdiction at Law and Equity was repealed in 1966. The "Courts" of California appear to have been proceeding without any Lawful authority ever since.
    iii. The Cal. "Constitution of 1879" does not grant the Legislature any power to create lower Courts or to vest them with any statutory jurisdiction, including jurisdiction over the "statutes" involved in this case;
    iv. All "Courts" of California involved in this case have either committed fraud and treason to the Constitutions of California and the United States by exercising personal and/or subject matter jurisdiction without Lawful authority and/or repeatedly refusing to exercise jurisdiction to stop the crimes and the irreparable harm and damages resulting therefrom. Most recently, this includes summary denials of Petitioner's

Application for Emergency Stay and Petition Writ of Habeas Corpus:

4. The Contractor's State Licensing Board and its "mandatory arbitration" program are treason to the Constitutions of California and the United States and there are no checks and balances in the government of California to stop it;

5. Congress has not vested any inferior Court of the United States with subject matter jurisdiction at Law or Equity as defined by the U.S. Constitution to hear and determine Petitioners claims;

6. There is no lawful representative quorum in the "Legislature" of California or the "Congress" of the United States;

7. The "Judges" of the Superior "Court" of California-County of Orange Breached Their Mandatory Duty to Grant Petitioner's Application for Emergency Stay and To Provide Habeas Corpus Relief.

ADDITIONAL ISSUES RAISED IN THE FORM OF QUESTIONS

Petitioner has included a preliminary copy of the questions to be presented in his forthcoming Petition for Original Writs in Appendix [S], beginning on page 90. There are many additional issues raised therein, all of which are fully incorporated in this Application.

CORPORATE DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

First National Bank of Omaha is a subsidiary of the public traded corporation, First National of Nebraska. Citibank N.A. may be a subsidiary of publicly traded Citigroup.

PARTIES TO THE PROCEEDINGS

Petitioner

Adam Bereki is one of the People domiciled in California. He is not a "citizen of the United States", or "person subject to the jurisdiction thereof" according to the so-called "14th Amendment" or a statutory resident of the District of Columbia, a municipal corporation[6] chartered[7] by Congress masquerading as a "State"[8] or as the "United States."[9] According to the Supreme Court of California, the People of California do not owe their Citizenship to the "14th Amendment".[10]

Petitioner also cannot possibly be "subject to the jurisdiction [of the United States]" by virtue of the so-called "14th Amendment" because it was never Lawfully ratified commensurate with Article V,[11] having been forced upon the People without a Lawful representative quorum in "Congress" and by means of federal regional martial law rule imposed by the Reconstruction Acts.[12] Martial law appears nowhere in the Constitutional amending processes found in Article V. Moreover, Petitioner has not made any knowing, voluntary, or intelligent waiver of rights to be subject to the jurisdiction of the "14th Amendment" which is, on account of having never been ratified and in violation of all six Articles of the Constitution, "foreign to our Constitution and unacknowledged by its law." Any claims for privileges or "rights" pursuant to the "14th Amendment" and all statutes, regulations, rules, and codes in pursuance thereof or in pursuance any other unlawful authority made herein are under extreme duress and coercion.

CONSTITUTIONAL AND STATUTORY PROVISIONS

California "Statutes"

For Cal. Business and Professions Codes §7028, §7031, §7071.17 and §7085, refer to Appendix [Q] pp.82-88.

Northwest Ordinance of 1787

Section 14, Article 2 of the Northwest Ordinance of 1787 as reenacted by the First Congress declares that "The inhabitants of the said territory shall always be entitled to the benefits of the writ of habeas corpus, and of the trial by jury; of a proportionate representation of the people in the legislature; and of judicial proceedings according to the course of the common law. All persons shall be bailable, unless for capital offenses, where the proof shall be evident or the presumption great. All fines shall be moderate; and no cruel or unusual punishments shall be inflicted. No man shall be deprived of his liberty or property, but by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land; and, should the public exigencies make it necessary, for the common preservation, to take any person's property, or to demand his particular services, full compensation shall be made for the same. And, in the just preservation of rights and property, it is understood and declared, that no law ought ever to be made, or have force in the said territory, that shall, in any manner whatever, interfere with or affect private contracts or engagements, bona fide, and without fraud, previously formed.

Constitution for the United States of America

Article I, §2 declares that "[t]he House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of twenty five Years, and been seven years a Citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct Taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole Number of free Persons, including those bound to Service for a Term of Years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three fifths of all other Persons. The actual Enumeration shall be made within three Years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent Term of ten Years, in such manner as they shall by Law direct. The Number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at Least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the state of New Hampshire shall be entitled to chuse three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three. When vacancies happen in the Representation from any state, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies. The House of Representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers; and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

Article I, §9 declares in pertinent part that "[n]o Bill of Attainder [...] shall be passed."

Article I, §10 declares that "No State shall [...] make any Thing but gold and silver Coin a Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bill of Attainder, ex post facto Law, or Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts.

Article III declares in pertinent parts that "The judicial power of the United States, shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behaviour, and shall, at stated times, receive for their services, a compensation, which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made, or which shall be made, under their authority;--to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls;--to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction;--to controversies to which the United States shall be a party;--to controversies between two or more states;--between a state and citizens of another state;--between citizens of different states;--between citizens of the same state claiming lands under grants of different states, and between a state, or the citizens thereof, and foreign states, citizens or subjects."

Article IV, §3 declares in pertinent part that "New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the Jurisdiction of any other State; [...] without the Consent of the Legislatures of the States concerned as well as of the Congress."

Article IV, §4 declares that "The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government, and shall protect each of them against Invasion; and on Application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic Violence."

Article VI, §2 declares in pertinent parts that "This Constitution, and the Laws of the United States which shall be made in Pursuance thereof; and all Treaties made, or which shall be made, under the Authority of the United States, shall be the supreme Law of the Land; and the Judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any Thing in the Constitution or Laws of any State to the Contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the Members of the several State Legislatures, and all executive and judicial Officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by Oath or Affirmation, to support this Constitution[.]"

The First Amendment declares that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

The Fifth Amendment declares that "No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation."

The Sixth Amendment declares that "In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the Assistance of Counsel for his defence."

The Seventh Amendment declares that "In Suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury, shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law."

The Eighth Amendment declares that "Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted."

The Ninth Amendment declares that "The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

The Tenth Amendment declares that "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

The Thirteenth Amendment declares that "Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction."

The Fourteenth Amendment declares, in pertinent parts that "All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void."

STATEMENT OF JURISDICTION

Under our Constitutional government of defined and limited powers, the Constitution is the "supreme Law of the Land",[13] not the arbitrary acts of public officials. As public officials are agents of the People, challenges to their authority cannot be summarily denied and avoided at the whim or discretion of the official. "[W]henever an act of [...a] government [official] is challenged[,] [the] grant of power must be shown, or the act is void."[14]

Petitioner's accompanying Petition for Original Writs of Quo Warranto, Mandamus, and non-statutory Habeas Corpus challenging the authority of officials of the State of California and the United States to excessively, cruelly, and unusually punish and/or to conspire to punish him and deprive him of his rights, liberty, and property without a judicial determination thereof are writs of right and are not to be confused with any "discretionary" writs. Cf. Rule 20 of the Rules of the Supreme Court declaring that petitions for extraordinary writs are "not a matter of right, but of discretion."

On petition for non-statutory Original Writ of Habeas Corpus, this Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter pursuant to Article I, §9, Cl. 2 and Article III, §2, which declares, that "[t]he judicial Power shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution [...]." (Emphasis added). See also Ex parte Siebold,[15] holding that "[t]he only ground on which this Court, or any court, without some special statute authorizing it, will give relief on habeas corpus [...] is the want of jurisdiction in such court over the person or the cause, or some other matter rendering its proceedings void."

Petitioner asserts that the officials in the challenged actions herein lacked jurisdiction over his person and/or of the cause and that he has been falsely constructively imprisoned and subjected to involuntary servitude as a result of an ultra vires prosecution and other "official" actions taken under color of law but without Lawful authority. Accordingly, this Court also has power to grant this Writ pursuant to Article III, §2, Article I, §9 Cl. 2, Article I, §9 and §10, the First and Fifth Amendments, §14 of the Judiciary Act of 1789, and/or 28 U.S.C. §2241(c)(1) and (2) because Petitioner has been unlawfully restrained "under or by color of the authority of the United States[,] [an] act done or omitted in pursuance of an Act of Congress, [and] order[s], [and] judgment[s] of judge[s] of the United States."

On Petition for Original Writs of Quo Warranto and Mandamus, this Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to Article III, §2, Article I, §9 and §10, the First and Fifth Amendments, §14 of the Judiciary Act of 1789, and/or §28 U.S.C. §1651(a).

Pursuant to Article I, §9, Article VI, §2, and Article III, §2, this Court has personal jurisdiction over all of the parties who are either officers of the Court, officials of California or the United States or People or entities that have submitted to the jurisdiction of this Court by filing pleadings subject to its review. All parties have been properly served pursuant to the "Rules" of this Court.

II. VERIFIED STATEMENT OF THE CASE

A. BACKGROUND

The case against Petitioner arose as a simple and straightforward civil contract dispute over non-payment for materials and labor services rendered by his company, The Spartan Associates, Inc.[16] ("Spartan"), pursuant to its alleged agreement with Karen and Gary Humphreys, ("the Humphreys"), to perform custom remodel construction work on their condominium units in Newport Beach, California. When the Humphreys refused to pay Spartan, Spartan initiated a suit in the Superior Court of California-County of Orange with claims for quantum meruit and open book account.

In response to Spartan's suit, the Humphreys filed cross-complaints against Spartan, Petitioner, and two surety companies. Among the allegations were claims for damages, negligence, and misrepresentation.

The Humphreys initial defense strategy was to a file a Motion for Summary Judgment on the grounds that because Spartan had allegedly not complied with certain aspects of the contractor "licensing laws" that it lacked standing to the relief it sought. The part of their Motion most relevant here claimed that: (1) the "undisputed facts" establish that Spartan was a licensed building contractor and that Spartan (not Petitioner) entered into an agreement with them for home improvement work. Exhibit [A3] pp.231-233. Bolded emphasis added.

[16] A corporation chartered under the laws of the State of California that was solely owned and operated by Petitioner and had repeatedly elected itself as a subchapter S corporation. Spartan remains in the process of dissolution as a result of the issues in this case.

When the Humphreys failed to prove as a matter of law that they were entitled the relief they sought, they concocted a new claim that they never contracted with Spartan, but instead with Petitioner, and that since Petitioner was allegedly unlicensed, they were entitled a full refund without offsets for the benefits they received pursuant to Cal. Business and Professions Code. §7031(b). (This would amount to a $930,000 total forfeiture to Petitioner while the Humphreys would also receive a windfall of the $930,000 in custom work Spartan performed on their home).

Immediately prior to "trial", the Humphreys amended their complaint with the new first cause of action under §7031(b) they called "disgorgement", while simultaneously severing all of their other remaining cross-claims in a Motion for Severance that was granted by the "Court". "Trial" proceeded on their first cause of action for "disgorgement" only.

As will be evidenced, Business and Professions Code §7031(b) does not mention let alone authorize a claim for "disgorgement"– an equitable remedy designed to strip a wrongdoer of their illegal profits. Rather, §7031(b) authorizes a total penal forfeiture as punishment for committing the offense of contracting without a license– a public offense that can only be prosecuted under the Executive power of California by the District Attorney's office, not private parties like the Humphreys.

B. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

1. "Trial": Superior "Court" of California-County of Orange

On March 27-28th, 2017, Petitioner was criminally prosecuted in the Superior Court of California-County of Orange, under the fraudulent pretense of a remedial civil action in Equity for allegedly performing construction work without a license pursuant to Cal. Business and Professions Code §7031(b). At "trial" he was denied all the heightened protections of criminal proceedings including the assistance of counsel and trial by jury. Upon "conviction" he was excessively fined (ordered to forfeit) about $930,000 without any of the protections of the excessive fines clause pursuant to §7031(a) and (b).

Despite the facts that: (1) Spartan was listed on the City of Newport Beach Building Permits as the contractor (vf)[17](Exhibit [A5] pp.499-501); (2) Petitioner was the qualifying individual for Spartan's general contractor license (vf); (3) the Humphreys and Gary Humphreys company, directly paid Spartan $758,000 (Exhibits [A4] p.128 line 19–p.129 line 3, p144 line 17–p.146 line 9 and [A5] pp.475-488); (5) the Humphreys never presented any known evidence Petitioner was a "person" required to be licensed[18] (vf); (6) the Humphreys never presented any known evidence that Petitioner, independent of Spartan, performed any specific work on their project and that this work was required to be licensed (vf); and, (7) the Contractors State Licensing Board had determined Petitioner was "qualified" as a general building contractor (vf), "Judge" David Chaffee, found that Petitioner (not Spartan) was the contractor, that he was unlicensed, and "subject to the [total] forfeiture". Exhibit [A4]– Reporter's Transcript p.201.

Chaffee awarded the Humphreys "disgorgement of funds paid" in the amount of $848,000 pursuant to Cal. Business and Professions Code §7031(b). Appendix [A]– [17] All statements followed by "(vf)" indicated a verified fact. The same applies to all statements made citing Exhibits verifying the statement.

[18] See Bass v. United States, 784 Fed. 2d. 1282, 1284 (1986).

Minute Order pp.4-5 and [B]– Judgment p.7 even though §7031(b) fails to grant the "Court" subject matter jurisdiction to award the forfeiture of payments made to licensed contractors. Chaffee also held that Petitioner was barred from recovering the approximate $82k allegedly due Spartan on its quantum meruit claim because he was the contractor (not Spartan) pursuant to §7031(a). Appendix [B]– Minute Order, p.5. See also Proc. Hist. Exhibits [A1-A5] found on http://www.thespiritoflaw.com.

Ninety days after the "Judgment Order" was issued on April 20, 2017, Petitioner's vested right to act as a qualifying individual for a general contractor license (which included Spartan's license) was summarily suspended/revoked indefinitely by operation of Cal. Business and Professions Code §7071.17 without a hearing or any known appeal process. No known official record exists for this suspension, even though it is commanded by §7071.17.

2. "Appeal"–Fourth District "Court" of Appeal

On appeal to the California Fourth District "Court" of Appeal, "Justices" Aronson, Goethals, and O'Leary (CJ) affirmed Chaffee's "Judgment" in its entirety, holding that all of Petitioner's claims on appeal were "meritless" and that he was not being punished because the $930,000 fine was not penal, but instead an "equitable remedy" known as "disgorgement".[19] Appendix [C]– Opinion pp.9-22 dated October 31, 2018, and Proc. Hist. Exhibits [A5-A18].

3. Challenge to Jurisdiction: Superior "Court" of California- County of Orange

[19] Humphreys v. Bereki, 2018 Cal. App. Unpub. LEXIS 7469 p.14 (2018).

When the Appellate "Justices" awarded costs against Petitioner (to further take his money and property without Lawful authority) and remitted the case to the Superior "Court", he again challenged jurisdiction. "Judge" Di Cesare refused to vacate the void "Judgment" finding that the appellate "Court's" arbitrary edict was "final". Appendix [D]– Minute Order p.23 dated March 15, 2019, Reporter's Transcript pp.24-37, Proc. Hist. Exhibits [A19-A23], and [E1].

4. Petition for Review– California Supreme "Court"

On Petition for Review to the Supreme "Court" of California, "Justices" Tani Cantil-Sakouye (CJ), Carol A. Corrigan, Goodwin H. Liu, Mariano-Florentino Cuellar, Leondra R. Kruger, Joshua P. Groban, and Ming W. Chin, sitting en banc, denied Petitioner's Petition for Review. Ordinarily review by the Supreme Court is discretionary. In this case however, it was mandatory because Petitioner never received a full, fair, or impartial trial or appeal and there was no other Court of California to obtain a remedy. Appendix [E] p.38, and Proc. Hist. Exhibits [A24-A27]. The "Court" has no record of which "Justices" voted to arbitrarily deny the Petition. Exhibit [C] pp.2595-2608.

5. Petition for Writ of Certiorari– U.S. Supreme "Court"

On Petition for Writ of Certiorari to this "Court", unknown "Justices" arbitrarily denied Petitioner's challenge to jurisdiction on October 7, 2019, despite the fact that Article III, §2 of Constitution mandated the Court to hear and determine his case. The "Court" also had a duty to hear his case especially because he had never been afforded a full, fair, impartial or independent trial or appeal and there was no Court in California to obtain a judicial remedy. See case# 18-1416.

8. Independent Action in Equity– U.S. District "Court" Central District of California

In an Independent Action in Equity in the United States District "Court" for the Central District of California, Petitioner challenged the jurisdiction of the State "Court" "Judgments" and the Constitutionality of §7031 and §7071.17. District "Judge" Marshall refused to perform a full, fair, impartial, and independent investigation of his claims and held that the "Court" lacked subject matter jurisdiction to grant him relief because of the doctrines of collateral estoppel and Rooker-Feldman. Appendix [G]– Opinion pp.41-50 dated February 6, 2020, and Procedural History Exhibits [A29-A36]. Upon notice of appeal, Marshall declared Petitioner's appeal "frivolous" and denied his in forma pauperis status. Appendix [H] pp. 51-52. She also denied his request for counsel. Appendix [F] p.39.

7. "Appeal"– Ninth Circuit "Court" of Appeals

On appeal to the Ninth Circuit "Court" of Appeals, "Judges" Thomas (CJ), Tashima, and W. Fletcher, dismissed Petitioner's appeal as "frivolous" on November 12, 2020. Appendix [I] p.53, and Proc. Hist. Exhibits [A38-A42].

8. Emergency Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus– U.S. Supreme "Court"

On September 16, 2021, Petitioner sent an Emergency Petition for Writs or Error and/or non-Statutory Habeas Corpus to this "Court". It was received on September 22, 2021. Exhibit [A43]. The Clerk refused to file the Petition and returned it because it was allegedly not in the proper form as required by the "Rules of "Court" (Appendix [N] p.72).

According to this Court, "the Constitution does not require that the case or controversy should be presented by traditional forms of procedure[.]"[20] Equally important, the "Rules of Court", which have the force and effect of law and can result in the summary denial of Constitutional rights (as they did here), have never been approved by "Congress" or the President and therefore are without authority. The Clerk's office has also repeatedly acted in the capacity of a "gatekeeper" to screen cases before they are given to the Justices. The Clerk of Court has never been appointed as an Article III United States Judge by any President or confirmed by the Senate, and therefore has no power whatsoever to act in the capacity of a Constitutionally unauthorized "gatekeeper" to exercise the judicial power of the United States and summarily reject cases. Cf. Rule 5 of the FRCP whereby "[t]he clerk must not refuse to file a paper solely because it is not in the form prescribed by these rules or by a local rule or practice."

See also Appendix [S]– Questions Presented: 21-22.

9. Criminal Complaints/ Petitions for Redress of Grievance

While pursuing a judicial remedy, Petitioner filed Petitions for Redress of Grievance and/or criminal complaints with the Governor of California (Gavin Newsom), Attorney General of California, California Commission on Judicial

[20] Nashville, C. & St; Louis Ry. Co. v. Wallace, 288 U.S. 249, 264 (1933)

Performance, Assembly of California through the office of Assemblywoman Cottie Petrie-Norris, the Senate of California through the office of Senator John MW Moorlach, Santa Ana Police Department, Orange County Sheriff-Coroner Department, Newport Beach Police Department, Costa Mesa Police Department, Irvine Police Department, California Highway Patrol, Orange County District Attorney, U.S. Department of Justice, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. All of the officials who received the complaints have either refused to perform a full, fair, impartial, and independent investigation into his claims and/or refused to intervene to stop the irreparable harm and damages being perpetrated upon him. Exhibits [C], [D], [E], [F] and section II(D)(3) infra.

10. Application for Emergency Stay/ Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus Superior "Court" of California- County of Orange

As a direct and proximate cause of the fraud, deceit, treason and other crimes perpetrated upon Petitioner–especially the restraint of his liberty with no apparent means of relief–his private contracts and obligations became impaired resulting in two actions (thus far) taken by "creditors". In the first action, Prestige Default Services, LLC, the (Trustee) for the "Deed of Trust" securing the "Promissory Note" for a "loan" pertaining to real property held in Petitioner's living trust, initiated non-judicial foreclosure proceedings on July 7, 2022 for non-"payment" of $37,958.42. Exhibit [D] pp.5225-5230. In the second action, First National Bank of Omaha sued Petitioner for "damages" for breach of credit card contract in the Superior "Court" of California, County of Orange, for failure to "pay" $13,052.87. See case #30-2022-01271693.

Petitioner responded to both actions by filing a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus in the Superior "Court" on September 7, 2022, challenging the personal and subject matter jurisdiction of the State of California and the United States to unlawfully prosecute and punish him and/or sanction this behavior, including denying him a remedy, republican form of government, and impairing the obligations of his private contracts. The requested relief included a request for expedited processing[21] and for an emergency stay of both of the above actions. Proc. Hist. Exhibit [A46]. The Deputy Clerk set a hearing date for the Petition for October 13, 2022.

Pursuant to Cal. Civil Code §2924(a)(2), the foreclosure redemption period is not less than three months, or about October 7, 2022, 90 days after July 7, 2022 when the Notice of Default was filed and six days after the hearing date for the Habeas Petition was set. Because Petitioner had been denied relief in every branch of government and could not cure the defaults by "payment", his only apparent recourse other than an emergency stay would be to file for bankruptcy involuntarily. To stop the irreparable harm and damages, including to avoid being forced into bankruptcy, he filed an Ex parte Application for Emergency Hearing on the Petition and set the hearing date for September 15, 2022. Proc. Hist. Exhibit [A47].

While the appearance of a hearing was conducted by Superior Court "Judge" Sandra Leal, Petitioner was denied a full, fair, and impartial hearing and judicial determination of his rights resulting in the summary denial of his Application and all claims for relief. On the record, Leal held that she "[didn't] find that there [were] exigent circumstances [...and] that a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus [was not] applicable in this situation." Appendix [R] p.89.

[21] Cal. Rules of Court, Rule 4.551(h).

Pursuant to Cal. Penal Code §1473(a) "[a] person unlawfully [...] restrained of their liberty, under any pretense, may prosecute a writ of habeas corpus to inquire into the cause of the imprisonment or restraint." (Bolded emphasis added). Leal made no apparent meaningful inquiry. See also In re Winchester,[22] holding that habeas corpus is the proper remedy to collaterally attack a judgment [restraining liberty] in violation of fundamental constitutional rights, In re McDonald[23], and Deshaney v. Winnebago County Dep't of Social Services,[24] holding that:

> "[W]hen the State takes a person into its custody and holds him there against his will, the Constitution imposes upon it a corresponding duty to assume some responsibility for his safety and general well-being. The affirmative duty to protect arises [...] from the limitation which [the State] has imposed on his freedom to act on his own behalf."

The Minute Order issued by Leal contains no Lawful authority or other substantive reasoning for her summary denial of not only Petitioner's right to Habeas relief, but to all his rights secured by the California and U.S. Constitutions that continue to be violated.

On October 13, 2022, the hearing initially scheduled for the Petition was commenced before Superior "Court" "Judge" Corey Cramin. Cramin summarily denied the Petition and requests for an emergency stay. Cramin's "Minute Order",

C. OVERVIEW OF THE CRIMINAL ENTERPRISE

The criminal Enterprise operates as a shadow government, what some have called "The Deep State", in interstate commerce and/or under Federal regional martial law rule, whereby it uses the appearance and facade of the Lawful California and U.S. Constitutional governments to carry out its agenda while committing crimes, treason, and acts of racketeering upon the People of California and America to systematically their Lawful governments. Many of these subversive acts also appear to be taking place under the guise of the "progressive" movement, apparently intent on overthrowing Republican forms of government with communist or totalitarian forms of government.

The principal ways the Enterprise functions and continues to expand its parasitic sphere of influence is either through the arbitrary exercise of power without Lawful authority and/or the refusal to exercise the Constitutionally mandated powers vested in the official offices occupied by members of the Enterprise.

D. ANTI-CONSTITUTIONAL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES OF THE ENTERPRISE/ EXTRAORDINARY REASONS RESULTING IN THIS COURT'S MANDATORY DUTY TO EXERCISE JURISDICTION AND GRANT THE REQUESTED RELIEF

1. Malicious Prosecution and False Imprisonment

a. Destruction of Inalienable Rights and Unlawful Creation of Fourth Branch of Government

To understand how Petitioner became subjected to the malicious prosecution for unlicensed contracting in the first place, it's imperative to examine how the contractor "licensing laws" under the California Business and Professions Code came into existence.

One of the primary reasons behind establishing our Constitutional forms of government of carefully defined and limited powers was to recognize and protect the inherent rights of People to life, liberty, and property, and to declare, without any ambiguity, that these rights were innate in the individual, antecedent to the formation of government, and could not be taken away by whichever way the political winds blew.[25] Put differently, these "creator-endowed inalienable rights" were not mere privileges subject to the arbitrary whim of government officials, democracies/mob majorities, commercial regulations, or "police powers".

As one of the checks and balances to ensure these private inalienable rights remained protected beyond their mere parchment declaration, the Judicial branch of government was established to adjudicate disputes involving them, but only through procedures that had been established over centuries that were firmly rooted in the common Law upon which every State (except Louisiana) had been admitted to the union. Many of these protections also became enumerated in the Bills of Rights of Constitutions.

[25] "The very purpose of a Bill of Rights was to withdraw certain subjects from the vicissitudes of political controversy, to place them beyond the reach of majorities and officials and to establish them as legal principles to be applied by the courts. One's right to life, liberty, and property, to free speech, a free press, freedom of worship and assembly, and other fundamental rights may not be submitted to vote; they depend on the outcome of no elections." Board of Education v. Barnette, 319 U.S. 624, 638 (1943).

In the early 1900's, however, the "Legislature" of California, acting without any Lawful representative quorum or Lawful authority, began converting private inalienable[26] (not lienable, non-commercial) rights into revocable public privileges in interstate commerce.[27] While done under the guise of "protecting the public", the real agenda was to create and empower a centralized totalitarian[28] Police State ("total State" or "the Enterprise") by implementing a new authoritarian system of government under Roman civil law in direct violation of the California and U.S. Constitutions. The intent of this new "government"–as directly evidenced by the untold millions of rules, regulations, statutes, and codes it has since created–was to dominate and control nearly every aspect of the lives of the People of California while masquerading as a Lawful Republican, "free" form of government despite having no consent of the governed or Lawful authority.

The implementation of the total State/ Enterprise required three primary means: (1) for government "officials" to commit fraud, treason, and other crimes by either exercising powers without Lawful authority to create and enforce the new policies and procedures of the total State/Enterprise; (2) for government "officials" to refuse to perform the sworn mandatory non-discretionary duties of their office, including, most specifically, those duties known as "checks and balances"; and, (3) for the People to refuse to perform their duties as principals of their government to keep their agents within the chains of the Constitution thereby stopping the usurpers of the total State/ Enterprise from implementing the takeover.

[26] Secured by: Article I, §1 of the Cal. Constitution; Article I, §10 and the Ninth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. See also Hale v. Henkel, 201 U.S. 43, 74 (1906) recognizing that "[t]he individual [...] is entitled to carry on his private business in his own way. His power to contract is unlimited. He owes no duty to the State [...]."

[27] Inalienable rights secured on Land by the California and U.S. Constitutions are either not recognized or secured in interstate commerce governed by international law, Roman civil law, and/or Admiralty/Maritime jurisdictions where there is no Constitution/ Bill of Rights securing them. Commerce (com- with, mer- sea) is a jurisdiction dealing with commodities and things that doesn't recognize the inalienable rights of sentient beings.

[28] A form of government and a political system that prohibits all opposition parties, outlaws individual and group opposition to the State and its claims, and exercises an extremely high degree of control and regulation over public and private life. It is regarded as the most extreme and complete form of authoritarianism. In totalitarian States, political power is often held by autocrats, such as dictators and absolute monarchs, who employ all-encompassing campaigns in which propaganda is broadcast by state-controlled mass media in order to control the citizenry.

One of the most explicit acts of the Enterprise was to literally create a Fourth branch of government, without any authority whatsoever, that would combine the powers of all three of the existing Legislative, Executive, and Judicial branches Constitutionally made separate. These branches were intentionally made separate because the People and Framers, having just escaped the throes of tyranny, knew that "the accumulation of all powers, legislative, executive, and judiciary, in the same hands, whether of one, a few, or many, and whether hereditary, self-appointed, or elective, may justly be pronounced the very definition of tyranny."[29] And they "regarded [the separation of powers as a system of] checks and balances [and] self-executing safeguard against the encroachment or aggrandizement of one branch at the expense of the other."

To this end, The California Constitution of 1849 established a tripartite Republican form of government that almost mirrors that of the United States government. Each branch was vested with certain "core" or "essential" functions that were not be usurped by another branch.[30] Article IV, Section 1 declares that "[t]he legislative power of this State is vested in the California Legislature which consists of the Senate and Assembly [...]" Article V, Section 1 declares that "[t]he supreme executive power of this State is vested in the Governor [and that] "[t]he Governor shall see that the law is faithfully executed". Article VI, Section 1 declares that "the judicial power of this State is vested in the Supreme Court, courts of appeal, and superior courts, all of which are courts of record." Just to ensure this separation of powers was abundantly clear, Article III, Section 3 separately declares that "[p]ersons charged with the exercise of one power may not exercise either of the others except as permitted by this Constitution."[31]

Despite the foregoing, one Fourth branch agency, known today as the Contractors State Licensing Board, sprung into existence to take total control of the construction industry in California and to create a means for the non-judicial determination of property rights in construction-related disputes by forcing parties into highly unconstitutional "mandatory arbitration" proceedings in direct violation of the separation of powers. The "mandatory arbitration program" was created by the Licensing Board and/or employees thereof treasonously exercising the Legislative and Executive powers of California that have never been conferred upon it/them.

To initially create and empower the Board, the "Legislature" had to effectively

[31] See especially Justice Thomas' dissent in Seila Law, LLC v. Consumer Fin. Prot. Bureau, 140 S. Ct. 2183, 2216 (2020). "The Constitution does not permit the creation of officers exercising "quasi-legislative" and "quasi-judicial powers" in "quasi-legislative" and "quasi-judicial agencies." No such powers or agencies exist. Congress lacks the authority to delegate its legislative power, and it cannot authorize the use of judicial power by officers acting outside of the bounds of Article III[.] Nor can Congress create agencies that straddle multiple branches of Government. The Constitution sets out three branches of Government and provides each with a different form of power[...]. Free-floating agencies simply do not comport with this constitutional structure.

rob[32] the People of California of their inalienable right to their time and labor (Cal. Const. Article I, §1) by denying them a hearing and judicial determination of their rights while simultaneously converting their inalienable rights into revocable privileges entirely subject to the "licensing laws" and "policies" of the Board. This policy was most clearly expressed by the Attorney General of California in Opinion 47-175:

> "Since a license to conduct any of the regulated activities [in California] is a mere statutory privilege [not an inalienable right]–a creature of statute–it is at all times subject to legislative control, including destruction or termination by the legislative process."

The destruction of inalienable rights at the hands of political majorities was exactly what the doctrine of separation of powers and checks and balances was intended to protect against. But the system of check and balances could only work if the Courts, Executive officials, and the People were steadfast in their duties. They weren't, and "The New Despotism"[33] in the form of the total State/ Enterprise was born.[34]

b. The "Legislature" of California Was Without Authority to Transfer the Executive Power of California to Private Parties Depriving the Superior Court of Subject Matter Jurisdiction

At first blush, Business and Professions Code §7031(b) appears to be civil remedial statute giving private parties the privilege of recovering compensation they [32] Robbery is the taking of property (such as rights) without Lawful authority by means of force or fear. See e.g. Cal. Penal Code §211. If a government official uses force and/or fear to take something (rights, liberty, property) without Lawful authority (Constitutionally prescribed due process), then they are committing the felonious crime of robbery.

[34] Petitioner has been unable to locate any official documents that these changes to California's form of government, in addition to having never been approved by the People, have ever been approved by Congress pursuant to Article IV, §3.

paid to an unlicensed contractor by commencing a civil suit. But §7031(b) is a wolf in sheep's clothing. It's really an action intended for private parties to commence an unlawful criminal prosecution disguised as a remedial civil action. To discover the wolf lurking behind the sheep's clothing, it's necessary to forensically examine the "Legislative" intent, the history of interpreting and enforcing §7031(b) claims by California "Courts", and most importantly, what the real effect of the statute has on an unlicensed contractor.

1. Business and Professions Code §7031 Imposes a Total Penal Forfeiture Not Equitable Disgorgement

California Business and Professions Code §7031(b) is a public regulatory penal statute that governs contractor licensing under California's contractor "licensing laws". It declares that:

> "a person who utilizes the services of an unlicensed contractor may bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state to recover all compensation paid to the unlicensed contractor for performance of any act or contract."

According to the Supreme "Court" of California, "the Legislature's obvious intent [of enacting §7031(b) was] to impose a stiff all-or-nothing penalty for [performing] unlicensed [construction] work by specifying that a contractor is barred from all recovery for such an act or contract if unlicensed at any time while performing it."[35]

[35] MW Erectors v. Neiderhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., Inc., 36 Cal. 4th 412, 426 (Cal. Supreme Ct. 2005). Italicized emphases original. Internal quotations omitted. Bolded emphasis added.

More accurately however, §7031(b) prescribes punishment in the form of a total forfeiture[36] because an unlicensed contractor is required to forfeit "all compensation paid" by a customer without offsets for the reasonable value of goods and services provided.[37] In other words, even if the contractor performs flawless work, the homeowner gets to keep the work and receives a full refund.

One august authority addressing these precise issues is the Town of Gilbert Prosecutors Office v. Downie,[38] which Petitioner cited on appeal to the Fourth District. Exhibit [A6] pp.29-30. The Gilbert case involved "disgorgement" and the criminal prosecution of an unlicensed contractor where the Supreme Court of Arizona found that "a rule of total disgorgement [forfeiture] regardless of any benefit conferred on the victim [...] may lead to absurd or troubling results." Discussing the issue, the high Court found that "when determining the proper amount of restitution to be paid to a victim, consideration should be made for [the] value conferred on the victim;" Id. p.18. and, that restitution "should not compensate victims for more than their actual loss." Id. p.13. Citing both the Seventh[39] and Ninth[40] Circuit Courts of Appeal, the Gilbert Court declared that they "[found] no significant difference between returning cash, one form of value, and returning other forms of value, such as permits, chattels, services, or other property [and that the concept of] loss is [...] rooted in value, not solely in the exchange of money." Id. p.25.

In his concurring opinion, Justice Hurwitz added that under the pretense of a total forfeiture of "disgorgement" without offsets for the value conferred, "a homeowner who received flawless work from an unlicensed contractor would be refunded the full amount paid but would nonetheless also retain the work performed." He concluded "[i]t is impossible for me to view such a victim as having suffered any loss, economic or otherwise..." Id. p.30.

Notably, the Fourth District "Justices" refused to even acknowledge this case and found all of Petitioner's claims making these Lawful and rational arguments "meritless".

After Petitioner was purportedly found to be the unlicensed contractor (as opposed to Spartan), he was denied all offsets for the alleged $930,000 work that was performed by Spartan on the Humphreys project and ordered to pay the Humphreys an additional $848,000. He was also denied the right to compensation for the approximate $82,000 that the Humphreys refused to pay pursuant to §7031(a).

The legislative history of §7031(b) confirms this draconian punishment was indeed intended by the California "Legislature" and "Governor" upon its enactment. See Exhibit [B] p.860:

> "Under the bill, individuals may bring such an action even if the contractor has fully performed. In that case, those using the unlicensed contractor have not been harmed in any way, but are nevertheless authorized to sue to recover compensation paid. As a result, those using unlicensed contractors are arguably unjustly enriched because they are able to reap the benefits of the work done by the unlicensed contractor and are then authorized by statute to sue to recover from the contractor all compensation paid."

As this Court has declared, the inquiry of whether a statutory scheme is remedial or punitive is over "[i]f the [intent] of the legislature was to impose punishment [...]."[41]

Other obvious indications of §7031's purely penal nature are: (1) that §7031(b) falls squarely within the definition of a crime or public offense as defined by Cal. Penal Code §15[42]; and, (2) that the same conduct is made criminal by Cal. Business and Professions Codes §7028 and §16240.

It should be carefully noted that the maximum fine for a first offense of unlicensed contracting under §7028 is $5,000, not $930,000.

Pursuant to a Public Records Request to the Orange County District Attorney, the ten most recent first-offense convictions for violating §7028 averaged a fine of $750 and a year of informal probation. Exhibit [C] pp.2550-2557.

Chaffee's "Judgment" was no accident or "harmless error". He had direct knowledge of §7031's penal nature by the fact that he was the trial "Judge" in the MW Erectors case that went to the Cal. Supreme "Court" where it found that §7031 imposed "a stiff all-or-nothing penalty". Chaffee also cited MW Erectors in his discussion of his "Judgment" at "trial", identified it as the "bellwether case on the issue of [...] unlicensed contractor responsibility" (Exhibit [A4]– Reporter's Transcript p.200) and admitted that he was imposing a forfeiture. Id. p.201.

2. The Trial "Court" "Judge" Lacked Subject Matter Jurisdiction to Award a Total Forfeiture Disguised as Equitable Disgorgement Because the Humphreys Never Stated a Claim for Disgorgement

Business and Professions Code §7031 mentions nothing about "disgorgement". Nor is an action for "disgorgement" defined anywhere by California statute. The word disgorgement is also not used anywhere in the legislative of history of §7031. Exhibit [B]. And, as previously evidenced, the "Legislature" and "Governor" (Gray Davis) were perfectly aware of the possibility of the unjust enrichment that the enforcement of §7031(b) could create.

According to this Court's recent decision in the case of Liu v. SEC,[43] a claim for "disgorgement" is an equitable remedy designed to strip a wrongdoer of illegal profits, not the total penal forfeiture of an entire transaction without offsets for benefits conferred.

Even assuming §7031(b) called for a true claim of equitable disgorgement, Petitioner is: (1) unaware of any evidence on the trial "Court's" record that he profited even one dollar let alone the $930,000 awarded by Chaffee to the Humphreys (vf); or, (2) that he was unjustly enriched by allegedly performing the custom remodel work requested by the Humphreys (vf). See for e.g. Restatement of the Law 3d, Restitution and Unjust Enrichment, §51, comment i:

> "Allegations that the defendant is a wrongdoer, and that the defendant's business is profitable, do not state a claim in unjust enrichment. By contrast, a claimant who is prepared to show a causal connection between defendant's wrongdoing and a measurable increase in the defendant's net assets will satisfy the burden of proof as ordinarily understood."

[43] Liu v. SEC, 140 S. Ct. 1936, 1940 (2020).

The Humphreys evidenced that they (and Gary Humphreys company, Humphreys & Associates, Inc.) paid a total of $848,000 to Petitioner and Spartan, which was undisputed (vf). In an action for unjust enrichment, however, "[t]he emphasis is on the wrongdoer's enrichment, not the victim's [payments]".[44] Therefore, if §7031(b) actually provided a claim for disgorgement, Petitioner was entitled to offsets for the compensation that had already been returned to the Humphreys. Under the Maxims and Principles of Equity Adjudication, "[n]o one is presumed to give something for nothing. And no one can in reason and conscience expect to receive something for nothing."[45]

Not only does §7031(b) not authorize a claim for "disgorgement", the punishment provided by §7031(b) is neither equitable nor remedial. The Supreme "Court" of California and lower "Courts" have also repeatedly held that "courts may not resort to equitable considerations in defiance of section 7031"[46], evidencing it is not an equitable action. Consequently, the Humphreys never stated a claim for equitable disgorgement or unjust enrichment and Chaffee clearly imposed a total penal forfeiture.

"To accord a type of relief that has never been available before and especially (as here) a type of relief that has been specifically disclaimed by longstanding judicial precedent–is to invoke a default rule, [...] not of flexibility but of omnipotence".[47]

4. The Trial "Court" "Judge" Lacked Subject Matter Jurisdiction to Award a Total Penal Forfeiture Disguised as "Damages" Because the Humphreys Never Stated a Claim for Damages

Even though Chaffee's "Minute Order" stated that he awarded the Humphreys "disgorgement", the "Judgment Order" he later signed, Appendix [B] pp.7-8, is for "[d]amages". Petitioner is also unaware of any evidence on the trial "Court's" record of any "damages" even remotely commensurate with any State or Federal Court definition thereof (vf).

In Birdsall v. Coolidge,[49] this Court defined damages as "a compensation, recompense, or satisfaction to the plaintiff, for an injury actually received by him from the defendant" and that "the amount awarded shall be precisely commensurate with the injury suffered, neither more nor less, whether the injury be to the person or estate of the complaining party."

Under Cal. Civil Code §3281, which purportedly codified the common Law definition of damages in California, "[e]very person who suffers detriment from the unlawful act or omission of another, may recover from the person in fault a compensation therefor in money, which is called damages." "[A] [p]laintiff has [the] burden of proving, with reasonable certainty, damages actually sustained by him as result of defendant's wrongful act, and [the] extent of such damages must be proved as fact. [The] burden of proving damages placed on plaintiff is not lessened by his presentation of [a] prima facie case of negligence against [the] defendant"[50] "[and] [d]amages cannot be recovered if the evidence leaves them uncertain, speculative, or remote."[51]

According to the California Second District "Court" of Appeal's opinion in the case of Eisenberg Village etc. v. Suffolk Construction Co., Inc.,[52] "the disgorgement mandated by section 7031(b) is not designed to compensate the plaintiff for any harm, but instead is intended to punish the unlicensed contractor" and "[t]he fact that a contractor does not have a valid license does not, by itself, cause the plaintiff harm other than, perhaps some sort of psychological harm in knowing that he or she hired someone who was not in compliance with the law." In other words, the so-called "injury" from hiring an unlicensed contractor upon which the "licensing laws" are founded is purely hypothetical.

Under California law, "any provision by which money or property is to be forfeited without regard to the actual damage suffered calls for a penalty and is therefore void."[53] See also Cal. Civil Code §3275 and Ebbert v. Mercantile Trust Co.[54] requiring equitable relief from a penalty or forfeiture by compensation for damages actually suffered. No such relief was afforded to Petitioner.

The case against Petitioner was clearly not to remediate damages for an actual injury suffered by the Humphreys. The Humphreys severed their alleged claim for damages and proceeded to "trial" only on their first-amended claim for "disgorgement." At "trial" they introduced no evidence of damages, including any damages that arguably could have been caused by Petitioner's purported lack of a license. In other words, there was no evidence presented of a traceable connection or nexus between the Humphreys claim and the remedy they sought. Their non-existent "injury" was purely hypothetical and speculative and not based in reality. Accordingly, they failed to state a claim for "damages" and thereby deprived Chaffee of subject matter jurisdiction to award any.

5. State and Federal "Court" History of Treason Involving §7031 Actions

The case against Petitioner is not an anomaly. Perhaps the most egregious case involving §7031 is that of Judicial Council of California v. Jacobs Facilities, Inc.,[55] where the so-called "Judicial" Council of California sought a $22.7 million "dollar" forfeiture under the same false and fraudulent veil of equitable "disgorgement" against Jacobs, a company it hired to maintain the California "Court" buildings that had admittedly done a good job. In response to a public records request, the "Judicial" Council admittedly spent over $3 million "dollars" of the People's tax "money" in its attempts to prosecute, punish, and likely financially destroy Jacobs due to a harmless and apparently unintentional licensing mix-up during Jacobs corporate reorganization. $3,307,408.78 to be exact. Exhibit [C] p. 1815. One has to wonder just what degree of sociopathy[56] it must take to spend more than 3 million "dollars" to try to ruin a company that provided quality service and caused no harm. This is precisely the lack of humanity and direct evidence of the severe mental illness that is rampant in the behavior of the "officials" of this case (and many others) to use one's position of honor, profit, and trust without empathy or fairness and as a weapon of domestic violence, treason, and oppression.

It is unknown exactly how many other similar cases like Petitioner's have taken place as California's "Court" records management system has no means of performing even an elementary database search of cases or judgments based upon specific statutes like §7031, which has been in existence since 1929. The following are just a handful of other cases Petitioner was able to locate because an appeal was filed. (Please note that the facts of these cases and the judgment figures provided are the result of a preliminary or cursory case analysis, not a forensic examination. They may require further study for accuracy.): (1) Twenty-Nine Palms v. Bardos, 210 Cal. App. 4th 1435 (2012)– a forfeiture in the amount of $917,043.09 against Paul Bardos who was ultimately forced into bankruptcy and lost his home. In re Bardos, Memorandum of the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel of the 9th Circuit, Bankr. No. 10-41455-DS. ; (2) MW Erectors, Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., Inc., 36 Cal. 4th, 412 (Cal. Supreme Ct. 2005)– total forfeiture in the amount of $1,322,247 plus interest and "Court" costs awarded against MW Erectors, Inc. pursuant to §7031(a) upheld by the Cal. Supreme "Court", awarded by "Judge" Chaffee; (3) Banis Restaurant Design, Inc. v. Serrano, 134 Cal. App. 4th 1035 (2005)– a forfeiture in the amount of $212,821.80 plus interest and "Court" costs awarded against Banis pursuant to §7031(a); (4) Hydrotech Systems, Ltd. v. Oasis Waterpark, 52 Cal. 3d 988 (Cal. Supreme Ct. 1991)– a forfeiture in the amount of $110,000 plus interest and "Court" costs awarded against Hydrotech pursuant to §7031(a); and, (5) White v. Cridlebraugh, 178 Cal. App. 4th 506 (2009)– a forfeiture in the amount of $84,621.45 plus interest and "Court" costs awarded against JC Master Builders, Inc. pursuant to §7031(b).

At the Federal level, United States District "Courts" enforce these same Enterprise "policies". See e.g. Davis Moreno Constr., Inc. v. Frontier Steel Bldgs. Corp.,[57] where the "Court" awarded a forfeiture in the amount of $168,025.90 against Frontier pursuant to §7031(b) and an unknown amount pursuant to §7031(a); and the Ninth Circuit bankruptcy case of Paul Bardos, supra.

In every case Petitioner examined, the so-called "Judges" not only refused to recognize the penal nature of the forfeiture they imposed–and consequently any protections guaranteed by State and Federal Constitutions (especially the excessive fines clause protections)–they also refused to dismiss the case for lack of personal and subject matter jurisdiction on the grounds that "a private citizen lacks a judicially cognizable interest in the prosecution [...] of another."[58]

5. The Trial "Court" "Judge" Lacked Subject Matter Jurisdiction to Punish Petitioner Because Private Parties Lack State and National Constitutional Standing to Prosecute Other Private Parties

1. The History of Criminal Forfeiture Laws

In the case of United States v. Seifuddin,[60] the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit examined the history of forfeiture laws and found that:

> "the classical distinction between civil and criminal forfeiture was founded upon whether the penalty assessed was against the person or against the thing. Forfeiture against the person operated in personam and required a conviction before the property could be wrested from the defendant. Such forfeitures were regarded as criminal in nature because they were penal; they primarily sought to punish. Forfeiture against the thing was in rem and the forfeiture was based upon the unlawful use of the res, irrespective of its owner's culpability. These forfeitures were regarded as civil; their purpose was remedial."

Applying this criteria to the instant case, it is plainly obvious that the action against Petitioner was an in personam forfeiture intended to punish him for allegedly committing the public offense of unlicensed contracting (even though he was licensed). A total forfeiture like this would be appropriate if he committed a robbery or defrauded the Humphreys by taking their money without conferring any value upon them. But that's clearly not what happened.

In United States v. Shapleigh, the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit found that "[t]o protect the substantial rights of the parties [and] to wisely administer the law, courts must frequently look beyond the outward form to the real substance and nature of things."[61] "It is not the form, but the nature of the proceeding that must determine the rule to be applied to it." Id.

2. The Humphreys Admitted Their Intent to Prosecute and Punish Petitioner

In their First Amended Trial Brief, the Humphreys stated that they intended to (and ultimately did in fact) prosecute and punish Petitioner for violating the "licensing law"s by seeking a $930,000 fine/total forfeiture upon him. They claimed that "Adam Bereki, both at the time the contract with the Humphreys was entered into, and at all times during his performance on the Project, was unlicensed as a contractor in violation of California Business & Professions Code §7028 [the criminal statute for unlicensed contracting]. As a consequence of Mr. Bereki's unlicensed status and under the provisions of California Business & Professions Code §7031(b), the Humphreys are entitled to recover from cross-defendant Bereki all sums paid by [them] to Mr. Bereki, which sums total $848,000."

3. The Humphreys Lacked Standing Under the California Constitution to Criminally Prosecute Petitioner

While the California Constitution does not overtly have a case or controversy standing requirement like the U.S. Constitution, this standing requirement is implicit its separation of powers provisions.

The Humphreys lacked standing under the Cal. Constitution to prosecute Petitioner for the commission of a public offense because Article V, §1 vests the entirety of Executive power exclusively in the Governor to see that the law is faithfully executed. The People conveyed the entirety of the executive power upon the Governor because it was believed that "a basic step in organizing a civilized society is to take that sword out of private hands and turn it over to an organized government, acting on behalf of all the people. Indeed, the . . . power a man has in the state of nature is the power to punish the crimes committed against that law. But this he gives up when he joins a [...] political society, and incorporates into a commonwealth."[62] Therefore, only officials of the Executive branch of California could prosecute Petitioner, not the Humphreys.[63] The "Legislature", therefore, was entirely without any authority to transfer the Executive power of the Governor to private parties.

See also Justice Thomas's concurring opinion in the case of Spokeo Inc. v. Robbins, stating that historically, "[c]ommon-law courts, [...] have required a further showing of injury for violations of "public rights"–rights that involve duties owed to the whole community, considered as a community, in its social aggregate capacity. Such rights include [...] general compliance with regulatory law."[64] And that "[e]ven in limited cases where private plaintiffs could bring a claim for the violation of public rights, they had to allege that the violation caused them some extraordinary damage, beyond the rest of the community."[65]

The Humphreys neither alleged nor proved that they were caused any extraordinary damage and no sworn information or indictment was ever filed in the name of The People of California pursuant to Cal. Gov't Code §100 to vest the Superior "Court" with personal and subject matter jurisdiction[66] to prosecute and punish Petitioner.

"A lack of standing is a jurisdictional defect."[67] As a result, Chaffee had a mandatory, non-discretionary, ministerial duty to dismiss the Humphreys claim under §7031(b) sua sponte for lack of personal and subject matter jurisdiction and want of prosecution.[68] Instead, he arbitrarily chose to proceed with a faux "trial", knowing or reasonably knowing he had no Lawful authority whatsoever to do so, thereby committing fraud upon Petitioner and his estate in the procurement of personal and subject matter jurisdiction and in the subsequent issuance of his fraudulent ultra vires "Judgment Order".

4. The Humphreys Lacked Standing Under the U.S. Constitution to Criminally Prosecute Petitioner

Because the U.S. Constitution is the "supreme Law of the Land" (Art. VI, §2), the judicial power of the United States must be capable of acting upon all State action which comes into conflict with its superior authority. For how could a State and the Judges which are bound thereby transcend its authority by creating claims that the Article III power could not reach? This would especially be true when a defendant in State Court invokes the concurrent jurisdiction of the United States by claiming rights secured by the U.S. Constitution requiring the State Court Judge to sit in that concurrent jurisdictional capacity. All State judicial action therefore, must meet the standing requirements of Article III. The same guarantee is made by Article I, §10 requiring a judicial proceeding.

The Humphreys claim under §7031(b) fails to meet even one of the Article III standing requirements as declared in Steel Co. v. Citizens for a Better Env't[69]. They presented no evidence of an injury in fact that was concrete and actual; no evidence of a fairly-traceable connection between their non-existent injury and Petitioner's conduct; and no evidence that their non-existent injury would be redressed by fining him $930,000.

The fact that the Humphreys claims fails to meet any of the Article III standing requirements is directly linked to all of the other standing issues raised by Petitioner. Had these Article III requirements been carefully considered by the Cal. "Legislature" and "Courts", §7031's unconstitutionality would have been blatantly obvious from the outset.

The deliberate refusal to abide Constitutional standing requirements–namely by creating claims for relief with hypothetical or fictitious injuries–appears to be one of the core issues at the heart of the implementation of the total State and its "public policies". Historically, claims at common Law (on Land)[70] were for actual injuries because they could be readily determined by witnesses and evidence. In stark contrast, claims involving presumptive injuries and liquidated damages were found in Admiralty or Maritime jurisdictions because they arose on the open sea (liquid) where there was likely to be no evidence of the incident or any witnesses to determine who to attribute fault to.

To specifically prevent against the abuses of Admiralty jurisdiction coming onto Land and being used to overthrow the Constitutional standing and due process requirements of claims at common Law, cases in Admiralty were specifically excluded from arising under the U.S. Constitution. State Courts were also forbidden from exercising Admiralty jurisdiction.[71] This is specifically why States cannot create claims such as those in Admiralty that transcend the case or controversy standing requirements of Article III that arise under the Constitution. Admiralty claims don't arise under the Constitution, they arise extra–Constitutionally under international law. See especially section II(4)(b)(i), infra.

This Court has repeatedly declared that the judicial power of the United States is "limit[ed] [...] to the resolution of cases and controversies[.]" "otherwise the power is not judicial."[72] As the power exercised against Petitioner is not judicial, it is clearly arbitrary and lawless.

Recorder for the County of Orange on April 27, 2017 (Exhibit [D] pp.5249-5253) and a "commercial lien" with the Cal. Sec. of State on April 28, 2017 (file 177582830223). Exhibit [D] p.5439. The "Abstract" and "commercial lien" were false and fraudulent because they were based upon Chaffee's "Judgment Order" they collectively knew, or reasonably should of known, was without any Lawful authority whatsoever.

The "Abstract" became attached to the real property at 818 Spirit Costa Mesa, California held in Petitioner's living trust and thereby operated to unlawfully restrain him and his mother (the true and beneficial owner of the property) from their rights to the free and unrestricted use of the property and the equitable assets therein. This included their inability to sell or refinance the property to avoid the foreclosure sale or to meet other needs.

2. Petitioner's Vested Licensing Right Was Summarily Suspended/Revoked Without Any Hearing or Means of Appeal

As previously stated, Petitioner contends that he had an inalienable right to his time and labor in construction as recognized by Article 1, §1 of the Cal. Constitution. As a result, he could not be required to obtain a license and pay a recurring fee for the privilege of earning a living in an ordinary avocation of life.[73] The Cal. "Legislature" was therefore without authority to arbitrarily convert his inalienable (not lienable, non-commercial) right into a revocable commercial public privilege in interstate commerce. Even if this were not the case, the fact that he became a qualifying individual of a general contractor license was a vested right that also could not be taken without judicial process[74] pursuant to Article I, §10.

The "State" had also previously determined Petitioner "competent" as a general contractor. It therefore remains unknown how he could be magically transformed "incompetent" by Chaffee at "trial" simply because he allegedly didn't have a license in his own name and/or didn't pay the licensing tax.[75] As the qualifying individual of a general contractor license, Petitioner was a licensee.[76]

Ninety days after the fraudulent "Judgment Order" was issued on April 20, 2017, Petitioner's vested right was summarily suspended/revoked by operation of Cal. Business and Professions Code §7071.17 without a hearing or any known appeal process because he was unable to pay the unlawful "Judgment" or meet any of the other requirements of §7071.17 to obtain or maintain a license. He was consequently deprived of all of the heightened protections of judicial criminal proceedings and the right to trial by jury on this issue, resulting in a bill of pains and penalties.

i. The "Justices" of this "Court" Breached Their Mandatory Duty to Exercise Jurisdiction by Refusing to Granting Petitioner's Petition for Writ of Certiorari and to Affordi Him Relief Mandated by Law

After a §7031 defendant discovers that there is no judicial remedy available in any "Court" of California, they might believe they had a right under the U.S. Constitution to an appeal in the U.S. Supreme Court. But this would be delusional.

Even though Article III of the Constitution mandates that the judicial power of the United States "shall extend to all Cases in Law and Equity" the "Justices" have created and enforced a "policy" whereby they believe they can arbitrarily vote on whether or not to hear a case and thereby determine who will or won't receive the protections guaranteed by the Constitution. [77] [78] Nowhere in Article III is there an arbitrary voting provision and "Congress" and this "Court" is without authority to amend the Constitution in violation of Article V to create one.

[77] Emphasis added. See Commentaries on the Constitution (1833), Joseph Story §1584 "The judicial power, therefore, be vested in some court by Congress; and to suppose that it was not an obligation binding on them, but might, at their pleasure, be omitted or declined, is to suppose under the sanctions of the Constitution, they might defeat the Constitution itself. See also Office of the Clerk, Guide for Prospective Indigent Petitioners for Writs of Certiorari, July 2019 stating "It is important to note that review in this Court by means of a writ of certiorari is not a matter of right, but of judicial discretion. The primary concern of the Supreme Court is not to correct errors in lower court decisions, but to decide cases presenting issues of importance beyond the particular facts and parties involved." Bolded emphasis added. While this policy may be lawful if the applicant had a full, fair, and impartial judicial determination of rights in the first instance in State or Federal Court, it absolutely is not if this did not happen and the applicant has been deprived of Constitutionally protected rights. In such a case, review by the Supreme Court becomes mandatory and not discretionary pursuant to at least Article I, §9 or §10 and fundamental due process. Petitioner has never had a judicial determination of rights by any Court of California or the United States acting with Lawful subject matter jurisdiction/ within Constitutional bounds.

As declared by this Court more than two hundred years ago, "[t]he constitution gave to every person having a claim upon a State, a right to submit his case to the Court of the nation. However unimportant his claim might be, however little the community might be interested in its decision, the framers of our constitution thought it necessary for the purposes of justice, to provide a tribunal as superior to influence as possible, in which that claim might be decided."[79]

On October 7, 2019, Petitioner's Petition for Writ of Certiorari was summarily denied without any Lawful authority.

ii. The U.S. District "Court" "Judge" Breached Her Mandatory Duty to Exercise Jurisdiction to Grant Petitioner Relief

In concert with this "Court's" "policy" to arbitrarily refuse to hear cases, the "Judges" of the U.S. District "Court" for the Central District of California and the U.S. "Court" of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit have arbitrarily created and enforced another "policy" whereby they also summarily deny all rights and protections guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution on the ground that they have no authority to provide relief in at least cases challenging State "Court" "judgments" that violate the U.S. Constitution.

The "policies" of this "Court" and the Ninth Circuit "Courts" not only result in giving the full faith and credit of the United States to the Lawless acts of State "officials", but also deny the People their right to a judicial determination of their rights under the U.S. Constitution. In this Court's own words, these "policies" amount to "treason"[80] to the Constitution.[81] Without access to any judicial Court, every single "law" or "statute" whether lawfully enacted or not is a bill of attainder or pains and penalties and totally unenforceable pursuant to Article I sections 9 or 10.

After this "Court" refused to grant his Petition for Writ of Certiorari, Petitioner filed a verified complaint in the form of an Independent Action in Equity in the United States District "Court" for the Central District of California. His First Amended Complaint rebutted the presumptive validity of the State "Court" "Judgements" and included a request for the assistance of counsel, declaratory relief, injunctive relief, and restitution. The case was assigned to District "Court" "Judge" Consuelo B. Marshall.

In response to his Complaint, the Humphreys filed a Motion to dismiss pursuant to FRCP Rules 12(b)(1), 12(b)(6), and 12(b)(7). Notably, they failed to address any of the issues relating to Petitioner's challenges to the lack of subject matter jurisdiction of the "Judgments" that rebutted their presumptive validity.

Assuming Marshall retained subject matter jurisdiction based upon her denial of Petitioner's request for assistant counsel (Appendix [F] pp.39), she had a mandatory, non-discretionary, ministerial duty to investigate Petitioner's claims that he was not given a full, fair, and impartial trial or appeal. Under this Court's precedents "the requirement of determining whether the party against whom an [81] See also Heck v. Humphrey, 512 U.S. 477 (1994) whereby if anyone has been harmed as a result of an unconstitutional conviction or imprisonment, they are denied a claim for damages unless the sentence has first been declared invalid.

estoppel is asserted [has] had a full and fair opportunity to litigate is a most significant safeguard,"[82] and "collateral estoppel cannot apply when the party against whom the earlier decision is asserted did not have a full and fair opportunity to litigate that issue in the earlier case."[83] "If a defendant were convicted and punished for an act that the law does not make criminal, there can be no room for doubt that such a circumstance inherently results in a complete miscarriage of justice and presents exceptional circumstances that justify collateral relief."[84]

Marshall refused to abide her sworn duty to perform the mandatory investigation and arbitrarily granted the Humphreys Motion to Dismiss with prejudice based on the collateral estoppel and Rooker-Feldman doctrines. Appendix [G] pp.41-50. Marshall's "ruling" declared that "[t]he purpose of the [Rooker-Feldman] doctrine is to protect state judgements from collateral federal attack," (Appendix [F] p.45, lines 19-20) and "[that Petitioner's] action is barred pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine because [he] seeks relief from the state court judgment and alleges legal error by the state trial and appellate court." Appendix [F] p.47, lines 25-28.

Marshall's "ruling" would be Lawful if the word "valid" were included, such that "the purpose of the Rooker-Feldman doctrine was to protect valid state judgements from collateral attack"– not just any State judgment, and certainly not one that is void for lack of personal and/or subject matter jurisdiction and in violation of the U.S. Constitition. "Unless a court has jurisdiction, it can never make a record which imports uncontrollable verity to the party over whom it has usurped jurisdiction, and he ought not, therefore, to be estopped from proving any fact which goes to establish the truth of a plea alleging the want of jurisdiction."[85] "The constitutional provision that full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the judicial proceedings of other states, does not preclude inquiry into the jurisdiction of the court in which a judgment is rendered over the subject matter or the parties affected by it, nor into the facts necessary to give such jurisdiction."[86] The Federalist Papers also make mandatory Federal relief abundantly clear by declaring that "[t]he general government will at all times stand ready to check the usurpations of the state governments. If [the People's] rights are invaded by either, they can make use of the other as the instrument of redress."[87]

Marshall acknowledged Petitioner's claims: (1) that the State trial and appellate "Courts" violated due process; (2) lacked subject matter jurisdiction; and, (3) that §7031 was unconstitutional because it is penal in nature. Despite this, she declared that each of these issues "were actually litigated by [him] in the state court action[s] and necessarily decided in a final judgment," (Appendix [F] p.49, lines 16-17) concluding as a result that he was "collaterally estopped from bringing [the Federal Court] action." Id. p.49, lines 20-23. Despite these conclusions, her opinion fails to include any independent analysis, investigation, or resolution of these issues demonstrating that they were fully, fairly, and impartially adjudicated by the State trial and appellate "Courts" acting with personal and subject matter jurisdiction to render and affirm these "Judgments" and thereby make them "final". It is also unknown how the personal and/or subject matter jurisdiction of these "Courts" (if ever lawfully acquired) was also not lost through subsequent egregious due process violations and/or fraud committed during the proceedings in the procurement of subject matter jurisdiction.

Marshall's "ruling" also fails to cite any authority whereby an arbitrary void judgment in violation of the California and U.S. Constitutions can be collaterally estopped or is subject to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine. Because judgments rendered without personal or subject matter jurisdiction are void and not entitled to full faith and credit elsewhere, the doctrines of collateral estoppel and Rooker-Feldman do not apply and cannot be used to overrule or supersede the Constitution.[88] A fake "trial" put on by a "Judge" acting coram non judice cannot in any manner be considered a judicial proceeding whose fraudulent "Judgment Order" results in finality or full faith and credit. "[T]he principle of finality rests on the premise that the proceeding had the sanction of law [...]."[89] Furthermore, the supremacy clause mandates, and this Court has declared, that "[w]here rights secured by the Constitution are involved, there can be no rule making or legislation which would abrogate them–[including the doctrines of collateral estoppel and Rooker-Feldman]."[90]

the land."[91] This Court has also held that it is a "universal principle" that judgments can be collaterally attacked when questions of power in the officer or fraud in the party are raised.[92] A State can't transcend the U.S. Constitution and then claim its judgment is res judicata and/or collaterally estopped. But this is exactly what the freewheeling Ninth Circuit Enterprise "policy" and arbitrary Constitutional "Amendment" Marshall's edict intends.

This Court has repeatedly made it clear that District Courts can entertain independent actions that attack State Court judgments as void. See Atchison, T & S.F. Ry. Co. v. Wells, 265 U.S. 101, 103 (1924) (1 year post Rooker); and Simon v. Southern Railway Co., 236 U.S. 115, 122 (1915) (pre Rooker). See also *United States v. District Courts can also entertain independent actions to vacate void judgments when such claims are also authorized by State law. In Parsons Steel Inc. v. First Alabama Bank,[93] this Court held that pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1738 (the Full Faith and Credit Act), a "federal court must give the judgment the same effect that it would have in the courts of the State in which it was rendered."[94] Under California law a void judgment is subject to attack at any time, either directly or by way of an independent action in equity.[95] See also Cal. Code of Civil Procedure §1916 whereby

"[a]ny judicial record may be impeached by evidence of a want of jurisdiction in the Court or judicial officer, of collusion between the parties, or of fraud in the party offering the record, in respect to the proceedings."

On this issue, Marshall's "ruling" relies on the holding of the Supreme Court of California in the case of DKN Holdings LLC v. Faerber,[96] where the Court declared the circumstances in which collateral estoppel and issue preclusion apply: "(1) after final adjudication (2) of an identical issue (3) actually litigated and necessarily decided in the first suit and (4) asserted against one who was a party in the first suit or one in privity with that party." Not one of these constitutes a holding that collateral estoppel/issue preclusion applies to an arbitrary judgment by a "Court" acting without personal and/or subject matter jurisdiction. And none of these overrule Art. 6, §2 of the Constitution– "[w]here rights secured by the Constitution are involved, there can be no rule making or legislation which would abrogate them."[97]

Marshall also arbitrarily denied Petitioner's challenges to the Constitutionality of Business and Professions Codes §7031(a), §7031(b), and §7071.17 on the grounds that the relief he sought was an "order vacating or voiding the state court judgment."[98] While Petitioner's prayer for relief admittedly requested vacating and declaring the State "Judgment" void, Marshall omitted the fact that his request also included "any other relief [that] the Court determine[d] reasonable and just." "[U]nder [a] general prayer, other relief may be granted than that which is

Contrary to Marshall's arbitrary edict, Feldman actually held that the facial challenge to the constitutionality of a State statute could not be precluded because it "[does] not require review of a judicial decision in a particular case" and "is a challenge to the validity of the rule rather than a challenge to an application of the rule."[100] Petitioner therefore had a right to challenge the Constitutionality of these statutes and to a judicial remedy. "Whenever the legislature passes an act which transcends the limits of the police power, it is the duty of the judiciary to pronounce it invalid."[101] Furthermore, "an unconstitutional law is void and is as no law. An offence created by it is not a crime. A conviction under it is not merely erroneous, but is illegal and void and cannot be a legal cause of imprisonment. [...] If laws are unconstitutional and void, the [...] Court acquired no jurisdiction of the causes [...]."[102]

Therefore, if §7031(a) or §7031(b) were found to be unconstitutional, declaring the judgments void would be the precise relief Marshall had a mandatory non-discretionary, ministerial duty to grant. "Dismissal for lack of subject-matter jurisdiction because of the inadequacy of the federal claim is proper only when the claim is so insubstantial, implausible, foreclosed by prior decisions of this Court, or otherwise completely devoid of merit as not to involve a federal controversy."[103]

Finally, while Petitioner's complaint was not captioned as a Petition for non-statutory writ of habeas corpus (Art. I, §9, Cl. 2), the substance was in fact a challenge to the jurisdiction of the State Courts to bind him indefinitely in constructive custody without remedy and financially destroy him amounting to civil capital punishment with prejudice. "The writ of habeas corpus is the fundamental instrument for safeguarding individual liberty against arbitrary and lawless state action."[104] Habeas relief is also not barred by any of the estoppel doctrines asserted by the Marshall or the Humphreys.[105]

But Marshall's lawless assault on Petitioner's rights, liberty, and property did not stop there. On February 26, 2020, he filed a timely notice of appeal of her ultra vires "Order" granting the Humphreys Motion to Dismiss. In response, she filed another arbitrary and ultra vires "Order" on February 27, 2020, revoking his previously granted in forma pauperis status and declaring his appeal "frivolous". Appendix [H] pp.51-52. According to this Court, an appeal is frivolous if it lacks any arguable issue in law or fact.[106] As Petitioner's appeal contained arguable issues of law, it was clearly not frivolous.

Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. Exhibit [A38]. He also filed a "Statement of Why This Appeal Should Go Forward." Exhibit [A39]. His request for counsel was ignored.

While Petitioner's appeal was pending, this Court issued its decision in Liu v. SEC, supra, a case in which it vacated the Ninth Circuit's affirmation of the District "Court's" judgment imposing yet another ultra vires penal forfeiture disguised as "equitable disgorgement".[107] Pursuant to Liu, Petitioner immediately filed a Notice/Request for Consideration of Additional Authorities. Exhibit [A41].

Despite the resounding clarity evidencing the purported nature of "disgorgement" declared in Liu, and that Petitioner had in fact been subject to a penal forfeiture without Lawful authority, "Chief Judge" Sidney Thomas and "Associate Judges" Atsushi Tashima and William Fletcher arbitrarily dismissed his appeal as "frivolous" with no further explanation. ### o. Superior Court of California- County of Orange

On August 16, 2022, Petitioner filed a judicial complaint with the Superior Court-County of Orange that was delivered to Presiding "Judge" Erick Larsh. Exhibit [D] pp.5511-5524.

The complaint alleged criminal activity, egregious deprivations of rights, and damages and irreparable harm directly caused by the unlawful behavior of Chaffee and the "Justices" of the Fourth District. The complaint was directed by Larsh to Layne Melzer, the Supervising "Judge" for the "Court's" civil panel. Id. p.5503.

Melzer responded in a letter dated October 31, 2022. Id. p.5503-5505.

Melzer told Petitioner that "each judicial officer of the court exercises independent judicial authority, and no judge – even judges who exercise some degree of supervisory authority – has the authority to review, overrule, intervene in, or otherwise affect the outcome of any matter proceeding before another judicial officer" (Id. p.5504), that "the Court is powerless to afford [...] the relief [he] requested", and "[t]he judgment is therefore final". Id. p.5505.

Melzer breached his mandatory, non-discretionary duty to conduct a full, fair, and impartial investigation into Petitioner's claims and to intervene to stop the irreparable harm and damages being perpetrated upon him. Notably, his response fails to acknowledge let alone address the substantive violations of Constitutional law evidenced by Petitioner.

Melzer's response and refusal to abide his sworn duties further evidences that even in the face of clear and unequivocal violations of Constitutional rights, it is not the will of the People and the Constitution that is the "supreme Law of Land", but the arbitrary and lawless acts of "officials" of the Enterprise, fraudulently purporting to be "Judges".

The Enterprise "policy" Melzer admits to is that either there is no Constitution of California or the United States, or that if there is, Enterprise "Judges" are not bound by it and therefore above it. The truth is "[t]he judiciary is but the creature of the Constitution [...]. It can not [sic] rise above the source of its own existence. If it could do this, it could annul the Constitution, instead of simply declaring what it means."[108] "[A Judge] must act judicially in all things, and cannot transcend the power conferred by law."[109] "[W]here the language of the Constitution is express and the intent plain, there is no power in the judicial department to set it aside [...]."[110] If a court transcends the limits of its authority, the resulting judgment would not be merely erroneous, but absolutely void.[111] Moreover, violating due process is a crime[112] and a crime cannot be committed to procure or maintain personal or subject matter jurisdiction.

The fraud, deceit, and treason being advocated by Melzer is not the Law under a Constitutional government of defined and limited powers–where exceptions from a power mark its extent [...]"[113]–but one under a different form of government entirely–a despotic and totalitarian form of government.

The root of this issue appears to stem from this "Court's" entire history of jurisprudence concerning the nature of subject matter jurisdiction and immunity doctrines in attempt to guarantee omnipotence to "Judges" and other Enterprise "officials" by transcending the sovereignty of the American People to grant immunity to "officials" who commit crimes and treason upon them.

The California and U.S. Constitutions were carefully crafted to provide absolute immunity too all officials who follow the Law. To create the Enterprise immunity "policies" that transcend Law, this "Court" has repeatedly violated the doctrine of separation of powers by exercising powers that are exclusively conferred upon Congress. The "Justices" even openly admit that their "qualified immunity precedents [...] represent precisely the sort of freewheeling policy choices that [they] have previously disclaimed the power to make."[114] Without the power to make a Law, there can consequently be no power to enforce it. Either would be a clear act of treason.

To obtain the omnipotence inherent in the fraudulent doctrine of "judicial immunity", this "Court" took the doctrines of subject matter jurisdiction and judicial immunity from a different Country ruled by a monarchy and no written Constitution, and, without any authority, "legislated" them into our nation's jurisprudence. In other words, this "Court" took the edicts of an arbitrary, despotic form of a government[115] and forced them into the "Laws" of our Republican form of government of defined and limited powers.

The purpose of the doctrine of judicial immunity when it was created in Britain was to end the collateral attacks on judgments and to remodel the Court system to match that of the hierarchical ecclesiastic Courts.[116] "The attractiveness of the ecclesiastical model lay in its hierarchical structure. [...The] hierarchical system enable[d] the [King's Courts] to authoritatively ascertain and declare legal precepts [...in] relation to the local courts[.] [To accomplish this,] they needed to monopolize the existing means of correcting errors"[117] by removing the complaint of false judgment against a Judge that could be brought by the People. A statute was thereby enacted which made the claim of false judgment a royal plea, which could only be heard in the King's Courts.[118]

[115] "The British Constitution differs from our American Constitutions in one great leading feature. It only classifies and distributes, but does not limit the powers of government; while our Constitutions do both." Ex parte Newman, 9 Cal. 502, 512 (Cal. Supreme Ct. 1858). Burnett, J. concurring.

The graduated hierarchy of ecclesiastical courts became an attractive model. The king's court profited by this new idea; the king's court ought to stand to the local courts in somewhat the same relation as that in which the Roman curia stands to the courts of the bishops." Ending collateral attacks on false judgments and limiting the correction of errors to the hierarchical system were only the first two steps in the culmination of the judicial immunity doctrine. The third step involved extending the doctrine of sanctity of records to all the King's Courts. The doctrine of sanctity of records originated as a royal edict of the King known as a "prerogative" whereby whatever the King said happened in his presence in Court was "indisputable".[119] "When this [arbitrary] privilege was extended from the King to his judges, the court of record was born and the foundation for limited judicial immunity was set. Since the record of a court of record was incontrovertible, no party could allege that an act noted therein was wrong, and thus the source of the record–the judge–could not be subject to civil or criminal liability for an abuse of power."[120] "The record was a potent weapon to use in the political struggle because of the unimpeachable authority of its origins, the King himself. Impugning the integrity of the record verged on impugning the integrity of the monarch."[121]

The doctrine of the sanctity of records was clearly based on the delusional regal maxim that "the king can do wrong" and the divine right of Kings whereby Kings are only answerable to God. These delusions clearly were not intended to survive the American revolution. As poignantly recognized by this Court in the case of Chisholm v. Georgia[122], contemporaneously with this Country's founding:

> It will be sufficient to observe briefly, that the sovereignties in Europe, and particularly in England, exist on feudal principles. That system considers the Prince as the Sovereign, and the people as his Subjects; it regards his person as the object of allegiance, and excludes the idea of his being on an equal footing with a subject, either in a Court of Justice or elsewhere. That system contemplates him as being the fountain of honor and authority; and from his grace and grant derives all franchises, immunities and privileges; it is easy to perceive that such a sovereign could not be amenable to a Court of Justice, or subjected to judicial controul [sic] and actual constraint. It was of necessity, therefore, that suability became incompatible with such sovereignty. Besides, the Prince having all the Executive powers, the judgment of the Courts would, in fact, be only monitory, not mandatory to him, and a capacity to be advised, is a distinct thing from a capacity to be sued. The same feudal ideas run through all their jurisprudence, and constantly remind us of the distinction between the Prince and the subject. No such ideas obtain here; at the Revolution, the sovereignty devolved on the people; and they are truly the sovereigns of the country, but they are Sovereigns without Subjects (unless the African slaves among us may be so called) and have none to govern but themselves; the citizens of America are equal as fellow citizens, and as joint tenants in the sovereignty.
> From the differences existing between feudal sovereignties and Governments founded on compacts, it necessarily follows that their respective prerogatives must differ. Soverignty [sic] is the right to govern; a nation or State-sovereign is the person or persons in whom that resides. In Europe the sovereignty is generally ascribed to the Prince; here it rests with the people; there, the sovereign actually administers the Government; here, never in a single instance; our Governors are the agents of the people, and at most stand in the same relation to their sovereign, in which regents in Europe stand to their sovereigns. Their Princes have personal powers, dignities, and pre-eminences, our rulers have none but official; nor do they partake in the sovereignty otherwise, or in any other capacity, than as private citizens.

"Judge" Melzer has it backwards. David Chaffee is not King and is answerable to Petitioner and the American People. In America "if [a Judge] act[s] without authority, [her] judgments and orders are regarded as nullities. They are not voidable, but simply void; and form no bar to a recovery sought, even prior to a reversal, in opposition to them. They constitute no justification; and all persons concerned in executing such judgments or sentences, are considered, in law, as trespassers."[123]

This "Court" and the "Courts" of the Ninth Circuit's attempt to transplant the British doctrine of sanctity of records and the divine right of kings to this Country to amend the Constitution by ending the collateral attack of State judgments is without authority and void. The provisions of the California and U.S. Constitutions are mandatory and prohibitory (Cal. Const. Art. I, §26; Art. VI, 2). As emphatically declared by Alexander Hamilton in Federalist No. 28 "[t]he general government will at all times stand ready to check the usurpations of the state governments. If [the People's] rights are invaded by either, they can make use of the other as the instrument of redress."[124] Article III, §2 also mandates that "[t]he judicial Power of the United States "shall extend to all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution". ### b. The Cal. "Constitution of 1879" does not vest any Court with subject matter jurisdiction at Law or Equity as mandated by the U.S. Constitution

While the States admitted to the union of States known as the United States of America were purportedly comprised of separate sovereign bodies politic, as a unified entity, the States surrendered certain immunities to Federal supervision like those in Article I, §10 as another check and balance protection to guard against State official abuses of power. There is also a lesser-known limitation on the judicial power of the States found in Article III. Under Article III, there are only two jurisdictions that arise under the Constitution, Laws of the United States, and Treaties made under their authority. Those jurisdictions are Law and Equity.

At the time of America's founding, it was proceedings "according to the course of the common Law" [127] where the rights to jury trial by jury, due process of law, and many other rights, privileges, and immunities were recognized and later became enshrined in the Constitution. It was also why every State in the Union (with the exception of Louisiana) was admitted under the common Law and not Roman civil law. California specifically repealed all Roman civil law in effect prior to its admission as a State.[128]

Another jurisdiction known as Admiralty (based on Roman civil law) was specifically excluded as a direct result of the abuses by King George III that became one of the principle causes of the American Revolution.[129] Consequently, the States were deprived of all judicial power to exercise Admiralty jurisdiction as it was vested exclusively in the Courts of the United States.[130] As States also had no authority to transcend the Constitution and subject the People thereof to a jurisdiction foreign to their Constitution, they are only empowered to vest their Courts with jurisdiction in cases at Law and Equity. Additionally, State Courts must have concurrent jurisdiction with the Courts of the United States to be so empowered to answer Federal questions arising in State cases. If State Courts are not vested with these jurisdictions, they cannot entertain Federal questions, as recognized by this Court in the case of Claflin v. Houseman, 93 U.S. 130, 136 (1876).

Up until recently, the California Constitution of 1849 and the purported Cal. "Constitution of 1879" vested the Courts of California with the separate and distinct jurisdictions of Law and Equity. However, as part of the Enterprise scheme to (1) abolish proceedings according to the course of the common Law (section II(D)(6), infra); (2) amalgamate Law, Equity, and Admiralty into one "civil action" (section II(D)(6), infra); and, (3) to impose Roman civil law upon the People of California and the United States, common Law jurisdiction was removed from the "Constitution of 1879" by the repeal of Article VI, §5. (Please confirm that there is no Article VI, §5 in the current version of the "Constitution of 1879"). This "repeal" is akin to removing Article III, §2, Cl. 1 from the U.S. Constitution.

Today, the "Constitution of 1879" vests the Superior "Courts" of California with jurisdiction in "all other causes". "All other causes" is not a jurisdiction known to the Constitution, history and laws of California or the United States and does not reveal the form or nature of the proceedings by which the Superior "Courts" exercise subject matter jurisdiction. "All other causes" is also not defined anywhere in the "Constitution of 1879" or by Lawfully enacted statute.

Consequently, there is no Court in California with subject matter jurisdiction in any case at Law or Equity arising under the U.S. Constitution in order grant Petitioner any relief thereby, including by Writ of Habeas Corpus. See Cleveland Trust Co. v. Nelson, [131] holding that "[a] mere assumption of jurisdiction by a court, however long continued, cannot confer a jurisdiction otherwise nonexistent under the constitutional grant of judicial power" and State ex rel Wernmark v. Hopkins, 213 Ore. 669 (Supreme. Ct. 1958).

i. Superior Courts of California Lack Subject Matter Jurisdiction in Cases of Admiralty Jurisdiction

[131] Cleveland Trust Co. v. Nelson, 51 F.2d 276, 277 (1931).

As all competent jurists know, money and Law operate as opposite sides of the same coin. In other words, there are different forms of money and each of these circulates under different modes of proceedings or subject matter jurisdictions of law. Therefore, one's choice of money determines what rights, privileges, and immunities as well as the means and methods of adjudicating disputes that arise thereunder. For this reason, the Founding Fathers specifically chose gold and silver coin (also known as "specie") as the only "tender for payment of debts" under the Constitution and laws of the United States.[132] Another form of tender such as checks, money orders, promissory notes, and other negotiable instruments also known as "commercial paper" were specifically excluded.

Unlike gold and silver coin that circulate according to the course of the common Law, commercial paper circulates in commerce/Admiralty[133] and international law and not under the Constitution and Laws of the United States. See Art. III, §2 carefully noting that (1) cases in Admiralty jurisdiction do not arise under the Constitution and laws of the United States;[134] and, (2) that the judicial power for all cases arising under the Constitution and Laws of the United States extends only to cases in Law and Equity.

[132] See especially Exhibit [G]– Memorandum of Law: The Money Issue by Larry Becraft, the 7th Amendment whereby "[i]n Suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved", and Calder v. Bull, 3 U.S. 386, 390 (1798) declaring that "[t]he prohibitions not to make any thing but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts, and not to pass any law impairing the obligation of contracts, were inserted [in the Constitution] to secure private rights [...]." Merchants' Bank*, 47 U.S. 344, 392 (1848). "The law respecting negotiable instruments may be truly declared in the language of Cicero, adopted by Lord Mansfield in Luke v. Lyde, 2 Burr. R. 883, 887, to be in a great measure, not the law of a single country only, but of the commercial world." Swift v. Tyson, 41 U.S. 1, 19 (1842).

Because commerce involves the relationship between debtors and creditors, commercial paper (ie Federal Reserve Notes) cannot be made tender for the payment of a debt under the Constitution because commercial paper can only discharge an obligation.[135] But most importantly, in cases arising at Law or Equity under the Constitution the judicial power of all State and United States Courts is incapable of acting upon any case involving commercial paper because it does not circulate at Law or Equity.[136]

Article I, §8, Cl.5 gives Congress the power to "coin money" which means to "stamp pieces of metal for use as a medium of exchange [...] according to fixed standards of value."[137] It does not give "Congress" or this "Court" the power: (1) to unilaterally Amend the Constitution in violation of Article V by making commercial paper (such as Federal Reserve Notes) legal tender; (2) to delegate this non-existent power to the President or to a private banking institution such as the Federal Reserve Bank; or, (3) to subject the American People to a jurisdiction foreign to their Constitution and unacknowledged by its laws. Furthermore, the People's contracts cannot be impaired by forcing them to accept debt instruments or to be bound to a currency in which they cannot Lawfully pay their debts, and by virtue thereof, become indentured servants or slaves to an ever expanding "national debt" upon which they have not consented to and purportedly cannot question (e.g. section 4 of the "14th Amendment"). Not only was there no Lawful representative "Congress" to authorize the "Federal Reserve Act of 1913" or the "14th Amendment", there is no Lawful representative "Congress" to authorize any expenditures on behalf of the American People to bind them in any way whatsoever.

Federal Reserve Notes (that can only discharge an obligation) are not Lawful money and cannot be made legal tender like gold and silver coin that actually pay a debt.[138] Federal Reserve Notes are also undefined in American law and are not "dollars" as defined by the Coinage Act of 1792.

Federal Reserve Notes have no intrinsic value as true "credit" and are only evidence of the so-called "national debt". According to Marriner S. Eccles, former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board "if there were no debt in our money system [...] [t]here wouldn't be any money."[139] See also Congressional Record– House, August 19, 1940, pp.10548-10555 stating that "the Federal Reserve System is a private banking system, and every dollar of credit it puts into circulation is based on someone's debt [...]") Id. p.10550. In other words, if the national debt were "repaid," there wouldn't be any "money".

With the exception of Louisiana, all of the American States were admitted to the Union under English/American common Law, not Interstate Commerce/ Admiralty/ Roman civil law. any of the American People can have their Republican form of government based on the rule of common Law altered to be subjected to Roman civil law/Interstate Commerce/Admiralty. Petitioner has not made any such waiver of rights, including to be subjected to the modern codified version of the law merchant/Interstate Commerce in the form of the Uniform Commercial Code.

Based on the facts that: (1) all of the transactions involved in this case involved negotiable instruments circulating in Interstate Commerce/Admiralty; (2) claims for setoff that are recognized in cases at common Law and Equity were denied; (3) Admiralty cannot entertain pleas of setoff;[140] (4) the proceedings were not according to the course of the common Law or Equity (and thereby not a case arising under the Constitutions of California or the United States); and, (5) Petitioner was subjected to strict liability akin to claim for liquidated damages, the case against him clearly arose and proceeded according to the course of Roman civil law in Admiralty jurisdiction for which the State of California lacks subject matter jurisdiction. "The case of a State which pays off its own debts with paper money [...has] no jurisdiction over the contract. They cannot enforce it, nor judge of its violation."[141]

c. The Cal. "Constitution of 1879" Does Not Grant the Legislature Any Power to Create Lower Courts or to Vest Them with Any Statutory Jurisdiction Including Jurisdiction Over the Statutes Involved in This Case

Another structural jurisdictional issue is that the "Constitution of 1879" does not vest the "Legislature" with any authority to create lower or inferior statutory

Courts or to vest them with any special statutory jurisdiction.[142] Article VI, §1 of the original "Constitution of 1879" which purportedly conferred judicial power on inferior Courts established by the Legislature, and Article VI, §13, which vested power in the Legislature to define the subject matter jurisdiction of these Courts,[143] have both been repealed.

Unless the power or authority of a Court to perform a contemplated act can be found in the Constitution or laws enacted thereunder, the "legislature cannot either limit or extend that jurisdiction."[144] Consequently, the Superior "Courts" of California lack subject matter jurisdiction in all cases arising under Business and Professions Code §7031 (and apparently all other statutory cases whatsoever).

Furthermore, the aforementioned "Amendments" to the "Constitution of 1879", and many others substantively altering California's form of government, have not, in Petitioner's research, been approved by "Congress" pursuant to Article IV, §3. Nor is there any apparent Lawful "Congress" to approve such changes.

5. The Contractor's State Licensing Board's "Mandatory Arbitration" Program is Treason to the Constitutions of California and the United States

On November 21, 2014, Petitioner was subjected to a "mandatory arbitration" proceeding by another conspiracy of the Enterprise to deprive him of his rights to judicial proceedings, trial by jury, and his money, property, and liberty without Lawful authority. Appendix [O] pp.73-79, Exhibit [F]. According to the arbitrary "Award", Appendix [O] p.73, the proceeding occurred under the authority of Cal. Business and Professions Code §7085. Appendix [Q] pp.86-87.

§7085 does not authorize the Contractors State License Board and the Arbitration Mediation Conciliation Center, Inc. ("AMCC"), to create and/or enforce a "mandatory arbitration" proceeding. Rather, it purports to authorize a voluntary arbitration process requiring "the concurrence of both the licensee and the complainant".[145] Petitioner did not and has never made any knowing, voluntary, or intelligent waiver of any rights to be subjected to this or any other "mandatory arbitration" proceeding as recognized by the CSLB in a document it apparently created stating "THE CONTRACTOR DID NOT RETURN A "SUBMISSION TO MANDATORY ARBITRATION". Appendix [O] p.74.

When Petitioner failed to comply with the "Award", his vested right to remain the qualifying individual of a general contractor license was arbitrarily suspended without a judicial hearing or known process of appeal by operation of Cal. Business and Professions Code §7085.6. Appendices [O] pp.75-78 and [Q] pp. 87-88. He has thereby been restrained from earning a living in his profession as a general contractor ever since with no apparent remedy and no access to a judicial Court.

In comparison, when members of the State Bar of California[146] are faced with [145] The CSLB admits to referring 8,275 mandatory arbitration cases to the AMCC since January 1, 2006. Appendix [O] p.79.

[146] Another vehicle of the Enterprise by and through which it creates and executes its "policies" is membership by "Legislators", "Executives", and "Judges", whether active or not, in the malevolent monopolies of Bar Associations like the State Bar of California. For example, §7031(b) was: proposed to the Cal "Legislature" by an attorney serving as a "Judge" (Quentin Kopp); ratified by attorneys in discipline or a licensing suspension or revocation, there is a full-time State Bar "Court" comprised of trial judges and a three-judge appellate "Court" that makes recommendations to the Supreme "Court" of California who is the final arbiter of attorney discipline.[147] No such substantive and equal protections exist for contractors–or any other known regulated profession–in Commiefornia. Nor is review by the Supreme "Court" of California mandatory prior to licensee discipline like it is for attorneys.

a. The Contractors State License Board is Unconstitutional

The separation of powers of the California Constitution flatly forbids the Cal. "Legislature" from combining the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial powers of California in any way to create a fourth branch of government in the form of the agency known as the Contractors State License Board. This fundamental change to California's Republican form of government has not, in Petitioner's research, ever been authorized by a Lawful quorum in either the "Legislature" of California or "Congress" in violation of Article IV, §3 Article IV, §4 and Article I, §10.

The "Legislature" was also without any authority to transfer the judicial power the "Legislature"; signed into law by an attorney occupying the office of Governor (Gray Davis); prosecuted by attorneys, (such as William Bissell) and adjudicated by "Judges" (such as David Chaffee). The State Bar of California and its members, along with the Orange County Bar Association, have also played an active role in the creation of the Civil Jury Instructions. Exhibit [C] pp.1621-1642, 2625-2651. §7031(b) "Judgments" are enforced by the office of the Governor (such as fmr. Governor Edmund G. Brown, Jr.). Members of the Bar also sit on the Contractors State License Board (Kevin Albanese) and prosecute "mandatory arbitration" proceedings (Jamie Handrick). They also occupy seats in "Congress" (Adam Schiff). As officers of the "Court", Bar members are flatly forbidden by the doctrine of separation of powers from serving in multiple branches of government intentionally designed to be separated as a check and balance, whether their status in the Bar is active or not.

of California to the AMCC to conduct arbitration hearings, especially by unelected and unappointed "arbitrators" who don't hold public office.

6. Congress Has Not Vested Any Inferior Court of the United States with Subject Matter Jurisdiction at Law or Equity as Defined by the U.S. Constitution to Hear and Determine Petitioner's Claims

28 U.S.C. §1331 also known as "Federal question jurisdiction" declares that: "[t]he district courts shall have original jurisdiction of all civil actions arising under the Constitution, laws, or treaties of the United States." According to the United States House of Representatives Committee on Revision of the Laws,[148] the "[w]ords 'all civil actions' were substituted for 'all suits of a civil nature, at common law or in equity' to conform with Rule 2 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, ["FRCP"]". FRCP Rule 2 states "There is one form of action—the civil action."

In further explanation of the meaning of "the civil action", the 1966 Amendment to the FRCP in the Notes of the Advisory Committee on Rules, declares that "[t]his is the fundamental change [of the FRCP] necessary to effect unification of the civil and admiralty procedure. Just as the 1938 rules abolished the distinction between actions at law and suits in equity, this change would abolish the distinction between civil actions and suits in admiralty."[149]

The obvious problem here is that the Constitution does not confer the judicial power of the United States in any jurisdiction known as "the civil action". The principles and distinctions between Law, Equity, and Admiralty upon which the judicial power of the United States is vested and separately and exclusively distributed by Article III cannot be "abolished", "unified", or blended together in one suit known as "the civil action". This is not only because "[a] case in Admiralty does not [...] arise under the Constitution or laws of the United States,"[150] but also because the Constitution specifically sets out the procedures for making amendments in Article V and these procedures have not been followed. Moreover, "Congress" is without any authority to delegate its law-making power to the Judicial branch to create and enact these "rules" that have the force and effect of law.[151]

"The Constitution of the United States [...] recognize[s] and establish[es] the distinction between law and equity. The remedies in the courts of the United States are, at common law or in equity [...] according to the principles of common law and equity, as distinguished and defined in that country from which we derive our knowledge of these principles."[152] See also Mc Faul v. Ramsey,[153] holding that "[i]n those States where the courts of the United States administer the common law,[154] they cannot adopt these novel inventions, which propose to amalgamate law and equity by enacting a hybrid system of pleadings unsuited to the administration of either." of causes of action at law and in equity in the same suit, this course is not permissible in the federal courts. In truth, the difference between causes of action at law and in equity is matter of substance and not of form, and no legislative enactment can really remove it. In the national courts this meradicable [sic eradicable] difference is as sedulously preserved in the forms and practice available for their maintenance as it is in the natures of the causes themselves and in the principles upon which they rest."[155]

"Courts created by the general Government [of the United States other than the U.S. Supreme Court] possess no jurisdiction but what is given them by the power that creates them, and can be vested with none but what the power ceded to the general Government will authorize them to confer."[156] Without being vested with a jurisdiction as precisely declared by the Constitution (either Law or Equity), "the court cannot proceed at all in any cause. Jurisdiction is power to declare the law, and when it ceases to exist, the only function remaining to the court is that of announcing the fact and dismissing the cause."[157] See also Mayor v. Cooper,[158] holding that "two things are necessary to create jurisdiction, whether original or appellate. The Constitution must have given to the court the capacity to take it, and a [Constitutional] act of [Congress] must have supplied it. Their concurrence is necessary to vest it. [...] It can be brought into activity in no other way."

The means of properly conferring subject matter jurisdiction vested by the Constitution upon an inferior Court can be found in section 11 of the Judiciary Act of 1789 (1 Stat. 73), whereby the Circuit Courts of the United States were vested with subject matter jurisdiction of all suits of a civil nature "[...] at common law or in equity[...]" with omitted exceptions.[159]

Finally, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure which "have the force and effect of law"[160] were not given "any affirmative consideration, action, or approval of the rules by Congress or by the President"[161] as required by Article I, §7, Cl.2.

Consequently, Congress has not vested any inferior Court of the United States with the judicial Power of the United States in any case at Law or Equity recognized under the Constitution, leaving this Court the only Constitutional Court of the United States in which to present this case. See also section II(b)(ii-iii), infra, whereby even if the District "Court" were, despite the foregoing, vested with jurisdiction at Law or Equity, the "Court" claimed it lacked subject matter jurisdiction to vacate a void judgment of a State in violation of the U.S Constitution, which are fundamental powers of both Courts of Law and Equity.

7. There is No Lawful Representative Quorum in the "Legislature" of California or the "Congress" of the United States

[159] By no coincidence Circuit Courts have been abolished as part of this scheme.

[160] https://www.uscourts.gov/rules-policies/about-rulemaking-process/how-rulemaking-process-works Accessed 8/16/22.

[161] 374 U.S. 865-66.

Since at least 1929, "Congress" has refused to apportion the number of representatives in the House to the population of the People of the States leaving them without any representative government based on the rule of Law or consent of the governed.

One of the chief complaints of the American colonists at the time of the Revolution was that they believed they were not represented in British Parliament that consistently took adverse actions to their interests and without their consent. The famous political slogan "no taxation without representation" originated at this time. Consequently, the Declaration of Independence declared that the newly established governments of the thirteen united States of America were to "deriv[e] their just powers from the consent of the governed[.]"

As one of the checks and balances subsequently framed into the Constitution to ensure this consent and the representation of the People, Article I, §2, Cl. 3 clearly and unambiguously set forth a minimum and maximum ratio of representation in the House of Representatives of Congress. In 1929 however, "Congress", acting without any lawful representative quorum, arbitrarily decided to "amend" the Constitution in violation of the procedures set forth in Article V by fixing the number of "representatives" at 435. Consequently, there has been no Lawful representative quorum in "Congress" for nearly 100 years. Today, with a population nearing 330,000,000 People, a proper ratio of representation in the House of Representatives would be close to 11,000 members, not 435. Cf. Section 14, Article II of The Northwest Ordinance of 1787 guaranteeing that even the inhabitants territories "shall always be entitled to [...] a proportionate representation of the people in the legislature[.]

A similar situation has occurred in the "Legislature" of California with its 80 "representatives" for nearly 40 million people. No apportionment according to population has been made since at least 1879 despite being mandated by Article I, §14 of the Constitution of 1849 declaring that "representation shall be apportioned according to population."

8. The "Judges" of the Superior "Court" of California-County of Orange Breached Their Mandatory Duty to Grant Petitioner's Application for Emergency Stay and To Provide *Habeas Corpus Relief

Upon the filing of Petitioner's verified Ex parte Application for Emergency Stay and Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus, Superior "Court" "Judges" Leal, and subsequently, Cramin, had a mandatory, non-discretionary, ministerial duty to (1) fully, fairly, and impartially investigate his claims; and, (2) upon determination of their validity, to grant him all requested relief as mandated by Law. The refusal/ "denial" to abide these sworn mandatory duties is not a Lawful action because all Judge's lack discretion and subject matter jurisdiction to violate the Constitution.

a. First National Bank of Omaha ("FNBO")

On April 12, 2022, FNBO was given notice of the issues pertaining to Petitioner and his estate's inability to discharge the alleged mortgage obligation due to the crimes being perpetrated upon him and his estate by public "officials" and private parties in conspiracy therewith, in a recorded phone call he made to FNBO. During the call, Petitioner provided the address to his website, http://www.thespiritoflaw.com, where FNBO could find and verify his claims.

Despite providing this evidence to FNBO, FNBO directed its attorneys, The Dunning Law Firm, APC ("Dunning Firm") and the Dunning Firm's apparent employees, Donald Dunning and James MacLeod, to sue Petitioner in the Superior "Court" of California-County of Orange on or about July 25, 2022. In other words, FNBO and its attorneys intended to obtain relief from the same entity accused of committing crimes against Petitioner that were the direct and proximate cause of his inability to meet his private obligation with FNBO.

Upon being served with FNBO's complaint, Petitioner filed a timely Challenge to Jurisdiction/ Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus and Ex Parte Application for Emergency Stay. Exhibits [A46 and A47].

Amongst numerous claims, the Petition and Application challenged FNBO's standing on the grounds that: (1) because the State of California had deprived Petitioner of due process and was actively engaged in depriving him of his liberty, the judicial power of California could not be used to further take his money or property until he was afforded due process on the previous claims that were the proximate cause of damages in the alleged claim by FNBO; (2) that because all of the purported transactions occurred in interstate commerce, the State of California was entirely without subject matter jurisdiction over the case; and, (3) that even if Petitioner had failed to discharge the alleged obligation that it could not result in the claim of "damages" made by FNBO (Exhibit [D] p.5483) because, as this Court has declared, "the act of discharging the debt is a mere nullity and that it is still due."[162]

FNBO's opposition and MacLeod/ Dunning Firm's declaration in support thereof (Exhibit [D] pp.5461-5467) failed to meaningfully and substantively address these issues and thereby failed to sustain FNBO's burden of proof to standing on direct jurisdictional attack.

Based upon the verified claims and evidence filed by Petitioner, FNBO had two apparent options so as not to violate its ordinary duty of care[163] owed to Petitioner, or to become complicit in the conspiracy against him. FNBO could either (a) present authenticated evidence that Petitioner's claims were false and the Court thereby lacked a mandatory duty to fully, fairly, and impartially investigate his claims and grant him the mandatory relief he requested; or, (b) to (1)unequivocally declare that it had no intention of using the Court's jurisdiction as a means of causing Petitioner harm; (2) by affirming that the Court had a mandatory duty to investigate Petitioner's claims; and, (3) by refusing to exercise the Court's jurisdiction until the requisite fair and impartial due process was afforded to Petitioner. The position to effectively support Petitioner in achieving a Lawful resolution that could also lead to the Lawful resolution of FNBO's claims would in no way hinder the Dunning Firm or MacLeod or Dunning's duty to represent FNBO. On the contrary, it would have protected them and FNBO from aiding and abetting the conspiracy.

The Superior "Court's" jurisdiction cannot be used as a sword on the one hand to commit crimes and deprivations of Petitioner's rights, while on the other, as a shield to refuse to grant him the relief mandated by Law. Put differently the "Court" cannot use its authority to unlawfully restrain Petitioner while consequently finding him guilty of the "damages" resulting from that restraint that he didn't cause.

[163] See e.g. Cal. Civil Code §1714(a). In this same light, private parties can be liable under 42 U.S.C. §1983 when they conspire with State officials in the deprivation of rights secured by the U.S. Constitution. Lugar v. Edmundson Oil Co., Inc., 457 U.S. 922 (1982).

As officers of the Court, Dunning and MacLeod also had a sworn mandatory duty to support the Constitutions of California and the United States (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §6067) and not to war against them by either directly or indirectly advocating the fraud, treason, and other crimes being perpetrated upon Petitioner or by being involved in additional substantive due process violations to violate his rights and take his money or property without Lawful authority.

FNBO, The Dunning Firm, Dunning, and MacLeod (collectively hereafter "FNBO") decided war to against Petitioner and the California and U.S. Constitutions by: (1) advocating that Petitioner had no right to the relief he sought (Exhibit [D] pp.5461-5467); (2) by violating due process in failing to meaningfully and substantively respond to the direct jurisdictional attack and substantiate each of the issues raised by Petitioner to evidence their standing and the Court's subject matter jurisdiction[164] to award the relief they sought and were eventually awarded. (At the very least this included providing competent authority that none of the alleged transactions occurred in interstate commerce and by substantiating exactly what jurisdiction they occurred in, if not interstate commerce); (3) by MacLeod lying to the "Court" under oath, on the Dunning Firm and FNBO's behalf, that Petitioner had not presented authenticated evidence of his claims (Exhibit [D] p.5467, line 8) even [164] See e.g. McNutt v. Gen. Motors Accep. Corp., 298 U.S. 178 (1936). Additionally, having not been vested with common Law general jurisdiction, the Superior "Court" could not be sitting in that capacity and thereby its jurisdiction had to be affirmatively stated, proved, and on the record. See Ex Parte Knowles, 5 Cal. 300, 306 (Cal. Supreme Ct. 1855), Parsons v. Tuolumne Co. Water Co., 5 Cal. 43 (Cal. though Petitioner had (Proc. Hist. Exhibit [A46] pp.8-9); (4) by MacLeod/The Dunning Firm violating due process by failing to provide Petitioner with a Declaration and Exhibits filed in the "Court" to support FNBO's "damages" claim when Petitioner directly notified MacLeod that he never received service of the documents (Exhibit [D] pp.5499-5502) and still has not; (5) by MacLeod/ The Dunning Firm requesting the "Court" to award judgment in FNBO's favor even though they knew, that Petitioner never received a full, fair and impartial judicial determination of his rights, not to mention on his Ex Parte Application and Habeas petition hearings (Exhibit [D] pp.5452-5459) and in the action commenced by FNBO;[165] (6) by MacLeod/ The Dunning Firm falsely and fraudulently telling Petitioner that final "Judgment" had been entered by the Court when he/they knew that due process had not been followed for all of the above reasons, including the fact that Petitioner was not given any opportunity to meet the evidence of FNBO's "damages" claim because the Deputy Clerk issued "Judgement" on the same day (October 21, 2022) that FNBO filed its Declaration and supporting evidence. Exhibit [D] pp.5450-51. This was this same evidence that MacLeod/ The Dunning Firm refused to provide Petitioner a copy of after he informed them that he had never received service. MacLeod/ Dunning Firm refused to provide Petitioner copies of the Declaration and supporting evidence on the grounds that "default ha[d] [already] been entered[,] [he (Petitioner)] was not before the Court", and his "fee waiver was denied." Id. None of these responses preclude Petitioner's fundamental due process right to be served process and to have an opportunity to meet and oppose all claims against him.

By conspiring with State "officials" to violate due process to receive a "Judgment" in its favor FNBO has become directly involved in the conspiracy to take Petitioner's money and property without Lawful authority.

By denying Petitioner mandatory relief yet exercising jurisdiction to award FNBO relief "Judges" Leal and Cramin also aided and abetted the conspiracy by amongst other crimes, committing treason by refusing to exercise the "Court's" jurisdiction to fully, fairly, impartially, investigate his claims and to grant him the relief mandated by Law.

In a final apparent act to silence Petitioner and prevent him from continuing to defend himself because he was unable to afford to pay the "Court" filing fees, "Judicial Officer" June Jee An denied his Fee Waiver request on the ground that his "savings account amounts may cover [the Court] fees." Exhibit [D] p. 5480. Petitioner does not have a savings account and did not indicate anywhere on the Fee Waiver form that he had any money in a savings account. Exhibit [D] pp.5471-5478. His monthly income was listed at $4,721.60 while his monthly expenses totaled more than $9,000. There is no known process to appeal a Fee Waiver denial. It should also be noted that all of Petitioner's previous Fee Waiver applications had been approved in every State action.

b. Citibank N.A. Not in its Individual Capacity But Solely as Owner Trustee For New Residential Mortgage Loan Trust 2018-2[166] ("Citibank N.A.")

On March 7, 2022, shellpoint–a company purporting to be the servicer (Exhibit [D] pp.5040-1) of the mortgage pertaining to the "Deed of Trust" (Id. pp.5288-5303) and "Promissory Note" (Id. pp.5330-5331) allegedly executed by Petitioner–was given notice of the issues pertaining to Petitioner and his estate's inability to discharge the alleged mortgage obligation due to the crimes being perpetrated upon them by public "officials" and private parties in conspiracy therewith, in a recorded phone call. During the call, Petitioner provided the address to his website, http://www.thespiritoflaw.com, where shellpoint could find and verify his claims.

Despite the foregoing notice, Prestige Default Services, LLC, ("Prestige") the purported "Trustee" of the Deed of Trust (Id. p.5222) initiated non-judicial foreclosure proceedings by filing a "Notice of Default" in the Office of the Clerk-Recorder for the County of Orange pursuant to Cal. Civil Code §2924 on July 7, 2022. Exhibit [D] p.5225-5230.

In response, Petitioner filed a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus and Application for Emergency Ex parte hearing. Proc. Hist. Exhibits [A46 and A47]. Amongst numerous claims, the Petition and Application challenged Prestige's standing on the grounds that: (1) because the State of California had deprived Petitioner of due process and was actively engaged in depriving him of his liberty, the judicial power of California could not be used to further take his money or property until he was afforded due process on the previous claims that were the proximate cause of "damages" in the alleged claim by Prestige[167]; (2) because all of the purported transactions occurred in interstate commerce, the State of California was entirely without subject matter jurisdiction over the case; and, (3) Petitioner could not be subjected to non-judicial foreclosure proceedings in violation of Article 1, §10 because he never made a knowing, voluntary, or intelligent waiver of rights.

Prestige failed to oppose Petitioners direct jurisdictional challenges entirely.

Shellpoint, Citibank N.A., and Prestige have also all refused to substantively respond to Petitioner's repeated requests under the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act and the Freedom of Information Act for information and documentation pertaining to the alleged "loan" and mortgage at issue in the foreclosure proceedings. Exhibit [D] pp.5334-5339, 5503.

Petitioner is not in possession of any authenticated evidence: (1) that Citibank N.A. or any other bank "loaned" him anything; or (2) that Citibank N.A. has standing to foreclose on the "Deed of Trust" given the facts that (a) the alleged security Prestige relies upon is not the "Deed of Trust" executed by Petitioner, but an entirely different security instrument listed on the U.S. Stock Exchange[168], that not only does not secure the "Promissory Note" but is also not secured by the real property located at 818 Spirit Costa Mesa, California; (b) the "Promissory Note" has become separated from the "Deed of Trust", by repeated transfers that were all made without the "Note"

[167] Pursuant to the obligations of the "Promissory Note", Petitioner and/or his estate have a duty "to keep of the promises made in [the] Note, including the promise to pay the full amount owed." Exhibit [D] p.5331.

(Exhibit [D] p.5218-19, 5287) that by Law cannot be rejoined. See e.g. Carpenter v. Longan,[169] declaring that "[a]n assignment of the note carries the mortgage with it, while an assignment of the latter alone is a nullity" and Restatement (Third) of Property (Mortgages) §5.4 (1997) March 2019 Update:

> "[I]t is nearly always sensible to keep the mortgage and the right of enforcement of the obligation it secures in the hands of the same person. This is so because separating the obligation from the mortgage results in a practical loss of efficacy of the mortgage [...]. When the right of enforcement of the note and the mortgage are split, the note becomes, as a practical matter, unsecured."

The "Deed of Trust" that purports to be secured by the real property located at 818 Spirit Costa Mesa, California is not listed on the U.S. Stock Exchange.Whomever the beneficiaries of the New Residential Mortgage Loan Trust 2018-2 are, they do not have a known beneficial interest in the "Deed of Trust" secured by the real property located at 818 Spirit Costa Mesa, California. What they apparently have is a limited partnership interest in a completely separate security instrument on the U.S. Stock Exchange. The "Deed of Trust" is also not a security for the security listed on the U.S. Stock Exchange.

In the same way that a stockholder only possesses a property interest in the shares held, the owner(s) of the security held by New Residential Mortgage Loan Trust 2018-2 only possess an interest in the instrument it holds, which is not the "Deed of Trust" Prestige has sought to foreclose on.

There is also no known authority under California or Federal statute by which a mortgage created under California statute can be converted into and governed by Federal statute and traded on the U.S. Stock Exchange. Any conversion of the "Deed of Trust" into different security instrument or foreign venue renders the original a nullity.

Despite the foregoing, Patricia Sanchez, "Trustee Sale Officer" for Prestige filed a "Notice of Trustee Sale" in the Office of the Clerk-Recorder for the County of Orange on October 31, 2022. Exhibit [D] pp.5508-5510. The sale date is scheduled for December 12, 2022.

Petitioner has no apparent remedy in any other Court of California or the United States. Even filing bankruptcy will not afford him any protection as the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Ninth Circuit has repeatedly been involved in the fraud surrounding §7031 actions and is not empowered to adjudicate his Article III claims. And the District "Court" has already dismissed his claims with prejudice on the grounds it lacked subject matter jurisdiction to adjudicate them.

Based on all of the issues presented, Petitioner contends: (1) there is no judicial Constitutional Court of California and no apparent judicial officer willing to abide their sworn duties pertaining to at least the issues presented in this case; (2) no Lawful representative quorum in the "Legislature"; (3) no apparent Executive official willing to abide their sworn duties pertaining to at least the issues presented in this case (from the "Governor", Gavin Newsom, to any other "official" in State or local law enforcement); (4) that the Republican form of government of California admitted as a State under English/American common Law has been overthrown or replaced by a municipal form of government under Roman civil law[170] without the consent of the People, a Lawful representative quorum in the Cal. "Legislature" and "Congress" and is currently operating without the required system of checks and balances outside of the California and U.S. Constitutions; (5) that the Republican form of government of California in the "City of Costa Mesa" where Petitioner is domiciled has been overthrown or replaced by a municipal "council-manager form of government"[171] based on Roman civil law that operates outside of the California and U.S. Constitutions; (6) that none of the sovereign People of California appear to occupy any office of California "government" or Congress, having been denied access (Appendix [S] Questions:29-31); (7) that only another foreign body politic known as a "citizen of the United States" or "United States citizen" that has no recognized

III. CONCLUSION

Ernst Huber, a leading Nazi theorist, in a definitive presentation of the Nazi political-legal position wrote:

> "The authority of the Fuhrer is complete and all-embracing; it unites in itself all the means of political direction; it extends into all fields of national life; it embraces the entire people, which is bound to the Fuhrer in loyalty and obedience. The authority of the Fuhrer is not limited by checks and controls, by special autonomous bodies or individual rights, but is free and independent, all-inclusive and unlimited."[172]

On what happens to personal liberty in the "total state", Huber stated:

> "Not until the nationalistic political philosophy had become dominant could the liberalistic idea of basic rights be really overcome. The concepts of personal liberties of the individual as opposed to the authority of the state had to disappear; it is not to be reconciled with the principle of the nationalistic Reich. There are no personal liberties of the individual which fall outside the realm of the state and which must be respected by the state ... There can no longer be any question of a private sphere, free of state influence, which is sacred or untouchable before the political unity. The constitution of the nationalistic Reich is therefore > not based upon a system of inborn and inalienable rights of the individual... Id. p.50.

In such regimes "there is no longer any distinction between private matters and public matters"; there are no private matters. "The only person who is still a private individual in Germany," declared Robert Ley, a member of the Nazi hierarchy, ... "is somebody who is asleep."[173]

IV. RELIEF

Pursuant to Article III of the Constitution this Court has a mandatory, non-discretionary ministerial duty to exercise jurisdiction over this case. "We have no more right to decline the exercise of jurisdiction which is given than to usurp that which is not given. The one or the other would be treason to the Constitution."[174]

You will please grant this Application for the Emergency Stay of: (1) the "foreclosure proceedings" of the "Deed of Trust" secured by the real property located at 818 Spirit Costa Mesa, California; and (2) enforcement of the "Judgement" in Superior "Court" of California-County of Orange case #30-2022-01271693; pending this Court's Lawful adjudication of all of the issues presented in Petitioner's Petition for Original Writs of Quo Warranto, Mandamus, and Habeas Corpus to be sent to the Court within forty days of the date of the Stay Order. Petitioner should also be allowed to present his Petition in 8.5 x11 format without any page restrictions with all applicable fees waived.

This Court will please also exercise its inherent Equity powers or those of supplemental jurisdiction to grant Petitioner emergency restitution so that he will be able to fully meet his needs and obligations; be fairly compensated for a preliminary portion of his time and all expenses having been forced into involuntary servitude to perform this multiyear forensic investigation.

Petitioner has spent an average of eight hours per day, five days per week, for 291 weeks (the week of April 3, 2017 through November 4, 2022) conducting this investigation. The rate he should reasonably be paid is the same rate for legal services provided by a lawyer, such as Mr. Bissell (the Humphreys counsel), whose customary rate is $300 per hour (Exhibit [A3] p.123). At this rate, the compensation due Petitioner is about $3,540,000.

Petitioner has also incurred a preliminary estimate of $350,000 in expenses that include "Court" and attorney's fees; office expenses (paper, toner, postage, envelopes, printers, scanner, filing cabinets, 3-ringed binders, computer, software, paper cutter, website and domain hosting, cloud storage, part time assistant, etc...); research (law and history books, repeated consultations with expert legal historians); and medical (regular psychotherapy, acupuncture, and other specialist visits and professional consultations to help cope and treat extreme levels of stress resulting from the intentional infliction of emotional distress by "officials").

Pending further adjudication, which will incur additional time and expenses, Petitioner feels it is fair and reasonable that he be immediately compensated ten percent of the balance for his time (approx. $354,000) and all expenses (to be accounted for in a Motion sent within five calendar days upon granting the Stay). The Court will equitably apportion the amount due between Respondents Karen and Gary Humphreys, William Bissell, the Law Offices of William Bissell, David Chaffee, Kathleen O'Leary, Richard Aronson, and Thomas Goethals. All payments are to be made in Lawful money and are not in any way to way be considered as settlement or waiver of any of Petitioner's claims at Law or in Equity against these People or any others. The amounts paid will however be deducted from any additional claims upon which they are found to be liable.

DECLARATION

I, Adam Bereki, declare under penalty of perjury of the laws of California and the United States of America that: (1) the foregoing statements of fact are true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief: and, (2) that all Exhibits and Appendix documents referenced herein and/or found on http://www.thespiritoflaw.com are true and correct copies with the exception of any non-substantive notes, numbering, redactions, or other marks I may have made thereon.

Order of Discharge – Chapter 7

12/15

IT IS ORDERED: A discharge under 11 U.S.C. § 727 is granted to:

Adam Alan Bereki

[include all names used by each debtor, including trade names, within the 8 years prior to the filing of the petition]

Debtor 1 Discharge Date: 3/27/23

Dated: 3/27/23

By the court: Scott C Clarkson
United States Bankruptcy Judge

Explanation of Bankruptcy Discharge in a Chapter 7 Case

This order does not close or dismiss the case, and it does not determine how much money, if any, the trustee will pay creditors.

Creditors cannot collect discharged debts
This order means that no one may make any attempt to collect a discharged debt from the debtors personally. For example, creditors cannot sue, garnish wages, assert a deficiency, or otherwise try to collect from the debtors personally on discharged debts. Creditors cannot contact the debtors by mail, phone, or otherwise in any attempt to collect the debt personally. Creditors who violate this order can be required to pay debtors damages and attorney's fees.

However, a creditor with a lien may enforce a claim against the debtors' property subject to that lien unless the lien was avoided or eliminated. For example, a creditor may have the right to foreclose a home mortgage or repossess an automobile.

This order does not prevent debtors from paying any debt voluntarily or from paying reaffirmed debts according to the reaffirmation agreement. 11 U.S.C. § 524(c), (f).

Most debts are discharged
Most debts are covered by the discharge, but not all. Generally, a discharge removes the debtors' personal liability for debts owed before the debtors' bankruptcy case was filed.

Also, if this case began under a different chapter of the Bankruptcy Code and was later converted to chapter 7, debts owed before the conversion are discharged.

In a case involving community property: Special rules protect certain community property owned by the debtor's spouse, even if that spouse did not file a bankruptcy case.

32/AUTU

For more information, see page 2 >

Some debts are not discharged
Examples of debts that are not discharged are:

- ♦ debts that are domestic support obligations;
- ♦ debts for most student loans;
- ♦ debts for most taxes;
- ♦ debts that the bankruptcy court has decided or will decide are not discharged in this bankruptcy case;
- ♦ debts for most fines, penalties, forfeitures, or criminal restitution obligations;
- ♦ some debts which the debtors did not properly list;
- ♦ debts for certain types of loans owed to pension, profit sharing, stock bonus, or retirement plans; and
- ♦ debts for death or personal injury caused by operating a vehicle while intoxicated.

Also, debts covered by a valid reaffirmation agreement are not discharged.

In addition, this discharge does not stop creditors from collecting from anyone else who is also liable on the debt, such as an insurance company or a person who cosigned or guaranteed a loan.

This information is only a general summary of the bankruptcy discharge; some exceptions exist. Because the law is complicated, you should consult an attorney to determine the exact effect of the discharge in this case.

TO THE COURT, ALL PARTIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

NOTICE OF CONFLICT OF INTEREST

This action, filed under duress and coercion, involves claims against numerous attorneys, two retired Judges of this Court (David Chaffee and James Di Cesare), and three Justices of the Fourth District Court of Appeal (Richard Aronson, Kathleen O' Leary, and Thomas Goethals) for damages arising from exercising and/or conspiring to exercise the judicial and executive powers of California without lawful authority. (Two additional active Judges of this Court – Erick Larsh and Maria Hernandez – will, in a forthcoming amended complaint, be made parties. There are two open and ongoing criminal investigations into these circumstances. As the Justices of the Supreme Court have affirmed, "[a] fair trial in a fair tribunal is a basic requirement of due process. Fairness of course requires an absence of actual bias in the trial of cases" and "justice must satisfy the appearance of justice." In re Murchison, 349 U.S. 133, 136-37 (1955) (citation omitted). The honorable Judge assigned to this case – who initially appears to be Judge Hesseltine – has a duty to ensure these proceedings appear and are in fact fair and impartial. Plaintiff reserves the right to seek reassignment if conflicts impair the appearance of justice.

OVERVIEW

This lawsuit is at its preliminary stages but will soon include two Presidents, a Governor, more than twenty-seven state and federal judges—including justices of the California and U.S. Supreme Courts—more than thirty executive officers, and several legislative representatives. It alleges egregious abuse of power by these officials, who, through coordinated misconduct, have undermined private property rights and the structural integrity of the Constitutional governments of California and the United States.

Plaintiff is a former police officer in southern California with more than twenty years of experience in forensic civil and criminal investigations and a specialty in cases involving highly sophisticated fraud and government corruption. He became aware of the conspiracy alleged herein when it was perpetrated on him to criminally prosecute him in a civil case and excessively fine him nearly one million dollars for allegedly not having a construction license without any of the heightened protections in criminal proceedings or the excessive fine's clause.

PROCEDURAL OVERVIEW OF THIS ACTION

This action begins with an Ex parte Application for the Emergency Stay of Unlawful Detainer proceedings currently before this Court in case number 30-2015-01459684 to stay Plaintiff's eviction pending determination of an incorporated Motion to Vacate a Void Judgment in this case based on new evidence of extrinsic fraud and fraud on the Court. The UD case is requested to dismissed based on lack of standing and subject matter jurisdiction.

This action also includes a Cross-Complaint against original parties in this case and a Complaint against the Judges involved and additional Defendants. The allegations in the Ex parte Application, Motion to Vacate, Complaint and Cross-Complaint are very complex and dependent on one another, hence their fusion into this single action. Plaintiff is highly aware of the nature of judicial immunity and provides competent evidence the Judge's actions were beyond all jurisdiction as they were not cognizable before any Judge in America.

Due in part to Defendants filing the UD action against Plaintiff, which requires a limited ten-day period to answer, he was unable to finish this Cross-Complaint against all Defendants, of which there are more than fifty to be included. An amended Cross-Complaint will be filed as expeditiously as possible.

NOTICE: EX PARTE APPLICATION FOR THE EMERGENCY STAY OF UNLAWFUL DETAINER PROCEEDINGS

Please take Notice that on Monday, March 17, 2025, at 8:30 a.m. in Department C23 of this Court located at 700 W. Civic Center Dr, Santa Ana, California, before Judge Hesseltine, Plaintiff will move for an order to stay the Unlawful Detainer proceedings in case number 30-2015-01459684 pending the resolution of the Motion to Vacate Void Judgement in this case that is highly likely to render Plaintiff Hou's action without standing and the Court without subject matter jurisdiction. This Court has inherent powers to stay its proceedings to promote the efficiency of its docket and the interests of justice. Freiberg v. City of Mission Viejo, 33 Cal.App.4th 1484, 1489 (1995).

On March 13, 2025, I called the Fourth District Court of Appeal, Div. 3, to give Notice of this Ex parte proceeding to Kathleen O'Leary and Thomas Goethals. I asked to speak with Kim Rodriguez, who, from a prior conversation, I believe told me was an assistant to either Justice Goethals or O'Leary. The official who answered the phone told me Kim was unavailable. I asked her to leave a message for Kim and the Justices regarding the Ex parte proceedings and requested they call back for further discussion and to determine if they would appear to oppose it. The woman told me she would convey the message and someone would call back if they felt like it. Previously, Rodriguez refused to provide me the official email addresses for Goethals or O'Leary so that I could communicate with them. I have not received a return phone call. The Court of Appeal phone number is 714.571.2600.

The emails involved in giving Notice of this action will be included with a future Court filing. Additional service information, if any, will be provided to the Court at the hearing, if necessary.

SPECIAL REQUEST FOR OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

Plaintiff requests an Official Court Reporter for this hearing and all hearings involved in this case. Due to financial hardship detailed herein, Plaintiff cannot afford reporter services or transcripts and asserts that requiring payment would exacerbate damages from prior proceedings. He requests that the Court order an Official Court Reporter to transcribe this and all related proceedings pursuant to CCP § 269, with a certified copy provided to him within 5 court days of each hearing at no cost, consistent with Government Code § 68634.5. Alternatively, if denied, Plaintiff requests permission to make a digital audio recording under California Rules of Court, Rule 1.150(d), to be included in the official record on appeal if applicable. Upon approval, Plaintiff will provide an un-transcribed digital copy to other parties at no cost upon request.

COMPLAINT FOR CIVIL CONSPIRACY AGAINST AN ATTORNEY – NON-COMPLIANCE WITH §1714.10(a)

California Civil Code § 1714.10(a) requires court approval before filing a civil conspiracy claim against an attorney involving their client. Plaintiff has not complied because the exceptions under § 1714.10(c)(2) apply, where pre-filing approval is not required if: 1) the attorney has an independent legal duty to the plaintiff, or 2) the attorney's acts go beyond professional duties and involve a conspiracy to violate a legal duty for financial gain.

Plaintiff alleges civil conspiracy against William Bissell and Henry Paloci, attorneys licensed in California, for their roles in a coordinated scheme to deprive him of his constitutional rights, property, and livelihood for personal financial gain. These claims are exempt from Civil Code § 1714.10(a)'s pre-filing approval requirement under § 1714.10(c)(1) and (c)(2), as both attorneys owed Plaintiff independent legal duties and acted beyond their professional roles in furtherance of the conspiracy.

A. Independent Legal Duties as Officers of the Court

As attorneys admitted to the California Bar, Bissell and Paloci took an oath under Business and Professions Code § 6067 to "faithfully discharge the duties of an attorney at law" and uphold the Constitutions of the United States and California. This oath imposes an independent duty to Plaintiff, as a member of the public, not to abuse their positions as officers of the court to violate his rights, including due process (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 7; U.S. Const. Amend. XIV), protection against excessive fines (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17; U.S. Const. Amend. VIII), and property rights (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 1). Additionally, Cal. Civil Code § 1708 binds them to "abstain from injuring the person or property of another or infringing upon any of his rights." Their actions, detailed below, breached these duties by orchestrating unlawful proceedings under color of law, implicating 42 U.S.C. § 1983 (Lugar v. Edmondson Oil Co., 457 U.S. 922 (1982)).

B. William Bissell's Role in the Conspiracy

1. Wrongful Acts: Bissell, representing Karen and Gary Humphreys in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, filed and prosecuted a 2017 lawsuit against Plaintiff under Business and Professions Code § 7031(b), securing a $930,000 judgment for alleged

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

unlicensed contracting. Plaintiff alleges this action was a fraudulent civil proceeding masquerading as equity ("disgorgement"), when it was a covert criminal prosecution lacking due process safeguards (e.g., jury trial, counsel), rendering the judgment void ab initio (Motion to Vacate–Extrinsic Fraud).

2. Agreement: Bissell's persistent prosecution, despite Plaintiff's defenses and the Humphreys' lack of executive authority to prosecute under Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1, reasonably infers an agreement with his clients and court officials (e.g., Judge David Chaffee) to mischaracterize the case and suppress Plaintiff's rights. His filings and arguments, upheld by the Court, suggest coordination to achieve an unlawful outcome.
3. Intent: As an experienced attorney, Bissell knew or should have known that § 7031(b) imposed a "stiff all-or-nothing penalty," not equitable relief (MW Erectors, Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., Inc., 36 Cal. 4th 412, 426 (2005); and cases cited forthwith), and that private parties cannot prosecute penal statutes (Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973)). His pursuit of the $930,000 judgment—40 times Plaintiff's qualifying net worth—reflects intent to enrich the Humphreys and secure substantial legal fees, exceeding his duty to merely represent his clients.
4. Beyond Professional Duties: Bissell's actions went beyond advising or representing the Humphreys. By knowingly advancing a fraudulent claim to punish Plaintiff under a civil guise, he actively participated in a conspiracy with state actors (judges named herein) to deprive Plaintiff of his Constitutional rights for financial gain, violating his oath and § 1708
5. Causation and Damages: Bissell's filings directly resulted in the $930,000 judgment, which Plaintiff could not pay, triggering a non-judicial foreclosure of his home (818 Spirit, Costa Mesa) on November 18, 2024, by MTC Financial and Citizens Bank. This caused Plaintiff to lose $1.18 million in equity (property valued at $1.5 million, sold for $371,688), forced bankruptcy, and inflicted severe emotional and economic distress (Motion to Vacate–Harms Suffered).

C. Henry Paloci's Role in the Conspiracy

1. Wrongful Acts: Paloci, representing Canjian Hou in Case No. 30-2025-01459684, filed and is prosecuting an unlawful detainer (UD) action against Plaintiff to evict him

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

from 818 Spirit, based on a Trustee's Deed from the November 18, 2024, foreclosure sale. Plaintiff alleges this foreclosure is void due to the fraudulent 2017 judgment, and Paloci's UD knowingly exploits this defect to seize Plaintiff's property (Ex Parte Application–Introduction).

2. Agreement: Paloci's filing of the UD action despite actual notice of the foreclosure's invalidity, fraud, and other unlawful acts being perpetrated against Plaintiff reasonably infers an agreement with Hou and possibly MTC Financial or Court officials to enforce a defective title. His firm, Henry D. Paloci III, P.A., operates as his alter ego, facilitating these acts.
3. Intent: As an attorney, Paloci knew or should have known the foreclosure stemmed from a void judgment (new evidence in Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71 (2020), and MW Erectors, supra) that Plaintiff directly advised him of. His pursuit of the UD, risking Plaintiff's eviction, reflects intent to secure the property and Plaintiff's equity for Hou and earn fees, beyond mere client advocacy.
4. Beyond Professional Duties: Paloci exceeded his role by pressing the UD despite Plaintiff's title challenge and the underlying unlawful acts he was given Notice of, leveraging a void foreclosure for personal gain. This breaches his oath and § 1708, aligning with a conspiracy involving state actors (e.g., court officials processing the UD) to violate Plaintiff's rights under color of law.
5. Causation and Damages: Paloci's UD filing, directly threatens Plaintiff's imminent eviction, endangering his $1.18 million equity and causing ongoing emotional and economic distress. His actions perpetuate the harm from the 2017 judgment, amplifying the conspiracy's impact (Ex Parte Application–Irreparable Harm).

D. Concerted Action and Financial Motive

Bissell and Paloci's actions, while sequential, form a continuous scheme to strip Plaintiff of his property and rights. Bissell laid the groundwork with the fraudulent judgment, enabling the foreclosure, which Paloci now exploits through the UD. Their financial motives—Bissell's fees from the $930,000 award and Paloci's from the UD victory—are evident from the scale of their clients' gains and their persistence despite obvious legal defects. As officers of the Court, their breaches of Constitutional duties under their oaths elevate this from mere representation to criminal conspiracy, actionable under California law and 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

PROPERTY

The real property at issue in this case is located at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, California, in Orange County ("the property" or "Spirit property"), within this judicial district. The legal description is:

> LOT 55 of TRACT NO 15211, AS SHOWN ON A MAP RECORDED IN BOOK 733, PAGES 33 TO 37 INCLUSIVE OF MISCELLANEOUS MAPS, RECORDS OF ORANGE COUNTY, CALIFORNIA.
> EXCLUDING THEREFROM ONE-HALF OF ALL OIL AND MINERALS, BUT WITHOUT THE RIGHT OF ENTRY, AS RESERVED BY ETTA C. DAVIES, A WIDOW, IN DEED RECORDED JUNE 1, 1959 IN BOOK 4737, PAGE 511 OF OFFICIAL RECORDS.

Ownership

On May 21, 2003, Trinity Christian Church Center of California granted a 50% interest in the property to Defendant and 50% to Brian Dugger, recorded September 26, 2003 (Ex. L, pp. 14-17).

On June 9, 2004, Dugger granted his 50% to Plaintiff, recorded September 22, 2004 (Ex. 6, pp. 18-20). On June 5, 2012, Defendant quitclaimed 100% interest to Plaintiff as Trustee of the Adam Bereki Living Trust, recorded July 16, 2012 (Ex. L, p. 23).

Following Plaintiff's sole ownership, an allegedly fraudulent foreclosure occurred as detailed below. On January 30, 2025, on information and belief, Hou filed a Trustee's Deed Upon Sale in the Orange County Clerk-Recorder's Office, granting the property to Canjian Hou (Ex. 3, pp.16-23). Plaintiff contends it was not made by the authority of the Deed of Trust or in accordance with law, is void, and that he and/or the Adam Bereki Living Trust remain the sole owner, with the Trustee's Deed slandering the title.

EX PARTE APPLICATION FOR EMERGENCY STAY

Introduction

Plaintiff seeks an emergency stay of the unlawful detainer (UD) proceeding (Case No. 30-2015-01459684) initiated by Canjian Hou following a non-judicial foreclosure sale of Plaintiff's property at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA, on November 18, 2024. Plaintiff alleges the foreclosure was wrongful, stemming from a void judgment in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, tainted by extrinsic fraud and jurisdictional defects, rendering Hou's title and standing defective. This Court has the inherent and statutory authority to stay the UD action to prevent irreparable harm—eviction from Plaintiff's home—while these foundational issues are resolved.

Legal Standard for Emergency Stay

California courts may stay proceedings under CCP § 918(a) when enforcement of a judgment would cause undue hardship or irreparable injury, and under CCP § 1176(a) in UD actions to avoid eviction where equitable grounds exist. Freiberg v. City of Mission Viejo, 33 Cal.App.4th 1484, 1489 (1995), affirms courts' inherent power to stay actions for judicial efficiency and justice. Where a UD action rests on a disputed foreclosure, a stay is warranted if the foreclosure's validity is credibly challenged, risking irreparable harm. Asuncion v. Superior Court, 108 Cal.App.3d 141, 146 (1980).

Argument

I. The Unlawful Detainer Action Rests on a Wrongful Foreclosure Tied to a Void Judgment

Plaintiff alleges the foreclosure sale by MTC Financial, Inc. (Trustee Corps) and Citizens Bank, transferring title to Hou, was wrongful due to its basis in a void $930,000 judgment from Case No. 30-2015-00805807. This judgment, imposed in 2017 for alleged unlicensed contracting under Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b), is void ab initio due to extrinsic fraud and lack of subject matter jurisdiction:

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

- Extrinsic Fraud: Karen and Gary Humphreys, private citizens, lacked authority to prosecute Plaintiff under § 7031(b), a penal statute, masquerading as a civil action without due process safeguards (e.g., jury trial, counsel). Linda R.S. v. Richard D. (1973) 410 U.S. 614, 619; Motion to Vacate– Overview, Extrinsic Fraud. New evidence—Liu v. SEC 591 U.S. 71 (2020) (disgorgement not punitive) and Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr. 53 Cal.App.5th 1201 (2020) (penalty under § 7031(b))—confirms this fraud, preventing a fair hearing. Vella v. Hudgins, 20 Cal.3d 251, 256 (1977) (equitable defenses to UD valid if tied to title).
- Jurisdictional Defect: The trial court lacked jurisdiction to impose a criminal penalty via private action, violating Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1 (executive power exclusive to Governor). Asuncion, 108 Cal.App.3d at 146 (stay warranted where a title dispute, supported by lis pendens, affects UD proceedings); Motion to Vacate– Structural Jurisdictional Errors.

The foreclosure, triggered by Plaintiff's inability to pay this void judgment, is thus invalid. Barroso v. Ocwen Loan Servicing, LLC, 208 Cal.App.4th 1001, 1012-13 (2012) supports staying UD if a wrongful foreclosure claim shows prejudice to title.

II. Hou Lacks Standing Absent Valid Title

Hou's UD action hinges on a Trustee's Deed from the November 18, 2024, sale, which Plaintiff alleges is void due to the foreclosure's illegality. Dr. Leevil, LLC v. Westlake Health Care Center, 6 Cal.5th 474, 483 (2018) holds that UD requires a duly perfected title via a valid trustee's deed before pursuing UD, and premature actions fail for lack of standing. If the foreclosure is void—as Plaintiff asserts due to underlying fraud and jurisdictional nullity that proximately caused the sale—Hou has no lawful possession right, justifying a stay. Asuncion, 108 Cal.App.3d at 146 (stay UD where title seriously disputed).

III. Irreparable Harm Necessitates a Stay

Absent a stay, Plaintiff faces imminent eviction from his home of nearly 20 years, losing $1.18 million in equity (property valued at $1.5 million, sold for $371,688 (Motion to Vacate– Harms Suffered). This constitutes irreparable harm, as loss of real property is uniquely devastating. Barroso, 208 Cal.App.4th at 1017 (eviction risk supports stay).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

Conversely, Hou suffers minimal prejudice—a delay in possession—mitigated by his awareness of title disputes (Motion to Vacate– Emails, Ex. 4). Equity favors preserving the status quo. CCP § 1176(a).

IV. Judicial Efficiency Supports Consolidation and Stay

The UD action, foreclosure validity, and void judgment motion are inextricably linked, as resolution of Case No. 30-2015-00805807's defects may nullify Hou's title. Freiberg, 33 Cal.App.4th at 1489 (stay promotes docket efficiency). Staying the UD pending Plaintiff's Motion to Vacate avoids inconsistent rulings and wasted judicial resources, aligning with Vella's recognition of equitable defenses in UD contexts tied to title disputes.

Conclusion

This Court should grant an emergency stay of the UD action (Case No. 30-2015-01459684) under CCP §§ 918(a) and 1176(a), supported by Asuncion, Vella, Barroso, and Dr. Leevil. The foreclosure's alleged wrongfulness, rooted in a void judgment, undermines Hou's standing, and eviction would irreparably harm Plaintiff while resolution of these issues is pending. Plaintiff respectfully requests the stay effective immediately, without bond, given his financial hardship as evidenced herein.

ANSWER TO UNLAWFUL DETAINER COMPLAINT
(Case No.: 30-2025-01459684)

Adam Bereki, Defendant in the Unlawful Detainer proceedings in the above case, appears specially to inform the Court of the proceedings in case 30-2015-00805807: (1) requesting an emergency stay of the Unlawful Detainer proceedings, (2) that the Unlawful Detainer case be enjoined with 30-2015-00805807, and (3) the Court's subject matter jurisdiction is challenged based on Plaintiff Hou's alleged lack of standing.

NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION TO VACATE VOID JUDGMENT BASED ON NEW EVIDENCE OF EXTRINSIC FRAUD AND FRAUD ON THE COURT

Please take notice that Plaintiff moves this Court for orders:

1. Vacating the void judgments in Fourth District Court of Appeal Case No. G055075 and Superior Court Case No. 30-2015-00805807, based on new evidence of extrinsic fraud revealing structural jurisdictional errors in the trial and appeal processes that deprived him of a fair and impartial hearing.
2. Enjoining the Unlawful Detainer Proceedings with this case and dismiss the claims for lack of standing and subject matter jurisdiction.
3. Granting judgment of restitution for rights and property lost due to the judgment, including:
   a. Declaring void the non-judicial foreclosure of a second Deed of Trust for which Plaintiff's home was security.
   b. Canceling the Deed of Trustee's Sale recorded in the Orange County Clerk-Recorder's Office.
4. Providing all other relief the Court deems reasonable, necessary, and just to restore Plaintiff's rights and property lost due to unlawful actions taken against him.

The time, date, and location of the hearing shall be set by the Court at the hearing for Ex parte Application for Emergency Stay. Parties will be given updated Notice. This Motion is made on the same grounds as the Stay Application.

MOTION TO VACATE VOID JUDGMENT

This part of this action seeks equity to unwind a void judgment and foreclosure stemming from a 2017 lawsuit, based on new evidence of fraud and structural jurisdictional errors.

I. Factual Background

In 2017, private parties initiated an action against Plaintiff in this Court, alleging he performed construction work without a contractor's license. They pursued this under Business and Professions Code § 7031(b), presenting it as a civil equity suit for "disgorgement." Plaintiff asserts this was a covert criminal prosecution, improperly brought by private parties rather than officials vested with California's executive power, as required by the California Constitution. This disguised action denied Plaintiff the heightened protections required in criminal proceedings. He was then fined approximately $930,000—an excessive penalty far beyond the $5,000 maximum for a first-time misdemeanor offense under the contractor licensing laws. This fine lacked the constitutional safeguards of the excessive fines clause, causing severe harm, including the loss of his home through a non-judicial foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024, for about $1.18 million below fair market value (excluding a first mortgage Plaintiff believes is fraudulent and discharged in bankruptcy). This Court's judgement was affirmed on appeal.

II. Extrinsic Fraud and Structural Jurisdictional Errors

New evidence reveals extrinsic fraud and structural jurisdictional errors that undermined the trial and appeal, including:

1. Disgorgement Mischaracterization: A recent U.S. Supreme Court decision clarifies that equitable disgorgement excludes punishment, showing the judgment was punitive, not equitable.
2. Penalty Confirmation: A California Court of Appeal opinion holds that an action under § 7031(b) is a "penalty or forfeiture," confirming the judgment lacked criminal safeguards.
3. Jurisdictional Defect: As a consequence of the foregoing, this Court and the Court of Appeal lacked subject matter jurisdiction to render or affirm the judgment, per County of Ventura v. Tillett, 133 Cal. App. 3d 105, 110 (1982) ("[a] Court of [California] does not have jurisdiction to render judgment that violates the California Constitution or the Constitution for the United States").

ADAM A. BEREKI

4. Conspiracy Claim: Plaintiff alleges the plaintiffs, their attorney, and a judge of this Court conspired to exercise California's executive power—reserved for state officials—to prosecute him under a civil guise, per Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973) ("a private citizen lacks a judicially cognizable interest in the [criminal] prosecution [...] of another"). He further alleges that Fourth District Court of Appeal Justices conspired to aid and abet this conspiracy by affirming the Judgment and denying Plaintiff a full, fair, impartial, and independent appeal.

These findings demonstrate extrinsic fraud and fraud on the Court that prevented a fair trial and appeal as fully alleged forthwith.

III. Structural Jurisdictional Errors Necessitating Automatic Reversal

The structural jurisdictional errors in this case, rooted in the Court's lack of subject matter jurisdiction and compounded by extrinsic fraud, render the judgment void ab initio and mandate automatic reversal under California and federal precedent. The California Supreme Court, Courts of Appeal, and the U.S. Supreme Court have recognized that certain errors are so fundamental—termed "structural"—that they undermine the entire framework of the trial, distinguishing them from mere trial errors subject to harmless error analysis. These structural errors align with the defects alleged herein: the Plaintiff's lack of standing to exercise California's executive prosecutorial power under Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1, the court's imposition of a punitive sanction in a civil proceeding without due process safeguards, and the extrinsic fraud that prevented a fair hearing. California and federal law compel vacatur of the judgment due to these pervasive errors.

In Aulisio v. Bancroft, 230 Cal. App. 4th 1516 (2014), the Fourth District Court of Appeal held that denying a party's right to present testimony (evidence) in a civil proceeding constitutes a structural error, requiring reversal without regard to the evidence's strength (Aulisio, 230 Cal. App. 4th at 1527). The court defined structural errors as those affecting "the framework within which the trial proceeds," citing Arizona v. Fulminante, 499 U.S. 279, 310 (1991), and noted that in civil contexts, such errors include due process violations denying a fair hearing, such as denying a jury trial or evidence presentation (id., citing Conservatorship of Maria B., 218 Cal. App. 4th 514, 534 (2013)). Here, the extrinsic fraud and jurisdictional defect denied Plaintiff a fair hearing by mischaracterizing a penal action as civil, precluding criminal safeguards like a jury trial and evidence presentation under proper standards. This structural failure tainted the entire proceeding and appeal, mandating reversal.

Similarly, In re Enrique G., 140 Cal. App. 4th 676 (2006), held that failing to advise a juvenile of his right to a jury trial in a probation revocation required automatic reversal (Enrique G., 140 Cal. App. 4th at 685). The court emphasized that such errors "require reversal without regard to the strength of the evidence or other circumstances," affecting the trial's framework (id.). Plaintiff's case mirrors this: the Court's failure to treat the $930,000 fine as a criminal penalty denied him a jury trial, a foundational right, due to fraudulent concealment of the action's nature. This structural defect undermines the proceeding's legitimacy, necessitating vacatur.

The U.S. Supreme Court in Weaver v. Massachusetts, 582 U.S. 286, 295-296 (2017), identified three rationales for classifying errors as structural, each applicable here. First, structural errors safeguard interests beyond mere trial accuracy, such as fundamental constitutional rights. The jurisdictional defect here—private prosecution by the Humphreys under Business and Professions Code § 7031(b)—violates Plaintiff's due process rights (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 7; U.S. Const. Amend. XIV) and liberty to pursue his livelihood (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 1), striking at ordered liberty's core. Second, structural errors are those whose effects defy measurement, like denial of counsel of choice. The lack of jurisdiction, compounded by extrinsic fraud, taints the entire 2017 proceeding, rendering its impact unquantifiable. Third, structural errors inherently cause fundamental unfairness, such as denying counsel to an indigent defendant. Imposing a $930,000 punitive sanction via a civil court without due process safeguards was fundamentally unfair, as confirmed by MW Erectors, Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., Inc., 36 Cal. 4th 412, 426 (2005) (describing § 7031 as a 'stiff all-or-nothing penalty'). These principles, applied in In re Christopher L., 12 Cal. 5th 1063, 1077-1078 (2022) to ICWA errors, underscore the structural nature of the defects here.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

The U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Johnson v. Zerbst, 304 U.S. 458 (1938), reinforces this, holding that denial of the Sixth Amendment right to counsel is a structural error depriving a court of jurisdiction (Johnson, 304 U.S. at 467-68). The Court stated, "compliance with this constitutional mandate is an essential jurisdictional prerequisite," and its absence "goes to the jurisdiction of the trial court" (id.). Plaintiff's denial of criminal safeguards, including counsel, in a mischaracterized penal proceeding parallels this, voiding the court's authority.

Further, People v. Bush, 7 Cal. App. 5th 457 (2017), and People v. Dominguez, 166 Cal. App. 4th 858 (2008), distinguish structural errors as affecting "the framework within which the trial proceeds" (Bush, 7 Cal. App. 5th at 467; Dominguez, 166 Cal. App. 4th at 866). The lack of jurisdiction here is a foundational defect, not a quantifiable trial error under Chapman v. California, 386 U.S. 18 (1967).

These precedents collectively affirm that the structural jurisdictional errors—lack of lawful prosecutorial authority, fraudulent concealment of the proceeding's nature, and imposition of an unconstitutional penalty—require automatic reversal. The court's actions violated the California Constitution and U.S. Constitution, rendering the judgment a legal nullity under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §§ 473(d) and 1916, consistent with MacMillan Petroleum Corp. v. Griffin, 99 Cal. App. 2d 523, 533 (1950) ("a court may set aside a void order at any time").

III. Harms Suffered

Due to these unlawful actions, Plaintiff has endured irreparable harm, including the following:

1. Loss of his vested right to work as a general contractor for nearly six years, resulting in an estimated $1 million in lost earnings, as he could not afford the unconscionable judgment.
2. Impairment of private contracts and obligations due to the judgment, leading to the non-judicial foreclosure of his home.

ADAM A. BEREKI

3. Forced bankruptcy stemming from the judgment, fraudulent foreclosure proceedings, and repeated denials of relief from judicial, executive, or legislative branches of California or the United States.
4. Loss of earnings for his time and labor for his professional services in investigating the fraud and other unlawful misconduct alleged herein, estimated to be over $5 million dollars.

IV. Procedural Basis and Authorities

This Motion relies on:

- The inherent powers of this Court to vacate void judgments.
- California Code of Civil Procedure (CCP) § 473(d), allowing correction of void judgments.
- CCP § 1916, stating that "any judicial record may be impeached by evidence of a want of jurisdiction in the Court or judicial officer, of collusion between the parties, or of fraud in the party offering the record, in respect to the proceedings."

As this motion targets a void judgment, it is timely under CCP § 473(d). People v. American Contractors Indemnity Co., 33 Cal. 4th 653, 660 (2004) ("[w]hen a court lacks jurisdiction in a fundamental sense, such as jurisdiction over the subject matter or the parties, its judgment is void, and a void judgment can be set aside at any time").

HISTORICAL LEGAL FRAMEWORK AT AMERICA'S FOUNDING: THE CIVIL-CRIMINAL DICHOTOMY AND ABSENCE OF PUBLIC WELFARE OFFENSES

To fully grasp the jurisdictional defects and constitutional violations in this case, we must examine the legal framework at America's founding. This historical context reveals that California Business and Professions Code § 7031(b), as applied, deviates from the Constitution's original intent, which recognized only civil and criminal actions, not modern public welfare offenses.

I. Civil and Criminal Actions at the Founding

At America's founding, influenced by English common law, the legal system recognized two primary actions: civil and criminal. Civil actions addressed "private wrongs"—disputes between individuals over rights like contracts or property—seeking remedies such as restitution. Criminal actions, or "public wrongs," were state-prosecuted offenses against the community, like murder or theft, aimed at punishment and deterrence. This binary system is embedded in Article III of the U.S. Constitution, which establishes federal courts to handle "cases" (civil disputes) and "controversies" (including criminal prosecutions). Sir William Blackstone's Commentaries on the Laws of England (1765–1769), a key influence on the framers, defines civil actions as addressing "an infringement or privation of the private or civil rights belonging to individuals" (Book III, Chapter 2), with restitution as the goal: "The satisfaction awarded to the party injured is the principal end of a civil action" (Book III, Chapter 8). Criminal actions, however, are "a breach and violation of the public rights and duties, due to the whole community" (Book IV, Chapter 1), with punishment to "prevent the commission of crimes" (Book IV, Chapter 1). Blackstone states, "All wrongs are either public or private" (Book III, Chapter 2), leaving no third category. Early cases like Chisholm v. Georgia 2 U.S. 419 (1793) (civil debt dispute) and United States v. Hudson and Goodwin, 11 U.S. 32 (1793) (criminal intent requirement) reflect this dichotomy.

II. Absence of Public Welfare Offenses

Modern public welfare offenses—strict-liability violations like building code breaches—did not exist at the founding. These emerged post-1787 with the regulatory state, particularly during the New Deal era, dubbed by some the "New Steal" for its perceived erosion of constitutional rights. Founding-era criminal actions required intent, as seen in Calder v. Bull, 3 U.S. 386 (1798) distinguishing civil property rights from intent-based criminal laws. Caleb Nelson's Adjudication in the Political Branches notes, "Early Congresses did not understand themselves to be authorizing... determinations wholly divorced from judicial process" (p. 592), indicating no regulatory offenses existed then. Justice Clarence Thomas's opinions, such as in Timbs v. Indiana 586 U.S. ___ (2019), reinforce this intent-based framework, rejecting modern strict liability as a founding-era concept.

III. Judicial Protection of Private Rights and Franchises

The founding era also recognized that franchises, like corporate charters, could vest as private rights requiring judicial protection. Nelson's Vested Rights, 'Franchises,' and the Separation of Powers explains that once granted, these became private rights needing Article III adjudication (Dartmouth College v. Woodward, 1819), fitting within civil actions and reinforcing the absence of a regulatory category.

IV. Relevance to This Case

Section 7031(b)'s $930,000 fine, imposed without intent or criminal safeguards, mimics a public welfare offense—a concept foreign to the founding era. This departure from the civil-criminal dichotomy allowed private parties to criminally prosecute Plaintiff, exceeding their constitutional authority and rendering the judgment void due to jurisdictional defects.

CONVERSION OF PRIVATE RIGHTS INTO PUBLIC PRIVILEGES: A CONSTITUTIONAL HIJACKING

The modern transformation of private rights into public privileges, exemplified by the Contractors State License Board (CSLB), contractor licensing laws (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 7000 et seq.) and § 7031, represents a profound departure from the Constitution's original intent, undermining inalienable rights and fueling an unconstitutional administrative state, through an constitutional fourth branch of government.

I. Private Rights at the Founding

At America's founding, private contracts—such as those for construction work—were sacrosanct private rights, not public privileges. The Northwest Ordinance of 1787 declared: "No man shall be deprived of his liberty or property, but by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land; and, should the public exigencies make it necessary... full compensation shall be made for the same." This protected private agreements from impairment, a principle echoed in the Contract Clause (U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10). Construction contracts between individuals, like Plaintiff's and/or his company's with the Plaintiffs in this action, Karen and Gary Humphreys, ("the Humphreys"), were private matters, adjudicated as civil actions if disputed, not subject to state control.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

II. The Regulatory Shift: From Rights to Privileges

Post-founding, particularly with the New Deal's regulatory expansion, government officials began converting these private rights into public privileges. The licensing laws exemplify this by requiring licenses for private contractual work and imposing penalties like § 7031(b)'s fine, transforming a private right into a state-regulated privilege. This shift allows administrative agencies to dictate terms once governed by mutual consent, denying inalienable rights in ordinary vocations of life, and stripping individuals of autonomy over their labor and contracts.

III. The Administrative State: An Unlawful Fourth Branch of Government

The CSLB's structure reveals a constitutional hijacking. The California Constitution mandates separation of powers (Cal. Const. Art. III, § 3), vesting legislative (Art. IV), executive (Art. V), and judicial (Art. VI) powers in distinct branches. Yet, the CSLB combines all three:

- Legislative Power: It promulgates licensing regulations (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7008), acting as a quasi-legislature.

- Executive Power: It enforces these rules, investigating and prosecuting violations (§ 7011).

- Judicial Power: It adjudicates disputes, holding hearings and issuing decisions (§ 7099.5), bypassing judicial courts.

This consolidation creates a "fourth branch"—the administrative state—unaccountable to constitutional checks, as Nelson notes: "Governmental officials needed 'judicial' power to dispose conclusively of an individual's legal claim to private rights" (Adjudication, p. 563). The enforcement of the Contractor License Laws in Plaintiff's case, underpinning § 7031(b)'s enforcement, violate this separation, rendering the judgment jurisdictionally defective.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

IV. Constitutional Implications and Relevance

This conversion undermines inalienable rights—life, liberty, property, and privacy—by subjecting them to administrative whim. Plaintiff's private right to contract became a privilege revocable by the Legislature, Courts, and CSLB, leading to a $930,000 fine and loss of livelihood without due/judicial process. This "New Steal" enriches the state and private parties like the Humphreys, who retained $930,000 in work value, at Plaintiff's expense, violating the founding-era framework where private rights required judicial protection, not regulatory forfeiture.

CONSTITUTIONAL CRISIS MANDATING RELIEF

This case transcends a statutory misapplication—it presents a Constitutional crisis demanding judicial correction at the highest level. Cal. Bus. & Prof. Codes § 7031(a) and (b), as applied, imposed a $930,000 fine—186 times § 7028's misdemeanor cap—without the due/judicial process safeguards guaranteed by Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 7, 9 and U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10, Amend. XIV, and in violation of the excessive fines prohibitions under Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17 and the Eighth Amendment. Plaintiff, self-represented and misled about the action's penal nature as "disgorgement" (Dkt. 193), was denied notice of criminal consequences, right to counsel, and jury trial—protections mandated in penal proceedings (Ex parte Clark, 24 Cal. App. 389, 395 (1914); United States v. Shapleigh, 54 F. 126, 134 (8th Cir. 1893)). This procedural ambush, executed by private parties lacking executive authority (Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1), rendered the judgment void ab initio (World-Wide Volkswagen Corp. v. Woodson, 444 U.S. 286, 291 (1980)). The fine's excessiveness compounds this crisis. Valued at more than 40 times Plaintiff's qualifying net worth, it forced bankruptcy, stripping life and liberty without proportionality to the alleged unlicensed work—work the Humphreys retained, valued at $930,000. Compared to § 7028's $5,000 maximum, this penalty is a "stiff all-or-nothing" punishment (MW Erectors v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., Inc., 36 Cal. 4th 412, 426 (2005)), not a civil remedy, violating constitutional limits (United States v. Bajakajian, 524 U.S. 321, 334 (1998) (fines must be proportional); County of San Diego v. Milotz, 46 Cal. 2d 761, 766 (1956)). California courts recognize that "a penalty that is grossly disproportionate to the gravity of the offense is unconstitutional" (People v. Urbano, 128 Cal. App. 4th 396, 406 (2005)), yet the trial and appellate Judges ignored these safeguards, breaching their judicial duties. This is not an isolated injustice but a systemic flaw in § 7031(a) and (b)'s application occurring for nearly 100 years in California (in the case of § 7031 (a)), permitting private parties to wield executive power and impose ruinous fines without due and judicial process.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

This systemic issue is further illustrated by other cases involving § 7031. A significant example is Judicial Council of California v. Jacobs Facilities, Inc., 239 Cal. App. 4th 882 (2015), where the Judicial Council sought a $22.7 million forfeiture against Jacobs, a company it contracted to maintain California Court buildings. Despite Jacobs reportedly performing well, the forfeiture—labeled as "disgorgement"—stemmed from an apparently unintentional licensing issue during a corporate reorganization. Public records show the Judicial Council spent $3,307,408.78 in taxpayer funds to pursue this case (Exhibit C, p. 1815), that had no lawful basis to begin with. This case highlights concerns about the application of § 7031 and its potential or serious abuse through the imposition of substantial penalties for technical infractions and its egregious abuse by members of the California Judiciary.

The full extent of similar cases remains unclear, as California's court records system lacks a searchable database for § 7031 judgments, a statute in effect since 1929. However, a preliminary review of appellate cases reveals additional examples of significant forfeitures without lawful authority under § 7031, subject to further verification of the amount forfeited:

1. Twenty-Nine Palms v. Bardos, 210 Cal. App. 4th 1435 (2012): A forfeiture of $917,043.09 against Paul Bardos, resulting in bankruptcy and loss of his home (In re Bardos, Bankr. No. 10-41455-DS).
2. MW Erectors, Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., Inc., 36 Cal. 4th 412 (2005): A forfeiture of $1,322,247, plus interest and court costs, against MW Erectors under § 7031(a).
3. Banis Restaurant Design, Inc. v. Serrano, 134 Cal. App. 4th 1035 (2005): A forfeiture of $212,821.80, plus interest and costs, against Banis under § 7031(a).
4. Hydrotech Systems, Ltd. v. Oasis Waterpark, 52 Cal. 3d 988 (1991): A forfeiture of $110,000, plus interest and costs, against Hydrotech under § 7031(a).
5. White v. Cridlebraugh, 178 Cal. App. 4th 506 (2009): A forfeiture of $84,621.45, plus interest and costs, against JC Master Builders under § 7031(b).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Federal Courts have also upheld similar forfeitures. In Davis Moreno Constr., Inc. v. Frontier Steel Bldgs. Corp., 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 116566, a forfeiture of $168,025.90 was awarded against Frontier under § 7031(b), with an additional unspecified amount under § 7031(a). The Ninth Circuit bankruptcy case of Paul Bardos, supra further reflects this trend.

In these cases, Courts consistently declined to treat the forfeitures as penal, thus bypassing constitutional protections like the Excessive Fines Clause (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17; U.S. Const. Amend. VIII) and due/ judicial process guarantees. This pattern suggests a broader issue with § 7031's application, mandating judicial review to ensure alignment with constitutional standards.

MOTION TO VACATE VOID JUDGMENT

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

Overview

"A private citizen lacks a judicially cognizable interest in the [criminal] prosecution [...] of another."
– Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973)

Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1 declares: "The supreme executive power of this State is vested in the Governor. The Governor shall see that the law is faithfully executed." Because the executive power is vested exclusively in the Governor, private parties cannot criminally prosecute other private parties, as occurred in this case. In 2017, Plaintiff was maliciously and fraudulently prosecuted for allegedly performing construction work by the Humphreys in a purported civil action, fraudulently disguised as an equitable remedial action for "disgorgement." Despite the purported equitable proceedings, Plaintiff was denied equity and all mandatory heightened protections required in criminal proceedings. He was excessively, cruelly, and unusually fined more than $930,000. This resulted in a structural jurisdiction failure of the trial mechanism and a bill of pains (punishment without a judicial determination of rights/ the taking of life, liberty, or property without judicial process) in violation of Cal. Const. Art. I, § 9 and U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10, because he was punished and the proceedings were coram non judice (before a non-judge, lacking jurisdiction).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

When Plaintiff was unable to pay the unconscionable fine—approximately forty times his qualifying net worth at the time—he was further egregiously punished when his vested right to be the Qualifying Individual of a general contractor license (a right vested since at least 2007, see Lic. #927244) was revoked without a judicial hearing, resulting in more than three million dollars in lost earnings and a bill of pains and penalties. The Court of Appeal affirmed the decision, finding the Judgment was not a fine or penal, but the equitable remedy of "disgorgement." (Appendix C – Opinion, Fourth District Court of Appeal).

In 2020 (after trial and appeal in this case), the U.S. Supreme Court filed its decision in Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71 (2020), defining the nature of "disgorgement" as a "profit-based measure of unjust enrichment" (p. 79) intended to deprive a wrongdoer of his illegal profits. No profits were evidenced in Plaintiff's case, evidencing that the Judgment was not for "disgorgement." Plaintiff was also denied equitable deductions for the reasonable value of all benefits previously returned to the Humphreys in the form of custom remodel construction work, evidencing the Judgment cannot possibly be "equitable," and no authority to impose a constructive trust was allowed. As Plaintiff will evidence, the case against him was really a covert penal action intended to punish him for allegedly performing construction work without a contractor license, despite its "civil" label. As enacted and applied to Plaintiff, § 7031 is just a differently worded version of the criminal statute to punish unlicensed contractors under § 7028 (the criminal unlicensed contractor statute).

In 2020 (after trial and appeal in this case), the Second District Court of Appeal of California filed its opinion in Eisenberg Village etc. v. Suffolk Construction Co., Inc., 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201 (2020). In Eisenberg, the Court found that Business and Professions Code § 7031(b) imposed a "penalty" (not equitable disgorgement) and was subject to the one-year statute of limitations imposed by Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 340.

Because the Judgment against Plaintiff: 1) was not equitable; 2) was not supported by any evidence he had caused the Humphreys any harm; and 3) was intended to punish him for allegedly committing the crime or public offense of performing construction work without a license, the Humphreys lacked both the capacity and standing to exercise the executive power of California to criminally prosecute him. As "a private citizen lacks a judicially cognizable interest in the [criminal] prosecution [...] of another" (Linda R.S. v.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973)), this Court lacked subject matter jurisdiction to subject Plaintiff to criminal proceedings and to punish him. The Fourth District Court of Appeal lacked subject matter jurisdiction to affirm the Judgment.

Plaintiff has sought relief in every Court of California and the United States and continues to be denied due/ judicial process and a full, fair, and impartial judicial determination of his rights. As a direct and proximate result of all the foregoing, Plaintiff continues to suffer irreparable harm and damages as alleged herein, including most recently, the foreclosure sale of his home. Upon vacatur of the void Judgment in this case, Plaintiff seeks an Order for damages and restitution restoring all rights and property lost as a result of the Judgment, including the reversal of the foreclosure proceedings.

I. This Court Has a Duty to Vacate the Void Judgment in This Case Even After Appeal

"A court may set aside a void order at any time. An appeal will not prevent the court from at any time lopping off what has been termed a dead limb on the judicial tree—a void order."
– MacMillan Petroleum Corp. v. Griffin, 99 Cal. App. 2d 523, 533 (1950)

This Court is vested with both the inherent authority and a non-discretionary duty to vacate the judgment in this case, which Plaintiff contends is void due to fundamental jurisdictional defects, due/ judicial process violations, and extrinsic fraud. Established California precedent and statutory authority compel this result, even after an appeal has concluded, as a void judgment is a legal nullity subject to attack at any time.

a. The Judgment Is Void Due to Lack of Jurisdiction and Extrinsic Fraud

A judgment is void when the rendering court lacks personal or subject matter jurisdiction,or exceeds its authority by granting relief it has no power to award (Becker v. S.P.V. Constr. Co., 27 Cal. 3d 489, 493 (1980); Jones v. World Life Research Inst., 60 Cal. App. 3d 836, 840–848 (1976)). Here, Plaintiff asserts that the judgment is void on its face because: (1) the Humphreys, as private citizens, lacked constitutional standing and capacity to exercise California's executive power to prosecute him, rendering their actions ultra vires, and (2) the presiding judges/justices lacked subject matter jurisdiction to render and affirm the judgment.

The United States Supreme Court has long held that "a private citizen lacks a judicially cognizable interest in the [criminal] prosecution ... of another" (Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973)). California courts echo this principle, recognizing that a lack of standing constitutes a jurisdictional defect (People ex rel. Becerra v. Superior Ct., 29 Cal. App. 5th 486, 496 (2018)). If the Humphreys had no lawful authority to initiate or pursue this prosecution, the court lacked subject matter jurisdiction over the proceedings from the outset. Furthermore, Plaintiff alleges newly discovered evidence revealing extrinsic fraud—specifically, structural jurisdictional errors in the trial and appellate processes that deprived him of a full, fair, and impartial judicial determination of his rights.

Extrinsic fraud occurs when a party is fraudulently prevented from presenting their claim or defense, thereby undermining the integrity of the judicial process (City & Cnty. of San Francisco v. Cartagena, 35 Cal. App. 4th 1061, 1067 (1995); Estate of Sanders, 40 Cal. 3d 607, 614 (1985)). Examples include failure to provide notice or fraudulent inducement to forgo legal representation—actions that deny a party their day in court (Kulchar v. Kulchar, 1 Cal. 3d 467, 471 (1969)). Plaintiff's contention that the prosecution and judicial process were tainted by such fraud, evidenced by the Humphreys' lack of authority and the Court's failure to exercise lawful judicial power, renders the judgment void.

b. A Void Judgment May Be Set Aside at Any Time, Even After Appeal

California law unequivocally permits a Court to vacate a void judgment at any time, irrespective of prior appeals. As articulated in MacMillan Petroleum Corp. v. Griffin, 99 Cal. App. 2d 523, 533 (1950), "a court may set aside a void order at any time," a principle reinforced by Craft v. Craft, 49 Cal. 2d 189, 192 (1957), and Rochin v. Pat Johnson Mfg., 67 Cal. App. 4th 1228, 1239 (1998). A void judgment is subject to direct or collateral attack, including via a motion to vacate under Code of Civil Procedure § 473(d), which imposes no time limit for such relief.

c. Statutory and Constitutional Authority Mandates Relief

Statutory provisions further compel the vacation of the judgment. Code of Civil Procedure § 473(d) explicitly authorizes a Court, on motion and notice, to "set aside any void judgment or order." Similarly, § 1916 permits impeachment of a judicial record for "want

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

of jurisdiction in the court or judicial officer, collusion between the parties, or fraud in the party offering the record." Here, the alleged lack of jurisdiction and extrinsic fraud fall squarely within these provisions. The United States Supreme Court's decision in Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71 (2020), and California's recognition of superior court precedent in Auto Equity Sales Corp. v. Superior Ct., 57 Cal. 2d 450, 455 (1962), bind this Court to rectify jurisdictional errors. Plaintiff has never received a lawful judicial determination of his rights by a Court exercising constitutional authority, a deprivation that this Court must now remedy.

d. The Motion to Vacate Is a Direct Attack Supported by Equity

A motion to vacate is a direct (not collateral) attack on a judgment, as recognized in In re Dahnke's Estate, 64 Cal. App. 555 (1923). When the record reveals a want of jurisdiction, the presumption favoring a Court's judgment is overcome (Gray v. Hawes, 8 Cal. 562 (1857)). Furthermore, where extrinsic fraud is at issue, no statutory time limit governs; the Court's inherent equity power prevails (Dep't of Indus. Rels. v. Davis Moreno Constr., Inc., 193 Cal. App. 4th 560, 570–71 (2011)). This equitable authority ensures that fraudulently procured judgments do not stand.

Conclusion

This Court has a mandatory duty to vacate the judgment in this case, which Plaintiff has demonstrated is void due to jurisdictional defects and extrinsic fraud. The lack of standing by the Humphreys, the absence of lawful judicial power, and newly discovered evidence of fraud undermine the judgment's validity. California law—both statutory and inherent—empowers and obligates this Court to act, even after appeal, to excise this "dead limb on the judicial tree." Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court grant the motion to vacate, restoring his right to a fair and lawful adjudication.

A Qualifying Individual is defined in the Application for Original Contractor License as "the person who meets the experience and examination requirements for the license and who is responsible for exercising supervision and control of their employer's or principal's construction operations to secure compliance with CSLB's laws, rules, and regulations. (BPC section 7068.1(a)) 'Supervision and control' means 'direct supervision or control' or monitoring and being available to assist others to whom 'direct supervision and control' has been delegated. 'Direct supervision or control' means supervising construction, managing construction activities by making technical and administrative decisions, checking jobs for proper workmanship, and/or supervision on construction sites. A qualifying individual is required for every classification on every license issued by CSLB." Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7096 states: "the term 'licensee' shall include [...] personnel of that licentiate whose appearance has qualified the licentiate under the provisions of Section 7068." Based on the foregoing, a Qualifying Individual is an inseparable part of every contractor license, to the degree that the license cannot exist without the qualifier.

b. Spartan is Hired for The Humphreys' Remodel Project

In April 2012, Plaintiff, on behalf of Spartan, entered into an agreement with the Humphreys to perform custom remodel construction work on a single upstairs condominium unit located at 436 Via Lido Nord in Newport Beach, CA. The condominium unit is located on Lido Isle and is waterfront to the bay waters that surround the Isle. The Humphreys' condominium unit was part of a building that included two other condominium units—another upstairs unit, adjacent to the Humphreys' unit, and a downstairs unit. All units shared an attached garage.

The project initially involved performing a facelift to the Humphreys' unit but quickly changed when the Humphreys decided to purchase the second upstairs unit with the intent of converting their two units into one while expanding a bay-facing deck. This resulted in a major structural and mechanical remodel to the entire building that required building permits. Spartan obtained a building permit for the project through the City of Newport Beach after submitting plans created by a licensed architect and engineer. Spartan was listed as the contractor on the permit The following is an excerpted portion of the permit card:

In furtherance of Plaintiff's intent that Spartan was performing the work, he hung Spartan's business sign from the roof of the project:

Spartan and its employees also prepared numerous design presentations that were presented to the Humphreys, which the Humphreys either approved or disapproved. In addition to licensed subcontractors and its employees, Spartan performed all the work on the Humphreys' project. At all times during the performance of this work, Plaintiff maintained "direct supervision and control" of Spartan's construction activities by supervising construction, managing construction activities by making technical and administrative decisions, checking jobs for proper workmanship, and supervising the construction site as purportedly required under § 7068.

Over the course of the near 1.5-year project, the Humphreys and, on information and belief, Gary Humphreys' company, Humphreys and Associates, Inc., discharged the obligation to Plaintiff or Spartan in the amount of $848,000.

In or about August 2013, a dispute arose between Spartan and the Humphreys. The Humphreys refused to discharge Spartan's most recent bill for approximately $82,000 in materials and labor services provided. On or about August 28, 2013, Spartan received a

ADAM A. BEREKI

"Notice of Cessation of Labor" from the Humphreys (and/or William Bissell, their attorney, on their behalf) after the dispute emerged. The Notice was addressed to Spartan, Attn: Adam Bereki, President (not Plaintiff individually as an entity separate from Spartan). Plaintiff never individually received a similar Notice. Spartan complied with the Notice by ceasing all work, removing its tools and equipment from the property, and delivering all property in its possession belonging to the Humphreys to them and/or their assigns.

c. Procedural History in This Court and Trial

On August 21, 2015, Spartan filed suit against the Humphreys for quantum meruit and open book account, alleging it had been hired to perform custom remodel services on their Newport Beach vacation home and had not been paid approximately $82,000 in labor and materials pursuant to their agreement (Dkt. 2). On October 13, 2015, the Humphreys, represented by their attorney, William Bissell of the Law Office of William Bissell, filed a Cross-Complaint against Spartan, Plaintiff, and two bonding companies (Dkt. 17). (All future references to the Humphreys taking action in the case are, on information and belief, taken by Bissell at their direction or approval as their agent. On January 13, 2016, Defendant David Chaffee was assigned as Superior Court Judge presiding over the case (Dkt. 42).

On February 17, 2016, the Humphreys filed a Motion for Summary Judgment ("MSJ") (Dkt. 90). Their "undisputed facts" alleged they contracted with Spartan (not Plaintiff) and that Spartan (not Plaintiff) had performed the work on their project (MSJ p. ii, items 1, 6, and 7). They sought summary judgment on the grounds that Spartan allegedly failed to comply with certain requirements of the contractor licensing laws (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7000 et seq.), thus lacking standing to seek relief. Judge Chaffee denied the motion, finding the Humphreys failed to prove their right to summary judgment as a matter of law.

On January 6, 2017, approximately one month before trial, the Humphreys filed their First Amended Cross-Complaint ("FACC"), reversing their previously alleged "undisputed facts" (Dkt. 144). They now claimed they contracted with Plaintiff (not his licensed company, Spartan) and, since Plaintiff was allegedly unlicensed, they were entitled to a full refund without deductions for the value received over the near 1.5-year project. Their First-Amended First Cause of Action sought "disgorgement of funds paid" under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b) against Plaintiff, demanding return of "all sums paid," totaling $848,000, without offsets for custom remodel services valued at approximately $930,000 ($848,000 paid plus Spartan's $82,000 claim for unpaid work).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

On January 27, 2017, the Humphreys filed a Motion for Severance to isolate their First-Amended First Cause of Action for "disgorgement" from other claims (Dkt. 160). Their remaining claims included negligence and fraud, estimating damages at $537,038.55 (Dkt. 168, p. 1). Bissell's Declaration in Support of the Motion for Severance admitted the Humphreys believed a § 7031(b) claim negated the need to evidence other claims, as it nearly doubled their alleged damages, yielding a windfall (assuming validity of their claims) (Dkt. 160, Decl. p. 3, 4b). As will be further explained and evidenced, the rationale of obtaining a windfall without evidence of damages rests on an unlawful presumption in § 7028 and § 7031—that unlicensed contractors' work is valueless due to presumed incompetence or dishonesty (White v. Cridlebaugh, 178 Cal. App. 4th 506, 517 (2009)). Yet, presumptions are not evidence (Cal. Evid. Code § 600), and constitutional restrictions limit such legislative overreach (Bailey v. Alabama, 219 U.S. 219, 239 (1911); Vlandis v. Kline, 412 U.S. 441, 446-48, 452 (1973)). The CSLB had deemed Plaintiff competent as Spartan's Qualifying Individual, undermining any such presumption to be imposed at trial.

At this point in the proceedings, Judge Chaffee had a mandatory, non-discretionary duty under Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 7, 9 (due/judicial process) to assess the Humphreys' capacity and standing to pursue a § 7028/§ 7031 claim and a $930,000 fine ($848,000 plus denial of Spartan's claim for $82,000 pursuant to §7031(a)) (United States v. Shapleigh, 54 F. 126, 130 (8th Cir. 1893); Summers v. Earth Island Inst., 555 U.S. 488 (2009)). Instead, he proceeded to trial, triggering a cascade of due/judicial process violations—denying Plaintiff criminal safeguards and violating Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17's excessive fines clause.

Trial occurred on March 26-27, 2017 (Dkt. 190, 193 – Minute Orders). Spartan was represented by counsel; Plaintiff, self-represented due to financial constraints, was never informed of the proceedings' criminal nature or his right to counsel. He waived a jury trial, misled about the action's true character by the Humphreys, Bissell, and Chaffee. Plaintiff believed he was in a lawful Superior Court judicial trial (as opposed to a summary administrative tribunal) that would acknowledge and respect his rights and would not have consented had the truth been disclosed.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

The Humphreys testified they contracted with Plaintiff (not Spartan) and that he and/or Spartan were paid $848,000– a fact (payment) Plaintiff does not dispute. On March 28, 2017, Judge Chaffee issued a Minute Order (Dkt. 193, Appendix A, pp. 4-6), stating: "Having fully considered the arguments of all parties, both written and oral, as well as the evidence presented, the Court finds and determines that Mr. Adam Bereki is the contractor and he does not possess [a] contractor's license. The Court finds judgment for Cross-Complainants, Gary and Karen Humphreys (First Cause of Action for Disgorgement of Funds paid)." Chaffee also ruled against Spartan's $82,000 claim under § 7031(a), asserting Spartan lacked standing since Plaintiff was deemed the contractor. Plaintiff contends this $82,000 denial was an additional penalty, totaling the $930,000 fine, since all of Spartan's profits flowed through to him.

On March 29, 2017, the Humphreys filed a Proposed Judgment Order for "damages" of $848,000 (Dkt. 199), which Plaintiff alleges is fraudulent because: 1) they had not claimed "damages"; 2) no damages evidence was presented at trial; 3) they severed damages claims (Dkt. 160) prior to trial; 4) their cause was for "disgorgement"; and 5) Chaffee's Minute Order awarded "disgorgement," not "damages" (Dkt. 197). The proposal omitted the $82,000 under § 7031(a). On April 20, 2017, on information and belief, Chaffee signed this order unchanged (Dkt. 204, Appendix C). On April 24, 2017, the Humphreys filed a "Notice of Entry of Judgment or Order" with Bissell's proof of service. On April 26, 2017, the Clerk filed an "Abstract of Judgment – Civil and Small Claims", recorded by the Humphreys with the Orange County Clerk-Recorder on April 27, 2017 (Ex. L, pp. 52-56), creating a lien on Plaintiff's trust property under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §§ 697.310(a), 697.340(a). Bissell also filed a Notice of Judgment Lien with the California Secretary of State on April 24, 2017, for $848,929.32, which lapsed on April 28, 2022 (File No. 177582830223).

III. Arguments at Law: The Nature of Actions Under Cal. Business & Professions Codes § 7028 and § 7031(a) and (b)

California Business and Professions Code § 7031(b), as enacted and applied, is a thinly veiled criminal penalty under § 7028, not a civil remedy, stripping courts of jurisdiction and trampling due process. This case exemplifies that travesty, demanding judicial correction.

ADAM A. BEREKI

a. History and Overview of § 7031(b) Actions

In 2001, the California Legislature and Governor enacted Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b), stating: "[...] a person who utilizes the services of an unlicensed contractor may bring an action [...] to recover all compensation paid to the unlicensed contractor for performance of any act or contract." Where an unlicensed contractor receives compensation but performs no work, returning no value, a § 7031(b) judgment ordering full repayment could be remedial, akin to restitution in a bank robbery. However, when unlicensed contractors return value—as in Plaintiff's case, delivering $930,000 in remodel work—Courts refuse to deduct this value, ordering double repayment (e.g., $930,000 in work plus $930,000 cash). This exceeds § 7031(b)'s literal scope, transforming it into a penal sanction mirroring § 7028's criminal intent to punish unlicensed contracting (Cal. Penal Code § 15). This unauthorized transfer of executive power to private parties divests courts of jurisdiction and subjects judges to liability.

In such penal § 7031(b) cases, defendants are denied criminal safeguards—like counsel—and fined without offset, violating the excessive fines clause (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17). This cascade of due process failures results in a structural jurisdictional collapse, rendering judgments void (World-Wide Volkswagen Corp. v. Woodson, 444 U.S. 286, 291 (1980); County of Ventura v. Tillett, 133 Cal. App. 3d 105, 110 (1982); Frank v. Mangum, 237 U.S. 309, 327 (1915)).

b. 7031 as Enacted and Applied by Courts is Really a 7028 Criminal Prosecution in Disguise, Not a Civil Remedy

Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7028(a) declares: "it is a misdemeanor for a person to engage in the business of, or act in the capacity of, a contractor within this state [if...] [t]he person is not licensed in accordance with this chapter." § 7028(b) states: "[a] first conviction [...] is punishable by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000) or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both that fine and imprisonment." Though not in the Penal Code, § 7028 fits Cal. Penal Code § 15's definition of a "crime or public offense" by imposing imprisonment or fines upon conviction (Jahns v. Nolting, 29 Cal. 507, 512 (1866)).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

California Courts enforce § 7028 criminally, evidencing § 7031(b)'s disguised penal nature. In People v. Zepeda, 188 Cal. App. 4th 1085 (2010), a misdemeanor conviction under § 7028 was upheld, prosecuted by the district attorney via CSLB referral, emphasizing its "public offense" status (p. 1090-91). Similarly, People v. Garcia, 188 Cal. App. 4th 116 (2010), affirmed a § 7028 conviction initiated by the Attorney General, reinforcing executive prosecution under Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1 (p. 121). These cases highlight § 7028's criminal essence, mirrored by § 7031(b)'s $930,000 penalty against Plaintiff—186 times § 7028's $5,000 cap—without criminal safeguards or executive initiation, divesting jurisdiction (Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973)). The lack of notice, counsel, and jury trial violated Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 7, 9 and U.S. Const. Art. I, §10, Amend. VI and XIV, rendering the judgment void ab initio.

§ 7028 prosecutions require executive action and criminal protections, yet § 7031(b) mimics this by targeting the same act—unlicensed contracting—via private suits. To determine if § 7031(b) cloaks a § 7028 prosecution, "recover all compensation paid" (as stated in §7031(b)) must be scrutinized. If "recover all compensation paid" means a fine, § 7031(b) actions are public offenses under Penal Code § 15, requiring executive prosecution (Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1). In White v. Cridlebaugh, 178 Cal. App. 4th 506, 520-21 (2009), the Court held that unlicensed contractors must return all compensation without offsets, even if value is conferred (Lewis & Queen v. N.M. Ball Sons, 48 Cal. 2d 141, 152 (1957); Ebbert v. Mercantile Trust Co., 213 Cal. 496, 499-500 (1931)). Plaintiff contends this double repayment—$930,000 in work plus $930,000 cash—is a fine, as legislative history shows intent to punish even when contractors perform fully, unjustly enriching homeowners (Ex. B– Certified Legislative History of § 7031 (b). MW Erectors v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., Inc., 36 Cal. 4th 412, 426 (2005), and Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr. Co., Inc., 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201, 1213 (2020), label § 7031(b) a "stiff all-or-nothing penalty" to punish, not compensate (County of San Diego v. Milotz, 46 Cal. 2d 761, 766 (1956)).

Judgments under § 7031 threaten life and liberty through excessive monetary punishment, as in Plaintiff's case—forty times his qualifying net worth, forcing bankruptcy and loss of livelihood—raising serious questions about legal professionals' failure to distinguish fines from remedies. § 7031(a) punitively shields unlicensed contractors from recovering compensation, while § 7031(b) wields a punitive sword, both disguised as § 7028 actions unless no value is returned (Ex parte Clark, 24 Cal. App. 389, 395 (1914)).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

While no California case has voided a § 7031(b) judgment for lack of executive prosecution, Clark's substance-over-form test applies to state statutes (People v. Superior Court (Lafferty), 25 Cal. 3d 285, 290 (1979); People v. Superior Court (Marks), 1 Cal. 3d 834, 840 (1969)). Federal cases like United States v. Shapleigh, 54 F. 126, 129, 134 (8th Cir. 1893), Austin v. United States, 509 U.S. 602, 622 (1993), and United States v. Bajakajian, 524 U.S. 321, 334 (1998)—all civil yet government-prosecuted—reinforce this, aligning with Cal. Const. Art. V, § 13 and Cal. Penal Code § 684. § 7031(b)'s $930,000 fine required state action, not the Humphreys' private pursuit, voiding jurisdiction.

Furthermore, the punitive nature of § 7031 actions is underscored by their interplay with the CSLB's disciplinary process. A judgment under § 7031(b) can lead to administrative sanctions, such as license suspension or revocation, as occurred in this case. The CSLB's disciplinary framework has been criticized for its harshness and lack of fairness. In a 2001 article published in the Los Angeles Lawyer Magazine, authors Bruce D. Rudman and Sam K. Abdulaziz highlight how appellate decisions like Tellis v. Contractors' State License Board (79 Cal. App. 4th 153, 2000) have expanded the CSLB's ability to discipline contractors for minor violations. In Tellis, the court upheld a citation for damages amounting to just 2% of the contract price, despite the contractor's efforts to remedy the situation, illustrating the disproportionate penalties imposed by the CSLB. Similarly, in this case, Plaintiff's license was revoked without a judicial hearing, based on a civil judgment that itself was punitive and lacked due/ judicial process. The article also notes that contractors often lack the sophistication of their clients, making them vulnerable to complaints and the CSLB's one-sided process—a dynamic evident here, where Plaintiff was misled about the proceedings and denied criminal safeguards. Additionally, the limited and costly appeal options described in the article mirror the barriers the Plaintiff has faced in seeking relief, further demonstrating the constitutional deficiencies of the system.

c. Countering Claims That § 7031 Actions Are Civil

Opponents may argue § 7031(b) actions are civil due to their filing in civil Courts and lack of incarceration, unlike § 7028's misdemeanor penalties. This fails under California law

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

and constitutional principles. Ex parte Clark, 24 Cal. App. 389, 395 (1914), rejected form-over-substance claims, stating: "[a] criminal case is an action, suit, or cause instituted to punish an infraction of the criminal laws, and [...] it matters not in what form a statute may clothe it." § 7031(b) targets unlicensed contracting—a § 7028 misdemeanor—imposing penalties without offsets (White v. Cridlebaugh, 178 Cal. App. 4th 506, 520-21 (2009)). Plaintiff's $930,000 fine, exceeding harm while the Humphreys retained $930,000 in value, reveals its punitive essence (Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr. Co., Inc., 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201, 1213 (2020)). No damages evidence (Dkt. 193) and severed compensatory claims (Dkt. 160) confirm its forfeiture-like nature, requiring executive initiation (Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1). Monetary penalties alone can be criminal if excessive (County of San Diego v. Milotz, 46 Cal. 2d 761, 766 (1956)), violating Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17, and voiding the judgment for lacking due process safeguards.

d. §7031(b) Does Not Authorize a Cause of Action for, or the Equitable Remedy of, "Disgorgement"

There is no cause of action for "disgorgement." It is a remedy tied to unjust enrichment and constructive trusts, enforcing substantive rights (Sarsenstone Corp. v. Jewelinski, 2012 WL 2513469, at *12 (Cal. Ct. App. June 28, 2012) (unpublished)). § 7031(b) does not authorize "disgorgement" as claimed by the Humphreys, awarded by Chaffee, or affirmed by the Fourth District Justices. Neither the statute nor its legislative history (Ex. B) mentions "disgorgement." Judges, including in Plaintiff's case, mislabel § 7031 penalties as "disgorgement" to conceal their penal nature, despite admitting their punitive intent (MW Erectors, 36 Cal. 4th 412, 426 (2005)). Examples include: Twenty-Nine Palms v. Bardos, 210 Cal. App. 4th 1435 (2012) ($917,043.09 fine, bankruptcy); MW Erectors ($1,322,247); Banis Restaurant Design, Inc. v. Serrano, 134 Cal. App. 4th 1035 (2005) ($212,821.80); Hydrotech Systems, Ltd. v. Oasis Waterpark, 52 Cal. 3d 988 (1991) ($110,000); and White v. Cridlebaugh ($84,621.45). Federal courts follow suit (Davis Moreno Constr., Inc. v. Frontier Steel Bldgs. Corp., 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 116566 (E.D. Cal. Nov. 9, 2009)).

§ 7031(b) actions seem to be misinterpreted as stemming from Cal. Civ. Code § 3517's "no one can take advantage of his own wrong," codifying unjust enrichment. Yet, if work is competently performed, no enrichment occurs beyond profits, and none was proven here. Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71, 79-83 (2020), limits disgorgement to net gains, deducting legitimate expenses—denied in § 7031 cases like Plaintiff's, where no profit evidence exists (Dkt. 193, 204). Setoff, a defense Plaintiff raised (Dkt. 166), was ignored, turning "disgorgement" into a punitive sanction (Town of Gilbert Prosecutor's Office v. Downie, 218 Ariz. 466, 24-25 (2008)).

e. The Humphreys Were Unlawfully Awarded Monies Paid to Licensed Contractors

The Humphreys' claim and judicial decisions rested on the assertion that they contracted with Plaintiff individually, implying he performed all work (Dkt. 173, Dkt. 193, Appendix C). Yet, Plaintiff testified Spartan and its licensed subcontractors performed all work (Ex. A4-RT p. 103, L14 – p. 105, p. 141, L8), raising a novel issue assuming § 7031(b)'s validity: does § 7031 apply to an unlicensed individual hiring his licensed company, where he is the Qualifying Individual? The CSLB had deemed Plaintiff competent for Spartan's license (Lic. #927244), yet § 7031 penalized him despite this, contradicting its protective purpose (White v. Cridlebaugh, 178 Cal. App. 4th 506, 517 (2009)).

Key issues arose that were never addressed at trial or on appeal: (1) Is Plaintiff subject to § 7031(a)/(b) if he hired Spartan? (2) Can he return Spartan's payments? (3) Is he liable for subcontractor payments? Spartan's contracts with licensed subcontractors show neither Spartan nor Plaintiff performed this work. How can Plaintiff disgorge funds he never held? Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71, 82-83 (2020), and cases like Belknap v. Schild, 161 U.S. 10, 25-26 (1896), limit liability to personal gains. California law (People v. Erickson, 30 Cal. App. 5th 243, 248-249 (2018); People v. Valle, 93 Cal. App. 5th 1329, 1335-1336 (2023); People v. Chappelone, 183 Cal. App. 4th 1159, 1182-1183 (2010)) prohibits windfalls beyond loss. The Humphreys' $930,000 award, atop retained work value, defies equity (Lewis & Queen, 48 Cal. 2d 141, 152 (1957)).

Requested Declaratory Relief

Plaintiff requests findings that: (1) § 7031(a) and (b) relief here is not equitable or "disgorgement" per Liu; (2) no evidence supports a disgorgement claim; (3) no profit evidence exists; (4) no offsets were considered; and (5) Chaffee lacked subject matter jurisdiction to award "disgorgement" because the Humphreys never stated a claim for "disgorgement."

f. §7031(a) and (b) Do Not Authorize the Remedy of Damages

Chaffee's Judgment Order awarded "damages" of $848,000 (Appendix B), yet § 7031(a) and (b) do not authorize damages. Eisenberg Village, 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201, 1213 (2020), confirms § 7031(b) punishes, not compensates. California law requires proven harm (Chaparkas v. Webb, 178 Cal. App. 2d 257, 259 (1960); Page v. Bakersfield Uniform & Towel Supply Co., 239 Cal. App. 2d 762, 774 (1966); Cal. Civ. Code § 3301; Browning-Ferris Indus. v. Kelco Disposal, 492 U.S. 257, 271 (1989)). No evidence shows the Humphreys' claim or trial proved damages, making the award a misapplied penalty.

Requested Declaratory Relief

Plaintiff requests findings that: (1) § 7031(a) and (b) relief is not "damages"; (2) no damages claim was stated; (3) no damages evidence exists; (4) the Humphreys lacked standing for damages; (5) Chaffee lacked jurisdiction to award damages.

g. Judgments Under §7031(a) and (b) That Don't Allow Set Off Qualifying as Fines Under the Excessive Fines Clause of Cal. Const. Art. I, §17

§ 7028(b) caps first-offense penalties at $5,000, yet Chaffee's $930,000 fine (Dkt. 204, Appendix C)—186 times higher, without setoff for $930,000 in work—violates Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17 (People v. Cowan, 47 Cal. App. 5th 32, 44 (2020)). This punitive award, sans offsets (Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71, 82-83 (2020)), required executive action and safeguards, absent here, voiding jurisdiction (County of Ventura v. Tillett, 133 Cal. App. 3d 105, 110 (1982); World-Wide Volkswagen Corp. v. Woodson, 444 U.S. 286, 291 (1980)).

Requested Declaratory Relief

Plaintiff requests findings that: (1) § 7031(a) and (b) relief without setoff is a fine; (2) the judgment qualifies under Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17 and the Eighth Amendment; (3) the Humphreys lacked standing; (4) Chaffee lacked subject matter jurisdiction; and (5) Chaffee ignored Art. I, § 17 and Eighth Amendment protections.

h. Actions Pursuant to §7031(a) and (b) Are Penal/Criminal (Continued)

The Humphreys lacked executive authority (capacity) to prosecute under § 7031(a) and (b), as neither they nor Bissell, on information and belief, were vested with such power under Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1 (Powers v. Ashton, 45 Cal. App. 3d 783, 787 (1975)). Plaintiff is unaware of any sworn information or indictment filed by the People of the State of California (Cal. Gov't Code §100), resulting in a due/judicial process violation under Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 7, 9 and U.S. Const. Art I., §10 divesting Chaffee of subject matter jurisdiction.. "Jurisdiction of all justiciable matters can only be exercised [...] through the filing of pleadings which are sufficient to invoke the power of the court to act." Buis v. State, 1990 OK CR 28, ¶ 4 (Okla. Crim. App. 1990) (internal quotations omitted). "A person may not be punished for a crime without a formal and sufficient accusation even if he voluntarily submits to the jurisdiction of the court." Albrecht v. United States, 273 U.S. 1, 8 (1927). See also Cal. Penal Code §§ 949, 959; Thompson v. City of Louisville, 362 U.S. 199, 206 (1960) ("conviction upon a charge not made would be sheer denial of due process") (citations omitted). The absence of proper state prosecution renders the judgment void.

Conclusion

The judgment against Plaintiff is a legal nullity—void ab initio—due to extrinsic fraud, lack of subject matter jurisdiction, and a plethora of Constitutional violations. The Humphreys' unauthorized penal prosecution under § 7031(b), masked as a civil action, denied Plaintiff due/judicial process and imposed an excessive fine, divesting this Court (and later the Fourth District Court of Appeal) of authority (Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973); County of Ventura v. Tillett, 133 Cal. App. 3d 105, 110 (1982); World-Wide Volkswagen Corp. v. Woodson, 444 U.S. 286, 291 (1980)). This Court's inherent and statutory powers under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §§ 473(d) and 1916 mandate vacatur, even post-appeal (MacMillan Petroleum Corp. v. Griffin, 99 Cal. App. 2d 523, 533 (1950)). Plaintiff respectfully requests the Court grant this motion, excise this void judgment, and restore his rights through the relief sought below.

i. Additional Issues at "Trial" Depriving this Court of Subject Matter Jurisdiction- Failure to Address Defendant's Affirmative Defenses

On February 10, 2017, Spartan and Plaintiff filed their Answer to the Humphreys' First Amended First Cause of Action, asserting twenty affirmative defenses (Dkt. 166). The Fifth Affirmative Defense claimed the Humphreys' § 7031(b) action was barred by the applicable statute of limitations. Plaintiff is unaware of any evidence in the record showing Judge

ADAM A. BEREKI

POWERED BY PEANUT

Chaffee considered this defense. In 2020, the Second District Court of Appeal in Eisenberg Village etc. v. Suffolk Construction Co., Inc., 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201 (2020), held that § 7031(b) imposes a "penalty," not a compensatory remedy, and is subject to the one-year statute of limitations under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 340 (p. 1212). This post-trial ruling confirms the Humphreys' claim was time-barred, further evidencing jurisdictional defects.

The Humphreys terminated Spartan on or about August 28, 2013, via a letter addressed to Spartan, Attn: Adam Bereki, President—not Plaintiff individually. Plaintiff never believed he personally agreed to perform work on the Humphreys' project, nor did he begin or cease working there individually. Regardless, the Humphreys filed their First Amended First Cause of Action under § 7031(b) on January 6, 2017 (Dkt. 144), nearly three years after termination—well beyond the one-year limit established by Eisenberg Village, assuming they had capacity and standing to pursue such relief.

The right to present affirmative defenses is secured by due process under Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 7 and judicial process protections against bills of pains and penalties under Cal. Const. Art. I, §9 and U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10. This right imposed a mandatory, non-discretionary duty on Chaffee to make findings of fact and conclusions of law on all material issues, including the statute of limitations defense, before rendering judgment. It further obligated him to consider this defense prior to trial. Plaintiff is unaware of any record evidence that Chaffee fulfilled this duty. Even if the Humphreys had standing, their claim was time-barred and should have been dismissed. Chaffee's failure to address this defense violated Plaintiff's Constitutional rights, depriving the Humphreys of standing and the Court of subject matter jurisdiction. "A Court of [California] does not have jurisdiction to render judgment that violates the California Constitution or the Constitution for the United States." County of Ventura v. Tillett, 133 Cal. App. 3d 105, 110 (1982). Moreover, "the failure to make a finding on the affirmative defense, when supported by the evidence, may well vitiate the judgment." Duff v. Duff, 256 Cal. App. 2d 781, 786 (1967) (citation omitted). This unaddressed defense, compounded by the penal nature of § 7031(b), renders the judgment void ab initio.

j. Bills of Attainder and Pains and Penalties: A Constitutional Citadel Against Arbitrary Punishment

ADAM A. BEREKI

POWERED BY PEANUT

Plaintiff contends that because he was deprived of life, liberty, and property without judicial process that he was subject to a bill of pains and penalties.

The bill of attainder clauses in the U.S. Constitution (Article I, §§ 9 and 10) and the California Constitution (Article I, § 9) stand as ironclad ramparts against tyranny. A bill of attainder is the ruthless stripping of life, liberty, or property without the shield of judicial process. When the punishment spares life but inflicts lesser wounds, it becomes a "bill of pains and penalties," yet remains ensnared by the Constitution's sweeping ban. As the Court declared in Cummings v. Missouri, "[w]ithin the meaning of the Constitution, bills of attainder include bills of pains and penalties" (71 U.S. 277, 323 (1867)). See also Fletcher v. Peck, 10 U.S. 87, 138 (1810) ("[A] bill of attainder may affect the life of an individual, or may confiscate his property, or may do both."). These clauses aren't dusty artifacts—they are living sentinels against the arbitrary lash of power.

Historical Roots: From Royal Decrees to Constitutional Defiance

Bills of attainder sprang from English monarchy, where kings wielded them as tools of vengeance, bypassing courts to punish at will. Early examples include the 1321 attainder of Hugh le Despenser and his son, stripped of lands for supporting Edward II (Statutes of the Realm, 1 Edw. III, Stat. 2 (1327)), and the 1478 execution of George Plantagenet, Duke of Clarence, by Edward IV's decree (Rotuli Parliamentorum, Vol. VI, p. 193 (1478)). Sir Thomas More's 1535 attainder under Henry VIII for defying royal supremacy sealed its notoriety (26 Hen. VIII, c. 2). These royal edicts, often rubber-stamped by Parliament, sparked resistance—most notably the Magna Carta's 1215 demand for lawful judgment (Art. 29). America's Framers, scarred by this history and colonial echoes like Roger Williams' 1635 attainder (Records of the Governor and Company of the Massachusetts Bay, Vol. I, p. 160), forged constitutional bans to curb all governmental overreach.

The Constitutional Bastion: A Ban on All State Punishment Without Process

The U.S. Constitution's commands—"No Bill of Attainder... shall be passed" (Art. I, § 9) and "No State shall pass any Bill of Attainder" (Art. I, § 10)—and California's echo—"A bill of attainder... may not be passed" (Art. I, § 9)—aren't mere legislative handcuffs. They are sweeping prohibitions against any state-inflicted punishment without judicial process, heeding Magna Carta's cry to spare freemen from losing their "Court." The text is blunt: it binds the "State" at large, not just its lawmakers. Had the Framers aimed solely at legislatures, Article I, § 10 would've read "No State Legislature shall pass…"—but its broader sweep ensnares all branches—legislative, executive, and judicial—because all can wield tyrannical might.

ADAM A. BEREKI

The Supreme Court has chiseled this into law. Nixon v. Administrator of General Services, 433 U.S. 425 (1977), marks a bill of attainder by two traits: (1) punishment imposed, and (2) imposed without judicial trial (Id., at 468-469). No branch escapes—punishment's origin matters less than its lack of process. Neelley v. Walker, 322 F. Supp. 3d 1238 (M.D. Ala. 2018), nails this: Alabama's Act 2003-300, targeting a specific parolee, bore "the three hallmarks of a bill of attainder"—punishment, specific designation, and arbitrary deprivation without trial (Id., at 1247, citing Nixon, 433 U.S. at 538-539 (Burger, C.J., dissenting)). The ban isn't branch-specific—it's a firewall against all state caprice.

Historical voices amplify this. Madison, in Federalist No. 44, railed, "Bills of attainder… are contrary to the first principles of the social compact and to every principle of sound legislation… The sober people of America are weary of… legislative interferences… [which] become jobs in the hands of enterprising and influential speculators, and snares to the more-industrious and less informed." He saw these clauses as "constitutional bulwarks in favor of personal security and private rights," guarding against legislative vendettas—but the danger isn't unique to lawmakers. Malloy v. South Carolina, 237 U.S. 180, 183 (1915), and Kring v. Missouri, 107 U.S. 221, 229 (1883), tie the ban to restraining "arbitrary and potentially vindictive" state action, a purpose echoing Fletcher and Calder v. Bull, 3 U.S. 386, 395-396 (1798) (Paterson, J.). The ex post facto cousin, requiring retrospectivity and disadvantage (Lindsey v. Washington, 301 U.S. 397, 401 (1937)), shares this aim: keeping penal power prospective and judicial (Ogden v. Blackledge, 6 U.S. 272, 277 (1804)).

Beyond Legislatures: The Broader Threat

Pretending the Framers feared only legislative attainders is absurd—all branches can ape the king's tyranny. Executives can decree punishment—think Lincoln's habeas suspensions, rebuked in Ex parte Merryman, 17 F. Cas. 144 (C.C.D. Md. 1861) (No. 9487), for lacking judicial sanction. Judges can rubber-stamp injustice—see Korematsu v. United

ADAM A. BEREKI

States, 323 U.S. 214 (1944), where deference to internment flirted with attainder-like ruin. United States v. O'Brien, 391 F.2d 965 (5th Cir. 1968), struck an executive penalty under selective service as a bill of pains and penalties for lacking trial (Id., at 969). People v. Du Bois, 31 Ill. 2d 515, 202 N.E.2d 468 (1964), voided a state law barring Communists from office, its punitive sweep transcending legislative intent (Id., at 520). Madison's Federalist No. 47 warned, "The accumulation of all powers... in the same hands... may justly be pronounced the very definition of tyranny"—a peril blind to branch labels. Ex parte Virginia, 100 U.S. 339, 346-7 (1880) directly addresses this "We have said the prohibitions of the Fourteenth Amendment are addressed to the States. They are, 'No State shall make or enforce a law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, . . . nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.' They have reference to actions of the political body denominated a State, by whatever instruments or in whatever modes that action may be taken. A State acts by its legislative, its executive, or its judicial authorities. It can act in no other way. The constitutional provision, therefore, must mean that no agency of the State, or of the officers or agents by whom its powers are exerted, shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws. Whoever, by virtue of public position under a State government, deprives another of property, life, or liberty, without due process of law, or denies or takes away the equal protection of the laws, violates the constitutional inhibition; and as he acts in the name and for the State, and is clothed with the State's power, his act is that of the State. This must be so, or the constitutional prohibition has no meaning. Then the State has clothed one of its agents with power to annul or to evade it. But the constitutional amendment was ordained for a purpose. It was to secure equal rights to all persons, and, to insure to all persons the enjoyment of such rights [...]. Such legislation must act upon persons, not upon the abstract thing denominated a State, but upon the persons who are the agents of the State in the denial of the rights which were intended to be secured."

The Core Truth: Punishment Without Judicial Process is the Foe

Constitutions don't fuss over whether it's a lawmaker, governor, or judge wielding the whip—if it punishes without a judicial determination of rights, it's banned. The clauses, an ironclad ban on arbitrary power, demand a courtroom before punishment (the taking of life, liberty, or property) can be imposed by any government official, not a branch-specific cage. To claim otherwise defies text, history, and reason, unleashing the tyranny the Framers bled to bury.

Requested Declaratory Relief

Plaintiff requests findings that he was punished without a judicial determination of his rights, resulting in a bill of pains and penalties in violation of Cal. Const. Art. I, § 9 and U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10. He further requests the punishment – including and in conjunction with the denial of a judicial determination of his rights – be deemed excessive, cruel, and unusual under the California and U.S. Constitutions. In the alternative, he challenges the Constitutionality of the Court's interpretation of a Bill of Pains and Penalties.

k. Plaintiff's Vested Right to Act as a Qualifying Individual on a General Contractor License is Suspended Without Hearing, Resulting in Additional Punishment

"A power over a man's subsistence amounts to a power over his will."

–The Federalist No.79, A. Hamilton cited by Oil States Energy Servs. LLC. V. Greene's Energy Grp., LLC., 138 S. Ct. 1365, 1380 (2018). (Gorsuch, J dissenting).

Introduction

The automatic suspension of Plaintiff's contractor license under California Business and Professions Code § 7071.17 when he was unable to pay the Judgment exemplifies a punitive regime that starkly contrasts with the robust due/judicial process protections afforded to members of the California State Bar facing discipline. While attorneys benefit from a specialized judicial system, evidentiary hearings, and mandatory oversight by the California Supreme Court, contractors are subjected to immediate license suspension without notice, hearing, or judicial review. This disparity transforms § 7071.17 into a bill of pains and penalties, violating Cal. Const. Art. I, § 9 and U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10, and underscores the unconstitutional deprivation of Defendant's vested property right.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

I. Constructive Custody and the Creation of a Special Relationship

Plaintiff further contends that the suspension of his ability to earn a living as a general contractor constitutes "constructive custody," establishing a special relationship with the State of California. The U.S. Supreme Court has held that the Due Process Clause does not generally impose an affirmative duty on the State to protect individuals from private harm. DeShaney v. Winnebago County Dep't of Soc. Servs., 489 U.S. 189, 195-96 (1989). However, a duty arises when the State affirmatively restrains an individual's liberty, rendering them unable to care for themselves. Id. at 200. In the Ninth Circuit, this "special relationship" exception applies when the State places an individual in a custodial or quasi-custodial position. See Patel v. Kent Sch. Dist., 648 F.3d 965, 972 (9th Cir. 2011) (recognizing duty when State restricts liberty, such as in prisons or schools). Plaintiff argues that the suspension (along with the continued denial of relief in any branch of California or United States government, infra) effectively imprisoned him economically by barring his livelihood as a general contractor. Under California law, the State's regulatory authority over professions (e.g., contractor licensing under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7000 et seq.) further supports the claim that this suspension created a dependency relationship, obligating the State to mitigate resulting harm.

II. State-Created Danger Doctrine

Plaintiff also invokes the "state-created danger" exception, well-established in the Ninth Circuit and rooted in DeShaney. This doctrine imposes liability when the State affirmatively acts to place an individual in a worse position than they would have been absent state intervention. See Kennedy v. City of Ridgefield, 439 F.3d 1055, 1061 (9th Cir. 2006). To succeed, Plaintiff must show: (1) an affirmative state action created or increased a foreseeable danger; (2) the action caused harm; and (3) the State acted with deliberate indifference to a known or obvious risk. Id.; see also L.W. v. Grubbs, 974 F.2d 119, 121 (9th Cir. 1992) (state-created danger where State exposed plaintiff to harm it otherwise would not have faced). Here, the suspension—an affirmative act under California's regulatory framework—allegedly foreseeably stripped Plaintiff of his economic viability as a general, exposing him to ruin. The Ninth Circuit has emphasized that deliberate indifference requires a showing that state actors disregarded a substantial risk of harm. See Johnson v. City of Seattle, 474 F.3d 634, 641 (9th Cir. 2007). Plaintiff asserts that the State's suspension, without regard for his resulting vulnerability and repeated denial of relief in any branch of State or Federal government, meets this threshold.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

III. Application to Plaintiff's Claim

Under Ninth Circuit precedent, the suspension's restriction on Plaintiff's livelihood arguably constitutes constructive custody, triggering a special relationship akin to Henry A. v. Willden, 678 F.3d 991, 998 (9th Cir. 2012) (duty where State affirmatively limits individual autonomy). Simultaneously, the state-created danger doctrine applies, as the suspension foreseeably endangered Plaintiff's economic survival—an outcome California courts recognize as actionable when tied to state action. See Lugtu v. California Highway Patrol, 26 Cal. 4th 703, 717 (2001) (state liability for affirmative acts increasing risk). Even absent a prior duty, the State's intervention via suspension altered Plaintiff's circumstances, imposing a constitutional obligation under DeShaney's exceptions. See also Murguia v. Langdon, 61 F.4th 1096, 1110 (9th Cir. 2023) (reaffirming state-created danger in the Ninth Circuit).

IV. Attorney Discipline: A Framework of Procedural Safeguards

California's attorney discipline system is a model of due process, designed to protect a lawyer's license—a recognized property interest—from arbitrary deprivation. Governed by California Business and Professions Code §§ 6078, 6097.1, and 6086.65, the process includes:

- State Bar Court Structure: The State Bar Court, a specialized tribunal within the State Bar of California, handles all attorney discipline matters. It comprises hearing judges at the trial level and a Review Department with three-judge panels for appeals. This full-time court ensures that disciplinary proceedings are adjudicated by professionals trained in legal ethics and procedure, offering a level of expertise absent in contractor discipline.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

- Procedural Protections: Attorneys facing discipline are entitled to a full evidentiary hearing where the State Bar must prove misconduct by clear and convincing evidence—a heightened standard reflecting the gravity of license revocation (Conservatorship of Wendland, 26 Cal. 4th 519, 552 (2001)). Attorneys can present evidence, call and cross-examine witnesses, and are often represented by counsel. Adverse decisions are appealable to the Review Department and, ultimately, to the California Supreme Court, which serves as the final arbiter (In re Rose, 22 Cal. 4th 430, 438 (2000)).
- Mandatory Supreme Court Oversight: Unlike most administrative actions, attorney discipline recommendations must be reviewed by the California Supreme Court if requested (Cal. Rules of Court, Rule 9.13). This mandatory judicial oversight ensures that any suspension or disbarment withstands the highest level of scrutiny, safeguarding the attorney's vested right to practice law—a right affirmed as constitutionally protected (Trutanich v. State Bar, 68 Cal. 2d 474, 479 (1968)).

This multi-tiered system reflects California's recognition that an attorney's license is a fundamental property interest, deserving of rigorous procedural protections before deprivation.

V. Contractor Discipline: Punishment Without Process

In contrast, contractors like Plaintiff face a disciplinary process under § 7071.17 that lacks equivalent safeguards, imposing immediate and severe punishment without judicial or administrative review:

- Automatic Suspension Mechanism: Section 7071.17 mandates the automatic suspension of a contractor's license if a judgment remains unpaid after 90 days, absent a bond equal to the judgment amount (§ 7071.17(a), (b)(1)). On July 19, 2017, 90 days after the unlawful $848,000 judgment, Plaintiff's license (#927244) was suspended without a hearing, despite the judgment's invalidity due to lack of jurisdiction and extrinsic fraud. This automatic trigger bypasses any opportunity to contest the judgment's legitimacy or present defenses. (No known document exists for this suspension despite its legislative mandate).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

- Absence of a Specialized Tribunal: Unlike attorneys, contractors have no access to a dedicated court like the State Bar Court. The Contractors State License Board (CSLB) oversees discipline administratively, and while contractors may request a hearing before an administrative law judge in some cases, in this one, § 7071.17 suspensions occur without such an option. The lack of a specialized adjudicative body deprives contractors of the impartial, expert review afforded to attorneys.
- No Mandatory Judicial Review: Contractors have no right to mandatory review by the California Supreme Court. Their only recourse is a writ of administrative mandate under Code of Civil Procedure § 1094.5, a limited remedy that reviews agency actions under a deferential standard (Bixby v. Pierno, 4 Cal. 3d 130, 144 (1971)). This contrasts sharply with the attorney discipline process, leaving contractors vulnerable to erroneous or unjust suspensions, as occurred here.
- Immediate and Devastating Impact: The suspension obliterated Plaintiff's livelihood, costing an estimated harm $1 million in lost earnings, without notice or an opportunity to be heard—core elements of due/judicial process (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950); Cal. Const. Art I. §§ 7, 9; U.S. Const. Art. I, §10). This punitive outcome, triggered by a void judgment, underscores the statute's lack of procedural fairness.

VI. Bill of Pains and Penalties: Contractors Targeted, Attorneys Spared

The automatic nature of § 7071.17 constitutes a bill of pains and penalties, inflicting legislative punishment without judicial trial, in violation of Constitutional prohibitions (Cummings v. Missouri, 71 U.S. 277, 323 (1867)). Unlike attorneys, whose discipline follows a judicially supervised process, contractors face a predetermined penalty—license suspension—based solely on nonpayment, regardless of the judgment's validity. This legislative fiat mirrors the forfeiture condemned in Cummings and stands in stark contrast to the attorney discipline system, where punishment requires proof of misconduct and multiple layers of review. For Defendant, the suspension was not a regulatory measure for public safety (Hough v. McCarthy, 54 Cal. 2d 273, 283 (1960)), but a punitive act amplifying the excessiveness of a void judgment (Schomig v. Keiser, 189 Cal. 596, 598 (1922)).

VII. Constitutional Implications of the Disparity

The disparity between these systems is not merely inequitable—it is unconstitutional. Plaintiff's vested right to act as a Qualifying Individual, secured since 2008, was a fundamental property interest entitled to due process (Ettinger v. Board of Medical Quality Assurance, 135 Cal. App. 3d 853, 856 (1982)). Yet, § 7071.17 denied him notice, a hearing, or any chance to challenge the suspension, violating Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 7, 9 and U.S. Const. Art. I, §10, and the Fourteenth Amendment. The CSLB's enforcement of a void judgment lacked lawful authority (County of Ventura v. Tillett, 133 Cal. App. 3d 105, 110 (1982)), rendering the suspension a nullity. Moreover, the excessive punishment—destroying Plaintiff's livelihood over an unpayable $930,000 judgment—constitutes cruel and unusual punishment under Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17 and the Eighth Amendment. Attorneys, cloaked in procedural protections, are spared such arbitrary and disproportionate sanctions.

Conclusion

As recognized by a former Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, "by taking away his opportunity to earn a living, you can drain the blood from his veins without even scratching his skin." Flemming v. Nestor, 363 U.S. 603, 629 (1960) (Douglas, J. dissenting) (citation omitted.)

California's treatment of contractors under § 7071.17 exposes a two-tiered system where attorneys enjoy substantive due/judicial process while contractors are punished without recourse. The State Bar Court, with its trial and appellate structure and Supreme Court oversight, ensures attorneys face discipline only after a fair hearing—protections wholly absent for contractors. For Plaintiff, the automatic suspension of his license was a legislative penalty devoid of process, amplifying the injustice of a void judgment. This Court must recognize this disparity as a Constitutional violation, declare it unconstitutional, and restore Plaintiff's rights and property lost as result, affirming that no licensee—contractor or attorney—should suffer punishment without due process.

I. The California Legislature and Ultimately Defendant Chaffee, Was Without Authority to Convert Plaintiff's Inalienable Rights into A Revocable Privilege and Declare His Exercise of That Right Illegal Unless He First Obtained a License and Paid A Recurring Fee

"The sacred rights of mankind are not to be rummaged for, among old parchments, or musty records. They are written, as with a sun beam in the whole volume of human nature, by the hand of the divinity itself; and can never be erased or obscured by mortal power."
– Alexander Hamilton, 1775

Article I, Section 1 of the California Constitution declares that: "All people are by nature free and independent and have inalienable rights. Among these are enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing, and protecting property, and pursuing and obtaining safety, happiness, and privacy."

Plaintiff contends that each of these inalienable rights was violated by the Legislature of California upon the enactment of Business and Professions Code § 7028 and by Judge David Chaffee (and later the Fourth District Justices) through his/their enforcement of §§ 7028, 7031 and 7071.17 against Plaintiff, transforming his inherent right to labor into a state-controlled privilege without Constitutional authority.

I. Historical Liberty: A Right, Not a Privilege

"Private property creates for the individual a sphere in which he is free of the state. It sets limits to the operation of authoritarian will..."
– Ludwig von Mises

Based on Plaintiff's research thus far, from California's admission as a state in 1850 until 1929—a span of 79 years—it was lawful for any individual to perform construction work without first obtaining a license or paying a recurring fee. This freedom was not a mere convenience but a recognized absolute right to private contract and to receive compensation for one's time and labor in an ordinary vocation of life, such as Plaintiff's work as a general contractor. This right finds its roots in the organic founding documents and principles of the United States, including the Declaration of Independence, natural law, English and American common law (upon which California's legal system was built, People v. Woody, 61 Cal. 2d 716, 723 (1964)), Article I, § 1 of the California Constitution, Article I, § 10 of the U.S. Constitution, and the Ninth Amendment. Sir Edward Coke, a foundational figure in common law, affirmed this liberty in The Case of Monopolies (1602), declaring that monopolies restricting trade were "against the common law, and the benefit and liberty of the subject" (Sandefur, "The Right to Earn a Living," 6 Chap. L. Rev. 207, 211 (2003)). Similarly, the Northwest Ordinance of 1787 protected this right: "No man shall be deprived of his liberty or property, but by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land" (Art. II).

ADAM A. BEREKI

POWERED BY PEANUT

In natural and constitutional law, these rights were inherent in the people, antecedent to government formation, and explicitly enshrined in California's Bill of Rights as "inalienable"—meaning they cannot be legally or justly alienated or transferred (Webster's Dictionary 1828, "inalienable"). As the U.S. Supreme Court held in Board of Education v. Barnette, 319 U.S. 624, 638 (1943), "[t]he very purpose of a Bill of Rights was to withdraw certain subjects from the vicissitudes of political controversy, to place them beyond the reach of majorities and officials and to establish them as legal principles to be applied by the courts." Plaintiff's right to labor, recognized in Meyer v. Nebraska, 262 U.S. 390, 399 (1923), as the "liberty... to engage in any of the common occupations of life," was among these inviolable freedoms, not subject to legislative whim or majority vote.

II. The 1929 Usurpation: A Legislative Coup

In 1929, the California Legislature, acting without a lawful representative quorum (to be addressed in Amended Complaint) or the consent of the governed, arbitrarily declared that the people no longer possessed an inalienable right to their time and labor when acting as contractors. Henceforth, they were required to obtain a license and pay recurring fees to earn a living, a mandate enforced under § 7028. This act purported to sweep away the fundamental rights to life, liberty, property, privacy, and the pursuit of happiness for millions of Californians, including Plaintiff's predecessors, through the fiat of fewer than 120 politicians wielding legislative and executive power under color of law. Billings v. Hall, 7 Cal. 1, 10 (1857), rebuked such overreach: "It [legislative power] cannot be converted into such an unlimited power, as to defeat the end which mankind had in view, when they entered into the social compact."

The Legislature justified the contractor licensing laws under the guise of "protecting the public," asserting a fiction that anyone engaged in contracting was "incompetent and dishonest" unless licensed (Hydrotech Sys., Ltd. v. Oasis Waterpark, 52 Cal. 3d 988, 995 (1991)). Yet, the state lacks authority to presume incompetence or deprive individuals of rights without a prior judicial determination (Randone v. Appellate Dep't, 5 Cal. 3d 536, 550 (1971): "Due process forbids the state from depriving a person of property without a prior judicial determination..."). This legislative coup, decades later, transformed Plaintiff's inherent liberty into a privilege, a move Sandefur critiques as contrary to "ancient and fundamental laws" (Sandefur at 216), echoing Coke's warning that "a monopolist that taketh away a man's trade, taketh away his life."

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

III. Licenses: Feudal Chains, Not Rights

A license, as defined by Blackstone, is "a royal prerogative, or branch of the king's prerogative, subsisting in the hands of a subject" (State v. Scougal, 3 S.D. 55, 62 (1892), citing 2 Bl. Comm. 37). Plaintiff, as a free citizen in whom California's sovereignty resides (Cal. Gov. Code § 100), is not a subject beholden to such feudal constraints. Licensing fees hark back to a time when people "were obliged to live on their lord's land and give him homage, labor, and a share of the produce" (Webster's Dictionary 1828, "Feudal"), a system antithetical to America's founding. The U.S. Supreme Court in Hale v. Henkel, 201 U.S. 43, 74 (1906), affirmed: "[t]he individual... is entitled to carry on his private business in his own way. His power to contract is unlimited. He owes no duty to the State..." Allgeyer v. Louisiana, 165 U.S. 578, 589 (1897), struck down a licensing law as an "interference with the liberty of the individual," reinforcing Plaintiff's claim that § 7028 imposes an unconstitutional burden.

The Supreme Court further clarified in License Tax Cases, 72 U.S. 462, 471 (1866), that a license is "nothing more than a mere form of imposing a tax," implying no rights beyond compliance. Plaintiff asserts that Article I, § 1 admits no exceptions to inalienable rights, and no "police power" exists in any Constitution to summarily convert such rights into privileges through legislative vote, even under the pretext of public safety (Barnette, 319 U.S. at 638).

IV. Chaffee's Enforcement: Judicial Overreach

Judge Chaffee compounded this usurpation by enforcing §§ 7031(b) and ultimately 7071.17 against Plaintiff, upholding a $930,000 penalty and license suspension without due/judicial process. Lacking executive authority under Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1, Chaffee permitted private citizens—the Humphreys—to wield penal power reserved for the state

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

(Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973)), rendering his judgment void (County of Ventura v. Tillett, 133 Cal. App. 3d 105, 110 (1982)). Judge James Ho, in Golden Glow Tanning Salon, Inc. v. City of Columbus, 52 F.4th 974, 980-81 (5th Cir. 2022) (concurring), questioned why the right to earn a living, "deeply rooted in our Nation's history," isn't recognized as fundamental, suggesting Plaintiff's labor right merits protection beyond rational basis scrutiny.

V. Constitutional Violations and Plaintiff's Harm

This legislative and judicial overreach violated Plaintiff's rights under Cal. Const. Art. I, § 1 (all rights listed), U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10 (contract impairment, Dartmouth College v. Woodward, 17 U.S. 518, 643 (1819)), and due/ judicial process (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950)). It constitutes a bill of pains and penalties, punishing Plaintiff without trial (Cummings v. Missouri, 71 U.S. 277, 323 (1867)). Clint Bolick's Right to Earn a Living Act proposes that such restrictions be "demonstrably necessary and carefully tailored" (Bolick at 4), a standard § 7031's excessive penalty fails. Plaintiff suffered a $930,000 fine, $1 million in lost earnings (est.), and home foreclosure—harms Sandefur likens to a deprivation of life itself (Sandefur at 216).

m. Unconstitutional Presumption of Incompetence and Harm Despite CSLB Determination

A. Introduction

Plaintiff asserts that the Judgment against him rests on a fundamental contradiction: the Contractors State License Board (CSLB), the state agency tasked with evaluating contractor competence, determined on or about October 15, 2008, that he met the requirements to serve as the Qualifying Individual for general contractor license #927244, held by him and his company, The Spartan Associates, Inc. Yet, the Court, at the urging of the Humphreys and Bissell, presumed him incompetent and harmful solely because he did not hold a license in his own name—despite his work being performed through a licensed entity (Spartan) and no evidence of actual harm. This presumption of incompetence and harm, imposed under California Business and Professions Code § 7031(a) and (b), conflicts with the CSLB's affirmative finding, violates common law principles requiring proof of harm, and denies Plaintiff due/ judicial process and his inalienable rights under the California

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

Constitution. The resulting $930,000 penalty exemplifies this injustice, rendering the judgment void for lack of jurisdiction and extrinsic fraud. (These arguments, while focused on the Judgment at trial after the CSLB had determined Plaintiff 'competent' are also intended to apply to challenge the Legislature's authority to require Plaintiff to submit to a competency examination/ obtain a license to begin with).

B. CSLB Determination of Competence

The CSLB, vested with authority under California Business and Professions Code § 7000 et seq. to regulate contractors and protect public welfare, determined that Plaintiff satisfied the stringent experience, knowledge, and skill requirements to act as the Qualifying Individual for license #927244 (see Motion to Vacate, "Factual Background and Arguments at Law: Plaintiff Qualifies for a General Contractor License). As defined by § 7068.1(a), a Qualifying Individual is responsible for "exercising supervision and control" over construction operations to ensure compliance with CSLB standards—a role Plaintiff fulfilled for The Spartan Associates, Inc. This determination was not provisional; it was a formal recognition of Plaintiff's competence, affirmed by the state agency charged with safeguarding the public from unqualified contractors (Hydrotech Sys., Ltd. v. Oasis Waterpark, 52 Cal. 3d 988, 995 (1991)). The CSLB's finding carries significant weight, as it reflects a rigorous evaluation process designed to distinguish competent practitioners from those unfit to serve (Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7068).

C. Judgment's Presumption of Incompetence

Despite this, the Judgment (Dkt. 204) branded Plaintiff as an unlicensed contractor under § 7031(b), presuming him incompetent and liable for disgorgement of $848,000—plus an additional $82,000 penalty via § 7031(a)—simply because he did not hold a license in his own name. The Minute Order (Dkt. 193) states: "the Court finds and determines that Mr. Adam Bereki is the contractor and he does not possess [a] contractor's license," ignoring that Plaintiff's work was performed through Spartan, a licensed entity he qualified and controlled. This ruling disregarded the CSLB's determination, implying that the absence of a personal license negated Plaintiff's proven competence. The contradiction is stark: the state affirmed Plaintiff's ability to perform as a general contractor, yet the court deemed him

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

incompetent based solely on a technicality—the name on the license—without evidence of substandard work or harm to the Humphreys.

D. Presumption of Harm Violates Common Law Principles

This presumption extends beyond incompetence to assume harm, a leap unsupported by evidence and antithetical to common law. Common law requires proof of actual harm to justify legal remedies, not mere speculation or statutory fiat (Chaparkas v. Webb, 178 Cal. App. 2d 257, 259 (1960) ("There can be no recovery for tort where no damage is shown"); Page v. Bakersfield Uniform & Towel Supply Co., 239 Cal. App. 2d 762, 774 (1966)). In People v. Rocha, 3 Cal. 3d 893, 899 (1971), the California Supreme Court held that even in criminal battery, "the prosecution must prove that the defendant caused some harm to the victim." Here, the Humphreys presented no evidence of deficient work or loss from Plaintiff's services—indeed, they retained a remodeled condominium valued allegedly at $930,000. The judgment's $930,000 award thus rests on a presumption that Plaintiff's unlicensed status inherently harmed them, even if his work was flawless. This inverts common law's burden, punishing perfection absent proof of injury, a doctrine alien to justice and truth.

E. Due/ Judicial Process Violation

The presumption of incompetence and harm also breaches due/ judicial process under Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 7, 9 and U.S. Const. Art. I, §10, and the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments. By deeming Plaintiff unfit despite the CSLB's contrary finding, the court shifted the burden to him to disprove harm—a task made impossible by the irrebuttable nature of § 7031(b)'s penalty, which allows no offset for value conferred (White v. Cridlebaugh, 178 Cal. App. 4th 506, 520-21 (2009)). Due/judicial process demands a fair hearing where the accuser proves their case (M*ullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co.*, 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950)), not a summary penalty based on status. The U.S. Supreme Court in Vlandis v. Kline, 412 U.S. 441, 446-48 (1973), struck down irrebuttable presumptions that deny individuals a chance to contest underlying facts, as occurred here. Plaintiff was barred from introducing evidence of his competence or the quality of his work, rendering the proceeding fundamentally unfair and jurisdictionally defective (World-Wide Volkswagen Corp. v. Woodson, 444 U.S. 286, 291 (1980)).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

F. Infringement of Inalienable Rights

This presumption further violates Plaintiff's inalienable rights under Cal. Const. Art. I, § 1, including the right to "pursuing and obtaining safety, happiness, and privacy" through his livelihood. The CSLB's recognition of his competence affirmed his capacity to exercise this right, yet the Judgment nullified it by presuming incompetence without a license in his own name—effectively converting a fundamental right into a revocable privilege. The U.S. Supreme Court in Meyer v. Nebraska, 262 U.S. 390, 399 (1923), enshrined the "liberty... to engage in any of the common occupations of life" as constitutionally protected. By punishing Plaintiff despite his proven ability and absent harm, the Court and § 7031(b) trample this liberty, echoing the feudal licenses Plaintiff decries as antithetical to a free society (Motion to Vacate, "Licenses: Feudal Chains, Not Rights").

Conclusion

The Court's judgment relies on a legislative presumption that individuals are incompetent and cause harm, which conflicts with Article I, Section 1 of the California Constitution. This section states that "All people are by nature free and independent and have inalienable rights," including the rights to enjoy and defend life and liberty, acquire and protect property, and pursue safety, happiness, and privacy. Similarly, the Contractors State License Board (CSLB) determined that the Plaintiff met the requirements to be a general contractor, contradicting the judgment's assumptions. These inconsistencies, combined with the lack of evidence showing harm, reveal that the entire licensing system infringes on inalienable rights and the right to a judicial determination of rights. Furthermore, the application of Section 7031(b) acts as an excessive punishment disguised as fairness, contradicting common law's requirement of proven injury and due process's demand for justice.

This ruling undermines Plaintiff's fundamental rights to life, liberty, property, privacy, safety, and the pursuit of happiness by imposing a $930,000 penalty and suspending his license—punishing him for exercising a freedom the Magna Carta of 1215, Declaration of Independence, natural law and the California Constitution recognize. The Court must overturn this judgment, acknowledging that such assumptions—unsupported by evidence

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

and contradicting the rights secured by the California Constitution—cannot be upheld under the law or principles of justice.

n. Appellate Procedural History Arguments at Law

A. Background

On June 13, 2017, Plaintiff filed a timely Notice of Appeal (Dkt. 234), challenging the trial court's judgment before Defendant Justices Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, and Kathleen O'Leary of the California Fourth District Court of Appeal, Division 3 (Case No. G055075). Plaintiff contested the trial court's subject-matter jurisdiction and argued that the $848,000 disgorgement under Business & Professions Code §7031(b) constituted a penal sanction, not an equitable remedy. Citing Town of Gilbert Prosecutor's Office v. Downie, 218 Ariz. 466 (2008), he asserted that equity requires crediting the near-million-dollar value of the custom remodel delivered to the Humphreys (G055075, Appellant's Opening Brief on Appeal, pp. 41-47). In a unanimous opinion authored by Justice Aronson, with Goethals and O'Leary concurring, the appellate Court dismissed all his contentions as "without merit" (Appendix C, p. 2). See also Opinion page 6, stating "Bereki contends the disgorgement remedy is penal in nature and, therefore, a contractor defending against such a claim must be afforded all criminal rights and protections. Not so". The Court affirmed this Court's ruling, declaring, "Full disgorgement is required; offsets and reductions for labor and materials received are not permitted". Plaintiff's subsequent Petition for Rehearing, filed November 13, 2018, argued, "[t]his Court erroneously ruled disgorgement is not a 'punishment' contrary to U.S. Supreme Court jurisprudence" (citing Kokesh v. SEC), was summarily denied by Aronson and Goethals on November 20, 2018 (G055075).

B. Plaintiff is Denied a Full, Fair, Impartial, and Independent Appeal

The appellate decision falters in three critical respects, undermining its legal foundation, contradicting equitable principles, and exposing a failure to engage meaningfully with Plaintiff's arguments:

i. Mischaracterization of Section 7031(b) as Equitable

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

The court labeled §7031(b)'s remedy "an equitable remedy" (Appendix C, p. 6), relying on a superficial cut-and-paste from Justice O'Leary's earlier opinion in Rambeau v Baker, 2010 WL 2796873, at *6, which cited S.E.C. v. Huffman, 996 F.2d 800, 802 (5th Cir. 1993), and U.S. v. Philip Morris USA, 310 F.Supp.2d 62-63. These cases, both in Rambeau and Plaintiffs' are inapposite: Huffman addressed disgorgement as a "debt" under federal tax law, not a state contractor statute, while Philip Morris limited disgorgement to "property causally related to the wrongdoing" with profit apportionment—steps the Humphreys and the Court ignored. Section 7031(b) itself authorizes recovery of "all compensation paid" without mentioning "disgorgement," and its punitive intent—to deter unlicensed contracting—is evident in its legislative history and judicial gloss (Humphreys v. Bereki, 2018 WL 5639287, at *6 ("decrease the likelihood of harm"); White v. Cridlebaugh, 178 Cal.App.4th 506, 519 (2009) ("stiff all-or-nothing penalty")). The Justices' cursory citation to irrelevant cases sidestepped the required analysis, denying Plaintiff a substantive hearing on the remedy's punitive nature that he directly raised.

ii. Failure to Credit Value Delivered

The Court's refusal to offset the $848,000 by the remodel's value—delivered by Plaintiff and/or Spartan Associates—defies equitable logic and grants the Humphreys a windfall (Humphreys v. Bereki, 2018 WL 5639287, at *5 ("courts have uniformly rejected" offset arguments)). The Humphreys retained remodel work worth nearly $1 million, yet the Court demanded full repayment, contradicting Downie and the laws of unjust enrichment's principles of crediting value returned (218 Ariz. at 466), This outcome aligns with Lewis & Queen v. N.M. Ball Sons, 48 Cal.2d 141, 152 (1957), and MW Erectors, Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., Inc., 36 Cal.4th 412 (2005), which label §7031(b) a penalty, not a restorative measure. By admitting the statute's "harsh and unfair results" (Rambeau, 2010 WL 2796873, at *6; echoed in Humphreys, at *6) yet washing their hands of it—blaming the Legislature rather than exercising judicial oversight—the panel evaded their duty to ensure equity, leaving Plaintiff unheard on this core inequity that he directly raised.

iii. Inconsistency with Justices' Prior Rulings

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

The Justices' own precedents demand precision in equitable remedies, yet they abandoned these standards here, producing a ruling that reads more like a rubber stamp than a reasoned decision:

- Justice Aronson: In County of San Bernardino v. Cohen, 242 Cal. App.4th 803 (2015), he required a detailed unjust enrichment analysis for disgorgement, focusing on net gain (Liu's hallmark). In Prakashpalan v. Engstrom, Lipscomb & Lack, 212 Cal. App.4th 1105 (2014), he limited relief to excess fees, not total payments. In Peterson v. Cellco Partnership, 166 Cal.App.4th 1583, 1593 (2008), he held restitution inapplicable where the plaintiff received expected value—here, the Humphreys' remodel. No evidence was presented Plaintiff retained an unjust gain, yet Aronson ignored this precedent.
- Justice O'Leary: In Meister v. Mensinger, 230 Cal.App.4th 381 (2014), she rejected disgorgement absent unjust enrichment or harm—neither present here. In Hartford Casualty Ins. Co. v. J.R. Marketing, L.L.C., 158 Cal.Rptr.3d 41 (2010) (affirmed in part), she tailored relief to specific unjust gains, not blanket recovery, yet joined Humphreys's all-or-nothing approach.
- Justice Goethals: In Mojave Pistachios, LLC v. Superior Court, 99 Cal.App.5th 1011 (2024), he denied disgorgement without direct benefit, and in American Building Innovations v. Balfour Beatty Construction, 104 Cal.App.5th 256 (2024), he barred it where a contract delivered value—both applicable here, yet disregarded.

The inconsistencies with their prior rulings and well-established principles of law by all three Justices, paired with their reliance on misapplied citations, reflects an egregious lack of engagement with Plaintiff's arguments that were right on point and consistent with principals of law and equity. Equity abhors forfeiture (Tufeld Corp. v. Beverly Hills Gateway, L.P., 86 Cal.App.5th 12, 32-33 (2022)), yet the panel inflicted one, admitting §7031(b)'s harshness while shirking their constitutional role as a check on such outcomes. The Justices offered no full, fair, or impartial hearing—just a perfunctory affirmance. Plaintiff's Petition for Rehearing, invoking Kokesh v. SEC to argue disgorgement's punitive character, went unanswered beyond a summary denial, cementing the denial of due process.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

iv. Lack of Subject Matter Jurisdiction to Affirm

The appellate Court lacked subject matter jurisdiction to affirm the Judgment due to the pervasive Constitutional violations that stripped both the trial and appellate Courts of legitimate authority. By mischaracterizing §7031(b) as equitable, refusing to credit value delivered, and contradicting their own precedents—all while failing to afford Plaintiff a meaningful hearing—the panel ratified Judge Chaffee's egregious due/judicial process breaches, including the imposition of a punitive sanction without evidentiary support or procedural safeguards. Under County of Ventura v. Tillett, 133 Cal.App.3d 105, 110-11 (1982), a Court loses jurisdiction when it acts in violation of the California or United States Constitutions, as occurred here with the forfeiture masquerading as disgorgement and the denial of a fair hearing. Similarly, Steel Co. v. Citizens for a Better Environment, 523 U.S. 83, 94 (1998), mandates that Courts lack authority to rule on the merits absent jurisdiction grounded in a justiciable case—here, undermined by the Humphreys' unproven claim and the Court's acquiescence to statutory overreach. By affirming, the Justices did not merely err; they endorsed and perpetuated the structural jurisdictional errors by Chaffee, rendering their decision another bill of pains and penalties and void ab initio.

o. The Fraud of Judicial Process at "Trial" and "Appeal"

Plaintiff's trial and appeal were not genuine judicial proceedings but a fraudulent process enforcing a legislative rule. At trial, Judge David Chaffee did not adjudicate the dispute's merits, instead imposing a $930,000 penalty under California Business & Professions Code §7031(b) based solely on Plaintiff's unlicensed status. When challenged, Chaffee stated, "The Supreme Court ... found that the contractor's license law is draconian in its effect, but that's the intent of the Legislature" (Ex. A4- Reporter's Transcript, p. 29), deferring to the statute without review. On appeal, the Fourth District Court of Appeal Justices affirmed, refusing to assess constitutional limits, echoing Rambeau v. Barker: "As a judicial body, we are not permitted to second-guess [the Legislature's] policy choices" (2010 WL 2796873, at *6). Both courts acted as administrative enforcers (Cal. Const. Art. 3, § 3.5), not Judges, denying Plaintiff a true judicial process.

p. Extrinsic Fraud & Fraud on the Court

Plaintiff asserts that the Judgment entered against him must be vacated due to extrinsic fraud and fraud on the court committed by Defendants Karen Humphreys, Gary Humphreys, their attorney William Bissell, Judge David Chaffee, and Appellate Justices Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, and Kathleen O'Leary. These actions deprived Plaintiff of a fair adversary hearing, corrupted the judicial process, and resulted in structural jurisdictional errors rendering the judgment void ab initio. Plaintiff has plead all facts with particularity, demonstrating both the fraudulent conduct and a meritorious defense, as required under California law (Huron Coll. v. Yetter, 78 Cal. App. 2d 145, 150 (1947)).

A. Legal Standards

1. Extrinsic Fraud. Under California law, extrinsic fraud is a broad concept encompassing "almost any set of extrinsic circumstances which deprive a party of a fair adversary hearing" (Estate of Sanders, 40 Cal. 3d 607, 614 (1985)). It occurs when a party is kept ignorant of the true nature of the proceedings or fraudulently prevented from fully participating, other than by their own negligence (Estate of McGuigan, 83 Cal. App. 4th 639, 649-50 (2000)). Examples include concealment of material facts, failure to provide proper notice, or misrepresenting the nature of the action (City and County of San Francisco v. Cartagena, 35 Cal. App. 4th 1061, 1067 (1995)). Relief from a judgment procured by extrinsic fraud is an equitable remedy, requiring the judgment to be set aside (Kulchar v. Kulchar, 1 Cal. 3d 467, 471 (1969)).

2. Fraud on the Court. Fraud on the court involves conduct that undermines the integrity of the judicial process, such as presenting a false claim or deceiving the court about the nature of the proceedings (Clark v. Clark, 64 Cal. App. 2d 323, 329 (1944)). When established, it renders the judgment void and mandates vacatur (Caldwell v. Taylor, 218 Cal. 471, 476 (1933)). This includes willful misrepresentations by parties, their counsel, or judicial officers that mislead the court into acting without lawful authority.

B. Extrinsic Fraud by the Humphreys, Bissell, Judge Chaffee, and the Appellate Justices

The Humphreys and Bissell, along with Judge David Chaffee and Appellate Justices Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, and Kathleen O'Leary, perpetrated extrinsic fraud by willfully and recklessly initiating, prosecuting, adjudicating, and/or affirming a claim they knew or reasonably should have known lacked lawful authority. The specific acts are as follows:

1. Misrepresentation and Concealment by the Humphreys and Bissell. The Humphreys, with Bissell's connivance, filed a claim under California Business and Professions Code § 7031(b) for disgorgement (unauthorized by §7031(b)), presenting it as a civil action. In reality, this was a covert criminal prosecution for alleged unlicensed contracting, requiring executive authority they did not possess under California Constitution Article V, § 1. They concealed the true nature and cause of the accusation, preventing Plaintiff from challenging jurisdiction and/or invoking criminal procedural safeguards—such as the right to counsel, a jury trial, and protection against excessive fines. This mirrors Dorsch v. Dorsch, where misrepresentations about the nature of proceedings constituted extrinsic fraud (168 Cal. App. 2d 336 (1959)). Plaintiff relied on the representations and proceeded to trial believing the proceedings were lawful, included by waiving his right to a jury trial.

2. Intentional Deception by the Humphreys and Bissell. This conduct satisfies the elements of actual fraud under California Civil Code § 1572: (1) a false representation (a civil claim when it was criminal); (2) known to be false by the Humphreys and Bissell; (3) intent to deceive Plaintiff; (4) Plaintiff's reliance; and (5) resulting damage (Warren v. Merrill, 143 Cal. App. 4th 96 (2006)). Their actions were a deliberate usurpation of executive power.

3. Extrinsic Fraud by Judge David Chaffee. Judge Chaffee committed extrinsic fraud by mischaracterizing the proceedings as civil and failing to address Plaintiff's affirmative defenses, including the statute of limitations (Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Construction, 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201 (2020)). This denied Plaintiff a fair hearing and violated his due/ judicial process rights (Kulchar v. Kulchar, 1 Cal. 3d at 471).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

4. Extrinsic Fraud by Appellate Justices Aronson, Goethals, and O'Leary. The appellate justices—Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, and Kathleen O'Leary—also committed extrinsic fraud by affirming all of Judge Chaffee's actions, as well as those of the Humphreys and Bissell, affirming the judgment, and ordering costs on appeal, despite being presented with clear evidence of the underlying fraud and jurisdictional defects. In Plaintiff's appellate briefs, he explicitly raised the Humphreys' lack of standing, the mischaracterization of the action as civil rather than criminal, and the denial of due/judicial process rights. Nevertheless, the Justices recklessly disregarded these critical issues, choosing to affirm all of Judge Chaffee's fraudulent rulings and the Humphreys and Bissell's deceptive conduct without addressing the foundational flaws. By doing so, they perpetuated the fraud, effectively concealing the true nature of the proceedings and preventing Plaintiff from obtaining a fair and impartial review. Their actions denied Plaintiff his right to a meaningful appeal, constituting extrinsic fraud under California law (Estate of Sanders, 40 Cal. 3d at 614). Furthermore, by ordering costs on appeal, they compounded the injustice, penalizing Plaintiff for seeking to correct a void judgment.

C. Fraud on the Court

The combined actions of the Humphreys, Bissell, Judge Chaffee, and the appellate justices also constitute fraud on the court by undermining the judicial process:

1. Presentation of a False Claim and Judicial Complicity. By disguising a criminal prosecution as a civil action, the Humphreys and Bissell misled the trial court into applying civil procedures. Judge Chaffee's acquiescence and the appellate justices' affirmation of this deception further corrupted the judicial process (Clark v. Clark, 64 Cal. App. 2d at 329). This led to a judgment the court lacked authority to enter (Caldwell v. Taylor, 218 Cal. at 476).

2. Judicial Officers' Failure to Act. Judge Chaffee and the appellate justices recklessly disregarded their duty to intervene after being notified of the action's true nature, perpetuating the fraud on the court that continues today (Martinez v. Bank of America, 82 Cal. App. 4th 883 (2000)).

D. Structural Jurisdictional Errors Resulting from Fraud

The extrinsic fraud and fraud on the court caused structural jurisdictional errors, rendering the judgment void:

1. Lack of Subject Matter Jurisdiction. The Humphreys lacked the capacity and standing to prosecute a criminal action, and the Court never acquired jurisdiction (County of Ventura v. Tillett, 133 Cal. App. 3d 105, 110 (1982)).

2. Due/Judicial Process Violation. The concealment and mischaracterization denied Plaintiff a fair hearing, a structural error requiring reversal (Johnson v. Zerbst, 304 U.S. 458, 467-68 (1938)).

3. Excessive Fine. The $930,000 penalty violates Constitutional limits, further evidencing the Court's lack of jurisdiction (People v. Cowan, 47 Cal. App. 5th 32 (2020); United States v. Bajakajian, 524 U.S. 321, 334 (1998)).

E. Meritorious Defense

Plaintiff alleges a meritorious defense: proper identification of the action as criminal would have allowed challenges to standing, invocation of criminal protections, contestation of the penalty, and required sua sponte dismissal. (Huron Coll. v. Yetter, 78 Cal. App. 2d at 150).

Judge's Breach of Duty to Vacate, Misapplication of People V. Dutra, And Participation in Extrinsic Fraud and Fraud On The Court

ADAM A. BEREKI

POWERED BY PEANUT

When the Appellate Justices awarded costs against Plaintiff (further depriving him of money and property without lawful authority) and remitted the case to the Superior Court, Plaintiff challenged jurisdiction by filing a Motion to Vacate on February 19, 2019. The motion was heard by Defendant Judge James J. Di Cesare. Di Cesare refused to vacate the void judgment, ruling that the appellate Court's arbitrary edict was final. (Appendix D– Minute Order p. 23, dated March 15, 2019; Reporter's Transcript, pp.24-37).

a. Di Cesare Breached His Ministerial Duty to Vacate a Void Judgment

California Courts bear a non-discretionary duty to vacate void judgments at any time, even after appeal, when they lack jurisdiction or violate Constitutional mandates. MacMillan Petroleum Corp. v. Griffin, 99 Cal. App. 2d 523, 533 (1950); Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 473(d). Plaintiff's Motion asserted that the $930,000 judgment—$848,000 in "disgorgement" under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b) and $82,000 denied to Spartan under § 7031(a)—constituted a penal sanction imposed without due process, rendering it void. (Dkt. 294–Motion, pp. 4-5, 9-13). Citing Kokesh v. SEC, 581 U.S. 455 (2017), Plaintiff showed that § 7031 "disgorgement" exceeds compensation and serves to punish, necessitating criminal safeguards absent in this case—e.g., notice of penal consequences, right to counsel, and jury trial. (Motion, pp. 5-8). This violated the 14th Amendment, U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10 (prohibiting bills of pains and penalties), and Art. VI, § 2, divesting the Court of jurisdiction. County of Ventura v. Tillett, 133 Cal. App. 3d 105, 110 (1982); Windsor v. McVeigh, 93 U.S. 274, 284 (1876).

Di Cesare's determination that the appellate decision was "final" disregarded this duty. (Dkt. 304). At the time, still confused by the fraud and believing the Judgment may also have been a punitive damages award, Plaintiff's Motion demonstrated the judgment's failed under the State Farm test (State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co. v. Campbell, 538 U.S. 408 (2003)): no evidence of harm was presented, the $930,000 award dwarfed comparable $5,000 misdemeanor penalties under § 7028, and Plaintiff's conduct lacked reprehensibility. Motion, pp. 9-11. Judge Chaffee imposed this sanction without a judicial hearing, and the Justices affirmed it, acting coram non judice (before a non-judge, lacking jurisdiction). (Motion, pp. 13-1)5. Di Cesare's refusal to vacate, despite these Constitutional defects, breached his ministerial obligation to uphold the law and protect against void orders. Cohens v. Virginia, 19 U.S. 264, 404 (1821).

YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

b. Misapplication of People v. Dutra

Di Cesare's reliance on People v. Dutra, 145 Cal.App.4th 1359 (2006)—which limits trial court jurisdiction post-remittitur to executing the appellate judgment (at 1365-66)—was a misapplication of law. Dutra governs valid judgments, not those void for lack of jurisdiction or tainted by fraud. (Motion, p. 14). In Dutra, a criminal sentence was remanded for execution, unchallenged as unconstitutional or fraudulent. Here, Plaintiff argued the judgment was a "bill of pains and penalties", imposed without due/ judicial process or evidence of harm, exceeding Chaffee's authority due to the Humphreys' unauthorized prosecution and the Court's lack of subject matter jurisdiction. (Motion, pp. 12-13). Tillett confirms that courts cannot render unconstitutional judgments, and MacMillan permits vacatur at any time. Di Cesare's rote application of Dutra overlooked Kokesh's classification of "disgorgement" as penal (as well as other well-established case law at that time), shielding a jurisdictional nullity and misconstruing his inherent power to correct void orders. In re Dahnke's Estate, 64 Cal. App. 555, 560-561 (1923).

c. Di Cesare's Participation in Extrinsic Fraud and Fraud on the Court

Judge Di Cesare's actions constitute participation in both extrinsic fraud and fraud on the Court, aligning him with Defendants Chaffee, the Humphreys, Bissell, and Justices Aronson, O'Leary, and Goethals in a coordinated scheme to deprive Plaintiff of a fair hearing and uphold an unlawful judgment. Extrinsic fraud occurs when a party is prevented from presenting their claim or defense due to fraudulent conduct, undermining the judicial process (City & Cnty. of San Francisco v. Cartagena, 35 Cal. App. 4th 1061, 1067 (1995)). Fraud on the Court involves deception that impairs the court's integrity, affecting justice itself (Hazel-Atlas Glass Co. v. Hartford-Empire Co., 322 U.S. 238, 246 (1944)).

i. Extrinsic Fraud

Di Cesare's refusal to vacate the judgment on March 15, 2019, despite Plaintiff's Motion to Vacate evidencing Constitutional violations, perpetuated the extrinsic fraud initiated by the Humphreys' unauthorized prosecution, Bissell's complicity, and Chaffee's

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

imposition of a penal sanction under a civil guise. By deeming the appellate ruling "final" under an inapplicable precedent, Dutra, Di Cesare blocked Plaintiff from challenging the judgment's validity post-remittitur, denying him a fair opportunity to expose the fraud and the lack of due process safeguards. (Motion, pp. 5-8, 12-14). This act, in concert with the prior Defendants' misconduct, kept Plaintiff out of Court on the merits, a hallmark of extrinsic fraud (Kulchar v. Kulchar, 1 Cal. 3d 467, 471 (1969)). His failure to address new evidence (Kokesh) or the jurisdictional defect (Humphreys' lack of prosecutorial authority, Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973)) suggests either reckless disregard or knowing participation in the scheme, entrenching the harm (e.g., loss of license and income, foreclosure, equity loss) that followed.

ii. Fraud on the Court

Di Cesare's ruling also amounts to fraud on the Court by upholding a void judgment through a misapplication of law, thereby corrupting the judicial process. His reliance on Dutra–knowing or recklessly ignoring its irrelevance to void judgments (MacMillan, Tillett–shielded the fraudulent $930,000 penalty from scrutiny, deceiving the court system into enforcing an unconstitutional nullity. This transcends mere error; it "involves far more than an injury to a single litigant" but a "wrong against the institutions set up to protect and safeguard the public" (Hazel-Atlas, 322 U.S. at 246). By refusing to vacate despite clear evidence of fraud and jurisdictional failure (Motion, pp. 4-15; Appendix [D], p. 23), Di Cesare aided the Humphreys, Bissell, Chaffee, and the appellate Justices in perpetuating a deception that undermined the Court's integrity—e.g., allowing a penal sanction to stand without due/judicial process, contrary to Constitutional mandates (U.S. Const. Amend. XIV; Cal. Const. Art. I, § 7). His actions, render him liable as a co-conspirator in this judicial miscarriage.

II. SUPREME COURT OF CALIFORNIA

On Petition for Review to the Supreme Court of California, Defendant Justices (to be included as Defendants in forthcoming Amended filing) Tani Cantil-Sakouye (CJ), Carol A. Corrigan, Goodwin H. Liu, Mariano-Florentino Cuellar, Leondra R. Kruger, Joshua P. Groban, and Ming W. Chin, sitting en banc, denied Plaintiff's Petition for Review. Case No.

S252954. (Appendix E p.38(. Ordinarily review by the Supreme Court is discretionary. In this case however, it was mandatory because Plaintiff never received a full, fair, or impartial trial or appeal and there was no other Court of California to obtain a remedy. The Court has no record of which Justices voted to arbitrarily deny the Petition. (Exhibit C, pp.2595-2608).

A. Destruction of Federal Court Checks and Balances And The Unlawful Dismissal of Plaintiff's Independent Action In Equity

i. Introduction:
Hamilton and the Federal Policy Undermining Checks and Balances

Alexander Hamilton, in Federalist No. 28, enshrined a cornerstone of the United States Constitution: "The general government will at all times stand ready to check the usurpations of the state governments... If [the People's] rights are invaded by either, they can make use of the other as the instrument of redress" (Avalon Project, Yale Law School). This federal court oversight, rooted in Article I, Section 10's ban on state bills of attainder and laws impairing contracts, guarantees a check against state overreach. Plaintiff asserts that the California Court of Appeal's judgment (Case No. G055075) violated these protections through executive usurpation and lack of subject matter jurisdiction, imposing unlawful penalties without authority. After the United States Supreme Court denied certiorari in 2019 (Case No. 18-1416), Plaintiff filed an independent action in equity under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 60(d) to void this judgment. On February 6, 2020, Judge Consuelo B. Marshall dismissed Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint with prejudice (Doc. 31), invoking the Rooker-Feldman doctrine and collateral estoppel. This dismissal reflects not merely an individual judicial error but a pervasive federal policy—driven by the misapplication of Rooker-Feldman and the "deciding not to decide" reconfiguration of Supreme Court jurisdiction under the Judiciary Act of 1925—that in this case destroyed the constitutional check on state action. This policy, condemned as "treason to the Constitution" in Cohens v.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Virginia (19 U.S. 264, 404 (1821)), undermines Article III, Section 2's mandate and Article I, Section 10's safeguards. This brief dismantles Marshall's ruling ~~and challenges Rooker-Feldman's constitutionality in this context.~~ (Note: this challenge will be made in the Amended Complaint/Cross-Complaint).

ii. Legal Argument: Marshall's Ruling and the Federal Policy Violate Constitutional Mandates

Article I, Section 10 and Article III, Section 2: The Constitutional Imperative of Federal Jurisdiction

Article I, Section 10 prohibits states from enacting "any Bill of Attainder" or "Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts," establishing an original Constitutional check against state-imposed punishments without judicial process and breaches of contractual rights. Plaintiff contends that the California Court of Appeal's judgment constitutes multiple bills of pains and penalties: a private party, without executive authority, prosecuted Plaintiff under Business & Professions Code § 7031(b), and the state Courts, lacking subject matter jurisdiction, affirmed an $848,000 penalty—punishment absent lawful process and in violation of Plaintiff's contractual obligations. This triggers federal jurisdiction under Article III, Section 2, which mandates that "in all Cases... in which a State shall be Party, the Supreme Court shall have original Jurisdiction," and extends judicial power to "all Cases... arising under this Constitution." The Supreme Court's certiorari denial, enabled by the Judiciary Act of 1925's discretionary shift (Sternberg, "Deciding Not to Decide," at 9-11), flouts this duty where California is a party defendant, as in Plaintiff's challenge to its courts' judgment. Even if Congress had authority to control the original jurisdiction vested in the U.S. Supreme Court by Article III, §2, it had a duty to require either the U.S. Supreme Court on appeal, a U.S. District Court, or some other Court vested with Article III power to hear and determine Plaintiff's claims.

Hamilton's Federalist No. 28 underscores federal courts as a bulwark against state usurpation, a principle affirmed in Cohens v. Virginia: "We have no more right to decline the exercise of jurisdiction which is given, than to usurp that which is not given" (19 U.S. at 404). Sternberg exposes how Chief Justice Taft's 1925 Act turned this obligation into discretion, allowing the Court to "decide not to decide" (Sternberg, at 14)—a structural change lacking Article V amendment authority (Sternberg, at 11-12). Marshall's dismissal perpetuates this federal policy, denying Plaintiff any forum—appellate or independent—to contest a state judgment alleged to violate Article I, Section 10, alongside due process and excessive fines under the Fourteenth Amendment. This policy dismantles the Framers' check on state action.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

iii. The Unconstitutionality of Rooker-Feldman in This Context

The Rooker-Feldman doctrine, as applied by Marshall, exceeds Constitutional bounds when it shields a void state judgment like the Fourth District Court of Appeal's. Its use here violates core constitutional principles, rendering it unlawful.

Rooker-Feldman conflicts with the Supremacy Clause (Article VI, § 2), which establishes federal law's primacy over state actions breaching the Constitution. Article I, Section 10 forbids bills of attainder, yet the Court of Appeal's judgment—upholding a private prosecution and penalty without jurisdiction—falls within this prohibition. Federal courts must intervene, as Miranda v. Arizona holds: "Where rights secured by the Constitution are involved, there can be no rule making or legislation which would abrogate them" (384 U.S. 436, 491 (1966)). Rooker-Feldman, by barring review of such violations, usurps this supremacy without Article V sanction, a fraud akin to Taft's discretionary overhaul (Sternberg, at 11-12).

Article III, Section 2 further undermines Rooker-Feldman's application. It mandates Supreme Court original jurisdiction "in all Cases... in which a State shall be Party" and extends judicial power to "all Cases" under the Constitution. Plaintiff's action implicates California as a party defendant, yet the Supreme Court's discretionary denial and Marshall's deference to Rooker-Feldman nullify this mandate. Feldman permits federal courts to address constitutional challenges beyond state rulings (460 U.S. 462, 486-87 (1983)), but Rooker-Feldman here denies that power, contradicting Article III's text and Hamilton's Federalist No. 28 promise of federal redress.

The doctrine also destroys the check-and-balance framework. Federalist No. 28 envisions federal courts as a shield against state overreach—Marshall's "deciding not to decide," atop the Supreme Court's cert denial, eliminates this protection. In re Murchison illustrates judicial limits, voiding a judgment for due process violations (349 U.S. 133, 136

ADAM A. BEREKI

POWERED BY PEANUT

(1955)); Rooker-Feldman's blanket shield defies this precedent. By preserving a void judgment, it amends the Constitution's structure without Article V authority, an unconstitutional overreach, depriving the Court of subject matter jurisdiction.

iv. Marshall's Void Ruling

Marshall's Judgment rests on four erroneous grounds—application of Rooker-Feldman, collateral estoppel, failure to examine jurisdiction, and dismissal of Plaintiff's constitutional challenge—each perpetuating the federal policy's unconstitutional denial of jurisdiction and each depriving the Court of subject matter jurisdiction.

Marshall's reliance on Rooker-Feldman to bar Plaintiff's action (Doc. 31, p.5) misapplies a doctrine inapplicable to void judgments. Article I, Section 10 prohibits state penalties without process, yet the Court of Appeal affirmed a private prosecution and penalty lacking jurisdiction—executive usurpation unchecked by law. Simmons v. Saul holds that full faith and credit does not protect judgments without jurisdiction (138 U.S. 439, 467 (1891)), and World-Wide Volkswagen Corp. v. Woodson denies recognition to rulings violating rights (444 U.S. 286, 291 (1980)). Federal courts have long voided such state acts—Atchison, T & S.F. Ry. Co. v. Wells (265 U.S. 101, 103 (1924)) and Simon v. Southern Railway Co. (236 U.S. 115, 122 (1915)) confirm this authority. Harris v. Hardeman permits collateral challenges to jurisdictionally defective judgments (55 U.S. 334, 341 (1853)). Marshall's refusal to assess this, mandated by Cohens v. Virginia (19 U.S. at 404), aligns with the federal policy's unconstitutional shield.

Marshall's invocation of collateral estoppel, claiming Plaintiff's issues were litigated and decided (Doc. 31, p.9), fails scrutiny. A void judgment lacks finality—United Student Aid Funds, Inc. v. Espinosa establishes that only valid proceedings preclude (559 U.S. 260, 270 (2010)), and Harris v. Hardeman concurs (55 U.S. at 341). The Court of Appeal's ruling, built on a lawless process, holds no weight. Blonder-Tongue Labs v. Univ. of Ill. Found. (402 U.S. 313, 329 (1971)) and Allen v. McCurry (449 U.S. 90, 95 (1980)) require a full and fair hearing—Plaintiff received none, facing an unaccountable state system. California law, via Parsons Steel Inc. v. First Alabama Bank (474 U.S. 518, 523 (1986)) and California Code of Civil Procedure § 1916, allows attacks on void judgments, a right Marshall's estoppel ruling negates, furthering the federal policy's erosion of checks.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

Marshall's failure to investigate the Court of Appeal's jurisdiction (Doc. 31, p.6-7) breaches federal duty. In re James mandates scrutiny of "jurisdictional underpinnings" (940 F.2d 46, 52 (3d Cir. 1991)), and Gonzalez v. Parks voids overreaching state rulings (830 F.2d 1033 (9th Cir. 1987)). Plaintiff's claims—executive usurpation and no lawful authority—render the judgment void under Ex parte Siebold (100 U.S. 371, 376-77 (1879)). Marshall's deference to the federal policy's "deciding not to decide" abandons this obligation (Sternberg, at 14).

Finally, Marshall's rejection of Plaintiff's § 7031 challenge as an appeal (Doc. 31, p.7) is baseless. Feldman allows federal review of constitutional claims (460 U.S. at 486-87)—Plaintiff asserts § 7031 imposes penal sanctions, violating Article I, Section 10 and Fourteenth Amendment limits. Ex parte Siebold voids judgments under unconstitutional laws (100 U.S. at 376-77), and English v. Foxall permits broader relief (27 U.S. 595, 612 (1829)). Marshall's dismissal entrenches the federal policy's denial of Plaintiff's rights.

Conclusion

The federal policy—misapplying Rooker-Feldman and embracing Taft's "deciding not to decide"—destroys Article I, Section 10 and Article III, Section 2's checks on state action, as evidenced by Marshall's ruling and the Supreme Court's certiorari denial. Rooker-Feldman's unconstitutional application here shields a void judgment, defying supremacy, jurisdiction, and balance. Marshall's errors amplify this travesty and deprived the Court of subject matter jurisdiction.

V. U.S. COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE NINTH CIRCUIT

Appeal, Case No. 20–55181; Order dismissing case as "frivolous", Appendix I, p. 5.

Plaintiff asserts that the Ninth Circuit—former Chief Judge Sidney Thomas and Judges A. Wallace Tashima and William Fletcher—breached their mandatory duty to exercise jurisdiction over his appeal and grant him relief mandated by law. After Judge Consuelo B. Marshall dismissed Plaintiff's independent action in equity (Case 8:19-cv-02050-CBM-ADS) and the U.S. Supreme Court denied certiorari (Case No. 18-1416), Plaintiff appealed on March 20, 2020. While his appeal pended, the Supreme Court issued Liu v. SEC (140 S. Ct. 1936 (2020)), vacating the Ninth Circuit's own ruling (754 Fed. Appx. 505 (9th Cir. 2018)) that had wrongly upheld a disgorgement penalty as "equitable." Liu clarified that such penalties, untied to net profits and lacking lawful authority, are penal—a direct parallel to Plaintiff's $848,000 forfeiture under Business & Professions Code § 7031(b). Plaintiff filed a Notice/Request for Consideration of Additional Authorities, spotlighting this illegality. Yet, the Ninth Circuit dismissed his appeal as "frivolous" with no explanation (Appendix I, p.53), despite Liu exposing their prior error and its relevance to his case.

ADAM A. BEREKI

This dismissal wasn't just a mistake—it was a deliberate breach. The Ninth Circuit had a duty to hear Plaintiff's appeal, a right guaranteed by Article III, Section 2's mandate over constitutional cases and state-party disputes, especially after Marshall's gatekeeping and the Supreme Court's dodge. Cohens v. Virginia demands jurisdiction be exercised, not declined—"treason to the Constitution" otherwise (19 U.S. 264, 404 (1821)). Ignoring Liu—a case they got wrong, corrected by the Supreme Court while Plaintiff's appeal sat before them—wasn't oversight; it was refusal to face evidence that the California Court of Appeal's judgment was a void, penal act. Marshall's ruling, the cert denial, and this dismissal form a federal wall, destroying Plaintiff's remedy against state overreach. The Ninth Circuit didn't just fail—they joined the betrayal.

On December 8, 2022, Plaintiff filed a Petition for Chapter 7 bankruptcy in the United States District Court for the Central District of California (Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC). His Petition included a Declaration of Adam Bereki that the Petition was filed under duress and coercion based on all unlawful actions that had occurred prior thereto (BK Dkt. 15). The complaint in U.S. Supreme Court case# 22A426 was incorporated in the Bankruptcy Petition and included as an Exhibit in support of the Declaration.

Plaintiff listed all claims pertaining to injuries of any kind relating to the Judgments and property in this case. No party objected and the Trustee did not prosecute them. Plaintiff filed a Motion to Compel the Trustee to Abandon the claims. The bankruptcy Judge ordered the claims abandoned on December 31, 2024 revesting standing in Plaintiff to proceed with all claims in this action (BK Dkt.112). Additionally, the case was closed on January 29, 2025. (BK Dkt. 114). See 11 U.S.C. §554(c) "any property scheduled under section 521(a)(1) of this title not otherwise administered at the time of the closing of a case is abandoned to the debtor and deemed administered for the purposes of this section."

r. Plaintiff's Private Contracts Are Impaired

As a direct and proximate result of some or all of the foregoing, Plaintiff's private contracts and obligations became severely impaired. Specifically, he became unable to discharge the obligations of the first mortgage and a second purportedly secured by his real property along with paying unsecured creditors (credit cards).

s. Equity's Role in Restoring All Rights and Property Lost Due to a Void Judgment

In cases of extrinsic fraud and fraud on the Court, such as that perpetrated in this case, equity intervenes to ensure that the victim of a void judgment is fully restored to their pre-judgment position. This Court possesses both inherent equitable authority and statutory power to order restitution and, where appropriate, damages for all rights and property lost as a result of the fraudulent judgment. This subsection outlines the legal foundation for such relief, emphasizing the court's ability to remedy the profound injustices inflicted upon Plaintiff.

A. Void Judgments and the Primacy of Restitution

A void judgment is one that lacks legal effect from its inception, typically due to fundamental defects such as lack of jurisdiction over the subject matter or parties. Unlike voidable judgments, which remain valid until set aside, void judgments are legal nullities, never possessing lawful force (MacMillan Petroleum Corp. v. Griffin, 99 Cal. App. 2d 523, 533 (1950)). The primary equitable remedy for such a judgment is restitution, designed to return the parties to their pre-judgment positions by restoring property, money, or benefits transferred under the void order. California courts have consistently applied this principle,

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

as evidenced in Stockton Theatres, Inc. v. Palermo, 121 Cal. App. 2d 616 (1953) and Erickson v. Boothe, 127 Cal. App. 2d 644 (1954), where restitution included an accounting for profits or benefits derived during wrongful possession. In the present case, the judgment's nullity due to fraud triggers this equitable obligation to unwind its effects comprehensively.

B. Statutory Authority Under California Law

California Code of Civil Procedure § 908 provides the statutory framework for equitable relief following the reversal or modification of a judgment, stating:

> "When the judgment or order is reversed or modified, the reviewing court may direct that the parties be returned so far as possible to the positions they occupied before the enforcement of or execution on the judgment or order. In doing so, the reviewing court may order restitution on reasonable terms and conditions of all property and rights lost by the erroneous judgment or order..."

While § 908 emphasizes restitution as the cornerstone remedy, the phrase "rights lost" invites a broader interpretation, encompassing not only the return of tangible property but also compensation for losses directly attributable to the void judgment. This statutory language aligns with equity's core mission to prevent unjust enrichment and ensure full restoration of the injured party, potentially including damages for financial harm beyond mere restitution.

C. Judicial Precedents Expanding Remedies Beyond Restitution

California case law demonstrates that courts may award damages in addition to restitution when financial losses stem directly from a void judgment, reinforcing the equitable principle of complete restoration. Key precedents illustrate this authority:

- Civic West, Inc. v. Superior Court, 22 Cal. App. 4th 575 (1994): In this case, a wrongful eviction under a void judgment led to the award of damages beyond restitution. The court granted compensation for the rental value of the property during the period of dispossession and additional expenses incurred due to the wrongful act,

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

recognizing that mere return of the property was insufficient to remedy the economic harm suffered.

- Bank of America v. Superior Court, 102 Cal. App. 3d 435 (1980): Here, a wrongful attachment under an invalid judgment prompted the court to allow recovery of damages for losses such as lost business opportunities and financial burdens caused by the void order, in addition to the return of attached property.

These cases affirm that equity empowers courts to address financial harms—like lost use of property, additional costs, or lost income—when directly tied to the enforcement of a void judgment. By contrast, cases like Stockton Theatres, Inc. v. Palermo and Erickson v. Boothe focused on restitution alone (e.g., accounting for profits), but their principles support broader remedies where additional losses are proven.

D. Scope and Limitations of Equitable Relief

The scope of equitable relief under § 908 and judicial precedent typically encompasses financial losses directly linked to the void judgment, such as lost property value, profits, or expenses incurred in challenging the judgment's enforcement. However, courts exercise caution in expanding remedies beyond these bounds. Non-economic damages, such as emotional distress or reputational harm, are less commonly awarded in restitution proceedings, as the equitable focus remains on economic restoration rather than tort-like compensation. Such claims may require separate legal actions, underscoring the need for a clear causal connection between the void judgment and the losses sought.

E. Application to Plaintiff's Case

In this matter, the judgment—rendered void by extrinsic fraud and fraud on the court—has inflicted profound harm on Plaintiff, stripping him of rights and property through its fraudulent enforcement. Equity demands that this Court exercise its authority to order:

- Restitution: The return of all property and rights lost, such as Plaintiff's home lost to foreclosure along with any benefits or profits unjustly gained by Defendants. See Citizens section below and additional claims for equitable relief below.
- Damages: Compensation for financial losses directly attributable to the void judgment, including lost earnings from his contracting business, compensation for his time and labor in his professional skills as a forensic investigator and expenses incurred in resisting the judgment's effects and exposing this fraud perpetrated on the People of California for nearly 100 years. See Citizens section below and additional claims for damages below.

ADAM A. BEREKI

POWERED BY PEANUT

This dual remedy ensures that Plaintiff is not merely returned to a semblance of his prior position but is fully compensated for the economic toll exacted by the fraud.

Conclusion and Requested Relief

The extrinsic fraud committed by the Humphreys, Bissell, Judge Chaffee, and Appellate Justices Aronson, Goethals, and O'Leary, and Judge Di Cesare, along with the fraud on the Court they collectively perpetrated, deprived Plaintiff of his Constitutional rights and resulted in a void judgment.

This Court has a duty to stop this unconscionable miscarriage of justice and the irreparable harm and damage that continues to be perpetrated on Plaintiff under color of law but without lawful authority. Plaintiffs' history of complaints to all branches of State and Federal government further evidence that he continues to be denied lawful remedy to stop this treasonous behavior. To put it bluntly, this Court created this mess and it is its duty to clean up the mess, not Plaintiff, lest he be subjected to further due/judicial process violations and continued involuntary servitude.

This Court has a non-discretionary ministerial duty to vacate the void judgment in this case based on new evidence demonstrating extrinsic fraud and to order an accounting and subsequent hearing for the restitution of all rights and property Plaintiff has lost as a result. Alternatively, this Court may treat this Application as a writ of habeas corpus.

Plaintiff contends: (1) it is an additional violation of due/judicial process to reverse the burden of proof and require him to prove his innocence; and, (2) that he has been subjected to involuntary servitude in violation of Cal. Const. Art. I, § 6 and the Thirteenth Amendment to the U.S. Const. to stop the crimes, treason, and other unlawful acts involved herein to steal his money, property, and liberty under color of law but without lawful authority.

Plaintiff has spent an average of eight hours per day, five days per week, beginning the day after the Humphreys filed their First-Amended Cross-Complaint against him on January 6, 2017 (Dkt. 179) through October 31, 2024 (2,095 days), preparing a meaningful defense, including researching law and conducting this forensic investigation to reveal the fraud perpetrated on him, and seeking remedial justice as evidenced herein. See Appendix, Exhibits: A (Annotated Procedural History), C– Public Records Requests, D, H- Official Complaints. Plaintiff has not been paid for his time and labor. The rate Plaintiff believes he should reasonably be compensated to perform this work is the same rate for legal services provided by a lawyer, such as Mr. Bissell, whose customary rate (stated in 2015) was $300 per hour (Dkt.31, p.6). The amount due Plaintiff for this time period is: $300/hr. * 8hrs/day * 2,095 days = $5,028,000.

From February 3, 2025, through March 11, 2025, (36 calendar days) Plaintiff spent, on average, two hours per day, every day of the week, researching law and preparing his defense, including the creation of this pleading. The amount due Plaintiff for this time period is: $300/hr. * 2hrs/day * 36 days = $21,600.

Plaintiff has also incurred a rough preliminary estimate of an additional $1 million dollars in costs and other damages that include: Court and attorney's fees; office expenses (paper, toner, postage, envelopes, printers, scanner, filing cabinets, 3-ringed binders, computers, software, paper cutter, website and domain hosting, cloud storage, part time assistant, etc...); research (law and history books, legal research tool subscriptions, repeated consultations with expert legal historians); medical (mental health counseling/coaching, acupuncture, physical therapy and other specialists for ongoing anxiety, depression and other emotional distress related conditions attributable to these circumstances). Plaintiff will submit an accounting of these expenses and damages as soon as possible. See Complaint/Cross-Complaint for additional claims.

Plaintiff requests the Court equitably apportion the amounts of all costs and damages between Defendants as it determines reasonable and just.

CHALLENGE TO JUDICIALLY IMMUNITY: AN UNCONSTITUTIONAL FRAUD

ADAM A. BEREK
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

I. Judicial Immunity's Feudal Roots and Constitutional Collapse

The doctrine of absolute judicial immunity, likely to be invoked by Defendant Judges David Chaffee and James Di Cesare along with Fourth District Justices Aronson, Goethals, and O'Leary (collectively "Judges") is a feudal artifact at odds with the California and U.S. Constitutions. California Constitution Article I, § 26 mandates, "The provisions of this Constitution are mandatory and prohibitory," and "everything done in violation thereof is void." Katzberg v. Regents of the Univ. of Cal., 29 Cal. 4th 300, 306–07 (2002). When judges breach these mandates—as they did by allowing an unauthorized prosecution, denying due process, imposing an excessive fine, and affirming a void judgment—immunity falls apart. Their acts defied the People's supreme law, rendering them void ab initio, per Katzberg's unequivocal rule.

Rooted in feudal England, judicial immunity shielded the King's Courts under the divine right myth, deeming royal records sacrosanct. J. Randolph Block, Stump v. Sparkman and the History of Judicial Immunity, 1980 Duke L.J. 879, 882–83; Feinman & Cohen, Suing Judges: History and Theory, 31 S.C. L. Rev. 201, 206–07. The American Revolution rejected this. Chisholm v. Georgia recognized sovereignty vested in the People, not officials, who hold only delegated powers. 2 U.S. 419, 471–72 (1793). Yet Stump v. Sparkman revived this relic, shielding a judge's ex parte sterilization order despite "grave procedural errors," if within general jurisdiction. 435 U.S. 349, 359 (1978). This conflicts with our Constitutions as also recognized in Vanhorne's Lessee v. Dorrance: judges are "creatures of the Constitution," and acts against it are "absolutely void." 2 U.S. 304, 308 (1795). See also Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 410.10 declaring that "[a] court of this state may exercise jurisdiction on any basis not inconsistent with the Constitution of this state or of the United States." § 410.10 ties jurisdiction to constitutional fidelity—immunity for violations is a fraud on the People.

Plaintiff contends that all public officials were granted absolute immunity from civil and criminal claims by the California and United States Constitutions with a single exception: every action must be within Constitutional bounds. "It is a rule of construction acknowledged by all that the exceptions from a power mark its extent, for it would be absurd, as well as useless, to except from a granted power that which was not granted." Gibbons v. Ogden, 22 U.S. 1, 191 (1824).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

Plaintiff hereby the challenges the judicially created doctrines of absolute and qualified immunity and the underlying doctrine of subject matter jurisdiction tied to immunity as recognized under California and United States law.

II. Subject Matter Jurisdiction: Issue-Specific, Not Blanket

Immunity depends on jurisdiction, which is issue-specific, not a case-wide pass. A Judge must have issue authority from the Constitution (subject matter jurisdiction) for every act he or she takes. Whether a class of case is one within the Court's power is only one issue in a case. Jurisdiction lapses when constitutional limits are crossed, per Katzberg, 29 Cal. 4th at 306–07. Windsor v. McVeigh ruled a judgment without a hearing "is not a judicial determination" and earns no respect. 93 U.S. 274, 277 (1876). Chaffee lacked this authority at every step and the Justices and Di Cesare lacked it to affirm Chaffee's Judgment:

- Unauthorized Prosecution Not Cognizable Before Any Judge in America: Chaffee allowed private citizens Karen and Gary Humphreys to prosecute under §7031(b)—a penal remedy—without executive authority. Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973) ("a private citizen lacks a judicially cognizable interest in the [criminal] prosecution [...] of another"). No record shows such power; County of Ventura v. Tillett, 152 Cal. App. 3d 178, 185 (1984) voids jurisdiction absent lawful basis.

- Excessive Fine: Chaffee's $930,000 penalty—40 times Plaintiff's qualifying net worth—skipped due/ judicial process (counsel, jury, hearing) required by Aulisio v. Bancroft, 230 Cal. App. 4th 1516, 1523 (2014), and breached the Eighth Amendment and Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17. Volkswagen v. Superior Ct., 139 Cal. App. 4th 1481, 1490 (2006): jurisdiction fails when unconstitutional.

- Retaliatory Fines: Chaffee fined Plaintiff for jurisdictional challenges (bill of particulars, writ of error), violating First Amendment petition rights (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 3). Elliott v. Lessee Peirsol, 26 U.S. 328, 340 (1828): acts without authority are "nullities."

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

These weren't missteps—they were lawless acts, void under Katzberg.

III. Ministerial Acts: No Immunity for Constitutional Duties

Judicial immunity covers judicial acts, not ministerial ones—mandatory duties with no discretion. Miss v. Johnson, 71 U.S. 475, 498 (1867): ministerial acts are "simple, definite" legal obligations. The Constitution—U.S. Const. Art. VI, § 2; Cal. Const. Art. I, § 26—imposes these: no excessive fines (U.S. Const. Amend. VIII; Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17), no deprivation without due process (U.S. Const. Amend. V, XIV; Cal. Const. Art. I, § 7), no private prosecution without sanction (Linda R.S., 410 U.S. at 619). Gibbons v. Ogden, 22 U.S. 1, 191 (1824): exceptions define power—judges must comply. Forrester v. White, 484 U.S. 219, 229 (1988): no immunity for ministerial acts. D'Aoust v. Diamond, 424 Md. 549, 586–87, 36 A.3d 941, 962–63 (2012): "Officials enjoy no immunity at all for ministerial acts."

Chaffee, Di Cesare and the Justices flouted these duties:

- Chaffee: No discretion to allow Humphreys' prosecution—separation of powers forbids it. No discretion to deny due process or impose an excessive fine—Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments mandate protections.
- Justices and Di Cesare: No discretion to affirm a penalty defying equitable principles and Supreme Court precedent like BMW of N. Am., Inc. v. Gore, 517 U.S. 559, 585–86 (1996) (dicta noting stiff, all-or-nothing penalties raise due process flags).

These breaches—void per Katzberg—strip immunity, exposing them as private actors.

IV. Private Capacity Liability: Trespassers, Not Judges

Without jurisdiction or breaching ministerial duties, judges become liable trespassers. Forrester, 484 U.S. at 229: non-judicial acts aren't shielded. Ex parte Young, 209 U.S. 123, 159-60 (1908) "The answer to all this is the same as made in every case where an official claims to be acting under the authority of the state. The act to be enforced is alleged to be unconstitutional; and if it be so, the use of the name of the state to enforce an unconstitutional act to the injury of complainants is a proceeding without the authority of,

ADAM A. BEREK
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

and one which does not affect, the state in its sovereign or governmental capacity. It is simply an illegal act upon the part of a state official in attempting, by the use of the name of the state, to enforce a [judgment] which is void because unconstitutional. If the act which the state [official] seeks to enforce be a violation of the Federal Constitution, the officer, in proceeding under such enactment, comes into conflict with the superior authority of that Constitution, and he is in that case stripped of his official or representative character and is subjected in his person to the consequences of his individual conduct. The state has no power to impart to him any immunity from responsibility to the supreme authority of the United States." Ex parte Virginia, 100 U.S. 339, 347 (1879): liability hinges on the act's nature. Chaffee's proxy prosecution and void penalty were lawless, aiding Humphreys' misuse of power. The Justices' (and later Di Cesare's) affirmance—ignoring equitable and Constitutional principles—ratified this fraud. Elliott, 26 U.S. at 340: All persons executing void judgments are trespassers. Plaintiff's damages directly stem from these acts—Chaffee, Di Cesare, and the Justices face liability.

V. Administrative Capacity Exception: No Immunity for Tribunal Acts

Even if Defendants' actions were within Constitutional bounds, they were administrative, not judicial, negating absolute immunity. Butz v. Economou, 438 U.S. 478, 513–14 (1978): ALJs get immunity only for quasi-judicial acts with full process; administrative roles get qualified or none. Cleavinger v. Saxner, 474 U.S. 193, 203–04 (1985): acts lacking judicial independence aren't shielded. Chaffee enforced §7031(b) as CSLB's agent—checking licensure, not adjudicating—making it an administrative task. The Justices, affirming without applying equitable principles or BMW's penalty caution, acted as policy enforcers, not Judges. Forrester, 484 U.S. at 229: administrative functions aren't immune. Plaintiff's prior section proves this was an administrative tribunal—absolute immunity fails; qualified immunity collapses due to Constitutional bad faith (D'Aoust, 424 Md. at 586–87).

Conclusion

Judicial immunity—a feudal fraud—shields nothing here. Chaffee, Di Cesare, and the Justices lacked issue-specific jurisdiction (Windsor), breached ministerial duties (Gibbons, Forrester), and acted administratively (Butz), making them trespassers (Persol). Their void acts—unauthorized prosecution, no due/ judicial process, excessive fine—has caused Plaintiff irreparable harm and damages. Katzberg and Cal. Const. Art. I, § 26 demand accountability, not immunity's overreach.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

CITIZENS BANK EXPLOITED FRAUD AND STATE MISCONDUCT TO PLUNDER DEFENDANT'S HOME

Citizens Bank, relying on the fraud and unlawful actions perpetrated against Plaintiff—state actions that deliberately wrecked his income stream—declared a default, triggering a non-judicial foreclosure sale that dumped his home for approximately $1 million below comparable fair market value. This predatory act resulted in an estimated $1.18 million in home equity theft and inflicted additional punishment.

It was unconscionable for Citizens to declare a default when: (1) it had knowledge of the extrinsic fraud, denial of due/judicial process (as evidenced in 22A426); (2) it was informed of an active criminal investigation by law enforcement into that fraud and other crimes; and (3) the foregoing unlawful activity was a direct and proximate cause of the purported default. After the sale, the purported buyer, Canjian Hou, was notified of the fraud, refused to do equity by accepting a refund, and commenced unlawful detainer proceedings with the assistance of his attorney, Henry D. Paloci to evict Plaintiff from his own property.

Overview

Civil Code § 1708 declares that "[e]very person is bound, without contract, to abstain from injuring the person or property of another, or infringing upon any of his or her rights." Plaintiff contends this, alongside the doctrine of good faith and fair dealing, imposed clear duties on Citizens to refrain from using unlawful state actions—continuously perpetrated against Plaintiff, including the persistent denial of judicial process to reverse the Judgment—as a means to gain a civil advantage and force the sale of his home. Despite being duly notified of the alleged fraud, due and judicial process violations, the structural failure of trial and appellate mechanisms, Plaintiff's constructive imprisonment, and the resulting impairment of his income stream—all direct results of the unlawful state action—Citizens arbitrarily branded his inability to pay a "default" and ordered Trustee Corps to conduct a non-judicial foreclosure sale. Plaintiff never agreed to any definition of default where a conspiracy between private parties and state officials to steal his money, property, and liberty, under color of law but without lawful authority, would result in his home being sold for more than $1 million below fair market value.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Under Civil Code § 1708 and the doctrine of good faith and fair dealing, Citizens cannot ignore or pretend these extraordinary, lawless state actions do not exist—despite repeated notice—then rely on them to declare a "default" and seize a civil advantage through non-judicial foreclosure proceedings, all without becoming a conspirator or aider and abettor to the underlying crimes and rights deprivations. If a default had occurred, Citizens was minimally required to commence judicial proceedings to ensure Plaintiff was heard and the entirety of the situation's facts were before a Court to decide how to proceed in this extraordinary mess. Plaintiff views the non-judicial foreclosure sale as a continuation of the conspiracy to punish him by taking his money and property while denying him a judicial determination of his rights. If deemed valid, the sale will result in more than an estimated $1.18 million in home equity theft.

Post-sale, Plaintiff was served eviction papers by Defendant Henry D. Paloci, III, P.A., and Henry D. Paloci (collectively "Paloci"), attorneys for Defendant 'buyer' Canjian Hou. Paloci told Plaintiff that neither he nor Hou had knowledge of the litigation involving the property even though a simple Google search of Plaintiff's name or the property address would have revealed the situation. Paloci repeatedly argued his client owned the property as a "bona fide purchaser" (BFP). Even if true, the BFP doctrine only pertains to procedural requirements of a valid sale (e.g., notice, 90-day redemption period) and has nothing to do with whether the lender or trustee had authority to commence the sale to begin with. A sale where the lender or trustee lacked authority—as here—voids any title transfer, as no contractual or legal basis existed for the sale, and thus voids BFP status.

Plaintiff offered to do equity with Hou by returning the surplus funds of the bogus sale once received. In an email response, Paloci flatly stated, "that's never going to happen" (apparently referring to doing equity with Plaintiff and ceasing and desisting from all efforts to gain possession of the property.) Hou has continued to refuse those funds and do equity, instead filing an unlawful detainer action in this Court on February 11, 2025, invoking the jurisdiction of this very Court (the same one implicated in the fraud, treason, and other crimes and unlawful acts alleged herein) to further steal Plaintiff's money and property, advance the unlawful acts, and charge Plaintiff $166 per day in damages. Even after being duly notified, Paloci and Hou refuse to cease and desist their roles in the harm being inflicted. Plaintiff contends they are breaching duties under at least Civil Code § 1708 and are conspiring to aid and abet the crimes alleged herein.

POWERED BY PEANUT

In pursuit of restitution and relief to restore all rights and property lost due to the fraudulent Judgments against him, Plaintiff requests this Court:

1. Declare the Trustee's sale void based on extrinsic fraud and other claims alleged herein;
2. Cancel the Deed of Trustee Sale issued to Hou;
3. Declare that Citizens and Trustee Corps conspired to, and did, aid and abet the fraud, crimes, and deprivation of Plaintiff's rights perpetrated by Defendants Humphreys, Bissell, and Judicial Defendants (collectively "Primary Defendants");
4. Declare that Paloci and Hou conspired to, and did, aid and abet the fraud, crimes, and deprivation of Plaintiff's rights by refusing to do equity once duly notified, then seeking to rely on that fraud and other crimes to invoke this Court's jurisdiction and forcibly evict Plaintiff via unlawful detainer proceedings;
5. Declare that Plaintiff was harmed by Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou, and Paloci through their lawless attempts to steal his home using the fraud and crimes against him as a means to their ends;
6. Award damages against Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou, and Paloci for Plaintiff's time preparing a meaningful and substantive defense against their lawless actions

a. Claim for Relief: Equitable Action to Set Aside Foreclosure Sale

"[T]he elements of an equitable cause of action to set aside a foreclosure sale are: (1) the trustee ... caused an illegal, fraudulent, or willfully oppressive sale of real property pursuant to a power of sale in a ... deed of trust; (2) the party attacking the sale ... was prejudiced or harmed; and (3) in cases where the trustor ... challenges the sale, the trustor ... tendered the amount of the secured indebtedness or was excused from tendering." *Orcilla v. ### 1. The First Element: Unlawfulness of the Trustee's Sale

Plaintiff alleges the Trustee's sale was unlawful, fraudulent, and willfully oppressive for two reasons: (1) Plaintiff's income stream and ability to pay or discharge the agreement's obligations were crippled by extrinsic fraud and other crimes through the lawless actions of state officials—behavior Citizens could not rely upon under Civil Code § 1708 and the doctrine of good faith and fair dealing to declare a default; and (2) based on that, and the fact Plaintiff never agreed to these arbitrary terms, the contract was unconscionable.

Background

a. The Mortgage Agreement with Citizens Bank

On October 30, 2006, Plaintiff entered into an agreement for a home equity line of credit with Charter One Bank (Ex. 3, pp.1-12 Agreement and Deed of Trust). Based on information and belief, Charter One Bank appears to have become Citizens Bank NA ("Citizens") by merger.

b. Citizens Declares a Default and Orders Trustee Corps to Commence a Non-Judicial Foreclosure Sale

On or about July 10, 2024, Citizens declared a default under the agreement and, on information and belief, ordered its agent, Trustee Corps, to sell the property via non-judicial foreclosure. On July 10, 2024, MTF Financial Inc., d/b/a Trustee Corps ("Trustee Corps"), as duly appointed Successor Trustee, filed a Notice of Default and Election to Sell Under Deed of Trust (NOD). According to public records, the NOD was recorded in the Office of the Clerk-Recorder for Orange County as document number 2024000173067, claiming $31,901.33 due as of July 9, 2024.

On information and belief, Trustee Corps and/or its unknown agents commenced a foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024, at the Superior Court for Orange County. Plaintiff attended and gave notice of the pending litigation alleged herein to the auctioneer (a third-party company he cannot recall) and all parties present. The sale purportedly took place at an unknown time after he left, and he does not know if any attendees he notified were the highest bidder of that sale or Hou, as Trustee Corps refused to provide that information.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

On or about November 18, 2024, Plaintiff called Trustee Corps to inquire about the sale and was told the property had been sold. He learned that Senate Bill 1079 ("SB 1079") amended California Civil Code sections (notably §§ 2924m and 2924f) to create a framework where, after a non-judicial foreclosure sale, eligible bidders—tenants, prospective owner-occupants, or nonprofits—can submit bids to purchase, extending the process beyond the initial auction. For residential properties with 1 to 4 units (like here), the sale isn't final unless the winning bidder is a prospective owner-occupant who intends to live there and submits an affidavit confirming this within 48 hours. If not, a 45-day window opens where Eligible Tenant Buyers (tenants residing there under a valid lease) can match the highest bid, or Eligible Bidders (nonprofits or owner-occupants not at the sale) can submit a bid exceeding the auction's highest by at least $1. These bidders must submit a written intent to bid within 15 days, followed by a bid within 45 days, paid in certified funds. The trustee then determines the winner.

A Trustee Corps employee told Plaintiff that numerous intents to bid were received within 15 days of the sale. Plaintiff asked for the bidders' names to provide them notice of the litigation, but the employee refused. He then asked if Trustee Corps would notify bidders of the issues; the employee said no, as the property was sold "as-is." (Plaintiff has multiple lawfully obtained audio recordings of these allegations.) See also a February 7, 2025, email from Trustee Corps: "[o]ur office is not required to provide any information related to the property to potential buyers, they must do their own due diligence" (Ex. 4, p.25).

Plaintiff contends Citizens and Trustee Corps minimally had a duty under the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, Civil Code § 1708, and § 1710 to notify every potential bidder, ensuring they could decide whether to participate in the crimes and unlawful acts with Citizens and Trustee Corps and cause further irreparable harm by stealing or attempting to steal Plaintiff's home and/or clouding title. "It is now settled in California that where the seller knows of facts materially affecting the value or desirability of the property which are known or accessible only to him and also knows that such facts are not known to, or within the reach of the diligent attention and observation of the buyer, the seller is under a duty to disclose them to the buyer. ... Failure of the seller to fulfill such duty of disclosure constitutes actual fraud." Lingsch v. Savage, 213 Cal. App. 2d 729, 735–36 (1963). Civil

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Code § 1572 defines "[a]ctual fraud" as including "3. The suppression of that which is true, by one having knowledge or belief of the fact[.]"

As to Trustee Corps' claim it had no duty to disclose because the property was sold "as-is," Lingsch at 740-43 states: "[a] provision in a contract of sale that the buyer takes the property in the condition in which it is, or 'as is,' does not necessarily confer on the seller a general immunity from liability for fraud. ... It is well settled that where a principal is under a positive duty to make a disclosure, he cannot escape liability for his failure to do so by relying on a provision in the agreement of sale that there are no other representations except those therein expressed."

Citizens and Trustee Corps might argue this duty only applies to facts "known or accessible only to [them] and that such facts are not known to, or within the reach of the diligent attention and observation of the buyer[.]" Lingsch at 735. But the only way to ascertain buyers' knowledge would be to ask them, and Plaintiff has no information that they did—circumstantial evidence suggests they didn't, likely to suppress the truth. A Google search of Plaintiff's name or address would have revealed his U.S. Supreme Court case tied to these unlawful acts. Of the over ten bidders Plaintiff was told submitted intents, two contacted him: one, a seasoned foreclosure buyer, researched Plaintiff's bankruptcy and Supreme Court cases, aiming for a $400k discount below market, and lost interest when Plaintiff demanded fair value; the other didn't know the situation until Plaintiff informed him. Neither party, based on Plaintiff's recollection, identified themselves as Hou. Defendant doesn't know if either bid.

Based on Plaintiff's professional investigative opinion and personal experience, foreclosure bidder diligence and investigative competency appears to vary widely. Even assuming Citizens had authority to declare a default and sell, it and Trustee Corps' minimal duty under these circumstances was to disclose facts from Plaintiff's bankruptcy case and communications – where they obtained direct knowledge of the unlawful state actions – or at least provide bidder info so he could. Trustee Corps refused to give him any information to notify the bidders. Plaintiff took every reasonable step to prevent harm to Hou. Citizens and Trustee Corps breached these duties with intent to harm, knowing the situation and: (1) refusing remedial steps to distance themselves from the Primary Defendants' crimes/

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

unlawful acts; (2) refusing steps to avoid further irreparable harm by selling his home under color of law without authority; and (3) knowing disclosure to buyers would likely deter participation, rendering their civil advantage worthless.

On or about December 2, 2024 (or whenever the SB1079 bidding concluded), Plaintiff called Trustee Corps again about the SB 1079 'sale' and was told the highest bid was $371,688. Initially, they withheld the buyer's name, but a later call revealed it was Canjian Hou, though they refused contact info. Defendant's Google search for "Canjian Hou" yielded nothing.

c. Plaintiff Receives Notice of Eviction by Hou

On February 3, 2025, Plaintiff answered his door and was handed papers: a Notice to Any Renters, a Three-Day Notice to Quit, and a Ninety-Day Notice to Quit (Ex. 4, pp. 1-3). Several bore a signed note: "Canjian Hou c/o Henry D. Paloci III, Esq., Agent for the Owner, Henry D. Paloci PA, PO Box 592, Los Alamitos, CA 90720, hpaloci@hotmail.com, 805.279.1225." Within minutes, Plaintiff called Paloci, who identified himself, and gave notice of the litigation. Paloci claimed neither he nor Hou knew of it pre-sale and insisted Hou's ownership was protected by the "bona fide purchaser" doctrine, regardless of the litigation.

d. Recording of the Trustee Deed Upon Sale

On February 24, 2025, Plaintiff personally obtained a certified copy of the purported Trustee's Deed Upon Sale from the Clerk-Recorder's Office for the County of Orange (Ex.3, pp.16-23). According to the Deed, it was recorded on January 30, 2025.

e. The Unlawfulness of the Sale: Citizens Twisted the Contract for an Unlawful Heist

The agreement with Citizens declares that "Trustor will be in default if any of the following occur: [...] b. Any Consumer Borrower [...] fails to make a payment when due." (Ex. 3, pp.1-12). Default is a technical term not completely defined by the agreement. Plaintiff does not know the full nature and extent of the definition of a "default" as it was not defined in the agreement and has never been disclosed to him. Additionally, the conditions leading to the failure to make a payment that could constitute a default (such as the conditions present in this case) are also undefined. Plaintiff disputes that a default occurred and that, as a result, Citizens lacked authority to declare a default and order non-judicial foreclosure proceedings.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

At the time of signing the mortgage contract and all times material hereto, Plaintiff never agreed that a default included a definition whereby the perpetration of fraud, treason, other crimes and unlawful acts, and deprivations of rights upon him (collectively "crimes" alleged herein), that would directly and proximately impair his ability to discharge the obligation, would constitute a default and thereby empower Citizens and/or Trustee Corps to sell his home through non-judicial foreclosure proceedings.

Citizens and Trustee Corps knew Plaintiff had been repeatedly denied a full, fair, and impartial judicial determination of his rights and used this knowledge to gain a civil advantage by electing to use summary non-judicial proceedings to adjudicate the rights of the parties under the agreement. The following notice was given to Citizens during bankruptcy proceedings and after:

1. Plaintiff's Schedules Including a Declaration and the Incorporation of U.S. Supreme Court Case 22A426: "FILING OF BANKRUPTCY UNDER EXTREME DURESS AND COERCION
    a. In 2017, I was maliciously criminally prosecuted in the Superior Court of California-County of Orange by private parties, Karen and Gary Humphreys, and their attorney, William Bissell, for allegedly performing construction work without a contractor license even though I was the licensee of a general contractor license in the name of my former solely owned and operated company, The Spartan Associates, Inc. See license #927244 and case 30-2015-00805807, and U.S. Supreme Court Case 22A426.
    b. During the 'trial' I was denied assistant counsel, trial by jury, and all of the heightened protections of criminal proceedings and then excessively, cruelly, and unusually fined about $930,000. See Exhibit [A] - Minute Order and 'Judgment'. I was denied ALL Constitutional protections and all Constitutional protections continue to be denied to me."

2. In his Verified Response to Citizens' Motion for Relief From Emergency Stay, he stated:

> Adam Bereki ("Debtor"), in the above-captioned matter responds and objects to Citizens Bank N.A.'s, ("Citizens"), Motion seeking an Order lifting the automatic stay.
> There are extraordinary circumstances in this case requiring this Court's mandatory non-discretionary duty to intervene and deny Citizens' Motion sua sponte. Debtor's right to fundamental due process continues to be actively denied resulting in irreparable harm and damages.
> ¶1: On 12/8/22 Debtor was involuntarily forced to file bankruptcy as a direct result of fraud and other State and Federal crimes being perpetrated upon him by purported "Creditors" Karen and Gary Humphreys, ("the Humphreys"), and their attorney, William Bissell, in conspiracy with State and Federal Officials to steal his money, property, and liberty under color of law but without lawful authority.
> ¶4: The "Judgment" is fraudulent and void because it was rendered in direct violation of the California and United States Constitutions by a State Court acting without subject matter jurisdiction. The "Judgment" is at the heart of the conspiracy of why Debtor has been forced into bankruptcy to begin with and cannot be used as a means to allow any purported Creditors, including Citizens, to take Debtor's property without lawful authority.
> ¶11: As a direct consequence of these egregious and unconscionable circumstances, Debtor's private contracts and obligations became impaired (another violation of Art. 1, §10) that has resulted in his inability to discharge Claims 1 and 2 and nearly all the unsecured claims in his Schedules.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

¶12: In good faith, Debtor has pursued a remedy in every known State and Federal Court in the Nation with subject matter jurisdiction to vacate the void judgments. All have refused to exercise jurisdiction when they had a mandatory non-discretionary ministerial duty to do so. Debtor also filed Petitions for Redress of Grievance with officials of State and Federal law enforcement and the California Assembly. All have refused to fully, fairly, and impartially investigate and/or intervene to stop the criminal behavior and protect his liberty, money, and property. Debtor must be afforded judicial process before any more of his property is taken, including granting Citizens relief from the stay to ultimately allow it to foreclose on his home.

¶13: Citizens cannot rely upon this egregiously unlawful conduct to commence foreclosure proceedings of Debtor's home after having received due notice without becoming part of the conspiracy to commit and/or aid and abet these crimes. While Citizens may have a valid claim, it is not facing the irreparable harms of total financial destruction and the denial of all rights, privileges, and immunities secured by the California and U.S. Constitutions like Debtor continues to be. Debtor must be afforded due process which imposes upon this Court (and the United States Trustee) the mandatory duty to investigate these claims and to intervene to stop the irreparable harm, damages, and fraud that continue to be perpetrated upon him and his estate before taking any adverse action in this case.

¶14: The automatic stay is in place for the very purpose it was intended: to "[stop] all collection efforts, all harassment, and all foreclosure actions, [and to be] relieved of the financial pressures that drove him into bankruptcy. H.R.Rep. No. 595, 95th Cong., 1st Sess., at 340 (1977), reprinted in 1978 U.S.C.C.A.N. 5963, 6296-97." Dean v. TWA, 72 F.3d 754, 755 (9th Cir.1995).

¶15: The stay is necessary to protect Debtor's rights, liberty, and property as well as his Creditors while he commences Adversary Proceedings to, amongst other reorganization issues, determine the validity of the lien surrounding "Claim 3", which continues to cause him and his estate irreparable harm and damages as 'they' continue to be denied the right to judicial relief. The right to liberty includes "the right to be free from, and to obtain judicial relief for, unjustified intrusions of personal security." Ingram v. Wright, 430 U.S. 651, 673 (1977). Lifting the stay and allowing Citizens to commence foreclosure proceedings would only perpetrate the irreparable harm against Debtor and his estate and further deprive 'them' of due process.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

¶16: Additionally, Debtor's estate has genuine claims for damages, punitive damages, and restitution for deprivation of constitutionally protected rights, intentional infliction of emotional distress, wrongful foreclosure, fraud, malicious prosecution, and false imprisonment (constructive), amongst other claims pertaining to "Claim 3". The claim for false imprisonment alone involves damages amounting to over three million dollars. Upon lawful adjudication, this claim could be used to pay all the valid Creditors of Debtor's estate.

3. After Citizens was Granted Relief from the Stay, Plaintiff emailed Christina Khil of Malcolm Cisneros, Attorney of Record for Citizens During the Bankruptcy on April 16, 2023 (Ex. 3, p.43):

Hi Christina,

I will be appealing the Court's April 12, 2023 order to grant Citizens relief from the stay. It is abundantly clear to me that Judge Clarkson deliberately disobeyed fundamental due process, California law, and bankruptcy procedure because he did not want to address the issues pertaining to the fraud, treason, and other crimes that have been (and continue to be) perpetrated upon me, and that he wants this case out of his Court ASAP.

I respect the law, not the ultra vires determinations of a rogue Judge. For these reasons, I am informing you and your client that I will hold you both legally accountable if foreclosure proceedings are commenced as a result of Judge Clarkson's "order". I am confident you know and understand exactly what I'm saying here and that using a Judge's ultra vires order as an excuse to commit crimes (the unlawful taking/seizure of my and my mother's property) will not work as a "Nuremberg defense" to civil liability and/or criminal punishment.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

As I've repeatedly shared, I have every intent of ensuring your client is compensated to the extent they are owed any money. I am also confident—that to the extent an obligation is owed to your client—that it will rapidly be eclipsed by liability for damages claims for participating in the conspiracy you both have repeatedly been given notice of but failed to heed.

I feel it would be a much more prudent (and lawful) choice to use your resources to support the truth and the law rather than warring against them by proceeding with foreclosure unlawfully. To this end, I ask that you not proceed with the foreclosure proceedings and continue to allow me to work with the system to achieve an equitable resolution for all parties. I also ask that you participate in the appeal and join every aspect of the arguments presented you believe to be the law, including if they go against Clarkson's "order" in your favor. This is about truth, the integrity of our judicial system, and ensuring that your Client receives what may lawfully be owed through lawful not criminal process.

Please let me know what you and your client's intentions are in writing as soon as practically possible.

Sincerely,
Adam Bereki

4. Plaintiff Submitted Multiple Declarations of His Intent During Bankruptcy Proceedings: See, e.g., Declared Statement of Intent of Adam Bereki (Ex.3, pp.37-42); Notice of Intent–Request to Keep Case Open (BK Dkt. 102, filed 11/27/23), requesting to keep case open to pursue adversary proceedings; Amended Notice of Intent-Request to Keep Case Open (BK Dkt. 103, filed 1/31/24), giving notice of continued intent to pursue adversary proceedings and that two active criminal investigations were being conducted pursuant to the issues in case #22A426. On information and belief, all of these notices were served upon Citizens and Citibank pursuant to NEF (Notice of Electronic Filing within the Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California).

5. On February 2, 2024, Plaintiff received a certified letter from Malcolm Cisneros, a Notice of Intent to Foreclose by Citizens. He Immediately responded by email to Khil and officers of the California Highway Patrol and Orange County District Attorney's Office (then allegedly conducting an investigation but actually failing to), requesting that Citizens, Malcolm Cisneros, and Khil be included in their Investigation "as part of the Civil Conspiracy Alleged in 22A426" (Ex. 3, pp.49-50):

> Good day,
> In my previous complaint(s) to your office, I shared that as a result of a criminal conspiracy by State and Federal officials and private parties to steal my money, property, and liberty under Color of State law but without lawful authority, I was unlawfully restrained from earning a living in my profession as a general contractor for at least five years. This resulted in millions of dollars of lost earnings and the unlawful impairment of my private contracts and obligations. Several of these purported contracts and obligations may involve Deeds of Trust allegedly secured by my real property and my inability to pay them (to the extent they are valid) as a direct result of the criminal conspiracy.
> In December 2022, I was forced to file bankruptcy as a direct result of the criminal conspiracy. See case #8:22-bk-12076, In re Adam Alan Bereki, and especially Docket 15. See also U.S. Supreme Court case 22A426.
> During the bankruptcy case (which remains open), the Judge refused to acknowledge the existence of the criminal conspiracy to force me into bankruptcy and unlawfully allowed one purported creditor, Citizens Bank, relief

ADAM A. BEREKI

POWERED BY PEANUT

from the emergency stay to commence foreclosure proceedings. I notified Citizens Bank of the situation and until now, Citizens has not taken any steps toward foreclosure action.

Please see the attached Notice of Intent to Foreclose I received by certified mail today.

While I understand this is a Notice of Intent to Foreclose and NOT yet a foreclosure action, Citizens has been duly notified of the criminal conspiracy (BK Case Dkt. 15 et al), and, according to this Notice, is intent on proceeding with foreclosure anyway—or at the very least threatening to—in apparent attempt to join the conspiracy and take my property without lawful authority and intentionally inflict further emotional distress by forcing me to defend property in foreclosure proceedings. There would be no foreclosure proceedings if there was no criminal conspiracy.

I am informing you of this Notice because of your ongoing investigation and the fact that it is your sworn mandatory non-discretionary duty to protect my rights and property by stopping this criminal conspiracy and ensuring that the law is faithfully executed. This includes ensuring there is a judicial Constitutional Court as recognized by the California and U.S. Constitutions upon which I can submit my grievances to and receive the full, fair, and impartial administration of justice. Based on my investigation—U.S. Supreme Court case #22A426/http://www.thespiritoflaw.com—no such Court with subject matter jurisdiction over my claims exists.

While I cannot be sure who sent this unsigned letter from the law office of Malcolm Cisneros (see envelope), the attorney assigned to my bankruptcy case from that office is Christina Khil. Please include her, Malcolm Cisneros, and Citizens Bank as part of the civil conspiracy evidenced in 22A426 and your investigation. Additionally, Citizens Bank has refused to comply with the provisions of the Cal. Commercial Code (§3501(b)(2) and (3)) which afford me the right to refuse to pay without being subjected to foreclosure. I have included Ms. Khil in this email. Notice to Agent (Christina Khil) is Notice to Principal (Malcolm Cisneros and Citizens Bank).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

Sincerely,
/s/Adam Bereki

6. On October 28, 2024, Plaintiff sent the following email to Steven Autieri, who on information and belief is Citizens' in-house counsel that oversees non-judicial foreclosure sales, and Trustee Corps, care of an email address published on their website:

To: Trustee Corps.

Good day. I spoke with someone from your office last week regarding the imminent foreclosure sale of my home at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, California. During the conversation, I shared about the ongoing legal issues I am facing that are out of my control and that I have given you/Citizens Bank due notice of through bankruptcy proceedings.

I'm aware that you can schedule the foreclosure sale at any time. However, I'd like to ask you not to schedule the sale and allow me more time to prepare additional judicial process in further effort to remedy the situation. I am diligently working on a complaint to be presented to the District Court of the U.S. as soon as practically possible. It is taking me much longer than expected given the number of Defendants (more than 100) and the fact that many public officials are involved.

I'm sure your research has revealed there is plenty of equity in my home to ensure payment should a foreclosure sale become necessary and that you are not in jeopardy of losing any compensation to the extent you are lawfully owed payment. Effecting a foreclosure sale at this time given the circumstances would only force more undue hardship upon me including additional financial and emotional distress as well as having to find a home.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

I am completely open to maintaining communication on my progress in filing the complaint. At this point, I expect that to be within 30-45 days. (I would rather spend my time working on the complaint that will resolve the situation rather than being diverted to obtain an injunction to stop the sale).

Thank you for your time and continued understanding. I'd appreciate communication of your intent regarding the foreclosure sale.

Sincerely,
AdamBereki

Citizens and Trustee Corps knew, based on Plaintiff's bankruptcy and the communication with them, that unless he received judicial or other government intervention to stop the harm and damage being perpetrated on him, there was nothing else he could do. He repeatedly told Citizens he had no intent to shirk his duties under the contract. He recognizes Citizens' general right to payment if a debt is due, but contends that in this extraordinary situation, Citizens and Trustee Corps, as its agent, had a duty—rooted in good faith and fair dealing (Comunale v. Traders & General Ins. Co., 50 Cal. 2d 654, 658 (1958)) and Civil Code § 1708—to abstain from injuring him, his property, or his rights, including by conspiring together or aiding the Primary Defendants and/or others to steal his money and property and violating his rights. "Th[e] implied promise means that each party will not do anything to unfairly interfere with the right of any other party to receive the benefits of the contract. Good faith means honesty of purpose without any intention to mislead or to take unfair advantage of another. Generally speaking, it means being faithful to one's duty or obligation." CACI § 325.

To honor these duties, Citizens and Trustee Corps were required to either: (1) allow Plaintiff to pursue remedial justice through the executive and judicial branches of California

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

and the U.S. government, receiving updates if needed; (2) seek judicial relief themselves—declaratory relief under the agreement or a tortious interference suit against the Primary Defendants; or (3) notify the police of the situation, who were actively investigating it as a crime, and request inclusion as a victim of the criminal acts. Based on information and belief, they chose none of these options. They could not, in good faith or fair dealing, rely on the crimes that directly caused Plaintiff's injuries and income loss as grounds for a default—especially given his denied judicial recourse and the unconscionable nature of such terms he never agreed to—then use summary non-judicial foreclosure to dodge a rights determination. Plaintiff isn't claiming his rights trump Citizens'; the point is to avoid complicity in the crimes and further irreparable harm from losing his home and the inevitable equity theft—which ultimately happened.

At minimum, judicial proceedings would have given Plaintiff a fair shot at another hearing, and the chain of causation would have forced the Court to address the default's root causes before any sale (see, e.g., Palsgraf v. Long Island Railroad Co., 248 N.Y. 339 (1928)). Plaintiff asserts that a full, fair adjudication of his claims would yield funds to pay Citizens in full. Notably, Citizens' lien was always protected by equity roughly eighteen times the obligation owed.

Instead, Citizens and Trustee Corps arbitrarily declared a default and sold the home non-judicially, deliberately relying on the crimes to gain a civil advantage, breaching their duties under good faith, fair dealing, and § 1708. On information the home sold at the SB 1079 final bid for $371,688—about $1.18 million below an estimated $1.5 million fair market value (based on recent neighborhood sales). Assuming Citibank has no claim to the first mortgage, after deducting Citizens' approx. $60,000 (which includes fines and penalties Plaintiff disputes) and $321,000 surplus due to Plaintiff, the sale resulted in roughly $1.18 million in equity theft.

Plaintiff contends that because Citizens and Trustee Corps had knowledge of the crimes against him, then deliberately and with reckless disregard for his rights, arbitrarily and in bad faith defined "default" in a way he never agreed to and sold his property non-judicially to profit, they: (1) conspired with and aided the Primary Defendants in furthering

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

their crimes, causing his home equity to be stolen and transferred under color of law without authority or just compensation and (2) knew, from bankruptcy notices, he couldn't pay.

e. The Mortgage Contract Was Unconscionable

i. Unconscionability Analysis

Plaintiff asserts that Citizens' arbitrary expansion of the "default" definition to encompass crimes perpetrated against him—coupled with the allegations below—rendered the contract's default provision unconscionable because a contract cannot be used for an unlawful purpose. This stripped Citizens and its agent, Trustee Corps, of authority to initiate the foreclosure sale, voiding the sale outright. (See Yvanova v. New Century Mortg. Corp., 62 Cal. 4th 919, 935, 365 P.3d 845, 855–56 (2016): "[If a] foreclosing entity has acted without legal authority by pursuing a trustee's sale ... such an unauthorized sale constitutes a wrongful foreclosure.") The remedies provision of the contract with Citizens states: "REMEDIES: if an event or condition described in the termination and acceleration provision occurs, subject to any notice or other limitation of applicable law, we may do any combination of the following things: [...] (3) We may declare all sums owing under this agreement and any other agreements you have made with us to be immediately due and payable; (4) We may foreclose the security instrument; [...] (6) We may take any other action permitted by this agreement by law or in equity." The unconscionability stems from both the oppressive process of contract formation and the exploitative terms Citizens imposed post-formation, leveraging extrinsic fraud to justify the sale, in violation of public policy (Civ. Code § 1667).

"Unconscionability analysis begins with an inquiry into whether the contract is one of adhesion." Abramson v. Juniper Networks, Inc., 115 Cal. App. 4th 638, 655 (2004). Plaintiff contends this contract is a unilateral contract of adhesion: Citizens drafted it entirely, denied Plaintiff any chance to negotiate its terms, presented it on a rigid "take-it-or-leave-it" basis, and then unilaterally defined ambiguous terms—like "default"—without Plaintiff's input or consent. Worse, Citizens twisted this definition to abet crimes, enabling the theft of Plaintiff's money and property under color of law but without lawful authority, breaching the fundamental principle that contracts must align with public policy (Civ. Code § 1667). As in OTO, L.L.C. v. Kho, where an arbitration agreement's oppressiveness was tied to its adhesion nature, this contract's formation reflects a similar lack of meaningful choice (8 Cal.5th 111, 126, 251 Cal.Rptr.3d 714, 729 (2019)).

YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

"Unconscionability has procedural and substantive aspects, both of which must be present for a court to refuse to enforce a contract based on unconscionability." Orcilla v. Big Sur, Inc., 244 Cal. App. 4th 982, 996–97 (2016).

a. The Contract Was Procedurally Unconscionable

"Procedural unconscionability concerns the manner in which the contract was negotiated and the circumstances of the parties at that time." Abramson at 656. It refers to unfairness or oppression in the process of forming a contract, often focusing on the circumstances surrounding the agreement rather than its substantive terms. "Because the degree of procedural unconscionability influences enforceability, the Court must assess relevant factors to gauge its severity." Orcilla at 997. Plaintiff identifies two unconscionability factors here: oppression and surprise.

The Oppressive Component

"The oppression component arises from an inequality of bargaining power of the parties to the contract and an absence of real negotiation or a meaningful choice on the part of the weaker party." Abramson at 656.

The contract was oppressive because:

1. Pre-Printed, Non-Negotiable Terms: It was delivered on pre-printed forms, with Plaintiff neither informed of any right nor given any opportunity to negotiate its terms—purely a "take-it-or-leave-it" dictate. This mirrors Stirlen v. Supercuts, Inc., 51 Cal.App.4th 1519, 1534 (1997), where a standardized employment contract was deemed adhesive due to precluded negotiation, and OTO, L.L.C. v. Kho, where an arbitration agreement was oppressive as "Kho was required to sign the agreement to keep the job he had held for three years" with no negotiation opportunity (8 Cal.5th at 126, 251 Cal.Rptr.3d at 729). Animus moninis est anima scripti. The intention of the party is the soul of the instrument. Citizens' intent—to impose inflexible terms without room for Plaintiff's input—defines the oppressive soul of this contract.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

2. Disparity in Bargaining Power: Citizens wielded overwhelming bargaining power, unilaterally setting terms and conditions without involving Plaintiff in their formulation. As a major financial institution, Citizens controlled the lending process, leaving Plaintiff—a homeowner reliant on the loan—with no leverage to alter terms (Armendariz v. Foundation Health Psychcare Services, Inc., 24 Cal.4th 83, 115 (2000)). Similarly, in OTO, the Supreme Court found oppression where "One Toyota's representative presented the Agreement at Kho's workstation" with "an impression that no negotiation efforts would be tolerated," amplifying the power disparity (8 Cal.5th at 126, 251 Cal.Rptr.3d at 729).

3. Unilateral Definition of 'Default': The term "default" was not defined to include the conditions present (crimes) when Citizens declared it—nor did Defendant agree, or ever intend to agree, to a definition encompassing crimes as a trigger for default. Evidence (e.g., bankruptcy notices, Ex. [insert number]; Exhibit L, Deed of Trust) shows Citizens knew of the extrinsic fraud and state actions impairing Defendant's income yet imposed this interpretation post-formation, amplifying the oppression. California law deems such unilateral control over ambiguous terms oppressive (A & M Produce Co. v. FMC Corp., 135 Cal.App.3d 473, 486 (1982)). This aligns with Grand Prospect Partners, L.P. v. Ross Dress for Less, Inc., where the court noted oppression arises from "an inequality of bargaining power that results in no real negotiation and an absence of meaningful choice" (232 Cal.App.4th 1332, 1347, (2015)).

The oppression is heightened by Citizens' refusal to disclose the full definition of "default" (noted as "never been disclosed"), violating transparency required for fair bargaining (Perdue v. Crocker National Bank, 38 Cal.3d 913, 925 (1985)). Evidence of repeated notices (e.g., April 16, 2023 email to Khil, Ex. 3, p.43) shows Citizens ignored pleas for equitable consideration, exploiting its superior position. OTO reinforces this, noting "time spent reviewing the agreement would have reduced [Kho's] pay," further evidencing coercion (8 Cal.5th at 126).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

The Surprise Component

"The component of surprise arises when the challenged terms are 'hidden in a prolix printed form drafted by the party seeking to enforce them.'" Abramson at 656. Here, the real terms of the contract weren't hidden in fine print—they were completely hidden altogether. The term "default" was not defined to include the conditions present (crimes) when Citizens declared it—nor did Plaintiff agree, or ever intend to agree, to a definition encompassing crimes as a trigger for default. Animus moninis est anima scripti. The intention of the party is the soul of the instrument. Citizens exploited its lopsided power to arbitrarily redefine "default" to include the crimes alleged herein, using it as a pretext to declare a default and authorize a foreclosure sale.

The surprise isn't just in the omission of a specific crime-based default definition but in Citizens' post-formation reinterpretation of "failure to make a payment when due" to encompass an inability caused by extrinsic fraud and state misconduct—circumstances beyond Plaintiff's control and unforeseeable at signing in 2006. This aligns with Stirlen's finding of surprise where terms were unexpectedly harsh despite apparent clarity (51 Cal.App.4th at 1538).

The timeline (e.g., bankruptcy filings; Feb. 2, 2024 email) shows Citizens received detailed notice of the fraud and income impairment, yet sprang this expanded "default" definition without warning, amplifying the surprise (Scissor-Tail, Inc., 28 Cal.3d 807, 820 (1981)). California law holds that ambiguities in adhesion contracts must be construed against the drafter (Civ. Code § 1654; Sandquist v. Lebo Automotive, Inc., 1 Cal.5th 233, 247 (2016)). Citizens' failure to define "default" comprehensively in the Deed of Trust (Exhibit L, pp. 42-49), then exploiting that ambiguity to include criminal interference, constitutes a deceptive surprise (A & M Produce, 135 Cal.App.3d at 487).

b. The Contract Was Substantively Unconscionable

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

"Substantive unconscionability focuses on the terms of the agreement and whether those terms are so one-sided as to 'shock the conscience.' '[T]he paramount consideration in assessing conscionability is mutuality.' ... '[T]he determinative question is whether the contract terms are so harsh or one-sided that they lack basic fairness.'" Abramson v. Juniper Networks, Inc., 115 Cal. App. 4th 638, 656–58 (2004).

Plaintiff contends the undefined and arbitrary determination of the circumstances that would cause a default given the facts in this situation were so one-sided as to shock the conscience. Citizens and Trustee Corps knew, based on Plaintiff's bankruptcy and other disclosures, that unless he received judicial or other government intervention to stop the harm and damage being perpetrated on him, there was nothing else he could reasonably do. Rather than seek remedial intervention that wouldn't cause harm to Plaintiff, Citizens and Trustee Corps exploited the harm. Citizens' exploitative intent—to leverage fraud for profit—perverts the contract's soul, rendering it a tool of inequity rather than a fair agreement.

The substantive unfairness lies in Citizens' use of the "default" provision to capitalize on Plaintiff's victimization by state misconduct, imposing a forfeiture of his home (sold for $371,688 vs. $1.5 million fair market value) without mutuality or justification. This lacks the "modicum of bilaterality" required for fairness (Armendariz, 24 Cal.4th at 117-18). Under California law, contracts must be interpreted to ensure lawful execution: "A contract must receive such an interpretation as will make it lawful, operative, definite, reasonable, and capable of being carried into effect, if it can be done without violating the intention of the parties" (Civ. Code § 1643). Citizens' interpretation of default to include fraud-induced inability to pay contravenes this duty, rendering the enforcement unlawful and inequitable.

1. Exploitation of Extraordinary Circumstances: Citizens' interpretation—that default includes payment failure due to crimes Plaintiff didn't cause—shifts the entire risk of state misconduct onto him, a result so harsh it shocks the conscience (California Grocers Assn. v. Bank of America, 22 Cal.App.4th 205, 214 (1994)). Citizens knew this wasn't a typical default, yet proceeded without equitable relief.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

2. Lack of Mutuality: Unlike Stirlen (51 Cal.App.4th at 1541), where the employer retained court access while restricting employees, here Citizens retained foreclosure rights while Plaintiff had no reciprocal remedy against their reliance on fraud. This one-sidedness is egregious given the $1.18 million equity loss, a windfall for Citizens/Hou absent commercial justification (Armendariz, 24 Cal.4th at 120).

3. Illegal Purpose Renders Provision Void: The use of "default" to abet crimes (e.g., aiding Primary Defendants' fraud) violates public policy (Civ. Code § 1668; Wong v. Tenneco, Inc., 39 Cal.3d 126, 135 (1985)). This illegality nullifies Citizens' authority (Lewis & Queen v. N.M. Ball Sons, 48 Cal.2d 141, 150 (1957)).

4. Equity Theft as Evidence of Harshness: The sale's outcome—$371,688 versus $1.5 million—demonstrates a grossly disproportionate penalty, akin to Saika v. Gold's "heads I win, tails you lose" scenario (49 Cal.App.4th 1074, 1079 (1996)).

f. Citizens' and Trustee Corps' Interpretation Resulted in Using the Contract for an Unlawful Act

Citizens' and Trustee Corps' interpretation of "default" to include Plaintiff's inability to pay due to extrinsic fraud and state misconduct transformed the contract into a vehicle for an unlawful act, rendering it unenforceable under California law. Citizens relied on crimes—fraud, treason, and rights deprivations by state actors (e.g., Primary Defendants)—to declare a default and order a non-judicial foreclosure sale, despite knowing these acts caused Plaintiff's income impairment (e.g., bankruptcy filings, including Response to Citizens Motion for Relief from Stay, Declared Statement of Intent (Ex.3, pp.37-42), emails to Khil, Citizens, Trustee Corps). This misuse aligns with Kashani v. Tsann Kuen China Enterprise Co., Ltd., where a contract was deemed illegal for violating federal trade sanctions (118 Cal.App.4th 531, 13 Cal.Rptr.3d 174 (2004)).

Kashani holds that "an illegal contract may not serve as the foundation of any action, either in law or in equity" (118 Cal.App.4th at 541, 13 Cal.Rptr.3d at 180), and when its object violates law, it is void (Civ. Code §§ 1550, 1598). Here, Citizens' use of "default" to exploit fraud-induced payment failure made the contract's object—foreclosure and equity theft—

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

unlawful, violating Plaintiff's rights to due process and property (Cal. Const., Art. I, § 7; Yvanova, 62 Cal.4th at 935), and exceeding the contract's explicit legal limits requiring actions to be "subject to any notice or other limitation of applicable law."

Moreover, Citizens' contract is void because it involves the commission of a crime, which is considered malum in se (inherently immoral). As stated in Tufeld Corp. v. Beverly Hills Gateway, L.P., 86 Cal. App. 5th 12, 28, (2022), Courts consider whether a contract is malum in se or merely malum prohibitum (illegal by statute) when deciding if it is void or voidable. A contract that is malum in se is absolutely void. The Court in Vitek, Inc. v. Alvarado Ice Palace, Inc., 34 Cal. App. 3d 586, 593 (1973), further clarified that "[a]greements malum in se include all those of an immoral character, those which are inequities in themselves, and those opposed to sound public policy or designed to further a crime or obstruct justice." Here, Citizens' reliance on crimes to declare a default and foreclose renders the contract void as it was designed to further criminal acts (e.g., fraud, theft, conspiracy) and obstruct justice by denying Plaintiff a judicial remedy. This malum in se character—rooted in its immoral exploitation of state-perpetrated fraud—nullifies the contract entirely, stripping Citizens of any authority to proceed with the sale.

g. Plaintiff Denied Redemption

Under California Civil Code § 2924c, a debtor has the right to cure a default and reinstate the loan by paying the delinquent amounts within three months of the notice of default. However, in this case, the crimes perpetrated against Plaintiff rendered the three-month redemption period a farce. Plaintiff was denied any meaningful opportunity to redeem his property because the crimes directly impaired his ability to make payments or secure the necessary funds. Citizens, fully aware of Plaintiff's situation through its involvement in his bankruptcy case and repeated notices evidence above, knew that Plaintiff had no means or ability to exercise his right to redemption. This denial of redemption, caused by the very crimes Citizens exploited, further demonstrates the unconscionability and illegality of the foreclosure sale.

h. Post-Sale Actions and Hou's Status as a BFP

Recall that Paloci told Plaintiff Hou had no notice of the crimes herein before bidding on the property. On February 4, 2025, Plaintiff sent Paloci an email with two screenshots from Google searches he had made on February 3, 2025. The first was a search of "818 Spirit Costa Mesa" (the foreclosure property address). The second, from a search of "Adam Bereki" (Plaintiff's name). In both searches, Google returned a link to U.S. Supreme Court case #22A426 on the first page. The case involved a challenge to Citibank's non-judicial foreclosure sale and the other crimes alleged herein. See images below or (Ex. 4, pp.9-10, 16-18).

Paloci responded to the February 4th email on February 5th (Ex. 4, pp.10-11). Among other responses, he stated, "In fact, I would go so far as to say that even if I had read every page of every lawsuit you have open – employing maximum due diligence – it would not dissuade me from buying your house at auction. I might bid less because of the litigation risk, but legally I would believe to be on solid ground. Your position that the foreclosure is connected to your construction litigation lawsuit is simply without merit. You might have a right to sue your former customer for money damages as a consequence of the foreclosure (though probably you do not), but that isn't going to stop a lender unrelated to that lawsuit from foreclosing. I'm going to file an unlawful detainer action on Friday and would have you begin to consider your options."

On February 4, 2025, Plaintiff also emailed Trustee Corps, stating: "I'm writing to obtain copies of documents pertaining to the recent foreclosure sale of my home at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, California. Could you please provide: 1) a copy of the Deed of Trustee sale (either the unrecorded one that was sent to the new buyer or the recorded one if you have it) 2) any documents or other information that you provided notice of the pending litigation involving the property and/or my rights that affect the property to the potential buyers, including Mr. Hou." He forwarded Paloci the email (Ex. 4, pp.24-26). Paloci responded on February 5th, stating, "Trustee Corps isn't required to provide notice of pending litigation on the property. Your suggestion that Trustee Corps owes a duty to provide this information is without merit. Merely having filed a lawsuit means nothing. Anyone can sue anyone for anything. If you had a lis pendens or a stay (either in state court or BK court), then they would have to stop (not have a sale) and inform the public. You admitted to me on the phone yesterday that you had neither of these at the time of the sale." Trustee Corps responded on February 7, 2025, stating, "[...] Our office is not required to provide any information related to the property to potential buyers, they must do their own due diligence" (Ex.4, p.24).

i. Plaintiff Offers to Do Equity with Hou by Returning Surplus Funds. Hou Refuses and Commences Unlawful Detainer Suit

On February 9, 2025, Plaintiff sent Hou and Paloci the following email, offering to do equity with Hou: "I just received notice of approx. $320k in surplus funds. Would you like to make arrangements to have those returned to your client based on the fraud that was

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

perpetrated to orchestrate the foreclosure sale? Please let me know. I'm happy to help mitigate any damages that may have been caused to him that I can help with."

On February 17, 2025, Paloci responded on behalf of Hou, refusing to do equity: "No. There is no way that is going to happen. The foreclosure sale is final and that isn't going to change. If there are surplus funds, they are yours – after fees and costs are paid. [...] You misstate and misrepresent the facts to say that my client was a party to the fraud you allege against your business clients who sued you, and you misstate and misinterpret the law to declare that the foreclosure sale to my client can be vacated because of fraud that you allege was committed by persons who have nothing to do with the underlying loan. I submit that you are making a bad situation for yourself worse by stubbornly clinging to concepts of law that are flatly incorrect" (Ex. 4, p.19).

On February 20, 2025, Plaintiff responded to Paloci and Hou by email: "I never stated that I felt Canjian was a party to the fraud perpetrated on me by my company's former clients and the Courts and other public officials. That is your invention entirely! I believed you when you said you and Canjian had no knowledge of the pending litigation and fraud at the time of purchase. This being said, I also feel that Canjian was required to do his own due diligence prior to engaging in the risky business of buying foreclosure sales. Even elementary research on Google would have revealed the fraud and continuing deprivation of my rights associated with the property. Despite Canjian's apparent lack of diligence, I offered (and continue to offer) to do equity with Canjian and return the surplus money to him when I obtain it. I have no interest in harming him or anyone else. I'm interested in fundamental fairness and following the law/equity. All the foregoing being said, you and Canjian have been duly notified of the situation and can choose which avenue you want to take. Either you want to take advantage of the fraud and other crimes that have been perpetrated on me to gain a civil advantage and declare the property yours, or we can work together to obtain justice, with you being compensated for any harm that may have been caused. If you refuse to do adequate research into the fraud and legitimate deprivation of rights claims that I have and decide it's all just bullshit I'm trying to convince myself of, that's your prerogative. As I've shared before, that decision may have consequences as it interferes with my rights and property. In my opinion, if you follow that course, you may become aiders and abettors in the original fraud and other crimes (because you now have notice of the situation and are refusing to do the right thing). I interpreted your last email to mean that you did not wish to do equity with me when you said 'there is no way that [doing equity with me by accepting the surplus funds and arranging to reverse the sale] is going to happen'. If I misinterpreted, please inform me immediately so that I don't pursue claims against Henry D. Paloci III, P.A., Henry D. Paloci, and Canjian Hou. Please be clear on your intentions so that I can determine how to proceed. I remain open and available to any reasonable settlement discussions." (Ex. 4, p.23).

On March 1, 2025, Plaintiff heard a knock on his front door. When he answered, a man handed him papers consisting of a summons and a copy of an unlawful detainer complaint post-foreclosure in the Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, case #30-2015-01459684, filed on February 11, 2025; Ex. 4, pp.27-47). The verified complaint alleged that Hou owned the property (¶8) and was entitled to it (¶4, ¶11). The demand for relief consisted of judgment in Hou's favor for possession of the property, daily damages at the rate of $166 per day against Plaintiff, statutory damages in the amount of $600, costs of suit, and all other relief the Court deemed reasonable and just.

ii. Hou Lacks Standing to Seek Relief Under His Unlawful Detainer Suit Due to the Illegal Foreclosure Sale

Plaintiff contends that Hou lacks standing to invoke this Court's jurisdiction for relief under his unlawful detainer suit, filed February 11, 2025, because his claim to the property arises from an illegal transaction—the fraudulent and unauthorized foreclosure sale. This is a direct challenge to the Court's jurisdiction over Hou's UD action. In Asher v. Johnson, 26 Cal. App. 2d 403, 410-11 (1938), the California Court of Appeal held that a party to an illegal transaction cannot come into court to enforce rights derived from it, stating: "No principle of law is better settled than that a party to an illegal contract cannot come into a court of law and ask to have his illegal objects carried out; nor can he set up a case in which he must necessarily disclose an illegal purpose as the groundwork of his claim." The court emphasized that when a plaintiff's case requires revealing an illegal act as its foundation, "the court will not assist him, whatever his claim in justice may be upon the defendant" (Id. at 416, quoting Berka v. Woodward, 125 Cal. 119, 127 (1899)).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Here, Hou's UD suit hinges on the validity of the foreclosure sale, which Plaintiff alleges was void due to fraud, crimes, and Citizens' lack of authority (see supra, "The Unlawfulness of the Sale"). Hou's title—recorded January 30, 2025 (Ex. 3, pp.16-23) stems directly from this illegal sale, inseparable from the underlying misconduct (Asher, 26 Cal. App. 2d at 415 ("If a connection between the original illegal transaction and a new promise can be traced ... it cannot form the basis of a recovery")). To establish his right to possession, Hou must rely on the Trustee's Deed, which Plaintiff contends is a product of an unlawful contract exploited by Citizens to abet crimes (e.g., fraud, theft, conspiracy). Asher bars such reliance, as "the test ... is whether the plaintiff requires the aid of the illegal transaction to establish his case" (Id. at 416-17). Hou cannot prove ownership without invoking the tainted sale, stripping him of standing to seek judicial relief.

This jurisdictional defect is fatal to Hou's UD action. Courts lack authority to enforce rights rooted in illegality (Asher, 26 Cal. App. 2d at 410; Yvanova v. New Century Mortg. Corp., 62 Cal. 4th 919, 935 (2016) (unauthorized sale is void)). Hou's refusal to do equity post-notice and pursuit of eviction despite knowledge of the fraud further align him with the unlawful scheme, rendering his claim malum in se—void as inherently immoral (Vitek, Inc. v. Alvarado Ice Palace, Inc., 34 Cal. App. 3d 586, 593 (1973)). Thus, this Court must dismiss Hou's UD suit for lack of jurisdiction, as equity and law refuse to aid a claimant profiting from an illegal foreclosure.

Moreover, despite the fact that Hou and Paloci have been repeatedly informed of Plaintiff's intent to protect his rights and property, they decided to pursue summary unlawful detainer proceedings, just as Citizens did. The point is obvious: to continue to ensure that Plaintiff isn't heard and that his money and property are taken without a judicial proceeding where his underlying issues will be addressed. See, e.g., Cheney v. Trauzettel, 9 Cal. 2d 158, 159 (1937), where the California Supreme Court emphasized the summary nature of unlawful detainer proceedings, stating, "The purpose of the unlawful detainer statutes is to provide the landlord with a summary, expeditious way of getting back his property," and clarified that "the proceeding is not designed to settle disputes concerning the title to the property." By leveraging this summary process, Hou and Paloci seek to bypass a full adjudication of Plaintiff's claims, perpetuating the harm initiated by Citizens and the Primary Defendants.

ADAM A. BEREKI

iii. Defendant Has Standing to Challenge the Wrongful Foreclosure Sale

In his February 17, 2025 email response to Plaintiff, Paloci stated: "I am of the opinion that in ex parte application to enjoin a foreclosure sale by you is frivolous and wholly without merit. Among other things, you lack standing because you no longer own the property." Under California law, a borrower has standing to challenge a foreclosure sale initiated by an entity lacking authority to do so. Yvanova v. New Century Mortgage Corp., 62 Cal. 4th 919, 937 (2016) (holding that a defaulting borrower whose property was sold in a nonjudicial foreclosure initiated by an unauthorized entity suffered "an injury sufficiently concrete and personal to provide standing"). The borrower "has lost ownership to the home," an event that would not have occurred absent the unauthorized foreclosure. Id. at 937. The fact that the borrower defaulted does not negate standing when the sale was void due to lack of authority. Id. at 939.

Moreover, "the foreclosure process cannot be used to deprive the trustor of his or her property fraudulently or unfairly, and the court will review the proceedings carefully to see that the rights of the trustor are fully protected." 5 Cal. Real Est. § 13:255 (4th ed.) (citing Py v. Pleitner, 70 Cal. App. 2d 576, 579 (1945): a trustee's sale under a deed of trust "is open to attack in a court of equity and the court will view the proceedings with extreme care to see that the rights of the trustor are fully protected").

iv. Hou is Not a Bona Fide Purchaser

Throughout Plaintiff's phone and email exchanges with Paloci, Paloci insisted—despite notice of fraud and other crimes—that Hou was a bona fide purchaser ("BFP"), rendering Plaintiff's claims meritless. See, e.g., email response dated February 17, 2025: "your efforts to unwind the sale to my client are also frivolous and without merit."

Under California law, a BFP is a buyer who purchases property in good faith, for value, and without notice of defects clouding the title—a shield designed to protect innocent purchasers from prior unrecorded claims (Bishop v. Superior Court, 228 Cal. App. 4th 1098, 1106 (2014) ("A bona fide purchaser is one who pays value for property without notice of any adverse interest or claim")). This status is acquired only if the buyer lacks actual, constructive, or inquiry notice (Walters v. Calderon, 25 Cal. App. 3d 503, 509 (1972) ("Good faith requires absence of notice")). California's race-notice statute codifies this: a subsequent purchaser prevails only if they record first and take without notice (Cal. Civ. Code § 1107). Notice includes: (1) actual knowledge (Dreyfuss v. Union Bank of California, 24 Cal. 4th 400, 411 (2000)); (2) constructive notice from recorded documents (Cal. Civ. Code § 1213); or (3) inquiry notice from facts that demand investigation (Raab v. Casper, 51 Cal. App. 3d 866, 872 (1975) ("Facts sufficient to put a prudent person on inquiry" impute notice)).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Hou does not qualify as a BFP. Plaintiff contends that Google searches for his name or the property—accessible to Hou before bidding—would have revealed the fraud, crimes, and litigation (e.g., bankruptcy and U.S. Supreme Court case #22A426) "inquiry notice" affecting the title. Other bidders' actions bolster this: one contacted Plaintiff after researching the bankruptcy, showing the information was readily discoverable. Hou also could have called Plaintiff to inquire– an elementary tool of investigation. Hou's failure to take reasonable, elementary investigation steps to uncover these red flags suggests either willful ignorance or a lack of diligence incompatible with good faith (Lewis v. Superior Court, 30 Cal. App. 4th 1850, 1867 (1994) ("A buyer who ignores obvious warning signs cannot claim BFP status")). Foreclosure buyers, especially, face a heightened duty to investigate due to the "risky business" of distressed sales (First Fid. Thrift & Loan Assn. v. Alliance Bank, 60 Cal. App. 4th 1433, 1445 (1998) ("A foreclosure buyer takes subject to risks discoverable by reasonable diligence")). Hou's inaction and apparent failure of reasonable diligence imputes inquiry notice, stripping him of BFP protection and leaving him subject to the title's defects.

Hou cannot be a BFP two other reasons. First, the BFP doctrine requires a valid foreclosure; fraud or crimes undermining the lender's authority to declare default or sell negate this (Residential Capital v. Cal-Western Reconveyance Corp., 108 Cal. App. 4th 807, 821 (2003) ("BFP status assumes a lawful sale")). Second, the statutory presumption of a valid sale under Cal. Civ. Code § 2924 applies only to procedural irregularities, not substantive challenges like fraud or wrongful foreclosure (Orcilla v. Big Sur, Inc., 244 Cal. App. 4th 982, 1000 (2016) ("Section 2924's presumption for BFPs covers only statutory compliance, not underlying validity")). Plaintiff's claims—fraud, wrongful foreclosure, conspiracy, unconscionability, and equitable relief—target the sale's foundation, not its mechanics, and thus persist under Orcilla.

ADAM A. BEREKI

Additionally, Constitutional rights trump statutory presumptions: "Where rights secured by the Constitution are involved, there can be no rulemaking or legislation that would abrogate them" (Miranda v. Arizona, 384 U.S. 436, 491 (1966)). Plaintiff alleges due process violations tied to the sale's causation chain, which must be adjudicated before validating the default or sale. Hou's BFP claim cannot override these rights.

In summary, Plaintiff asserts Hou is not a BFP because: (1) neither Citizens nor the Trustee had authority to foreclose; (2) the sale stemmed from fraud, crimes, and due process violations; and (3) a simple Google search would have revealed this to a diligent bidder. California law demands foreclosure buyers inquire into title validity (Nguyen v. Calhoun, 105 Cal. App. 4th 428, 443 (2003) ("A foreclosure purchaser takes subject to defects discoverable by reasonable inquiry")). The Supreme Court case's public nature was a glaring flag Hou ignored, disqualifying him (Lewis, 30 Cal. App. 4th at 1867). Hou's refusal to act equitably post-notice further undermines his good faith.

a. Distinction Between Actual and Constructive Knowledge

As established in RIDEC LLC v. Hinkle, 92 Cal.App.5th 1182 (2023), the distinction between actual and constructive knowledge is critical in determining whether a party can claim rights to property despite defects in prior proceedings. Actual knowledge exists when a person is subjectively aware of a fact, whereas constructive knowledge is imputed when a person is deemed to be aware of a fact due to circumstances that would lead to that fact upon reasonable inquiry or through properly recorded documents. Id. at 1197-98.

In RIDEC LLC v. Hinkle, the Court held that the lender did not have actual or constructive knowledge of defects in a quiet title judgment because it lacked subjective awareness of the fraud and there were no recorded documents or circumstances that would have led to such knowledge upon reasonable inquiry. Id. at 1199-1200. This distinction is directly applicable here.

ADAM A. BEREKI

Citizens Bank and Trustee Corps had actual knowledge of the fraud and crimes affecting Plaintiff's ability to pay due to the multiple notices provided during bankruptcy proceedings and direct communications. Their subjective awareness of these facts, as evidenced by Plaintiff's repeated notifications, constitutes actual knowledge under California law. Similarly, Paloci and Hou were explicitly informed of the situation post-sale and chose to ignore it, demonstrating actual knowledge of the fraud and crimes.

This actual knowledge disqualifies Hou from claiming BFP status, as BFP protection requires the absence of both actual and constructive notice. Melendrez, 127 Cal. App. 4th at 1251. The notices provided to Citizens, Trustee Corps, Paloci, and Hou were direct and explicit, leaving no room for mere constructive notice. Their refusal to act on this knowledge further underscores their bad faith and complicity in the ongoing harm.

2. The Second Element (of an Equitable Action to Set Aside Foreclosure Sale): Prejudice or Harm

Plaintiff was prejudiced and harmed by the Trustee's sale, resulting in the following damages:

1. Equity Theft: The sale resulted in a loss of approximately $1.18 million in home equity, as the property, valued at $1.5 million, was sold for $371,688. If the Court refuses to reverse the sale, Plaintiff requests leave of Court to have a professional appraisal conducted for evidentiary purposes before the Court determines the exact amount of damages. If the Court refuses to reverse the sale, Plaintiff contends these damages should be attributed to Primary Defendants and that this amount should be considered an additional penalty or forfeiture in the chain of causation to punish him for violating the licensing laws.

2. Loss of Property: Plaintiff lost constructive possession of his home due to the unlawful foreclosure.

ADAM A. BEREKI

POWERED BY PEANUT

3. Time and Expense: Plaintiff incurred significant time and expense damages, plus additional costs, defending against the foreclosure and subsequent eviction proceedings.

a. Time and Expenses

Plaintiff's Time

On information and belief, Trustee Corps filed the Notice of Default and Election to Sell Under Deed of Trust on July 10, 2024 (2024000173067, Online Records OC Clerk-Recorder; Ex. 3, pp.13-15).

On information and belief, the Notice of Sale was filed on October 10, 2024 (Online Records, OC Clerk-Recorder 2024000364074).

The Trustee Sale date was scheduled for and purportedly occurred on November 18, 2024 (Ex. 3, p.17, 16-23).

Plaintiff spent on average eight hours per day, every weekday from: 1) November 1, 2024 through December 22, 2024 (36 week days); and, 2) every week day from December 30, 2024 through February 3, 2025 (27 week days) researching law and preparing his defense, including the creation of this pleading with regard to claims against Citizens and Trustee Corps. See also U.S. District Court for the Central Dist. of CA Case No. 8:24-CV-02509. Plaintiff's time is $300 per hour. $300/hr. * 8 hours * 63 days= $151,200.

Plaintiff received the Notice of Eviction on February 3, 2025. He spent, on average, six hours per day, every day of the week from February 4, 2025, through March 11, 2025 (36 calendar days) researching law and preparing his defense, including the creation of this pleading, with regard to claims against Paloci and Hou. Plaintiff's time is $300 per hour. $300/hr. * 6 hours * 36 days = $64,800. These damages are a direct and proximate result of Hou and Paloci's refusal to cease and desist their unlawful behavior and do equity with Plaintiff.

ADAM A. BEREKI

Expenses

On March 3, 2025, Plaintiff contacted Citizens and received a "Transaction History" for the loan from present day back to March 1, 2020. The Transaction History provided the following details (according to Plaintiff's interpretation):

$62,723.24 Total Amount of Foreclosure Sale Labeled As: "Misc. Expense Repayment" (Ex.3, p.72) Cf. $62,523.24 on Trustees Deed Upon Sale (Ex.3, p.16)
-$34,631.72 Labeled As: "Foreclosed" and "Principal Balance" (Ex. 3, p.72)
=$28,091.52

The Principal Balance was subtracted from the Total Amount of the Foreclosure Sale to achieve the amount of $28,091.52 that Plaintiff was charged beyond the amount due according to the contract ("Overage"). Notably, the overage charges are not fully stated or defined on this spreadsheet. From this amount, Plaintiff deducted the payment for property taxes:

$28,091.52
-$9681.85 Labeled As: Escrow Advance Recovery (Ex. 3, p.72). (= County Tax $8422.60 + Tax Penalty $1259.25 | 11/23/21)
=18,409.67 Un-itemized Fees and Costs

From this amount, Plaintiff added the tax penalty back because this was not his fault or obligation.

18,409.67 Un-itemized Fees and Costs
+$1,259.25 Tax Penalty
=$19,668.92 Total Damages/ Disputed by Plaintiff.

Plaintiff contends, that based on the foregoing, Citizens charged him $19,668.92 in fees, penalties, and other un-itemized/undefined charges pursuant to its declaration of default and that these fees should be attributable to Primary Defendants, Citizens, or as the Court sees fit, as damages to Plaintiff whether the Court reverses the sale or not. Plaintiff

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

suggests several options for the Court to handle these fees. In the first option, the Court could deny Citizens' fees and costs, upon their full disclosure to the Court, because they are attributed to Citizens' unlawful acts. The second option is to require Primary Defendants to pay the fees and costs. In either situation, Plaintiff moves the Court to Order Citizens to produce a full statement of account, itemizing every debit and credit pertaining to the account/loan with details explaining every debit and credit. (Plaintiff suspects this accounting will reveal, among other things, additional Defendants, such as the law firm of Malcolm and Cisneros, who Plaintiff believes may have participated in these unlawful acts beyond merely representing Citizens.)

Due to the facts that: (1) damages and costs continue to accrue daily as the crimes are ongoing; (2) the time constraints in filing this action under duress and coercion; and, (3) the fact that Plaintiff is unable to provide an accounting of other expenses not yet known to him, he will submit an updated accounting as soon as possible.

Offsets

Plaintiff contends his damages claims should be offset against any obligation(s) owed by Plaintiff to Citizens to determine the amount he is owed for damages.

3. The Third Element (of an Equitable Action to Set Aside Foreclosure Sale): Tender or Excuse from Tender

Plaintiff believes is excused from tendering the amount of the secured indebtedness because the sale was void due to fraud and lack of authority. California law excuses tender where the foreclosure sale is void, as no valid debt obligation exists to satisfy (Lona v. Citibank, N.A., 202 Cal.App.4th 89, 112-13 (2011)). The unconscionable contract and illegal actions of Citizens and Trustee Corps render the sale void ab initio, negating any tender requirement. See also Alvarez v. BAC Home Loans Servicing, L.P., 228 Cal.App.4th 941, 951 (2014) ("[t]he law does not require [a] plaintiff to tender the purchase price to a trustee who has no right to sell the property at all"); Orcilla v. Big Sur, Inc., 244 Cal. App. 4th 982, 1004 (2016) (tender not required if trustee's deed is void on its face); Moeller v. Lien, 25 Cal.App.4th 822, 830 (1994) (tender requirement would thwart the intent of Civil Code § 2924c by failing to "protect the debtor/trustor from a wrongful loss of the property").

The Principles of Equity Require This Sale Must Be Set Aside

Equity demands that the foreclosure sale be set aside due to the extraordinary circumstances of this case. In Bisno v. Sax, 175 Cal.App.2d 714, 346 P.2d 814 (1959), the Court held that equity will relieve a debtor from a default and prevent a foreclosure sale when enforcing such a sale would constitute an unjust penalty or forfeiture. The Court emphasized that "equity will intervene to prevent a forfeiture or penalty when the hardship to the debtor outweighs the creditor's claim" (Id. at 727). Here, the $1.18 million equity loss far outweighs Citizens' $31,901.33 claim, making the sale a disproportionate penalty. As Bisno noted, "a penalty need not take the form of a stipulated fixed sum; any provision by which money or property would be forfeited without regard to the actual damage suffered would be an unenforceable penalty" (Id. at 725). The massive equity theft here exemplifies such an unenforceable penalty.

Moreover, Bisno underscores that "equity does not wait upon precedent which exactly squares with the facts in controversy, but will assert itself in those situations where right and justice would be defeated but for its intervention" (Id. at 728). The crimes and fraud that led to Plaintiff's purported default—coupled with Citizens' bad faith in exploiting those crimes—cry out for equitable relief. The Court's duty is to prevent the "enforcement of an acceleration clause which will work great hardship on the debtor" (Id. at 726), especially when the creditor has acted unconscionably. In Bisno, the court relieved the plaintiffs from a foreclosure sale because all defaults had been cured by trial, and enforcing the sale would have been a forfeiture (Id. at 729-30). Similarly, here, equity must intervene to prevent the forfeiture of Plaintiff's home based on a purported default that he disputes and could not prevent due to criminal acts.

The Bisno court further stated, "let the hardship be strong enough, and equity will find a way, though many a formula of inaction may seem to bar the path" (Id. at 728, quoting Cardozo, J., dissenting in Graf v. Hope Bldg. Corp., 254 N.Y. 1, 171 N.E. 884). Plaintiff's hardship—loss of his home and $1.18 million in equity due to crimes Citizens knowingly exploited—is profound, and equity must vacate this sale to prevent an unconscionable injustice.

The Alternative

Paloci previously asserted to Plaintiff by email that Hou is entitled to the property and that the proper remedy for Plaintiff is to seek damages against Primary Defendants. The absurdity of this assertion becomes obvious with a simple inquiry into how it would play out.

While reversing the sale may result in some minor financial harm to Hou – which is arguable given his knowledge of the situation yet his decision to purchase the property given the risky business of buying foreclosure sales and his refusal to do equity with Plaintiff – the alternative of upholding the sale results in serious irreparable harm and damages to Plaintiff and significant financial implications for the Primary Defendants. In addition to the previously alleged of over 1.18 million dollars for home equity theft, Plaintiff also seeks damages for: (1) $200,000 (an amount to be proved upon further evidence) for his loss in tax base value over the next thirty years, as replacing the Spirit home (purchased for around $600,000) would require purchasing a comparable home at $1.5 million, significantly increasing his tax rate; and, (2) $5,000 for moving expenses. The total damages are estimated to be in excess of 1.38 million dollars. There is no need for this Court to create this harm when it can be avoided by simply reversing what has been done. Plaintiff remains in his home and would not suffer any loses other than those alleged. Hou would suffer minor financial harm as determined by the Court and be entitled to a complete refund under equity.

Request for Declaratory Relief

Plaintiff requests the Honorable Judge assigned to this case make the following findings of fact and/or conclusions of law and issue the following Orders:

1. declare under the circumstances Plaintiff is not required to post bond or other security;
2. declare that mortgage contract between Plaintiff and Citizens is a contract of adhesion;
3. declare that defining the mortgage contract term "default" to include the crimes as alleged herein was: (1) arbitrary; (2) without Plaintiff's consent; (3) procedurally and substantively unconscionable; and, (4) in violation of a law resulting in a void and unenforceable contract provision as a means to authorize a non-judicial foreclosure sale of Plaintiff's property;

4. declare that the non-judicial foreclosure sale commenced by Citizens and Trustee Corps on November 18, 2024, of Plaintiff's property is void;
5. Order the Clerk-Recorder for the County of Orange to cancel the Trustees Deed of Sale, Instrument Number, 2025000040781, (Ex.3, pp.16-23);
6. Declare that Hou is not a bona fide purchaser based on: (1) the fact that the issues surrounding the property could reasonably have been discovered by him by either calling Plaintiff or performing a basic search on Google for the property address or Plaintiff's name; and/or (2) that Citizens and Trustee Corps lacked authority to sell Plaintiff's home;
7. declare that as a result of the foregoing: (1) Hou lacks standing to state a claim pursuant to Cal. Code of Civil Proc. 1161a in the Unlawful Detainer proceedings in case no. 30-2025-01459684; and (2) that the case is dismissed with prejudice;
8. declare that Citizens: (1) had a duty to act in good faith and fair dealing with Plaintiff; (2) that Citizens breached this duty by failing to act in good faith and fair dealing and/or breached its duties under the contract for all the reasons the Court finds reasonable and just; and, (4) was therefore without authority to order Trustee Corps to commence the non-judicial foreclosure sale and sell the Plaintiff's home;
9. declare that Trustee Corps: (1) had a duty to act in good faith and dealing with Plaintiff; (2) that Trustee Corps breached this duty by failing to act in good faith and fair dealing and/or breached its duties under the contract for all the reasons the Court finds reasonable and just; and, (3) was therefore without authority to sell Plaintiff's home;
10. declare that Citizens: (1) had a duty to under Civil Code 1708 "to abstain from injuring [Plaintiff's] person or property ...or infringing upon any of his rights"; (2) that Citizens breached this duty for all the reasons the Court finds reasonable and just; (3) that as a result, Citizens lacked authority to declare a default and/or to order Trustee Corps to commence the non-judicial foreclosure sale and sell Plaintiff's home;
11. declare that Trustee Corps: (1) had a duty to under Civil Code 1708 "to abstain from injuring [Plaintiff's] person or property ...or infringing upon any of his rights"; (2) that

Trustee Corps breached this duty for all the reasons the Court finds reasonable and just; (3) that as a result, Trustee lacked authority sell Plaintiff's home;

12. declare: (1) that Citizens and Trustee Corps had actual knowledge of Plaintiff's peril including the fraud, crimes, repeated denial of judicial process, and deprivations of Constitutionally protected rights; (2) that because they refused to seek other remedial relief that would not further harm him and instead chose to use non-judicial foreclosure proceedings to sell him that would further deny him due/judicial process, steal his property, and transfer more than an estimated $1.18 million dollars in home equity to Hou; that they conspired to aid and abet Principal Defendants in each and every crime and deprivation of rights and are thereby liable for damages;
13. that the surplus funds be returned to Hou, less the amount awarded to Plaintiff and that this amount be paid to Hou within five business days.
14. (Plaintiff has run out of time to finish this request and will Amend it as soon as possible; see other claims and Complaint and Cross-Complaint).
15. All other relief the Court deems reasonable and just

COMPLAINT & CROSS-COMPLAINT

As previously alleged, all statements made in this action are incorporated, where applicable, with all claims for relief.

In the event the Court does not grant Plaintiff equitable relief to restore all rights and property lost as a result of the aforementioned allegations, any rights and property not restored rae intended to be included in this Complaint/Cross-Complaint as a claim for relief.

Any claims for relief in this complaint that are redundant based on the Court awarding full restoration of all rights and property will be withdrawn.

On September 20, 2017, shortly after trial and Judgment had been issued by Chaffee, Plaintiff emailed Bissell informing him/the Humphreys of the lack of subject matter jurisdiction of the Court and the Humphreys failure to sustain their burden of proof for standing. Bissell replied "Mr. Bereki: Thank you for your clarification and the opportunity to avoid the trouble that may befall me as a result of the trial conducted in this matter. As I remain unpersuaded by your position, I suppose I (and I guess Judge Chaffee as well) will just have to take my chances that the court will have the same view of your argument as I do."

STATUTES OF LIMITATION:
INAPPLICABLE OR EQUITABLY TOLLED FOR ALL CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

Despite the procedural history detailed in this action, Plaintiff asserts that any applicable statutes of limitation for the claims for relief herein are either inapplicable or equitably tolled due to Defendants' ongoing misconduct and the systemic denial of a fair forum for redress. Plaintiff has never been truly heard in any court of California or the United States, nor in any other branch of government thereof. The mere occurrence of procedural measures and decisions by public officials purportedly acting under color of law does not constitute a genuine hearing or adjudication of Plaintiff's rights. As alleged throughout this complaint, Defendants—including the Primary Defendants (David Chaffee, James Di Cesare, Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, Kathleen O'Leary, William Bissell, et al.), Citizens Bank N.A., Trustee Corps, Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, and Henry D. Paloci III, P.A.—have individually and collectively engaged in a persistent conspiracy to deny Plaintiff a full, fair, impartial, and independent hearing, as evidenced by the imposition of a void $930,000 judgment (Case No. 30-2015-00805807), the fraudulent foreclosure sale of his home on November 18, 2024 (Ex. 3, pp. 16-23), and the continued pursuit of unlawful detainer proceedings (Case No. 30-2015-01459684, filed February 11, 2025). This ongoing deprivation of due process, rooted in extrinsic fraud and structural jurisdictional errors, renders traditional limitation periods inapplicable or subject to tolling.

In civil rights suits, federal courts apply state tolling rules unless inconsistent with federal law. Guerrero v. Gates, 442 F.3d 697, 706 (9th Cir. 2006). California recognizes equitable tolling when a plaintiff, possessing multiple legal remedies, reasonably and in good faith pursues one designed to lessen the extent of his injuries or damages, thereby allowing the statutory period to run. Daviton v. Columbia/HCA Healthcare Corp., 241 F.3d 1131, 1137 (9th Cir. 2001) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted). Plaintiff has made an extraordinary effort to mitigate his injuries by seeking relief across all branches of California and United States government—judicial, executive, and legislative—as documented herein and repeated notices to Defendants (e.g., April 16, 2023 email to Khil; February 4, 2025 email to Paloci, Ex. 4, pp. 9-10; serving Primary Defendants with previous judicial complaints– see Proofs of Service for each action, Exhibit A). Despite these diligent efforts, he has been denied relief at every turn, including through judicial affirmances tainted by fraud (e.g., Fourth District Court of Appeal Case No. G055075) and the refusal of equitable consideration by Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou, and Paloci (e.g., February 17, 2025 email, Ex. 4, p. 19). This relentless pursuit of remedies, met with systemic obstruction, warrants equitable tolling under California law, as Plaintiff's actions were reasonable and aimed at reducing the harm now quantified at over 6 million dollars.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Moreover, statutes of limitation cannot apply when no adequate forum for relief is available or has been effectively denied. The U.S. Supreme Court has recognized that due process requires "an opportunity ... granted at a meaningful time and in a meaningful manner" for a hearing appropriate to the case. Armstrong v. Manzo, 380 U.S. 545, 552 (1965). Here, Plaintiff's inability to secure a fair tribunal—due to Defendants' conspiracy to pervert justice—nullifies any limitation period until such a forum exists. California courts similarly hold that statutes of limitation are tolled where access to justice is obstructed by fraud or concealment. Bernson v. Browning-Ferris Indus., 7 Cal. 4th 926, 931 (1994) (tolling applies when defendant's fraudulent concealment prevents timely filing).

Additionally, statutes of limitation begin to run only when a crime or wrong is complete, yet Plaintiff alleges an ongoing conspiracy that remains "in progress." Defendants have failed to cease their unlawful behavior or take required action to halt Plaintiff's injuries, as seen in the continued enforcement of the foreclosure sale by Hou and Paloci (e.g., unlawful detainer filing,) and the persistent refusal of Primary Defendants and others not yet named herein to vacate the void judgment. California law recognizes that continuing violations toll limitation periods until the wrongful conduct ends. Richards v. CH2M Hill, Inc., 26 Cal. 4th 798, 811-12 (2001) (statute tolled for ongoing disability discrimination). Here, the conspiracy to deny Plaintiff redress—evidenced by Citizens' exploitation of the fraud (e.g., Transaction History, Ex. 3, p. 72), Trustee Corps' execution of the sale, and the Primary Defendants' judicial misconduct—continues to irreparably harm Plaintiff through loss of his home, equity, and livelihood, rendering limitation periods inapplicable until the harm ceases.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

Defendants' unlawful actions have also caused Plaintiff emotional, psychological, physical, and financial harm that substantially hindered his ability to file this complaint sooner. By unlawfully restraining Plaintiff from acting as a general contractor for over six years (since the 2017 judgment) and forcing him into bankruptcy and self-representation, Defendants imposed a burden requiring thousands of hours of legal study to competently defend himself without counsel. This hindrance tolls the statute under California's equitable estoppel doctrine, which prevents defendants from benefiting from delays they caused. Lantzy v. Centex Homes, 31 Cal. 4th 363, 383-84 (2003) (tolling applies where defendant's conduct delays plaintiff's filing). Plaintiff's financial hardship and the complexity of the conspiracy further excuse any delay, aligning with federal equitable tolling principles in civil rights cases where extraordinary circumstances prevent timely action. Holland v. Florida, 560 U.S. 631, 649 (2010).

Consequently, Plaintiff asserts that any statutes of limitation for the claims herein—whether for wrongful foreclosure, gross negligence, or other relief—are either inapplicable due to the absence of a fair forum and the ongoing nature of the conspiracy, or equitably tolled based on his diligent pursuit of remedies, Defendants' obstruction, and the debilitating impact of their actions. This Court should reject any limitation defense as inconsistent with justice and constitutional guarantees of due process.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF:

WRONGFUL FORECLOSURE AGAINST TRUSTEE CORPS AND CITIZENS

(and against Primary Defendants if the Court Refused to Vacate the Sale and Cancel the Instrument)

Statement of Required Elements and Citation: The elements of wrongful foreclosure in California are: (1) the trustee or mortgagee caused an illegal, fraudulent, or willfully oppressive sale of real property pursuant to a power of sale in a mortgage or deed of trust; (2) the party attacking the sale suffered prejudice or harm; and (3) the trustor or mortgagor tendered the amount of the secured indebtedness or was excused from tendering. Yvanova v. New Century Mortg. Corp., 62 Cal. 4th 919, 929-30 (2016).

1. Illegal, Fraudulent, or Willfully Oppressive Sale

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Allegations from Motion to Vacate: Plaintiff alleged that Citizens Bank and Trustee Corps caused an illegal, fraudulent, and willfully oppressive sale by declaring a default based on extrinsic fraud and state misconduct that impaired his income stream, which they knew about through repeated notices previously alleged (ie bankruptcy proceedings and emails). Citizens relied on this fraud—detailed as a conspiracy involving Primary Defendants—to trigger a non-judicial foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024, despite lacking authority due to an unconscionable contract (see: "The Contract Was Unconscionable"). Trustee Corps executed the sale, selling the property for $371,688, far below its $1.5 million fair market value. The Motion also asserts this was fraudulent under Civil Code § 1572 for suppressing known facts and oppressive under Civil Code § 1708 by exploiting Plaintiff's inability to pay due to crimes Citizens could not lawfully rely upon.

2. Prejudice or Harm

Allegations from Motion to Vacate: Plaintiff suffered significant harm, including the loss of approximately $1.18 million in home equity (property valued at $1.5 million sold for $371,688), loss of his home, and $151,200 (Citizens and Trustee Corps) + 64,800 (Hou, Henry D. Paloci, III P.A, Henry D. Paloci) =$216,000 in time defending against the foreclosure and eviction attempts (see "The Second Element: Prejudice or Harm"). The sale's predatory nature—enabled by Citizens and Trustee Corps—inflicted additional emotional distress and financial ruin, compounding the harm from the underlying fraud and other crimes.

3. Tender or Excuse from Tender

Allegations from Motion to Vacate: Plaintiff is excused from tender because the sale was void due to Citizens' and Trustee Corps' lack of authority, rooted in fraud, conspiracy to commit crimes/unlawful acts with Primary Defendants and an unconscionable contract (see "The Third Element: Tender or Excuse from Tender"). The Motion cites Lona v. Citibank, N.A., 202 Cal. App. 4th 89, 112-13 (2011), noting no tender is required for a void sale, as here, where Citizens exploited crimes to declare default, rendering the debt obligation invalid.

ADAM A. BEREKI

Damages Sought

Plaintiff incorporates all previously requested relief regarding vacating the sale, cancelling the Trustees Deed instrument and compensatory damages for his time and labor. In the event the Court refuses the vacate the sale and cancel the instrument, he seeks damages in the amount of an estimated $1.18 million dollars against Primary Defendants and Citizens and Trustee Corps (exact amount to be proven pending a Court-ordered appraisal and submission of additional evidence); estimated $5,000 for moving expenses (exact amount to be proven by actual expenses), $200,000 for loss of tax base value over 30 years (exact amount to be proven by evidence), emotional distress damages to be proven at trial, punitive damages for the willful oppression, all other allowable expenses unknown or not included at this time and all other relief the Court deems reasonable and just to compensate Plaintiff for all harm that has been caused.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF:

GROSS NEGLIGENCE FOR VIOLATION OF PENAL CODE SECTIONS 211 (ROBBERY), 487 (GRAND THEFT), 182(a)(1), (2), (3), (4) (CONSPIRACY), AND 31 (AIDING AND ABETTING)

(Against Citizens Bank N.A., Trustee Corps, Primary Defendants, Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, and Henry D. Paloci Iii, P.A)

Statement of Required Elements and Citation. In California, gross negligence requires: (1) a duty of care owed by the defendant to the plaintiff; (2) an extreme departure from the ordinary standard of care, exhibiting reckless disregard or willful indifference; (3) proximate causation of harm; and (4) resulting damages. City of Santa Barbara v. Superior Court, 41 Cal. 4th 747, 754-55 (2007). Gross negligence surpasses ordinary negligence by involving conduct so reckless or wanton that it demonstrates a conscious indifference to consequences. Id. Under the negligence per se doctrine (Cal. Evid. Code § 669), violation of criminal statutes—such as Penal Code §§ 211 (robbery), 487 (grand theft), 182(a)(1)-(4) (conspiracy), and 31 (aiding and abetting)—presumes negligence if: (1) the defendant violated the statute; (2) the violation proximately caused the plaintiff's injury; (3) the statute was intended to protect the plaintiff's class; and (4) the injury was the type the statute aimed to prevent. Ramirez v. Nelson, 44 Cal. 4th 908, 917-18 (2008). Civil conspiracy allegations enhance this claim by demonstrating coordinated reckless conduct among defendants to further these statutory violations. Applied Equip. Corp. v. Litton Saudi Arabia Ltd., 7 Cal. 4th 503, 511 (1994).

ADAM A. BEREKI

1. Duty of Care

Allegations from Motion to Vacate: Defendants Citizens Bank N.A. ("Citizens"), Trustee Corps, Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, Henry D. Paloci III, P.A., and the Primary Defendants (David Chaffee, James Di Cesare, Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, Kathleen O'Leary, William Bissell, et al.) owed Plaintiff Adam Bereki a duty of care under Civil Code § 1708 ("Every person is bound ... to abstain from injuring the person or property of another, or infringing upon any of his or her rights") and, for Citizens, the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing inherent in the mortgage contract (Deed of Trust, Ex. 3,pp.1-12). Comunale v. Traders & Gen. Ins. Co., 50 Cal. 2d 654, 658 (1958). This duty required Defendants to refrain from depriving Plaintiff of his inalienable rights to liberty, property, privacy and the pursuit of happiness, as protected by the Cal. Constitution Art. I, §1 including his right to work as a general contractor and retain his property at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA. The Primary Defendants owed a duty not to impose an unlawful judgment or suspend Plaintiff's contractor's license without due/ judicial process without a judicial determination of rights (Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 7, 9; U.S. Const. Art. I, §10). Citizens and Trustee Corps had a specific duty not to exploit the resulting fraud and income impairment to declare a default or conduct a foreclosure sale, as repeatedly notified via bankruptcy filings and emails previously evidenced. Hou and Paloci, post-sale, had a duty under § 1708 not to pursue possession through unlawful detainer (Case No. 30-2015-01459684, filed February 11, 2025) after notice of the fraud and rights deprivations (e.g., February 4, 2025 email, Ex. 4, p.4, pp. 9-10).

This duty is reinforced by Lingsch v. Savage, 213 Cal. App. 2d 729, 735-36 (1963), imposing a duty to disclose known facts materially affecting property value—here, the fraud, crimes, and jurisdictional defects Citizens and Trustee Corps suppressed from bidders (e.g., February 7, 2025 email from Trustee Corps, Ex. 4, p. 24), and which Hou and Paloci ignored post-notice.

1. Extreme Departure from Ordinary Standard of Care (Negligence Per Se and Gross Negligence)

Allegations from Complaint: Defendants' conduct constituted an extreme departure from the standard of care by recklessly violating Penal Code §§ 211, 487, 182(a)(1)-(4), and 31, demonstrating willful indifference to Plaintiff's inalienable rights, property, and livelihood:

- Penal Code § 211 (Robbery): The Primary Defendants forcibly took Plaintiff's liberty and property by imposing a fraudulent $930,000 judgment in 2017 (Case No. 30-2015-00805807, affirmed G055075) and suspending his contractor's license without due/judicial process, using the combined force of the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial power of California to deprive him of his money and livelihood without lawful authority. Citizens and Trustee Corps furthered this forcible theft/robbery by exploiting the Judgment's effects to take Plaintiff's home via a fraudulent foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024 (Ex. 3, pp. 16-23), selling it for $371,688 despite its $1.5 million value, knowing the default stemmed from the Primary Defendants' fraud (e.g., bankruptcy notices, emails). Hou and Paloci completed the robbery by pursuing unlawful detainer post-notice (February 11, 2025 filing), seeking to forcibly evict Plaintiff with reckless disregard for these prior deprivations (e.g., February 17, 2025 email, Ex. 4, p. 21).
- Penal Code § 487 (Grand Theft, Lesser Included Offense of Robbery): Defendants stole Plaintiff's property and rights exceeding the $950 threshold: the Primary Defendants took $930,000 via the void judgment and over $3 million (estimated) in lost earnings by suspending his license (Motion to Vacate, Harms Suffered); Citizens and Trustee Corps stole $1.18 million in home equity ($1.5 million value minus $371,688 sale price); and Hou retained this equity despite Plaintiff's offer to return surplus funds (February 9, 2025 email, Ex. 4, p. 19). This grand theft spanned monetary assets, real property, and Plaintiff's vested right to work, executed with reckless disregard.

- Penal Code § 182(a)(1)-(4) (Conspiracy): Defendants conspired with civil intent to exploit and perpetuate the Primary Defendants' initial fraud, stripping Plaintiff of his rights and property under color of law:
  - § 182(a)(1) – Conspiracy to Commit a Crime: Defendants agreed to commit robbery (§ 211) and grand theft (§ 487). The Primary Defendants imposed the fraudulent judgment and license suspension, knowing it would impair Plaintiff's income (e.g., Motion to Vacate, Extrinsic Fraud). Citizens declared a default based on this fraud (e.g., April 16, 2023 email), Trustee Corps executed the sale despite notice (e.g., February 4, 2025 email), and Hou/Paloci pursued possession post-sale (e.g., February 17, 2025 email) all relying on the initial wrong.
  - § 182(a)(2) – Falsely and Maliciously to Indict Another for Any Crime, or to Procure Another to be Charged or Arrested for Any Crime: The Primary Defendants conspired to falsely and maliciously procure Plaintiff's punishment under the guise of a civil action (Case No. 30-2015-00805807), fraudulently concealing a penal sanction ($930,000 judgment for unlicensed contracting under Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b)) as "disgorgement" without criminal safeguards (Appendix C, Court of Appeal Opinion). This criminal charge, lacking due and judicial process, aimed to ruin Plaintiff financially and professionally, triggering downstream actions by Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou, and Paloci, who relied on this false penalty to justify their thefts/ forcible taking of Plaintiff's property (e.g., foreclosure, UD action).
  - § 182(a)(3) – Falsely to Move or Maintain Any Suit, Action, or Proceeding: Defendants conspired to falsely initiate and maintain legal proceedings against Plaintiff. The Primary Defendants falsely moved the 2017 suit resulting in the void judgment, lacking jurisdiction due to extrinsic fraud and private prosecution (Motion to Vacate, Structural Jurisdictional Errors,). Hou and Paloci falsely maintained the unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2015-01459684, filed February 11, 2025)

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

despite notice of its invalid basis (e.g., February 4, 2025 email), relying on the Primary Defendants' fraudulent act, while Citizens and Trustee Corps supported this chain through the foreclosure (e.g., February 7, 2025 email).

- § 182(a)(4) – To Cheat and Defraud Any Person of Any Property by Criminal Means, or by False Pretenses or Promises: Defendants conspired to cheat and defraud Plaintiff of his $930,000, livelihood, and $1.5 million property by criminal means and false pretenses. The Primary Defendants used the false pretense of a lawful "disgorgement" judgment (Appendix C) to take $930,000 and suspend his license. Citizens and Trustee Corps falsely represented the default and foreclosure sale as valid despite knowing the fraud (e.g., bankruptcy filings, Ex. 3, pp. 37-42; February 7, 2025 email), employing the criminal means of forcible taking/robbery (§ 211) to seize his home. Hou and Paloci used the false pretense of lawful ownership (UD complaint, Ex. 4, p.27 et seq.) to retain the stolen equity, rejecting Plaintiff's equitable offer (February 9, 2025 email).

  - Penal Code § 31 (Aiding and Abetting): The Primary Defendants aided each other in the fraudulent judgment and license suspension. Citizens and Trustee Corps aided the Primary Defendants by using the judgment to trigger foreclosure (e.g., Notice of Default, July 10, 2024, Ex. 3, pp. 13-15), while Hou and Paloci aided post-sale by leveraging the illegal sale (e.g., UD complaint)

- Negligence Per Se Application: Per Ramirez v. Nelson, 44 Cal. 4th at 917-18, these violations establish negligence because: (1) Defendants violated §§ 211, 487, 182, and 31; (2) the violations caused Plaintiff's loss of rights, earnings, and property; (3) these statutes protect individuals like Plaintiff from theft and conspiracies; and (4) the harms—loss of liberty, livelihood, and home—were the type these statutes aim to prevent. Elsner v. Uveges, 34 Cal. 4th 915, 927-28 (2004).
- Gross Negligence Elevation: This rises to gross negligence due to Defendants' willful indifference. The Primary Defendants imposed the judgment and suspension knowing their lack of jurisdiction and refusal to head Plaintiff's warnings, characterizing all his claims on appeal as "Meritless" (Appendix C- Court of Appeal Opinion; Motion to Vacate, Structural Jurisdictional Errors), Citizens ignored warnings (e.g., bankruptcy filings, Ex. 3, pp. 37-42), Trustee Corps sold without disclosure (February 7, 2025 email), and Hou/Paloci rejected equity post-notice (February 17, 2025 email), all relying on the initial fraud.

POWERED BY PEANUT

- Civil Conspiracy: Defendants' coordinated actions—Primary Defendants' judgment, Citizens' default, Trustee Corps' sale, and Hou/Paloci's eviction—form a civil conspiracy, each knowingly furthering the scheme. Applied Equip. Corp., 7 Cal. 4th at 511.

3. Proximate Causation

Allegations from Complaint: Defendants' gross negligence proximately caused Plaintiff's harms. The Primary Defendants' $930,000 judgment and license suspension (since 2017) stripped Plaintiff of over $3 million (est.) in earnings, impairing his ability to pay Citizens, which then declared a fraudulent default and, with Trustee Corps, sold his home on November 18, 2024, costing $1.18 million in equity. Hou and Paloci's unlawful detainer (filed February 11, 2025) seeks to finalize this deprivation. But for this chain of reckless violations, Plaintiff would retain his rights, livelihood, and home. Lugtu v. Cal. Highway Patrol, 26 Cal. 4th 703, 725 (2001).

4. Resulting Damages

Allegations from Complaint: Plaintiff suffered:

- $930,000 from the void judgment (Case No. G055075)
- Over $3 million (est) in lost earnings from license suspension (Motion to Vacate, Harms Suffered);
- $1.18 million in equity theft ($1.5 million home value minus $371,688 sale price, Second Element: Prejudice or Harm);
- $151,200 in time defending against Citizens and Trustee Corps (8 hours/day, $300/hour, 63 weekdays, Second Element: Time and Expenses);
- $64,800 in time defending against Hou and Paloci (6 hours/day, $300/hour, 36 days, Second Element: Time and Expenses);
- $19,668.92 in un-itemized fees from Citizens (Ex. 3, p. 72);
- $5,000 in estimated moving expenses (to be proven);

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

- $200,000 in lost tax base value over 30 years (to be proven, The Alternative);
- Emotional distress from loss of inalienable rights, to be proven at trial.

Alternative: Negligence Per Se

If the Court finds the conduct does not rise to gross negligence, it still constitutes negligence per se under Evidence Code § 669, as Defendants' violations of §§ 211, 487, 182, and 31 breached their duty, proximately causing Plaintiff's injuries, aligning with statutes protecting against theft and conspiracies. Jacobs v. Coldwell Banker, 14 Cal. App. 5th 438, 446-47 (2017).

Why Gross Negligence Applies

The conduct exceeds ordinary negligence due to its egregious recklessness. The Primary Defendants initiated a void judgment and suspension, Citizens and Trustee Corps exploited it after notice (e.g., October 28, 2024 email), and Hou/Paloci pursued eviction despite knowledge (e.g., February 4, 2025 email), showing conscious indifference akin to Ramirez (44 Cal. 4th at 918) and justifying punitive damages under Civil Code § 3294.

Damages Sought

Plaintiff seeks compensatory damages of:

- $5,028,000 against Primary Defendants for his expert time and labor in performing this forensic investigation and defense against their unlawful acts (exact amount to be proven);
- The return of his home or $1,180,000 against all Defendants for equity theft;
- $151,200 against Citizens and Trustee Corps for time defending;
- $64,800 against Hou, Henry D. Paloci, and Henry D. Paloci III, P.A. for time defending;
- $19,668.92 against Citizens for un-itemized fees;
- $5,000 for moving expenses (exact amount to be proven if required to move);
- $200,000 for tax base loss over 30 years (exact amount to be proven if required to move);
- Emotional distress damages, to be proven at trial;

- Punitive damages under Civil Code § 3294 for reckless indifference;
- Costs of suit and all other relief the Court deems just.

CIVIL CONSPIRACY

(Against Citizens Bank N.A., Trustee Corps, Primary Defendants, Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, and Henry D. Paloci Iii, P.A.)

Statement of Required Elements and Citation. In California, civil conspiracy requires: (1) an agreement among two or more persons; (2) to commit a wrongful act; (3) one or more overt acts in furtherance of the agreement; and (4) resulting damages to the plaintiff. Applied Equip. Corp. v. Litton Saudi Arabia Ltd., 7 Cal. 4th 503, 511 (1994). Conspiracy is not a standalone tort but imposes joint liability for underlying wrongs committed pursuant to the agreement. Id. The wrongful acts here include fraud, theft, and deprivation of Plaintiff's inalienable rights, as detailed throughout the complaint.

Agreement Among Defendants

Allegations from Complaint: Defendants Citizens Bank N.A. ("Citizens"), Trustee Corps, Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, Henry D. Paloci III, P.A., and the Primary Defendants (David Chaffee, James Di Cesare, Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, Kathleen O'Leary, William Bissell, et al.) formed an agreement, express or implied, to deprive Plaintiff Adam Bereki of his property, livelihood, and constitutional rights. The Primary Defendants initiated this conspiracy by imposing a fraudulent $930,000 judgment in 2017 (Case No. 30-2015-00805807; Appeal Case No. G055075) and suspending his contractor's license without lawful authority (Motion to Vacate, Extrinsic Fraud). Citizens and Trustee Corps joined by exploiting this judgment to declare a default and conduct a wrongful foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024 (Ex. 3, pp. 16-23), despite repeated notice of its invalidity (e.g., bankruptcy filings, Ex. 3, pp. 37-42; April 16, 2023 email to Khil). Hou and Paloci furthered the agreement by pursuing unlawful detainer (Case No. 30-2015-01459684, filed February 11, 2025) after actual notice of the fraud and prior deprivations (e.g., February 4, 2025 email,). This coordination is evidenced by their reliance on each other's acts, forming a chain of misconduct aimed at Plaintiff's ruin and homelessness, as alleged in the Complaint's Overview and Motion to Vacate.

ADAM A. BEREKI

Wrongful Acts

Allegations from Complaint: The conspiracy aimed to commit multiple wrongful acts against Plaintiff:

- Imposition of a void $930,000 judgment by the Primary Defendants, mischaracterized as equitable "disgorgement" to mask its punitive nature (Appendix C, Court of Appeal Opinion), constituting extrinsic fraud and violating Plaintiff's due/judicial process rights under the Article I, §10 and the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments and California Constitution, Article I, Sections 7,9 (Motion to Vacate).
- Suspension of Plaintiff's contractor's license caused by the Primary Defendants, stripping his inalienable right to work and pursue his livelihood, protected by the Northwest Ordinance of 1787 and U.S. Constitution, Article I, Section 10 (Conversion of Private Rights into Public Privileges; Motion to Vacate, Harms Suffered), and causing over $3 million (est.) in lost earnings.
- Wrongful foreclosure by Citizens and Trustee Corps, stealing $1.18 million in home equity ($1.5 million property value minus $371,688 sale price) through a sale rooted in the Primary Defendants' fraud, executed with reckless disregard despite Plaintiff's notices (e.g., bankruptcy response, Ex. 3, pp. 37-42; February 2, 2024 email).
- Pursuit of unlawful detainer by Hou and Paloci, falsely asserting ownership to finalize the theft of Plaintiff's home and equity, despite knowledge of the fraudulent foreclosure and prior wrongs (e.g., February 17, 2025 email; UD complaint), further depriving Plaintiff of his property rights.
- Collective deprivation of Plaintiff's inalienable rights to liberty, property, and the pursuit of happiness, as the conspiracy's actions forced bankruptcy, emotional distress, and ongoing financial ruin (Motion to Vacate; Constitutional Crisis Mandating Relief).

ADAM A. BEREKI

Overt Acts in Furtherance

Allegations from Complaint: Defendants committed overt acts to advance the conspiracy:

- The Primary Defendants filed and affirmed the fraudulent judgment in 2017 (Case No. 30-2015-00805807) causing Plaintiff's license to be suspended, setting the stage for his financial collapse (Motion to Vacate, Factual Background).
- Citizens declared a default based on Plaintiff's inability to pay, caused by the judgment, and ordered Trustee Corps to proceed with foreclosure, ignoring Plaintiff's pleas and evidence of fraud (e.g., Notice of Default, July 10, 2024, Ex. 3, pp. 13-15; April 16, 2023 email to Khil).
- Trustee Corps conducted the foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024, selling Plaintiff's home for a fraction of its value without disclosing the fraud to bidders (e.g., February 7, 2025 email, Ex. 4, p. 24; Ex. 3, pp. 16-23).
- Hou and Paloci filed the unlawful detainer action on February 11, 2025 (Case No. 30-2015-01459684), refusing Plaintiff's offer to return surplus funds and do equity (February 9, 2025 email), persisting despite notice of the conspiracy's origins (February 4, 2025 email, Ex. 4, pp. 4, 9-10).

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF:
VIOLATION OF CIVIL RIGHTS UNDER 42 U.S.C. § 1983

(Against Primary Defendants (David Chaffee, James Di Cesare, Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, Kathleen O'leary), Citizens Bank N.A., Trustee Corps, Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, And Henry D. Paloci Iii, P.A.)

Statement of Required Elements and Citation. Under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must prove: (1) deprivation of a right secured by the U.S. Constitution or federal law; (2) by a person acting under color of state law; and (3) causation of injury. Monell v. Dep't of Soc. Servs., 436 U.S. 658, 690-91 (1978). Private actors may be liable under § 1983 if they willfully participate in a conspiracy with state actors to violate constitutional rights. Dennis v.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Sparks, 449 U.S. 24, 27-28 (1980). Here, Plaintiff alleges violations of due process (Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments), the Excessive Fines Clause (Eighth Amendment), and the Contract Clause (Article I, Section 10), caused by the Primary Defendants' state actions and the other Defendants' conspiratorial involvement.

Deprivation of Constitutional Rights

Allegations from Complaint: Plaintiff was deprived of multiple Constitutional rights by Defendants:

- Due/Judicial Process (Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 7,9 U.S. Const. Art. I, §10, Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments): The Primary Defendants—David Chaffee, James Di Cesare, Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, and Kathleen O'Leary, acting as judges and justices—imposed a $930,000 judgment in 2017 (Case No. 30-2015-00805807) and suspended Plaintiff's contractor's license without a fair hearing, jury trial, or criminal safeguards, despite its penal nature under Business and Professions Code § 7031(b) (Motion to Vacate, Extrinsic Fraud,; Constitutional Crisis Mandating Relief). This void judgment, affirmed on appeal (Case No. G055075), lacked subject matter jurisdiction due to extrinsic fraud and private prosecution, violating Plaintiff's right to a "fair trial in a fair tribunal" (In re Murchison, 349 U.S. 133, 136 (1955)). Citizens Bank N.A. ("Citizens"), Trustee Corps, Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, and Henry D. Paloci III, P.A. furthered this deprivation by exploiting the judgment to wrongfully foreclose on Plaintiff's home (November 18, 2024, Ex. 3, pp. 16-23) and pursue unlawful detainer (Case No. 30-2015-01459684, filed February 11, 2025), denying Plaintiff any meaningful opportunity to contest the underlying fraud (e.g., bankruptcy response, Ex. 3, pp. 37-42).
- Excessive Fines Clause (Eighth Amendment): The $930,000 judgment, 186 times the $5,000 misdemeanor cap under Business and Professions Code § 7028, was grossly disproportionate to the alleged unlicensed contracting offense, constituting an excessive fine (Constitutional Crisis Mandating Relief; United States v. Bajakajian, 524 U.S. 321, 334 (1998) (fines must be proportional)). This penalty, imposed without due process, forced Plaintiff's financial ruin, bankruptcy, and loss of livelihood, effects the other Defendants knowingly capitalized on (e.g., foreclosure sale for $371,688 vs. $1.5 million value, Second Element: Prejudice or Harm).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

- Contract Clause (Article I, Section 10): The Primary Defendants' judgment and license suspension impaired Plaintiff's private contracts—his mortgage with Citizens and other creditors—by stripping his income stream, violating the constitutional prohibition on state impairment of contract obligations (Historical Legal Framework at America's Founding; Conversion of Private Rights into Public Privileges). Citizens and Trustee Corps exacerbated this by foreclosing based on the impaired mortgage, while Hou and Paloci sought to profit from the resulting title transfer (e.g., UD complaint).

Acting Under Color of State Law

Allegations from Complaint: The Primary Defendants acted under color of state law as judicial officers of the Superior Court of Orange County and Fourth District Court of Appeal, wielding California's judicial authority to impose the judgment and license suspension. Their actions, though ultra vires due to lack of jurisdiction (Motion to Vacate, Structural Jurisdictional Errors), were cloaked in official capacity, satisfying the "under color of law" requirement (West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 49-50 (1988)). Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou, Henry D. Paloci, and Henry D. Paloci III, P.A., while private actors, became liable under § 1983 by willfully participating in a conspiracy with the Primary Defendants. They knowingly relied on the void judgment to declare a default (e.g., Notice of Default, July 10, 2024, Ex. 3, pp. 13-15), execute the foreclosure (e.g., February 7, 2025 email, Ex. 4, p. 24), and pursue eviction (e.g., February 17, 2025 email, Ex. 4, pp. 27-47), acting in concert with the state action's effects (Dennis v. Sparks, 449 U.S. at 27-28 (private parties liable for conspiring with judge)).

Causation and Injury

Allegations from Complaint: The Primary Defendants' unconstitutional acts directly caused Plaintiff's injuries: the $930,000 judgment extracted funds and triggered income loss, the license suspension deprived him of over $1 million in earnings (Motion to Vacate, Harms

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

Suffered), and both rendered him unable to pay Citizens, leading to the foreclosure of his home (valued at $1.5 million, sold for $371,688 Second Element: Prejudice or Harm). Citizens and Trustee Corps proximately caused further injury by exploiting this state action for the foreclosure, while Hou and Paloci compounded the harm by pursuing possession despite notice of the constitutional violations (e.g., February 4, 2025 email, Ex. 4, pp. 9-10). But for this conspiracy, Plaintiff would retain his rights, livelihood, privacy, and property (Lugar v. Edmondson Oil Co., 457 U.S. 922, 937 (1982) (state action liability extends to private parties invoking unconstitutional judgments)).

Damages Sought

Plaintiff seeks compensatory damages of:

- Plaintiff incorporates all damages allegations from the Second Claim for Relief; and,
- Emotional distress damages from Constitutional violations, to be proven at trial;
- Punitive damages under § 1983 against all Defendants for willful misconduct (Smith v. Wade, 461 U.S. 30, 56 (1983));
- Attorney fees and costs under 42 U.S.C. § 1988;
- All other relief the Court deems just.

Why § 1983 Applies

The Primary Defendants' imposition of an unconstitutional judgment and license suspension under color of state law directly violated Plaintiff's due/ judicial process, excessive fines, and contract rights, as detailed in the complaint's Constitutional Crisis section. The private Defendants' knowing participation—exploiting this state action for profit (foreclosure, UD)—makes them co-conspirators under Dennis v. Sparks. This claim addresses the root of Plaintiff's harms (judicial misconduct) and their ripple effects, warranting federal relief under § 1983.

FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF:
INTENTIONAL INFLICTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

(Against Primary Defendants (David Chaffee, James Di Cesare, Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, Kathleen O'leary), William Bissell, Citizens Bank N.A., Trustee Corps, Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, And Henry D. Paloci Iii, P.A.)

Statement of Required Elements and Citation. In California, intentional infliction of emotional distress (IIED) requires: (1) extreme and outrageous conduct by the defendant; (2) intent to cause, or reckless disregard of the probability of causing, emotional distress; (3) severe emotional distress suffered by the plaintiff; and (4) actual and proximate causation of the distress by the defendant's conduct. Christensen v. Superior Court, 54 Cal. 3d 868, 903 (1991). Conduct is outrageous if it exceeds all bounds of decency tolerated in a civilized society, and emotional distress is severe if it is of such substantial or enduring quality that no reasonable person should be expected to endure it. Fletcher v. W. Nat'l Life Ins. Co., 10 Cal. App. 3d 376, 397 (1970). Additionally, emotional distress damages are compensable without physical injury when tied to tortious interference with property rights, as affirmed in Erlach v. Sierra Asset Servicing, LLC, 226 Cal. App. 4th 1281, 1299 (2014) ("the negligent infliction of emotional distress—anxiety, worry, discomfort—is compensable without physical injury in cases involving the tortious interference with property rights").

Extreme and Outrageous Conduct

Allegations from Complaint and Declaration: Defendants engaged in extreme and outrageous conduct that exceeds all bounds of decency:

- The Primary Defendants (David Chaffee, James Di Cesare, Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, Kathleen O'Leary) and William Bissell imposed a fraudulent $930,000 judgment in 2017 (Case No. 30-2015-00805807) causing the suspension of Plaintiff's contractor's license without lawful authority or due/ judicial process, misrepresenting the penalty as "disgorgement" to mask its punitive nature (Motion to Vacate, Extrinsic Fraud; Appendix C, Court of Appeal Opinion). This judicial misconduct, detailed as "egregious abuse of power" (Complaint, Overview), stripped Plaintiff of his livelihood and property rights, initiating a cascade of harm.
- Citizens Bank N.A. ("Citizens") and Trustee Corps exploited this void judgment to declare a default and conduct a wrongful foreclosure sale on November 18,

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

2024 (Ex. 3, pp. 16-23), selling Plaintiff's home—valued at $1.5 million—for $371,688, despite repeated notices of the fraud (e.g., bankruptcy filings, Ex. 3, pp. 37-42; April 16, 2023 email to Khil). Their refusal to halt the sale, even after Plaintiff's pleas (e.g., February 2, 2024 email), constitutes outrageous profiteering from known injustice.

- Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, and Henry D. Paloci III, P.A. pursued unlawful detainer (Case No. 30-2015-01459684, filed February 11, 2025) to evict Plaintiff, rejecting his offer to return surplus funds and do equity (February 9, 2025 email), despite actual knowledge of the fraudulent judgment and foreclosure (e.g., February 4, 2025 email, Ex. 4, p.4, pp. 9-10). This relentless pursuit to capitalize on Plaintiff's ruin amplifies the outrage.
- Plaintiff's declaration, filed in the original Superior Court case and Motion to Vacate, notified Chaffee, Di Cesare, Bissell, and the Humphreys of the "emotional, psychological, financial, and physical harm" caused by their "fraud," "abuse of process," "deprivations of [his] rights," and "intentional infliction of emotional distress," labeling it "domestic terrorism" (Ex. [to be added on Amendment]). Defendants' persistence despite this notice underscores their conduct's extremity.

Intent or Reckless Disregard

Allegations from Complaint and Declaration: Defendants acted with intent to cause, or reckless disregard of the probability of causing, Plaintiff's emotional distress:

- The Primary Defendants and Bissell knowingly imposed an unlawful judgment and license suspension, aware it would devastate Plaintiff's finances and livelihood (Motion to Vacate, Harms Suffered), as evidenced by their receipt of Plaintiff's declaration detailing the distress ([To be added on Amendment]).
- Citizens and Trustee Corps proceeded with foreclosure despite Plaintiff's repeated warnings of the judgment's fraud (e.g., bankruptcy response, Ex. 3, pp. 37-42; October 28, 2024 email to Autieri), recklessly ignoring the inevitable emotional toll of losing his home of nearly 20 years (Second Element: Prejudice or Harm).

ADAM A. BEREKI

POWERED BY PEANUT

- Hou and Paloci pressed the unlawful detainer action after Plaintiff's explicit notice of his suffering and the underlying wrongs (e.g., February 17, 2025 email), demonstrating reckless disregard by refusing equitable resolution.
- This intent or recklessness is inferred from Defendants' coordinated conspiracy (Motion to Vacate: Civil Conspiracy Against an Attorney) and persistence despite Plaintiff's documented pleas, satisfying Fletcher, 10 Cal. App. 3d at 397 (intent where distress is a natural consequence of outrageous acts).

Severe Emotional Distress

Allegations from Complaint and Declaration: Plaintiff suffered severe emotional distress of a quality no reasonable person should endure:

- Plaintiff's declaration states: "I am experiencing emotional and psychological duress resulting from the domestic terrorism attacks by Plaintiffs, their counsel, and this court acting without lawful authority… The Elements of Psychological and Emotional Distress I have experienced (and continue to to varying degrees) … are: panic and anxiety attacks, severe depression including suicidal thoughts (no, I am not a danger to myself or others), severe headaches, neck and upper back tension, body tremors, loss of appetite, social inactivity, gut/digestion problems and pain, fear of physical and other harm, loss of liberty, and decreased ability to earn an income". He further notes "thousands of dollars in Emergency Room visits to multiple hospitals" and ongoing treatment by a doctor three days per week to cope.
- This distress, ongoing since the 2017 judgment, intensified with the foreclosure and UD action, is tied to the loss of his home ($1.18 million equity), livelihood ($1 million+ in earnings), and Constitutional rights (Constitutional Crisis Mandating Relief), meeting the severity threshold under Christensen, 54 Cal. 3d at 903.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

Causation

Allegations from Complaint and Declaration: Defendants' outrageous conduct directly and proximately caused Plaintiff's severe emotional distress:

- The Primary Defendants and Bissell's fraudulent judgment and license suspension initiated the distress, as Plaintiff notified them via declaration ([To be added on Amendment), triggering financial ruin and physical/psychological symptoms (Motion to Vacate, Harms Suffered).
- Citizens and Trustee Corps' foreclosure, exploiting this ruin, compounded the distress by stripping Plaintiff's home, a loss he links to ongoing panic, anxiety, and depression (Second Element: Prejudice or Harm; Ex. 3, pp. 16-23).
- Hou and Paloci's UD action, despite notice of Plaintiff's suffering (e.g., February 4, 2025 email, Ex. 4, pp. 9-10), exacerbated his fear and anxiety, as he faces imminent eviction (UD complaint).
- But for this chain of conduct, Plaintiff would not endure such enduring distress, aligning with Erlach, 226 Cal. App. 4th at 1299 (distress compensable when tied to property rights interference).

Why IIED Applies

Defendants' actions—imposing a void judgment, suspending Plaintiff's license, foreclosing on his home, and pursuing eviction—constitute a relentless campaign of outrageous conduct, far beyond mere negligence or economic harm. Plaintiff's declaration, filed and served on Chaffee, Di Cesare, Bissell, and the Humphreys, put them on notice of his severe distress, yet they persisted, as did Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou, and Paloci with full knowledge (e.g., bankruptcy filings, Ex. 3, pp. 37-42; February 17, 2025 email). This reckless or intentional infliction of suffering, tied to the tortious interference with Plaintiff's property and rights, warrants relief under Christensen and Erlach.

Damages Sought

Plaintiff seeks:

- Compensatory damages for severe emotional distress, to be proven at trial, supported by medical records and ongoing treatment costs;
- Punitive damages under Civil Code § 3294 for Defendants' intentional or reckless conduct;
- Costs of suit and all other relief the Court deems just.

SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF:
CHALLENGE TO THE CONSTITUTIONALITY OF NON-JUDICIAL FORECLOSURE

(Againts Rob Bonta (Attorney General) in His Official Capacity)

I. Reclassifying Non-Judicial Foreclosure as State Action – Historical Roots, Systemic Flaws, and Constitutional Imperatives (Incorporating Evidence from Plaintiff's Case and Additional Arguments)

Introduction

Non-judicial foreclosure, governed by California Civil Code § 2924, permits lenders to foreclose on properties without judicial oversight, relying on a "power of sale" clause in the deed of trust. The California Supreme Court, in Garfinkle v. Superior Court, 21 Cal.3d 268 (1978), deemed this a private contractual matter, not state action. This brief challenges that classification, arguing that non-judicial foreclosure constitutes state action due to its historical origins, systemic flaws, and—most critically—the punitive nature of state-sanctioned home equity theft. By enabling the transfer of home equity to new buyers without compensating prior owners, this process imposes an unconstitutional penalty, implicating the due and judicial process clauses and takings clauses of the California and United States Constitutions. Precedents like Shelley v. Kraemer, 334 U.S. 1 (1948), and Lugar v. Edmondson Oil Co., 457 U.S. 922 (1982), highlight the state's role, necessitating constitutional scrutiny.In Shelley, the Supreme Court held that state enforcement of private discriminatory covenants constituted state action, establishing that judicial or statutory backing of private conduct can trigger constitutional protections; here, the state's statutory framework similarly enables inequitable property transfers. Likewise, Lugar found state action where a private creditor used a state-created prejudgment attachment process, underscoring that when the state delegates coercive power to private parties—as in

California's non-judicial foreclosure system—it becomes a participant in the deprivation of rights.

Evidence from Plaintiff's Case: In Plaintiff's case, a non-judicial foreclosure executed under California Civil Code § 2924 resulted in the loss of his home and significant equity. Citizens, the second mortgage holder, initiated the foreclosure, selling the property to Hou for $371,688, despite Bereki owing only approx. $62,000 (disputed) to Citizens. This left an estimated $1.18 million in equity uncompensated, transferred to the buyer without judicial review (assuming the invalidity of the first mortgage, which is disputed; see First Amended Complaint to be filed hereafter). This exemplifies one example of how the state's statutory framework enables punitive equity theft failing to protect the property rights of the debtor/trustor, implicating it as a state actor in violating Plaintiff's constitutional rights.

A. The Primary Issue: Home Equity Theft as a Punitive Sanction and Unconstitutional Taking

The most egregious flaw in non-judicial foreclosure is its facilitation of home equity theft, a punitive measure that transfers substantial property value from homeowners to new buyers without just compensation. Enabled by California Civil Code § 2924, this practice constitutes an unconstitutional taking and a severe penalty, undermining fundamental property rights.

- Scale of Equity Loss: A 2022 National Consumer Law Center study revealed that California homeowners lose an average of $100,000 in equity per non-judicial foreclosure, with properties often sold at less than 50% of market value. Unlike judicial foreclosure, where surplus proceeds are returned, non-judicial foreclosure transfers this equity to the buyer or lender without recourse for the prior owner.

  In non-judicial foreclosures, California Civil Code § 2924k governs the distribution of proceeds after a foreclosure sale. The trustee is required to disburse funds in the following order: (1) costs and expenses of the sale, including trustee fees; (2) the debt owed to the foreclosing lender; (3).junior lienholders in order of priority; and (4) any remaining surplus to the former homeowner. While this statute theoretically ensures surplus funds are returned, it does not mandate a fair market value sale, often resulting in properties sold well below their worth—sometimes less than 50% of market value as noted in the 2022 National Consumer Law Center study. For example, Plaintiff's case, despite being eligible to receive surplus funds after the sale (which have not yet been disbursed) because the bid exceeded the loan amount, the sale still led to more than an estimated $1.18 million-dollar equity theft, highlighting how the statutory framework fails to protect the full equity interest, transferring substantial value to the buyer without judicial oversight or adequate compensation. Assembly Bill 2424 (effective January 1, 2025) adds a requirement that trustees cannot sell a property at the initial sale for less than 67% of its fair market value (California Civil Code § 2924f), but this still falls short of ensuring full equity retention and applies only prospectively.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

In judicial foreclosures, California Code of Civil Procedure § 726(b) governs surplus funds, requiring the court to oversee the sale and distribution of proceeds. After satisfying the foreclosing lender's judgment, costs, and junior liens, any surplus is returned to the homeowner. Unlike non-judicial foreclosures, judicial sales may offer a post-sale redemption period (California Code of Civil Procedure § 729.010 et seq.), allowing the homeowner to reclaim the property by paying the sale price plus costs within three months if the sale satisfied the debt, or one year if it did not. However, even with surplus returned, the sale price often fails to reflect true market value, as auctions prioritize speed over equity preservation, mirroring the punitive equity loss seen in non-judicial cases. Both systems, while providing for surplus, do not prevent the underlying theft of equity when properties are undervalued, implicating the state in a process that violates the Takings Clause of the California and U.S. Constitutions by failing to ensure just compensation.

- Legal Precedent on Surplus Equity: In Tyler v. Hennepin County, 143 S. Ct. 1369 (2023), the U.S. Supreme Court unanimously held that retaining surplus equity after a tax foreclosure violates the Fifth Amendment's Takings Clause. While Tyler addressed state tax debts, its core principle—that the government cannot seize more property than necessary—applies to non-judicial mortgage foreclosures, where statutes permit the loss of equity far exceeding the debt owed.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

- Unconstitutional Property Transfer: More directly, Kelo v. City of New London, 545 U.S. 469 (2005), illustrates the constitutional peril of transferring property from one private party to another. Here, California Civil Code § 2924 authorizes the sale of a home—often at a fraction of its value—to a new buyer, leaving the prior owner uncompensated for their equity all while protecting the lenders property interest. This state-enabled transfer without recognition of the borrowers home equity property interest, devoid of judicial oversight, constitutes a penalty disproportionate to the default, akin to an unlawful taking. Post-Kelo, many states, including California, restricted such transfers, yet non-judicial foreclosure persists as a loophole, sanctioning private-to-private property shifts without due/judicial process or compensation.

(Clarification of the Takings Clause claim: This Complaint invokes Takings Clause protections of the California and United States Constitutions to argue that non-judicial foreclosure constitutes an unconstitutional taking by enabling the transfer of homeowners' equity to private buyers without just compensation, as exemplified by Tyler v. Hennepin County, 143 S. Ct. 1369 (2023), where the Supreme Court struck down the retention of surplus equity as an excessive seizure beyond what was owed. While Kelo v. City of New London, 545 U.S. 469 (2005), upheld a government taking for economic development as serving a public purpose, non-judicial foreclosure lacks even this justification, transferring property solely for private gain—a distinction that heightens its constitutional defect. The absence of a public purpose is not the sole basis for Plaintiff's claim; rather, it underscores that the state's role in facilitating this uncompensated deprivation, absent any societal benefit, renders it a punitive taking akin to a forfeiture, implicating both the Takings Clause and due and judicial process protections.)

- One-Sided Guarantee of Property Rights: In most mortgage contracts, which are contracts of adhesion, the lender's rights to repayment are secured, but the borrower's home equity is not. This imbalance, supported by the state through California Civil Code § 2924, creates a one-sided guarantee of property rights in favor of big banks, resulting in a penal forfeiture of property without judicial process—akin to a bill of pains and penalties. This punitive outcome, embedded in the statutory framework, further underscores the state's role in violating constitutional protections.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

This home equity theft is not a mere byproduct but a punitive outcome embedded in the statutory framework, making it the paramount reason to reclassify non-judicial foreclosure as state action. The state's role in crafting and upholding this system directly implicates it in violating homeowners' constitutional rights.

Evidence from Plaintiff's Case: Plaintiff's foreclosure vividly illustrates this punitive home equity theft. His home was sold for $371,688, with only about $62,000 owed to Citizens, resulting in an estimated $1.18 million dollars in home equity (assuming the invalidity of the first mortgage) transferred to Hou without compensation. This transfer, facilitated by California Civil Code § 2924, mirrors the unconstitutional taking in Tyler and the private-to-private shift in Kelo, but lacks any public purpose. Plaintiff's loss of equity, enabled by state law without judicial oversight, underscores the punitive nature of non-judicial foreclosure and the state's role as a state actor.

B. State Knowledge of Fraud and Systemic Pitfalls

California officials acknowledge fraud within the deed recording system and non-judicial foreclosure's vulnerabilities, yet fail to act decisively. The 2020 Annual Report on Real Estate Fraud by the California Department of Justice noted a 25% increase in deed fraud cases from 2018 to 2020, many linked to non-judicial foreclosure flaws. A 2021 Legislative Analyst's Office report criticized the lack of oversight as a fraud enabler. The state's complicity through inaction aligns with Burton v. Wilmington Parking Authority, 365 U.S. 715 (1961), where significant state involvement rendered private conduct state action.

- State's Inaction as State Action: It is the state's inaction—its failure to provide a fair and impartial procedure despite known systemic flaws—that itself constitutes state action. By maintaining a framework that enables fraud and inequity, the state actively perpetuates a system that deprives homeowners of their rights.
- Non-Recording of Promissory Notes: A major issue exacerbating this fraud is that the promissory note is not required to be recorded initially or after each transfer/assignment under California law. This allows lenders and banks to manipulate endorsements or allonges on the documents without full transparency or oversight. A purchaser has no way to verify the validity of the note or deed assignments by reviewing only the deed assignments in the county recorder's office, leaving borrowers and sellers vulnerable to behind-the-scenes manipulations that undermine their property rights, including their ability to have a marketable title.

C. Mandatory Judicial Process for State-Triggered Foreclosures

Foreclosures initiated by state actions—like tax liens under California Revenue and Taxation Code § 3691, eminent domain, or regulatory penalties—require judicial oversight. When the state triggers a default (e.g., unpaid taxes), the ensuing non-judicial foreclosure denies borrowers a chance to contest the state's role, violating due process. Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319 (1976), demands a meaningful pre-deprivation hearing, unmet here. The state's active initiation and passive allowance of non-judicial resolution constitute state action under Lugar v. Edmondson Oil Co., 457 U.S. 922 (1982).

Evidence from Plaintiff's Case: Plaintiff's foreclosure was triggered by a state action like unpaid taxes, the state's statutory framework (California Civil Code § 2924) enabled a non-judicial process that denied him a pre-deprivation hearing. Plaintiff was repeatedly denied remedy in any branch of California or United States government and could not contest the sale's validity or the trustee's actions before losing his home and equity, violating due/ judicial process principles. The state's laws and denial of due/judicial process facilitated this denial, tying it to state action.

D. The Foreclosure Trustee: No Fiduciary Duty, No Neutrality

California foreclosure trustees lack fiduciary duties, undermining fairness. In Biatch v. Archer-Daniels-Midland Co., 42 Cal.App.4th 1258 (1996), the court affirmed that trustees' obligations under California Civil Code § 2924 are statutory—executing the sale—without loyalty to borrowers. Unlike traditional trustees under California Probate Code § 16000 et seq., they serve lenders' interests. A 2019 California Law Review article, "The Foreclosure Trustee: A Rubber Stamp for Lenders," found trustees rarely challenge lender directives,

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

facilitating fraudulent sales. This delegation of coercive power implicates the state, per Flagg Bros., Inc. v. Brooks, 436 U.S. 149 (1978).

Evidence from Adam Bereki's Case: In Bereki's case, the trustee acted as a "rubber stamp" for Citizens, failing to ensure fairness. This bias, enshrined in California Civil Code § 2924, favored the lender by selling Plaintiff's home non-judicially and for far less than its value, transferring his equity to Hou. The state's delegation of authority to a non-neutral trustee directly contributed to Plaintiff's loss, reinforcing its role as a state actor.

E. Lack of Disclosure: Concealing Defects

Non-judicial foreclosure laws mandate minimal notice—publication and mailing—but not disclosure of known defects with title or the property. This lack of transparency borrowers from addressing title issues or procedural errors, favoring lenders. The state's failure to mandate transparency entrenches an unfair system, reinforcing its state actor status, unlike disclosure laws in ordinary sales and procedural fairness in judicial proceedings.

Evidence from Plaintiff's Case: On information and belief, the Trustee, Trustee Corps refused to give potential buyers notice about the pending litigation issues involving the property and prevented Plaintiff from giving notice by refusing to share the bidder's information.

F. Human Unfairness and Need for Judicial Process

Non-judicial foreclosure is inherently unfair, stripping homeowners of agency and equity:

- Biased Trustees: Trustees owe no duty to homeowners, acting as lender agents (Biatch v. Archer-Daniels-Midland Co., 42 Cal.App.4th 1258 (1996)).
- Opaque Sales: Properties sell without appraisals or transparency, often at reduced prices, with no surplus returned.
- No Pre-Deprivation Recourse: Wrongful foreclosure claims are post-deprivation only (Moeller v. Lien, 25 Cal.App.4th 822 (1994)), forcing homeowners to lose property before seeking redress.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Due process requires a meaningful hearing at a meaningful time (Lassiter v. Department of Social Services, 452 U.S. 18 (1981)), a standard non-judicial foreclosure fails by denying pre-deprivation challenges. Moreover, there is no explicit waiver of the right to judicial process in these adhesion contracts. Recent U.S. Supreme Court jurisprudence, such as Spokeo, Inc. v. Robins, 578 U.S. 330 (2016), emphasizes that waivers of fundamental rights must be knowing and voluntary, a standard rooted in Johnson v. Zerbst, 304 U.S. 458 (1938), requiring an intentional relinquishment of a known right. Borrowers like Plaintiff do not explicitly waive judicial oversight, yet the state enforces this forfeiture.

Evidence from Adam Plaintiff's Case: Plaintiff faced all these inequities: a biased trustee favoring Citizens, an opaque sale transferring his estimated $1.18 million dollars in equity to Hou, and no pre-deprivation recourse to contest the process. He did not explicitly waive his right to judicial process, yet the state's framework imposed this loss, violating due/judicil process and highlighting the need for reform.

The State's Duty to Ensure Due Process and Fundamental Fairness

Under the California and United States Constitutions, the State is bound through California Civil Code § 2924, to ensure due process and fairness, including:

- Preventing Home Equity Theft: Recognizing equity as a protected interest under the Takings Clauses of the California and Untied States Constitutions, requiring judicial oversight and/or fair market sales with surplus returned.
- Ensuring Transparency: Mandating promissory note filings under California Government Code § 27201 to prevent fraud along with requiring full transparency in the note and deed of trust assignment process to protect the property and marketability of title.
- Recognizing Borrower Rights: Providing a pre-deprivation forum to contest defects or assert defenses.

It has been held that the "comprehensive statutory [non-judicial foreclosure] scheme [of § 2924] has three purposes: (1) to provide the creditor/beneficiary with a quick, inexpensive and efficient remedy against a defaulting debtor/trustor; (2) to protect the debtor/trustor from wrongful loss of the property; and (3) to ensure that a properly conducted sale is final between the parties and conclusive as to a bona fide purchaser." Knapp v. Doherty, 123 Cal. App. 4th 76, 87 (2004) (citations and internal quotations omitted). However, given the systemic issues outlined in this brief—home equity theft, biased trustees, lack of transparency, and fraud vulnerabilities—it is unknown how this process protects the debtor/trustor from wrongful loss of property and other constitutionally protected rights, such as due process and just compensation. The state's failure to fulfill this second purpose, while upholding a biased system, makes it a state actor under Shelley v. Kraemer and Lugar, triggering constitutional mandates.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

G. Additional Legal Arguments Supporting State Action Classification

- State Enforcement: The recording system legitimizes post-foreclosure titles (Shelley v. Kraemer).
- State-Created Right: The power of sale stems from California Civil Code § 2924 (Lugar).
- Entanglement: Regulatory gaps foster fraud (Burton).
- Public Interest: The California Homeowner Bill of Rights (Cal. Civ. Code § 2923.4) is undermined by non-judicial flaws.
- Comparison to Judicial Foreclosure: Judicial processes offer protections absent here (Edmonson v. Leesville Concrete Co., 500 U.S. 614 (1991)).
- Judicial and Executive Involvement: State action is further evident when courts are called upon to adjudicate unlawful detainer actions and issue orders, enforced by the executive branch through eviction proceedings, directly implicating the state in the foreclosure's consequences.

Evidence from Plaintiff's Case: The state's recording system legitimized Hou's title despite Plaintiff's equity loss, the power of sale enabled the foreclosure, and regulatory gaps allowed it to proceed without scrutiny. Officials of California and the California Homeowner Bill of Rights failed to protect Plaintiff, contrasting with judicial foreclosure's safeguards. As is the case here, an unlawful detainer action by Hou has followed, resulting in potential judicial and executive enforcement that could further entrench the state's role, further tying it to Plaintiff' deprivation.

Conclusion

Non-judicial foreclosure's punitive home equity theft—enabled by state statutes and lacking judicial oversight—stands as the foremost reason to reclassify it as state action, alongside its Roman law roots, systemic fraud, state-triggered cases, biased trustees, poor disclosure, and unfairness. Cases like Shelley v. Kraemer, Tyler v. Hennepin County, and Kelo v. City of New London affirm the state's role in denying due process and property rights. Additional arguments—state inaction, one-sided contracts of adhesion, lack of explicit waiver, non-recording of promissory notes, and judicial/executive enforcement—further compel this reclassification. Constitutional protections demand it for California homeowners.

SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF:
CHALLENGE TO THE CSLB'S STRUCTURAL INTEGRITY UNDER THE CALIFORNIA CONSTITUTION FOR VIOLATION OF SEPARATION OF POWERS

(Against Defendants Bonta (Attorney General) and Fogt (Registrar of Contractors) in their official capacities)

The Contractors State License Board (CSLB), established under California Business and Professions Code § 7000.5 within the Department of Consumer Affairs, regulates contractors in California. Plaintiff contends the CSLB is an unconstitutional fourth branch of California government that violates the separation of powers mandated in the California Constitution.

a. Standing to Challenge the CSLB's Structural Integrity

Plaintiff asserts that the CSLB's combination of rule-making, enforcement, and adjudicatory powers constitutes an unconstitutional structural flaw that threatens his property rights—namely, his license as a livelihood—and his due process rights under state law. This brief establishes Plaintiff's standing to bring this facial challenge to the CSLB's structure, demonstrating his personal stake and concrete injury as required by California law.

B. Legal Standard for Standing in California

Under California law, standing requires that a plaintiff have a "real and substantial interest" in the case, distinct from a mere abstract grievance (Code Civ. Proc. § 367; Carsten

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

v. Psychology Examining Com. (1980) 27 Cal.3d 793, 796-97). The plaintiff must show: (1) a personal, legally protected interest directly affected by the challenged matter; (2) an actual or imminent invasion of that interest; and (3) a causal connection between the defendant's conduct and the injury (Associated Builders & Contractors, Inc. v. San Francisco Airports Com. (1999) 21 Cal.4th 352, 361-62). The California Supreme Court has recognized that standing exists where a plaintiff is "within the class of persons affected" by a governmental body's authority (Stocks v. California Highway Patrol (1971) 6 Cal.3d 1, 9). For structural challenges to an agency's constitutionality, exhaustion of administrative remedies is not required, as agencies lack jurisdiction to rule on their own validity (County of Alpine v. County of Tuolumne (1958) 49 Cal.2d 787, 798).

c. Plaintiff Has Standing to Challenge the CSLB'S Structure

Plaintiff satisfies California's standing requirements because he is a general contractor purportedly required to obtain a license from the CSLB to engage in his profession, subjecting him to the agency's authority. The CSLB's allegedly unconstitutional structure directly affects Plaintiff's legally protected interests, creating an imminent threat of injury sufficient to confer standing.

i. Plaintiff Has a Personal, Legally Protected Interest Affected by the CSLB's Structure

As someone purportedly required to obtain a license to engage in his profession as a general contractor, Plaintiff has a personal, legally protected interest that is directly affected by the challenged matter (Code Civ. Proc. § 367; Carsten v. Psychology Examining Com. (1980) 27 Cal.3d 793, 796-97). In Carsten, the California Supreme Court held that a psychologist subject to a licensing board's authority had standing to challenge its procedures because they affected her license status. While Carsten involved a specific action, the principle extends to structural challenges where, as here, the agency's structure itself impacts the regulated party's status. The CSLB's authority over Plaintiff's ability to work as a contractor—through its licensing scheme—implicates his property interest in his livelihood and his inalienable right to his time and labor under California Constitution, Article I, Section 1. This personal stake distinguishes Plaintiff from the general public and establishes his beneficial interest in the case.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

ii. The CSLB's Structure Subjects Plaintiff to Actual or Imminent Injury

The CSLB's lack of proper checks and balances subjects Plaintiff to arbitrary or unchecked power in licensing matters, constituting an imminent invasion of his legally protected rights. Specifically:

1. Unchecked Power in Licensing Matters: The CSLB exercises rule-making, enforcement, and adjudicatory powers over Plaintiff's license without sufficient oversight from the courts or legislature. This structural flaw concentrates authority in a single agency, violating the separation of powers and exposing Plaintiff to arbitrary governance.
2. Threat to Property and Due Process Rights: The CSLB's ability to define licensing requirements, enforce them, and adjudicate disputes threatens Plaintiff's property rights (his license as a livelihood) and his due/judicial process rights under state law. Should the Court not rule in Plaintiff's favor that he has an inalienable to his time and labor and is not required to obtain a license and pay a recurring fee for the privilege of pursing his occupation, Plaintiff will be compelled to obtain a license under this regime, facing an imminent invasion of his rights to due and judicial process as guaranteed by the California Constitution's separation of powers doctrine (Cal. Const., Art. III, § 3).
3. Class of Persons Affected: The California Supreme Court has recognized standing where a plaintiff is "within the class of persons affected" by a governmental body's authority (Stocks v. California Highway Patrol (1971) 6 Cal.3d 1, 9). As a general contractor subject to the CSLB's licensing scheme, Plaintiff falls squarely within this class, reinforcing his standing to challenge its structure.

iii. Causal Connection Between the CSLB's Structure and Plaintiff's Injury

Plaintiff's injury stems directly from the CSLB's unconstitutional structure. The agency's consolidation of powers affects the entire licensing scheme, which Plaintiff claims: violates his inalienable right to his time and labor (Cal. Const., Art. I, § 1) and. Violates his rights to be constitutionally governed through the system of checks and balances established by the California and United States Constitutions. Absent judicial intervention,

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Plaintiff faces the Hobson's choice of submitting to an illegitimate authority or forgoing his profession, both of which constitute concrete harm traceable to the CSLB's structural flaw.

iv. Redressability

A favorable ruling declaring the CSLB's structure unconstitutional would redress Plaintiff's injury by invalidating the agency's authority over his profession or necessitating legislative or judicial reforms to align it with separation of powers principles. This relief would protect Plaintiff's property and due process rights, satisfying the redressability requirement implicit in California standing law.

v. No Exhaustion of Administrative Remedies is Required

Plaintiff need not exhaust administrative remedies before challenging the CSLB's structure, as this is a facial constitutional claim beyond the agency's jurisdiction to resolve. The CSLB cannot adjudicate whether its own existence violates separation of powers (County of Alpine v. County of Tuolumne (1958) 49 Cal.2d 787, 798). Thus, Plaintiff properly brings this matter directly to the Court for declaratory relief (Code Civ. Proc. § 1060).

vi.Conclusion

Plaintiff has standing to challenge the constitutionality of the CSLB's structure under California law. As a general contractor subject to its licensing authority, he possesses a personal, legally protected interest directly affected by the agency's lack of proper checks and balances and its unchecked rule-making, enforcement, and adjudicatory powers. The legislative determination that Plaintiff has no inalienable right to his time and labor in construction contracts more than $1,000 (§§ 7027.2, 7048) and the structural flaws inherent in the CSLB's organization and operation threatens Plaintiff's property rights in his livelihood, his due/judicial process rights, and his inalienable right to his time and labor. Supported by precedents such as Carsten and Stocks, Plaintiff's status within the class of persons affected by the CSLB, coupled with the imminent harm of operating under an unconstitutional regime, establishes his right to seek judicial relief. Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court recognize his standing and proceed to the merits of his separation of powers claim.

Overview

In concert with all Plaintiff's other allegations set forth in this action (i.e. Motion to Vacate: challenge to the licensing requirements as a violation of the inalienable rights to life, liberty, property, privacy, and the pursuit of happiness, Cal. Const. Art. I, §1; state cannot covert inalienable private rights into public privileges) he asserts the Contractors State License Board is unconstitutional for the following reasons:

The California Constitution mandates a strict separation of powers: "The powers of state government are legislative, executive, and judicial. Persons charged with the exercise of one power may not exercise either of the others except as permitted by this Constitution" (Cal. Const. art. III, § 3). The Contractors State License Board (CSLB), established under California Business and Professions Code §§ 7000–7170, flouts this mandate by consolidating all three powers into an unelected agency, violating the foundational principles of democratic governance. James Madison, in The Federalist No. 47, warned, "The accumulation of all powers, legislative, executive, and judiciary, in the same hands... may justly be pronounced the very definition of tyranny" (Madison, 1788). Referencing the scholarship of Brent Allan Winters in his Excellence of the Common Law, the Contractors State License Board (CSLB) stands as an unconstitutional affront to common law principles, embodying the "tyranny of the total state" (Preface, p.019). Winters insists that judicial power belongs solely to courts, not agencies, with authority flowing from God to individuals, not the state (Chapter III, §3.11.3, p.408; Chapter IV, §4.1.3, p.445), yet the CSLB's rulemaking (§7008), enforcement (§7090), and adjudication (§7085) consolidate power in a manner mirroring Roman civil law's centralization (Chapter II, §2.7.6, p.125), eroding the common law's separation of powers (Chapter III, §3.7, p.246). This structure subverts liberty by sidelining judicial checks, a critique validated by the CSLB's unchecked suspension of Plaintiff's license without a jury or evidence of harm, which Winters ties to scriptural standards rejecting punishment absent judicial process (Chapter IV, §4.7, p.524). Furthermore, Winters champions the jury as a cornerstone of justice, resisting unjust laws (Chapter IV, §4.3, p.457), and condemns civil law's inquisitorial processes—such as the CSLB's mandatory arbitration (§7085)—as tyrannical for forcing Plaintiff into a non-judicial forum without waiver (Complaint, infra "Absence of Explicit Waiver"; Chapter V, §5.1.5, p.600; Chapter III, §3.7.12, p.296), thus exemplifying the "tyranny of the total state" that common law seeks to dismantle. This section expands on the CSLB's unconstitutional structure, with particular emphasis on its delegation of judicial authority, including its mandatory arbitration program under Section 7085, which further entrenches its despotic overreach.

A. Legislative Powers

The CSLB wields legislative authority through expansive rulemaking:

- Adoption of Regulations: Section 7008 authorizes the CSLB to "adopt rules and regulations... reasonably necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter," granting its edicts legal force without legislative oversight.
- Licensing Standards: Section 7065 empowers the CSLB to set experience, education, and examination criteria.
- Contractor Classifications: Section 7055 allows the CSLB to define contractor specialties.
- Fee Establishment: Section 7137 permits fee-setting, a taxation-like power.
- Exemptions: Section 7040 lets the CSLB carve out exemptions.
- Continuing Education: Section 7008 mandates ongoing requirements.

This delegation is a constitutional abomination. Lord Hewart, in The New Despotism, excoriated such practices: "The power to make regulations having the force of law is a power which, in effect, enables the Executive to modify the provisions of statutes, and even to override them" (Hewart, 1929, p. 10). He warned, "This is not law; it is lawlessness masquerading as law" (Hewart, 1929, p. 47). Gary S. Lawson, in The Rise and Rise of the Administrative State, Harvard Law Review (107 Harv. L. Rev. 1231 )(1994) concurs, arguing vague standards like 'reasonably necessary' violate nondelegation (Lawson, 1994, p. 1239). Justice Clarence Thomas, in Whitman v. American Trucking Associations, Inc., 531 U.S. 457, 487 (2001) (concurring), condemned such transfers: Thomas warns against excessive delegation (531 U.S. at 487). Clean Air Constituency v. California State Air Resources Board, 11 Cal. 3d 801 (1974), struck down a similar delegation, signaling Section 7008's vulnerability.

B. Executive Powers

The CSLB and its Registrar possess broad administrative powers to enforce the Contractors' State License Law (§§ 7000 et seq.), including issuing citations, assessing fines, and imposing disciplinary actions like license suspension or revocation. Critically, these actions occur without a mandatory judicial process following an allegation, allowing the CSLB to act as accuser, adjudicator, and enforcer. The CSLB exercises executive might through enforcement:

- Licensing Operations: Section 7072 governs issuance and renewal.
- Examinations: Section 7065 mandates testing.
- Investigations: Section 7090 authorizes probes into violations.
- Compliance Enforcement: Section 7071.5 enforces bonding.
- Citations and Penalties: Sections 7028.7 and 7028.17 impose fines and stop orders.
- Record-Keeping: Sections 7011 and 7011.4 mandate administrative duties.

i. CSLB Powers to Fine Without Post-Allegation Judicial Process

Under Business and Professions Code § 7099, the Registrar may issue a citation with a civil penalty and/or order of correction upon probable cause of a violation, such as unlicensed contracting (§ 7028) or fraud (§ 7110). After issuance, no automatic judicial process is triggered to adjudicate the accused's rights. Instead:

- Section 7099.4: The citation becomes a final order enforceable by the CSLB if not contested within 15 working days. Enforcement proceeds administratively, without court involvement, unless the cited party affirmatively appeals.
- Section 7099.2: Civil penalties range from a minimum of $200 to a maximum of $15,000 per citation, escalating for severe violations (e.g., unlicensed work in disaster areas under § 7028.16). Penalties are set by the Registrar based on factors outlined in 16 CCR § 884 (e.g., harm, intent), but no judicial review is required to confirm their legality or proportionality.

This process—where the CSLB alleges, assesses, and enforces penalties internally—bypasses judicial oversight post-allegation, vesting quasi-judicial authority in an administrative body. Only if the cited party requests a hearing does the matter enter an administrative review process, still within the CSLB's domain. Cal. Const. Article I, § 9 (Bill of Pains and Penalties Clause), U.S. Const. Art I, §10 (Ibid.) and Article I, § 7 (Due Process) requires a judicial determination of rights in the first instance not after an administrative process of any kind.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

ii. Punishments for Noncompliance

Failure to pay a fine or comply with a citation triggers additional penalties, enforced administratively without mandatory judicial intervention:

1. License Suspension:
   - Section 7090.1: Noncompliance with a citation allows the Registrar to suspend a license until payment or correction is made, effective upon the citation's finality.
   - Section 7125.2: Automatic suspension occurs for lapses in workers' compensation insurance, with no judicial hearing unless appealed.
2. License Revocation:
   - Section 7106: The Registrar may revoke a license for noncompliance or other violations (e.g., abandonment under § 7107) after an administrative hearing, if requested. Absent appeal, revocation proceeds unilaterally.
   - Section 7102: Revoked licensees face a one-to-five-year reapplication bar and potential bonding requirements (§ 7071.5).
3. Criminal Penalties:
   - Section 7028: Unlicensed contracting is a misdemeanor, with fines up to $5,000 and/or six months in jail (first offense), escalating for repeats. While prosecuted judicially, the CSLB initiates these via citation, influencing outcomes.
4. Additional Costs:
   - Section 7118: Restitution or investigation costs may be ordered, enforceable administratively if unpaid.

iii. Appellate Remedies and Their Extent

Post-citation remedies are primarily in-house, with limited judicial recourse:

- In-House Appeals:
  - Section 7099.5: A cited party may request an informal conference with the Registrar or a formal hearing under the Administrative Procedure Act (Government Code §§ 11500 et seq.), conducted by an administrative law judge (ALJ). The CSLB retains final authority over the ALJ's recommendation, per § 7099.6, keeping the process internal.
- Judicial Review:
  - After exhausting administrative remedies, a party may petition a superior court for a writ of administrative mandamus under Code of Civil Procedure § 1094.5. This review is deferential, limited to determining if the CSLB abused discretion, lacked substantial evidence, or violated due process. No de novo judicial trial is guaranteed, and the burden rests on the petitioner to overturn the CSLB's decision violating due process by reversing the burden of proof. This optional, post-hoc remedy does not equate to a mandatory judicial process following an allegation.

iv. Due Process and Excessive Fines Concerns

The absence of a mandatory judicial process post-allegation violates California's due process guarantee and the California and United States Constitutions prohibitions against bills of pains and penalties, as punishment is imposed and enforced by the CSLB without automatic court review. Moreover, the CSLB's penalty structure implicates the Excessive Fines Clause (California Constitution, Article I, § 17; U.S. Constitution, Eighth Amendment). In People v. Cowan (2022) 47 Cal. App. 5th 32, the California Court of Appeal held that fines must be proportional to the offense and the offender's ability to pay, requiring a judicial analysis of factors like culpability, harm, and financial capacity. The CSLB lacks any statutory or regulatory mechanism to conduct this analysis:

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

- No Proportionality Review: Section 7099.2 and 16 CCR § 884 provide penalty ranges but do not mandate consideration of offense gravity relative to the fine, as required by Cowan.
- No Ability-to-Pay Assessment: The CSLB has no process to evaluate a licensee's financial circumstances, a judicial function critical to avoiding excessive fines.
- Administrative Overreach: By imposing fines up to $15,000 without judicial oversight, the CSLB usurps a role reserved for courts, rendering its penalties constitutionally suspect.

v. Statutory References

- § 7000.5: CSLB establishment.
- § 7028: Misdemeanor penalties for unlicensed contracting.
- § 7090.1: Suspension for noncompliance.
- § 7099: Citation issuance authority.
- § 7099.2: Penalty range ($200–$15,000).
- § 7099.4: Citation finality within 15 days.
- § 7099.5–7099.6: In-house appeal process.
- § 7102: Reapplication restrictions.
- § 7106: Revocation grounds.
- § 7118: Restitution and costs.
- § 7125.2: Insurance-related suspension.
- 16 CCR § 884: Penalty guidelines.

vi. Conclusion

The CSLB's power to allege violations, impose fines ($200–$15,000), and enforce penalties like suspension or revocation—without a mandatory judicial process post-allegation—creates an unconstitutional administrative scheme. Appellate remedies are predominantly in-house, with judicial review available only through a discretionary, deferential writ process. Compounding this, the CSLB's failure to assess proportionality or ability to pay under People v. Cowan standards highlights its lack of judicial authority to impose fines. This enforcement power, fused with other roles, breeds despotism. Hewart decried such executive overreach: "The Executive has been armed with new and formidable weapons, enabling it to coerce the subject without accountability" (Hewart, 1929, p. 14). He added, "What we see is the Executive taking unto itself powers which properly belong elsewhere [in this instance in the judiciary as a check and balance]" (Hewart, 1929, p. 52). Lawson labels this a "structural assault on the Constitution," noting, "When agencies enforce their own rules, they become judge, jury, and executioner" (Lawson, 1994, p. 1241). Thomas, in Department of Transportation v. Association of American Railroads, 575 U.S. 43, 61 (2015) (concurring) questions agency accountability (575 U.S. at 61).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

C. Judicial Powers

The CSLB usurps judicial authority, most egregiously through its delegation of adjudicative power to itself and private arbitrators under Section 7085:

- Hearings: Section 7090 allows the CSLB to adjudicate complaints.
- Disciplinary Actions: Section 7090 imposes fines, suspensions, or revocations.
- Restitution: Section 7090 orders remedies.
- Arbitration: Section 7085 mandates CSLB-run arbitration, delegating judicial power to private arbitrators.
- Appeals: Section 7090 permits self-review.

This is a judicial travesty, compounded by the CSLB's arbitration program, which violates the separation of powers in multiple dimensions. Hewart thundered against administrative tribunals: "They are not Courts at all, but merely departments of the Executive, intended to secure departmental convenience at the expense of justice" (Hewart, 1929, p. 35). He added, "This is a persistent and well-contrived system for placing administrative action beyond the reach of the Courts" (Hewart, 1929, p. 14). Lawson insists, "The judicial power is vested in the courts, not in administrative agencies—any deviation is a constitutional betrayal" (Lawson, 1994, p. 1246). Thomas, in Michigan v. EPA, 576 U.S. 743, 763 (2015) (concurring), Thomas critiques agency judicial power (576 U.S. at 763). McHugh v. Santa Monica Rent Control Board, 49 Cal. 3d 348 (1989), demands robust judicial review, not the CSLB's deferential "substantial evidence" sham (Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1094.5).

i. Unconstitutional Delegation of Judicial Power to the CSLB and Private Arbitrators

The California Legislature has granted the CSLB authority under Section 7085 to establish and oversee an arbitration program to resolve disputes under state licensing laws, delegating judicial power to an executive agency and, subsequently, to a private arbitration company. This violates Article VI, Section 1 of the California Constitution, which vests judicial power exclusively in the state's courts: "The judicial power of this State is vested in the Supreme Court, courts of appeal, and superior courts..." Judicial power encompasses the authority to adjudicate disputes, interpret laws, and issue binding decisions—functions the CSLB and its appointed private arbitrators perform when resolving contractor licensing disputes, such as those implicating Plaintiff's rights.

Justice Clarence Thomas has forcefully rejected such delegations. In his concurrence in Department of Transportation v. Association of American Railroads, 575 U.S. 43, 61 (2015), he defined judicial power as "the power to render dispositive judgments" and asserted it must reside with the judiciary, rejecting the notion of "quasi-judicial" power exercisable by executive or private actors: "The Constitution does not expressly grant to agencies the power to issue rules with the force of law, much less the quasi-judicial authority they often exercise in practice" (Perez v. Mortgage Bankers Association, 575 U.S. 92, 115 (2015) (Thomas, J., concurring)). Here, the CSLB's authority to appoint private arbitrators who issue binding rulings crosses a constitutional boundary. Thomas emphasized in Association of American Railroads that delegating governmental power—especially judicial power—to private entities is impermissible because it undermines accountability and the constitutional structure. By vesting the CSLB with judicial authority and allowing it to outsource that power to a private company, the legislature has violated the separation of powers at both state and federal levels, rendering the system unconstitutional.

ii. Contractor-Customer Disputes as Private Rights Disputes

Disputes between contractors and their customers, such as those between Plaintiff and the Humphreys, are private rights disputes, not public rights or privileges, and must be adjudicated by Courts, not administrative agencies or their delegates. Justice Thomas's opinions, particularly in Oil States Energy Services, LLC v. Greene's Energy Group, LLC, 138 S. Ct. 1365 (2018), clarify the distinction:

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

- Private Rights: Disputes between private parties over traditional common law matters—like contracts, property, or torts—historically require judicial resolution.
- Public Rights: Matters between the government and individuals, such as taxation or public benefits, may be assigned to executive agencies.

Contractor-customer disputes, like Plaintiff's with the Humphreys, typically arise from contractual relationships over payment, quality of work, or breach of contract—classic contract law matters rooted in private rights, not public interests. While the state purports to have a regulatory interest in licensing contractors, this does not transform the dispute into a public right. The state's role is regulatory, not proprietary, and the dispute remains a private contractual conflict. Thomas dissents, arguing private rights require Article III courts (138 S. Ct. at 1380). He distinguished public privileges—government-conferred benefits that can be conditioned or adjudicated administratively—from private rights, which exist independently of statutory creation and demand judicial protection. The adjudication of a dispute over private contract is not about the privilege of licensure but about enforcing private obligations, making it a private right that may cannot be subjected to CSLB arbitration.

Submitting these disputes to administrative arbitration usurps judicial power and violates the separation of powers. Historically, contract disputes have been resolved by Courts, not administrative bodies, and Thomas's emphasis on the original understanding of judicial power supports maintaining this tradition.

iii. Mandatory Arbitration Under Section 7085: A Historical Echo of Tyranny

Section 7085(b) mandates arbitration for disputes involving potential violations of specified licensing laws where the contract price or damages are equal to or less than the bond amount ($25,000): "In all cases in which a possible violation... exists and the contract price, or the demand for damages is equal to or less than the amount of the bond required under Section 7071.6... the complaint shall be referred to arbitration..." The use of "shall" imposes a compulsory process, echoing the tyranny of King George III's admiralty courts, which the American Revolution rejected. The Declaration of Independence (1776) denounced the King for depriving colonists "in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury," a grievance rooted in the Declaration of Resolves of the First Continental Congress (1774), which protested admiralty courts' denial of jury trials as an assault on "the rights of

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

Englishmen." These crown-appointed tribunals were instruments of oppression, fueling revolutionary fervor. Section 7085 resurrects this injustice by mandating arbitration without party consent, relegating contractors' claims to an unelected CSLB bureaucrat or private arbitrator, bypassing the judicial system and denying the right to a jury trial.

iv. Absence of Explicit Waiver and Coercive Nature of Licensing

Section 7085 imposes mandatory arbitration without explicit waiver language in either the Business and Professions Code §§ 7000 et seq. or the "Application for Original Contractor License," which Plaintiff completed (see "Factual Background and Arguments at Law: Plaintiff Qualifies for a General Contractor License"). The application contains no mention of arbitration or the forfeiture of judicial rights, nor does it require contractors to acknowledge this condition of licensure. In Johnson v. Zerbst, 304 U.S. 458, 464 (1938), the U.S. Supreme Court held that waiving a constitutional right requires "an intentional relinquishment or abandonment of a known right or privilege." Without explicit notice, Plaintiff could not knowingly waive his right to a judicial forum. The case SEC v. Jarkesy, 603 U.S. ___ (2024) reinforces this, ruling that administrative adjudication of fraud (a common law claim) seeking civil penalties violates the Seventh Amendment absent consent, as it denies a jury trial.

Moreover, the mandatory licensing framework (Sections 7000 et seq.) transforms any implicit waiver into a coercive condition. Plaintiff has no practical alternative but to comply to earn his livelihood, undermining voluntariness. The doctrine of unconstitutional conditions prohibits conditioning a benefit (a license) on the surrender of a constitutional right absent informed consent (Fuentes v. Shevin, 407 U.S. 67, 80 (1972)). Jarkesy struck down the SEC's in-house tribunals for lacking consent, a defect mirrored in Section 7085's unconsented mandate.

v. Violation of the Non-Delegation Doctrine

Even if some delegation were permissible, the CSLB's arbitration system lacks the legislative standards required by the non-delegation doctrine. California courts demand clear guidelines to prevent arbitrary authority (Kugler v. Yocum, 69 Cal. 2d 371 (1968); People v. Wright, 30 Cal. 3d 705 (1982)):

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

- No Arbitrator Qualifications: The statute specifies no requirements for expertise, impartiality, or ethical conduct.
- No Procedural Safeguards: The process lacks rules governing hearings, evidence, or appeals.
- No Oversight Framework: There are no mechanisms to ensure consistency or review decisions.

This unfettered discretion violates the non-delegation doctrine. Thomas's concurrence in Association of American Railroads cautions that delegations to private entities are particularly suspect due to their lack of accountability, a flaw evident in the CSLB's outsourcing of judicial power which it has no power to exercise to begin with.

vi. Lack of Executive Oversight Under Seila Law

The U.S. Supreme Court in Seila Law LLC v. Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 140 S. Ct. 2183 (2020), ruled that agency structures violating separation of powers—such as insulation from executive removal—are unconstitutional. Thomas, joining the majority and writing separately, argued that executive power must remain under the President's control for accountability. Under Cal. Const. art. V, § 1, the Governor ensures the faithful execution of laws, yet the CSLB's appointment of private arbitrators operates without gubernatorial supervision. These arbitrators, exercising judicial power, are insulated from the Governor's authority, undermining the executive's role and mirroring the accountability deficit condemned in Seila Law.

vii. Absence of an Oath of Office

The California Constitution requires public officers to take an oath to uphold the U.S. and California Constitutions (Cal. Const. art. XX, § 3). While CSLB arbitrators are not formally public officers, their exercise of judicial power makes them de facto officials. Their failure to take an oath—unlike arbitrators in California's judicial arbitration program (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 3.814)—highlights their lack of accountability and the system's disregard for Constitutional norms, further evidencing its unconstitutionality.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

D. Concentration of Powers and Lack of Accountability

The CSLB's appointed board (Section 7001) merges all powers without democratic tether, a fourth branch run amok, exacerbated by its arbitration program. Hewart's indictment is blistering: "The whole scheme is one for the conferring of arbitrary power on the executive, unanswerable to Parliament or the Courts" (Hewart, 1929, p. 14). He warned, "This is despotism in action, cloaked as administration" (Hewart, 1929, p. 77). Lawson echoes, the concentration of powers in agencies like the CSLB is the very definition of tyranny—a rejection of the framers' design (Lawson, 1994, p. 1248). Thomas, in Kisor v. Wilkie, 139 S. Ct. 2400, 2447 (2019) (dissenting), stated, "This amalgamation of powers obliterates the Constitution's tripartite structure." Philip Hamburger, in Is Administrative Law Unlawful?, adds, "Such agencies are a return to the absolute power of kings, repugnant to liberty" (Hamburger, 2014, p. 2). Justice Thomas further condemned this in Seila Law: "The Constitution does not vest the Federal Government with an undifferentiated 'governmental power.' It vests three distinct types of power in three different branches... The Constitution's vesting clauses do not mention 'quasi-legislative' or 'quasi-judicial' power" (140 S. Ct. at 2212 (Thomas, J., concurring)). The CSLB's consolidation, including its judicial delegation to private arbitrators, operates outside this framework, directly contributing to the structural errors in the CSLB's entire being as unlawful fourth branch of government.

E. Denial of Inalienable Rights: The CSLB's Licensing Scheme

The CSLB's licensing regime tramples the right to earn a living, protected by California Constitution Article I, Section 1.

i. Right to Work

The right to labor is sacrosanct. John Locke proclaimed, "The labor of his body and the work of his hands... are properly his" (Locke, 1689, Second Treatise, Chap. V, § 27). The U.S. Supreme Court upheld this in Meyer v. Nebraska, 262 U.S. 390, 399 (1923), and Truax v. Raich, 239 U.S. 33, 41 (1915). The CSLB's licensure mandate (§§ 7028, 7031) and administrative penalties—like fines or license suspensions—strip this right absent state consent. Hewart warned of such overreach: "To place the subject at the mercy of administrative caprice is to destroy his liberty" (Hewart, 1929, p. 17).

ADAM A. BEREKI

ii. Plaintiff's Case: Fee Non-Payment, Not Incompetence

The plaintiff met all substantive qualifications under Section 7068 but faced penalties due to a fee lapse (Section 7137). Pena v. Municipal Court, 96 Cal.App.3d 77, 82 (1979), and State v. Bates, 305 N.W.2d 426, 429 (Iowa 1981), reject sanctions for fee lapses when competence is proven. The Licensing Laws response—including license suspension (§ 7071.17)—lacks a public safety basis, violating due process. Lawson notes, "When agencies punish without public purpose, they wield power for power's sake (Lawson, 1994, p. 1241).

iv. Strict Liability and Excessive Penalties

The CSLB's strict liability penalties, such as fines under Section 7028.7 or license revocation under Section 7090, lack mens rea, defying Staples v. United States, 511 U.S. 600, 618 (1994) (Thomas, J.), and People v. Simon, 9 Cal.4th 493, 522 (1995). Lambert v. California, 355 U.S. 225, 228 (1957), bars strict liability without notice—here absent. Thomas recognized, "Severe sanctions without intent erode justice itself" (Staples, 511 U.S. at 618).

F. The CSLB's Licensing Laws as Unconstitutional Public Welfare Offenses

Public welfare offenses—regulatory crimes aimed at protecting public health, safety, and welfare—impose strict liability without requiring intent (mens rea). Typically involving minor penalties and lacking the moral stigma of malum in se crimes (Witkin, Cal. Crim. Law 5th Elements § 20 (2024); Morissette v. United States, 342 U.S. 246, 249 (1952)), these offenses underpin all CSLB licensing laws (Business and Professions Code §§ 7000–7170). However, when the CSLB imposes criminal-like penalties—such as administrative fines or license revocations—without due/judicial process protections, it exceeds constitutional limits under the California Constitution (Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 7, 9) and the U.S. Constitution (U.S. Const. Art. 1 § 10). This section argues that public welfare offenses are unconstitutional because they fall outside the recognized categories of civil and criminal actions and fail to provide requisite safeguards.

i. All CSLB Licensing Laws as Public Welfare Offenses

The CSLB's licensing laws operate as public welfare offenses:

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

- Section 7028.7: Authorizes fines up to $5,000 for unlicensed contracting without proving intent.
- Section 7031: Authorizes effectively unlimited fines for unlicensed contracting without proving intent.
- Section 7090: Permits license revocation or suspension for violations, adjudicated administratively without mens rea.
- Section 7028: Imposes misdemeanor penalties for regulatory breaches, bypassing intent.

These strict liability measures purportedly aim to protect consumers (Hydrotech Systems, Ltd. v. Oasis Waterpark, 52 Cal.3d 988, 995 (1991)), but their criminal-like penalties exceed traditional public welfare offense bounds and there is no known proof that consumers are actually protected from harm (e.g. thousands of CSLB arbitrations even after it deems contractors competent).

iii. Constitutional Framework and Limitations

The U.S. and California Constitutions recognize only civil and criminal actions, leaving public welfare offenses in a constitutional limbo:

- California Code of Civil Procedure Section 22: Defines an "action" as "an ordinary proceeding in a court of justice by which one party prosecutes another for the declaration, enforcement, or protection of a right, or the redress or prevention of a wrong" (Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 22). This governs civil proceedings, excluding administrative enforcement.
- California Penal Code Section 15: Defines a "crime or public offense" as "an act committed or omitted in violation of a law forbidding or commanding it, and to which is annexed, upon conviction, either of the following punishments: 1. Death; 2. Imprisonment; 3. Fine; 4. Removal from office; or 5. Disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust, or profit" (Cal. Penal Code § 15). This categorizes public welfare offenses as crimes or public offenses, implying they must adhere to criminal due process protections.
- Constitutional Conflict: Public welfare offenses, enforced administratively by the CSLB, fit neither category cleanly. They impose penalties akin to criminal sanctions (fines, license revocation) without mens rea or judicial oversight, violating due process and resulting in a bill of pains and penalties (Lambert v. California, 355 U.S. 225, 228 (1957); Staples v. United States, 511 U.S. 600, 618 (1994)).

- Precedents:
  - Staples v. United States: Justice Thomas held that severe penalties require mens rea, stating, "punishing a violation as a felony is simply incompatible with the theory of the public welfare offense" absent intent (511 U.S. at 618-19).
  - United States v. Bajakajian, 524 U.S. 321 (1998): Thomas ruled that punitive forfeitures must be proportional (524 U.S. at 334).
  - People v. Simon, 9 Cal.4th 493 (1995): Rejected strict liability for harsh penalties (9 Cal.4th at 522).
- Scholarly Critique: Richard Epstein argues, "Strict liability in regulatory offenses, when coupled with severe penalties, undermines the moral foundation of the law" (Simple Rules for a Complex World, 1995, p. 102). Randy Barnett adds, "The administrative state's reliance on strict liability erodes the presumption of innocence and due process" (Restoring the Lost Constitution, 2004, p. 154).

iv. Argument: Unconstitutionality of Public Welfare Offenses

Public welfare offenses, as enforced by the CSLB, are unconstitutional:

- Lack of Constitutional Authority: The U.S. Constitution (Art. III) and California Constitution (Art. I, § 7; Art. VI) recognize only civil and criminal actions. Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 22 defines civil actions, while Cal. Penal Code § 15 classifies public welfare offenses as crimes or public offenses, requiring criminal protections like mens rea and judicial process. The CSLB's administrative enforcement bypasses both, operating outside constitutional bounds.
- Due Process Violation: Strict liability penalties – e.g., fines (Section 7028.7) or license revocation (Section 7090 – lack mens rea,

ADAM A. BEREKI

POWERED BY PEANUT

contravening Staples and Simon. Penal Code § 15's inclusion of fines and disqualification as criminal punishments mandates these safeguards, which the CSLB omits.

- Criminal Nature Without Safeguards: By Penal Code § 15, public welfare offenses are crimes or public offenses, yet the CSLB imposes them administratively without intent, notice, or proportionality (Lambert; Bajakajian), rendering them unconstitutional.

Moreover, recent court decisions have expanded the CSLB's ability to impose disciplinary actions for minor infractions, as seen in Tellis v. Contractors' State License Board, 79 Cal. App. 4th 153 (2000). In Tellis, the court upheld a citation for substandard work despite damages being only 2% of the contract price—approximately $5,286 out of $226,000—interpreting materiality broadly as "substantial, as opposed to trivial" (Tellis, 79 Cal. App. 4th at 163). This expansive definition allows the CSLB to punish contractors disproportionately for relatively minor issues, turning regulatory actions into punitive sanctions. As noted in "Hammering the Contractor" (Los Angeles Lawyer Magazine, Jan. 2001), "the Tellis decision... should strike fear into the hearts of all contractors" due to its "far-reaching implications," enabling discipline even when damages are minimal compared to the overall project (Hammering the Contractor, p. 1).

Additionally, the Tellis court's interpretation of "willfulness" lowers the threshold for finding a violation. It permitted an inference of knowledge based on the contractor's experience, holding that Tellis, a seasoned licensee, must have known his tile work was substandard (Tellis, 79 Cal. App. 4th at 159-60). This approach effectively eliminates the need to prove specific intent, undermining due process by transforming regulatory offenses into strict liability crimes. The article critiques this shift, arguing that "by allowing an inference of knowledge, [the Tellis court] has made the willful element... illusory," enabling the CSLB to discipline contractors whenever "problems with a contractor's work" arise (Hammering the Contractor, p. 13).

The burden of proof in citation hearings further exacerbates this issue. For citations like the one in Tellis, the CSLB need only prove its case by a preponderance of the evidence, a lower standard than the clear and convincing evidence required for accusations seeking license suspension or revocation (Hammering the Contractor, p. 9). Combined with broad interpretations of "materiality" and "willfulness," this lax standard makes it alarmingly easy for the CSLB to impose penalties—up to $5,000 per citation since the Legislature increased the maximum civil penalty post-2001 (Hammering the Contractor, p. 1)—without sufficient evidence or due process protections.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

The Tellis court also distinguished Terminix Co. v. Contractors' State License Board, 84 Cal. App. 2d 167 (1948), which held that a good-faith offer to correct work could preclude discipline if it prevented material injury (Terminix, 84 Cal. App. 2d at 174). In Tellis, despite the contractor's willingness to repair defects, the court limited Terminix to pre-payment scenarios, rejecting the defense post-payment (Tellis, 79 Cal. App. 4th at 161). This narrowing enhances the CSLB's power, as the article notes: "The Tellis court wrongly examined Terminix," reducing contractors' ability to mitigate discipline through remedial efforts (Hammering the Contractor, p. 11).

These disciplinary actions, imposed with minimal safeguards, are effectively criminal penalties masquerading as regulation. The Tellis ruling exemplifies how the CSLB's framework—bolstered by judicial deference—violates contractors' constitutional rights by enabling arbitrary and excessive enforcement.

v. Conclusion

The CSLB's public welfare offenses violate the constitutional framework by imposing criminal-like penalties outside civil or criminal processes, as defined by Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 22 and Cal. Penal Code § 15. Relief is warranted under § 473(d).

G. The Punitive Nature of License Suspension: A Disproportionate and Unconstitutional Penalty

One of the most severe disciplinary measures imposed under the Business and Professions Code, including by the CSLB, is the suspension or revocation of a contractor's license, as authorized by Sections 7085.6 and 7071.17. While license suspensions are often framed as regulatory tools to ensure compliance and protect the public, this section argues that they are highly punitive, particularly when applied to minor, so-called "public welfare"

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

infractions. The authority to deprive someone of their right to earn a living transforms suspension into a disproportionate penalty that, when paired with administrative fines or other remedies, exacerbates its penal nature, violating due/judicial process and the right to pursue a lawful occupation.

i. License Suspension as a Punitive Measure

Though suspensions are often justified as furthering regulatory goals, their practical effect is undeniably punitive:

- Deprivation of Livelihood: A suspended license prohibits contractors from practicing their profession, effectively stripping them of their ability to earn a living. In Schomig v. Keiser, 189 Cal. 596, 598 (1922), the California Supreme Court recognized that revoking a professional license "is in effect a prohibition against the licensee's engaging in his chosen occupation," highlighting its penal character over mere regulation.
- Severe Consequences: Beyond temporary income loss, suspension can lead to financial ruin, loss of professional reputation, and long-term career damage—outcomes far more severe than typical regulatory measures like warnings or corrective actions.
- Combined with Administrative Fines: The CSLB frequently imposes suspensions alongside administrative fines (e.g., under Section 7028.7). While fines are often labeled "remedial," their conjunction with suspension—a sanction that destroys livelihoods—renders the combined penalty highly penal, not merely corrective.

ii. Disproportionality for Minor Infractions

The CSLB's use of license suspension is often disproportionate to the offense, especially for minor violations:

- Statutory Examples:
  - Section 7085.6: Allows suspension for failure to comply with arbitration awards, regardless of the underlying issue's severity.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

- Section 7071.17: Mandates automatic suspension for unpaid judgments, even if minor or unrelated to contractor competence.

- Public Welfare Infractions: Many suspensions stem from administrative errors—e.g., fee lapses (Section 7137) or paperwork delays—rather than fraud or incompetence. Such minor infractions do not justify the drastic penalty of barring someone from their occupation.
- Constitutional Standard: The U.S. Supreme Court in United States v. Bajakajian, 524 U.S. 321, 334 (1998), held that punitive sanctions must be proportional to the offense. Justice Thomas wrote, "The touchstone of the constitutional inquiry under the Excessive Fines Clause is the principle of proportionality." Suspension for trivial violations fails this test.

iii. Violation of Due Process and the Right to Earn a Living

License suspension infringes on fundamental constitutional protections:

- Right to Work: The U.S. Supreme Court has affirmed the right to pursue a lawful occupation as a liberty interest (Meyer v. Nebraska, 262 U.S. 390, 399 (1923); Truax v. Raich, 239 U.S. 33, 41 (1915)). California Constitution Article I, Section 1, similarly protects this right. Requiring licensing in the first place, and/or suspension, by destroying a contractor's ability to work, directly violates this principle.
- Due/Judicial Process: U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10 and Cal. Constitution Art. I, § 9 require that punishment be imposed only after a judicial determination of rights in the first instance and Cal Const. Art I, §7 requires penalties be imposed with due process, including proportionality and intent considerations. In Staples v. United States, 511 U.S. 600, 618 (1994), Justice Thomas warned that "severe sanctions without intent erode justice itself." The CSLB's strict liability suspensions for minor infractions lack these safeguards.

iv. Conclusion

The CSLB's suspension authority, as codified in Sections 7085.6 and 7071.17, is unconstitutional. License suspension under these sections is a highly punitive,

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

POWERED BY PEANUT

disproportionate penalty that, especially when combined with administrative fines, exceeds regulatory bounds and violates due/ judicial process and the right to work. It further proves the CSLB's unconstitutionality.

H. Administrative Officials' Lack of Constitutional Oversight Authority

The California Constitution establishes a tripartite system of government—legislative, executive, and judicial—with each branch serving as a check on the others to ensure constitutional fidelity (Cal. Const. art. III, § 3). However, administrative officials within agencies like the CSLB, operating under the executive branch, lack the authority to question the constitutionality of the statutes they enforce, stripping them of any meaningful role as checks and balances against legislative overreach. See Cal. Const. Art. 3 § 3.5: "An administrative agency, including an administrative agency created by the Constitution or an initiative statute, has no power:

> (a) To declare a statute unenforceable, or refuse to enforce a statute, on the basis of it being unconstitutional unless an appellate court has made a determination that such statute is unconstitutional;
> (b) To declare a statute unconstitutional;
> (c) To declare a statute unenforceable, or to refuse to enforce a statute on the basis that federal law or federal regulations prohibit the enforcement of such statute unless an appellate court has made a determination that the enforcement of such statute is prohibited by federal law or federal regulations.

This structural limitation exacerbates the CSLB's unconstitutionality by allowing it to wield unchecked power, free from internal constitutional scrutiny, thereby violating due process and separation of powers principles. CSLB officials must blindly apply statutes, even if they infringe on rights or exceed legislative bounds. This creates a "rubber stamp" system, amplifying the CSLB's despotic tendencies. If a licensee faces penalties (e.g., suspension under Section 7071.17) for a fee lapse, CSLB officials cannot consider whether such a penalty violates due process or the right to work—they must enforce it, regardless of its fairness or legality. Lord Hewart warned of such unchecked power: "The Executive has been armed with new and formidable weapons, enabling it to coerce the subject without accountability" (Hewart, 1929, p. 14). Without the ability to question statutes, the CSLB becomes a tool of legislative overreach, not a balanced enforcer.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE
POWERED BY PEANUT

i. Constitutional Implications

This structural flaw compounds the CSLB's unconstitutionality:

- Separation of Powers Violation: By denying administrative officials the power to check statutory validity, the executive branch (CSLB) merges with legislative intent, undermining the Cal. Constitution's division of powers.
- Due/Judicial Process Violations: Enforcing potentially unconstitutional statutes without scrutiny denies contractors fair process, as required by Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 7, 9 and U.S. Const. Art. I, §10.

IX. Conclusion and Requested Relief

The CSLB's fusion of powers (Cal. Const. art. III, § 3), assault on rights (Cal. Const. art. I, § 1), lack of jurisdiction over public welfare offenses, punitive, disproportionate use of penalties, license suspension under Sections 7085.6 and 7071.17 render it unconstitutional. Plaintiff's case proves this. Backed by Hewart, Lawson, Thomas, Madison, Locke, and Hamburger, he urges the Court to examine its structural integrity and declare each violation thereof unconstitutional.

DEDICATION TO P'Nut

Peanut (c. 2017 – October 30, 2024), also known as P'Nut, was a male eastern gray squirrel rescued as an orphaned kit by Mark Longo in 2017 after its mother was killed, later becoming the star of a popular Instagram account. On October 30, 2024, the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (NYSDEC) seized Peanut from Longo's home due to his lack of a required wildlife license and euthanized the squirrel for rabies testing, prompted by a bite during the seizure. The results were negative, sparking widespread outrage. The incident, rooted in Longo's failure to a license to keep Peanut, drew condemnation from lawmakers, fueled a social media firestorm, and inspired a proposed bill to prevent such state actions, forming the basis for a lawsuit alleging abuse of power by the NYSDEC over the licensure issue.

Bill,

Based upon my research it seems that pursuant to Business and Professions Code §7071.17 if I were to work out "an accord" with the Humphreys, the licensing board would likely reinstate my license that is suspended indefinitely pursuant for failure to pay the judgement awarded to the Humphreys. My question is, under what terms and conditions would the Humphreys consider "an accord". If I understand their most recent offer, would it mean payment to them of the $300k? I don't have $300k. Additionally, are there any other agreements they are open to that don't involve compensation that would allow me to get my license back and earn a living as a contractor?

Thanks for your help.

Sincerely,

Adam Bereki

I will check with the Humphreys but last indication is that any accord/satisfaction of judgment would require payment of $300,000.00.

Offer 02/10/21

Adam <abereki@gmail.com> Wed, Feb 10, 2021 at 11:37 AM
To: "wbissell wgb-law.com" <wbissell@wgb-law.com>

Hi Bill,

I'm writing to propose another offer between the Humphreys, Spartan, and I:

As I'm sure you're aware, on January 1, 2021 the California homestead exemption increased to $600,000. Here's a link to the CCP:

https://leginfo.legislature.ca.gov/faces/codes_displaySection.xhtml?sectionNum=704.730&lawCode=CCP

Assuming the Court found I was the legal and beneficial owner of the Spirit property, the maximum exemption of $600,000 would apply. The exemption would fully shield all of the equity in the property as the equity is less than the homestead when taking into account the balance due on the mortgage. If I then filed bankruptcy to discharge the judgment, the Humphreys would not receive any money from the sale of the property.

Alternatively, if the Court found my mother was the true owner, the Humphreys would not receive any money from the sale of the property and would have to remove the lien.

Obviously litigating who owned the property would seem to be a further expense to both the Humphreys, my mom, and I and would not result in them receiving any money on the judgment no matter what the determination.

Additionally, the Humphreys are aware of my belief about the unconstitutional and unlawful nature of the judgment. As they are also aware, I have been unduly harmed in a myriad of ways including suspension of my ability to act as a contractor resulting in hundreds of thousands of dollars in lost income.

I understand the Humphreys may not agree with me on any level. But I believe I have valid meritorious claims on these and other damages and deprivation of rights issues and that there are remedies still available to me to pursue against them. For example, while the litigation between the Humphreys and I has continued, I have also perfected government tort claims against the State of California in which California has waived sovereign immunity. I can therefore bring a damages claim in federal court for deprivation of rights. The unconstitutional judgment (as I see it) obtained by the Humphreys and the damages and deprivation of rights issues associated therewith would absolutely be germain to this litigation.

I understand that it appears I have "lost" at every attempt I have made to obtain justice under the Constitution and law as I see it, but that does not mean the same would be true in any proceeding action(s). In fact I believe the contrary would be true and that not only would the judgment be vacated, but that I would also be awarded damages and potentially punitive damages against the Humphreys and others for blatant violations of constitutional law resulting in deprivations of my rights and liberty.

I would like to move forward in my life without suffering further irreparable harm by filing bankruptcy to discharge the judgment and without continuing litigation with the Humphreys. Therefore, the offer I'm proposing is for the Humphreys and I and Spartan to completely walk away from any and all claims and move on with our lives. This would involve a complete and full dismissal of the judgment so that I could get my license back and earn a living. It would also require the Humphreys tp remove the lien on the Spirit property. Spartan would in turn dismiss it's claim against the Humphreys and the Humphreys would dismiss all remaining claims against Spartan and I. I would also dismiss all claims against the Humphreys. Filing bankruptcy and the irreparable harm associated therewith that I believe would be attributed at least in part to the unlawful actions of the Humphreys would also be avoided.

I remain open and available to any further ideas, discussions, offers, or resolutions the Humphreys may have as well.

Sincerely,

Adam

The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address or other common designation, if any, shown above. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. All checks payable to Prestige Default Services, LLC.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 793-6107 or visit this Internet Website www.auction.com, using the file number assigned to this case 22-7030. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (800) 793-6107, or visit this internet website www.auction.com, using the file number assigned to this case 22-7030 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.

NOTICE OF SALE
SUMMARY OF KEY INFORMATION

The attached notice of sale was sent to ADAM BEREKI, A SINGLE MAN, in relation to 818 SPIRIT, COSTA MESA California 92626 .

YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST OR MORTGAGE DATED 7/1/2005. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE.

IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER.

The total amount due in the notice of sale is $575,064.98.

Your property is scheduled to be sold on 3/3/2025 at 9:00 AM at Auction.com room, Doubletree by Hilton Hotel Anaheim – Orange County, 100 The City Drive, Orange, California 92868.

However, the sale date shown on the attached notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 793-6107 or visit this Internet Web site address www.auction.com, using the file number assigned to this case 22-7030. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

If you would like additional copies of this summary, you may obtain them by calling 949-427-2010.

CREDIT LINE AGREEMENT

GENERALLY: This Credit Line Agreement ("Agreement") is an agreement about your home equity line of credit ("Credit Line Account"). Many of the terms we use in this Agreement have special meanings. The term "this plan" means your home equity line of credit. The term "loan account balance" means the sum of the unpaid principal of loans made under this plan, plus unpaid but earned finance charges. "Line of Credit" or "Credit Limit" means the maximum amount of principal we will ordinarily allow you to owe us under this plan at any time. In addition, we will use the following terms for this plan: "Initial Advance" means the amount of the loan you request at the closing.

TERM: The term of your Credit Line Account will begin as of the date of the Agreement and will continue until termination of your Credit Line Account. All indebtedness under this Agreement, if not already paid pursuant to the payment provisions below, will be due and payable upon termination. The "Draw Period" is ten 10) years from the date your Credit Line Account is activated. Activation is defined as the earlier of i) the date of the initial disbursement on your Credit Line Account; or (ii) the date the Credit Line Account is set up on our servicing system ("Activation"). After the Draw Period ends, you will no longer be able to obtain loans and you must repay the outstanding balance over fifteen (15) years (the "Repayment Period"). The end of the Repayment Period is known as the "Maturity Date". You agree that, at our sole discretion, we may renew or extend the period during which you may obtain advances or make payments.

REQUESTING A LOAN: You request a loan under this Agreement by writing a special check that we have given you for this purpose.

VARIABLE RATE: The ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE may change, and will be -0.50000 % ( Index ) the following index: the highest Prime Rate most recently published in the Money Rates section of The Wall Street Journal determined on the last business day of each month ("Index"). Any increase or decrease in the Annual Percentage Rate will take effect on the first day of the next billing cycle. The Annual Percentage Rate may increase if this index increases and may decrease if this index decreases. An increase will result in an increase in the Finance Charge and it may have the effect of increasing your periodic minimum payment. A decrease will result in a decrease in the Finance Charge and it may have the effect of decreasing your periodic minimum payment. The Annual Percentage Rate will not change more often than once a month.

If the index changes more frequently than the Annual Percentage Rate, we will always use the index in effect on the last day of the billing cycle to determine the new Annual Percentage Rate. In such cases, we will ignore any changes in the index that occur between Annual Percentage Rate adjustments.

The "Annual Percentage Rate" referred to in this section is the annual rate which corresponds to the periodic rate applied to the balance as described above. The corresponding ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE will never exceed 18 % and will never exceed the highest allowable rate for this type of agreement as determined by applicable state or federal law.

HOW THE LOAN IS ADVANCED: When you request a loan, we will, subject to any limitations contained in this Agreement, advance exactly the amount you request. We will make the advance by depositing the amount in your transaction account, by advancing the money directly to you, or by paying a designated third person or account, depending on how we agree to make the advance. We will record the amount as a loan in your loan account.

However, we will not ordinarily grant any request for a loan which would cause the unpaid principal of your loan account balance to be greater than the Line of Credit listed in this Agreement. We may, at our option, grant such a request without obligating ourselves to do so in the future. If we allow you to exceed your Line of Credit amount, we may demand the immediate payment of any amount in excess of the Line of Credit amount or refuse advances as long as the principal balance exceeds the Line of Credit amount.

PERIODIC FINANCE CHARGES. You will pay a periodic FINANCE CHARGE on the outstanding amount of the principal balance under your Credit Line, each billing cycle during the Draw Period and the Repayment Period. The periodic FINANCE CHARGE will begin to accrue on the date Credit Advances are posted to your Credit Line Account. There is no "grace period" which would allow you to avoid a periodic FINANCE CHARGE on your Credit Advances.

Method Used to Determine the Balance on Which the Periodic FINANCE CHARGE Will Be Computed. We calculate the periodic FINANCE CHARGE on your Credit Line Account by determining the average daily balance of your Credit Line Account and multiplying that amount by the applicable daily periodic rate, then by the number of days in the billing cycle. To get the average daily balance, we take the beginning unpaid principal balance of your Credit Line Account each day and add new Credit Advances and subtract any credits and any principal repaid with any payments. This gives us the daily principal balance each day. Then we add up all the daily principal balances for the billing cycle and divide the total by the number of days in the billing cycle (the number of days since your last statement). This gives us the average daily balance. The average daily balance does not include finance charges, insurance premiums, annual fees or other charges.

How You May Compute the Periodic Finance Charges on Your Line of Credit Account. When the average daily balance has been computed, we multiply the average daily balance by the daily periodic rate, which is arrived at by dividing the Annual Percentage Rate by the number of days in the year. The result is multiplied by the number of days in the billing cycle. This figure is the periodic FINANCE CHARGE assessed for the billing cycle.

On the day of the preparation of this Agreement, the daily periodic FINANCE CHARGE was 0.02110 % which corresponds to an ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE of 7.70000 %. The Annual Percentage Rate includes interest and no other costs.

ADDITIONAL FINANCE CHARGES: You agree to pay the following additional FINANCE CHARGES:

Annual Fee $100.00 will be due annually during the Draw Period after the expiration of twenty four (24) months from the date of Activation of the Credit Line Account. The Annual Fee shall be waived for each year that it is due if, for the immediately preceding twelve (12) months, the average outstanding balance on your Credit Line Account during each twelve (12) months is 20% or more of the Line of Credit.

Prepayment Fee: The lesser of $350 or one percent (1%) of the Credit Limit if you cancel this Agreement within three (3) years of the Activation of the Agreement.

HOW YOU REPAY YOUR LOANS:

a) Draw Period: On or before each payment due date, you agree to make a minimum payment. The minimum payment is the accrued Finance Charges on the last day of the billing cycle and other charges imposed during the billing cycle. You must also pay any past due amounts and any amount that exceeds your Line of Credit. You can pay off all or any part of what you owe at any time. However, as long as you owe any amount you must continue to make the minimum payment

b) Repayment Period: During the Repayment Period, your regular payment will consist of principal and interest. The principal portion of your payment will be a constant equal amount based on the amortization of your outstanding principal balance at the inception of your Repayment Period over a 180 month period or $20.00, whichever is greater. In calculating the regular payment, we will use the applicable variable Annual Percentage Rate in effect on the day we calculate your regular payment. Your payments will be due monthly. Your "Minimum Payment" will be the regular payment, plus any amount past due and all other charges. In any event, if your Credit Line Account balance falls below $20.00, you agree to pay your balance in full. You agree to pay not less than the Minimum Payment on or before the payment due date indicated on your periodic billing statement.

c) Payments: All payments must be made by a check, money order, or other instrument in U.S. dollars and must be received by us at the remittance address shown on your periodic billing statement. Loans issued pursuant to the terms of the Agreement shall not be used for payments due hereunder, or for any sums of money due to the holder of any mortgage or security interest affecting your home that is given for security for this Agreement.

SECURITY: We have secured your obligations under this Agreement by taking a security interest, by way of a separate security agreement, mortgage or other instrument dated 10/30/2008, ("Security Instrument") in the following property ("Property"), described by item or type:

818 Split, Costa Mesa, CA 92626

ADDITIONAL CHARGES: You agree to pay the following additional charges:

Overlimit Fee: A fee of $28.50 in each billing cycle during which the balance due exceeds the maximum Credit Limit.

Returned Check Fee: A fee of $28.50 for each return of a dishonored check or other payment instrument.

Stop Payment Fee: A fee of $28.50 for each check on which you stop payment.

The Overlimit Fee, Returned Check Fee and Stop Payment Fee will increase by $2.00 on each anniversary date of this plan for the 12 month period thereafter.

Late Charge: The lesser of $40 or ten percent (10%) of the payment not paid within 15 days of the payment due date.

Check Reorder Fee: $6.00 for each check reorder (25 checks per reorder).

Copy of Periodic Billing Statement Fee: $2.00 for each copy of your monthly periodic billing statement that you request.

Appraisal $ N/A ; Official Fees $ N/A ; Doc. Fees $ N/A ; Title Search $ N/A ; (Other) N/A $ .

INSURANCE: You must obtain insurance on the Property through any company of your choice that is reasonably satisfactory to us. The insurance you maintain must provide for ten (10) days notice of cancellation to us. If the Property is located in an area identified by the Federal Emergency Management Agency as having special flood hazards under the National Flood Insurance Act of 1994, as amended, you must also maintain flood insurance on the Property. Subject to applicable law, if you fail to obtain or maintain insurance as required hereby or in the Security Instrument, we may purchase insurance to protect our own interest, add the premium to your balance, pursue any other remedies available to us, or do any one or more of these things.

In the event you fail to obtain and maintain any insurance on the Property required by us, you understand and agree that we may, at our option (unless required to do so by applicable law), obtain and maintain the required insurance and pay the premium(s) for such insurance, and either: (a) add the cost of the insurance to the unpaid principal balance owed under this Agreement (in which case you agree to repay the cost of the insurance in accordance with the repayment terms of this Agreement), or (b) bill you separately (in which case you agree to pay the bill immediately). You agree to pay interest on any such amounts at the interest rate provided in this Agreement until such amounts are repaid in full. You understand and acknowledge that any insurance obtained and maintained by us may (i) only protect the interests of us and any other creditor with a prior mortgage on the Property, and (ii) be more expensive than insurance obtained and maintained by you.

CHARGES TO YOUR CREDIT LINE: We may charge your Credit Line Account to pay other fees and costs that you are obligated to pay under this Agreement, under the Security Instrument or under any other document related to your Credit Line Account. In addition, we may charge your Credit Line Account for funds required for continuing insurance coverage as described in this Agreement or as described in the Security Instrument. We may also, at our option, charge your Credit Line Account to pay any costs or expenses to protect our security interest in the Property. Those costs or expenses include, without limitation, payments to cure defaults under any existing liens on the Property. If you do not pay your property taxes, we may pay the delinquent taxes and charge your Credit Line Account the amount of such payment. Any amounts so charged to your Credit Line Account will be a loan and will decrease the funds available, if any, under the Credit Line Account. However, we have no obligation to provide any of the loans referred to in this paragraph.

INITIAL PERIODIC BILLING STATEMENT: Your initial periodic billing statement will be issued on the first billing date after your Credit Line Account is set up on our system.

SUSPENSION OR REDUCTION: We may temporarily prohibit you from obtaining additional extensions of credit, or reduce your Credit Limit if:

(1) The value of the Property securing this plan declines significantly below the Property's appraised value for purposes of this Credit Line Account. This includes, for example, a decline such that the initial difference between your Credit Limit and the available equity is reduced by fifty percent (50%) and may include a smaller decline depending on the individual circumstances;
(2) We reasonably believe that you will not be able to meet the repayment requirements under this plan due to a material change in your financial circumstances;
(3) You are in default of a material obligation of this Agreement or any agreement securing this Agreement. We consider all of your obligations to be material. Categories of material obligations include the events and conditions described in the Termination and Acceleration provision, obligations to pay fees and charges, obligations and limitations on the receipt of loans, obligations concerning maintenance or use of the Property, obligations to pay and perform the terms of any other deed of trust, mortgage or deed to secure debt on the Property, obligations to notify us and to provide documents or information to us (such as updated financial information), obligations to comply with applicable law (such as zoning restrictions), and obligations of any consumer;
(4) A government action prevents us from imposing the annual percentage rate provided for in this Agreement;
(5) The action of a governmental body adversely affects our security interest to the extent that the value of the security interest is less than 120% of the Line of Credit;
(6) The annual percentage rate corresponding to the periodic rate reaches the maximum rate allowed under this plan; or
(7) A regulatory agency has notified us that continued advances would constitute an unsafe and unsound practice.

We will mail or deliver written notice to you after we suspend your Credit Line Account or reduce your Credit Limit, and this notice will describe the specific reasons for our action. We are obligated to reinstate your credit privileges when the condition(s) which caused the suspension or reduction has been cured or has changed and you have notified us in writing, explaining how the condition(s) has been cured or has changed, provided no new condition(s) under this provision exists or has occurred.

Before reinstating your right to obtain loans, or restoring your Credit Limit, we may conduct or obtain credit reports, appraisals, lien searches and other evaluations as we consider appropriate. To the extent permitted by applicable law, you agree to reimburse us on demand for any costs we actually incur for obtaining such information.

If an event or condition described in the Suspension or Reduction provision occurs which is also an event or condition described in the Termination and Acceleration provision, we have the option of exercising any or all of the remedies described in the Suspension or Reduction provision or Remedies provision.

TERMINATION AND ACCELERATION: We may take the actions listed in the Remedies provision if any of the following events or conditions occur:
(1) You engage in fraud or material misrepresentation in connection with this plan;
(2) Failure to meet the payment terms of this Agreement, such as your failure to make any payments on or before the payment due date; or
(3) Your action or inaction adversely affects the Property or our rights in the Property. This can include, for example, failure to maintain required insurance, waste or destructive use of the Property, failure to pay taxes, death of all persons liable on your Credit Line Account or the death of any one of you if the Property is adversely affected by such death, transfer of title or sale of the Property, the Property is taken through eminent domain, creation of a senior lien on the Property without our permission, foreclosure by the holder of a prior lien, use of the Property for prohibited purposes and such use subjects the Property to seizure, you move out of the Property or you break any promise made in this Agreement or in the Security Instrument.

If your Credit Line Account is terminated, you must immediately destroy all checks and any other access devices. Any use of checks or other access devices following termination may be considered fraudulent. You will also remain liable for any further use of such checks or other Credit Line Account access devices not destroyed.

REMEDIES: If an event or condition described in the Termination and Acceleration provision occurs, subject to any notice or other limitation of applicable law, we may do any combination of the following things:

(1) We may terminate any of your rights under your Credit Line Account;
(2) We may temporarily or permanently refuse to make any additional loans;
(3) We may declare all sums owing under this Agreement and any other agreement you have made with us to be immediately due and payable;
(4) We may foreclose the Security Instrument;
(5) We may reduce your Credit Limit; and
(6) We may take any other action permitted by this Agreement, by law or in equity.

SET-OFF: You agree that we may set-off any amount due and payable under this Agreement against any right you may have to receive money from us. Your right to receive money from us includes:

(1) Any deposit account balances you have with us;
(2) Any money owed to you on an item presented to us or in our possession for collection or exchange; and
(3) Any repurchase agreement or other similar obligations.

"Any amount due and payable under this Agreement" means the total amount to which we are entitled to demand payment under the terms of this Agreement at the time we set off. This total includes any balance due that we properly accelerate under this Agreement. If your right to receive money from us is also owned by someone who has not agreed to pay this Agreement, our right of set-off will apply to your interest in the obligation and to any other amounts you could withdraw on your sole request or endorsement.

Our right of set-off does not apply to an account or other obligation where your rights arise only in a representative capacity. It also does not apply to any Individual Retirement Account or other tax-deferred retirement account. We will not be liable for the dishonor of any check when the dishonor occurs because we set off this debt against any of your accounts. You agree to hold us harmless from any such claims arising as a result of our exercise of our right of set-off.

ATTORNEYS' FEES: If permitted by law, you agree to pay all our costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, that we incur in legal proceedings to collect or enforce this debt should you be in default.

TAX DEDUCTIBILITY: You should consult a tax advisor regarding the deductibility of interest and charges under this plan.

FREEZING THE CREDIT LINE ACCOUNT: We shall have the right to freeze the Credit Line Account upon the written request of any of you. You shall have the right to remove the freeze upon written request signed by all of you unless other conditions exist that permit us to continue the suspension.

OWNER OCCUPANCY: You must occupy the Property that is the security for this Agreement at all times that this Agreement is in effect.

MORE THAN ONE BORROWER: If more than one person has signed this Agreement, all such persons agree that any individual person may request loans under this Agreement.

CONVERSION TO CLOSED END LOAN: In the event this Agreement expires or is cancelled or terminated, we may elect to administer your Credit Line Account as a fixed rate closed end mortgage loan.

CANCELLATION OF AGREEMENT: You may cancel your Credit Line Account at any time. If two or more persons are obligated under this Agreement, any one of them may provide us with a written request to cancel the Credit Line Account. If such cancellation occurs, all persons obligated under this Agreement must provide us with a written request to reinstate draw privileges. We are under no obligation to reinstate draw privileges once this Agreement is cancelled.

Upon cancellation, you must immediately destroy all checks and any other access devices. Any such cancellation shall not relieve you of any of your obligations to us, including, but not limited to, the prepayment fee, and the terms and conditions of this Agreement shall continue to apply to the outstanding balance on your Credit Line Account until paid in full.

CREDIT INFORMATION: You agree to supply us with whatever information we reasonably believe we need to decide whether to continue this plan. We agree to make requests for this information without undue frequency, and to give you reasonable time in which to supply the information.

You authorize us to obtain financial information about you from time to time from third parties, including, but not limited to, a credit bureau, your employer, or another financial institution. You also authorize us to disclose information about your creditworthiness and your Credit Line Account to consumer reporting agencies. In addition, you authorize us to disclose information about you to other third parties in accordance with our privacy policy: Charter One Bank's Pledge Regarding the Responsible Use and Protection of Customer Information.

APPRAISAL: We may require a new appraisal of the Property which secures your Credit Line Account at any time, including an internal inspection, at our sole option and expense, except you must reimburse us for any costs we actually incur in obtaining an appraisal in connection with reinstating your right to obtain loans or restoring your Credit Limit as provided in the Suspension or Reduction provision.

HOLD HARMLESS AGREEMENT: In order to induce us to enter into this Agreement, you hereby agree, that if, for any reason a spouse or co-owner of the Property who is not a Borrower should access the Credit Line Account and, as a result thereof, receive funds that are charged against the Credit Line Account, you do hereby release and forever discharge us from any and all liability associated therewith. You further agree that your sole remedy and recourse shall be against such spouse or co-owner who wrongfully received funds through the Credit Line Account.

NOTICES: All notices will be sent to your address as shown in this Agreement unless you notify us in writing of any change in your address within thirty (30) days of the change. On joint accounts, notices sent to one will be considered notice sent to all.

DOCUMENTATION: You agree to execute or re-execute any document that we request in order to correct any error or omission in the original Agreement, Security Instrument, or other Credit Line Account related documents, including, but not limited to, confirmatory or corrective security instruments.

PERIODIC BILLING STATEMENTS: Each periodic billing statement shall be conclusively presumed correct unless you notify us in writing of an error within 60 days of your receipt of such periodic billing statement.

CHANGING THE TERMS OF THIS AGREEMENT: Generally, we may not change the terms of this Agreement. However, we may change the terms in the following circumstances:

(1) If this is a variable rate plan, we may change the index and margin if the original index described in this Agreement becomes unavailable. Any new index will have a historical movement similar to the original, and, together with a new margin, will produce a similar interest rate.
(2) We may make changes that you have agreed to in writing.
(3) We may make changes that unequivocally benefit you.
(4) We may make changes to insignificant terms of this Agreement.

If we are required to send notice of a change in terms, we will send the notice to your address listed in this Agreement. (You should inform us of any change in address.)

INTERPRETATION: The names given to paragraphs or sections in this Agreement are for reference purposes only. They are not to be used to interpret or define the provisions of this Agreement. You agree that this Agreement, together with the Security Instrument, is the best evidence of your agreement with us. If a court finds that any provision of this Agreement is not valid or should not be enforced, that fact by itself will not mean that the rest of this Agreement will not be valid or enforced. Therefore, a court may enforce the rest of the provisions of this Agreement even if a provision of this Agreement may be found to be invalid or unenforceable. If we go to court for any reason, we can use a copy, filmed or electronic, of any periodic billing statement, this Agreement, the Security Instrument, or any other document to prove what you owe us or that a transaction has taken place. The copy, microfilm, microfiche, or optical image will have the same validity as the original.

GOVERNING LAW: This agreement is governed by federal law and to the extent pre-empted by federal law, the law of Ohio shall apply. Matters related to the enforcement of our lien on your real property shall be governed by the law of the state in which the property is located.

SIGNATURES: By signing below, you agree to the terms of this Agreement and you promise to pay any amounts you owe under this Agreement. You also state that you received a complete copy of the Agreement on today's date.

Fair and Accurate Credit Transaction Act of 2003 Notice

WE MAY REPORT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR ACCOUNT TO CREDIT BUREAUS. LATE PAYMENTS, MISSED PAYMENTS, OR OTHER DEFAULTS ON YOUR ACCOUNT MAY BE REFLECTED IN YOUR CREDIT REPORT.

YOUR BILLING RIGHTS
KEEP THIS NOTICE FOR FUTURE USE

This notice contains important information about your rights and our responsibilities under the Fair Credit Billing Act.

Notify us in case of errors or questions about your bill. If you think your bill is wrong, or if you need more information about a transaction on your bill, write us at Chase One Bank, N.A., Loan Servicing Department, P.O. Box 91358, Cleveland, Ohio 44101-9713. Write to us as soon as possible. We must hear from you no later than 60 days after we send you the first bill on which the error or problem appeared. You can telephone us, but doing so will not preserves your rights.

In your letter, give us the following information:

- Your name and account number.
- The dollar amount of the suspected error.
- Describe the error and explain, if you can, why you believe there is an error. If you need more information, describe the item you are not sure about.

If you have authorized us to pay your bill automatically from your savings or checking account, you can stop the payment on any amount you think is wrong. To stop the payment your letter must reach us three business days before the automatic payment is scheduled to occur.

Your rights and our responsibilities after we receive your written notice. We must acknowledge your letter within 30 days, unless we have corrected the error by then. Within 90 days, we must either correct the error or explain why we believe the bill was correct.

After we receive your letter, we cannot try to collect any amount you question, or report you as delinquent. We can continue to bill you for the amount you question, including finance charges, and we can apply any unpaid amount against your credit limit. You do not have to pay any questioned amount while we are investigating, but you are still obligated to pay the parts of your bill that are not in question.

If we find that we made a mistake on your bill, you will not have to pay any finance charges related to any questioned amount. If we didn't make a mistake, you may have to pay finance charges and you will have to make up any missed payments on the questioned amount. In either case, we will send you a statement of the amount you owe and the date that it is due.

If you fail to pay the amount that we think you owe, we may report you as delinquent. However, if our explanation does not satisfy you and you write to us within ten days telling us that you still refuse to pay, we must tell anyone we report you to that you have a question about your bill. And, we must tell you the name of anyone we reported you to. We must tell anyone we report you to that the matter has been settled between us when it finally is.

If we don't follow these rules, we can't collect the first $50.00 of the questioned amount, even if your bill was correct.

The property is located in Orange (County) at 818 Spirit (Address), Costa Mesa (City), California 92626 (ZIP Code)
Together with all rights, easements, appurtenances, royalties, mineral rights, oil and gas rights, all water and riparian rights, ditches, and water stock and all existing and future improvements, structures, fixtures, and replacements that may now, or at any time in the future, be part of the real estate described above (all referred to as "Property").

3. MAXIMUM OBLIGATION LIMIT. The total principal amount secured by this Security Instrument at any one time shall not exceed $ 110,798.00. This limitation of amount does not include interest and other fees and charges validly made pursuant to this Security Instrument. Also, this limitation does not apply to advances made under the terms of this Security Instrument to protect Lender's security and to perform any of the covenants contained in this Security Instrument.

4. SECURED DEBT AND FUTURE ADVANCES. The term "Secured Debt" is defined as follows:
A. Debt incurred under the terms of all promissory note(s), contract(s), guaranty(ies) or other evidence of debt described below and all their extensions, renewals, modifications or substitutions. (Include items such as borrowers' names, note or contract amounts, interest rates (whether variable), maturity dates, etc.)
The Credit Line Agreement in the amount of $110,798.00, executed by the Mortgagor/Grantor and dated the same day as this Security Instrument, which, if not paid earlier, is due and payable in full 360 months from the due date of the first payment.

B. All future advances from Lender to Trustor or other future obligations of Trustor to Lender under any promissory note, contract or guaranty, or other evidence of debt executed by Trustor in favor of Lender after this Security Instrument if this Security Instrument is specifically referenced on the evidence of other debt. If more than one person signs this Security Instrument, each Trustor agrees that this Security Instrument will secure all future advances and future obligations that are given to or incurred by any one or more Trustor, or any one or more Trustor and others. All future advances and other future obligations are secured by this Security Instrument even though all or part may not yet be advanced. All future advances and other future obligations are secured as if made on the date of this Security Instrument.

C. All additional sums advanced and expenses incurred by Lender for insuring, preserving or otherwise protecting the Property and its value and any other sums advanced and expenses incurred by Lender under the terms of this Security Instrument.

D. Performance of every obligation in this Security Instrument (including any subsequent instrument amending this Security Instrument) and any instrument now or later evidencing or securing any indebtedness secured by this Security Instrument.

In the event that Lender fails to provide any necessary notice of the right of rescission with respect to any additional indebtedness secured under paragraph B of this Section, Lender waives any subsequent security interest in the Trustor's principal dwelling that is created by this Security Instrument (but does not waive the security interest for the debts referenced in paragraph A of this Section).

5. DEED OF TRUST COVENANTS. Trustor agrees that the covenants in this section are material obligations under the Secured Debt and this Security Instrument. If Trustor breaches any covenant in this section, Lender may refuse to make additional extensions of credit and reduce the credit limit. By not exercising either remedy on Trustor's breach, Lender does not waive Lender's right to later consider the event a breach if it happens again.

Payments. Trustor agrees that all payments under the Secured Debt will be paid when due and in accordance with the terms of the Secured Debt and this Security Instrument.

Prior Security Interests. With regard to any other mortgage, deed of trust, security agreement or other lien document that created a prior security interest or encumbrance on the Property, Trustor agrees to make all payments when due and to perform or comply with all covenants. Trustor also agrees not to allow any modification or extension of, nor to request any future advances under any note or agreement secured by the lien document without Lender's prior written approval.

Claims Against Title. Trustor will pay all taxes, assessments, liens, encumbrances, lease payments, ground rents, utilities, and other charges relating to the Property when due. Lender may require Trustor to provide to Lender copies of all notices that such amounts are due and the receipts evidencing Trustor's payment. Trustor will defend title to the Property against any claims that would impair the lien of this Security Instrument. Trustor agrees to assign to Lender, as requested by Lender, any rights, claims or defenses Trustor may have against parties who supply labor or materials to maintain or improve the Property.

Property Condition, Alterations and Inspection. Trustor will keep the Property in good condition and make all repairs that are reasonably necessary. Trustor shall not commit or allow any waste, impairment, or deterioration of the Property. Trustor agrees that the nature of the occupancy and use will not substantially change without Lender's prior written consent. Trustor will not permit any change in any license, restrictive covenant or easement without Lender's prior written consent. Trustor will notify Lender of all demands, proceedings, claims, and actions against Trustor, and of any loss or damage to the Property.

Lender or Lender's agents may, at Lender's option, enter the Property at any reasonable time for the purpose of inspecting the Property. Lender shall give Trustor notice at the time of or before an inspection specifying a reasonable purpose for the inspection. Any inspection of the Property shall be entirely for Lender's benefit and Trustor will in no way rely on Lender's inspection.

Authority to Perform. If Trustor fails to perform any duty or any of the covenants contained in this Security Instrument, Lender may, without notice, perform or cause them to be performed. Trustor appoints Lender as attorney in fact to sign Trustor's name or pay any amount necessary for performance. Lender's right to perform for Trustor shall not create an obligation to perform, and Lender's failure to perform will not preclude Lender from exercising any of Lender's other rights under the law or this Security Instrument.

©1994 Bankers Systems, Inc., St. Cloud, MN Form OCP-6107-CA 3/19/2004

Leaseholds; Condominiums; Planned Unit Developments. Trustor agrees to comply with the provisions of any lease if this Security Instrument is on a leasehold. If the Property includes a unit in a condominium or a planned unit development, Trustor will perform all of Trustor's duties under the covenants, by-laws, or regulations of the condominium or planned unit development.

Condemnation. Trustor will give Lender prompt notice of any pending or threatened action, by private or public entities to purchase or take any or all of the Property through condemnation, eminent domain, or any other means. Trustor authorizes Lender to intervene in Trustor's name in any of the above described actions or claims. Trustor assigns to Lender the proceeds of any award or claim for damages connected with a condemnation or other taking of all or any part of the Property. Such proceeds shall be considered payments and will be applied as provided in this Security Instrument. This assignment of proceeds is subject to the terms of any prior mortgage, deed of trust, security agreement or other lien document.

Insurance. Trustor shall keep Property insured against loss by fire, flood, theft and other hazards and risks reasonably associated with the Property due to its type and location. This insurance shall be maintained in the amounts and for the periods that Lender requires. What Lender requires pursuant to the preceding two sentences can change during the term of the Secured Debt. The insurance carrier providing the insurance shall be chosen by Trustor subject to Lender's approval, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. If Trustor fails to maintain the coverage described above, Lender may, at Lender's option, obtain coverage to protect Lender's rights in the Property according to the terms of this Security Instrument.

All insurance policies and renewals shall be acceptable to Lender and shall include a standard "mortgage clause" and, where applicable, "loss payee clause." Trustor shall immediately notify Lender of cancellation or termination of the insurance. Lender shall have the right to hold the policies and renewals. If Lender requires, Trustor shall immediately give to Lender all receipts of paid premiums and renewal notices. Upon loss, Trustor shall give immediate notice to the insurance carrier and Lender. Lender may make proof of loss if not made immediately by Trustor.

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, all insurance proceeds shall be applied to the restoration or repair of the Property or to the Secured Debt, whether or not then due, at Lender's option. Any application of proceeds to principal shall not extend or postpone the due date of the scheduled payment nor change the amount of any payment. Any excess will be paid to the Trustor. If the Property is acquired by Lender, Trustor's right to any insurance policies and proceeds resulting from damage to the Property before the acquisition shall pass to Lender to the extent of the Secured Debt immediately before the acquisition.

Financial Reports and Additional Documents. Trustor will provide to Lender upon request, any financial statement or information Lender may deem reasonably necessary. Trustor agrees to sign, deliver, and file any additional documents or certifications that Lender may consider necessary to perfect, continue, and preserve Trustor's obligations under this Security Instrument and Lender's lien status on the Property.

6. WARRANTY OF TITLE. Trustor warrants that Trustor is or will be lawfully seized of the estate conveyed by this Security Instrument and has the right to irrevocably grant, convey and sell the Property to Trustee, in trust, with power of sale. Trustor also warrants that the Property is unencumbered, except for encumbrances of record.

7. DUE ON SALE. Lender may, at its option, declare the entire balance of the Secured Debt to be immediately due and payable upon the creation of, or contract for the creation of, a transfer or sale of all or any part of the Property. This right is subject to the restrictions imposed by federal law (12 C.F.R. 591), as applicable.

8. DEFAULT. Trustor will be in default if any of the following occur:

Fraud. Any Consumer Borrower engages in fraud or material misrepresentation in connection with the Secured Debt that is an open end home equity plan.

Payments. Any Consumer Borrower on any Secured Debt that is an open end home equity plan fails to make a payment when due.

Property. Any action or inaction by the Borrower or Trustor occurs that adversely affects the Property or Lender's rights in the Property. This includes, but is not limited to, the following: (a) Trustor fails to maintain required insurance on the Property; (b) Trustor transfers the Property; (c) Trustor commits waste or otherwise destructively uses or fails to maintain the Property such that the action or inaction adversely affects Lender's security; (d) Trustor fails to pay taxes on the Property or otherwise fails to act and thereby causes a lien to be filed against the Property that is senior to the lien of this Security Instrument; (e) a sole Trustor dies; (f) if more than one Trustor, any Trustor dies and Lender's security is adversely affected; (g) the Property is taken through eminent domain; (h) a judgment is filed against Trustor and subjects Trustor and the Property to action that adversely affects Lender's interest; or (i) a prior lienholder forecloses on the Property and as a result, Lender's interest is adversely affected.

Executive Officers. Any Borrower is an executive officer of Lender or an affiliate and such Borrower becomes indebted to Lender or another lender in an aggregate amount greater than the amount permitted under federal laws and regulations.

©1994 Bankers Systems, Inc., St. Cloud, MN Form DEEDTRST-CA 3/10/2004

9. REMEDIES ON DEFAULT. In addition to any other remedy available under the terms of this Security Instrument, Lender may accelerate the Secured Debt and foreclose this Security Instrument in a manner provided by law if Trustor is in default. In some instances, federal and state law will require Lender to provide Trustor with notice of the right to cure, or other notices and may establish time schedules for foreclosure actions.

At the option of the Lender, all or any part of the agreed fees and charges, accrued interest and principal shall become immediately due and payable, after giving notice if required by law, upon the occurrence of a default or anytime thereafter. Lender shall be entitled to, without limitation, the power to sell the Property.

If Lender elects to foreclose by exercise of the power of sale, Lender will declare the entire Secured Debts due and payable by delivering to Trustee this Security Instrument and any evidence of the Secured Debts, receipts and evidence of expenditures made and secured, as Trustee requires. When the legally prescribed time passes after Trustee or Lender duly records a notice of default, the Trustee, Lender or other person authorized to take the sale will give a notice of sale as required by law and will cause the Property to be sold at the time and place fixed in the notice of sale. Lender may rescind any notice of default at any time before the Property's sale. Rescission will occur when Lender executes and records a notice of rescission that cancels any prior notice of default and any related acceleration of the Secured Debts. Lender's rescission will not waive any default then existing or subsequently occurring or preclude Lender exercising its remedies, including the power of sale, at another time.

The Property can be sold as a whole or in separate parcels and in any order that Trustee decides. The Property will be sold to the highest bidder for cash in lawful money of the United States, payable at sale time. The Property can be sold to anyone, including Trustor, Trustee or Lender. Trustee may postpone the sale of any part of the Property by public announcement at the time and place of this sale and afterwards at the time fixed by the preceding postponement. Upon any sale of the Property, Trustee will make and deliver a special or limited warranty deed that conveys the property sold to the purchaser or purchasers. Under this special or limited warranty deed, Trustee will covenant that Trustee has not caused or allowed a lien or an encumbrance to burden the Property and that Trustee will specially warrant and defend the Property's title to the purchaser or purchasers at the sale against all lawful claims and demand of all persons claiming by, through or under Trustee. The deed's recital of facts will be conclusive proof of the truthfulness of these facts.

The proceeds from the Property's sale will be applied to the sale expenses, Trustee's expenses, Lender's attorneys' fees due on Trustor's default, sums that Trustee or Lender paid for procuring a title search of the Property's title subsequent to the execution of this Security Instrument, all outstanding amounts due under this Security Instrument and the remainder to anyone legally entitled to the remaining amounts due.

The acceptance by Lender of any sum in payment or partial payment on the Secured Debt after the balance is due or is accelerated or after foreclosure proceedings are filed shall not constitute a waiver of Lender's right to require complete cure of any existing default. By not exercising any remedy on Trustor's default, Lender does not waive Lender's right to later consider the event a default if it happens again.

10. EXPENSES; ADVANCES ON COVENANTS; ATTORNEYS' FEES; COLLECTION COSTS. If Trustor breaches any covenant in this Security Instrument, Trustor agrees to pay all expenses Lender incurs in performing such covenants (including but not limited to advances and expenses described in the DEED OF TRUST COVENANTS section) or protecting its security interest in the Property. Such expenses include, but are not limited to, fees incurred for inspecting, preserving, or otherwise protecting the Property and Lender's security interest. These expenses are payable on demand and will bear interest from the date of payment until paid in full at the highest rate of interest in effect as provided in the terms of the Secured Debt. Trustor agrees to pay all costs and expenses incurred by Lender in collecting, enforcing or protecting Lender's rights and remedies under this Security Instrument. This amount may include, but is not limited to, attorneys' fees, court costs, and other legal expenses. To the extent permitted by the United States Bankruptcy Code, Trustor agrees to pay the reasonable attorneys' fees Lender incurs to collect the Secured Debt as awarded by any court exercising jurisdiction under the Bankruptcy Code. This Security Instrument shall remain in effect until released. Trustor agrees to pay for any recordation costs of such release.

11. ENVIRONMENTAL LAWS AND HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES. As used in this section, (1) Environmental Law means, without limitation, the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA, 42 U.S.C. 9601 et seq.), and all other federal, state and local laws, regulations, ordinances, court orders, attorney general opinions or interpretive letters concerning the public health, safety, welfare, environment or a hazardous substance; and (2) Hazardous Substance means any toxic, radioactive or hazardous material, waste, pollutant or contaminant which has characteristics which render the substance dangerous or potentially dangerous to the public health, safety, welfare or environment. The term includes, without limitation, any substances defined as "hazardous material," "toxic substances," "hazardous waste" or "hazardous substance" under any Environmental Law.

Trustor represents, warrants and agrees that:

A. Except as previously disclosed and acknowledged in writing to Lender, no Hazardous Substance is or will be located, stored or released on or in the Property. This restriction does not apply to small quantities of Hazardous Substances that are generally recognized to be appropriate for the normal use and maintenance of the Property.

B. Except as previously disclosed and acknowledged in writing to Lender, Trustor and every tenant have been, are, and shall remain in full compliance with any applicable Environmental Law.

C. Trustor shall immediately notify Lender if a release or threatened release of a Hazardous Substance occurs on, under or about the Property or there is a violation of any Environmental Law concerning the Property. In such an event, Trustor shall take all necessary remedial action in accordance with any Environmental Law.

D. Trustor shall immediately notify Lender in writing as soon as Trustor has reason to believe there is any pending or threatened investigation, claim, or proceeding relating to the release or threatened release of any Hazardous Substance or the violation of any Environmental Law.

12. ESCROW FOR TAXES AND INSURANCE. Unless otherwise provided in a separate agreement, Trustor will not be required to pay to Lender funds for taxes and insurance in escrow.

13. JOINT AND INDIVIDUAL LIABILITY; CO-SIGNERS; SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS BOUND. All duties under this Security Instrument are joint and individual. If Trustor signs this Security Instrument but does not sign an evidence of debt, Trustor does so only to mortgage Trustor's interest in the Property to secure payment of the Secured Debt and Trustor does not agree to be personally liable on the Secured Debt. The duties and benefits of this Security Instrument shall bind and benefit the successors and assigns of Trustor and Lender.

14. SEVERABILITY; INTERPRETATION. This Security Instrument is complete and fully integrated. This Security Instrument may not be amended or modified by oral agreement. Any section in this Security Instrument, attachments, or any agreement related to the Secured Debt that conflicts with applicable law will not be effective, unless that law expressly or impliedly permits the variations by written agreement. If any section of this Security Instrument cannot be enforced according to its terms, that section will be severed and will not affect the enforceability of the remainder of this Security Instrument. Whenever used, the singular shall include the plural and the plural the singular. The captions and headings of the sections of this Security Instrument are for convenience only and are not to be used to interpret or define the terms of this Security Instrument. Time is of the essence in this Security Instrument.

15. SUCCESSOR TRUSTEE. Lender, at Lender's option, may from time to time remove Trustee and appoint a successor trustee without any other formality than the designation in writing. The successor trustee, without conveyance of the Property, shall succeed to all the title, power and duties conferred upon Trustee by this Security Instrument and applicable law.

16. NOTICE. Unless otherwise required by law, any notice shall be given by delivering it or by mailing it by first class mail to the appropriate party's address on page 1 of this Security Instrument, or to any other address designated in writing. Notice to one trustor will be deemed to be notice to all trustors. Lender and Trustor request that copies of any notice of default or notice of sale under a superior security instrument be sent to Lender and Trustor at the addresses listed in the DATE AND PARTIES section.

17. WAIVERS. Except to the extent prohibited by law, Trustor waives all appraisement or marshalling of assets relating to the Property.

18. SPOUSE'S SEPARATE PROPERTY. Any Trustor who is a married person expressly agrees that recourse may be had against his or her separate property.

19. LINE OF CREDIT. The Secured Debt includes a revolving line of credit. Although the Secured Debt may be reduced to a zero balance, this Security Instrument will remain in effect until released.

20. APPLICABLE LAW. This Security Instrument is governed by the laws as agreed to in the Secured Debt, except to the extent required by the laws of the jurisdiction where the Property is located, and applicable federal laws and regulations.

21. RIDERS. The covenants and agreements of each of the riders checked below are incorporated into and supplement and amend the terms of this Security Instrument. [Check all applicable boxes]

(The above statement is made pursuant to CA Civil Code Section 2923.3(c)(1). The Summary will be provided to Trustor(s) and/or vested owner(s) only, pursuant to CA Civil Code Section 2923.3(c)(2).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE

IF YOUR PROPERTY IS IN FORECLOSURE BECAUSE YOU ARE BEHIND IN YOUR PAYMENTS, IT MAY BE SOLD WITHOUT ANY COURT ACTION, and you may have the legal right to bring your account in good standing by paying all of your past due payments plus permitted costs and expenses within the time permitted by law for reinstatement of your account, which is normally five business days prior to the date set for the sale of your property. No sale date may be set until approximately 90 days from the date this Notice of Default may be recorded (which date of recording appears on this notice).

This amount is $31,901.33 as of July 9, 2024, and will increase until your account becomes current.

While your property is in foreclosure, you still must pay other obligations (such as insurance and taxes) required by your Note and Deed of Trust or Mortgage. If you fail to make future payments on the loan, pay taxes on the property, provide insurance on the property, or pay other obligations as required in the Note and Deed of Trust or Mortgage, the Beneficiary or Mortgagee may insist that you do so in order to reinstate your account in good standing. In addition, the Beneficiary or Mortgagee may require as a condition to reinstatement that you provide reliable written evidence that you paid all senior liens, property taxes, and hazard insurance premiums.

Upon your written request, the Beneficiary or Mortgagee will give you a written itemization of the entire amount you must pay. You may not have to pay the entire unpaid portion of your account, even though full payment was demanded, but you must pay all amounts in default at the time payment is made. However, you and your Beneficiary or Mortgagee may mutually agree in writing prior to the time the Notice of Sale is posted (which may not be earlier than the end of the three-month period stated above) to, among other things, (1) provide additional time in which to cure the default by transfer of the property or otherwise; or (2) establish a schedule of payments in order to cure your default; or both (1) and (2).

SUBJECT: NOTICE OF DEFAULT RECORDING CONFIRMATION

Dear Orange County Homeowner,

The Clerk-Recorder and the District Attorney of Orange County are working together to protect Orange County homeowners from potential fraudulent and illegal activities involving official property records.

This courtesy notice regarding a recent property recording transaction is being sent to you to ensure the legitimacy and accuracy of all records filed with the Clerk-Recorder.

The Clerk-Recorder's records indicate that a Notice of Default affecting the title to your real property was recently recorded. A copy of the first page of that document is enclosed for your reference.

You may be contacted by people who offer to assist you in your real estate matters. These offers may not be in your best interest, and they may be deceptive, fraudulent, or illegal. You should be especially cautious of people who seek money by cash, check or credit card from you in advance of performing services, such as a loan modification. Once a Notice of Default is recorded, it is illegal for anyone who meets the definition of a "foreclosure consultant," including licensed agents and brokers, to collect fees in advance of performing these services. (Cal. Civil Code Section 2945.1.)

IF THE TRANSACTION IS CORRECT, NO ACTION IS REQUIRED ON YOUR PART.

If you are unaware of this Notice of Default, or suspect fraudulent or illegal activity, you may contact the Orange County District Attorney's Real Estate Fraud Unit by sending an email to REFraud@da.ocgov.com or by calling the Real Estate Fraud Hotline at (714) 664-3931. You may also fill out a Real Estate Fraud Complaint Form, which can be accessed at: www.orangecountyda.org/howdoi/reportfraud.asp. Click on the "Real Estate Fraud Report Form." Once you fill out the form, you will be able to submit it electronically by clicking "submit by email" at the bottom of the form. You will also have the option to print the form and mail it.

If you have any questions about real property records, please contact the Clerk-Recorder Department at (714) 834-2500. For more information regarding real property fraud, visit: www.ocrecorder.com/services/documents/fraud.

Good morning Christina,

I received service of your Motion For Relief From Stay by mail. Could you please send me a digital version of your Motion? I am unable to easily read the copies you sent whereby two pages have been transposed onto one. Please email a full sized copy asap as it is necessary to complete my Motion. In the future, please also serve me by email at this address.

I've included an incomplete/unedited version of my responses and objections as an invitation to resolve the issues in your motion without wasting the Court's resources. I remain open and available to any communication either here or on my cell phone at 949.241.6693.

Sincerely

Adam Bereki

Hi Christina,

Thanks for your message. First, my intent isn't to cause any harm to your client. I want to ensure it is paid all the money it is rightfully owed. As you discovered, I'm not in this situation by choice. I will be bringing Adversary Proceedings against the Humphreys and others as soon as possible as well as asking for emergency equitable relief so that claims can be repaid as a result of this mess. I am not sure how that process will work in bankruptcy but perhaps the trustee would have access over those funds to make payments to creditors- I'll have to see how that all works out. I'd like to work together with you and Citizen, not against you. As far as the Motion For Relief goes, it doesn't seem to have any merit. If you feel I'm wrong and have some authority(ies) to present to the contrary, please let me know and we can work through it together.

Sincerely,

Adam

Good Afternoon Adam –

We have prepared a reply as we oppose any request for sanctions or other award. We filed our Motion because you had indicated in your schedules that there were liens secured against the Property in excess of the value of the Property. I understand that you may dispute the judgment lien, however, it appears that the lien is still secured against the Property. If I am incorrect, please do let me know.

Thank you,

Hi Christina,

Thanks for your message. As I indicated in my response, there is a presumptive validity to the Judicial lien, which is why it was listed on the schedule in that way. However, I also submitted a declaration with the schedules, (Dkt. 15) that rebutted its presumptive validity and gave notice that it was a void judgment along providing the legal basis for those assertions. Under California statute if the underlying judgment is void, so is the lien. As I interpret bankruptcy law so far, that lien - whether valid or not – is entirely irrelevant because your alleged lien is senior and there is a near 60% equity cushion. Therefore, your claim is adequately protected and there is no cause for relief from stay. Please let me know if I'm missing something.

Adam <abereki@gmail.com> Sun, Apr 16, 2023 at 10:25 AM
To: Christina Khil <christinao@mclaw.org>

Hi Christina,

I will be appealing the Court's April 12,2023 order to grant Citizens relief from the stay. It is abundantly clear to me that Judge Clarkson deliberately disobeyed fundamental due process, California law, and bankruptcy procedure because he did not want to address the issues pertaining to the fraud, treason, and other crimes that have been (and continue to be) perpetrated upon me, and that he wants this case out of his Court ASAP.

I respect the law, not the ultra vires determinations of a rogue Judge. For these reasons, I am informing you and your client that I will hold you both legally accountable if foreclosure proceedings are commenced as a result of Judge Clarkson's "order". I am confident you know and understand exactly what I'm saying here and that using a Judge's ultra vires order as an excuse to commit crimes (the unlawful taking/seizure of my and my mothers property) will not work as a "nuremberg defense" to civil liability and/or criminal punishment.

As I've repeatedly shared, I have every intent of ensuring your client is compensated to the extent they are owed any money. I am also confident– that to the extent an obligation is owed to your client – that it will rapidly be eclipsed by liability for damages claims for participating in the conspiracy you both have repeatedly been given notice of but failed to heed.

I feel it would be a much more prudent (and lawful) choice to use your resources to support the truth and the law rather than warring against them by proceeding with foreclosure unlawfully. To this end, I ask that you not proceed with the foreclosure proceedings and continue to allow me to work with the system to achieve an equitable resolution for all parties. I also ask that you participate in the appeal and join every aspect of the arguments presented you believe to be the law, including if they go against Clarkson's "order" in your favor. This is about truth, the integrity of our judicial system, and ensuring that your Client receives what may lawfully be owed through lawful not criminal process.

Please let me know what you and your client's intentions are in writing as soon as practically possible.

Sincerely,

Adam Bereki

RE: Notice of Intent to Foreclose
Account: 8000123235 (the "Loan")
Property Address: 818 Spirit Costa Mesa, CA 92626 (the "Property")

Dear Adam Bereki:

Under the terms of the Mortgage or Deed of Trust (Security Instrument) securing your Loan and serviced by Citizens Bank, please note the following:

The loan is in default and is now due is now due and payable as Citizens Bank has elected to declare the indebtedness due and owing under the promissory note and deed of trust based on the borrower's failure to make payments on the loan.

As of February 16, 2024, the total amount needed to reinstate the above referenced mortgage loan (including principal, interest, and escrow if applicable), late fees, insufficient funds (NSF) fees, and other fees and advances due under the terms of your loan documents is $26,593.26. This amount is itemized below. If applicable, your account may have additional escrow amounts that have been paid out and are due on the Loan.

If you have any questions about the amounts detailed below, please contact Citizens at (800)234-6002 to discuss this matter and to confirm the amount prior to remitting any payment.

|---|---|
| Payment Amount Due | $21,548.50 |
| Accrued Late Charge | $540.89 |
| Late Charge Forecasted | $30.87 |
| Mtgr Rec Corp Adv | $4,473.00 |
| Total Reinstatement Due as of February 16, 2024 | $26,593.26 |

*Other Fees and Advances include those amounts assessed in accordance with your loan documents, and/or permitted by applicable law, or that were authorized for services rendered. If you need additional information regarding any of these amounts, please contact us at the number provided below.

1. You are also responsible for paying any amounts that become due from the date of this letter through the expiration date set forth in Paragraph 3 below. These amounts may include, but are not limited to, taxes, insurance, inspection fees, and other fees, as permitted by applicable law.

Citizens

10561 Telegraph Rd
Glen Allen, VA 23059

2. If you have any reason to dispute the past-due amount listed above, or if you believe your Loan is current, please contact us at the number provided below.

3. Action required to cure the default: You must pay the Total Monthly Payments listed in Paragraph 3 within 30 days from the date of this notice in order to cure this default. All late fees, NSF fees, and other fees and advances are still valid and will need to be repaid under the terms of your loan documents.

4. If you fail to cure the default within 30 days from the date of this notice, Citizens will accelerate the maturity of the Loan, terminate your credit line if the Loan provides for revolving advances, declare all sums secured by the Security Instrument immediately due and payable, and commence foreclosure proceedings, all without further notice to you. If this happens, Citizens will be entitled to collect its expenses incurred in pursuing the remedies provided in the Security Instrument, which may include, but not be limited to, allowable foreclosure/attorney fees, and other expenses permitted by applicable law.

5. If permitted by applicable law, you have the right to reinstate after acceleration of the Loan and the right to bring a court action to assert the nonexistence of a default, or any other defense to acceleration, foreclosure, and sale. However, the amount required to reinstate may be higher than what is owed under Paragraph 3 above due to additional fees and charges that we are entitled to collect under the loan documents, including attorney fees related to any foreclosure action we initiate.

6. Kindly remit the total amount due, shown in Paragraph 3 above, to the remittance address listed below. Please refer to the addresses below for payment information or contact us if you have any questions. Except as required by law, we are under no obligation to accept less than the full amount owed. If you send us less than the full amount owed, we may in our sole discretion apply such partial payment to your Loan without waiving any default or waiving our right to accelerate the Loan and continue with foreclosure proceedings in accordance with Paragraph 4 above.

7. If you are unable to pay the amount past due, Citizens has a variety of homeowners' assistance programs that might help you resolve your default and keep your home; however, we need to talk with you to discuss these options and determine which of them might be appropriate for your circumstances. Please call us as soon as possible at (1-800)234-6002.

8. While the Loan remains in default, we will perform certain tasks to protect our interest in the Property, including visits to your Property at regular intervals during the default. This will be done to determine, as of the date of the inspection, the property condition, occupancy status, and possibly your plans for curing the default and paying this Loan on time. You should anticipate that any costs incurred by Citizens Bank will be added to the amount you now owe if permitted by your loan documents or applicable law. Counseling is also available through a variety of nonprofit organizations experienced in homeownership counseling and approved by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). A listing of such organizations may be obtained by calling HUD toll-free at (800) 569-4287 or at www.hud.gov.

9. If you are a qualifying federal worker, tribal worker, state worker or a household member or landlord of such a worker, you may be entitled to certain protections (when applicable) during a period in which there is a lapse in appropriations for a federal or state agency or tribal government that continues through any

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO SERVICEMEMBERS AND THEIR DEPENDENTS

If you are or recently were on active duty or active service, you may be eligible for benefits and protections under the federal Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA). This includes protection from foreclosure or eviction. You may also be eligible for benefits and protections under state law. SCRA and state military benefits and protections also may be available if you are the dependent of an eligible servicemember. Eligible service may include:

- ☐ Active duty with the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, or
- ☐ Active service as a commissioned officer of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, or
- ☐ Active service as a commissioned officer of the Public Health Service, or
- ☐ Service with the forces of a nation with which the United States is allied in a war or military action, or
- ☐ Service with the National Guard of a state militia under a state call of duty, or
- ☐ Any period when you are absent from duty because of sickness, wounds, leave, or other lawful cause.

An important reminder for all our customers: As stated in the "Questions and Answers for Borrowers about the Homeowner Affordability and Stability Plan" distributed by the Obama Administration, "Borrowers should beware of any organization that attempts to charge a fee for housing counseling or modification of a delinquent loan, especially if they require a fee in advance." Loan modification scams should be reported to PreventLoanScams.org, or by calling 888-995-HOPE; 888-995-4673. Please call us immediately at (949) 252-8300, to discuss your options. The longer you delay, the fewer options you may have.

We are attempting to collect a debt, and any information obtained will be used for that purpose. Unless you notify this office within 30 days after receiving this notice that you dispute the validity of the debt, or any portion thereof, this office will assume this debt is valid. If you notify this office in writing within 30 days from receiving this notice, that you dispute the validity of this debt or any portion thereof, this office will obtain verification of the debt or obtain a copy of a judgment and mail you a copy of such verification or judgment. Upon your written request within 30 days after receiving this notice, this office will provide you with the name and address of the original creditor, if different from the current creditor.

The Fair Debt Collection Practices Act and the federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act require that, except under unusual circumstances, collectors may not contact you before 8 a.m. or after 9 p.m. They may not harass you by using threats of violence or arrest or by using obscene language. Collectors may not use false or misleading statements or call you at work if they know or have reason to know that you may not receive personal calls at work. For the most part, collectors may not tell another person, other than your attorney or spouse, about your debt. Collectors may contact another person to confirm your location or enforce a judgment. To the Honorable Scott C. Clarkson, United States Bankruptcy Judge, the Office of the United States Trustee, and all interested parties:

Adam Bereki, ("Declarant"), hereby provides the following Statement of Intent to file two adversary proceedings challenging the validity of two purported "liens" listed on the First-Amended Schedules in the case of In re Adam Alan Bereki, case number 8:22-BK-12076. Declarant is providing this Statement of Intent because of certain parties' intent to obtain relief from the emergency stay and the Court's tentative ruling, made on or about April 10, 2023, stating its inclination to grant that relief, which he believes constitutes prejudicial error.

Declarant believes he and the estate will be prejudiced and continue to be irreparably harmed and damaged if the Court ultimately grants the relief allowing the party to commence foreclosure proceedings for reasons already alleged on the record and the fact that the stay relief is based upon the validity and extent of certain purported "liens" that he reasonably believes to be void or unsecured. (Declarant has previously provided substantial evidence to demonstrate that this claim pertaining to the "Judicial lien" being void is not smoke and mirrors, intended harm creditors or unnecessarily delay the administration of the estate. See Dkt. 15).

Declarant believes any relief granted on the stay would be premature and highly prejudicial because he has not had the opportunity to challenge the validity of the "liens" upon which the equity calculations for stay relief and the Court's tentative ruling are based. According to the Tentative for the scheduled hearing on April 12, 2023, the "Court is inclined to GRANT relief from stay under 11 U.S.C. Section 362(d)(2) for Debtor's lack of equity in the property."

If the "liens" at issue are either void or unsecured as Declarant reasonably believes, then they cannot be used as evidence upon which to base the equity calculations of the stay relief. Because the First-Amended Schedules indicate the "liens" in question are disputed and the fact that Declarant intends to commence adversary proceedings to determine their validity and extent, the Court must first determine their validity and extent before they can be used as material, reliable, and trustworthy evidence in the equity calculations. See e.g. In re Ahn, 804 Fed. Appx. 541,543 (9th Cir. 2020) (finding bankruptcy court was first required to determine the validity of a lien before avoiding it). "It makes sense that a court must first ensure that a valid lien exists, because, if no valid judicial lien attached to the debtor's property, then there is no lien to avoid and the lien avoidance cause of action would be moot. In other words, if there is a question as to a lien's validity, the bankruptcy court would err by assuming the validity of the lien and proceeding to the merits of the lien avoidance action, because there may be no injury in fact that the §522(f) action could remedy. Therefore, if the validity of a lien is disputed or becomes disputed, the court must determine, as a necessary predicate to resolving the lien avoidance action under §522(f), whether there is a valid judicial lien to avoid." Anh, at fn3. See also Wiget v. Nielsen (In re Nielsen), 197 B.R. 665, 667-8 (9th Cir. B.A.P 1996) (superseded on other grounds).

In this case, basing stay relief upon the validity and security of "liens" that either don't exist or are unsecured would also be error. Because the "liens" at issue are clearly indicated as "disputed" in the First-Amended Schedule, the Court must first determine their validity and extent before relying upon them as evidence for relief. Presumptions are not evidence (Cal. Evidence Code §600) and cannot be used as a means of avoiding the Constitutional requirement of due process. Bailey v. Alabama, 219 U.S. 219, 239 (1911).

Presently, the two "liens" Declarant intends to commence adversary proceedings upon are listed in the First-Amended Schedules as (1) "Citibank N.A. Owner Trustee", ("Citibank N.A."), in the updated amount of approx. $502,000; and, (2) "Karen and Gary Humphreys", ("Judicial lien") in the amount of $848,000. If the "Judicial Lien" alone is found to be void, there would be approximately $592,946.29 in equity. Hypothetically assuming the validity and security of the "Citibank N.A." "lien", this would result in at least a 55% equity cushion, according to calculations listed in "Debtor's Responses and Objections to Citizens Bank N.A.'s Motion for Relief From Stay".

Declarant initially listed the aforementioned "liens" on the Schedules as "secured" based on reasonable belief of their presumptive validity. With reference to the Judicial lien, however, he also provided a sworn declaration and authenticated evidence to rebut that presumption because the underlying Judicial Judgment violates the California and United States Constitutions and is therefore void. See Dkt. 15. Based upon these facts, Declarant subsequently felt it would be more accurate to amend the initial Schedule and list this "claim" in the First-Amended Schedule as unsecured and disputed. His intent was not deceitful or malevolent.

Upon further investigation of the purported claim titled "Citibank N.A.", Declarant, who is a retired police officer and expert forensic investigator with a specialty in fraud cases, discovered a series of issues pertaining to the validity and enforceability of the alleged obligation that, based on his training and experience, indicate serious fraud. Similar elements of fraud are well known in this Circuit. See e.g. Deutsche Bank Nat'l Trust Co. v. Tarantola (In re Tarantola), 2010 Bankr. LEXIS 2435, exhibiting a near carbon copy of the issues discovered by Declarant. Consequently, Declarant also changed the "Citibank N.A." "lien" from secured to unsecured and disputed.

Declarant intends to file adversary proceedings to challenge the validity and extent of each of the aforementioned "liens" and has been diligently working to that end since filing bankruptcy. In the process of writing the complaints and conducting an ongoing investigation to further discover the nature and extent of the fraud pertaining to the "Citibank N.A." "lien", two purported "creditors", including "NewRez", allegedly acting on behalf of "Citibank N.A.", filed Motions for relief from the stay. Declarant has thus far spent about twenty days and over 160 hours responding to those Motions, which required a significant diversion of his time and attention from the investigation and writing the adversary complaints.

The Court should also be aware of another apparent error overlooked by Declarant and the Court pertaining to Declarant's actual interest in the subject property. Declarant stated in the Schedules that he has only a legal and no beneficial interest therein. See also Declaration, Dkt. 15. The "Judicial Lien" therefore, can only attach to the extent of his beneficial interest, accord: Riverdale Mining Co v. Wicks, 14 Cal. App 526, 536 (1910), holding "[t]he law is well settled that the lien of a judgment does not attach to a naked title, but only to the judgement debtor's interest in the real estate; and if he has no interest, though possessing the naked title, then no lien attaches." For this reason alone, the validity and extent of the purported "Judicial Lien" cannot be relied upon in the equity calculations because Declarant has only "naked title". This issue can also be addressed in the adversary proceedings.

Declarant requests this Court take the aforementioned facts and his intent into consideration and allow him twenty-five days to continue his investigation and to complete and file the complaints so (1) the true validity and extent of the liens can be determined first before granting relief from the stay; (2) the estate will be effectively administered; (3) Declarant will be given a true fresh start; and, (4) all void and/or unsecured liens wrongfully recorded and/or attached to property he holds legal title to, will be removed.

I, Adam Bereki, declare under penalty of perjury of the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing statements of fact are true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief. [28 U.S.C. §1746(1) and (2)].

In re Adam Bereki 22-12076 | Relief From Automatic Stay

Adam <abereki@gmail.com> Sun, Apr 16, 2023 at 10:25 AM
To: Christina Khil <christinao@mclaw.org>

Hi Christina,

I will be appealing the Court's April 12,2023 order to grant Citizens relief from the stay. It is abundantly clear to me that Judge Clarkson deliberately disobeyed fundamental due process, California law, and bankruptcy procedure because he did not want to address the issues pertaining to the fraud, treason, and other crimes that have been (and continue to be) perpetrated upon me, and that he wants this case out of his Court ASAP.

I respect the law, not the ultra vires determinations of a rogue Judge. For these reasons, I am informing you and your client that I will hold you both legally accountable if foreclosure proceedings are commenced as a result of Judge Clarkson's "order". I am confident you know and understand exactly what I'm saying here and that using a Judge's ultra vires order as an excuse to commit crimes (the unlawful taking/seizure of my and my mothers property) will not work as a "nuremberg defense" to civil liability and/or criminal punishment.

As I've repeatedly shared, I have every intent of ensuring your client is compensated to the extent they are owed any money. I am also confident– that to the extent an obligation is owed to your client – that it will rapidly be eclipsed by liability for damages claims for participating in the conspiracy you both have repeatedly been given notice of but failed to heed.

I feel it would be a much more prudent (and lawful) choice to use your resources to support the truth and the law rather than warring against them by proceeding with foreclosure unlawfully. To this end, I ask that you not proceed with the foreclosure proceedings and continue to allow me to work with the system to achieve an equitable resolution for all parties. I also ask that you participate in the appeal and join every aspect of the arguments presented you believe to be the law, including if they go against Clarkson's "order" in your favor. This is about truth, the integrity of our judicial system, and ensuring that your Client receives what may lawfully be owed through lawful not criminal process.

Please let me know what you and your client's intentions are in writing as soon as practically possible.

Sincerely,

Adam Bereki

Public Official Corruption Complaint– Notice of Intent to Foreclose (Adam Bereki)

Adam <abereki@gmail.com> Fri, Feb 2, 2024 at 1:15 PM
To: Christina Khil <christinao@mclaw.org>
Bcc: "Mejia, Ernesto@CHP" <ernesto.mejia@chp.ca.gov>, "Bradley, Rick" <rick.bradley@ocdapa.org>, brett.brian@ocdapa.org, "Barnachia, Matthew@CHP" <mbarnachia@chp.ca.gov>

Good day,

In my previous complaint(s) to your office, I shared that as a result of a criminal conspiracy by State and Federal officials and private parties to steal my money, property, and liberty under Color of State law but without lawful authority, I was unlawfully restrained from earning a living in my profession as a general contractor for at least five years. This resulted in millions of dollars of lost earnings and the unlawful impairment of my private contracts and obligations. Several of these purported contracts and obligations may involve Deeds of Trust allegedly secured by my real property and my inability to pay them (to the extent they are valid) as a direct result of the criminal conspiracy.

In December 2022, I was forced to file bankruptcy as a direct result of the criminal conspiracy. See case #8:22-bk-12076, In re Adam Alan Bereki, and especially Docket 15. See also U.S. Supreme Court case 22A426.

During the bankruptcy case (which remains open), the Judge refused to acknowledge the existence of the criminal conspiracy to force me into bankruptcy and unlawfully allowed one purported creditor, Citizens Bank, relief from the emergency stay to commence foreclosure proceedings. I notified Citizens Bank of the situation and until now, Citizens has not taken any steps toward foreclosure action.

Please see the attached Notice of Intent to Foreclose I received by certified mail today.

While I understand this is a Notice of Intent to Foreclose and NOT yet a foreclosure action, Citizens has been duly notified of the criminal conspiracy (BK Case Dkt. 15 et al), and, according to this Notice, is intent on proceeding with foreclosure anyway – or at the very least threatening to – in apparent attempt to join the conspiracy and take my property without lawful authority and intentionally inflict further emotional distress by forcing me to defend property in foreclosure proceedings. There would be no foreclosure proceedings if there was no criminal conspiracy.

I am informing you of this Notice because of your ongoing investigation and the fact that it is your sworn mandatory non-discretionary duty to protect my rights and property by stopping this criminal conspiracy and ensuring that the law is faithfully executed. This includes ensuring there is a judicial Constitutional Court as recognized by the California and U.S. Constitutions upon which I can submit my grievances to and receive the full, fair, and impartial administration of justice. Based on my investigation – U.S. Supreme Court case #22A426/ http://www.thespiritoflaw.com – no such Court with subject matter jurisdiction over my claims exists.

While I cannot be sure who sent this unsigned letter from the law office of Malcom Cisneros (see envelope), the attorney assigned to my bankruptcy case from that office is Christina Khil. Please include her, Malcolm Cisneros, and Citizens Bank as part of the civil conspiracy evidenced in 22A426 and your investigation. Additionally, Citizens Bank has refused to comply with the provisions of the Cal. Commercial Code (§3501(b)(2) and (3)) which afford me the right to refuse to pay without being subjected to foreclosure. I have included Ms. Khl in this email. Notice to Agent (Christina Kihl) is Notice to Principal (Malcolm Cisneros and Citizens Bank).

Sincerely,

/s/Adam Bereki

Just to be clear, we ARE NOT currently conducting any investigation. We are in the process of reviewing the information you sent us to determine if there are any grounds to even start an investigation. We first must determine if

1 If there is evidence a prosecutable crime has occurred

2 Who committed the potential crime (a particular individual)

3 Where the potential crime occurred to determine jurisdiction

4 If there is going to be an investigation, which agency has jurisdiction and should handle the case.

When we have a chance to properly review the information and determine the above listed factors, we will contact you advising of the results.

Rick,

Thanks for your reply. I can tell you care about doing your job with integrity and being clear.

In my experience, the factors you listed are those that are inextricably part of and requisite of ALL investigations. That was my intent on using the word "investigation" in the previous email I sent.

In my experience, you are apparently in the preliminary stages of your investigation and haven't yet arrived at conclusions of fact or law to substantiate my claims/allegations.

I understand and hear you need more time. That's fine. But the crime is ongoing and in progress. Irreparable harm and damages continue to accrue. My intent in the previous email was to provide you more evidence of that information and additional parties that are involved.

To deny that you're conducting an investigation after I've submitted a bonafide complaint would, in this instance, seem to indicate a breach of your sworn duties, which is not what I think you meant to say. While this may seem like semantics, it's definitely not and it's important to me to tell the truth and be clear about this.

Because the provisions of our Constitutions are mandatory and prohibitory, (See Cal. Const. Art. 1, §26), there is no discretion to complete a full, fair, and impartial investigation into complaints involving breach of sworn public official duties. The reason is because if officials could refuse to fully investigate complaints of this nature, they could single-handedly overrule the entire State and Federal Constitution by simply refusing to investigate/intervene.

Again, thank you for your email and desire to be clear. It is so apparent that you talk you position and duties seriously. I'm thankful you're a part of this.

Sincerely,
/s/ Adam Bereki

Rick,

I just wanted to add one other very important response to your email because it occurred to me you are perceiving my Complaint as only a criminal complaint. While I know one of the primary functions of your office is criminal investigation and prosecution, the Complaint I made to your office is NOT just a criminal complaint. It is a complaint for deprivation of State and Nationally protected Constitutional rights.

While deprivations of rights can in many cases be criminal, the protection of these rights does not depend on whether or not someone is or can be criminally prosecuted or not. It isn't about whether a crime has been committed, but whether a deprivation of protected rights has occurred.

In most cases, the penal code enumerates deprivations of protected rights to liberty and property by describing actions (crimes) that violate those Constitutionally protected rights. In these cases, criminal prosecution may occur. But again, nothing in our Constitutions says that rights depend upon criminal prosecution. The District Attorney can certainly refuse to criminally prosecute a public official. But neither the DA nor any public official has discretion to refuse to investigate and intervene in deprivations of Constitutionally protected rights.

With regard to this aspect of my complaint, it is therefore irrelevant whether items 1-3 of your grounds for an investigation have occurred.

Sincerely,

Adam Bereki

RE: Foreclosure Sale 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, California

Adam <abereki@gmail.com> Tue, Oct 8, 2024 at 12:04 PM
To: support@trusteecorps.com
Bcc: steven.m.autieri@citizensbank.com

To: Trustee Corps.

Good day. I spoke with someone from your office last week regarding the imminent foreclosure sale of my home at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, California. During the conversation, I shared about the ongoing legal issues I am facing that are out of my control and that I have given you/ Citizens Bank due notice of through bankruptcy proceedings.

I'm aware that you can schedule the foreclosure sale at any time. However, I'd like to ask you not to schedule the sale and allow me more time to prepare additional judicial process in further effort to remedy the situation. I am diligently working on a complaint to be presented to the District Court of the U.S. as soon as practically possible. It is taking me much longer than expected given the number of Defendants (more than 100) and the fact that many public officials are involved.

I'm sure your research has revealed there is plenty of equity in my home to ensure payment should a foreclosure sale become necessary and that you are not in jeopardy of losing any compensation to the extent you are lawfully owed payment. Effecting a foreclosure sale at this time given the circumstances would only force more undue hardship upon me including additional financial and emotional distress as well as having to find a home.

I am completely open to maintaining communication on my progress in filing the complaint. At this point, I expect that to be within 30-45 days. (I would rather spend my time working on the complaint that will resolve the situation rather than being diverted to obtain an injunction to stop the sale).

Thank you for your time and continued understanding. I'd appreciate communication of your intent regarding the foreclosure sale.

Sincerely,

Adam Bereki

NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE EX PARTE APPLICATION FOR TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER AND COMPLAINT TO QUIET TITLE

Inbox

Adam <abereki@gmail.com> Mon, Oct 21, 2024 at 6:43 AM
Bcc: Christina Khil <christinao@mclaw.org>, steven.m.autieri@citizensbank.com, support@trusteecorps.com

Good day,

Pursuant to Local Rules 7-3 and 7-19 of the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California:

On or shortly before Nov. 17, 2024, I will be filing a complaint in the above Court consisting primarily of personal injury/ deprivation of Constitutionally protected rights claims against public officials and private parties surrounding their theft of my rights and property that has impaired my private contracts/obligations (ie my ability to pay you and/or other creditors whom I may owe a debt to). You should already be aware of these circumstances presented on the record of bankruptcy case 22-12076 filed in the bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California. (On 10/18-24, I filed a Motion to Compel the bankruptcy trustee to abandon them so that I will unquestionably have standing to do so.)

Additionally, the complaint will include a claim for quiet title. A Notice of Lis Pendens will also be filed. See Adversary Proceeding 8:23-AP-01075 for details on these issues.

The aforementioned Local Rules require that I give you notice of my intent to file the Ex parte Application seeking a Temporary Restraining Order of the foreclosure proceedings you have commenced pertaining to the real property located at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, California. See LR 7-19.

The Local Rules also require that prior to requesting assistance of the Court and using its resources, that I contact you and attempt resolution. See LR 7-3. This is my second attempt.

As I see it, there is no need to use Court resources for a restraining order and injunction regarding a foreclosure sale when there are serious issues surrounding the title of this property giving rise to the quiet title claims, not to mention the extraordinary circumstances surrounding my alleged default. You will not be able to sell the property until the Lis Pendens is removed either. Given the procedural history in my case, you have evidence of my intent to follow through and passionately seek justice, albeit in our terribly corrupt just-us system.

As the time for filing the complaint and the ex parte application nears, I will certainly provide/serve you copies. However, before I use my valuable time and resources in further preparing the Application and additional claims for relief for damages against you for my time in doing so, I am again requesting that you cease and desist the foreclosure proceedings.

Also, please provide the name, email, and direct phone number of counsel so that I may provide that to the Court to comply with the requirements of 7-19.1 and also have a direct line of communication with you. (When I spoke with a member of your Trustee Corps team a few weeks ago they refused to provide their name, and I believe email as well). I don't think the Court will look upon this behavior favorably.

If you would like to further discuss this matter, please call or email.

Sincerely,

Adam Bereki

Request for Documents

Adam <abereki@gmail.com> Tue, Feb 4, 2025 at 8:43 AM
To: documents@trusteecorps.com

Good day,

My name is Adam Bereki. I'm writing to obtain copies of documents pertaining to the recent foreclosure sale of my home at 818 Spirit, costa mesa, california. Could you please provide: 1) a copy of the Deed of Trustee sale (either the unrecorded one that was sent to the new buyer or the recorded one if you have it) 2) any documents or other information that you provided notice of the pending litigation involving the property and/or my rights that effect the property to the potential buyers, including Mr Hou.

Thank you so much.

I'm forwarding this email and will forward you the answer when I receive it. I also just recorded another phone call with Trustee Corps that they did not provide your client (or any of the other potential buyers) notice of the pending litigation involving the property.

Trustee Corps isn't required to provide notice of pending litigation on the property. Your suggestion that Trustee Corps owes a duty to provide this information is without merit.

Merely having filed a lawsuit means nothing. Anyone can sue anyone for anything.

If you had a lis pendens or a stay (either in state court or BK court), then they would have to stop (not have a sale) and inform the public. You admitted to me on the phone yesterday that you had neither of these at the time of the sale.

Good afternoon, a copy of the Trustee's Deed can be obtained from the county recorder's office. Our office is not required to provide any information related to the property to potential buyers, they must do their own due diligence.

Thanks!

(The above statement is made pursuant to CA Civil Code Section 2923.3(c)(1). The Summary will be provided to Trustor(s) and/or vested owner(s) only, pursuant to CA Civil Code Section 2923.3(c)(2).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE

IF YOUR PROPERTY IS IN FORECLOSURE BECAUSE YOU ARE BEHIND IN YOUR PAYMENTS, IT MAY BE SOLD WITHOUT ANY COURT ACTION, and you may have the legal right to bring your account in good standing by paying all of your past due payments plus permitted costs and expenses within the time permitted by law for reinstatement of your account, which is normally five business days prior to the date set for the sale of your property. No sale date may be set until approximately 90 days from the date this Notice of Default may be recorded (which date of recording appears on this notice).

This amount is $31,901.33 as of July 9, 2024, and will increase until your account becomes current.

While your property is in foreclosure, you still must pay other obligations (such as insurance and taxes) required by your Note and Deed of Trust or Mortgage. If you fail to make future payments on the loan, pay taxes on the property, provide insurance on the property, or pay other obligations as required in the Note and Deed of Trust or Mortgage, the Beneficiary or Mortgagee may insist that you do so in order to reinstate your account in good standing. In addition, the Beneficiary or Mortgagee may require as a condition to reinstatement that you provide reliable written evidence that you paid all senior liens, property taxes, and hazard insurance premiums.

Upon your written request, the Beneficiary or Mortgagee will give you a written itemization of the entire amount you must pay. You may not have to pay the entire unpaid portion of your account, even though full payment was demanded, but you must pay all amounts in default at the time payment is made. However, you and your Beneficiary or Mortgagee may mutually agree in writing prior to the time the Notice of Sale is posted (which may not be earlier than the end of the three-month period stated above) to, among other things, (1) provide additional time in which to cure the default by transfer of the property or otherwise; or (2) establish a schedule of payments in order to cure your default; or both (1) and (2).

Following the expiration of the time period referred to in the first paragraph of this notice, unless the obligation being foreclosed upon or a separate written agreement between you and your creditor permits a longer period, you have only the legal right to stop the sale of your property by paying the entire amount demanded by your creditor.

To find out the amount you must pay, or to arrange for payment to stop the foreclosure, or if your property is in foreclosure for any other reason, contact: Citizens Bank, N.A. If you have any questions, you should contact a lawyer or the governmental agency which may have insured your loan. Notwithstanding the fact that your property is in foreclosure, you may offer your property for sale, provided the sale is concluded prior to the conclusion of the foreclosure.

REMEMBER, YOU MAY LOSE LEGAL RIGHTS IF YOU DO NOT TAKE PROMPT ACTION.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT: MTC Financial Inc. dba Trustee Corps is the original Trustee, duly appointed Substituted Trustee, or acting as Agent for the Trustee or Beneficiary under a Deed of Trust dated as of October 30, 2006, executed by ADAM BEREKI, SINGLE MAN, as Trustor(s), to secure obligations in favor of CHARTER ONE BANK, N.A., the original Beneficiary, recorded December 14, 2006 as Instrument No. 2006000838019, of the official records in the Office of the Recorder of Orange County, California, as more fully described on said Deed of Trust. Including a Note(s) for the sum of $110,798.00 that the beneficial interest under said Deed of Trust and the obligations secured thereby are presently held by the Beneficiary; that a breach of, and default in, the obligations for which said Deed of Trust is security has occurred in that the payment has not been made of: THE INSTALLMENT OF PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST WHICH BECAME DUE ON October 23, 2021 AND ALL SUBSEQUENT INSTALLMENTS OF PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST, ALONG WITH LATE CHARGES, PLUS ALL OF THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS AS PER THE DEED OF TRUST, PROMISSORY NOTE AND RELATED LOAN DOCUMENTS.

That by reason thereof, the present Beneficiary under such Deed of Trust, has deposited with said duly appointed Trustee, such Deed of Trust and all documents evidencing the obligations secured thereby, and has declared and does hereby declare all sums secured thereby immediately due and payable and has elected and does hereby elect to cause the trust property to be sold to satisfy the obligations secured thereby.

Where required by law, a declaration pursuant to California Civil Code Section 2923.5(b) or California Civil Code Section 2923.55 is attached.

| Property Address: | 818 SPIRITCOSTA MESA, CA 92626 |
| T.S. No: | CA13000044-22-2 |

The undersigned, as an authorized agent or employee of the mortgage servicer named below, declares that:

1. ☐ The mortgage servicer has contacted the Borrower pursuant to California Civil Code § 2923.55(b)(2) to "assess the Borrower's financial situation and explore options for the Borrower to avoid foreclosure". Thirty (30) days, or more, have passed since the initial contact was made.

2. ☑ The mortgage servicer has exercised due diligence to contact the Borrower pursuant to California Civil Code § 2923.55(f) to "assess the Borrower's financial situation and explore options for the Borrower to avoid foreclosure". Thirty (30) days, or more, have passed since these due diligence efforts were satisfied.

3. ☐ No contact was required by the mortgage servicer because the individual did not meet the definition of 'Borrower' pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 2920.5.

4. ☐ No contact was made with the Borrower pursuant to Civil Code § 2923.55 because the above-referenced loan is not secured by a first lien mortgage or deed of trust on an owner-occupied residential real property. As described in Civil Code § 2924.15(a), "owner-occupied" means that the property is the principal residence of the borrower and is security for a loan made for personal, family, or household purposes and all requirements effective 1/1/2023, pertaining to tenants-occupied conditions have been reviewed.

Additionally, pursuant to California Civil Code § 3273.10, to include all updates effective 1/1/2023:

1. ☑ The mortgage servicer has not denied the borrower a forbearance request on or after 8/312020.

2. ☐ The mortgage servicer was unable to approve the borrower's request for a forbearance on or after 8/31/2020, and a forbearance was not subsequently provided. A copy of the notice is attached.

3. ☐ The mortgage servicer was unable to approve the borrower's request for a forbearance on or after 8/31/2020, however, a forbearance was subsequently provided. A copy of the approval notice is attached.

4. ☐ The requirements of California Civil Code § 2923.55 do not apply because the loan is not secured by a first lien mortgage or deed of trust on "owner-occupied" or qualifying tenant –occupied residential real property as defined by California Civil Code § 2924.15.

5. ☑ The mortgage servicer is in compliance with California Civil Code § 3273.10 because the mortgage servicer has complied with the relevant provisions regarding forbearance in Section 4022 of the federal Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (the CARES Act) (Public Law 116-136), including any amendments or revisions to those provisions, pursuant to California Civil Code § 3273.10(d).

I certify and represent that this mortgage servicer's declaration is accurate, complete and based upon competent and reliable evidence, including my review of the mortgage servicer's business records.

ATTACHMENT TO NOTICE OF DEFAULT

TS No. CA13000044-22-2

NOTICE OF DEFAULT
SUMMARY OF KEY INFORMATION

The attached notice of default was sent to ADAM BEREKI, SINGLE MAN, in relation to 818 SPIRIT, COSTA MESA, CA 92626. This property may be sold to satisfy your obligation and any other obligation secured by the deed of trust or mortgage that is in default. ADAM BEREKI, SINGLE MAN has, as described in the notice of default, breached the mortgage or deed of trust on the property described above.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: IF YOUR PROPERTY IS IN FORECLOSURE BECAUSE YOU ARE BEHIND IN YOUR PAYMENTS, IT MAY BE SOLD WITHOUT ANY COURT ACTION, and you may have the legal right to bring your account in good standing by paying all of your past due payments plus permitted costs and expenses within the time permitted by law for reinstatement of your account, which is normally five business days prior to the date set for the sale of your property. No sale date may be set until approximately 90 days from the date the attached notice of default may be recorded (which date of recordation appears on the notice).

This amount is $31,901.33 as of July 9, 2024 and will increase until your account becomes current.

While your property is in foreclosure, you still must pay other obligations (such as insurance and taxes) required by your note and deed of trust or mortgage. If you fail to make future payments on the loan, pay taxes on the property, provide insurance on the property, or pay other obligations as required in the note and deed of trust or mortgage, the beneficiary or mortgagee may insist that you do so in order to reinstate your account in good standing. In addition, the beneficiary or mortgagee may require as a condition to reinstatement that you provide reliable written evidence that you paid all senior liens, property taxes, and hazard insurance premiums.

Upon your written request, the beneficiary or mortgagee will give you a written itemization of the entire amount you must pay. You may not have to pay the entire unpaid portion of your account, even though full payment was demanded, but you must pay all amounts in default at the time payment is made. However, you and your beneficiary or mortgagee may mutually agree in writing prior to the time the notice of sale is posted (which may not be earlier than three months after this notice of default is recorded) to, among other things, (1) provide additional time in which to cure the default by transfer of the property or otherwise; or (2) establish a schedule of payments in order to cure your default; or both (1) and (2).

Civil Code Section 2923.3(c)(2)

Following the expiration of the time period referred to in the first paragraph of this notice, unless the obligation being foreclosed upon or a separate written agreement between you and your creditor permits a longer period, you have only the legal right to stop the sale of your property by paying the entire amount demanded by your creditor.

YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST DATED October 30, 2006. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDINGS AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER.

On November 18, 2024 at 01:30 PM, at the North front entrance to the County Courthouse at 700 Civic Center Drive West, Santa Ana, CA 92701, MTC Financial Inc. dba Trustee Corps, as the duly Appointed Trustee, under and pursuant to the power of sale contained in that certain Deed of Trust recorded on December 14, 2006 as Instrument No. 2006000838019, of official records in the Office of the Recorder of Orange County, California, executed by ADAM BEREKI, SINGLE MAN, as Trustor(s), in favor of CHARTER ONE BANK, N.A. as Beneficiary, WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, that certain property situated in said County, California describing the land therein as: AS MORE FULLY DESCRIBED IN SAID DEED OF TRUST

The property heretofore described is being sold "as is". The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 818 SPIRIT, COSTA MESA, CA 92626

The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein.

Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the Note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, with interest thereon, as provided in said Note(s), advances if any, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, estimated fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust.

The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligations secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of this Notice of Trustee's Sale is estimated to be $58,722.21 (Estimated). However, prepayment premiums, accrued interest and advances will increase this figure prior to sale. Beneficiary's bid at said sale may include all or part of said amount. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept a cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the California Financial Code and authorized to do business in California, or other such funds as may be acceptable to the Trustee. In the event tender other than cash is accepted, the Trustee may withhold the issuance of the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale until funds become available to the payee or endorsee as a matter of right. The property offered for sale excludes all funds held on account by the property receiver, if applicable.

If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse.

Notice to Potential Bidders

If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property.

Notice to Property Owner

The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may visit the Internet Website address www.nationwideposting.com or call Nationwide Posting & Publication at 916.939.0772 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA13000044-22-2. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

Notice to Tenant

NOTICE TO TENANT FOR FORECLOSURES AFTER JANUARY 1, 2021

You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 916.939.0772, or visit this internet website www.nationwideposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case CA13000044-22-2 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.

The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call Nationwide Posting & Publication at 916.939.0772 or visit this Internet Web site address www.nationwideposting.com using the file number assigned to this case CA13000044-22-2. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

If you would like additional copies of this summary, you may obtain them by calling 949-252-8300 TDD: 711 949.252.8300.

Good Morning Christina,

Could you please inform me if you or your firm (or both) were in any way involved in the decision or proceedings to non-judicially foreclose upon the Citizens Deed of Trust secured by my home? I'm asking because I'm going to commence a suit against Citizens and I don't want to name you or your company if you had no involvement.

Thank you for your time,

Adam Bereki

Hi Kaity,

Are you able to tell me what charges, such as late fees, attorneys fees, etc Citizens charged to my account? It's confusing on the spreadsheet you provided.

Thank you

NOTICE TO ANY RENTERS LIVING AT

818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626

INCLUDING ALL UNKNOWN OCCUPANTS

California Civil Code § 1161c(b)

The attached notice means that your house was recently sold in foreclosure and the new owner plans to evict you.

You should talk to a lawyer NOW to assess your rights. You may receive court papers in a few days. If you are named in the court papers it may hurt your credit if you do not respond and/or simply move out because the new owner intends to obtain a judgment in unlawful detainer.

Be advised that if you do not respond within five (5) days of receiving the papers, even if you are not named, you will likely lose any rights you may have. In some cases you can respond without hurting your credit. You are encouraged to seek the counsel of an attorney as to all of these issues.

A tenant may have the right to stay in a home sold in foreclosure for 90 days or longer regardless of any deadlines stated on any attached papers. In some cases and in some cities that have a "just cause for eviction law," you may not have to move at all. But you must take the proper legal steps in order to protect your rights.

How to Get Legal Help

If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services internet website, www.lawhelpca.org, the California Courts Online Self-Help center, www.courtinfo.gov/selfhelp, or by contacting your local court or county bar association.

Three Day Notice to Quit
California Civil Code § 1161a
Post-Foreclosure

TO: ADAM BEREKI and All Unnamed Occupants
Owner/Agent: CANJIAN HOU
Premises: 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that CANJIAN HOU has purchased the property identified above at a duly-held Trustee's Sale in accordance with California Civil Code Section 2924. Title has been perfected by the recording of a Trustee's Deed Upon Sale with the County Recorder of Los Angeles County, California.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, within three (3) days after service on you of this Notice, you are required to quit and deliver up the premises to CANJIAN HOU.

Delivery of possession of the premises may be accomplished by delivering the keys to CANJIAN HOU, c/o Henry D. Paloci III, Esq., 5210 Lewis Road #5, Agoura Hills, California; PO Box 592, Los Alamitos, CA 90720; 805.279.1225; hpaloci@hotmail.com. Keys may be delivered by hand delivery or certified mail; or an agent will arrange to meet you to pick up the keys. Please call to make arrangements.

If you fail to quit and deliver up the premises to its lawful owner, CANJIAN HOU, legal proceedings will be instituted against you for unlawful detainer and related causes of action. This lawsuit may result in money damages being awarded against you and that may result in damage to your credit.

If you believe that you are a tenant of the former owner, you must read the attached notice and you must provide evidence of your tenancy to CANJIAN HOU within three (3) days of receiving this notice.

This Notice may be executed in counterparts. Facsimile copies shall be admissible for all purposes and deemed an original.

Ninety (90) Day Notice to Quit
California Civil Code § 1161b(a)
Post-Foreclosure

TO: ADAM BEREKI and All Unnamed Occupants
Owner/Agent: CANJIAN HOU
Premises: 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that within ninety (90) days after service of this notice, you must surrender possession of the premises to the undersigned owner or agent identified below if you have established that you are a bona fide tenant of the former owner.

If you are a bona fide tenant, you must also continue to pay rent at the fair market value for rent for this property in order to maintain occupancy for up to ninety (90) days.

Your failure to vacate the premises within the time specified above will cause the undersigned to initiate legal proceedings against you to recover possession of the premises and to seek a money judgment or damages for each day of occupancy after the expiration date of this notice. Such a judgment against you may include attorneys' fees and court costs as allowed by law or contract, and an additional punitive damages award of $600.00 pursuant to California law.

If you fail to fulfill the terms of your credit obligations, a negative credit report may be submitted to a credit reporting agency.

This notice supercedes all previous termination notices, if any, given to you.

This notice is intended to be a 90 day notice terminating your tenancy with the previous owner of the property identified above.

State law permits former tenants to reclaim abandoned personal property left at the former address of the tenant, subject to certain conditions. You may or may not be able to reclaim property without incurring additional costs, depending on the cost of storing the property, and the length of time before it is reclaimed. In general, these costs will be lower the sooner you contact your former landlord or the present owner after being notified that property belonging to you was left behind after you moved out.

This Notice may be executed in counterparts. Facsimile copies shall be admissible for all purposes and deemed an original.

Notice re: 818 Spirit Costa Mesa/ Adam Bereki

Adam <abereki@gmail.com> Mon, Feb 3, 2025 at 2:16 PM
To: Adam Bereki <abereki@gmail.com>

Hi Henry,

Thanks for your time today. As requested I'm sending documents to give you notice of the proceedings and issues affecting the sale of 818 Spirit, costa mesa.

U.S. Supreme Court case 22A426:
https://www.supremecourt.gov/search.aspx?filename=/docket/docketfiles/html/public/22a426.html

Bankruptcy Case No: 22-12076-SC (Central Dist. CA)
Adversary Proceeding Re 1st Mortgage- Citibank, Case No: 23-ap-1075-SC

As noted in the Citibank Adv. proceedings, Citibank has refused to provide evidence that it is the holder of a note and therefore that any debt is owed to. Any payments that your client makes to Citibank at this point will not be reimbursed by me or my estate as the amount purportedly owed Citibank may also be my equity in the property that is subject to a damages claim.

If you have any authorities that you'd like to share regarding the bonafide purchaser doctrine that would apply to the facts and circumstances of this case, I would be glad to consider them. In my brief review of the BPD, the purchaser must lack knowledge of any claims affecting the property. Your client had a duty to do due diligence to research the claims involving the me (to the extent they could adversely affect the property) and the property itself. A simple good search of my name will reveal U.S. Supreme Court case 22A426 and all related issues. (I received numerous calls from potential buyers that became aware of this information by their own due diligence and called me to discuss it prior to making an offer). To my knowledge, none of the people I spoke with were your client.

As stated during our call, it is not my intent to cause any harm to your client. I am simply interested in protecting my rights and property and being compensated for harm that has been caused to me. If your client wishes to make a reasonable offer to pay me for the remaining money in addition to what has already been paid for the fair market value of the Spirit property (approx value $1,550,000, I will consider that and will not seek reversal of the foreclosure sale.

Please also note that all conversations will be recorded.

I am willing to work with you and your client to ensure no further harm occurs to either of us and lawful justice is served. Please reach out any time.

Sincerely,
Adam Bereki

020425

Adam <abereki@gmail.com> Tue, Feb 4, 2025 at 7:00 AM
To: "hpaloci@hotmail.com" <hpaloci@hotmail.com>

Good morning Henry (and Mr. Hou),

I trust you've had some time to begin digesting the gravity of the situation and have realized the absurdity of your assertion that there is no causation between the unlawful fine/ revocation of my contractor's license and the fact that as a direct result I became constructively imprisoned/restrained from earning a living in my profession, and, therefore, could not pay my private mortgage obligations that resulted in the unlawful foreclosure sale of my home. How's that for a run-on sentence? Article I, §10 of the U.S. Constitution declares that no State shall impair the obligations of private contracts. That is precisely what has happened and grounds that I believe will easily defeat the bonafide purchaser doctrine, ("BPD"), to the extent it has any application here.

Rather than taking a stand against me and fantasizing that the BPD will stop the reversal of the sale, when it's totally obvious your client didn't perform even basic due diligence – a requisite you know is required to invoke this doctrine – I recommend we work together to get Mr. Hou's investment money returned with interest and that he be compensated for all expenses, including both your time.

I've included two screenshots. The first, I took yesterday after googling my name. You'll notice the first result that shows up is the most recent U.S. Supreme Court case involving a challenge to the foreclosure sale of my home. In the second, a screen shot that I took this morning, you'll notice the same case is on the first page of the search results. Good luck proving your client purchased the property in good faith and without notice of pending claims when a simple Google search reveals otherwise. Additionally, the record I have established evidences that I continue to be denied judicial process. Because a judge's signature is required to file a lis pendens, I'm not sure how I could possibly have filed one.

I feel that Trustee Corps (the trustee that commenced the foreclosure sale) had a duty to notify any potential purchaser of the pending lawsuits and claims on the property. I ensured that Citizens Bank (the purported lender) and Trustee Corps were given notice of everything. The bankruptcy case as well as several emails and recorded phone calls I have prove this. They were also made aware of a criminal investigation by the California highway patrol (due to their jurisdiction over the Courts of appeal) pertaining to this case. I'd be glad to share that information with you, including my repeated contacts with Trustee Corps to obtain the names of the potential buyers so that I could personally give them notice. Trustee Corps refused to provide the names and admitted, on a recorded phone call, that they hadn't and weren't going to give anyone notice. Your client's testimony will also evidence he wasn't given notice, if, in fact, he wasn't.

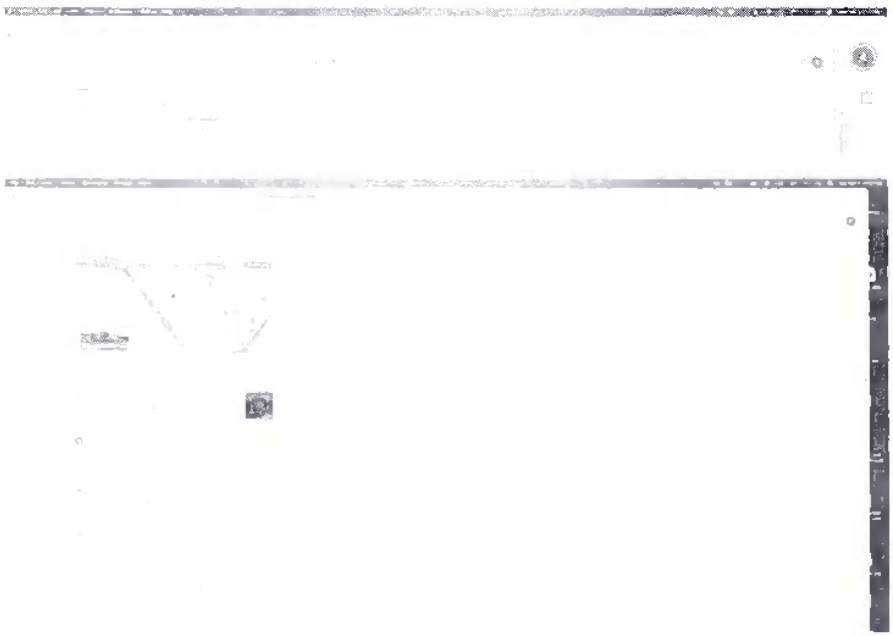
There is a clear path forward letting the truth and law (as opposed to greed and insanity) lead the way. On the other hand, fighting against the truth and law that are so clearly in favor seems like a futile waste of time and resources. But who knows, maybe he enjoys legal battles? I have no idea. I'm good either way.



I propose that we work together in the manner described above.

Your client may not get what he wanted as far as this house is concerned without paying a fair market value (commensurate with recent sale comps) for it. But perhaps he values truth and real justice, and in that way, will ultimately get what he wants.

Please inform me of your client's decision ASAP so I can most accurately proceed with this ex parte application.

Sincerely,

Adam Bereki

I took a look at what you sent me and I don't see anything that bolsters your position.

For starters, you made a big deal to me on the phone yesterday (and in this email) about a Supreme Court case and a letter you wrote to Clarence Thomas. The docket in the case you opened suggest that your application to be heard was denied. That matter appears to be closed without a result for you. If you have some other information on the topic, please provide.

As I said in my other email, Trustee Corps owes no duty to inform people of your lawsuits. Their only relevant duty would be to not conduct the sale if there is a stay or injunction, which you told me that you did not have on the date of the sale. If you did, please provide a copy.

In fact, I would go so far as to say that even if I had read every page of every lawsuit you have open - employing maximum due diligence - it would not dissuade me from buying your house at auction. I might bid less because of the litigation risk, but legally I would believe to be on solid ground. Your position that the foreclosure is connected to your construction litigation lawsuit is simply without merit. You might have a right to sue your former customer for money damages as a consequence of the foreclosure (though probably you do not), but that isn't going to stop a lender unrelated to that lawsuit from foreclosing.

I'm going to file an unlawful detainer action on Friday and would have you begin to consider your options.

Henry,

The fact that the Supreme Court didn't grant relief on my application for an emergency stay does not diminish the factual and lawful basis of my allegations made therein. If anything, it evidences a continued pattern to deprive me of due/judicial process.

If you choose not to read the Application and the cases cited therein that prove extrinsic fraud in the Superior and Appellate Court judgments in my case, I can't force you to. I'd highly encourage you to spend the time though. If you'd like me to narrow it down for you, consider reading the Court of Appeal Opinion (Appendix C) and comparing that with the US Supreme Court ruling in Liu v. SEC.

While I appreciate your input regarding your opinion that Citizens/Trustee Corps had no duty to inform your client of the issues in the case, I respectfully disagree. The government can't commit fraud and other crimes upon me, constructively imprison me/restrain me from earning a living in my profession without a hearing/lawful authority, and then declare that a foreclosure sale of my home that occurred as a direct and proximate result of those crimes was fair and valid. That would be egregiously absurd and would violate the plainest principles of law and equity.

I believe that based on the fact that Citizens Bank and Trustee Corps had knowledge of the crimes and deprivation of rights that were being perpetrated on me and my estate, that at the very least, they were required to bring judicial as opposed to non-judicial proceedings to ensure I had the opportunity to be heard given these extraordinary circumstances. While they may have had a right to declare a default under ordinary circumstances, these aren't ordinary circumstances. Based on the Notice they received, they were bound by Cal. Civil Code 1708 from injuring my property and rights. In other words, they can't rely upon the fraud and other crimes that were committed on me as the means to declare the default and foreclosure sale when those actions caused the default and sale. They easily could have sought a judicial determination of rights on these issues bringing everything to the light truth. Instead, they circumvented that process by abusing the non-judicial foreclosure statutes. They knew, given the circumstances, that the sale was unlawful, unfair, willfully oppressive.

I also believe that you and Mr. Hou are bound by Civil Code 1708. You have been given Notice of the fraud and crimes that continue to be perpetrated on me. If you choose not to heed that Notice and invoke the jurisdiction of the Court to use the fraud and crimes that have been perpetrated on me by that same Court to gain a civil advantage and obtain any rights or interest in my property, I will pursue civil and/or criminal causes of action against both of you.

At this juncture, it is very simple for Mr. Hou to receive a refund and compensation for any damages that may have been caused, to find another home, and avoid any involvement in this matter that will likely result in costly litigation and a reversal of the sale. I'm happy to be as supportive as necessary to ensure his success. I hope that you'll reconsider filing any UD suit or otherwise against me and instead work with me to see that justice is served.

Sincerely,

Adam Bereki

The attached Motion to Vacate I'm working on may also help you narrow down the issue of extrinsic fraud and a structural jurisdictional failure of the trial and appeal mechanisms in my case that led to the fraudulent "default" and "sale".

Actually, the fact that the Supreme Court didn't grant relief says everything. It says that there is no reason on which the Supreme Court has chimed in that the foreclosure sale to my client was invalid. And yet you keep name dropping them like it's important.

I think that you've made up your own version of the law and keep repeating it to yourself over and over again and have convinced yourself that you are in the right. While this is a trendy thing to do in these times, it never holds up in the end. You aren't the first person to try this.

I noticed that you CC'd my client on the email. Don't do that. All communication goes through me. I understand why you did it - your email reads as a bit of a threat and you hope to gain an advantage by his receiving it - but you aren't to do that. I will forward all relevant communication.

Henry,

You are Mr. Hou's agent, not his principal. He has a duty to supervise your every action. I will include him in all our communication.

You are free to make your own assessments of why the supreme court did or did not do something and whether I am correct or making things up pertaining to the law in my situation.

There were no threats in my previous email. I merely stated that I would take all action available to me to protect myself and my property from your and Mr.Hou's actions that I determine violate law. I have a right to put you on notice.

Surplus Funds

Hi,

I just received notice of approx. $320k in surplus funds. Would you like to make arrangements to have those returned to your client based on the fraud that was perpetrated to orchestrate the foreclosure sale? Please let me know. I'm happy to help mitigate any damages that may have been caused to him that I can help with.

Sincerely,

Adam

No. There is no way that is going to happen. The foreclosure sale is final and that isn't going to change.

If there are surplus funds, they are yours - after fees and costs are paid. It is worth noting that this amount will likely decrease if you sue the foreclosure trustee or other parties that can make claim to that money. You might want to consider taking the surplus funds and moving on before your judgment creditors realize that there is money that they can attach to.

You misstate and misrepresent the facts to say that my client was a party to the fraud you allege against your business clients who sued you, and you misstate and misinterpret the law to declare that the foreclosure sale to my client can be vacated because of fraud that you allege was committed by persons who have nothing to do with the underlying loan. I submit that you are making a bad situation for yourself worse by stubbornly clinging to concepts of law that are flatly incorrect.

Good morning,

Can you please provide an update pertaining to the 1st mortgage. Did you make arrangements for payment to stop the foreclosure sale? Can you provide the details of your arrangement and documents in support thereof?

Thank you for your patience. I am continuing to prepare the Ex parte Application and will need to know whether to seek a preliminary injunction to stop the sale or not as part of the Application.

Sincerely,

Adam

No arrangements have been made at this time.

I'm not in a position to tell you what to do so I can't tell you whether or not you should include the senior lienholder in your ex parte application.

I am of the opinion that in ex parte application to enjoin a foreclosure sale by you is frivolous and wholly without merit. Among other things, you lack standing because you no longer own the property. And as we discussed on the phone (and by past emails), your efforts to unwind the sale to my client are also frivolous and without merit.

However, it doesn't hurt my client for you to try. It just seems like a waste of energy to me.

Thank you.

Henry and Canjian,

I never stated that I felt Canjian was a party to the fraud perpetrated on me by my company's former clients and the Courts and other public officials. That is your invention entirely! I believed you when you said you and Canjian had no knowledge of the pending litigation and fraud at the time of purchase. This being said, I also feel that Canjian was required to do his own due diligence prior to engaging in the risky business of buying foreclosure sales. Even elementary research on Google would have revealed the fraud and continuing deprivation of my rights associated with the property. Despite Canjian's apparent lack of diligence, I offered (and continue to offer) to do equity with Canjian and return the surplus money to him when I obtain it. I have no interest in harming him or anyone else. I'm interested in fundamental fairness and following the law/equity. All the foregoing being said, you and Canjian have been duly notified of the situation and can choose which avenue you want to take. Either you want to take advantage of the fraud and other crimes that have been perpetrated on me to gain a civil advantage and declare the property yours, or we can work together to obtain justice, with you being compensated for any harm that may have been caused. If you refuse to do adequate research into the fraud and legitimate deprivation of rights claims that I have and decide it's all just bullshit I'm trying to convince myself of, that's your prerogative. As I've shared before, that decision may have consequences as it interferes with my rights and property. In my opinion, if you follow that course, you may become aiders and abettors in the original fraud and other crimes (because you now have notice of the situation and are refusing to do the right thing). I interpreted your last email to mean that you did not wish to do equity with me when you said "there is no way that [doing equity with me by accepting the surplus funds and arranging to reverse the sale] is going to happen". If I misinterpreted, please inform me immediately so that I don't pursue claims against Henry D. Paloci III, P.A., Henry D. Paloci, and Canjian Hou. Please be clear on your intentions so that I can determine how to proceed. I remain open and available to any reasonable settlement discussions.

Sincerely,

Adam Bereki

Good day,

My name is Adam Bereki. I'm writing to obtain copies of documents pertaining to the recent foreclosure sale of my home at 818 Spirit, costa mesa, california. Could you please provide: 1) a copy of the Deed of Trustee sale (either the unrecorded one that was sent to the new buyer or the recorded one if you have it) 2) any documents or other information that you provided notice of the pending litigation involving the property and/or my rights that effect the property to the potential buyers, including Mr Hou.

Thank you so much.

Trustee Corps isn't required to provide notice of pending litigation on the property. Your suggestion that Trustee Corps owes a duty to provide this information is without merit.

Merely having filed a lawsuit means nothing. Anyone can sue anyone for anything.

If you had a lis pendens or a stay (either in state court or BK court), then they would have to stop (not have a sale) and inform the public. You admitted to me on the phone yesterday that you had neither of these at the time of the sale.

NOTICE! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 10 days. You have 10 DAYS, not counting Saturdays and Sundays and other judicial holidays, after this summons and legal papers are served on you to file a written response at this court and have a copy served on the plaintiff.

If this summons was served through the Secretary of State's Safe at Home address confidentiality program, you have 15 days from the date of service, not counting Saturdays and Sundays and other judicial holidays, to respond.

A letter or phone call will not protect you. Your written response must be in proper legal form if you want the court to hear your case. There may be a court form that you can use for your response. You can find these court forms and more information at the Self-Help Guide to the California Courts (https://selfhelp.courts.ca.gov), your county law library, or the courthouse nearest you. If you do not file your response on time, you may lose the case by default, and your wages, money, and property may be taken without further warning from the court.

There are other legal requirements. You may want to call an attorney right away. If you do not know an attorney, you may want to call an attorney referral service. If you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services website (www.lawhelpca.org), the Self-Help Guide to the California Courts (https://selfhelp.courts.ca.gov), or by contacting your local court or county bar association.

FEE WAIVER: If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the clerk for a fee waiver form. NOTE: The court has a statutory lien for waived fees and costs on any settlement or arbitration award of $10,000 or more in a civil case. The court's lien must be paid before the court will dismiss the case.

_____/

COMPLAINT: UNLAWFUL DETAINER POST FORECLOSURE

CCP 1161a

Case No: 30-2025-01459684-CL-UD-CJC

Dept. C-61

Plaintiff sues Defendants and states as follows.

1. This action is a limited civil case for unlawful detainer POST FORECLOSURE under CCP 1161a where the amount demanded does not exceed $10,000.
2. Plaintiff CANJIAN HOU is an individual who owns real property in the County of Orange, State of California.
3. Defendant ADAM BEREKI is an individual over the age of 18 years.
4. Plaintiff is entitled to possession of certain real property (the "Subject Property") whose postal address is 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626, as owner of the Subject Property.
5. The Subject Property is located in the above referenced judicial district and/or county.
6. This Court has jurisdiction.

7. Venue is proper.

8. Plaintiff owns the Subject Property by virtue of a Trustee's Deed Upon Sale recorded 1/30/2025 as Instrument Number 2025-00040781 in the Public Records of Orange County, California and attached hereto as Exhibit 1.

9. The legal description of the Subject Property, as shown also in the attached Trustee's Deed Upon Sale and incorporated by reference, is Lot 55 of Tract 15211, as shown on a Map recorded in Book 733, Pages 33 through 37, inclusive, of Miscellaneous Maps, Official Records, Orange County, California; excepting therefrom one-half of all oil and minerals, but without the right of entry, as reserved by Etta C. Davies, a widow, in a deed recorded June 1, 1959 in Book 4737, Page 511, Official Records, Orange County, California.
The APN of the Subject Property is 141-513-55.

10. The Defendants, and all of them, are in possession of the Subject Property.

11. Plaintiff is entitled to possession of the Subject Property. "Where the property has been sold by such person, or a person under whom such person claims, and the title under the sale has been duly perfected," a Plaintiff may proceed in unlawful detainer under CCC 1161a(b).

12. It is possible that other unknown people live in the Subject property with Defendant ADAM BEREKI as occupants or tenants. Plaintiff has no knowledge of the true names and capacities of the Defendants sued herein as DOES 1-20, or whether they exist at all, and therefore sues them under these fictitious names. If unknown tenants, former property interest holders, or other occupants come to be known to Plaintiff, Defendant DOES will be substituted accordingly. Any occupant of the Subject Property, known or unknown, is legally responsible to Plaintiff for the claims and damages asserted herein.

13. At the time of the sale to Plaintiff, Defendants were in possession of the Subject Property, and Defendants, all of them, have wrongfully remained in possession of the Subject Property since the trustee's deed on sale issued on 1/30/2025.

14. Plaintiff is informed, believes, and alleges that at all times relevant to this complaint each Defendant was an agent, servant, employee, bailee, licensee, lessee, assignee, and/or successor in interest and partner and employee of each of the Defendants and was acting within the course and scope of such agency, service, employment, bailment, lease, license, assignment, and/or partnership with the knowledge, permission, and consent of each of the other named Defendants and partners.

15. On February 3, 2025 Plaintiff caused to be served on Defendants, at the Subject Property, a written notice stating that the Plaintiff had purchased the property, that Plaintiff's title had been duly perfected, and demanding that Defendants, each of them, quit the premise after service of three documents, a Notice to Any Renters, a Three Day Notice to Quit, and a Ninety (90) Day Notice to Quit (collectively, the "3/90 Notice"), a copy of which, together with proof of service thereon, is attached hereto as Exhibit 2 (the 3/90 Notice) and Exhibit 3 (the proof of service).

16. The period of time proscribed in the aforementioned 3/90 Notice has expired, but as of this date the Defendants, each of them, have failed and refused to deliver up possession and remain in possession of the Subject Property without Plaintiff's permission or consent.

17. Since the period of time proscribed in the Notice has expired, and since neither Defendant ADAM BEREKI nor any other potential unidentified tenant-claimant, have made a claim to possession as a tenant or paid rent, Plaintiff has been and is entitled to immediate possession of the Subject Property.

18. The reasonable rental value of the Subject Property is $166 per day, and the damages to Plaintiff, proximately caused by the Defendants' own unlawful detention, have accrued at that rate since February 3, 2025, the date of notice, and will continue to accrue at that rate as long as Defendants remain in possession of the premises.

19. Defendants' continued possession of the Subject Property is willful and malicious, in that it is knowing and voluntary, with full knowledge of the fact of the foreclosure and Plaintiff's title and entitlement to possession, and Plaintiff is entitled to statutory damages of $600 as well as actual damages pursuant to CCP 1174(b).

20. Plaintiff has met all conditions, performed all necessary actions, and given all required notices prerequisite to bringing this action.

21. Plaintiff is represented by counsel. An unlawful detainer assistant did not for compensation give advice or assistance to Plaintiff.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff demands judgment against Defendants, as follows:

A. For possession of the premises;

B. For daily damages at the rate of $166 per day for each day Defendants remain in possession of the Subject Property after February 3, 2025;

C. For statutory damages of $600;

D. For costs of suit; and

E. For such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

Respectfully Submitted:

NOTICE TO ANY RENTERS LIVING AT

818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626

INCLUDING ALL UNKNOWN OCCUPANTS

California Civil Code § 1161c(b)

The attached notice means that your house was recently sold in foreclosure and the new owner plans to evict you.

You should talk to a lawyer NOW to assess your rights. You may receive court papers in a few days. If you are named in the court papers it may hurt your credit if you do not respond and/or simply move out because the new owner intends to obtain a judgment in unlawful detainer.

Be advised that if you do not respond within five (5) days of receiving the papers, even if you are not named, you will likely lose any rights you may have. In some cases you can respond without hurting your credit. You are encouraged to seek the counsel of an attorney as to all of these issues.

A tenant may have the right to stay in a home sold in foreclosure for 90 days or longer regardless of any deadlines stated on any attached papers. In some cases and in some cities that have a "just cause for eviction law," you may not have to move at all. But you must take the proper legal steps in order to protect your rights.

How to Get Legal Help

if you cannot afford an attorney, you may be eligible for free legal services from a nonprofit legal services program. You can locate these nonprofit groups at the California Legal Services internet website, www.lawhelpca.org, the California Courts Online Self-Help center, www.courtinfo.gov/selfhelp, or by contacting your local court or county bar association.

Exhibit 2

Three Day Notice to Quit
California Civil Code § 1161a
Post-Foreclosure

TO: ADAM BEREKI and All Unnamed Occupants
Owner/Agent: CANJIAN HOU
Premises: 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that CANJIAN HOU has purchased the property identified above at a duly-held Trustee's Sale in accordance with California Civil Code Section 2924. Title has been perfected by the recording of a Trustee's Deed Upon Sale with the County Recorder of Los Angeles County, California.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, within three (3) days after service on you of this Notice, you are required to quit and deliver up the premises to CANJIAN HOU.

Delivery of possession of the premises may be accomplished by delivering the keys to CANJIAN HOU, c/o Henry D. Paloci III, Esq., 5210 Lewis Road #5, Agoura Hills, California; PO Box 592, Los Alamitos, CA 90720; 805.279.1225; hpaloci@hotmail.com. Keys may be delivered by hand delivery or certified mail; or an agent will arrange to meet you to pick up the keys. Please call to make arrangements.

If you fail to quit and deliver up the premises to its lawful owner, CANJIAN HOU, legal proceedings will be instituted against you for unlawful detainer and related causes of action. This lawsuit may result in money damages being awarded against you and that may result in damage to your credit.

If you believe that you are a tenant of the former owner, you must read the attached notice and you must provide evidence of your tenancy to CANJIAN HOU within three (3) days of receiving this notice.

This Notice may be executed in counterparts. Facsimile copies shall be admissible for all purposes and deemed an original.

Ninety (90) Day Notice to Quit
California Civil Code § 1161b(a)
Post-Foreclosure

TO: ADAM BEREKI and All Unnamed Occupants
Owner/Agent: CANJIAN HOU
Premises: 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that within ninety (90) days after service of this notice, you must surrender possession of the premises to the undersigned owner or agent identified below if you have established that you are a bona fide tenant of the former owner.

If you are a bona fide tenant, you must also continue to pay rent at the fair market value for rent for this property in order to maintain occupancy for up to ninety (90) days.

Your failure to vacate the premises within the time specified above will cause the undersigned to initiate legal proceedings against you to recover possession of the premises and to seek a money judgment or damages for each day of occupancy after the expiration date of this notice. Such a judgment against you may include attorneys' fees and court costs as allowed by law or contract, and an additional punitive damages award of $600.00 pursuant to California law.

If you fail to fulfill the terms of your credit obligations, a negative credit report may be submitted to a credit reporting agency.

This notice supercedes all previous termination notices, if any, given to you.

This notice is intended to be a 90 day notice terminating your tenancy with the previous owner of the property identified above.

State law permits former tenants to reclaim abandoned personal property left at the former address of the tenant, subject to certain conditions. You may or may not be able to reclaim property without incurring additional costs, depending on the cost of storing the property, and the length of time before it is reclaimed. In general, these costs will be lower the sooner you contact your former landlord or the present owner after being notified that property belonging to you was left behind after you moved out.

This Notice may be executed in counterparts. Facsimile copies shall be admissible for all purposes and deemed an original.

2nd day of trial

At 9:55 a.m. Court reconvenes with plaintiff(s), defendant(s) and counsel present as noted above.

At 9:57 a.m. Mr. William G. Bissell presents closing argument on behalf of Cross-Complainants/Defendants, Karen & Gary Humphreys.

At 10:12 a.m. Mr. J. Scott Russo presents closing argument on behalf of Cross-Defendant, The Spartan Associates, Inc..

Mr. Adam Bereki waived closing argument.

At 10:19 a.m. Court declares a recess.

At 10:52 a.m. Court reconvenes with plaintiff(s), defendant(s) and counsel present as noted above.

Having fully considered the arguments of all parties, both written and oral, as well as the evidence presented, the Court finds and determines that Mr. Adam Bereki is the contractor and he does not possess contractor's license.

The Court finds judgment for the Cross Complainants, Gary & Karen Humphreys (First Cause of Action, for Disgorgement of Funds Paid) and against cross-defendant, Adam Bereki.

The Court invites counsels to meet and discuss the plan for the remaining cause of actions and the complaint.

At 11:19 a.m. Court declares a recess.

At 11:37 a.m. Court reconvenes with plaintiff(s), defendant(s) and counsel present as noted above.

Legal discussions held with regards to remaining cross-complaint cause of actions and the complaint as set forth on the record.

Counsels are to resume discussions during lunch hour and report to the Court at 1:45 p.m.

At 11:47 p.m. Court declares a recess.

At 1:48 p.m. Court reconvenes with plaintiff(s), defendant(s) and counsel present as noted above.

Counsels reached an agreement as set forth on the record.

Mr. J. Scott Russo presents an offer of proof on plaintiff's complaint that if called Mr. Adam Bereki would be the witness and the testimony would be that Plaintiff, Spartan Associates had rendered goods and services to the defendants. The fair market value for the services and goods of $82,821.53 to be backed up by invoices and testimony about the reasonable value of those services that would be the first cause of action Quantum Merit. For the 2nd cause of action, go and in hand that it was an open book accounting was rendered to the defendants that they were given the accountings and the sum was $82,821.53 that was still due.

Based on Mr. Russo's offer of proof, the Court understand that those claims are based upon the view of plaintiff Spartan Associates, Inc. was the general contractor on the project. The Court finds that Spartan Associates does not have standing as determined earlier today that Mr.Bereki was the purported general contractor on the contract. Spartan Associates, Inc. may have been apparently substituted but it is certainly not with the permission or agreement of the defendants. Based on that, the Court finds judgment for the defendants on the complaint.

The parties have discussed, agreed and stipulates on the record as follows: The entirety of remaining causes of action on the First Amended Cross-Complaint will be dismissed without prejudice. If judgment on the first cause of action becomes final, the dismissal without prejudice will be converted to dismissal with prejudice. Pending judgment on the first cause of action becoming final, the statute of limitations on the re-filing of an action of the dismissed causes of action is waived. If a new action is filed on the dismissed causes of action , discovery deemed completed and will not be re-opened and the newly filed case will be consolidated with the remanded case for trial.

Pursuant to Mr. Bissell's Motion, the Court orders the remaining causes of action, negligence, fraud, alter ego, penalty, attorney's fees and recovery against the Contractor's license bond be dismissed without prejudice. The judgment on the First Amended Cross Complaint is on the 1st cause of action for discouragement only.

The Court directs Mr. William G. Bissell to prepare the judgment.

At 2:03 p.m. Pursuant to oral stipulation set forth on the record, exhibits are released and returned to the submitting parties/counsels for maintenance, custody and safekeeping pending any post-verdict or appeal proceedings. All identification tags and other identifying markings are to remain in place pending this period.

At 2:05 p.m. The Court is adjourned in this matter.

Appeal from a judgment of the Superior Court of Orange County, David R. Chaffee, Judge. Affirmed.

Adam Bereki, in pro. per., for Plaintiff and Appellant.

William G. Bissell for Defendants and Respondents.

This case involves the purported general contractor for a condominium remodel project, Adam Bereki, on one side, and the condominium owners, Gary and Karen Humphreys (the Humphreys), on the other. After the Humphreys terminated Bereki's involvement, a now defunct corporation formerly owned by Bereki, Spartan Associates, Inc. (Spartan Associates), sued Humphreys, claiming they still owed approximately $83,000 for work on the project. The Humphreys denied the allegations and cross-complained against Bereki and Spartan Associates. Among the remedies they sought was disgorgement of all payments made for the project, pursuant to Business and Professions Code section 7031, subdivision (b)[1], due to Bereki's alleged failure to possess a required contractor's license.

Following a bifurcated bench trial on the disgorgement cause of action, the trial court found in favor of the Humphreys and ordered Bereki to repay them all monies received in relation to the remodel work — $848,000. Its ruling and a stipulation by the parties disposed of the remainder of the case and Bereki appealed. He challenges the disgorgement on a variety of constitutional, legal, and factual grounds. We find no merit in his contentions and, therefore affirm the judgment.

I

FACTS

The Humphreys own a condominium on Lido Isle in the City of Newport Beach. It was originally two separate units. The couple hired Bereki to do some remodeling which would, among other things, turn the two units into a single unit. After an on-site walkthrough, the Humphreys exchanged e-mails with Bereki to confirm the scope of the project. In one of his e-mails, Bereki stated he and his partner would perform the work for a specified rate.

[1] All further statutory references are to the Business and Professions Code unless otherwise indicated.

The Humphreys agreed to the proposed scope and rates, and also inquired whether a written contract was necessary. Bereki responded that it was not; their "'words/commitment [was] enough.'" To start the project, Bereki asked the Humphreys for a $15,000 check deposit payable to him, personally.

Several months into the remodel the Humphreys, at Bereki's request, started making their progress payments to Spartan Associates instead of paying Bereki directly as an individual. Bereki never gave them an explanation for the change or what, if any, involvement Spartan Associates had in the project, but the accountings he sent included the name "Spartan Associates."

After approximately a year and a half, the Humphreys terminated Bereki's involvement and later hired a different general contractor to complete the project.

Believing the Humphreys still owed approximately $82,800 for materials used in the remodel and labor performed, Spartan Associates sued to recover that amount. The Humphreys generally denied the allegations in the complaint, and filed a cross-complaint against Bereki, Spartan Associates, and a surety company. Among the allegations were causes of action for negligence, intentional misrepresentation, and negligent misrepresentation. The trial court later granted them leave to amend the cross-complaint to include a cause of action for disgorgement of funds paid to an unlicensed contractor, pursuant to section 7031, subdivision (b).

At the Humphreys' request, the trial court bifurcated the disgorgement claim from the remainder of the claims in the cross-complaint, and it held a trial on that issue first. During the course of the two-day bench trial on the disgorgement cause of action, the court heard testimony from the Humphreys and Bereki.

Karen Humphreys testified it was her understanding, based on the initial e-mails exchanged with Bereki, that she and her husband were contracting with Bereki and his partner to do the work. They wanted a licensed contractor to do the work and obtain all the necessary permits, and she "took [Bereki] at his word that he had a license."

She also testified there was no mention of Spartan Associates until months after the project began and insisted they never entered into a contract with Spartan Associates.

Gary Humphreys concurred with his wife's testimony about the remodel details, the series of events that transpired between them and Bereki, and the agreement he believed they entered into with Bereki. In addition, he confirmed Bereki told him he was a licensed contractor and stated he would not have hired him if he knew it was otherwise.

In contrast, Bereki testified the contract for the couple's remodel project was between the Humphreys and Spartan Associates. He nevertheless acknowledged his initial e-mail communications to the Humphreys made no mention of Spartan Associates, including the one which set forth the proposed scope of work and hourly rates. When asked about contractor's licenses, he admitted he never possessed one as an individual or as a joint venture with his partner. Spartan Associates, however, did have a contractor's license at the time of the project.

As for the work done for the Humphreys, Bereki testified he believed Spartan Associates performed all of it. He testified that the three city permits for the project were all obtained by, and issued to, Spartan Associates. Additionally, he produced contracts with subcontractors who performed aspects of the remodel work. The majority of these contracts were between the given subcontractor and Spartan Associates.[2]

The trial court found in favor of the Humphreys on the disgorgement cause of action based on its determination that Bereki, not Spartan Associates, was the contractor who performed all the remodel work. As a result, the court also found in favor of the Humphreys on Spartan Associates's complaint. The remainder of the cross-complaint was dismissed without prejudice at the Humphreys' request.

[2] Bereki filed an unopposed motion to augment the record on appeal with certain exhibits admitted in the trial court. We deny the request because the exhibits already are "deemed part of the record" by Court Rule. (Cal. Rule of Court, rule 8.122(a)(3).) We have considered the copies of the exhibits he provided in conjunction with our review of this appeal.

II

DISCUSSION

Bereki challenges the portion of the judgment disgorging all compensation paid to him for his work on the Humphreys' remodel project.[3] Though articulated in various ways, his arguments boil down to the following: (1) disgorgement under section 7031, subdivision (b), is unconstitutional or, alternatively, criminal in nature; (2) the trial court erred in ordering disgorgement because Spartan Associates, not Bereki, performed the work and Spartan Associates held a contractor's license; (3) even assuming Bereki performed the work, the state's contractor licensing requirement does not apply to him as a "natural person"; (4) there was insufficient evidence to support disgorgement, including no evidence of injury due to Bereki's failure to be individually licensed; (5) the court should have offset the disgorgement amount by the value the Humphreys received through the remodel work; (6) it was improper to order full disgorgement because certain payments were not made from the Humphreys' personal accounts; and (7) the court

3 Bereki appears to also challenge a postjudgment sanctions order the trial court issued based on Bereki's motion to compel a response to a demand for a bill of particulars filed after entry of judgment. The sanctions order is not encompassed by his earlier appeal from the judgment. And although such a postjudgment order is separately appealable (Code Civ. Proc., § 904.1, subds. (a)(2) & (b)), Bereki did not file another appeal. Accordingly, the issue is not before us. (Silver v. Pacific American Fish Co., Inc. (2010) 190 Cal.App.4th 688, 693 [court without jurisdiction to review postjudgment order from which no appeal is taken].)

erroneously failed to provide a written statement of decision.[4] We find no merit to any of these contentions.

A. Disgorgement Remedy Under Section 7031

Relying heavily on White v. Cridlebaugh (2009) 178 Cal.App.4th 506, 517 (White), the decision in Alatriste v. Cesar's Exterior Designs, Inc. (2010) 183 Cal.App.4th 656, 664-666 (Alatriste) aptly summarizes the nature, purpose and scope of the litigation prohibition and the disgorgement remedy provided in section 7031, subdivisions (a) and (b).

"Section 7031[, subdivision] (b) is part of the Contractors' State License Law (§ 7000 et seq.), which 'is a comprehensive legislative scheme governing the construction business in California. [This statutory scheme] provides that contractors performing construction work must be licensed unless exempt. [Citation.] "The licensing requirements provide minimal assurance that all persons offering such services in California have the requisite skill and character, understand applicable local laws and codes, and know the rudiments of administering a contracting business. [Citations.]"

[4] After briefing was complete, Bereki filed a motion asking that we take judicial notice of a plethora of items, among which are the federal Constitution and other foundational documents for this country, federal and state statutes, and a variety of case law. To begin, "[r]equests for judicial notice should not be used to 'circumvent [ ]' appellate rules and procedures, including the normal briefing process." (Mangini v. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. (1994) 7 Cal.4th 1057, 1064, overruled on another point as stated in In re Tobacco Cases II (2007) 41 Cal.4th 1257.) Further, "[a] request for judicial notice of published material is unnecessary. Citation to the material is sufficient." (Quelimane Co. v. Stewart Title Guaranty Co. (1998) 19 Cal.4th 26, 45, fn. 9.) We therefore deny Bereki's request as unnecessary to the extent it included such materials. As for the remaining items, we likewise deny the request because we find them not properly the subject of a request for judicial notice and/or irrelevant to resolution of the matters before us. (Evid. Code, §§ 451, 452; Schifando v. City of Los Angeles (2003) 31 Cal.4th 1074, 1089, fn. 4 [appellate court will not take judicial notice of irrelevant material].)

[Citation.] The [laws] are designed to protect the public from incompetent or dishonest providers of building and construction services. [Citation.]' [Citation.]

"This statutory scheme encourages licensure by subjecting unlicensed contractors to criminal penalties and civil remedies. [Citation.] The civil remedies 'affect the unlicensed contractor's right to receive or retain compensation for unlicensed work.' (Ibid.) The hiring party is entitled to enforce these remedies through a defensive 'shield' or an affirmative 'sword.' [Citation.]

"The shield, contained in section 7031[, subdivision] (a), was enacted more than 70 years ago, and provides that a party has a complete defense to claims for compensation made by a contractor who performed work without a license, unless the contractor meets the requirements of the statutory substantial compliance doctrine. [Citation.] Section 7031[, subdivision] (e), the substantial compliance exception, provides relief only in very narrow specified circumstances, and 'shall not apply . . . where the [unlicensed contractor] has never been a duly licensed contractor in this state." [Citation.]

"The California Supreme Court has long given a broad, literal interpretation to section 7031[, subdivision] (a)'s shield provision. [Citation.] The court has held that [it] applies even when the person for whom the work was performed knew the contractor was unlicensed. [Citation.] . . . . [It] explained that '"'Section 7031 represents a legislative determination that the importance of deterring unlicensed persons from engaging in the contracting business outweighs any harshness between the parties, and that such deterrence can best be realized by denying violators the right to maintain any action for compensation in the courts of this state. [Citation.] . . .'"' [Citation.] '"Because of the strength and clarity of this policy [citation]," the bar of section 7031 [, subdivision] (a) applies "[r]egardless of the equities."' [Citations.]

"In 2001, the Legislature amended section 7031 to add a sword remedy to the hiring party's litigation arsenal. This sword remedy, contained in section

7031[,subdivision] (b), currently reads: 'Except as provided in subdivision (e), a person who utilizes the services of an unlicensed contractor may bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state to recover all compensation paid to the unlicensed contractor for performance of any act or contract.' [¶] By adding this remedy, the Legislature sought to further section 7031[,subdivision] (a)'s policy of deterring violations of licensing requirements by 'allow[ing] persons who utilize unlicensed contractors to recover compensation paid to the contractor for performing unlicensed work. [Citation.]' [Citation.]" (Alatriste, supra, 183 Cal.App.4th at pp. 664-666, fns. omitted.)

Based on the statutory language and legislative history, both Alatriste and White "concluded that the Legislature intended that courts interpret sections 7031[, subdivision] (a) and 7031[, subdivision] (b) in a consistent manner, resulting in the same remedy regardless of whether the unlicensed contractor is the plaintiff or the defendant." (Alatriste, supra, 183 Cal.App.4th at p. 666, citing White, supra, 178 Cal.App.4th at pp. 519-520.) These principles are well-settled under the law.

Bereki contends the disgorgement remedy is penal in nature and, therefore, a contractor defending against such a claim must be afforded all criminal rights and protections. Not so. Disgorgement is a civil consequence — "an equitable remedy" — for performing work without a required contractor's license. (S.E.C. v. Huffman (5th Cir. 1993) 996 F.2d 800, 802 (S.E.C.); see Walker v. Appellate Division of Superior Court (2017) 14 Cal.App.5th 651, 657 [§ 7031 contemplates civil proceedings].) The Legislature created a separate criminal penalty. Specifically, section 7028 provides that acting or operating in the capacity of a contractor without a required license is a criminal misdemeanor subject to jail time, or fines, and restitution. (§ 7028, subds. (a)-(c), (h).)

For similar reasons, Bereki's attempt to characterize disgorgement as an award of unconstitutional punitive damages is unavailing. As an equitable remedy, disgorgement is not punishment and, therefore, it does not implicate the excessive fines

clause of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. (S.E.C., supra, 996 F.2d at p. 802; see U.S. v. Philip Morris USA (D.C. 2004) 310 F.Supp.2d 58, 62-63.)

B. Contractor Licensing Requirement

Before turning to application of section 7031, subdivision (b), we address Bereki's claim that he, in his individual capacity, did not need a contractor's license. His argument is twofold, one part legal and the other part factual. We reject both.

As for the legal argument, Bereki asserts that licensing requirements only apply to "fictitious" persons, not "natural" persons such as himself. He cites no authority for his unique interpretation of the relevant statutes. And, the statutes provide otherwise. Contractors who are required to obtain a license include "[a]ny person . . . who . . . undertakes, offers to undertake, purports to have the capacity to undertake, or submits a bid to construct any . . . home improvement project, or part thereof." (§ 7026.1, subd. (a)(2).) In turn, "'[p]erson'" is defined to include "an individual[,]" as well as a variety of types of business entities and associations. (§ 7025, subd. (b).) "In ordinary usage[,] the word 'individual' denotes a natural person not a group, association or other artificial entity. (See Webster's Third New Internat. Dict. (2002 ed.) p. 1152 [giving a primary definition of 'individual' as 'a single human being as contrasted with a social group or institution'].)" (City of Los Angeles v. Animal Defense League (2006) 135 Cal.App.4th 606, 623, disapproved of on other grounds in City of Montebello v. Vasquez (2016) 1 Cal.5th 409, 416.) There is nothing in the statutes that indicates a different, specialized meaning. (Halbert's Lumber, Inc. v. Lucky Stores, Inc. (1992) 6 Cal.App.4th 1233, 1238 ["In examining the language, the courts should give to the words of the statute their ordinary, everyday meaning [citations] unless, of course, the statute itself specifically defines those words to give them a special meaning"].)

Bereki's factual attack concerns the trial court's conclusion that he, not Spartan Associates, was the contractor who performed the remodel work for the Humphreys. Though he implores us to engage in de novo review of this issue, it is a factual determination which we review for substantial evidence. (Escamilla v. Deppartment of Corrections & Rehabilitation (2006) 141 Cal.App.4th 498, 514.) There is ample evidence in the record supporting the court's conclusion.[5]

Both of the Humphreys testified that on the first day they met Bereki for a walkthrough of the site, he informed them that he and his partner would act as the general contractor for the project. Bereki followed up with a written proposal and estimate, which he sent to the couple from his personal e-mail address. When they inquired whether he had a contractor's license, he assured them he did, and when they asked him to whom they should make out their payment checks, he told them to put them in his name.

At no time during this series of events did Bereki ever mention Spartan Associates. Notably, Bereki did not apply to the State Board of Equalization to register Spartan as an employer until roughly three months after the remodel work began. Then, about four months into the project, he introduced the corporation into the mix by asking the Humphreys, without any explanation, to make future payments to Spartan Associates.

[5] Bereki filed a motion asking us to consider additional evidence not presented in the trial court, among which are two declarations, an e-mail correspondence and a letter. He believes the documents are relevant to establishing the identity of the contracting parties. We deny the motion as "[i]t has long been the general rule and understanding that 'an appeal reviews the correctness of a judgment as of the time of its rendition, upon a record of matters which were before the trial court for its consideration.'" (In re Zeth S. (2003) 31 Cal.4th 396, 405, italics added.) Circumstances warranting an exception to this rule are very rare and we do not find them extant here, particularly in light of the conflicting evidence weighed by the trial court. (See Diaz v. Professional Community Management, Inc. (2017) 16 Cal.App.5th 1190, 1213 ["'The power to take evidence in the Court of Appeal is never used where there is conflicting evidence in the record and substantial evidence supports the trial court's findings.'"].)

Based on what transpired, the couple believed they contracted with Bereki, in his individual capacity, to complete the remodel work.

While Bereki claims the Humphreys lied when they testified at trial because some of their factual statements purportedly contradicted those they made at the summary judgment stage, our role is not to resolve factual disputes or to judge the credibility of witnesses. (Leff v. Gunter (1983) 33 Cal.3d 508, 518.) The trial court bore that responsibility in this case, and our review of the record reveals substantial evidence to support its conclusion that Bereki, not Spartan Associates, was the contractor for the job.

C. Disgorgement Remedy Under Section 7031

Separate from his general attacks on section 7031, subdivision (b), Bereki challenges its application under the specific facts of this case. He first asserts disgorgement is an improper remedy because it gives the Humphreys a double benefit — the remodel improvements and the money they otherwise would have paid for them. In the context of the statute at issue, however, courts have uniformly rejected such an argument and required disgorgement, even though this remedy often produces harsh results. (See, e.g., Alatriste, supra, 183 Cal.App.4th at pp. 672-673; White, supra, 178 Cal.App.4th at pp. 520-521; see also Jeff Tracy, Inc. v. City of Pico Rivera (2015) 240 Cal.App.4th 510, 521.) Full disgorgement is required; offsets and reductions for labor and materials received are not permitted.

Equally meritless is Bereki's contention that there was no justiciable claim under the statute because there was no evidence the Humphreys were injured by his lack of a contractor's license. Bereki cites no authority for that novel proposition. Injury is not an element of a cause of action under the statute. The disgorgement consequence is not remedial in nature. Similar to the licensing requirement, it is a proactive measure intended to decrease the likelihood of harm due to "incompetent or dishonest providers of building and construction services." (White, supra, 178 Cal.App.4th at pp. 517.)

We also are not persuaded by Bereki's objection to the amount the court ordered him to repay to the Humphreys. He highlights evidence showing that some of the payment checks came from Gary Humphreys' corporation, and he argues the Humphreys are not entitled to those amounts given they did not pay them in the first instance. While we do not necessarily see eye-to-eye with Bereki's legal reasoning, we need not reach the legal aspect of his argument due to the trial court's factual findings.

The trial court, relying on Gary Humphreys' uncontradicted testimony, found that the contested payments ultimately were attributable to Gary Humphrey himself. Substantial evidence supports this conclusion. The Humphreys testified that the business is an S corporation, and at the relevant time Gary Humphreys was the sole shareholder and an employee. Gary Humphreys explained he was traveling often for business during the remodel, including at times when Bereki insisted on needing money "'right away.'" To facilitate the payments, Gary Humphreys had persons in his corporation with signing authority write checks from the corporate account. The amounts paid on the Humphreys behalf were then accounted for through a reduction in the regular income Gary Humphreys received from the corporation. He paid income taxes on those amounts because they were included in the figures listed on his annual W-2 form.

Under these circumstances, we find ample evidence to support the trial court's factual finding that although certain payments to Bereki were made from the Humphreys' business account, they ultimately were accounted for in a way that ensured they were personal payments from the Humphreys, as individuals. Accordingly, the Humphreys were entitled to "all compensation paid." (§ 7031, subd. (b).)

We recognize that the provisions of section 7031, including the disgorgement remedy, are harsh and may be perceived as unfair. As courts have explained, however, they stem from policy decisions made by the Legislature.

(MW Erectors, Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., Inc. (2005) 36 Cal.4th 412, 423; Hydrotech Systems, Ltd. v. Oasis Waterpark (1991) 52 Cal.3d 988, 995; Lewis & Queen v. N. M. Ball Sons (1957) 48 Cal.2d 141, 151; see Judicial Council of California v. Jacobs Facilities, Inc. (2015) 239 Cal.App.4th 882, 896; Alatriste, supra, 183 Cal.App.4th at p. 672.) "[T]he choice among competing policy considerations in enacting laws is a legislative function" (Coastside Fishing Club v. California Resources Agency (2008) 158 Cal.App.4th 1183, 1203), and absent a constitutional prohibition, we may not interfere or question the wisdom of the policies embodied in the statute. (Marine Forests Society v. California Coastal Com. (2005) 36 Cal.4th 1, 25; Alatriste, supra, 183 Cal.App.4th at p. 672.)

D. Statement of Decision

Though he admits he did not timely request a statement of decision, Bereki claims the trial court should have nevertheless provided one after he made an untimely request. To the contrary, "[n]o statement of decision is required if the parties fail to request one." (Acquire II, Ltd. v. Colton Real Estate Group (2013) 213 Cal.App.4th 959, 970; see also Code Civ. Proc., § 632.) The trial court's denial was proper. (See In re Marriage of Steinberg (1977) 66 Cal.App.3d 815, 822 [upholding court's refusal to make findings of fact and conclusions of law due to party's failure to timely request them].)

Tentative Ruling posted on the Internet and posted in the public hallway.

The Court having fully considered the arguments of all parties, both written and oral, as well as the evidence presented, now makes the tentative ruling final as follows:

MOTION TO VACATE

The Motion "to Vacate Void Judgment" filed by Mr. Adam Bereki is Denied. The arguments presented on this motion were already raised and rejected, and the appellate decision affirming the underlying judgment on the merits is now final. Upon remittitur, the trial court is revested with jurisdiction of the case only to carry out the judgment as ordered by the appellate court. (People v. Dutra (2006) 145 Cal.App.4th 1359, 1365-1366.) Arguments on the merits of the underlying judgment cannot be entertained anew here. The Motion is therefore Denied.

Counsel for the Humphreys to give notice.

MORNING SESSION

(PROCEEDINGS IN OPEN COURT:)

* * *

THE COURT: Thank you. Is there an appearance on court call, please.

Someone on court call, please.

THE CLERK: Mr. Bereki?

MR. BEREKI: Your Honor, can you hear me?

THE COURT: We can now. Please state your name.

MR. BEREKI: Adam Bereki in propria persona.

THE COURT: Thank you. Welcome.

MR. BEREKI: Thank you.

THE COURT: And then counsel for the plaintiff.

MR. BISSELL: William Bissell, Your Honor, for the opposing parties, Karen and Gary Humphreys.

THE COURT: Thank you very much. Okay. So we do have a court reporter here. I do want to find out how much time that you wanted to take to argue the matter, then I'll put that into my consideration as to when I'll call the case.

So, Mr. Bissell, did you have a time estimate, if any?

MR. BISSELL: Your Honor, we would submit on the tentative.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Bereki, do you have a time estimate at all?

MR. BEREKI: 10 -- 10 minutes, Your Honor. I just have some questions to ask of you for clarity because my next step is obviously to go to the US Supreme Court, so I just want some clarity on your tentative.

THE COURT: Okay. Do you have -- do you have the tentative? Have you been able to pull it off the internet?

MR. BEREKI: Yes. I'm looking at it, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

Okay. Very good. So I'll come back to you then.

MR. BEREKI: Thank you.

THE COURT: Thank you for your patience.

(Recess.)

THE COURT: Okay. The matter is Spartan Associates versus Humphreys.

MR. BISSELL: Good morning, Your Honor. William Bissell for Respondents, the Humphreys.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Mr. Bereki, would you make your experience.

MR. BEREKI: Yes, Your Honor. Adam Bereki in propria persona. Your Honor, this case hinges upon whether federal constitutional protections were denied and whether the trial in appellate court had jurisdiction to deny these protections. The matter goes to the jurisdiction of the Court, not the merit as was cited in the tentative.

While the rule that Your Honor cited may be applicable, it cannot be used to overrule the federal constitutional protections that I'm contending were denied here. This is held in Miranda v. Arizona at 384 US 436 at 491. The US Supreme Court stated there: Where rights secured by the Constitution are involved, there shall be no rule-making or legislation that would abrogate them.

The law of case doctrine that was cited in the tentative authority, which is People v. Dutra, does not apply here. It states: Because the rule is merely one of procedure and does not go to the jurisdiction of the Court, the doctrine will not be adhered to where its application will result in an unjust decision. For example, where there has been a manifest misapplication of existing principles resulting in substantial injustice.

That is exactly what I'm claiming here, Your Honor, that there's been a substantial injustice. And so, because this is a motion to vacate a void judgment, I'm challenging the jurisdiction of the court to issue the Humphreys costs, and they have not substantiated the jurisdiction of the court to violate the Constitution and award the costs or even to have judgment awarded in their favor.

THE COURT: Thank you very much. Thank you.

Counsel, did you want to say something?

MR. BISSELL: I'm not sure how to respond to that, Your Honor. It's clear that the question of jurisdiction has been determined not once but twice: Once at the trial court level, once at the appellate court level, and presented to the California Supreme Court and rejected as a -- as grounds for review at that level. The -- you know, the Superior Court is a court of general jurisdiction; it has jurisdiction over all matters not exclusively reserved to the Courts of Appeal or the California Supreme Court. It had subject matter jurisdiction over this action.

Mr. Bereki appeared at the trial in this matter, he presented his case, he presented evidence, he questioned witnesses, he cross-examined witnesses. So, clearly, he had submitted to personal jurisdiction in this case. So the jurisdiction question is, to me, put to rest. If he wants to raise it, he has to raise it at another level.

Now, Mr. Bereki here is -- he's unhappy with the Court's ruling, with the Court's decision. He thinks it's in error. Well, that's not a void judgment. That's a judgment you take up on appeal. He's done that. He's lost on appeal. If he's still unhappy, he has another level to go. That's where he has to go. He has no business being in this court today to present this motion.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Mr. Bereki?

MR. BEREKI: Yes, Your Honor. This is not just a matter of me being unhappy with the judgment. The Supreme Court in Kokesh v. SEC recently heard this matter regarding disgorgement. And what the Court -- what the matter was before that court was, I believe, Mr. Kokesh -- there was a judgment awarded, a disgorgement judgment awarded against him for about $40 million. And there was a statute in this case -- the determination was to whether that disgorgement penalty was -- was a penalty or not, because, if it was, then the statute of limitations would apply and he would not be liable for that disgorgement.

So the court heard the matter and determined that the disgorgement in that case was a penalty.

So, in this case, there's been a near-million-dollar disgorgement judgment awarded against me. And I'm claiming that that judgment, based upon the Kokesh decision by the Supreme Court, is a penalty. And if you apply the same holdings that they did in Kokesh to this case, it clearly evidences that the holding in this case is punitive as well.

So here's where the constitutional protections apply and why I'm challenging the jurisdiction of the court: Because a court does not have jurisdiction to violate either the California Constitution or the Constitution of the United States.

So if the trial in Appellate Court found that this award was not punitive, in spite of the fact that the US Supreme Court held that it was, I'm contending that the 14th Amendment protections for excessive punitive damage awards have to apply here and that essentially due process was violated because the court did not recognize that the judgment was punitive in nature.

So, in my mind, if the constitution's been violated, that's not a judicial act and the court doesn't have jurisdiction to do that, which is why I keep challenging jurisdiction. And, on appeal and in the trial court, I have not yet seen one authority presented by the Humphreys or by the courts that overrule the Supreme Court's authority in Kokesh or the more than 100 years' authority case cited in that case that discuss exactly what a punitive judgment is. And the judgment in this case, disgorgement, strictly to be nonpunitive under the laws of restitution -- nonpunitive restitutionary disgorgement can only apply to the profits that I made acting as the, quote/unquote, unlicensed contractor in this case. Can't order disgorgement of all the moneys were paid whatsoever, because, once you go beyond profits, as the Court held in Kokesh, it becomes punitive.

So the Humphreys have to be able to substantiate how they got a near-million-dollar award that wasn't punitive. And nowhere in this case and nowhere in any of the decisions of the Appellate Court or anywhere else do they do that. So it's very clear to me that this award that goes beyond any compensation that I received is punitive.

And if you look at the Exhibit B, which is the order for judgment in this case, it lists damages at $848,000. Well, my contention is these are punitive damages. Well, if they are, then the 14th Amendment's protections for excessive punitive damages apply. And if you apply those protections in this case, the maximum award that they could have got is $5,000; not a million.

So, I mean, this is hugely, hugely significant, and the jurisdictional issue is not just me being upset with the Court's judgment. I'm happy to take a lick and keep going on with life, but I want to see the authorities for the Court to do this, and they just aren't here.

The two cases that the Appellate Court cited are actually SEC versus Huffman. That one was overruled or superseded by Kokesh. And the other one was United States versus Phillip Morris, and that one is also, so to speak, in my favor because it says that it's not in the Court's equity powers to issue punishment. And it -- disgorgement only applies to the ill-gotten gains or profits, not to all of the compensation that was paid for a project.

THE COURT: Thank you very much.

Did you want to retort, for a moment only?

MR. BISSELL: Just for a moment only, Your Honor.

These arguments go to the merits of the case that has been determined as final and remitted to the Superior Court for one purpose only: For the entry of an award of costs. Even a case where the Court has made an error of law, even if the error of law is apparent on its face, which it's not here, that is not a void judgment and cannot be attacked at this level.

THE COURT: Mr. Bereki, you did read the tentative; right?

MR. BEREKI: I did, Your Honor. And what I'm saying is that appears to be a legislative rule that is attempting to over -- to supersede the Constitution. Because the Miranda v. Arizona decision states, quote: Where rights secured by the Constitution are involved, there shall be no rule-making or legislation that would abrogate them. And under the supremacy clause of Article 6, Section 2, the Constitution has authority here.

So if these are punitive damages and the Court violated the Constitution, it does not have jurisdiction to issue a remittitur and award costs or to affirm the judgment of the Humphreys, period.

THE COURT: Well, what I --

MR. BEREKI: And the authorities that I've established here are -- Kokesh is one. I mean, literally 100 years of precedent of determining what a punitive damage award is, which is clearly punishment because --

THE COURT: No, I got it. No, I understand. Your papers make that clear and your argument makes that clear. The tentative, however, is the present state of the law, and so it will have to be the order of the Court.

I want to thank you very much for your very articulate presentation and --

MR. BEREKI: No problem, Your Honor. Can I ask you a couple of questions?

THE COURT: Well, the Court doesn't really answer questions. The Court reviews the papers and then gives tentatives. So I can really offer no direction. The issues that you're dealing with and have argued involve substantive law, and that is something that really has to be addressed, in this circumstance, with the Court of Appeal. Already been to the Court of Appeal. Petition to the Supreme Court. And you may have other remedies, but I really cannot comment on any of those or offer you any assistance.

MR. BEREKI: I'm not interested in you practicing law or doing that. I just had some questions about how -- the decision that you made to issue the tentative in this case.

THE COURT: Yeah. It is in the tentative. It is in the tentative. So I have other people in the courtroom, and I'm going to have to get to their case, but I really want to appreciate -- tell you that I appreciate your fine argument and that of counsel.

So have a good day. The tentative --

MR. BEREKI: Okay. Your Honor, can I wait until the other people are done so that we can go through this?

THE COURT: Well, I really do not want to get involved in doing any more than I've already done. I cannot give any legal advice or give any direction, and the --

MR. BEREKI: I'm clearly not asking for that, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Excuse me.

MR. BEREKI: I have questions -- just to give an example, the judgment order says there's damages in $848,000. So I have questions as to what specific type of damages these are.

THE COURT: Yeah, no, I'm not prepared --

MR. BEREKI: I need to know that to be able to prepare a meaningful and substantive petition to the Supreme Court. If no one's going to answer these questions, well, I feel that that's denying me a hearing, and I have a right to know what the actual judgment order is and how the --

THE COURT: The Appellate Court -- excuse me.

As a matter of fact, the Appellate Court, in its opinion, did address those issues. So I do have to move on. The tentative is the order of the Court.

You have a very nice day. Thank you.

MR. BEREKI: Thank you.

THE COURT: Bye-bye.

MR. BISSELL: Thank you, Your Honor.

ORDER RE: DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS THE FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT PURSUANT TO RULE 12(B)(1), (6) & (7) OF THE FEDERAL RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE AND REQUEST FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE [JS-6]

The matter before the Court is Defendants Gary Humphreys and Karen Humphreys' (collectively, "Defendants'" or "The Humphreys'") "Motion to Dismiss the First Amended Complaint Pursuant to Rule 12(b)(1), (6), & (7) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Request for Judicial Notice." (Dkt. No. 9 (the "Motion").)[1]

I. BACKGROUND

This action arises from a state court judgment in favor of Defendants and

[1] Following the hearing on the Motion, Plaintiff filed a document entitled "Additional Authorities and Corrected Testimony To Be Considered By the Court re: Defendants Motion to Dismiss Filed 11/19/19," which has been reviewed by the Court. (Dkt. No. 30 (hereinafter, "Additional Authorities").)

against Plaintiff in connection with remodeling work performed by Plaintiff. On April 20, 2017, following a bench trial, the Superior Court, County of Orange, entered judgment in favor of The Humphreys and against Plaintiff in the amount of $848,000 (plus costs).[2] (FAC Exs. D, G.) The Superior Court found Plaintiff (as opposed to his company Spartan Associates) was the contractor who performed the remodel work for The Humphreys, and found Plaintiff was not a licensed contractor. Accordingly, the superior court awarded The Humphreys disgorgement of all compensation paid by The Humphreys to Plaintiff for the remodel work pursuant to Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031.[3] Plaintiff appealed the state court judgment. The California Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment in favor of The Humphreys. Plaintiff's request for review by the California Supreme Court was denied, and Plaintiff's writ for certiorari with the United States Supreme Court was also denied.

Plaintiff then commenced this action on October 28, 2019. On November 8, 2019, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Complaint ("FAC") as a matter of right naming only The Humphreys as defendants. (Dkt. No. 11.) The FAC alleges this action is "an Independent Action in Equity to relieve a party from a judgment, order or proceeding pursuant to FRCP Rule 60(d)" (FAC at p.13), and that this action "is a direct attack on the jurisdiction of the California trial and appellate Courts in case numbers – 30-2015-00805897, and G055075" (id. at p.17).

II. STATEMENT OF THE LAW

A. Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(b)(1)

On a Rule 12(b)(1) motion to dismiss for lack of subject matter jurisdiction,

---

[2] While the superior court judgment reflects judgment entered against Plaintiff in the amount of $848,000, the FAC alleges Plaintiff was "fined $930,000 for allegedly doing remodel construction work without a contractor's license." (FAC at p.16.)

[3] California Business & Professions Code § 7031 provides: "[A] person who utilizes the services of an unlicensed contractor may bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state to recover all compensation paid to the unlicensed contractor for performance of any act or contract."

the party asserting jurisdiction bears the burden of proving jurisdiction exists. Sopak v. Northern Mountain Helicopter Serv., 52 F.3d 817, 818 (9th Cir. 1995). A motion under Rule 12(b)(1) may challenge the court's jurisdiction facially, based on the legal sufficiency of the claim, or factually, based on the legal sufficiency of the jurisdictional facts. White v. Lee, 227 F.3d 1214, 1242 (9th Cir. 2000). Where the Rule 12(b)(1) motion attacks the complaint on its face, the court considers the complaint's allegations to be true, and draws all reasonable inferences in the plaintiff's favor. Doe v. Holy See, 557 F.3d 1066, 1073 (9th Cir. 2009) (citation omitted). Where the Rule 12(b)(1) motion challenges the substance of jurisdictional allegations, the court does not presume the factual allegations to be true, and may consider evidence such as affidavits and testimony to resolve factual disputes regarding jurisdiction. McCarthy v. United States, 850 F.2d 558, 560 (9th Cir. 1988).

B. Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(b)(6)

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6) allows a court to dismiss a complaint for "failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted." Dismissal of a complaint can be based on either a lack of a cognizable legal theory or the absence of sufficient facts alleged under a cognizable legal theory. Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep't, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1990). To survive a motion to dismiss, the complaint "must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.'" Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 663, (2009) (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)). A formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not suffice. Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555. To conform to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8, the plaintiff must make more than "an unadorned, the-defendant-harmed me" accusation. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678. Labels and conclusions are insufficient to meet the Plaintiff's obligation to provide the grounds of his or her entitlement to relief. Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555. "Factual allegations must be enough to raise a right to relief above the speculative level." Id. If a complaint cannot be cured by additional factual allegations, dismissal without leave to amend is proper. Id. On a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim, courts accept as true all well-pleaded allegations of material fact and construes them in a light most favorable to the non-moving party. Manzarek v. St. Paul Fire & Marine Ins. Co., 519 F.3d 1025, 1031–32 (9th Cir. 2008). A court may only consider the allegations contained in the pleadings, exhibits attached to or referenced in the complaint, and matters properly subject to judicial notice. Tellabs, Inc. v. Makor Issues & Rights, Ltd., 551 U.S. 308, 322 (2007).

C. Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(b)(7)

Rule 12(b)(7) permits a party to move to dismiss the case for "failure to join a party under Rule 19." Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(b)(7). Rule 19 requires "[a] person who is subject to service of process and whose joinder will not deprive the court of subject-matter jurisdiction" to be joined as a party if:

> (A) in that person's absence, the court cannot accord complete relief among existing parties; or
> (B) that person claims an interest relating to the subject of the action and is so situated that disposing of the action in the person's absence may:
> > (i) as a practical matter impair or impede the person's ability to protect the interest; or
> > (ii) leave an existing party subject to a substantial risk of incurring double, multiple, or otherwise inconsistent obligations because of the interest.

Fed. R. Civ. P. 19. If "a person who is required to be joined if feasible cannot be joined, the court must determine whether, in equity and good conscience, the action should proceed among the existing parties or should be dismissed." Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 19(b).

III. DISCUSSION

A. Request for Judicial Notice

Defendants request that the Court take judicial notice of the following:

1. Judgment entered against Plaintiff in Orange County Superior Court, Case No. 30-2015-00805807 (Ex. A);
2. Plaintiff's opening brief filed with the California Court of Appeals appealing the superior court judgment (Ex. B);
3. California Court of Appeals' opinion affirming superior court judgment (Ex. C);
4. Plaintiff's Petition for Review Filed with the Supreme Court of California, Case No. S252954 (Ex. D);
5. California Supreme Court's denial of Plaintiff's Petition for Review (Ex. E);
6. Plaintiff's Petition for Writ of Certiorari filed with the United States Supreme Court, Case No. 18-1416 (Ex. F); and
7. United State Supreme Court's denial of Plaintiff's Petition for Writ of Certiorari (Ex. G).[4]

(Hereinafter, "RJN".) The Court grants Defendants' request for judicial notice because the accuracy of Exhibits A-G can be "readily determined from sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned." Fed. R. Evid. 201.

B. Rooker-Feldman Doctrine

Defendants move to dismiss the FAC for lack of subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine. The Rooker-Feldman doctrine bars losing parties "from seeking what in substance would be appellate review of the state judgment in a United States district court." Johnson v. De Grandy, 512 U.S. 997, 1006-07 (1994). "The purpose of the doctrine is to protect state judgments from collateral federal attack." Doe & Assocs. Law Offices v. Napolitano, 252 F.3d 1026, 1030 (9th Cir. 2001). For the Rooker–Feldman "to apply, a plaintiff must seek not only to set aside a state court judgment; he or she must also allege a legal error by the state court as the basis for that relief." Kougasian v. TMSL, Inc., 359 F.3d 1136, 1140 (9th Cir. 2004).

Here, Plaintiff seeks relief from the superior court judgment pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(d) (FAC at p.13), and an order from this Court (1) vacating the judgment entered against Plaintiff in the superior court action and (2) ordering the superior court to remove the property lien based on the judgment entered against Plaintiff in the superior court action (id., Prayer for Relief). The FAC also alleges the instant federal action "is a direct attack on the jurisdiction of the California trial and appellate Courts in case numbers – 30-2015-00805897, and G055075." (Id. at p.17.) Therefore, Plaintiff seeks relief from the state court judgment affirmed by the California Court of Appeals.

The FAC also alleges a legal error by the superior court and California Court of Appeals on the ground that the superior court and appellate court entered and affirmed the judgment against Plaintiff without supporting evidence, and erred in holding disgorgement pursuant to Cal. Bus. & Proc. § 7031 is an equitable remedy rather than a penalty, thereby "resulting in a void judgment." (FAC at p.82, 90.)

(1) Extrinsic Fraud on the Court

Where the federal plaintiff does not complain of a legal injury caused by a state court judgment, but rather of a legal injury caused by an adverse party, Rooker-Feldman does not bar jurisdiction. Noel v. Hall, 341 F.3d 1148, 1163 (9th Cir. 2003). Therefore, the Rooker-Feldman doctrine does not apply where the plaintiff alleges extrinsic fraud on a state court and seeks to set aside a state court judgment obtained by that fraud. Kougasian, 359 F.3d at 1141.

Plaintiff contends this action is not barred because this Court has the power to set aside or enjoin state-court judgments procured by fraud. The FAC alleges Defendants committed "fraud in the procurement of jurisdiction" in the superior court action because Defendants took one position during summary judgment (i.e., that they had contracted with Spartan (Plaintiff's company) to perform the work) and then took a contrary position during trial (i.e., that they believed they contracted with Plaintiff to perform the work). (FAC at 94-97.) Such alleged conduct does not constitute "extrinsic" fraud on the court since such evidence was presented by Defendants before the superior court, nor constitute a legal injury caused by Defendants. Rather, the FAC alleges the superior court erred in entering judgment despite Defendants taking contrary positions throughout the state court litigation. Therefore, the extrinsic fraud exception to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine does not apply. Kougasian, 359 F.3d at 1141.

(2) Constitutional Challenge

Plaintiff also argues the Rooker-Feldman doctrine does not bar this action because the FAC raises a constitutional challenge to California Business & Professions Code §§ 7071.17 and 7031. While the FAC raises a "facial" and "as applied" challenge to the constitutionality of Sections §§ 7071.17 and 7031, the relief sought by Plaintiff is an order vacating or voiding the state court judgment. Moreover, the basis for Plaintiff's constitutional challenge is that the Superior Court and California Court of Appeals lacked subject matter jurisdiction to enter and affirm the judgment against Plaintiff because (1) there is no evidence supporting the judgment; and (2) disgorgement pursuant to Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031 is a penalty and an excessive fine, and therefore unconstitutional. The California Court of Appeals, however, found there was evidence supporting the Superior Court's judgment and held disgorgement pursuant to Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031 is an equitable remedy, not a penalty or fine. (RJN, Ex. C.) Thus, despite purporting to raise a "constitutional" challenge in his FAC, Plaintiff seeks relief from the state court judgment in this action and asserts legal errors by the Superior Court and California Court of Appeals. Therefore, the Rooker-Feldman doctrine applies to bar Plaintiff's instant action.

Accordingly, the Court finds Plaintiff's action is barred pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine because Plaintiff seeks relief from the state court judgment and alleges legal errors by the state trial and appellate court. See Bell v. City of Boise, 709 F.3d 890, 897 (9th Cir. 2013).

C. Res Judicata / Collateral Estoppel

Defendants also move to dismiss the FAC as barred by the res judicata / collateral estoppel doctrines.[5]

Issue preclusion, or collateral estoppel, bars relitigation of issues that have been adjudicated in a prior action. DKN Holdings LLC, 61 Cal. 4th at 824. Pursuant to the doctrine of collateral estoppel, "a federal court must give to a state-court judgment the same preclusive effect as would be given that judgment under the law of the State in which the judgment was rendered." Migra v. Warren City Sch. Dist. Bd. of Educ., 465 U.S. 75, 81 (1984); see also 28 U.S.C. § 1738. Under California law, collateral estoppel/issue preclusion applies: "(1) after final adjudication (2) of an identical issue (3) actually litigated and necessarily decided in the first suit and (4) asserted against one who was a party in the first suit or one in privity with that party." DKN Holdings LLC, 61 Cal. 4th at 825.

Here, the FAC alleges the superior court lacked jurisdiction and violated Plaintiff's due process rights because there was no evidence supporting the judgment. The FAC, however, alleges Plaintiff challenged the jurisdiction of the superior court in a motion to vacate the judgment, which was denied. (FAC at 97-98.)

Plaintiff appealed the state court judgment. In his appeal, Plaintiff argued the Superior Court committed due process violations and lacked subject matter jurisdiction, and argued Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031 was unconstitutional because it is penal in nature. (RJN, Ex. B.) The California Court of Appeals affirmed the Superior Court's judgment, and found Plaintiff's arguments on appeal had "no merit." (Id. Ex. C; see also FAC at p.19 (alleging California Court of Appeal held the superior court judgment against Plaintiff was a "non-punitive"

[5] "Res judicata" refers to claim preclusion. Henrichs v. Valley View Dev., 474 F.3d 609, 615 (9th Cir. 2007) Since the claims asserted by Plaintiff in this action were not asserted in the state court action, res judicata would not apply to bar Plaintiff's claims here.

"equitable remedy").)

Plaintiff filed a petition for review with the California Supreme Court wherein Plaintiff argued the superior court and California Court of Appeals lacked jurisdiction and violated Plaintiff's due process rights, and argued Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 7031 and 7071.17 were unconstitutional and authorize imposition of penalties. (RJN, Ex. D.) The California Supreme Court denied Plaintiff's petition for review. (Id. Ex. E.) On April 23, 2019, Plaintiff filed a petition for writ of certiorari with the United States Supreme Court, which was denied. (Id. Exs. F, G.)

Therefore, the issues raised by Plaintiff in this federal action regarding the Superior Court and California Court of Appeal's lack of jurisdiction and violation of Plaintiff's due process rights, the unconstitutionality of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 7031 and 7071.17, Plaintiff's contention that disgorgement pursuant to Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031 is a penalty/fine rather than an equitable remedy, and the lack of evidence supporting the Superior Court's judgment and California Court of Appeals decision affirming the judgment, were actually litigated by Plaintiff in the state court action and necessarily decided in a final judgment. See DKN Holdings LLC, 61 Cal. 4th at 825; Rodriguez v. City of San Jose, 930 F.3d 1123, 1132 (9th Cir. 2019).

Thus, even if the instant action was not barred pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine, the Court finds Plaintiff is collaterally estopped from bringing this action. See Reyn's Pasta Bella, LLC v. Visa USA, Inc., 442 F.3d 741, 750 (9th Cir. 2006).

IV. CONCLUSION

Accordingly, the Court GRANTS Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, and dismisses the action with prejudice because Plaintiff is collaterally stopped from bringing this action.[6] The Court also finds this action is barred pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine.[7]

IT IS SO ORDERED.

DATED: February 6, 2020.

CONSUELO B. MARSHALL
UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE

[6] Because Plaintiff's claims are barred on collateral estoppel grounds, leave to amend would be futile. See Tait v. Asset Acceptance, LLC, 2013 WL 3811767 (C.D. Cal. July 22, 2013).

[7] Defendants also move to dismiss the FAC on the ground Plaintiff fails to join the superior court and California Court of Appeals which are "indispensable parties." Because the Court dismisses this action pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine, and finds collateral estoppel would bar Plaintiff from bringing this action, it does not reach the issue of whether the superior court and California Court of Appeals are indispensable parties.

Case No.: CV 19-2050-CBM-ADS(x)

ORDER RE: NINTH CIRCUIT'S REFERRAL AND REVOCATION OF PLAINTIFF'S IN FORMA PAUPERIS STATUS [34]

Plaintiff filed the Complaint in this action on October 28, 2019. (Dkt. No. 1.) On October 31, 2019, the Court granted Plaintiff's Request to Proceed in Forma Pauperis. (Dkt. No. 5.) On February 6, 2020, this Court issued an order granting Defendants' Motion to Dismiss, and dismissed the action with prejudice because Plaintiff is collaterally estopped from bringing this action and the action is barred pursuant to the Rooker-Feldman doctrine. (Dkt. No. 31 (the "Order").)

Plaintiff filed a notice of appeal of the Order on February 10, 2020. (Dkt. No. 32.) On February 24, 2020, the Ninth Circuit referred the matter to this Court "for the limited purpose of determining whether in forma pauperis status should continue for this appeal or whether the appeal is frivolous or taken in bad faith."

(Dkt. No. 34.)

The Court finds Plaintiff's in forma pauperis status should not continue for the appeal because Plaintiff's appeal of the Order is frivolous. Therefore, the Court revokes Plaintiff's in forma pauperis status. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(3) ("An appeal may not be taken in forma pauperis if the trial court certifies in writing that it is not taken in good faith."); Hooker v. Am. Airlines, 302 F.3d 1091, 1092 (9th Cir. 2002) (revocation of in forma pauperis status is appropriate where the district court finds the appeal to be frivolous).

The clerk of this Court shall provide notice to the Ninth Circuit and the parties of this Order.

Before: THOMAS, Chief Judge, TASHIMA and W. FLETCHER, Circuit Judges.

The district court certified that this appeal is frivolous and revoked appellant's in forma pauperis status. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a). On March 24, 2020, this court ordered appellant to explain in writing why this appeal should not be dismissed as frivolous. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2) (court shall dismiss case at any time, if court determines it is frivolous or malicious).

Upon a review of the record and the responses to the court's March 24, 2020 order, we conclude this appeal is frivolous. We therefore deny appellant's motion to proceed in forma pauperis (Docket Entry No. 3) and dismiss this appeal as frivolous, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2).

All other pending motions are denied as moot.

Dear Mr. Bereki:

At its July 2020 meeting, the Commission on Judicial Performance voted to close your complaint dated June 8, 2020.

Your complaint concerns legal rulings made by the judges. This commission is not a court and does not have the authority to reverse judicial decisions. Even if a judge's decision is later determined to be legally incorrect by an appellate court, that by itself is not a violation of the Code of Judicial Ethics and is not misconduct. A judge's legal error might be a basis for investigation by this commission if there is sufficient evidence of bad faith, bias, abuse of authority, disregard for fundamental rights, intentional disregard of the law, or any purpose other than the faithful discharge of judicial duty. The information you have provided is not sufficient to establish any of those factors.

If you wish to provide additional information regarding your complaint, it will be considered. You should provide specific information that fully describes what the judges said or did that you believe was misconduct. You may wish to consult the "Filing a Complaint" and "FAQ's" tabs on the commission's website (http://cjp.ca.gov) for further information about what a complaint should contain.

With respect to the legal proceedings that gave rise to your complaint, you may wish to consult an attorney or legal services provider to see if they can help you. This office cannot provide individuals with legal assistance.

We appreciate your time and effort in bringing this matter to the commission's attention.

Very truly yours,

Anjuli Fiedler

NARRATIVE

On Wednesday, September 2, 2020, Deputy D. Foster #3340 and I were dispatched to Orange County Sheriff's Department Headquarters, located at 550 N. Flower Street in the City of Santa Ana, reference a report.

Upon arrival, we spoke to Adam Alan Bereki (06/18/1979). Adam told us the following: Adam is a former police officer with the Huntington Beach Police Department and was medically retired about 10 years ago. After retiring, Adam started a construction company, Spartan Associates. Adam obtained a contractor's license under Spartan Associates and not under his own name.

From April 2012 to August 2013, Spartan Associates was contracted by Gary and Karen Humphreys

ORIGINAL

Reporting Area: North Unine

(NFD) to remodel a condominium in Newport Beach. In August of 2013, Gary and Karen terminated Spartan Associates. At that time, Gary and Karen had paid Spartan Associates $848,000.00 and still had a pending balance of $82,000.00 that they refused to pay Spartan Associates. Spartan Associates attempted to negotiate the price owed with Gary and Karen but they rejected all negotiations. In August of 2015, Spartan Associates filed a lawsuit [Case#2015-00805807] against Gary and Karen, for the time and materials owed, which amounted to $82,000.00.

On February 16, 2016, Gary and Karen filed a motion for summary judgement. Gary and Karen initially asserted they entered an agreement with Spartan Associates for construction on their condominium. In early 2017, Gary and Karen filed a 1st amended cross complaint with new info. Gary and Karen amended that they contracted with Adam and not Spartan Associates.

On April 20, 2017, the court found that Adam did not have a contracting license in his name, therefore he violated B&P 7031(b). Judge David R. Chaffee ruled that Adam was to pay Gary and Karen $848,000 in Disgorgement. Adam disagreed with the judgement based on the fact that Adam felt they had contracted with his company. Neither Adam nor Spartan Associates ever had a formal contract with Gary and Karen and all agreed to items were in an email chain which Adam did not provide. Adam provided me a statement with a list of checks written by Gary and Karen for all work completed. In this list there are 7 checks written to Adam and 10 checks written to Spartan Associates.

Due to the $848,000.00 owed by Adam, a lien was placed on 818 Sprint, Costa Mesa, CA. 92626. Adam stated in November 2010, his mother Roseanne Bereki (09/25/1953) took over as legal owner of the residence and Adam's name is on the legal title. Adam also lost his business' contractors license.

On March 18, 2017, Adam filed a Writ of Error with the Orange County Superior Court and challenged the jurisdiction of the court. Shortly after, Adam received an email stating they denied the request to vacate judgement.

On June 6, 2017, Adam again went to the Orange County Superior Court and challenged the jurisdiction of the court. Shortly after the court responded and fined Adam approximately $1,500.00, for abuse of discovery. Adam's motion was again denied.

On January 10, 2018, Adam filed an appeal with the Fourth Appellate District Court of Appeal. On October 31, 2018, Adam received the Appeal Court judgement, stating all arguments had no merit

On October 28, 2019, Adam filed a complaint with the US Supreme Court. On February 27, 2020, the court denied Adam's case, due to the appeal being frivolous.

Adam believes that B&P 7031(b) is unconstitutional and the $848,000.00 disgorgement was given to him as a fine and a fine can only be levied if he is charged with a crime. Adam cited MW Erectors Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., Inc., 36 Cal. 4th 412 and Rambeau v. Barker 2010 Cal. App. Unpub. Lexis S610 to prove that the violation of B&P 7031(b) and subsequent penalties were imposed illegally and unjustly. Adam stated the fine levied under B&P 7031(b) is actually criminal forfeiture. Adam provided a definition of criminal forfeiture under US v. Seifuddin, 820 F 2d 1074, "If the statute under which the forfeiture alleged is penal, it will be treated as criminal forfeiture." Under People V. Cowan, 47 Cal. App. 5th 32, Adam believes his forfeiture was an excessive fine and his ability to pay was not taken into consideration. The courts rejected these claims stating his amount owed is Disgorgement and not a fine.

Adam also believes the amount was excessive because it did not take into consideration the amount of materials and work completed on the construction project. Adam asserted that his company completed $848,000.00 worth of work therefore he should only have to pay back any profit he made on the project. Adam cited, US Supreme Court Case Liu V. SEC, 2020 Lexis 3374. This case states. "the profit-based measure of unjust enrichment reflects a foundational principle: It would be inequitable that a wrongdoer should make a profit out of his own wrong. At the same time courts recognize that the wrongdoer should not profit by his own wrong, they also recognized the countervailing equitable principle that the wrongdoer should not be punished by paying more than a fair compensation to the person wronged."

Adam stated his rights have been violated under Title 18, U.S.C., Section 242 –Deprivation of Rights under the Color of Law. Adam believes he has been given an excessive fine by the courts that is cruel and unusual punishment. Adam believes his 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 14th Amendment Rights have been violated. Adam believes that Judge Chaffee is in violation of CPC 211- Robbery and CPC 484g Theft by False Pretense, by imposing the $848,000.00 fine. At the conclusion of the initial judgment, Adam has subsequently represented himself in every court with self-taught legal knowledge. Adam has met with attorneys regarding his case but does not have the funds necessary to retain them as council. Adam has exhausted all legal avenues in the courts to rectify his perceived constitutional violations.

Adam came to the Sheriff's Department as a last resort in an attempt to prove his Constitutional rights have been violated. As the Sheriff's Department is an agent of the Executive Branch of the State Government, Adam would like to use our agency as Checks and Balances with the Legislative and Judicial Branches of the State Government. Adam stated he would hold the Sheriff's Department responsible if we failed to adequately investigate his claims.

Phone Call from Adam Bereki, 09/15/2020:

On Tuesday, 09/15/2020, at approximately 1105 hours, I received a telephone call from a male subject verbally identifying himself as Adam Bereki wanting to check on the status of his report and to provide additional details. I recorded the conversation on my department issued digital audio recorder and later placed a copy of the audio recording onto a compact disc which I booked into Sheriff's Evidence in Santa Ana, Sheriff's Evidence Item# OS20-029161.3. I referred to the digital audio recording when preparing the following summary of my phone conversation with Mr. Bereki:

Bereki was advised I had been assigned this case and wanted to know if I was familiar with it. I summarized for Bereki that he was alleging several of his Constitutional Rights had been violated by a judicial officer and that there were additional criminal allegations against the same Judiciary based on judgements occurring in Civil Court. Bereki emphasised that in addition to the specific judicial officer he feels violated his constitutional rights, the "Whole State" of California's "Judicial Branch" has perpetuated a "Policy" in violation of persons constitutional rights. Bereki further stated that this policy, enacted into law by the California Legislature and "Upheld" by the Judicial Branch is supporting an unconstitutional "Policy" or law and one of the only remedies is for the Executive Branch of the government to perform its "Duty to enforce the law". Bereki has reached out to the following:

- California Commission on Judicial Performance
  - Bereki "Filed a complaint" which was returned to him stating he was "Complaining about legal errors by the judge". Bereki told me that in addition to the legal errors, he was also filing the complaint to address his "Deprivation of Rights".
- Federal Bureau of Investigation
  - Bereki has contacted the FBI three times within the last two to three months; however, the first time he called the "Crime Tip Line" and was told "We don't investigate that" and the second time he was told a "Complaint" was taken but no case number was provided to Bereki and the person taking the "Complaint" did not provide their name to Bereki. Bereki called the FBI again approximately two to three weeks after the second call to inquire about the status of his complaint, obtain the case number, and obtain the Agents name and he said, "They refused to give me all of those". Bereki believes he contacted the FBI office in Orange the second time.
    - Bereki served a Public Records Act Request on the FBI to try to obtain a copy of his phone call and was told they did not have a copy of the call.
- California State Assemblywoman Cottie Petrie-Norris
- California State Senator John Moorlach
- California Attorney General's Office
  - Approximately one week ago, Bereki emailed the California Attorney General's Office Public Information Unit. Bereki'sl requested information about how to file a complaint regarding a deprivation of rights complaint regarding a public official and has not yet received a response.

Bereki also wanted to clarify the following information from the initial report taken by deputies on 09/02/2020:

- Where the Initial Information Report reads, "Adam filed a complaint with the US Supreme Court". Bereki clarified that he went to the Federal District Court for The Central District Court of California to attempt to have the Federal District Court "Vacate" the "Void Judgement" from the California Court.
  - Bereki stated the Federal District Court Judge "Dismissed" his case, advising Bereki that the

SUPPLEMENT

ORIGINAL

Reporting Area: North Investigations

Federal Court did not have the authority to "Hear and determine the case".
When Bereki attempted to file an Appeal, the same Federal District Court Judge advised the Federal Appeals Court that Bereki's Appeal was "Of bad faith and frivolous".

- In Response to this, In March of 2020, Bereki filed a "Statement" regarding why the Appeal should move forward and he has not yet heard a response.

- Bereki also wanted to note that in the Initial Report's closing sentence where it states "...he would hold the Sheriff's Department responsible if we failed to adequately investigate his claims", that in addition to the Sheriff's Department's "Duty to investigate" it is also the Sheriff's Department's duty to "Protect" him and "Intervene" when his "Rights and property are being violated and unlawfully taken".

I advised Bereki that his initial report was being reviewed and I would be working on attempting to identify the appropriate Executive Branch agency to investigate the matter or defer the matter back for further review through the Judicial Branch in the appeal process.

NARRATIVE

On Wednesday, November 25, 2020, at approximately 1240 hours, I received a phone call from Sgt. S. Millhollon that he had inadvertently been forwarded a call reference this case from Bereki. Sgt. Millhollon gave me the number Bereki called him from (949-241-6693) and asked that I call him back.

At approximately 1300 hours, I contacted Bereki and asked him how I could help. He told me he was looking for a status update on his case. I advised him that the case had been reviewed by the California Department of Justice and that both they and the Orange County District Attorney's Office would not prosecute the case, or investigate it any further. I provided him with my full name and pin number and we ended the call.

At approximately 1305 hours, Bereki called my office line back, and asked if the Orange County Sheriff's Department was refusing to protect him from, "Lawless actions by government officials acting without authority." I advised him that our investigation into his allegations had ended. Bereki thanked me for my time and the conversation ended.

Both phone calls were recorded. The recordings were placed onto a compact disc and booked into Sheriff's Evidence under this case number.

Hi Mike,

I called and left a message for you last week to speak about your findings pertaining to the complaint I filed that you closed and have not received a return call. I am interested in knowing the factual findings and legal basis associated with your determination to close my case. These findings don't appear to be documented in your report and reasonably should be given each of the issues I raised.

My phone number is 949 241 6693.

Thank you for your help.

Sincerely,

To: eweidenkeller@ocsd.org, mleeb@ocsd.org, "Knutson, Gary L" <gknutson@ocsd.org>, jhallock@ocsd.org

Lt. Knutson,

Pursuant to a recent public records act request on your agency, I received a copy of the information report I filed as well as the supplemental investigation reports by Sgt. Andersen and Inv. Leeb pertaining to my allegations of fraud and deprivation of constitutional rights by judges and other public officials that I recently spoke with you and Commander Hallock about.

After receiving the supplemental reports made by Inv. Leeb, I called and left a message to speak with him on 12/2/20 . He has not returned my call. On 12/14/20, I also sent him an email and have not received a reply.

The essence of Inv. Leeb's findings in his supplemental report dated 11/4/20 states: "given that there is no criminal activity able to be discovered from what has been reported, this case will be closed pending any additional information." The report was approved by whom I suspect is Leeb's supervisor, E.Weidenkeller.

My phone message and email specifically asked Inv. Leeb to share the factual findings and legal basis of his conclusions that "there [was] no criminal activity able to be discovered." This information should very reasonably be part of his investigation report but is nowhere to be found. Inv. Leeb needs to explain exactly how he resolved each issue presented in my complaint. This includes but is not limited to how he determined there was constitutional authority for the judge/State of California to fine me $930,000 without any of the heightened protections of the excessive fine clause and in direct violation of the separation of powers declared in Article V of the California Constitution. A person, whether a civilian or public official who takes property without Constitutionally prescribed due process commits theft and/or fraud and potentially robbery if done under the full force of the State as in this case.

The fact that Inv. Leeb contacted the OCDA and CA DOJ who allegedly were not interested in prosecuting the case does not absolve him or the OCSD of their duty to fully and impartially investigate my valid claims and take remedial action including action to protect my liberty and property from unlawful taking.

If the OCSD or Inv. Leeb do not understand the law surrounding the claims I have made, I remain totally willing and available to help. I provided a significant amount of case law to the reporting officer who told me it would be booked into evidence so ti could be reviewed by the investigator. Despite this, there no indication in Inv. Leeb's reports that he read any of the cases or how he determined them to be incorrect or not relevant in relation to my claims. This is also information that should reasonably be included in his investigation report.

While I cannot be sure, it feels to me like Leeb spoke with County Counsel and perhaps the other aforementioned agencies and concluded, with little to no research of the actual law pertaining to the issues in my complaint, that what the judge/Court did was lawful based on the Opinion of the appellate Court that was also involved and then subsequently closed the case. This is not acceptable. How under any rational basis could a $930,000 fine for a simple licensing law violation could be lawful without any of the Constitutional protections of the excessive fines clause that specifically prohibit this behavior?

In another public records act request to your agency, I received copies of police academy training manuals from POST known as Learning Domains ("LD"). LD2 specifically reviews Constitutionally protected rights and Law Enforcement's duties to enforce the law and protect the public against the arbitrary deprivation thereof by government. I have enclosed it for reference. On page 1-5 it says "To be effective leaders, peace officers must be aware of the constitutional rights of all individuals [...] and the role the criminal justice system has in protecting those rights."

Investigator Leeb has clearly not performed an adequate and full investigation before abritrarily closing my case and told me the OCSD is not going to protect me or my property in this situation. Please inform me if this is in fact the official position of the OCSD or order Inv. Leeb to fully perform his sworn duties.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions.

Sincerely,

Adam Bereki

On 10-28-2021, I was working as a detective sergeant, assigned to the Property Crimes Unit-West of the Newport Beach Police Department. I received a voice message from a subject who identified himself as Adam Bereki. In the message, Bereki stated he was dealing with "some very peculiar circumstances," and that he needed some help with "crimes being perpetrated by judges."

I contacted Bereki, a Costa Mesa resident, by telephone. Over the course of the following four weeks, I had several separate telephone conversations with Bereki, some lasting over an hour in length, where he described his situation. In summary, Bereki had a civil judgment against him in 2017 for $848,000.00 after a court (Orange County Superior Court in Santa Ana) determined he operated as a contractor without a license during a residential remodel project in Newport Beach. In 2018, Bereki appealed the decision to the California Court of Appeals, Fourth Appellate District, Division 3 in Santa Ana. The appellate court affirmed the lower court's decision.

Bereki insisted I investigate this case as a criminal matter, stating as a police officer, I was bound by the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of California to investigate the violation of his constitutional rights; in this case a violation of the 8th Amendment prohibiting excessive fines. Bereki also stated the crimes of fraud, theft, forgery, and robbery were committed by the judges involved in this decision, based on his interpretation of the judicial process and subsequent case law, as well as his belief the involved judges have been misinterpreting the law for years leading up to his case.

On 12-7-2021, I contacted Orange County Deputy District Attorneys Bill Feccia and Clyde Von Der Ahe to discuss this case. Both DAs were in agreement that criminal courts have no jurisdiction to intervene in sustained civil judgments. They also stated that the Constitution protects people against the deprivation of life, liberty, or property in circumstances when they were not afforded the benefit of due process of law. DDA Feccia advised me to recommend Bereki either file a motion for re-hearing of his case through the appellate court, or petition the Supreme Court of the United States to hear his case.

I relayed this information to Bereki, who adamantly disagreed. Bereki asked if he was permitted to contribute a written statement to this case. I told him he was free to do so. Bereki reminded me that he has contacted numerous different law enforcement agencies and spoken to numerous different police officers about this case, all of whom have refused to assist him. Bereki said a potential next step for him would be to sue all the departments and officers who did not investigate this case further, including me and the Newport Beach Police Department.

This case shall be categorized as a Suspicious Circumstance due to the lack of probable cause to indicate a violation of the California Penal Code has occurred. A printout of the decision from Bereki's appellate case was scanned into this file, along with the emails and attachments sent to me by Bereki.

Good afternoon Mr. Bereki,

Our office has reviewed this matter and it is our opinion that the Police Department has acted appropriately regarding your complaint. In our view, this is civil dispute that is properly handled by the judiciary and not by the Police Department. Hence, the City of Newport Beach will be taking no action related to this matter.

We appreciate your reaching out to the City of Newport Beach and we sincerely hope that you can resolve this dispute.

Our records indicate that the above referenced arbitration case has become a final order of the Registrar. The licensee that was named in the arbitration case has failed to comply with the arbitration award. Therefore, effective 01/28/2015 the license number listed above will be automatically suspended by operation of law.

This is also to inform you that, as the qualifier for the above referenced license, your license 927244 will also be suspended effective 01/28/2015.

The licenses will remain under suspension for ninety (90) days. During that time the suspensions may be lifted by complying with the provisions of the arbitration award. The licenses will then be reinstated, provided that all other licensing requirements are met. If the arbitration award is not complied with during the period of suspension, the licenses will be automatically revoked by operation of law. Other licenses will also be affected.

To Whom It May Concern:

I just received the attached letter of license revocation dated 1/14/16.

I have sent multiple letters regarding this matter and seem to receive no response that addresses the situation or fosters resolution.

In short, allegations were made against a license I am the RMO of and an arbitration hearing was conducted. I was NEVER notified as the RMO of these arbitration proceedings and therefore did not attend.

A judgment was made during the arbitration proceedings.

I have NEVER been provided any documentation whatsoever about the claims against this license. What I mean by documentation is any evidence showing the alleged damages and associated costs were actually incurred by the complainant. In fact, the complainant had a year to notify my company of any problems per our contractual agreement and to my best knowledge did not comply.

I have contacted the attorney who is handling the case for the complainant. I have requested they send me documentation of the claim repeatedly however no documentation has been received. I have also negotiated a settlement with the complainant pending their providing of documentation (assuming I was responsible) but have still NOT received any documentation. The CSLB has also not provided any evidence of these claims.

As all of this has been unfolding, the CSLB seems to keep taking actions against my license based upon this arbitration proceeding I was NOT privy to. I was not able to defend myself to something I had no idea was happening. As a result a judgment was filed and my license revoked.

I have telephoned the CSLB numerous times about this matter as well as written several letters to no avail. Can someone please help me? I tried again this morning, to the Sacramento Case Management Division that apparently sent this letter and every mailbox I tried was full. No one answered the phone.

I am truly interested in the integrity of my license and doing the right thing.

If there is some type of rebuttal process I can go through to challenge the arbitration decision please provide that information along with any forms to me.

I think a phone call could resolve things much more expediently. Please feel free to call.

Sincerely,

Adam Bereki

RE: Application Fee # 2014 01 08850

Dear Mr. Bereki:

This responds to your letter dated August 7, 2015, to the Contractors State License Board (CSLB) regarding the status of your license, # 944018.

I hope it will be helpful to provide some background on this matter. CSLB records confirm that you are the qualifier on two licenses, Spartan Associates, license # 927244; and Handyman Connection of San Diego, license # 944018. Handyman Connection is the license that was revoked on April 30, 2015. After a complaint was received against this license on July 25, 2013, the case was sent to mandatory arbitration on September 30, 2014. You are responsible as the qualifier to be aware of and comply with the terms of the arbitration (Business and Professions Code [BPC] section 7068.1). The license of Handyman Connection was revoked on April 30, 2015 per BPC section 7085.6 – failure to comply with an arbitration award.

Regarding the matter at issue, you made application for a license on January 8, 2015, prior to the revocation. You had a case that had been sent to arbitration with an outstanding award during the application process; therefore, your application was returned to provide verification that you had complied with the arbitration award. When you did not provide that verification, your application went void. A letter to that effect was sent to you (copy enclosed) on March 24, 2015.

As is explained in the application documents, the $300 application fee is an earned fee and cannot be refunded because of the expense incurred in handling the application (BPC 7138). For this reason, the following notice is provided at the top of the application form: "The application fee for a single classification ($300) is not refundable once the application has been filed." CSLB staff has initiated a refund of your $180 two-year license fee. I have asked that the processing time be expedited for you. You should receive your refund in a few weeks.

You may reapply on April 30, 2017. However, you will need to show rehabilitation, post a $15,000 disciplinary bond, and resolve any outstanding arbitration award before the license will be issued.

Sincerely,

David Fogt, Chief
Enforcement Division

Dear Mr. Adam Bereki:

Thank you for your correspondence to the Office of the Attorney General.

While we appreciate the time and effort it has taken to contact our office, we are unable to assist you. The role of the Attorney General is to represent the People of California, collectively, in civil and criminal matters before trial courts, appellate courts, and the supreme courts of California and the United States. However, the Attorney General is prohibited by law from representing private individuals or providing legal advice, legal research or legal analysis to private individuals under any circumstances. As a result, the Attorney General cannot represent you in your private litigation or intercede on your behalf.

Therefore, we suggest that you consult with a private attorney to determine any civil remedies that may be available to you. An attorney would directly represent your interests and is the one whose advice would be most helpful to you.

Your complaint about the judge(s) involved in this case should be directed to the Commission on Judicial Performance. The Commission has exclusive jurisdiction over complaints against judges. You may contact the Commission as follows:

STATUTES INVOLVED

Cal. Business and Profession Code §7028

(a) Unless exempted from this chapter, it is a misdemeanor for a person to engage in the business of, or act in the capacity of, a contractor within this state under either of the following conditions:

(1) The person is not licensed in accordance with this chapter.

(2) The person performs acts covered by this chapter under a license that is under suspension for failure to pay a civil penalty or to comply with an order of correction, pursuant to Section 7090.1, or for failure to resolve all outstanding final liabilities, pursuant to Section 7145.5.

(b) A first conviction for the offense described in this section is punishable by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000) or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(c) If a person has been previously convicted of the offense described in this section, unless the provisions of subdivision (d) are applicable, the court shall impose a fine of 20 percent of the contract price, or 20 percent of the aggregate payments made to, or at the direction of, the unlicensed person, or five thousand dollars ($5,000), whichever is greater, and, unless the sentence prescribed in subdivision (d) is imposed, the person shall be confined in a county jail for not less than 90 days, except in an unusual case where the interests of justice would be served by imposition of a lesser sentence or a fine. If the court imposes only a fine or a jail sentence of less than 90 days for second or subsequent convictions under this section, the court shall state the reasons for its sentencing choice on the record.

(d) A third or subsequent conviction for the offense described in this section is punishable by a fine of not less than five thousand dollars ($5,000) nor more than the greater amount of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or 20 percent of the contract price, or 20 percent of the aggregate payments made to, or at the direction of, the unlicensed person, and by imprisonment in a county jail for not more than one year or less than 90 days. The penalty provided by this subdivision is cumulative to the penalties available under all other laws of this state.

(e) A person who violates this section is subject to the penalties prescribed in subdivision (d) if the person was named on a license that was previously revoked and, either in fact or under law, was held responsible for any act or omission resulting in the revocation.

(f) If the unlicensed person engaging in the business of or acting in the capacity of a contractor has agreed to furnish materials and labor on an hourly basis, "the contract price" for the purposes of this section means the aggregate sum of the cost of materials and labor furnished and the cost of completing the work to be performed.

(g) Notwithstanding any other law, an indictment for any violation of this section by an unlicensed person shall be found, or information or a complaint shall be filed, within four years from the date of the contract proposal, contract, completion, or abandonment of the work, whichever occurs last.

(h) For any conviction under this section, a person who utilized the services of the unlicensed person is a victim of crime and is eligible, pursuant to subdivision (f) of Section 1202.4 of the Penal Code, for restitution for economic losses, regardless of whether he or she had knowledge that the person was unlicensed.

(i) The changes made to this section by the act adding this subdivision are declaratory of existing law.

Cal. Business and Professions Code §7031

(a) Except as provided in subdivision (e), no person engaged in the business or acting in the capacity of a contractor, may bring or maintain any action, or recover in law or equity in any action, in any court of this state for the collection of compensation for the performance of any act or contract where a license is required by this chapter without alleging that they were a duly licensed contractor at all times during the performance of that act or contract regardless of the merits of the cause of action brought by the person, except that this prohibition shall not apply to contractors who are each individually licensed under this chapter but who fail to comply with Section 7029.

(b) Except as provided in subdivision (e), a person who utilizes the services of an unlicensed contractor may bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state to recover all compensation paid to the unlicensed contractor for performance of any act or contract.

(c) A security interest taken to secure any payment for the performance of any act or contract for which a license is required by this chapter is unenforceable if the person performing the act or contract was not a duly licensed contractor at all times during the performance of the act or contract.

(d) If licensure or proper licensure is controverted, then proof of licensure pursuant to this section shall be made by production of a verified certificate of licensure from the Contractors State License Board which establishes that the individual or entity bringing the action was duly licensed in the proper classification of contractors at all times during the performance of any act or contract covered by the action. Nothing in this subdivision shall require any person or entity controverting licensure or proper licensure to produce a verified certificate. When licensure or proper licensure is controverted, the burden of proof to establish licensure or proper licensure shall be on the licensee.

(e) The judicial doctrine of substantial compliance shall not apply under this section where the person who engaged in the business or acted in the capacity of a contractor has never been a duly licensed contractor in this state. However, notwithstanding subdivision (b) of Section 143, the court may determine that there has been substantial compliance with licensure requirements under this section if it is shown at an evidentiary hearing that the person who engaged in the business or acted in the capacity of a contractor (1) had been duly licensed as a contractor in this state prior to the performance of the act or contract, (2) acted reasonably and in good faith to maintain proper licensure, and (3) acted promptly and in good faith to remedy the failure to comply with the licensure requirements upon learning of the failure.

(f) The exceptions to the prohibition against the application of the judicial doctrine of substantial compliance found in subdivision (e) shall apply to all contracts entered into on or after January 1, 1992, and to all actions or arbitrations arising therefrom, except that the amendments to subdivisions (e) and (f) enacted during the 1994 portion of the 1993–94 Regular Session of the Legislature shall not apply to either of the following:

(1) Any legal action or arbitration commenced prior to January 1, 1995, regardless of the date on which the parties entered into the contract.

(2) Any legal action or arbitration commenced on or after January 1, 1995, if the legal action or arbitration was commenced prior to January 1, 1995, and was subsequently dismissed.

Cal. Business and Professions Code § 7071.17

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board shall require, as a condition precedent to accepting an application for licensure, renewal, reinstatement, or to change officers or other personnel of record, that an applicant, previously found to have failed or refused to pay a contractor, subcontractor, consumer, materials supplier, or employee based on an unsatisfied final judgment, file or have on file with the board a bond sufficient to guarantee payment of an amount equal to the unsatisfied final judgment or judgments. The applicant shall have 90 days from the date of notification by the board to file the bond or the application shall become void and the applicant shall reapply for issuance, reinstatement, or reactivation of a license. The board may not issue, reinstate, or reactivate a license until the bond is filed with the board. The bond required by this section is in addition to the contractor's bond. The bond shall be on file for a minimum of one year, after which the bond may be removed by submitting proof of satisfaction of all debts. The applicant may provide the board with a notarized copy of any accord, reached with any individual holding an unsatisfied final judgment, to satisfy a debt in lieu of filing the bond. The board shall include on the license application for issuance, reinstatement, or reactivation, a statement, to be made under penalty of perjury, as to whether there are any unsatisfied judgments against the applicant on behalf of contractors, subcontractors, consumers, materials suppliers, or the applicant's employees. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if it is found that the applicant falsified the statement then the license will be retroactively suspended to the date of issuance and the license will stay suspended until the bond, satisfaction of judgment, or notarized copy of any accord applicable under this section is filed.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all licensees shall notify the registrar in writing of any unsatisfied final judgment imposed on the licensee. If the licensee fails to notify the registrar in writing within 90 days, the license shall be automatically suspended on the date that the registrar is informed, or is made aware of the unsatisfied final judgment.

(2) The suspension shall not be removed until proof of satisfaction of the judgment, or in lieu thereof, a notarized copy of an accord is submitted to the registrar.

(3) If the licensee notifies the registrar in writing within 90 days of the imposition of any unsatisfied final judgment, the licensee shall, as a condition to the continual maintenance of the license, file or have on file with the board a bond sufficient to guarantee payment of an amount equal to all unsatisfied judgments applicable under this section.

(4) The licensee has 90 days from the date of notification by the board to file the bond or at the end of the 90 days the license shall be automatically suspended. In lieu of filing the bond required by this section, the licensee may provide the board with a notarized copy of any accord reached with any individual holding an unsatisfied final judgment.

(c) By operation of law, failure to maintain the bond or failure to abide by the accord shall result in the automatic suspension of any license to which this section applies.

(d) A license that is suspended for failure to comply with the provisions of this section can only be reinstated when proof of satisfaction of all debts is made, or when a notarized copy of an accord has been filed as set forth under this section.

(e) This section applies only with respect to an unsatisfied final judgment that is substantially related to the construction activities of a licensee licensed under this chapter, or to the qualifications, functions, or duties of the license.

(f) Except as otherwise provided, this section does not apply to an applicant or licensee when the financial obligation covered by this section has been discharged in a bankruptcy proceeding.

(g) Except as otherwise provided, the bond shall remain in full force in the amount posted until the entire debt is satisfied. If, at the time of renewal, the licensee submits proof of partial satisfaction of the financial obligations covered by this section, the board may authorize the bond to be reduced to the amount of the unsatisfied portion of the outstanding judgment. When the licensee submits proof of satisfaction of all debts, the bond requirement may be removed.

(h) The board shall take the actions required by this section upon notification by any party having knowledge of the outstanding judgment upon a showing of proof of the judgment.

(i) For the purposes of this section, the term "judgment" also includes any final arbitration award where the time to file a petition for a trial de novo or a petition to vacate or correct the arbitration award has expired, and no petition is pending.

(j) (1) If a judgment is entered against a licensee or any personnel of record of a licensee, then a qualifying person or personnel of record of the licensee at the time of the activities on which the judgment is based shall be automatically prohibited from serving as a qualifying individual or other personnel of record on any license until the judgment is satisfied.

(2) The prohibition described in paragraph (1) shall cause the license of any other existing renewable licensed entity with any of the same personnel of record as the judgment debtor licensee or with any of the same judgment debtor personnel to be suspended until the license of the judgment debtor is reinstated, the judgment is satisfied, or until those same personnel of record disassociate themselves from the renewable licensed entity.

(k) For purposes of this section, lawful money or cashier's check deposited pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 995.710 of the Code of Civil Procedure, may be submitted in lieu of the bond.

(l) Notwithstanding subdivision (f), the failure of a licensee to notify the registrar of an unsatisfied final judgment in accordance with this section is cause for disciplinary action.

Cal. Business and Professions Code §7085

(a) After investigating any verified complaint alleging a violation of Section 7107, 7109, 7110, 7113, 7119, or 7120, and any complaint arising from a contract involving works of improvement and finding a possible violation, the registrar may, with the concurrence of both the licensee and the complainant, refer the alleged violation, and any dispute between the licensee and the complainant arising thereunder, to arbitration pursuant to this article, provided the registrar finds that:

(1) There is evidence that the complainant has suffered or is likely to suffer material damages as a result of a violation of Section 7107, 7109, 7110, 7113, 7119, or 7120, and any complaint arising from a contract involving works of improvement.

(2) There are reasonable grounds for the registrar to believe that the public interest would be better served by arbitration than by disciplinary action.

(3) The licensee does not have a history of repeated or similar violations.

(4) The licensee was in good standing at the time of the alleged violation.

(5) The licensee does not have any outstanding disciplinary actions filed against him or her.

(6) The parties have not previously agreed to private arbitration of the dispute pursuant to contract or otherwise.

(7) The parties have been advised of the provisions of Section 2855 of the Civil Code.

For the purposes of paragraph (1), "material damages" means damages greater than the amount of the bond required under subdivision (a) of Section 7071.6, but less than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

(b) In all cases in which a possible violation of the sections set forth in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) exists and the contract price, or the demand for damages is equal to or less than the amount of the bond required under Section 7071.6, but, regardless of the contract price, the complaint shall be referred to arbitration, utilizing the criteria set forth in paragraphs (2) to (6), inclusive, of subdivision (a).

Cal. Business and Professions Code §7085.6

(a) (1) The failure of a licensee to comply with an arbitration award rendered under this article shall result in the automatic suspension of a license by operation of law.

(2) The registrar shall notify the licensee by certified mail of the failure to comply with the arbitrator's award, and that the license shall be automatically suspended 30 calendar days from the date of that notice.

(3) The licensee may appeal the suspension for noncompliance within 15 calendar days after service of the notice by written notice to the registrar.

(4) Reinstatement may be made at any time following the suspension by complying with the arbitrator's award and the final order of the registrar. If no reinstatement of the license is made within 90 days of the date of the automatic suspension, the license and any other contractor's license issued to the licensee shall be automatically revoked by operation of law for a period to be determined by the registrar pursuant to Section 7102.

(5) The registrar may delay, for good cause, the revocation of a contractor's license for failure to comply with the arbitration award. The delay in the revocation of the license shall not exceed one year. When seeking a delay of the revocation of his or her license, a licensee shall apply to the registrar in writing prior to the date of the revocation of the licensee's license by operation of law and state the reasons that establish good cause for the delay. The registrar's power to grant a delay of the revocation shall expire upon the effective date of the revocation of the licensee's license by operation of law.

(b) The licensee shall be automatically prohibited from serving as an officer, director, associate, partner, manager, or qualifying individual of another licensee, for the period determined by the registrar and the employment, election, or association of that person by another licensee shall constitute grounds for disciplinary action. A qualifier disassociated pursuant to this section shall be replaced within 90 days from the date of disassociation. Upon failure to replace the qualifier within 90 days of the disassociation, the license of the other licensee shall be automatically suspended or the qualifier's classification removed at the end of the 90 days.

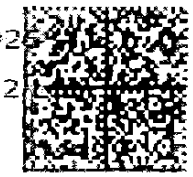
RE: Complaint Concerning Public Corruption

Dear Mr. Bereki,

The Orange County District Attorney's Office has received your January 17, 2024, letter as well as your January 19, 2024, electronic mail message within which you allege criminal corruption by "members of the California Legislature, Executive, and Judicial branches" in relation to the establishment and enforcement of California Business and Professions Code section 7031, subdivision (b). Having reviewed your complaint and supporting materials, and based on all available information, we are unable to identify and prove beyond a reasonable doubt that any violations have occurred.



Consequently, no further action will be taken.

Respectfully,

SYNOPSIS:

In March 2022, I was assigned to investigate Adam Bereki's complaint against Orange County Superior Court Judge D. Chaffee. Judge Chaffee oversaw a civil case between Adam Bereki and Karen and Gary Humphreys. Adam Bereki alleged grand theft against Judge Chaffee for his judgment and decision on the case.

Subject 1:
Judge David Chaffe [redacted]

Subject 2:
Adam Bereki (CA / B6970543)
818 Spirit
Costa Mesa, CA 92626
(949) 241-6693

INVESTIGATION:

In April 2012, Adam Bereki entered a contract with the Humphreys, Karen and Gary, to complete a remodel of their newly purchased condominium unit in Newport Beach, California. Adam Bereki previously completed work for Gary Humphreys' brother and son. The Humphreys took the recommendations and hired Adam Bereki to complete the remodel. Adam Bereki sent a proposal to the Humphreys through email, and they agreed to the terms of the project. The daily fees for Adam Bereki and his partner, Glenn Overley, along with the prices for parts and labor were also discussed and agreed upon through the emails.

In May 2012, the Humphreys purchased the condominium unit directly above the unit Adam Bereki was hired to remodel. The Humphreys retained Adam Bereki's services for the second unit and ultimately decided to convert it into one unit. Work on the Humphreys' condominium units seized, and the last services were dated August 21, 2013.

Adam Bereki filed a civil suit against the Humphreys on August 21, 2015. He filed the suit after the contract was terminated, and he was not paid the remaining balance of $82,000. On October 13, 2015, the Humphreys filed a cross-complaint against Adam Bereki.

The Humphreys were able to bring a cross-complaint because Business and Professions Code 7031(e) allows for a party who utilizes the services of an unlicensed contractor to may bring an action in ANY court of competent jurisdiction to recover all compensation paid to the unlicensed contractor. The Humphreys were the only people to utilize Adam Bereki's services, so they were able to bring forth an action against him. Adam Bereki claimed he is the sole owner and operator of The Spartans and Associates, Incorporated, a construction company, with a valid contractor license.

The two-day case took place between March 27-28, 2017, and was overseen by Orange County Superior Court Judge David Chaffee. Representing the Humphreys was William G. Bissell, Law Offices of William G. Bissell. Adam Bereki represented himself along with J. Scott Russo, Russo & Duckworth LLP. J. Scott Russo was also defending the Suretec Insurance Company, a contractor license bond.

The cross-complaint sought the disgorgement of the funds paid by the Humphreys to Adam Bereki, The Spartan Associates or Spartan Construction, which was $848,000. The cross-complaint alleged that Adam Bereki worked on the Humphreys condominiums without a valid contractor's license.

The first cause of action in the trial was about who the Humphreys contracted with. Based on emails and lack of written contracts, the court decided the contract was between the Humphreys and Adam Bereki, and not Adam Bereki's company, The Spartan Associates.

J. Scott Russo made the argument that Adam Bereki was a "little lax" for accepting the first few payments under his name and not his company but ultimately the majority of the money accepted was done by The Spartan Associates. Additionally, the building permits were obtained by The Spartan Associates. J. Scott Russo argued the work done was done under a B license and was correctly done.

J. Scott Russo argued that although there was not a written contract, the emails exchanged between the Humphreys and Adam Bereki constituted a contract. J. Scott Russo contended that the emails were from Adam Bereki, on behalf of The Spartan Associates, since Adam Bereki was the sole "shareholder" and employee. The emails that began talking of fees and costs began on April 5, 2012. The emails were sent from Adam Bereki's personal email account. The initial emails mentioned Adam Bereki's partner, Glenn Overley, but he didn't mention The Spartan Associates.

After July 2012, Adam Bereki requested the Humphreys make payments to The Spartan Associates and not to Adam Bereki. From April 2012 to July 2012, payments were made to Adam Bereki. From July 2012 forward, the payments were made to either Spartan or Spartan Construction.

The Humphreys and William G. Bissell argued that Adam Bereki was unlicensed at the time of entering the contract. William G. Bissell argued that although Adam Bereki was The Spartan Associates Responsible Management Officer, he was required to have a contractor's license as an individual. Even the partnership between Glenn Overley and Adam Bereki would have needed a joint venture license. Since Glenn Overley was an independent contractor, he was required to have his own contractor's license.

Judge Chaffee ruled that the contract was made between Adam Bereki and the Humphreys, therefore rendering Adam Bereki as an unlicensed contractor. Judge Chaffee ruled that Adam Bereki would return $848,000 to the Humphreys. Judge Chaffee acknowledged that the emails exchanged between Adam Bereki and the Humphreys met the definition of a contract.

Judge Chaffee referenced three cases to make his decision:

- Ball v. Steadfast (2011), 196 Cal.App.4th p. 694.
- 29 Palms Enterprises Corporation v. Bardos (2012), 210 Cal.App.4th p. 14, 13.
- MW Erectors v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Company, Inc. (2005), 36 Cal.4th p. 412.

Ball v. Steadfast (2011), 196 Cal.App.4th p. 694

In Ball v. Steadfast, a licensed contractor was not licensed as a contractor to do business in the name of "Clark Air Conditioning Heating." Ball sued in his own name to a foreclosure on a mechanic's lien. The foreclosure came from a nonpayment under the contracts entered.

The court held that Ball was not licensed as a contractor to do business under the name Clark Heating and Air Conditioning. Ball appeared on the contractor license as the owner of Clark Heating and Air Conditioning. The license was issued to Clark Heating and Air Conditioning.

The court determined that "Ball entered the contracts on behalf of his sole proprietorship, not on behalf of a separate legal entity that could, and should, have obtained its own license." (Ball, supra, 196 Cal.App.4th at p. 703)

Judge Chaffee interpreted that in Ball v. Steadfast, "the contractor was licensed as a "sole owner" and not as a partnership or corporate entity pursuant to the classification system of B&P code section 7065." Furthermore, Judge Chaffee interpreted that because Ball failed to contract work under the wrong business name, and not the name on his license, it was grounds for disciplinary action, but it did not bar him from attempting to recover payment for the work he performed.

Judge Chaffee stated, "First of all, and foremost, we have no license in the name of Mr. Bereki individually; instead, it appears he was the qualifying corporate officer for the legal entity, Spartan Associates, incorporated."

29 Palms Enterprises Corporation v. Bardos (2012), 210 Cal.App.4th p. 14, 13

In 29 Palms Enterprises Corporation v. Bardos, 29 Palms Enterprises Corporation filed a complaint against Cadmus Construction Company. The complaint was because Cadmus Construction Company, and indirectly Bardos were not licensed as contractors in California. The court ordered Cadmus Construction Company to disgorge all of the fees 29 Palms Enterprises Corporation had paid.

It was determined Bardos was the Responsible Managing Officer, and he did not have a license in his personal name. Additionally, the court ruled that Bardos' corporation, Bardos Construction, Inc., was a different entity from his dba (doing business as) Cadmus Construction Company. Cadmus Construction Company was licensed, and Bardos Construction Inc. did hold a license. The court ordered the return of all costs to 29 Palms Enterprises Corporation. Bardos believed the judgment was not an equitable result. The court responded by saying, "It has long been settled that the courts may not resort to equitable considerations in defiance of Section 7031."

Judge Chaffee interpreted that Bardos was the Responsible Managing Officer for a licensed corporation, but he did not hold the corporation's licenses as an individual. Bardos could not perform work under that license using the name of the "sole proprietorship."

Judge Chaffee used the case to establish that either Spartan and Associates was the contracting party or, alternatively, Adam Bereki operated under The Spartan and Associates' license. Because of the ruling in 29 Palms Enterprises Corporation, Adam Bereki "cannot rely on his corporation's license to contract."

MW Erectors v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Company, Inc. (2005), 36 Cal.4th p. 412

In MW Erectors v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Company, Inc., MW Erectors, a steel contractor was not licensed at the time the contract was made but obtained a license shortly after. Ultimately, the Supreme Court concluded that licensing is required at all times during the performance of the labor. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Company, Inc. elected not to pay MW Erectors.

Judge Chaffee stated that the California Supreme Court's ruling on the issue of unlicensed contracting is "draconian in its effect" but that was the intent of the legislature. The legislature expects contractors to be licensed at all times during the times they are contracted and failing to do so, opens a person or company to forfeiture.

Adam Bereki's Allegations

1. Business and Professions Code section 7031 action is a criminal prosecution in disguise of a civil action to criminally prosecute and punish an unlicensed contractor for committing the public offense of contracting without a license – a misdemeanor offense as defined by Business and Professions Code section 7028.

   Business and Professions Code section 7028 is defined as:

   (a) Unless exempted from this chapter, it is a misdemeanor for a person to engage in the business of, or act in the capacity of, a contractor within this state under either of the following conditions:

   (1) The person is not licensed in accordance with this chapter.

   (2) The person performs acts covered by this chapter under a license that is under suspension for failure to pay a civil penalty or to comply with an order of correction, pursuant to Section 7090.1, or for failure to resolve all outstanding final liabilities, pursuant to Section 7145.5.

   (b) A first conviction for the offense described in this section is punishable by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000) or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both that fine and imprisonment.

2. That as a result of Allegation #1, private parties cannot commence Business and Professions Code section 7031 actions because the Executive Power of California is vested exclusively in the Governor pursuant to California Constitution Article V, Section 1.

3. That as a result of Allegation 1 and Allegation 2, the Humphreys lacked Constitutional Authority to prosecute Adam Bereki. That should have prevented Judge Chaffee of the ability to hear the case and give a judgment.
4. As a result of Allegation 1, Allegation 2, and Allegation 3, Justices O'Leary, Goethals, and Aronson of the Fourth District Court of Appeal lacked Constitutional Authority to affirm Judge Chaffee's judgment.

5. Based the aforementioned allegations, the State of California lacked the Constitutional authority to summarily suspend The Spartan and Associates/Adam Bereki's general contractor license pursuant to Business and Professions Code section 7071.17.

Judge Chaffee returned all the compensation paid to the Humphreys. Adam Bereki believes he already returned the amount that was paid to him through the work that was completed on the Humphrey's property. The work that was completed added value to the Humphrey's home. Adam Bereki believes the punishment was not authorized by Business and Professions Code section 7031(b) because Adam Bereki and The Spartan and Associates returned the money in the form of value.

Adam Bereki cited, Lewis & Queen v. N. M. Ball Sons (1957), 48 Cal 2d. 141, 152. Adam Bereki interpreted the case to state that "Courts may not resort to equitable considerations in defiance of Business and Professions Code section 7031."

Adam Bereki explained that the case demonstrated that the courts are not allowed to consider the value of materials and labor. Adam Bereki believes his interpretation appears to be exactly what the court intended. He stated that if an unlicensed contractor received money but didn't complete the work, then Business and Professions Code section 7031(b) would apply appropriately. However, if the unlicensed contractor returned the money or compensation as value to the homeowner, then a judge would be relieved of his authority to issue any relief through Business and Professions Code section 7031(b) because it would be an "arbitrary" penalty.

In support of this claim, Adam Bereki cited case, Town of Gilbert Prosecutors Office v. Downie (2008), 218 Arizona 466. In this case the Supreme Court of Arizona found that the full amount of payments returned would constitute economic loss for restitution purposes.

In conclusion, Adam Bereki believes he was unfairly punished by having to pay the Humphreys a total of $930,000. Adam Bereki explained that nowhere in the trial where "damages" mentioned. There was no evidence of improper work or damages to the Humphrey's property due to Adam Bereki's work. Due to Judge Chaffee not recognizing any of the work Adam Bereki performed at the property, he was not authorized to order Adam Bereki to return the compensation under Business and Professions Code section 7031(b).

Adam Bereki believes that the punishment, if there was to be one, should be Business and Professions Code section 7028(b), which authorizes a fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both that fine and imprisonment. Adam Bereki does not agree that he was fined a significant amount more than the $5,000 because it is an excessive fine and in violation of the Excessive Fines Clause (Eighth Amendment). The fine should have been proportionate to the offense and he should have the ability to pay it. Because Judge Chaffee did not take those things into consideration, he lacked the authority to fine or punish Adam Bereki.

Adam Bereki believes that the Humphreys and their attorney, William Bissel do not have the executive or constitutional authority to commence Business and Professions Code section 7031(b). Additionally, Adam Bereki believes Judge Chaffee should have dismissed the case against him due to California Penal Code section 1382(a), Dismissal of the Action for Want of Prosecution Otherwise.

Adam Bereki believes that because the action against him was intended to be criminal in nature, he was entitled to protections given in a criminal proceeding, such as; assistance of counsel, confrontation of his accusers, and trial by jury. Adam Bereki was not afforded any of these protections.

Judge Chaffee's Statement

April 16, 2024, at 1000 hours, I spoke with Judge D. Chaffee on the phone. Judge Chaffee remembered presiding over the case, although he had forgotten some of the names and small details.

I informed Judge Chaffee of Adam Bereki's allegations, and he told me he was aware. Judge Chaffee acknowledged the case was a civil case but "turned" when the Humphreys brought forth the cross-complaint.

Judge Chaffee confirmed that Business and Professions Code section 7031 is not criminal and has "no penalty attached," but it is punitive. Judge Chaffee described section 7031(b) as "draconian" but said the legislature intended the law to work in favor of the consumer.

In response to Adam Bereki's claim that he should have been charged with Business and Professions Code section 7028 because it was his first offense, Judge Chaffee stated, "He was not charged with that."

Adam Bereki filed a civil action against the Humphreys for unpaid contractor fees. The Humphreys filed a cross-complaint against Adam Bereki because they realized he was contracting without a license.

The case that Judge Chaffee oversaw was a civil case, not a criminal case. Judge Chaffee does not believe Adam Bereki was charged by the Orange County District Attorney's office. Adam Bereki brought forth the civil case for civil damages, and in turn, the Humphreys filed for civil damages. Judge Chaffee "was not inviting a criminal prosecution of him. We were limited to civil remedies for a civil action that he brought."

Adam Bereki made a claim that his trial was a civil case disguised as a criminal trial. Judge Chaffee confirmed that Adam Bereki did not "raise that issue" at trial, and even if he raised it at his appeal, it would have been barred because it was not raised at trial. Judge Chaffee's judgment was affirmed by the California Court of Appeals, and the review was denied by the California Supreme Court. Ultimately, Adam Bereki's appeal was rejected by the United States Supreme Court.

Judge Chaffee acknowledged he lost any jurisdiction on the case when Adam Bereki filed his Notice of Appeal. Judge Chaffee is retired and has no legal authority to handle the case.

Adam Bereki claimed that Judge Chaffee lacked the Constitutional standing to bring any civil or criminal penalties against him. Since Adam Bereki did not raise the issue at trial, it was waived for the purposes of appeal. Even if Adam Bereki had brought forth the issue at trial, he was "wrong."

Adam Bereki claimed that the Humphreys lacked Constitutional standing to prosecute him, thereby depriving the Orange County Superior Court and Judge Chaffee of Constitutional authority to punish him. Judge Chaffee acknowledged that Adam Bereki's claim is not correct because he was the person who commenced the civil complaint. The Humphreys simply filed a cross-complaint. Since Adam Bereki did not raise the issue at trial, it was not available to him at the appeal.

Adam Bereki claims that the State of California lacked the Constitutional authority to suspend The Spartan and Associates/Adam Bereki's general contractor license. Judge Chaffee confirmed he did not suspend Adam Bereki's license. Judge Chaffee assumes that any suspension would have come from the State Contractor's Board. Judge Chaffee confirmed that the license can only be placed under one name. Adam Bereki chose to place the license with the Spartan and Associates. Adam Bereki chose to contract the job he did for the Humphreys under his name and not the company and, therefore, was found to be contracting without a license.

Judge Chaffee believes that Adam Bereki's mistakes causing this result. Judge Chaffee believes that Adam Bereki's work was not what he promised the Humphreys. Judge Chaffee looked at pictures from the work completed by Adam Bereki and did not complete the work properly.

Adam Bereki stated he should not be forced to pay the fine because he returned the money in the form of work and materials. Judge Chaffee confirmed that the damages are not offset by the work that was completed, and the Humphreys are entitled to receive their money in return for Adam Bereki contracting without a license.

CONCLUSION:

Adam Bereki brought forth a civil case against the Humphreys for an outstanding balance owed from a contracting job. In turn the Humphreys filed a cross-complaint against Adam Bereki for contracting without a valid contractor license. The judgement by Judge Chaffee from civil case was in favor of the Humphreys. The judgement was based on prior cases with similar contractual situations. Adam Bereki appealed the case with the Fourth District Court of Appeal and the judgement was affirmed. Adam Bereki then filed appeals to the California Supreme Court and the United States Supreme Court, but the appeals were denied.

Adam Bereki's appeals were denied because appellate courts do not consider new evidence. An appeal is not considered a new trial. The allegations Adam Bereki brought forth cannot have been disputed in an appellate court because he did not raise those issues at the original trial. Therefore, he could not present his allegations because it would have been considered new evidence in the eyes of the appellate courts. In order Adam Bereki to present his new allegations, Adam Bereki would be required to file a new lawsuit against the Humphreys.

Contracting without a license is a misdemeanor offense, violation of section 7028 of the Business and Professions Code. During the civil case, no criminal charges were filed on Adam Bereki for contracting without a license by the Orange County District Attorney's office.

Based on this investigation, Adam Bereki's claim of grand theft committed against him by Judge Chaffee was not substantiated. Any additional pertinent information presented at a later date, will be added to a supplemental report. At this time, no further follow up will be conducted and I recommend this investigation be closed.

Dear Mr. Bereki:

This letter is in response to the concerns you expressed by telephone to our department's Internal Affairs Section on December 16, 2024. You indicated Officer Ernesto Mejia failed to properly investigate your allegation of grand theft against an Orange County Judge. You filed with our Santa Area Office in March 2022. I would like to appraise you of our actions in this matter.

Upon initial review of your allegation, it was determined a thorough investigation was conducted by Officer Mejia into your initial claim and the investigation was reviewed by his direct supervisor and management for completeness and accuracy.

Accordingly, I believe your allegations are without merit, and I have ordered this investigation closed with no further action. A record of this matter has been prepared and will be retained for a period of five years.

Sincerely,

M. MONTEAGUDO, Lieutenant

Dear Mr. Bereki:

On December 17, 2024, the Internal Affairs Section received your telephone call in which you expressed dissatisfaction with the conduct of a member of this Department previously assigned to the Santa Ana Area.

The Department accepts responsibility for reviewing the conduct of its members. When concerns such as yours come to our attention, an administrative inquiry is conducted by the employee's commander. Accordingly, I have forwarded your concerns to the Santa Ana Area commander, Captain M. A. Salinas, so he may initiate a review to determine what, if any, improprieties exist.

Once the commander receives your complaint, an investigator may contact you to obtain clarifying information. After the inquiry is complete, you will be notified of the findings. Should you have any further questions regarding this matter, you may contact the Santa Ana Area at (714) 338-5500.

TO THE COURT, ALL PARTIES, AND THEIR ATTORNEY(S) OF RECORD:

NOTICE OF EMERGENCY EX PARTE APPLICATION

Please take notice that on May 22, 2025, at 9:00, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard, in Department C23 of the above-entitled court, located at 700 W. Civic Center

Dr, Santa Ana, California, Defendant Adam Bereki, appearing in propria persona, will apply ex parte for an emergency order to:

1. Vacate or set aside the order entered on March 18, 2025, in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, denying Defendant's ex parte application for an emergency stay of the unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684), pursuant to the Court's inherent equitable jurisdiction as the order is void for violating due process.
2. Grant the relief requested in the March 14, 2025, ex parte application, including:

    a. A stay of the unlawful detainer action, including the writ of possession issued on March 22, 2025, pending resolution of Defendant's Motion to Vacate Void Judgment in Case No. 30-2025-01459684, the imminent Motion to Vacate Void Judgment in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 (addressing the 2017 judgment), and the imminent adversary proceeding in Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC.

    b. Restoration of Defendant to possession of the property at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626.

This application is made on the grounds that the March 18, 2025, order is void for violating due process by: (1) issuing a one-word denial ("denied") without a reasoned explanation, prioritizing procedural defects and dismissing substantive claims; (2) refusing to address Defendant's evidence of imminent irreparable harm, including risk of eviction and loss of ~$1.2 million in equity; (3) neglecting the Court's mandatory duty to examine imminent injury, given Plaintiff's default request on March 17, 2025, without notice; (4) failing to provide a court reporter or record the hearing, despite Defendant's request due to financial hardship, forcing Defendant to rely on personal notes; and (5) misleading Defendant about available relief while dismissing claims as barred (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950) (due process requires notice and opportunity to be heard); In re Marriage of Flaherty, 31 Cal.3d 637, 650-51 (1982) (unexplained decisions impair fairness and hinder appellate review); Jameson v. Desta, 5 Cal.5th 594, 608-09 (2018) (failure to provide court reporter for indigent litigant violates due process); Asuncion v. Superior Court, 108 Cal. App. 3d 141, 146 (1980) (courts must examine imminent injury in ex parte applications); Bereki Decl., ¶ 11, 18, 20). By refusing judicial relief, Judge Hesseltine has contributed to the ongoing deprivation of Defendant's constitutional and bankruptcy rights, enabling an unlawful default in Case No. 30-2025-01459684 that caused ~$50,000 in property damage and ~$10,000 in lost personal property, and perpetuating enforcement of a void 2017 judgment, discharged in bankruptcy (11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2)), which led to an invalid foreclosure sale, undermining the UD plaintiff's standing (Dr. Leevil, LLC v. Westlake Health Care Center, 6 Cal.5th 474, 483 (2018) (UD requires duly perfected title); Bereki Decl., ¶ 12-13; Ex. J). Immediate relief is necessary to prevent further irreparable harm (Hazel-Atlas Glass Co. v. Hartford-Empire Co., 322 U.S. 238, 246 (1944) (courts may vacate void orders tainted by fraud on the court)).

This application is based on this Notice, the attached Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the Declaration of Adam Bereki, all pleadings and papers on file, including the ex parte application filed March 14, 2025, in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 (Dkt. ROA 306-322), the Motion to Vacate Void Judgment in Case No. 30-2025-01459684 (Ex. J), Jira correspondence with the clerk (May 8-9, 2025), and any further evidence or argument presented at the hearing.

Defendant notified the following parties and interested person of this application in compliance with CRC Rule 3.1203 (Bereki Decl., ¶ 15) on May 21, 2025, at approximately 8:00 AM PDT as follows:

I. EX PARTE APPLICATION TO VACATE ORDER

Defendant Adam Bereki, appearing in propria persona, respectfully applies ex parte for an emergency order to vacate the March 18, 2025, order in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, which denied his March 14, 2025, ex parte application for a stay of the unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684). The order is void for violating due process by: (1) failing to provide a reasoned explanation, prioritizing procedural defects; (2) refusing to address Defendant's evidence of imminent irreparable harm; (3) neglecting to examine imminent injury; (4) failing to provide a court reporter, forcing Defendant to rely on notes; and (5) misleading Defendant about relief (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950) (due process requires meaningful opportunity to be heard); In re Marriage of Flaherty, 31 Cal.3d 637, 650-51 (1982) (unexplained rulings impair fairness and review); Jameson v. Desta, 5 Cal.5th 594, 608-09 (2018) (lack of court reporter for indigent litigant violates due process); Asuncion v. Superior Court, 108 Cal. App. 3d 141, 146 (1980) (courts must evaluate irreparable harm in ex parte contexts); Bereki Decl., ¶ 20). Judge Hesseltine's refusal to grant relief is part of a systemic failure to uphold Defendant's constitutional and bankruptcy protections, enabling enforcement of a void 2017 judgment, discharged on March 27, 2023 (11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2)), which caused an unlawful default, eviction, ~$50,000 in property damage, and ~$10,000 in lost personal property (Dr. Leevil, LLC v. Westlake Health Care Center, 6 Cal.5th 474, 483 (2018) (invalid title undermines UD standing); Bereki Decl., ¶ 12-13; Ex. J). Defendant seeks: (1) vacatur of the order; (2) a stay of the UD action and writ of possession; and (3) restoration to possession of 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626. Immediate relief is critical to prevent further irreparable harm, including loss of Defendant's home and $1.2 million in equity (Bereki Decl., ¶ 11).

II. MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

A. INTRODUCTION

On March 18, 2025, Judge Hesseltine issued a one-word order ("denied") in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, rejecting Defendant's ex parte application to stay the unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684). This order is void for violating due process by failing to provide a reasoned explanation, prioritizing procedural defects, refusing to address Defendant's evidence of imminent irreparable harm (risk of eviction, loss of ~$1.2 million in equity), neglecting the Court's duty to examine imminent injury, failing to provide a court reporter, and misleading Defendant about relief (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950) (due process requires notice and hearing); In re Marriage of Flaherty, 31 Cal.3d 637, 650-51 (1982) (summary denials affecting rights violate due process); Jameson v. Desta, 5 Cal.5th 594, 608-09 (2018) (no court reporter for indigent litigant impairs access to justice); Asuncion v. Superior Court, 108 Cal. App. 3d 141, 146 (1980) (courts must assess irreparable harm in ex parte applications); Bereki Decl., ¶ 20). By denying relief, Judge Hesseltine has contributed to the ongoing deprivation of Defendant's constitutional rights and property, enabling enforcement of a void 2017 judgment, discharged in bankruptcy (11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2)), which led to an unlawful default causing ~$50,000 in property damage and ~$10,000 in lost personal property (Dr. Leevil, LLC v. Westlake Health Care Center, 6 Cal.5th 474, 483 (2018) (UD plaintiff must have valid title); Bereki Decl., ¶ 12-13; Ex. J). The court had a mandatory duty to grant declaratory relief under CCP § 1060 (Columbia Pictures Corp. v. DeToth, 26 Cal.2d 753, 760 (1945) (courts have a non-discretionary duty to grant declaratory relief under CCP § 1060 when facts justify it)). Vacating the order is essential to stay the UD action, restore Defendant to possession, and address the 2017 judgment's defects.

B. STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. 2017 Judgment and Foreclosure: In 2017, Karen and Gary Humphreys secured a $930,000 judgment against Defendant in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(a) and (b), alleging unlicensed contracting. Defendant contends the judgment is void due to extrinsic fraud (misrepresenting a penal action as civil) and lack of jurisdiction (private parties lacked prosecutorial authority under Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1) (amongst other constitutional violations), discharged on March 27, 2023 (Bereki Decl., ¶ 3). The judgment and subsequent unlawful licensing suspension causing Defendants bankruptcy and financial ruin, led to a foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024, by MTC Financial, Inc., unlawfully transferring title to Canjian Hou for ~$1.2 million below market value, imminently challenged in an adversary proceeding related to Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC (Bereki Decl., ¶ 9; Ex. J).

2. Unlawful Detainer Action: On February 11, 2025, Hou filed a UD action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684) based on the foreclosure sale's trustee's deed. Defendant was served on March 1, 2025 (Bereki Decl., ¶ 4).
3. March 14, 2025, Ex Parte Application: On March 14, 2025, Defendant filed an ex parte application in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 (Dkt. ROA 306-322) to stay the UD action, presenting evidence of imminent irreparable harm (risk of eviction, loss of ~$1.2 million in equity) and arguing the foreclosure stemmed from the void 2017 judgment, rendering Hou's title defective. Defendant requested a court reporter due to financial hardship (Bereki Decl., ¶ 5, 18; Ex Parte Application Dkt. ROA 306). The clerk rejected the emergency filing consisting of the Ex Parte Application, Motion to Vacate, and Answer in the UD case for procedural defects (Bereki Decl., ¶ 5).
4. March 18, 2025, Hearing and Order: On March 17, 2025, Hou's counsel filed a default request without notifying Defendant, violating CCP § 585.5(a). On March 18, 2025, Judge Hesseltine denied the stay with a one-word order ("denied"), refusing to recognize Defendant's filing as an answer, failing to address imminent harm, dismissing the voidness argument, providing no court reporter, and misleading Defendant about relief (Bereki Decl., ¶ 6-7, 18, 20; Ex. A [Minute Order]). Default was entered that day (right after the ex parte hearing) in Case No. 30-2025-01459684, violating CCP § 1013(a) (Bereki Decl., ¶ 8; Ex. B [UD Case Dkt. ROA 18).
5. Post-Denial Harm: The writ of possession issued on March 22, 2025, led to Defendant's eviction under threat of force by a Deputy of the Orange County Sheriff-Coroner's Department. Hou proceeded to demolish the interior of the kitchen (rendering the property uninhabitable) along with removing bamboo flooring and repainting the interior, causing an estimated $50,000 in property damage. On in formation and belief he has also disposed of $10,000 in Defendant's personal property, (Bereki Decl., ¶ 11-12; Ex. C [Photos, Emails]).
6. Related Proceedings: Defendant e-filed a Motion to Vacate Void Judgment in Case No. 30-2025-01459684 on May 19, 2025 (Ex. D) (clerk has not yet accepted at the time of this motion), plans an imminent motion to vacate the 2017 judgment in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, and an adversary proceeding in Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-

BK-12076-SC to challenge the foreclosure as a violation of the discharge injunction. Defendant is also preparing a motion to consolidate to include this denial in the UD case's appeal (Bereki Decl., ¶ 16, 19).

C. LEGAL STANDARD

1. Inherent Equitable Jurisdiction: Courts may vacate void orders at any time for due process violations or lack of jurisdiction (Hazel-Atlas Glass Co. v. Hartford-Empire Co., 322 U.S. 238, 246 (1944) (equity allows vacatur of orders tainted by fraud); Pittman v. Beck Park Apartments Ltd., 20 Cal. App. 5th 1009, 1020-22 (2018) (void orders subject to vacatur under inherent authority).
2. Due Process: Judicial decisions affecting substantial rights require a reasoned explanation, consideration of evidence, a record for review, and clear guidance on relief (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950) (fundamental fairness requires opportunity to be heard); In re Marriage of Flaherty, 31 Cal.3d 637, 650-51 (1982) (lack of reasoning undermines appellate review); Jameson v. Desta, 5 Cal.5th 594, 608-09 (2018) (record absence for indigent litigants violates due process)).
3. Mandatory Duty for Declaratory Relief: Courts must grant declaratory relief when facts justifying it are alleged, particularly for constitutional violations (Columbia Pictures Corp. v. DeToth, 26 Cal.2d 753, 760 (1945) (non-discretionary duty to provide declaratory relief); CCP § 1060).
4. Judicial Duty: Courts have a non-discretionary duty to examine imminent injury and evidence of irreparable harm in ex parte applications for stays in UD cases (Asuncion v. Superior Court, 108 Cal. App. 3d 141, 146 (1980) (mandatory evaluation of harm in ex parte contexts)).
5. Ex Parte Relief: Ex parte applications are warranted to prevent irreparable harm when immediate relief is necessary (CRC Rule 3.1202(c); CCP § 1167.1).
6. Bankruptcy Discharge: Creditors may not enforce discharged debts, including indirectly through actions based on their effects (11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2); In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292 (7th Cir. 2009) (discharge prohibits actions based on discharged judgments)).

D. ARGUMENT

1. The March 18, 2025, Order Is Void for Violating Due Process: Judge Hesseltine's one-word denial ("denied") failed to provide a reasoned explanation, prioritized procedural defects, and dismissed substantive claims, contributing to the ongoing deprivation of Defendant's constitutional and bankruptcy rights (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950) (due process requires meaningful hearing)). He stated, "It does, indeed, violate a number of the rules... by combining everything into one document" (Bereki Decl., ¶ 20), and summarily dismissed the voidness argument: "The 473d voidness argument requires the voidness to appear on the face of the record. I don't think that appears in this case" (Bereki Decl., ¶ 20), ignoring new evidence Trackman v. Kenney, 187 Cal.App.4th 175, 184 (2010) (extrinsic evidence required for § 473(d) analysis)). Additionally, there is an exception, known as the "Thompson exception", whereby voidness need not appear on the face of the judgment *(Thompson v. Cook,*20 Cal. 2d 564, 569-571 (1942)). This exception applies because the 2017 judgment lacks jurisdiction due to private parties' improper prosecutorial authority under Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1 and other substantive due process violations rendering the judgment void. Moreover, any procedural rules time-barring Defendant from challenging the judgment must be equitably tolled due to the continued denial of due process in his repeated timely attempts to vacate it (Ex Parte Application Dkt. ROA 306-322). In In re Marriage of Flaherty, 31 Cal.3d 637, 650-51 (1982), the California Supreme Court held that unexplained decisions affecting substantial rights undermine fairness and appellate review. Similarly, Fasuyi v. Permatex, Inc., 167 Cal.App.4th 681, 694 (2008), held that a summary denial violates due process by preventing understanding of the ruling's basis. The court had a mandatory duty to grant declaratory relief under CCP § 1060 (Columbia Pictures Corp. v. DeToth, 26 Cal.2d 753, 760 (1945) (non-discretionary duty to address constitutional claims)). Hesseltine's refusal to address substantive claims, part of a systemic judicial failure, enabled enforcement of a discharged 2017 judgment, violating 11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2) (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292 (7th Cir. 2009) (actions based on discharged debts are void)). The UD action relies on a foreclosure sale stemming from the discharged 2017 judgment, violating the discharge injunction.The order is void (Reid v. Balter, 14 Cal.App.4th 1186, 1194 (1993) (failure to address material issues in voidness claims renders order void); Katzberg v. Regents of University of California, 29 Cal.4th 300, 306-07 (2002) (constitutional violations void orders) Pittman v. Beck Park Apartments Ltd., 20 Cal. App. 5th 1009, 1020-22 (2018) (orders void for lack of jurisdiction or procedural defects are subject to vacatur); Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520 (1972) (leniency for pro se filings); Gamet v. Blanchard, 91 Cal.App.4th 1276, 1284 (2001) (pro se litigants entitled to leniency in civil cases)).

2. The Court Failed to Examine Imminent Injury and Evidence of Harm: Judge Hesseltine neglected his mandatory duty to examine imminent injury and Defendant's evidence of irreparable harm (risk of eviction, loss of ~$1.2 million in equity), despite Hou's default request on March 17, 2025, without notice (Asuncion v. Superior Court, 108 Cal. App. 3d 141, 146 (1980) (courts must evaluate irreparable harm in ex parte applications)). He dismissed the application, stating, "There's not even a hearing ruling set in the UD action yet, so there's not that justification for ex parte relief" (Bereki Decl., ¶ 20), without analyzing the evidence. The denial enabled an unlawful default, causing ~$50,000 in property damage and ~$10,000 in lost personal property (Bereki Decl., ¶ 11-12; Ex. C). In Lasalle v. Vogel, 36 Cal.App.5th 127, 135-36 (2019), the Court of Appeal held that failing to engage with evidence in default proceedings violates due process. Similarly, Tobias v. Alameda County, 69 Cal.App.5th 1030, 1045-46 (2021) requires courts to consider irreparable harm evidence in injunctive relief proceedings. The refusal to address evidence constitutes a structural error under Aulisio v. Bancroft, 230 Cal.App.4th 1516, 1527 (2014) (denying evidence presentation is structural defect). Hesseltine's inaction, enabling enforcement of a discharged judgment, violates 11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2) (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292 (7th Cir. 2009) (discharge injunction prohibits enforcement)). Procedural violations (e.g., CCP § 585.5(a), § 1013(a)) and the refusal to recognize Defendant's filing as an answer further render the order void (Bereki Decl., ¶ 11-12).
3. The Court's Failure to Provide a Court Reporter Violates Due Process: Defendant requested a court reporter for the March 18 hearing due to financial hardship, but none was provided, forcing Defendant to rely on personal notes, impairing immediate review (Bereki Decl., ¶ 18, 20). In Jameson v. Desta, 5 Cal.5th 594, 608-09 (2018), the California Supreme Court held that failing to provide a court reporter for an indigent litigant's trial violates due process when it precludes a record for appeal. Similarly, Gordon v. Superior Court, 108 Cal.App.3d 943, 947 (1980), held that denying an indigent party a record for review violates due process. See also Jameson v. Desta, 5 Cal.5th 594, 608-09 (2018) (failure to provide a court reporter for an indigent litigant violates due process by impairing appellate review). In In re Marriage of Sharples, 223 Cal.App.4th 160, 171 (2014), the Court of Appeal held that failing to provide a court reporter, where requested, can violate due process by limiting the ability to challenge the ruling. Hesseltine's failure exacerbated the systemic deprivation of Defendant's rights, rendering the order void (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950) (due process requires fair hearing)).

4. The Court Misled Defendant About Available Relief: Judge Hesseltine misled Defendant by suggesting relief was available through a "properly noticed motion" or "new lawsuit" while insinuating claims would be barred, contributing to the deprivation of Defendant's rights. He stated, "The Court is not able to bar you from filing a properly noticed motion or another lawsuit" (Bereki Decl., ¶ 20), but expressed doubt: "I have serious concerns and doubts that it would be successful" (Bereki Decl., ¶ 20). When Defendant sought a forum to challenge the void judgment, Hesseltine replied, "You've been provided with a forum... It's just that you disagreed with the outcome" (Bereki Decl., ¶ 20), implying no viable remedy exists. Defendant has never been truly heard nor provided a fair and impartial forum in any state or federal court (Ex parte Application/Motion to Vacate Dkt. ROA 306-322). In In re Marriage of Flaherty, 31 Cal.3d 637, 650-51 (1982), the California Supreme Court held that judicial actions undermining fairness violate due process. Similarly, Lasalle v. Vogel, 36 Cal.App.5th 127, 135-36 (2019), held that misleading pro se litigants about remedies violates due process. Because the California and United States Constitutions mandate Defendant must be afforded the right to judicial proceedings, he had every right to ask Hesseltine where that relief would be found given the systemic failures he evidenced failing to provide that relief. These contradictions foreclosed a meaningful opportunity to be heard, rendering the order void (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950) (due process requires clear opportunity to be heard)).

5. Immediate Relief Is Necessary to Prevent Further Irreparable Harm: The UD action threatens Defendant's home and ~$1.2 million in equity, constituting irreparable harm, exacerbated by ~$50,000 in property damage and ~$10,000 in lost personal property caused by the unlawful default post-denial (Tobias v. Alameda County, 69 Cal.App.5th 1030, 1045-46 (2021) (property loss constitutes irreparable harm); Bereki Decl., ¶ 11-12; Ex. J). In Barroso v. Ocwen Loan Servicing, LLC, 208 Cal.App.4th 1001, 1017 (2012), the Court of Appeal recognized foreclosure-related losses as irreparable harm justifying equitable relief. Similarly, Bisno v. Sax, 175 Cal.App.2d 714, 727-28 (1959), held that equity must intervene to prevent forfeiture when hardship outweighs the opposing party's claim. Hesseltine's denial enabled enforcement of a discharged 2017 judgment, violating 11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2), causing eviction and rendering the property uninhabitable (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292 (7th Cir. 2009) (discharge prohibits enforcement)). The UD action relies on a foreclosure sale stemming from the discharged 2017 judgment, violating the discharge injunction. Hou suffers minimal prejudice from a stay, given notice of title disputes (Bereki Decl., ¶ 11). The foreclosure stems from a void 2017 judgment, discharged in bankruptcy, rendering Hou's title defective (Dr. Leevil, LLC v. Westlake Health Care Center, 6 Cal.5th 474, 483 (2018) (invalid title undermines UD standing); Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71, 79-83 (2020) (disgorgement limited to net profits, not penalties); Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr., 53 Cal.App.5th 1201, 1212-13 (2020) (§ 7031(b) is a penalty, time-barred after one year)).
6. Equitable Jurisdiction Mandates Vacatur: The March 18 order is void for due process violations, including failure to provide a reasoned explanation, refusal to address evidence, lack of a court-provided record, and misleading statements (Hazel-Atlas Glass Co. v. Hartford-Empire Co., 322 U.S. 238, 246 (1944) (equity vacates void orders)). Hesseltine's refusal to grant relief, enabling enforcement of a void and discharged judgment, violates Cal. Const. Art. I, §26, U.S. Const. Art. VI, §2, 11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2) and perpetuates systemic deprivation of Defendant's rights (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292 (7th Cir. 2009) (discharge prohibits enforcement)). The court's failure to grant declaratory relief violated its mandatory duty under CCP § 1060 (Columbia Pictures Corp. v. DeToth, 26 Cal.2d 753, 760 (1945) (mandatory duty to grant declaratory relief); Thompson v. Cook, 20 Cal. 2d 564 (1942)).

Constitutional violations render the order void under Pittman v. Beck Park Apartments Ltd., 20 Cal. App. 5th 1009, 1020-22 (2018) (orders void for lack of jurisdiction or procedural defects are subject to vacatur); see also Katzberg v. Regents of University of California, 29 Cal.4th 300, 306-07 (2002)). The Court must vacate it to address the 2017 judgment's defects, which invalidate the foreclosure and UD standing (Pittman v. Beck Park Apartments Ltd., 20 Cal. App. 5th 1009, 1020-22 (2018) (void orders subject to vacatur).

7. Meritorious Defense Supports Relief: Defendant's defenses—extrinsic fraud, lack of jurisdiction, and a void foreclosure—establish a likelihood of success, necessitating vacatur (Lasalle v. Vogel, 36 Cal.App.5th 127, 139-40 (2019) (meritorious defenses support vacatur); Tobias v. Alameda County, 69 Cal.App.5th 1030, 1045-46 (2021) (likelihood of success justifies relief).

E. CONCLUSION

The Court must grant this ex parte application, vacate the void March 18, 2025, order, stay the unlawful detainer action, and restore Defendant to possession pursuant to its inherent equitable jurisdiction. Judge Hesseltine's refusal to grant relief has perpetuated a systemic deprivation of Defendant's rights, enabling enforcement of a void and discharged judgment and causing irreparable harm.

III. DECLARATION OF ADAM BEREKI

I, Adam Bereki, declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California that:

1. I am the Defendant in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 and Case No. 30-2025-01459684, with personal knowledge of the facts herein.
2. My open bankruptcy case (Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC) does not affect this application.
3. In 2017, a $930,000 judgment was entered against me in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, which I believe is void due to extrinsic fraud (misrepresenting a penal action as civil) and lack of jurisdiction (private parties lacked prosecutorial authority, due process violations), discharged on March 27, 2023.
4. On March 1, 2025, I was served with the unlawful detainer complaint (Case No. 30-2025-01459684) at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626.
5. On March 14, 2025, I filed an ex parte application and answer in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 (Dkt. ROA's 306-322) to stay the UD action, presenting evidence of imminent irreparable harm (risk of eviction, loss of ~$1.2 million in equity) and requesting a court reporter due to financial hardship. The clerk rejected filing it as an answer in the UD case for procedural defects.
6. On March 17, 2025, Plaintiff's counsel filed a default request in Case No. 30-2025-01459684 without notifying me by phone or email, with service by USPS mail (Ex. D [Default Request]).
7. On March 18, 2025, at the ex parte hearing in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, Judge Hesseltine refused to recognize my filing as an answer, failed to address my evidence of imminent harm, dismissed my voidness argument, provided no court reporter, and misled me about relief (Ex. A [Minute Order]; Bereki Decl., ¶ 20).
8. On March 18, 2025, default was entered prematurely in Case No. 30-2025-01459684 (Ex. B [Case Docket, ROA 12, 17-18]). On March 19, 2025, my corrected answer was rejected due to the default (Ex. E [UD Complaint Answer; Exhibit 1- Dkt. ROA 306 omitted for brevity]).
9. On March 22, 2025, a writ of possession issued, leading to my eviction (Ex. F [Writ of Possession]).

10. On May 8-9, 2025, the clerk refused to vacate the default (Ex. G [Jira Correspondence]).
11. Based on my 20 years of construction experience I estimate Plaintiff's demolition after the March 18 denial caused $50,000 in damage (demolished kitchen, removed flooring, repainted interior). Additionally, based on information and belief, Plaintiff disposed of an estimated ~$10,000 in my personal property without my permission and against my specific direction not to. (Ex. C [Photos, Emails]).
12. I face loss of ~$1.2 million in equity due to the invalid foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024, stemming from the void 2017 judgment.
13. The harm is ongoing, and delay will exacerbate the damage.
14. I have notified the parties and interested person as stated above in this Application.
15. The 2017 judgment and foreclosure will be challenged in an imminent Motion to Vacate in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 and an imminent adversary proceeding in related Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC (Ex. H [Rough Draft Adversary Complaint]).
16. I am preparing a motion to consolidate to include this denial in the UD case's appeal.
17. All exhibits are true and correct copies, and third-party documents are believed valid based on multiple sources.
18. I specifically requested a court reporter for the March 18, 2025, hearing due to financial hardship, but no reporter was provided, forcing me to rely on personal notes, impairing appellate review.
19. My notes from the March 18, 2025, hearing include the statements above in this Application.
20. On May 19, 2025, I e-filed a Motion to Vacate Void Judgment in Case No. 30-2025-01459684, detailing the unlawful default, eviction, and resulting harm, incorporated herein (Ex. I [Motion to Vacate, Case No. 30-2025-01459684]). As of the time of filing this Application, it is still under clerk review.
21. I intend that the complete dockets of all cases cited and evidence presented in the Ex Parte Application /Motion to Vacate, Dkt. ROA's 306-322 related to this case be incorporated as if fully set forth herein. I am unable to afford certified copies of the complete dockets at this time.

CAUSAL DOCUMENT/DATE FILED: Ex Parte Application - Other For Emergency Stay of Unlawful Detainer Action, 03/14/2025

---

APPEARANCES
Adam Bereki, self represented Cross - Defendant, present remotely.

Hearing held, all participants appearing remotely.

Ex-Parte application for Emergency Stay of Unlawful Detainer Action is requested by defendant Adam Bereki.

The Court having fully considered the arguments of all parties, both written and oral, as well as the evidence presented, now rules as follows:

Ex Parte Application is denied by the Court.

The Court will not treat the Ex Parte Application as a new Complaint or an Answer to the Complaint for Case No. 30-2025-01459684. Defendant must file the Answer in the proper case (Case No. 30-2025-01459684) and not in this matter. Any new lawsuits must be filed as a new Complaint.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

TO THE COURT, ALL PARTIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

Defendant Adam Bereki, appearing in propria persona, files this Answer to the Unlawful Detainer Complaint filed by Canjian Hou under duress and coercion as follows:

1. Response to Allegations in the Complaint

Defendant responds to each paragraph of the Plaintiff's Complaint as follows:

Defendant attempted to file a timely answer to this Complaint on March 14, 2025. The Clerk refused to file the document on grounds that it didn't not comply with rules of Court because each action of the document (i.e. ex parte application for stay, answer, and motion to vacate) needed to be filed separately. Defendant was (and remains) under duress and coercion and did not have time to prepare the documents in that manner. At the time he also did not have multiple copies of the same document to file separately. Defendant contends that rules of court or statutes cannot overrule or supersede rights secured by the Constitution (Miranda v. Arizona, 384 U.S. 436, 491 (1938)) including his right to a judicial determination of his rights and to file an answer to this complaint against him. The Clerk required Defendant to cross out the title pertaining to the Answer in this case against his will by stating that his emergency application document would not be filed unless he did so. It was never Defendants intent to waive his right to answer and he did not intend to do so by crossing any words out on the face page(s). He did so only under duress and was thereby prejudiced and denied due process to making a timely answer. Defendant contends the intention of the party is the soul of the instrument (Animus moninis est anima scripti) and the substance therein rules differences in form on the face page. Cf. Federal Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 5 "(4) Acceptance by the Clerk. The clerk must not refuse to file a paper solely because it is not in the form prescribed by these rules or by a local rule or practice." A true and correct copy of the document containing the answer and other substantive information he filed is attached hereto as Exhibit 1. See Dkt. 306, Case No. 30-2015-00805807. All statements made in Exhibit 1 and all documents in case 30-2015-00805807 and G055075 (Fourth District Court of Appeal) are incorporated as if fully set forth herein and verified by the declaration below. Defendant Requests this Court take judicial notice of these documents as required by law for the existence of the documents themselves and the statements made thereon, subject to determination for lawfulness and validity by this Court.

Defendant asserts the conflict of interest in this case (Exhibit 1) and requests it immediately be transferred to another County for the reasons stated therein.

In all instances where Defendant uses the word "denies", it is also intended to include "disputes".

Paragraphs 1, 2, 4, 8, 11, 12, 13, 14, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20: Defendant denies the allegations in these Paragraphs because Plaintiff is not the lawful owner of the property due to a defective title as evidenced in Exhibit 1 and the Exhibits referenced therein and therefore has no standing to bring this action. Consequently, any allegations related to Plaintiff's standing are without baseless and without merit and a continued fraud upon this Court (Exhibit 1).

ADAM A. BEREK
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

Paragraph 3: Defendant denies he is an "individual" as that term is undefined. He appears in propria persona.

Paragraphs 5,7: Defendant denies the property is within this judicial district as the Superior Court of California is not a judicial Court based on his experience (Exhibit 1). As a result, venue is also improper.

Paragraph 6: Defendant denies this Court has subject matter jurisdiction based on Plaintiff's lack of standing and the fact that he has not been afforded a judicial determination of his rights in case 30-2015-00805807 that preceded this case and was a direct and proximate cause of Defendants ongoing injuries that led to the unlawful foreclosure sale.

Paragraph 9: Defendant denies the legal description of the property as he has not personally verified this information.

Paragraph 10: Defendant admits he is possession of the property.

Paragraph 15: Defendant admits he received these documents and immediately notified Plaintiff of fraud and other crimes pertaining to the property (Exhibit 1).

In the event Defendant missed any paragraphs, he intends they be denied.

2. Affirmative Defenses

Defendant asserts the following affirmative defenses to bar Plaintiff's claim for possession:

First Affirmative Defense: Wrongful Foreclosure

The Plaintiff's claim is barred because the foreclosure sale, upon which their title to the property is based, was wrongful and invalid. The foreclosure stemmed from a judgment in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 (Superior Court of California, County of Orange), which is void due to extrinsic fraud and lack of jurisdiction, as detailed in Exhibit 1. Without a valid foreclosure, Plaintiff's title is defective, and they have no legal right to possession.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

Second Affirmative Defense: Void Judgment – Extrinsic Fraud

The judgment in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 is void because it was obtained through extrinsic fraud. Specifically, the plaintiffs in that action, Karen and Gary Humphreys, misrepresented the proceeding by pursuing what was effectively a criminal penalty (disguised as a civil remedy), depriving Defendant of fundamental due/ judicial process rights, including the right to a jury trial and counsel under the California Constitution and U.S. Constitution. This fraud prevented Defendant from having a fair hearing, rendering the judgment a nullity. A void judgment cannot support the subsequent foreclosure or Plaintiff's title.

Third Affirmative Defense: Void Judgment – Lack of Jurisdiction

The court in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 lacked subject matter jurisdiction to impose what amounted to a criminal penalty in a civil action. Under Article V, Section 1 of the California Constitution, only the executive branch has authority to prosecute criminal matters, and private parties such as the Humphreys lacked standing to initiate such a proceeding. Absent jurisdiction, the judgment is void ab initio, invalidating the foreclosure sale and Plaintiff's claim to the property.

Fourth Affirmative Defense: Lack of Standing

Plaintiff lacks standing to bring this unlawful detainer action because their title to the property is defective. Plaintiff's purported ownership derives from a wrongful foreclosure sale based on a void judgment, as described above. Without a valid title, Plaintiff has no legal right to possession, a prerequisite for an unlawful detainer claim under CCP Section 1161 et seq.

Fifth Affirmative Defense: Violation of the Bankruptcy Discharge

The Judgments in case 30-2015-00805807, G055075, and license suspension revocation ("Judgments") were all discharged by Defendant's bankruptcy, under duress and coercion in 2022. See Case No. 22-12076 U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California. The Judgement and suspension of Defendant's license for over five years, placed him in constructive custody, restraining him from earning a living in his profession as a general contractor. This resulted in impairing his private contracts and obligations, including the second mortgage that was foreclosed which Plaintiff bid on at the unlawful foreclosure sale. Because Defendant was forcibly restrained from earning a living as a general contractor and could not make pay his private contracts and obligations, any enforcement of those obligations (including foreclosure and this action) constitutes unlawful enforcement of the Judgment(s) in violation of 11 U.S.C. § 524. Under § 524 (a)(2) a discharge "operates as an injunction against the commencement or continuation of an action, the employment of process, or an act, to collect, recover or offset any such debt as a personal liability of the debtor, whether or not discharge of such debt is waived[.]"

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

Sixth Affirmative Defense: Additional Defenses

Defendant incorporates all other defenses stated in Exhibit 1.

Legal Basis: These defenses are permissible in unlawful detainer actions where title defects involve fraud or jurisdictional issues, as recognized in Vella v. Hudgins (20 Cal.3d 251, 1977). Additionally, a void judgment may be challenged at any time (People v. American Contractors Indemnity Co., 33 Cal.4th 653, 660 (2004)).

3. Prayer for Relief

WHEREFORE, Defendant Adam Bereki respectfully requests that the Court:

1. Deny Plaintiff's request for possession of the property and dismiss this suit for lack of standing;
2. Award Defendant costs and all time in defending this frivolous action;
3. Grant such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

DECLARATION OF ADAM BEREKI
VERIFICATION OF FACTS AND AUTHENTICATION OF EXHIBITS

I, Adam Bereki, declare under penalty of perjury that: 1) I have personal knowledge of the foregoing facts; 2) they are true and correct; 3) all Exhibits/Appendices annexed hereto are true copies of the documents they purport to be, except for organizational markings (e.g., bates numbering); and, 4) that all statements made in Exhibit 1 are true and correct. Legal conclusions or statements on information and belief are not facts made under penalty of perjury.

All personal property upon the premises at the time will be turned over to the landlord, who must return said personal property to you upon your payment of the reasonable cost incurred by the landlord in storing the property from the date of eviction to the date of payment. If the property is stored on the landlord's premises, the reasonable cost of storage is the fair rental value of the space necessary for the time of storage. If you do not pay the reasonable storage costs and take possession within fifteen (15) days, the landlord may either sell your property at a public sale and keep from the proceeds of the sale the costs of storage and of the sale (1988 CIV), or, if the property is valued at less than $700.00, the landlord may dispose of your property or retain it for his own use. (715.010(b)(3), 1174 CCP)

If you claim a right of possession of the premises that accrued prior to the commencement of this action, or if you were in possession of the premises on the date of the filing of the action and you are not named on the writ, complete and file the attached Claim of Right of Possession form with this office. No claim of right to possession can be filed if the prejudgment claim of right to possession was served as indicated on the writ unless the eviction is the result of a foreclosure.

NOTICE TO PERSON SERVED

WRIT OF EXECUTION OR SALE. Your rights and duties are indicated on the accompanying Notice of Levy (form EJ-150).

WRIT OF POSSESSION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY. If the levying officer is not able to take custody of the property, the levying officer will demand that you turn over the property. If custody is not obtained following demand, the judgment may be enforced as a money judgment for the value of the property specified in the judgment or in a supplemental order.

WRIT OF POSSESSION OF REAL PROPERTY. If the premises are not vacated within five days after the date of service on the occupant or, if service is by posting, within five days after service on you, the levying officer will remove the occupants from the real property and place the judgment creditor in possession of the property. Except for a mobile home, personal property remaining on the premises will be sold or otherwise disposed of in accordance with CCP 1174 unless you or the owner of the property pays the judgment creditor the reasonable cost of storage and takes possession of the personal property not later than 15 days after the time the judgment creditor takes possession of the premises.

EXCEPTION IF RENTAL HOUSING UNIT WAS FORECLOSED. If the residential property that you are renting was sold in a foreclosure, you have additional time before you must vacate the premises. If you have a lease for a fixed term, such as for a year, you may remain in the property until the term is up. If you have a periodic lease or tenancy, such as from month-to-month, you may remain in the property for 90 days after receiving a notice to quit. A blank form Claim of Right to Possession and Notice of Hearing (form CP10) accompanies this writ. You may claim your right to remain on the property by filling it out and giving it to the sheriff or levying officer.

EXCEPTION IF YOU WERE NOT SERVED WITH A FORM CALLED PREJUDGMENT CLAIM OF RIGHT TO POSSESSION. If you were not named in the judgment for possession and you occupied the premises on the date on which the unlawful detainer case was filed, you may object to the enforcement of the judgment against you. You must complete the form Claim of Right to Possession and Notice of Hearing (form CP10) and give it to the sheriff or levying officer. A blank form accompanies this writ. You have this right whether or not the property you are renting was sold in a foreclosure.

NOTICE OF ENTRY OF JUDGMENT

Question ***

Good morning. My name is Adam Bereki. I am writing in regard to case#25-01459684. On 3/17/25 the plaintiff filed a request for entry of default. It was served by mail. I believe I had 5 days to receive the request and then several more days to respond. Depsite this, the Clerk entered the default judgment the next day on march 18. On march 19, I came to the court to file an answer in the case and was denied on the gorund that a default had already been entered. i believe this was a violation of due process as I was denied the opportunity to present my claims. I would like to discuss this issue with a supervisor. Please call me as soon as possible. My number is 949-241-6693.

abereki@gmail.com Yesterday 1:19 PM

Good afternoon. Id be happy to. The full name of the plaintiff is Canjian Hou. The property address is 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626. I have included a summary of the law I believe on this issue and why I believe I have been prejudiced and denied an opportunity to be heard unlawfully. I believe as a result that you, the clerk, have a non-discretionary, ministerial duty to immediately correct the record and notify all parties. Thank you for you time and careful attention in this matter.

CCP § 587: Requires that an application for entry of default (e.g., Form CIV-100) be mailed to the defendant's attorney of record or, if none, to the defendant's last known address, and that proof of such mailing be filed with the court. This ensures the defendant is notified before default is entered.

CCP § 585.5(a): Mandates that the plaintiff serve the default request "concurrently with or prior to" filing it with the court, ensuring timely notice. For UD cases, this applies to protect due process (Green v. Superior Court, 10 Cal.3d 616, 633, 1974; Bostanian v. Liberty Savings Bank, 52 Cal.App.4th 1075, 1080, 1997).

CRC 2.200–2.306: These rules specify service methods (e.g., mail, personal delivery) and timing. For mail service (CCP § 1013), used in this case (CIV-100), service is complete upon mailing, but a 5-day delivery delay applies, impacting notice reasonableness (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314, 1950).

Clerk's Authority to Enter Default:

CCP § 585(a): Authorizes the clerk to enter a default ministerially when the defendant fails to answer within the summons period (10 days in this case, ~March 11-13, 2025) and the plaintiff files a request (CIV-100) with proof of service (CCP § 587).

CCP § 1169 (UD Specific): In UD cases, if the defendant doesn't answer (within the summons period), the clerk may enter a default or, for possession-only judgments, a clerk's judgment, provided the request complies with CCP § 585(a) and includes a nonmilitary status declaration (CIV-100, Item 8). This is ministerial but requires proper notice and timing (Green, 10 Cal.3d at 633).

In this case, the plaintiff's March 17, 2025, default request (CIV-100) was mailed on March 17. 2025, ensuring no notice before the March 18 entry. This violates CCP § 585.5(a) and due process (Mullane), as I (the defendant) had no chance to respond.

According to the proof of service, you were personally served a copy of the Complaint, Summons, UD-101, and form CP 10.5 on 3/1/25.

CCP 1167 allows you 10 days to respond to the complaint; you had until 3/14 to respond and because no response was submitted in the allotted time frame, the plaintiff was well within their rights to submit a Request for Clerk Default Judgment on 3/17/25.

If you'd like to discuss your legal options, please consider seeking legal aid or contacting Self-Help Services at 657-622-8511 or via email at SelfHelpCivil@occourts.org. You may also reach out to the Public Law Center at 714-541-1010 or visit their website for more information.

Dear Clerk of the Court,

The issue is not the plaintiff's right to file a Request for Clerk Default Judgment on March 17, 2025, but the failure to provide notice as required by law. CCP § 585.5(a) mandates that "where a default or default judgment is sought, the plaintiff shall file a request for entry of default or default judgment and serve it upon the defendant ... concurrently with or prior to filing the request with the court." The plaintiff's mail service on March 17, 2025 (CIV-100, Item 6), with a 5-day delivery delay (CCP § 1013), ensured I received no notice of the proposed default entry before the clerk's default entry on March 18, 2025, violating due process, which requires "notice reasonably calculated, under all the circumstances, to apprise interested parties of the pendency of the action and afford them an opportunity to present their objections" (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950)). CCP § 587 requires "an affidavit stating that a copy of the application has been mailed to the defendant ... and the date on which the copy was mailed," and while nonreceipt alone is not grounds to set aside a judgment, the premature entry before effective notice violates Green v. Superior Court, 10 Cal.3d 616, 633 (1974), which requires a reasonable opportunity to contest a default order in UD proceedings.

Additionally, I did attempt to file an answer twice, once on March 14, 2025 (see ex parte application case 30-2015-00805807) but it was rejected by the clerk. I attempted to file another answer on March 19, 2025, and the clerk rejected it on the grounds that a default had been entered. Allowing the required notice time for the request for entry of default clearly would have required the court to accept my answer on March 19. As a result of these due process violations, the Court has used procedural rules to violate due process and silence me from answering. I am bringing this to your attention now in the hope you will ministerially correct this injustice and avoid the need for appellate proceedings and/or other court resources in correcting this.

This notice violation renders the default entry invalid, as I was not apprised of the default request in time to respond and have been silenced from answering the complaint. I respectfully request you set aside the default judgment to ensure compliance with statutory and due process requirements.

Sincerely,
Adam A. Bereki

abereki@gmail.com Today 9:29 AM
I agree with you. I had 10 days to respond the the complaint. But I also had at least 5 days to respond to the request for entry of default. Here are two court of appeal cases directly on the subject: In Bank of America, N.A. v. La Salle, 243 Cal.App.4th 199 (2015), the plaintiff, Bank of America, filed an unlawful detainer action against defendant La Salle to recover possession of a property after a foreclosure sale. La Salle appeared through counsel but failed to timely answer the complaint, and the Bank filed a request for entry of default without notifying La Salle's attorney, leading to a default judgment on April 10, 2014. The trial court denied La Salle's motion to set aside the default, but the Court of Appeal reversed, holding that "The Bank's failure to provide notice of its intent to seek entry of default, in violation of its statutory and ethical duties, prejudiced La Salle's ability to oppose entry of default" (243 Cal.App.4th at 208). The court found the Bank violated Code of Civil Procedure section 587 by not mailing the default request to La Salle's counsel, breaching due process, and remanded with directions to set aside the default judgment.

In Shapell Socal Rental Properties, LLC v. Chico's FAS, Inc., 85 Cal.App.5th 198 (2022), plaintiff Shapell filed an unlawful detainer action against defendant Chico's for unpaid rent on a commercial lease. Chico's counsel appeared but did not timely answer, and Shapell filed a default request on September 8, 2020, without notifying Chico's counsel, resulting in a default judgment. The Court of Appeal reversed, holding that "The failure to provide notice to opposing counsel of an intent to seek default constitutes a breach of both ethical and statutory duties under Code of Civil Procedure section 583.130 and section 587, requiring reversal of the default judgment" (85 Cal.App.5th at 212). The court emphasized that the lack of notice violated statutory requirements and prejudiced Chico's ability to defend, mandating reversal to allow a defense on the merits.

I had no notice of the request for entry of default before the Court entered default. That violated my due process right to respond to the request for entry of default.

We're not going to vacate the default judgment; the attorney did their due diligence and the clerk processed everything correctly. If you want to argue against the judgment you may do so with the judge.

UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT

CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA – SANTA ANA DIVISION

In re:

Adam A. Bereki,

Debtor.

Adam A. Bereki,

Plaintiff,

v.

Citizens Bank N.A.; MTC Financial Inc. d/b/a Trustee Corps; Canjian Hou; Henry D. Paloci; Henry D. Paloci III, P.A.; Citibank N.A.; NewRez LLC; Deputy Murillo; Sergeant X; Karen S. Naylor; Surety Doe; CHP Officer Doe 1; CHP Officer Doe 2; Does 3-12, Defendants.

Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC

Adv. No. [TBD]

Chapter 7

INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiff Adam A. Bereki, a former police officer with over twenty years of forensic investigation experience specializing in fraud and government corruption, brings this adversary proceeding to address egregious violations of his constitutional and bankruptcy rights stemming from a wrongful non-judicial foreclosure sale of his home at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA (the "Property") on November 18, 2024.

2. The foreclosure, executed by Defendants Citizens Bank N.A. ("Citizens") and MTC Financial Inc. d/b/a Trustee Corps ("Trustee Corps"), was triggered by a void 2017 state court judgment (Case No. 30-2015-00805807, Orange County Superior Court) obtained through extrinsic fraud by private parties lacking CRIMINAL prosecutorial authority. This judgment, imposing a $930,000 penalty for alleged unlicensed contracting, caused Plaintiff's financial ruin, enabling Citizens to declare a default and sell the Property for $371,688—far below its $1,142,000 fair market value—resulting in ~$815,241.50 in equity loss.

3. Defendants Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, Henry D. Paloci III, P.A. ("Paloci"), Deputy Murillo, and Sergeant X (name to be provided) furthered this harm by pursuing or enforcing an unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684, filed February 11, 2025) to evict Plaintiff UNDER THREAT OF FORCEFUL REMOVAL MADE BY THE COUNTY SHERIFF, despite notice of the foreclosure's invalidity.

4. This complaint seeks to void the foreclosure sale, cancel the Trustee's Deed, recover Plaintiff's exempt Property under bankruptcy law, determine the validity of Citibank's lien, address stay violations, and obtain equitable relief for trustee misconduct, asserting violations of the discharge injunction (11 U.S.C. § 524), unauthorized transfers (11 U.S.C. § 549), lien determination (11 U.S.C. § 506), stay violations (11 U.S.C. § 362), and constitutional protections.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

5. Plaintiff intends to commence a separate adversary proceeding to challenge the validity of the 2017 state court judgment (Orange County Superior Court, Case No. 30-2015-00805807) on constitutional grounds, including the lack of executive authority for private CRIMINAL prosecution under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b), the judgment's imposition of an excessive fine, its operation as a bill of pains and penalties, and its impairment of private contracts, as detailed in Plaintiff's ex parte application filed in the Superior Court on March 17, 2026 (Case No. 30-2015-00805807, Ex. 11). Plaintiff has intentionally separated these issues from the present adversary proceeding to focus exclusively on claims arising under bankruptcy law, including violations of the discharge injunction (11 U.S.C. § 524), unauthorized transfers (11 U.S.C. § 549), lien determination (11 U.S.C. § 506), stay violations (11 U.S.C. § 362), and equitable relief (11 U.S.C. § 105). The claims in this proceeding, particularly Defendant Citizens Bank N.A.'s bad faith foreclosure exploiting the effects of the 2017 judgment and Citibank N.A.'s fraudulent lien, are independent of and do not require a determination of the judgment's validity in the anticipated separate proceeding.

DRAFT

6. This Court has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334 and 157(b)(2)(A), (B), (H), (K), (O) as this is a core proceeding concerning the administration of the bankruptcy estate, the validity of liens, stay violations, unauthorized transfers, and equitable relief.

7. Venue is proper in the Central District of California, where the bankruptcy case is pending and the Property is located (28 U.S.C. § 1409).

8. Plaintiff consents to the entry of final orders by this Court (28 U.S.C. § 157(c)).

9. Claims against Henry D. Paloci are exempt from Cal. Civ. Code § 1714.10, as Paloci owed Plaintiff an independent legal duty under Cal. Civ. Code § 1708 and acted for financial gain by pursuing the unlawful detainer action despite notice of the foreclosure's invalidity (Ex. 4, pp. 9–10, 19).

PARTIES

10. Plaintiff Adam A. Bereki is the debtor in Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC, residing at 3649 Metter St, Las Vegas, NV, due to threats of forcible removal by the county sheriff, and the sole owner of the Property via the Adam Bereki Living Trust.

11. Defendant Citizens Bank N.A. is a national banking association with headquarters in Rhode Island, which initiated the foreclosure sale.

12. Defendant MTC Financial Inc. d/b/a Trustee Corps is a California corporation and the trustee that executed the foreclosure sale.

13. Defendant Canjian Hou is an individual who purportedly purchased the Property at the foreclosure sale. The Superior Court awarded Hou a default judgment in an unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684). Plaintiff attempted to file an ex parte application as a response, which the Superior Court clerk refused to file, and the Superior Court judge in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 refused to recognize as an answer in the UD case. Plaintiff later attempted to file an answer challenging the UD case's subject matter jurisdiction, but the clerk again refused, claiming an answer could not be filed post-judgment.

14. Defendant Henry D. Paloci is an attorney, and Defendant Henry D. Paloci III, P.A. is his professional association, representing Hou and facilitating the unlawful detainer action.

15. Defendant Citibank N.A. is a national banking association claiming a first mortgage lien of $457,693.71 on the Property.

16. Defendant NewRez LLC is a Delaware limited liability company involved in the stay relief motion affecting the Property.

17. Defendant Karen S. Naylor is the Chapter 7 trustee appointed in Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC, responsible for administering the bankruptcy estate.

18. Defendant Surety Doe is the unknown surety providing Naylor's bond under 11 U.S.C. § 322(b), to be identified through discovery.

19. Defendants Deputy Murillo and Sergeant X (name to be provided) are Orange County Sheriff's Department officers who enforced the unlawful detainer action by serving an eviction notice on March 27, 2025, at the Property.

20. Defendants CHP Officer Doe 1 and CHP Officer Doe 2 (names to be provided) are California Highway Patrol officers who refused to fully, fairly, impartially, and independently investigate Plaintiff's complaints of the 2017 judgment's fraud and refused to intervene to stop the ongoing crimes/deprivations of rights (Case 22A426, pp. 50–51), aiding and abetting the wrongful foreclosure and unlawful detainer action (Ex. 11, pp. 14–15, 28–30).

21. Defendants Does 3-12 are unknown parties responsible for Plaintiff's damages.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

22. On August 21, 2015, Plaintiff, through his solely owned company, The Spartan Associates, Inc. ("Spartan"), a previously licensed general contractor (LIC#927244), filed a state court action (Case No. 30-2015-00805807) against Karen and Gary Humphreys for unpaid construction work (~$82,000). The Humphreys, private citizens, cross-complained under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b), alleging Plaintiff was unlicensed and seeking disgorgement of $848,000 paid to him.

23. On March 28, 2017, Judge David Chaffee ruled Plaintiff was the contractor, not Spartan, and lacked a personal license, awarding the Humphreys $848,000 plus denial of Spartan's $82,000 claim—a $930,000 penalty—despite no evidence of harm or profits (Dkt. 193, Ex. 1).

24. This judgment was void ab initio due to extrinsic fraud and jurisdictional defects: the Humphreys, private citizens, lacked authority to prosecute the penal statute (§ 7031(b)), and the court mischaracterized the action as civil, denying Plaintiff criminal procedural safeguards, such as a jury trial and appointed counsel, required for penal disgorgement ("Liu v. SEC", 591 U.S. 71, 2020; "Linda R.S. v. Richard D.", 410 U.S. 614, 619, 1973).

25. On appeal (Case No. G055075), the Fourth District Court of Appeal affirmed, erroneously labeling the penalty "equitable disgorgement" (Ex. 2), rejecting Plaintiff's due process defenses, including the lack of criminal safeguards, as detailed in the unpublished opinion.

26. The judgment and automatic licensing suspension under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7071.17, effective June 26, 2017, 90 days after the March 28, 2017, judgment for failure to pay (§ 7031(b)), without a hearing, forced Plaintiff into financial ruin, impairing his ability to pay a $62,523.24 home equity line of credit with Citizens (Ex. 3, pp. 1–12) and necessitating bankruptcy.

27. On December 8, 2022, Plaintiff filed for Chapter 7 bankruptcy (Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC) under duress, scheduling the Property and all related claims (Dkt. 11, Ex. 5).

DRAFT

On October 18, 2024, Plaintiff filed a motion to compel the trustee to abandon the 2017 judgment claims and Property-related claims (Dkt. 105), granted on December 31, 2024 (Dkt. 112), before case closure on January 29, 2025 (Dkt. 114, 11 U.S.C. § 554(c)).

28. On April 12, 2023, Citizens obtained relief from the automatic stay (Dkt. 45), despite Plaintiff's notices of the judgment's fraud (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7).

29. On July 10, 2024, Citizens declared a default and ordered Trustee Corps to commence a non-judicial foreclosure sale under Cal. Civ. Code § 2924 (Ex. 3, pp. 13–15).

30. On November 18, 2024, Trustee Corps sold the Property for $371,688, far below its $1,142,000 fair market value (¶ 29), to Hou (Ex. 3, pp. 16–23).

31. The sale generated a surplus of $304,758.50 after Citizens' $62,523.24 lien and $4,206.26 in trustee fees, insufficient to cover Plaintiff's $600,000 homestead exemption (Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 704.730, ¶ 30).

32. Plaintiff suffered ~$815,241.50 in equity loss ($1,142,000 value minus $371,688 sale price, assuming Citibank's $457,693.71 lien is invalid, ¶ 32).

33. Citizens knew of the judgment's fraud via bankruptcy notices (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7) but proceeded, breaching duties under Cal. Civ. Code § 1708 and good faith.

34. On February 11, 2025, Hou, through Paloci, filed an unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684, Ex. 4, pp. 27–47; Ex. 8), despite Plaintiff's notices of the sale's invalidity and offer to return surplus funds (Ex. 4, pp. 9–10, 19; Ex. 8).

35. On March 27, 2025, Deputy Murillo, under Sergeant X's supervision, served an eviction notice and threatened physical removal, despite Plaintiff's notice of the unlawful foreclosure and UD case's invalidity, as evidenced by the eviction notice (Ex. 9) and audio/video recordings (Ex. 10). Their failure to investigate violated duties under Cal. Civ.

DRAFT

Code § 1708, due process, and the First Amendment right to petition for redress (Ex. 11, pp. 38–40).

36. The continued denial of judicial proceedings to adjudicate the void 2017 judgment included the following court actions, which prevented Plaintiff from challenging its fraudulent basis and directly contributed to Plaintiff's insolvency (Ex. 11, pp. 14–15):

37. March 27–28, 2017: Superior Court of California, County of Orange (Case No. 30-2015-00805807) entered judgment against Plaintiff for $848,000 in "disgorgement" and denied $82,000 quantum meruit claim, finding Plaintiff an unlicensed contractor under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b), imposing a penal forfeiture disguised as equitable disgorgement (Ex. 1).

38. October 31, 2018: Court of Appeal of California, Fourth Appellate District (Case No. G055075) affirmed the judgment, deeming Plaintiff's claims meritless and upholding the $930,000 fine as equitable, not penal (Ex. 2).

39. March 15, 2019: Superior Court of California, County of Orange (Case No. 30-2015-00805807) denied Plaintiff's motion to vacate, citing the appellate court's final decision.

40. March 27, 2019: Supreme Court of California (Case No. S252954) denied Plaintiff's petition for review, providing no specific reason despite mandatory review claims.

41. October 7, 2019: United States Supreme Court (Case No. 18-1416) denied Plaintiff's petition for writ of certiorari, arbitrarily declining jurisdiction without reason.

42. February 6, 2020: United States District Court, Central District of California (Case No. 8:19-CV-02050) dismissed Plaintiff's case with prejudice, citing collateral estoppel and Rooker-Feldman doctrines, claiming lack of jurisdiction to review state court judgments.

DRAFT

43. November 12, 2020: U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit (Case No. 20-55181) dismissed Plaintiff's appeal as frivolous, without addressing substantive claims.

44. September 22, 2021: United States Supreme Court (Case No. Unknown, Emergency Petition 2021) returned Plaintiff's emergency petition for writs of error/habeas corpus unfiled, citing improper form despite constitutional rights claims.

45. September 15, 2022: Superior Court of California, County of Orange (Case No. 30-2022-01271693) denied Plaintiff's ex parte application for emergency stay, with Judge Leal finding no exigent circumstances and deeming habeas corpus inapplicable.

46. October 13, 2022: Superior Court of California, County of Orange (Case No. 30-2022-01271693) denied Plaintiff's petition for writ of habeas corpus and emergency stay, with Judge Cramin providing no lawful authority or reasoning.

47. November 10, 2022: United States Supreme Court (Case No. 22A426) denied Plaintiff's application for emergency stay, providing no reason pending further petition filing.

48. Plaintiff was insolvent at the time of the sale (¶ 24), supporting avoidance under 11 U.S.C. § 549(a).

49. The sale was involuntary, as Plaintiff's financial ruin stemmed from the void judgment (¶ 21).

50. If Citibank's lien is invalid, Plaintiff's total equity was ~$647,909.54 ($1,142,000 minus $62,523.24 Citizens' lien and $36,000 other claims, ¶ 29).

51. The Property was disclosed in bankruptcy schedules (Dkt. 11, Ex. 5), enabling avoidance under § 522(h).

DRAFT

52. The sale's gross inadequacy (~32.5% of market value) and irregularities (e.g., discharge violation, surplus shortfall) rebut the "BFP v. Resolution Trust Corp." presumption (511 U.S. 531, 1994).

53. Plaintiff notified Citizens of the fraud during bankruptcy (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7), including a February 2, 2024, email (Ex. 7, pp. 49–50).

54. Trustee Corps refused to disclose bidder information or notify them of litigation (Ex. 4, p. 24; Ex. 8).

55. Plaintiff offered to return surplus funds to Hou, who refused (Ex. 4, p. 19; Ex. 8).

56. The sale price ($371,688) was grossly inadequate, causing ~$815,241.50 in damages (¶ 29).

57. Plaintiff spent ~$216,000 in time defending against the foreclosure and unlawful detainer (8 hours/day at $300/hour for 63 weekdays against Citizens/Trustee Corps; 6 hours/day for 36 days against Hou/Paloci, ¶ 29).

58. Additional damages include $19,668.92 in un-itemized Citizens' fees (Ex. 3, p. 72), $5,000 in estimated moving expenses, and $200,000 in tax base loss over 30 years (¶ 29).

59. Plaintiff's emotional distress, to be proven at trial, stems from the loss of his home and livelihood.

60. The unlawful detainer action lacks standing, as Hou's title derives from a void sale (¶ 31).

61. The statute of limitations for Plaintiff's claims is equitably tolled due to Defendants' ongoing fraud, the court's failure to address the 2017 judgment's invalidity (¶ 69), Trustee

DRAFT

Naylor's inaction (¶ 95–97), the unlawful detainer action (¶ 33), the denial of Plaintiff's ex parte application for stay in California court (Case No. 30-2015-00805807, Ex. 11), and Plaintiff's forced relocation from his home of nearly 20 years out of state, which prevented timely filing despite Plaintiff's diligent efforts (Dkt. 15, Case 22A426, Lantzy v. Centex Homes, 31 Cal. 4th 363, 370, 2003).

62. Plaintiff seeks equitable relief to restore his Property and prevent further harm.

63. This Court's intervention is critical to remedy these violations and protect Plaintiff's rights.

64. Plaintiff's bankruptcy schedules (Dkt. 11, Ex. 5) accurately reflect the Property's value and disputed liens.

65. The 2017 lien's enforcement violated Plaintiff's Fourth and Fifth Amendment rights.

66. Citibank's failure to file a proof of claim (¶ 109) negates their lien's validity.

67. The 2017 judgment's fraud is detailed in state court filings (Case 22A426, Ex. 11).

68. Plaintiff's QWRs (Exs. 21, 24) demanded proof of Citibank's debt, unanswered.

69. The foreclosure sale's proceeds were not distributed to the estate, harming creditors.

70. Naylor's inaction violated Local Bankruptcy Rule 4001-1 (Dkt. 15).

71. Plaintiff's adversary proceeding (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC) was dismissed without a hearing, violating FRBP 7001.

72. The district court's denial (Ex. 21) ignored Plaintiff's due process evidence.

STANDING

85. First Cause (Discharge Injunction Violation, 11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2)): Plaintiff has standing to challenge Citizens' violation of the discharge injunction, as he suffered an injury-in-fact (~$815,241.50 equity loss, $216,000 in time, ¶ 76) caused by Citizens' bad faith foreclosure exploiting the discharged 2017 judgment (¶ 75), redressable by voiding the sale and awarding damages (Prayer D, In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009).

86. Second Cause (Unauthorized Transfer, 11 U.S.C. § 549): Plaintiff has standing to seek avoidance of the unauthorized foreclosure transfer, as the injury (~$815,241.50 equity loss, ¶ 80) was caused by Citizens, Trustee Corps, and Hou's actions without court approval (¶ 80), redressable by recovering the Property or its value under § 550 (Prayer B, In re Gould, 401 B.R. 415, 426, 9th Cir. BAP 2009).

87. Third Cause (Wrongful Foreclosure, 11 U.S.C. § 522(h)): Plaintiff has standing under § 522(h) to avoid the wrongful foreclosure, as the involuntary transfer caused ~$815,241.50 in equity loss and harmed his $600,000 homestead exemption (¶ 85–88), traceable to Defendants' conspiracy (¶ 85), and redressable by voiding the sale and damages (Prayer A, In re Gebhart, 621 F.3d 1206, 1210, 9th Cir. 2010).

88. Fourth Cause (Misuse of Stay Relief, 11 U.S.C. § 105(a)): Plaintiff has standing to seek equitable relief for Citizens' misuse of the stay relief order, as the injury (~$815,241.50 equity loss, ¶ 91) was caused by Citizens' bad faith foreclosure (¶ 90), redressable by voiding the sale and sanctions (Prayer E, Marbury v. Madison, 5 U.S. 137, 177, 1803).

89. Fifth Cause (Unconstitutionality of Cal. Civ. Code § 2924): Plaintiff has standing to challenge § 2924's unconstitutional application, as Defendants' actions caused ~$815,241.50 in equity loss and constitutional violations (¶ 95–96), redressable by declaring § 2924 unconstitutional and voiding the sale (Prayer O, Lujan v. Defenders of Wildlife, 504 U.S. 555, 560–61, 1992).

DRAFT

90. Sixth Cause (Trustee Negligence, 11 U.S.C. § 105(a)): Plaintiff has standing to pursue Naylor's gross negligence, as her inaction caused ~$815,241.50 in estate loss and harmed his $600,000 exemption (¶ 101–102), redressable by damages and surcharge (Prayer P, In re Harris, 590 F.3d 730, 742, 9th Cir. 2009).

91. Seventh Cause (Citibank Lien Validity, 11 U.S.C. § 506(a), § 522(f)): Plaintiff has standing under § 522(h) to challenge Citibank's lien, as its fraudulent claim threatens his $600,000 exemption and estate surplus (~$943,782.76, ¶ 110–111), redressable by invalidating the lien (Prayer S, In re Reed, 940 F.2d 1317, 1321, 9th Cir. 1991).

92. Eighth Cause (Citibank Stay Violation, 11 U.S.C. § 362(k)): Plaintiff has standing to seek damages for Citibank's stay violation, as its post-petition actions caused ~$216,000 in expenses and distress (¶ 116), redressable by § 362(k) damages and sanctions (Prayer T, In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004).

93. Ninth Cause (Hou/Paloci Stay Violation, 11 U.S.C. § 362(k)): Plaintiff has standing to challenge Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A.'s stay violation, as their UD action caused ~$216,000 in expenses, $5,000 in moving costs, $200,000 in tax base loss, and distress (¶ 129), traceable to their conspiracy with Citizens (¶ 128), and redressable by § 362(k) damages (Prayer U, In re Kuehn).

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION: Violation of Discharge Injunction (11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2), Against Citizens)

73. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–72 as if fully set forth herein.

74. The 2017 judgment, discharged on March 27, 2023 (Dkt. 32, Ex. 6) and its lien avoided on June 22, 2023 (Dkt. 90), remained unadjudicated due to a continued chain of denial of judicial proceedings, directly and proximately causing Plaintiff's insolvency (Ex. 11, pp. 14–15). This denial included multiple court rejections of Plaintiff's attempts to challenge the void judgment, as detailed in ¶ 36, as void judgments require no time limit for challenge (People v. American Contractors Indemnity Co., 33 Cal. 4th 653, 660, 2004). Citizens knew through notices (Dkt. 102, 103; Ex. 7, pp. 43, 49–50; Motion for Withdrawal of Reference, Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21; Ex Parte Application, Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22) that adjudication was required, yet proceeded with default, exacerbating the harm. Citizens' bad faith, breach of Cal. Civ. Code § 1708, and unconstitutional § 2924 conspiracy (¶ 77) were not authorized by the stay relief order, enabled by the court's reckless disregard (Dkt. 15; Case 22A426, pp. 4–47).

DRAFT

75. Citizens' July 10, 2024, default declaration (Ex. 3, pp. 13–15) used the void 2017 judgment, which caused Plaintiff's insolvency, as the basis for declaring default, violating § 524(a)(2) by indirectly enforcing a discharged debt (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009). The ~$815,241.50 equity loss assumes Citibank's $457,693.71 lien is invalid, as Plaintiff alleges it was fraudulent and discharged in bankruptcy (Dkt. 32, Ex. 6). Citizens' actions constituted willful contempt of the discharge order (Dkt. 32), as they knowingly violated § 524(a)(2) with no fair ground to believe their default declaration was lawful, given Plaintiff's notices of the 2017 judgment lien's avoidance (Dkt. 90) and fraud (Dkt. 102, 103; Exs. 7, 21–22, Taggart v. Lorenzen, 139 S. Ct. 1795, 1801, 2019), warranting punitive damages (In re Paul, 534 F.3d 1303, 1306, 9th Cir. 2008).

76. Plaintiff suffered damages, including ~$815,241.50 in equity loss and $216,000 in time defending (¶ 29).

77. Plaintiff seeks an order voiding the sale, damages, and sanctions under § 524(a)(2).

78. Alternatively, Plaintiff seeks contempt sanctions under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a).

86. The 2017 judgment, discharged on March 27, 2023 (Dkt. 32, Ex. 6), with its lien avoided on June 22, 2023 (Dkt. 90), remained unadjudicated due to the systemic denial of judicial proceedings outlined in the Judicial Procedural History (¶ 36–47). These denials directly caused Plaintiff's insolvency, as void judgments require no time limit for challenge (People v. American Contractors Indemnity Co., 33 Cal. 4th 653, 660, 2004). Citizens was notified of the judgment's fraud through multiple filings, including bankruptcy declarations (Dkt. 102, 103), a February 2, 2024, email (Ex. 7, pp. 43, 49–50), the Motion for Withdrawal of Reference (Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21), and the Ex Parte Application for Temporary Restraining Order (Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22), rendering their foreclosure a willful violation with no fair ground of doubt (Taggart v. Lorenzen, 139 S. Ct. 1795, 1801, 2019).

DRAFT

87.1 The 2017 judgment's fraud, void for lack of prosecutorial authority and jurisdictional defects (¶ 24, People v. American Contractors Indemnity Co., 33 Cal. 4th 653, 660, 2004), caused Plaintiff's license suspension (¶ 26), denial of judicial remedy across state and federal courts (¶ 36–47), and insolvency (¶ 48), which were the proximate cause of the default exploited by Citizens' foreclosure (¶ 75), violating § 524(a)(2) by indirectly enforcing a discharged debt (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009). Citizens' foreclosure, relying on the void judgment's illegal effects (¶ 24, 48), is unenforceable, as courts will not aid claims founded on illegal acts (Asher v. Johnson, 26 Cal.App.2d 403, 79 P.2d 457, 1938; Lee On v. Long, 37 Cal.2d 499, 234 P.2d 9, 1951; Nathan v. Tenna Corp., 560 F.2d 761, 1977), violating public policy and bankruptcy's fresh start (Al-Ibrahim v. Edde, 897 F.Supp. 620, 1995; Local Loan Co. v. Hunt, 292 U.S. 234, 244, 1934).

88. Plaintiff suffered damages, including ~$815,241.50 in equity loss and $216,000 in time defending against the foreclosure (¶ 57–58), proximately caused by Citizens' willful violation of the discharge injunction through reliance on the illegal 2017 judgment's effects (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009; In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004). These harms, exacerbated by Citizens' knowledge of the fraud and discharge (¶ 86), warrant compensatory and punitive damages for egregious conduct (In re Paul, 534 F.3d 1303, 1306, 9th Cir. 2008).

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION: Avoidance of Unauthorized Post-Petition Transfer (11 U.S.C. § 549, Against Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou)

79. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–78 as if fully set forth herein.

80. The sale on November 18, 2024, was an unauthorized post-petition transfer of estate property under § 549(a), executed without court approval, as the Property remained in the estate until abandonment on December 31, 2024 (Dkt. 112, Dkt. 11, Ex. 5). The stay relief order (Dkt. 45), granted solely under § 362(d)(2), was invalidly granted, as the court violated its mandatory constitutional duty to ensure Plaintiff's due process by ignoring evidence of substantial equity ($592,946.29, Dkt. 15, ¶ 18) and the void 2017 judgment's fraudulent effects, which caused Plaintiff's alleged default and bankruptcy (¶ 48–49; Dkt. 15; Ex. 11, pp. 38–40). Despite notice of Plaintiff's exhaustion of state court remedies and their fraudulent denials (Case 22A426, pp. 4–12; ¶ 36–47; Motion for Withdrawal of Reference, Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21; Ex Parte Application, Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22), the court, acting as a 'gatekeeper,' directed Plaintiff to seek an injunction in state court during the March 1, 2023, hearing to stop Citizens' attempts to obtain relief from the stay to commence foreclosure proceedings, breaching its duty to examine evidence (In re Gould, 401 B.R. 415, 426, 9th Cir. BAP 2009) and provide a remedy (Marbury v. Madison, 5 U.S. 137, 177, 1803). This failure, part of a systemic denial of judicial remedy that forced Plaintiff into bankruptcy to seek a fresh start and emergency stay, constituted reckless disregard and fraud on the court, invalidating the order (Ex. 11, pp. 28–30). Even if valid, the order did not authorize Citizens' unconstitutional and illegal acts—bad faith foreclosure, breach of Cal. Civ. Code § 1708 duties, and conspiracy to use Cal. Civ. Code § 2924 to violate constitutional protections (¶ 77)—as these are not 'in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law,' rendering the sale unauthorized (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 22). Trustee Corps exacerbated the unauthorized transfer by refusing to provide bidder information or disclose litigation affecting the Property's title (Ex. 4, p. 24), further undermining the sale's legitimacy.

DRAFT

81. The Property was part of the bankruptcy estate (Dkt. 11, Ex. 5), and the sale diminished Plaintiff's exemption (¶ 28).

82. Plaintiff seeks to avoid the transfer and recover the Property or its value ($1,142,000) under § 550.

83. Defendants' actions were willful, warranting damages and costs.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION: Wrongful Foreclosure (11 U.S.C. § 522(h), Against Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou, Paloci, Paloci III, P.A., Murillo, Sergeant X, CHP Officer Doe 1, CHP Officer Doe 2)

84. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–83 as if fully set forth herein.

85. The sale was wrongful, relying on a void judgment (¶ 21), executed at a grossly inadequate price ($371,688 vs. $1,142,000, ¶ 41), and tainted by fraud (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7). Defendants Citizens and Trustee Corps conspired pre-sale to commit wrongful foreclosure by agreeing to execute the November 18, 2024, sale, despite notice of the

DRAFT

2017 judgment's fraud and discharge (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7, pp. 43, 49–50; Ex. 22). Defendants Hou, Paloci, Paloci III, P.A., Murillo, Sergeant X, CHP Officer Doe 1, and CHP Officer Doe 2 aided and abetted the conspiracy post-sale by: Hou and Paloci pursuing the unlawful detainer action after notice on February 4–17, 2025 (Ex. 4, pp. 9–10, 27–47); Murillo and Sergeant X refusing to fully, fairly, impartially, and independently investigate Plaintiff's complaints of the judgment's fraud and refusing to intervene to stop the ongoing crimes/deprivations of rights, instead serving the eviction notice on March 27, 2025, despite notice of the sale's invalidity (Ex. 9–10); and CHP Officer Doe 1 and Doe 2 refusing to fully, fairly, impartially, and independently investigate Plaintiff's fraud complaints and refusing to intervene to stop the ongoing crimes/deprivations of rights (Case 22A426, pp. 50–51, Ex. D, pp. 4905–5010), furthering the wrongful foreclosure's harm to the estate and Plaintiff's exemption (Ex. 11, pp. 28–30, "In re Gebhart", 621 F.3d 1206, 1210, 9th Cir. 2010). Citizens' bad faith, breach of Cal. Civ. Code § 1708, and § 2924 conspiracy violated applicable nonbankruptcy law, unauthorized by the stay relief order and enabled by the court's due process failure (Dkt. 15). Plaintiff's emotional distress includes panic attacks, severe depression, and physical symptoms, as detailed in his bankruptcy declarations (Ex. 5).

86. Plaintiff has standing under § 522(h) to avoid the transfer, as it was involuntary and the Property was exempt (¶ 35).

87. Plaintiff seeks to void the sale, cancel the Trustee's Deed, and recover the Property.

88. Damages include ~$815,241.50 in equity loss, $216,000 in time, and emotional distress (¶ 29). Hou and Paloci's unlawful detainer action (Ex. 4, pp. 27–47) and refusal of surplus funds (Ex. 4, p. 19), Murillo and Sergeant X's eviction notice service (Ex. 9–10), and CHP Officer Doe 1 and Doe 2's refusal to investigate and intervene (Case 22A426, pp. 50–51), furthered the conspiracy, contributing to these damages.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Equitable Relief for Misuse of Stay Relief Order (11 U.S.C. § 105(a), Against Citizens)

89. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–88 as if fully set forth herein.

DRAFT

90. Citizens misused the stay relief order (Dkt. 45) by foreclosing despite notice of the judgment's fraud (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7). Citizens deliberately chose non-judicial foreclosure, avoiding judicial scrutiny that could have addressed the judgment's fraud (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42). By proceeding with a non-judicial foreclosure without judicial oversight, Citizens' actions, enabled by Cal. Civ. Code § 2924, functioned as a state-sanctioned punishment akin to a bill of pains and penalties, targeting Plaintiff for insolvency caused by the void 2017 judgment and denying Plaintiff due process to contest the sale's validity (Ex. 11, pp. 28–30, 38–40). Citizens' misuse involved bad faith, Cal. Civ. Code § 1708 breaches, and § 2924 conspiracy, unauthorized by the stay relief order's 'applicable nonbankruptcy law' requirement, enabled by the court's due process failure (Dkt. 15). Citizens received multiple notices of the fraud, including bankruptcy declarations (Dkt. 102, 103) and emails (Ex. 7, pp. 43, 49–50), yet proceeded with the sale.

91. This misuse caused irreparable harm, including equity loss and ongoing UD litigation (¶ 31).

92. Plaintiff seeks equitable relief to void the sale, impose sanctions, and prevent further harm.

93. The Court's inherent powers under § 105(a) support this relief.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Declaratory Relief for Unconstitutionality of Cal. Civ. Code § 2924 (As Applied, Against Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou, Paloci, Paloci III, P.A., Citibank, NewRez, Murillo, Sergeant X, CHP Officer Doe 1, CHP Officer Doe 2)

94. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–93 as if fully set forth herein.

95. California Civil Code § 2924, as applied by Defendants Citizens Bank N.A., MTC Financial Inc. d/b/a Trustee Corps, Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, Henry D. Paloci III, P.A., Citibank N.A., NewRez LLC, Deputy Murillo, Sergeant X, CHP Officer Doe 1, and CHP Officer Doe 2 to the November 18, 2024, foreclosure sale of Plaintiff's Property (818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA), is unconstitutional under Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 1, 7, 19, and U.S. Const. Amends. V, XIV, as it facilitated an unauthorized transfer of Plaintiff's home equity—a protected property interest—without due process or just compensation. Trustee Corps withheld litigation details from bidders (Ex. 4, p. 24), and Hou refused to return surplus funds despite notice (Ex. 4, p. 19), exploiting § 2924's lack of safeguards. Section 2924's omission of appraisal or fair market value requirements enabled the sale at ~32.5% of value, exacerbating the unconstitutional taking. Section 2924's failure to require promissory note recording facilitated fraud, as Defendants concealed title defects (Ex. 3, pp. 13–23).

96. The Property, valued at approximately $1,142,000, was sold for $371,688, resulting in a loss of ~$815,241.50 in equity (¶ 29), transferred to Defendant Hou without compensation, constituting a taking in violation of Cal. Const. Art. I, § 19 and U.S. Const. Amend. V (Tyler v. Hennepin County, 143 S. Ct. 1369, 1377, 2023). Section 2924's failure to mandate fair market value sales or require appraisals enabled this equity theft, violating Plaintiff's inalienable right to acquire, possess, and protect property (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 1).

97. Defendants' reliance on § 2924's non-judicial process, exploiting a void 2017 judgment (¶ 21), denied Plaintiff a pre-deprivation hearing to contest the sale's validity, violating due process under Cal. Const. Art. I, § 7 and U.S. Const. Amend. XIV (Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319, 335, 1976). Citizens and Trustee Corps proceeded despite notice of the judgment's fraud (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7; Ex. 22). Hou, Paloci, Paloci III, P.A., Murillo, Sergeant X, CHP Officer Doe 1, and CHP Officer Doe 2 aided and abetted the conspiracy to violate Plaintiff's due process and takings rights by: Hou and Paloci pursuing the UD action after notice on February 4–17, 2025 (Ex. 4, pp. 9–10, 27–47); Murillo and Sergeant X refusing to fully, fairly, impartially, and independently investigate Plaintiff's complaints of the judgment's fraud and refusing to intervene to stop the ongoing crimes/deprivations of rights, instead serving the eviction notice on March 27, 2025, despite notice (Ex. 9–10); and CHP Officer Doe 1 and Doe 2 refusing to fully, fairly, impartially, and independently investigate Plaintiff's fraud complaints and refusing to intervene to stop the ongoing crimes/deprivations of rights (Case 22A426, pp. 50–51, Ex. D, pp. 4905–5010), contributing to the unconstitutional taking and punishment akin to a bill of pains and penalties (Ex. 11, pp. 38–40). By enabling the foreclosure without judicial oversight and without consideration for Plaintiff's equity interest, § 2924 operated as a state-sanctioned punishment, akin to a bill of pains and penalties, targeting Plaintiff for insolvency caused by the void 2017 judgment's fraud, denying due process and effecting an unconstitutional taking (Ex. 11, pp. 28–30, 38–40). Citizens' bad faith and Cal. Civ. Code § 1708 breaches via § 2924 were unauthorized by the stay relief order, exacerbated by the court's due process denial (Dkt. 15; Case 22A426, pp. 37–52).

DRAFT

98. Section 2924 constitutes state action, as it delegates coercive power to private parties to foreclose without judicial oversight, implicating constitutional protections (Lugar v. Edmondson Oil Co., 457 U.S. 922, 937, 1982; Shelley v. Kraemer, 334 U.S. 1, 20, 1948). The sale's gross inadequacy (~32.5% of market value, ¶ 41) and lack of procedural safeguards caused an erroneous deprivation of Plaintiff's property interest.

99. Plaintiff seeks declaratory relief that § 2924, as applied to the foreclosure sale, is unconstitutional, and an order voiding the sale and Trustee's Deed Upon Sale (Instrument No. 2025000040781, Ex. 3, pp. 16–23) as products of an unconstitutional process, restoring the Property to the bankruptcy estate.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Gross Negligence and Breach of Fiduciary Duty (11 U.S.C. § 105(a), Against Trustee Karen S. Naylor and Surety Doe)

100. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–99 as if fully set forth herein.

101. Trustee Karen S. Naylor's gross negligence and breach of fiduciary duty, evidenced by a pattern of inaction on the void 2017 judgment, Citizens' foreclosure, and Citibank's disputed lien, harmed the bankruptcy estate and Plaintiff's $600,000 homestead exemption (In re Harris, 590 F.3d 730, 742, 9th Cir. 2009). Her failure to investigate or challenge these issues, despite notice (Dkt. 15, Case 22A426, LBR 4001-1; Motion for Withdrawal of Reference, Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21; Ex Parte Application, Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22), and declaration of no assets (Dkt. 72, May 19, 2023), enabled the non-judicial foreclosure sale (November 18, 2024, ¶ 30) after the court inconsistently granted Citizens' motion for relief while denying Citibank's (Dkt. 44, ¶ 111), despite similar fraud concerns (Dkt. 15, ¶ 28; Dkt. 58, ¶ 77). This resulted in the theft of ~$815,241.50 in equity and denial of Plaintiff's exemption, undermining his fresh start (Slaieh v. Simon, 584 B.R. 28, 40, C.D. Cal. 2018). The court's erroneous dismissal and reconsideration denial (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Docs. 19, 27), which relied on Naylor's control over estate claims without addressing her inaction, exacerbated this harm. Naylor's failure to oppose Citizens' motion—despite notice of equity ($556,549.54, Dkt. 15, ¶ 18), unproven default (Dkt. 15, ¶ 28), and the fraudulent 2017 lien (Case 22A426, pp. 4–47)—or investigate allowed a sale that destroyed ~$647,909.54 in estate value ($1,142,000 − $494,090.46 in valid liens, Dkt. 15, ¶ 18), contrary to her duty to maximize assets (In re Gunnison Center Apartments, LP, 320 B.R. 391, 397, Bankr. D. Colo. 2005).

DRAFT

102. Surety Doe, as Naylor's bondholder under 11 U.S.C. § 322(b), is liable for losses caused by Naylor's gross negligence (In re AFI Holding, Inc., 525 F.3d 700, 703, 8th Cir. 2008). Damages include ~$815,241.50 in estate value loss and ~$600,000 in exemption loss.

103. Plaintiff seeks damages, surcharge against Naylor, recovery from the bond, and equitable relief under § 105(a).

SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Determination of Validity and Secured Status of Alleged Citibank Lien (11 U.S.C. § 506(a), § 522(f), Against Citibank N.A.)

104. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–103 as if fully set forth herein.

105. On December 8, 2022, Plaintiff filed for Chapter 7 bankruptcy (Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC, Dkt. 1), scheduling Citibank N.A.'s alleged first mortgage lien of $457,693.71 on the Property (818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA) as secured (Dkt. 11, Ex. 5). On February 15, 2023, Plaintiff amended his schedules, listing the lien as disputed and unsecured due to evidence of fraud (Dkt. 18; Dkt. 15, ¶ 2; Case 22A426, pp. 14–15).

106. On April 19, 2023, Citibank, through its alleged agent NewRez LLC, filed a Motion for Relief from Stay (Dkt. 44), claiming a $502,238.46 lien based on a July 5, 2005, promissory note ($595,000, First Horizon) and an undated, unattached allonge lacking proof of agency authority (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Ex. 15, pp. 14–17; Dkt. 58, Ex. 1, p. 4). Plaintiff opposed, alleging fraud and lack of standing (Dkt. 58, ¶ 8–54), and the court denied Citibank's motion, recognizing deficiencies in its claim, unlike its granting of Citizens' motion, which enabled the foreclosure sale (¶ 111). Citibank was notified of these issues through Plaintiff's Motion for Withdrawal of Reference (Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21) and Ex Parte Application for Temporary Restraining Order (Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22).

107. On July 14, 2023, Plaintiff filed an adversary proceeding (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Doc 1) to determine the validity and enforceability of Citibank's lien, prompted by Citibank's foreclosure attempts (Notice of Default, July 7, 2022; Dkt. 58, ¶ 9) and systemic denial of state court remedies, which provided no forum to adjudicate Citibank's claim due to fraudulent denials and jurisdictional defects, forcing Plaintiff into bankruptcy (¶ 36–47, Case 22A426, pp. 4–12; Dkt. 58, ¶ 1).

108. Plaintiff denies the note's validity, signatures, and transfers, alleging Citibank is not a holder/beneficiary (CCC §§ 3309, 9312(b), 9313, 9314) and engaged in fraudulent acts (CCC § 3202(b)). Citibank failed to produce the original note or account statements despite Qualified Written Requests (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Exs. 20, 24; Dkt. 58, Ex. 6, pp. 1–8), and no proof of claim was filed (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, ¶ 22). Under CCC § 3308(a), Plaintiff is not obligated to pay absent proof of debt, negating default (Dkt. 58, ¶ 49–54). The note, if valid, was discharged on March 27, 2023 (Dkt. 32, Ex. 6). Citibank and NewRez filed fraudulent documents (Notice of Default, Substitution of Trustee, Corporate Assignment of Deed of Trust, Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Exs. 11–13; Dkt. 58, Ex. 1, pp. 22–26), violating Cal. Penal Code §§ 470, 487, 182 (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, ¶ 36–37; Dkt. 58, ¶ 77). The allonge's appearance in Dkt. 44, absent in prior QWRs (Ex. 20; Dkt. 58, Ex. 6), and contradicted by Mr. Cooper's note claim (Dkt. 58, Ex. 3, p. 11, March 20, 2023), evidences fraud. The assignments are nullities without note transfer (Cal. Civ. Code § 1084; "Carpenter v. Longan", 83 U.S. 271, 274, 1872), lack agent authority (Dkt. 58, ¶ 73–76, Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1971), and contain redactions (Dkt. 58, ¶ 19). Citibank lacks standing (CCC §§ 3501(b)(2), 9203, 3301; Dkt. 58, ¶ 8–15).

109. The court's dismissal of the adversary for lack of standing (Doc 19, August 31, 2023), followed by denial of reconsideration (Doc 27, October 13, 2023), was erroneous and part of a systemic denial of due process (¶ 36–47, Case 22A426, pp. 4–12; Dkt. 58, ¶ 54, 80). The court noted it would abstain to state court if standing existed (Doc 19, p. 4, n.4) but dismissed without addressing Plaintiff's fraud evidence (Doc 16, Dkt. 58, Exs. 1–6) or holding hearings (Docs. 19, 27), violating FRBP 7001. The district court's denial of Plaintiff's Motion for Withdrawal of Reference (Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21) and inaction on his Ex Parte Application for Temporary Restraining Order (Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22) furthered these denials. Plaintiff has standing under § 522(h), as his $600,000 homestead exemption (Dkt. 11, Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 704.730), unopposed by March 15, 2023, revested in him under § 522(l) ("In re Reed", 940 F.2d 1317, 1321, 9th Cir. 1991), covering the $457,693.71 lien ("Miller v. Huntington Nat. Bank", 2013 WL 593780, N.D. W. Va. 2013). Plaintiff scheduled a $50,000,000 claim including Citibank (Dkt. 11, Case 22A426, Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, ¶ 2), countering the court's "unscheduled" finding (Doc 27, p. 5, n.4). Referral to state court, known to deny remedy due to conflicts and jurisdictional defects (¶ 36–47, Dkt. 58, ¶ 1), would violate judicial redress (Marbury v. Madison, 5 U.S. 137, 163, 1803).

110. Trustee Naylor's failure to pursue the Citibank claim or challenge the fraudulent 2017 judgment, despite notice (Dkt. 15, Case 22A426, LBR 4001-1; Motion for Withdrawal of Reference, Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21; Ex Parte Application, Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22), and declaration of no assets (Dkt. 72, May 19, 2023), breached her fiduciary duty (Slaieh v. Simon, 584 B.R. 28, 40, C.D. Cal. 2018). This inaction, unaddressed by the court's dismissal (Docs. 19, 27), enabled the non-judicial foreclosure sale (November 18, 2024, ¶ 30) by Citizens, whose motion for relief was granted despite similar fraud concerns, unlike Citibank's denied motion (Dkt. 44), resulting in the theft of ~$815,241.50 in equity, denial of Plaintiff's $600,000 homestead exemption, and loss of his fresh start by preventing a surplus (~$943,782.76, ¶ 101).

111. If invalid, the lien would yield ~$457,693.71 in equity, creating a ~$943,782.76 surplus for Plaintiff's exemption or the estate (In re Andrews, 80 F.3d 558, 561, 1st Cir. 1996).

112. Plaintiff seeks a determination under § 506(a) that Citibank's alleged lien is unsecured or invalid, avoidance under § 522(f) to the extent it impairs his exemption, a declaratory judgment that Citibank has no valid lien, and an order striking fraudulent documents (Exs. 11–13) from the Orange County Clerk-Recorder's records.

EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Violation of Automatic Stay and False Claim (11 U.S.C. § 362(k), § 105(a), Against Citibank N.A.)

113. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–112 as if fully set forth herein.

114. Citibank N.A., through its alleged agent NewRez LLC, violated the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(3) by attempting to perfect its alleged $502,238.46 lien post-petition, as detailed in ¶ 106–107. The introduction of an undated allonge in NewRez's Motion for Relief from Stay (Dkt. 44, April 19, 2023; Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Ex. 15, p. 17; Dkt. 58, Ex. 1, p. 4), absent in prior Qualified Written Requests (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Ex. 20, March 29, 2023; Dkt. 58, Ex. 6, pp. 1–8) and contradicted by Mr.

DRAFT

Cooper's claim to hold the original note (Dkt. 58, Ex. 3, p. 11, March 20, 2023), was a post-petition act to falsely establish Citibank's lien status.

115. This act constituted a willful violation of the stay, seeking to control estate property without court approval (In re Del Mission Ltd., 98 F.3d 1147, 1151, 9th Cir. 1996), and a false claim misrepresenting Citibank's lien status with intent to deceive the court and estate, violating 18 U.S.C. § 152(4) (false claim), Cal. Penal Code § 115 (false filing), § 132 (offering false evidence), § 134 (preparing false evidence), § 182 (conspiracy), and FRBP 9011 (In re Eskew, 573 B.R. 317, 323, Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2017). The court's failure to address this fraud in its dismissal for lack of standing, despite noting hypothetical abstention (Docs. 19, p. 4, n.4; 27), furthered the conspiracy to defraud Plaintiff and the estate (¶ 107, Dkt. 58, ¶ 77).

116. The stay violation, compounded by Trustee Naylor's failure to challenge Citibank's false claim (Dkt. 72, May 19, 2023) and the court's inconsistent granting of Citizens' motion for relief despite denying Citibank's (¶ 111), caused Plaintiff injury, including legal expenses (~$216,000, ¶ 58) and emotional distress (¶ 59). This enabled the non-judicial foreclosure sale (November 18, 2024, ¶ 30), stealing ~$815,241.50 in equity and denying Plaintiff's $600,000 homestead exemption, undermining his fresh start (In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004).

117. Plaintiff seeks damages under § 362(k), sanctions under § 105(a), and a finding that Citibank's false claim via the allonge invalidates its lien, as part of the conspiracy to deprive Plaintiff of his Property (¶ 107, Dkt. 58, ¶ 77).

NINTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Violation of Automatic Stay (11 U.S.C. § 362(k), Against Hou, Paloci, Paloci III, P.A.)

126. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–117 as if fully set forth herein.

127. Defendants Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A., willfully violated the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(6) by filing and pursuing an unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684, February 11, 2025, ¶ 34) to collect a discharged debt tied to the 2017 judgment (discharged March 27, 2023, ¶ 86, Dkt. 32) and enforce a void foreclosure sale

DRAFT

(¶ 30, 75), despite notice of Plaintiff's bankruptcy filing (Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC) and the judgment's fraud [Placeholder: Describe Notice Content, e.g., Ex. 4, pp. 9–10, 19; Ex. 8; Case 22A426, pp. 50–51]. Their knowledge of the discharge and fraud left no fair ground of doubt that their actions violated § 524(a)(2) and § 362(a)(6) (Taggart v. Lorenzen, 139 S. Ct. 1795, 1801, 2019).

128. Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A., acted with knowledge of the bankruptcy, as Plaintiff provided the bankruptcy case number and fraud details [Placeholder: Notice Details], yet conspired with and aided/abetted Citizens' bad faith foreclosure, which violated the discharge injunction by exploiting the discharged judgment's effects (¶ 75, In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009). Their pursuit of the UD action and default judgment [Placeholder: UD Judgment Details] furthered this conspiracy, seeking to control estate interests and enforce a discharged debt (In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004).

128.1 The 2017 judgment's fraud, void for lack of prosecutorial authority (¶ 24, People v. American Contractors Indemnity Co., 33 Cal. 4th 653, 660, 2004), caused Plaintiff's license suspension (¶ 26), denial of judicial remedy (¶ 36–47), and insolvency (¶ 48), which were the proximate cause of the default underlying the foreclosure enforced by Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A.'s UD action (¶ 34, 128), violating § 362(a)(6) and § 524(a)(2) by collecting a discharged debt (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009). Their UD action, relying on the void judgment's illegal effects (¶ 24, 48), is unenforceable, as courts will not aid claims founded on illegal acts (Asher v. Johnson, 26 Cal.App.2d 403, 79 P.2d 457, 1938; Lee On v. Long, 37 Cal.2d 499, 234 P.2d 9, 1951; Nathan v. Tenna Corp., 560 F.2d 761, 1977; Bassidji v. Goe, 413 F.3d 928, 2005; Franklin v. Mortgage Guaranty & Security Co., 57 F.2d 834, 1932; Al-Ibrahim v. Edde, 897 F.Supp. 620, 1995).

129. This willful violation caused Plaintiff damages, including ~$216,000 in time defending, $5,000 in moving expenses, $200,000 in tax base loss over 30 years, and emotional distress (¶ 57–59), proximately caused by Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A.'s UD action enforcing the illegal 2017 judgment's effects (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009; In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004). These harms, exacerbated by their knowledge of the fraud and discharge (¶ 127), warrant compensatory and punitive damages for egregious conduct (In re Paul, 534 F.3d 1303, 1306, 9th Cir. 2008).

DRAFT

130. Plaintiff seeks damages under 11 U.S.C. § 362(k), including ~$216,000 in legal expenses, $5,000 in moving expenses, $200,000 in tax base loss, and emotional distress, punitive damages for willful misconduct, sanctions under § 105(a), and a finding that the UD action and judgment are void as violations of the automatic stay.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Plaintiff respectfully requests the following relief:

A. An order voiding the November 18, 2024, foreclosure sale and canceling the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale (Instrument No. 20250000040781).

B. Recovery of the Property (818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA) to the bankruptcy estate under 11 U.S.C. § 550.

C. A determination that Citizens' lien is secured only to the extent of the sale proceeds, with surplus due to Plaintiff (11 U.S.C. § 506(a)).

D. Damages for violation of the discharge injunction, including ~$815,241.50 in equity loss, $216,000 in time defending, and all harms proximately caused by the illegal 2017 judgment's effects (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009; In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004), and, if the sale is not voided, a determination that Citizens' lien is secured only to the extent of the debt owed ($62,523.24), with any surplus due to Plaintiff (11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2), § 506(a)).

E. Sanctions against Citizens for misuse of the stay relief order (11 U.S.C. § 105(a)).

F. Declare the UD judgment (Case No. 30-2025-01459684) void due to Citizens' bad faith violation of 11 U.S.C. § 524, Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A.'s willful violation of 11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(6) through conspiracy and aiding/abetting, and as independent of any determination in the separate adversary proceeding challenging the 2017 judgment, with damages under § 362(k).

DRAFT

G. Costs of suit and attorney fees, if applicable.

H. A professional appraisal of the Property to confirm damages, if the sale is not voided.

I. Dismissal of the unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684) with prejudice.

J. An accounting of all fees and costs charged by Citizens (Ex. 3, p. 72).

K. Emotional distress damages, to be proven at trial.

L. Punitive damages for Defendants' willful misconduct (Cal. Civ. Code § 3294).

M. All other relief the Court deems just and proper.

N. An order requiring surplus funds be returned to Hou, less Plaintiff's awarded damages, within five business days.

O. Declare that Cal. Civ. Code § 2924, as applied by Defendants to the November 18, 2024, foreclosure sale, violated Plaintiff's rights under Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 1, 7, 19, and U.S. Const. Amends. V, XIV, by enabling the transfer of ~$815,241.50 in home equity without due process or just compensation, and void the sale and Trustee's Deed as unconstitutional.

P. Surcharge Trustee Naylor for ~$815,241.50 in estate losses and ~$600,000 in exemption losses, and recover against her bond under 11 U.S.C. § 322(b).

Q. Punitive damages for Citizens' willful contempt of the discharge injunction under 11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2).

DRAFT

R. Injunctive relief to compel the court to adjudicate Plaintiff's claims regarding the 2017 judgment's effects and Citibank's lien validity, preventing further denial of judicial remedy under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a).

S. A determination that Citibank's alleged $457,693.71 lien is invalid or unsecured under 11 U.S.C. § 506(a), avoidance under § 522(f) to the extent it impairs Plaintiff's $600,000 homestead exemption, a declaratory judgment that Citibank has no valid lien, and an order striking fraudulent documents (Notice of Default, Substitution of Trustee, Corporate Assignment of Deed of Trust) from the Orange County Clerk-Recorder's records.

T. Damages under 11 U.S.C. § 362(k) for Citibank's willful violation of the automatic stay, including ~$216,000 in legal expenses and emotional distress damages, sanctions under § 105(a) for Citibank's false claim violating 18 U.S.C. § 152(4), Cal. Penal Code §§ 115, 132, 134, 182 (conspiracy), and a finding that the false allonge invalidates its alleged lien.

U. Damages under 11 U.S.C. § 362(k) for Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A.'s willful violation of the automatic stay, including ~$216,000 in legal expenses, $5,000 in moving expenses, $200,000 in tax base loss, emotional distress damages, and all harms proximately caused by the illegal 2017 judgment's effects (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009; In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004), punitive damages (In re Paul, 534 F.3d 1303, 1306, 9th Cir. 2008), and sanctions under § 105(a).

NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION TO VACATE VOID JUDGMENT

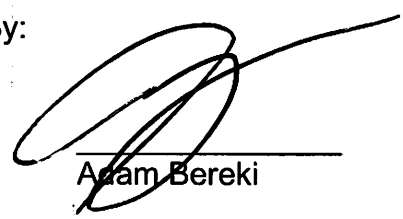
Please take notice that on _____ (a date to be assigned by the Court at the ex parte hearing), in Department C61 of the above-entitled court, located at 700 W. Civic Center Dr, Santa Ana, California, Defendant Adam Bereki, appearing in propria persona, will move for an order to:

1. Vacate the void default judgment entered on March 18, 2025, pursuant to CCP § 1916 and the Court's inherent equitable jurisdiction, due to due process violations and lack of subject matter jurisdiction.
2. Quash the writ of possession issued on March 22, 2025, as it derives from a void judgment.
3. Restore Defendant to possession of the property at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626.
4. Stay the unlawful detainer action pending consolidation with Case No. 30-2015-00805807, resolution of the imminently filed motion to vacate the 2017 judgment, and the imminently filed adversary proceeding related to Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC for fraudulent transfer and violation of the discharge order, as the validity of the 2017 judgment and foreclosure leading to Plaintiff's purported title and the UD case affect Plaintiff's standing and the Court's jurisdiction.
5. Order restitution of all rights and property lost as a result of the default judgment, with an accounting to be submitted after possession is restored, as damages are ongoing and cannot be accurately determined until the property is inspected.
6. Clarify whether Plaintiff Canjian Hou or his agents occupy the property at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626, given, the property's uninhabitable condition, and the vacatur of the writ of possession issued on March 22, 2025.
7. Issue an immediate eviction order directing the Orange County Sheriff to remove Plaintiff Canjian Hou, his agents, or assigns from the property, as Plaintiff has no lawful claim to possession following vacatur of the void judgment.



8. Issue a writ of possession in favor of Defendant Adam Bereki, restoring him to exclusive possession of the property at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626, effective immediately.

This motion is made on the grounds that the default judgment is void due to Plaintiff's counsel's failure to notify Defendant of the default request (Lasalle v. Vogel, 36 Cal.App.5th 127, 135-136 (2019)), the clerk's premature entry of default one day after the request, the clerk's refusal to vacate despite notice, and the Court's rejection of Defendant's pro se filings, violating due process (Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520 (1972)). The unlawful detainer action's validity depends on a 2017 judgment (Case No. 30-2015-00805807), alleged to be void due to extrinsic fraud and lack of subject matter jurisdiction (imminently challenged by Motion to Vacate), an unlawful license suspension as a result of the judgement, Defendant being forced into bankruptcy after being repeatedly being denied judicial remedy to vacate the void judgment (see Notice of Related Cases), and wrongful foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024, imminently challenged in an adversary proceeding (Ex. F. [Rough Draft Adversary Complaint]) as an unauthorized post-petition transfer and violation of the discharge order, related to Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC. (See, Ex parte application/ Motion to Vacate, Dkt. ROA's 306-322 filed 3/14/25 in case 30-2015-00805807 for the substantive arguments of the Motion to Vacate Void Judgement, incorporated by reference as if fully set forth herein).

This motion is based on this Notice, the attached Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the Declaration of Adam Bereki, an imminently filed Motion to Consolidate Cases, all pleadings and papers on file in all related cases incorporated as if full set forth herein, including the ex parte application filed March 14, 2025, in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC, the Jira correspondence with the clerk (May 8-9, 2025), and any further evidence or argument presented at the hearing.

I. MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

A. INTRODUCTION

The default judgment entered on March 18, 2025, in this unlawful detainer action is void due to due process violations, including Plaintiff's counsel's failure to notify Defendant of the default request, the clerk's premature entry of default, and the Court's rejection of Defendant's pro se filings. The action stems from a 2017 judgment (Case No. 30-2015-00805807), alleged to be void, and a foreclosure sale imminently challenged in an adversary proceeding related to Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC, affecting Plaintiff's standing and the Court's jurisdiction. Defendant seeks vacatur, quashing of the writ, restoration of possession, a stay, restitution with an accounting, clarification of Plaintiff's occupancy status, and an immediate eviction order with a writ of possession in Defendant's favor.

B. STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. 2017 Judgment and Foreclosure: The unlawful detainer action stems from a 2017 judgment (Case No. 30-2015-00805807), alleged to be void due to extrinsic fraud and lack of jurisdiction, an unlawful license suspension as a result of the judgement, Defendant being forced into bankruptcy after being repeatedly denied judicial remedy (see Notice of Related Cases), and wrongful foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024, which led to a foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024, for $371,688, ~$1.2 million below market value. The foreclosure will be imminently challenged in an adversary proceeding related to Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC as an unauthorized post-petition transfer and violation of the discharge order. (Bereki Decl., ¶ 3-4).
2. UD Complaint and Service: On February 11, 2025, Plaintiff filed a UD complaint based on a trustee's deed resulting from a wrongful foreclosure sale. Defendant was served on March 1, 2025 at his home (the subject of this dispute: 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626). (Bereki Decl., ¶ 5)
3. Defendant's Response Attempt: On March 14, 2025, Defendant's answer was rejected for procedural defects without a rejection notice. (Bereki Decl., ¶ 6; Ex Parte Application to Stay UD Case/ Motion to Vacate/ Answer, filed March 14, 2025, Dkt ROA's.302-344, Case No. 30-2015-00805807).
4. Default and Judgment: On March 17, 2025, Plaintiff's counsel filed a default request without personally notifying Defendant. On March 18, 2025, the clerk entered default and judgment prematurely, violating CCP § 1013(a). A corrected answer was rejected on March 19, 2025. (Bereki Decl., ¶ 7-9; Ex. A [ UD Complaint Answer (Exhibit 1- Ex Parte Application/ Motion to Vacate/Answer, omitted for brevity (several thousand pages). See 30-2015-00805807 Dkt. ROA'S 306-322]; Ex. B [Case Docket, ROA 12, 17-18].)

5. Writ and Eviction: On March 22, 2025, a writ of possession issued, leading to Defendant's eviction. (Bereki Decl., ¶ 10; Ex. I [Writ of Possession], Case Docket, ROA 23).
6. Clerk's Refusal: On May 8-9, 2025, the clerk breached its ministerial duty to vacate the default despite notice of violations by refusing to vacate the judgment. (Bereki Decl., ¶ 11; Ex. C [Jira Correspondence].)
7. Current Harm: Plaintiff's demolition caused an estimated $50,000 in property damage and $10,000 in lost personal property (based on information and belief). The property is uninhabitable, and Plaintiff is believed not to reside there. (Bereki Decl., ¶ 12-13; Ex. D [Photos, Emails].)
8. Related Cases: The 2017 judgment will be imminently challenged in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, and the foreclosure will be imminently contested in an adversary proceeding in Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC. An appeal of the UD judgment is pending (Case No. 30-2025-01482941). (Bereki Decl., ¶ 14-15.)

C. LEGAL STANDARD

1. Vacating Void Judgment: A court must vacate a void judgment at any time if it lacks jurisdiction or violates due process (Pittman v. Beck Park Apartments Ltd., 20 Cal.App.5th 1009, 1020-1022 (2018)).
2. Non-Discretionary Duty: Courts have a mandatory duty to vacate judgments procured through extrinsic fraud or lacking jurisdiction (Hazel-Atlas Glass Co. v. Hartford-Empire Co., 322 U.S. 238, 246 (1944)).
3. Stay of Unlawful Detainer: A stay is warranted when a title dispute affects standing and jurisdiction (Asuncion v. Superior Court, 108 Cal.App.3d 141, 146 (1980)).
4. Equitable Relief: Courts may issue eviction orders and writs of possession to restore possession when a judgment is vacated (Caldwell v. Taylor, 218 Cal. 471, 476 (1935)).

D. ARGUMENT

A TRO Is Necessary to Prevent Irreparable Harm

Plaintiff's wrongful occupation and demolition, causing an estimated $50,000 in damage (demolished kitchen, removed bamboo flooring, repainted interior) and an estimated $10,000 in personal property disposed of by Plaintiff (on information and belief), constitute irreparable harm (Tobias v. Alameda County, 69 Cal.App.5th 1030, 1045-46 (2021)). Defendant faces loss of his home and $1.2 million in equity, while Plaintiff suffers minimal prejudice from a delay (Bereki Decl., ¶ 12-13). A TRO is warranted (CCP § 526(a)).

The Default Judgment Is Void Due to Due Process Violations

1. Plaintiff's Counsel Failed to Notify Defendant of the Default Request

Plaintiff's counsel, Henry D. Paloci III, filed the default request on March 17, 2025, without notifying Defendant, despite Defendant's clear intent to defend as evidenced by his March 14, 2025, attempt to file an answer (Bereki Decl., ¶ 6-7; Dkt. ROA's 306-322 Case. Case No. 30-2105-00805807 [Ex Parte Application for Stay of UD Case/ Motion to Vacate/ Answer in UD Case]). This violates the ethical and statutory duty to warn under CCP § 583.130, which requires cooperation in litigation (Lasalle v. Vogel, 36 Cal.App.5th 127, 135-136 (2019); Cal. Prac. Guide Civ. Pro. Before Trial (Rutter Group 2024) ¶ 5:68.1). Courts condemn such "quiet speed" and are inclined to set aside defaults absent prior warning, especially against pro se litigants (Shapell Socal Rental Properties, LLC v. Chico's FAS, Inc., 85 Cal.App.5th 198, 216 (2022); Cal. Prac. Guide, supra, ¶ 5:70; Fasuyi v. Permatex, Inc., 167 Cal.App.4th 681, 701 (2008)). Notice must be reasonably calculated to reach the party, and email warnings are inadequate (Cal. Prac. Guide, supra, ¶ 5:69.1). Here, no notice—telephonic or otherwise—was provided at the time the Request for Default was filed. Defendant did not receive Notice until several days after the default had been entered when he received the Request by United States mail.

2. The Clerk's Premature Entry of Default Violated Due Process

The clerk entered the default on March 18, 2025, one day after the mailed default request, violating CCP § 1013(a)'s 5-day mail service extension (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950)). The clerk cannot enter a default until 5 calendar days after the request for default is mailed, to ensure the defendant has reasonable time to receive it and respond. The premature entry, without verifying the service method or allowing statutory time, voids the default (Lasalle v. Vogel, 36 Cal.App.5th at 136). The clerk's refusal to vacate despite notice exacerbates the violation (Bereki Decl., ¶ 11; Ex. D [Jira Correspondence]).

3. The Court's Refusal to Recognize Defendant's Pro Se Filing Was Error

Defendant's answer, attempted on March 14, 2025, was rejected for procedural defects without a rejection notice, and a corrected answer on March 19, 2025, was refused due to the default (Bereki Decl., ¶ 6, 9). Any filed response, even late or insufficient, precludes default (Cal. Prac. Guide Civ. Pro. Before Trial (Rutter Group 2024) ¶ 5:33, 5:37; Stevens v. Torregano, 192 Cal.App. 2d 105, 112-113 (1961)). The clerk lacked authority to assess the answer's sufficiency, which challenged standing and subject matter jurisdiction that can be challenged at any time. Any default entered despite a filed response is void (Jarvis v. Jarvis, 33 CA5th 113, 128 (2019)). Courts must ensure pro se litigants are not misled, and the lack of clear guidance or opportunity to correct violated Defendant's rights (Cal. Prac. Guide, supra, ¶ 5:71.5; Gamet v. Blanchard, 91 CA4th 1276, 1284 (2001); Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520 (1972)). Defendant's pro se status, compounded by financial constraints from the 2017 judgment and continued denial of judicial remedy (see Related Cases, each case incorporated as if fully set forth herein, 30-2015-00805807 Dkt. ROA's 306-322), warranted accommodation, not dismissal (Bereki Decl., ¶ 6, 9).

4. The UD Action Must Be Stayed Due to the Alleged Void 2017 Judgment and Foreclosure

The UD action stems from a 2017 judgment (Case No. 30-2015-00805807), alleged to be void due to extrinsic fraud, lack of subject matter jurisdiction, and an unconstitutional $930,000 penalty (e.g Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973); Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr. Co., 53 Cal.App.5th 1201, 1212 (2020)). The judgment caused a foreclosure sale on November 18, 2024, imminently challenged in an adversary proceeding in related Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC as an unauthorized post-petition transfer and violation of the discharge order (11 U.S.C. § 549, § 524(a)(2)) (Bereki Decl., ¶ 3-4, 14; Ex. F [Rough Draft of Adversary Complaint]). The trustee's deed does not confer valid title pending resolution of these challenges, depriving Plaintiff of standing and the Court of jurisdiction (People ex rel. Becerra v. Superior Court, 29 Cal.App.5th 486, 496 (2018)). Defendant's imminent motion to vacate the 2017 judgment and the imminent adversary bankruptcy proceeding (involving violation of the discharge order and fraudulent transfer) must be resolved first, necessitating a stay and consolidation (Vella v. Hudgins, 20 Cal.3d 251, 256 (1977); Asuncion v. Superior Court, 108 Cal.App.3d 141, 146 (1980)).

5. The Court Has a Non-Discretionary Duty to Vacate the UD Judgment

The UD judgment is void due to due process violations and reliance on a foreclosure stemming from the 2017 judgment, imminently challenged as void in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 and an adversary proceeding related to Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC (Hazel-Atlas Glass Co. v. Hartford-Empire Co., 322 U.S. 238, 246 (1944); Caldwell v. Taylor, 218 Cal. 471, 476 (1935)). Defendant's appeal (Case No. 30-2025-01482941) does not preclude relief (MacMillan Petroleum Corp. v. Griffin, 99 Cal.App.2d 523, 533 (1950)).

Defendant Has a Meritorious Defense

Plaintiff lacks standing due to a void foreclosure, as will be evidenced/ alleged in the Motion to Vacate in 15-00805807 (see also Dkt. ROA'2 306-322) and the adversary bankruptcy proceeding. Lasalle v. Vogel supports vacatur when a meritorious defense exists (36 Cal.App.5th at 139- 140). Defendant's defenses of extrinsic fraud and jurisdictional defects necessitate a trial on the merits and cannot be summarily denied without a judicial determination of his rights (Pittman v. Beck Park Apartments Ltd., 20 Cal.App.5th 1009 (2018)) (Bereki Decl., ¶ 14).

Restitution and Accounting Are Warranted

Defendant seeks restitution of all rights and property lost due to the void judgment, with an accounting post-restoration, as damages (~$50,000 in property damage, ~$10,000 in lost personal property) are ongoing and require inspection (Bereki Decl., ¶ 12-13).

Clarification of Occupancy and Immediate Relief Are Necessary

Given the forthcoming meritorious challenge to the foreclosure and trustee's deed, the property's uninhabitable condition, and Plaintiff's believed non-residence, the Court should clarify Plaintiff's occupancy status and issue an immediate eviction order and writ of possession in Defendant's favor to prevent further harm and restore possession without delay (Tobias v. Alameda County, 69 Cal.App.5th 1030 (2021)) (Bereki Decl., ¶ 12-13).

The Default Judgment Is Void Due to Due Process Violations

Plaintiff's counsel failed to notify Defendant of the default request, violating CCP § 585.5(a) and ethical duties (Lasalle v. Vogel, 36 Cal.App.5th 127, 135-136 (2019)). The clerk's premature entry of default one day after the mailed request violated CCP § 1013(a) (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950)). The Court's rejection of Defendant's pro se filings denied due process (Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520 (1972)). (Bereki Decl., ¶ 6-9.)

The UD Action Depends on a Void 2017 Judgment and Foreclosure

The UD action relies on a 2017 judgment, alleged to be void due to extrinsic fraud and lack of jurisdiction, and a foreclosure imminently challenged in an adversary proceeding (Ex. F. [Rough Draft Adversary Complaint]) in related Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC as an unauthorized post-petition transfer and violation of the discharge order. The unvoided trustee's deed does not confer valid title pending resolution of these challenges, depriving Plaintiff of standing and the Court of jurisdiction (Vella v. Hudgins, 20 Cal.3d 251 (1977); People ex rel. Becerra v. Superior Court, 29 Cal.App.5th 486, 496 (2018)). (Bereki Decl., ¶ 3-4, 14.)

Restitution and Accounting Are Warranted

Defendant seeks restitution of all rights and property lost due to the void judgment, with an accounting post-restoration, as damages ($50,000 in property damage, $10,000 in lost personal property) are ongoing and require inspection. (Bereki Decl., ¶ 12-13.)

Clarification of Occupancy and Immediate Relief Are Necessary

Given the imminent wrongful foreclosure challenge to Plaintiff's title, the property's uninhabitable condition, and Plaintiff's believed non-residence, the Court should clarify Plaintiff's occupancy status and issue an immediate eviction order and writ of possession in Defendant's favor to prevent further harm and restore possession without delay (Tobias v. Alameda County, 69 Cal.App.5th 1030 (2021)). (Bereki Decl., ¶ 12-13.)

E. CONCLUSION

The Court must vacate the void judgment, quash the writ, restore possession, stay the action pending related proceedings, order restitution with an accounting, clarify Plaintiff's occupancy status, and issue an immediate eviction order and writ of possession in Defendant's favor.

II. DECLARATION OF ADAM BEREKI

I, Adam Bereki, declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California that:

1. I am the Defendant in Case No. 30-2025-01459684 and Case No. 30-2015-00805807, with personal knowledge of the facts herein.
2. My open bankruptcy case (Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC) does not affect this motion.
3. The UD action stems from a 2017 judgment, alleged to be void, causing a wrongful foreclosure on November 18, 2024, for an estimated $1.2 million below market value (Ex. E [Trustee's Deed]).
4. The foreclosure will be imminently challenged in Bankruptcy Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC for fraudulent transfer and violation of the discharge order (Ex. F [Rough Draft Adversary Complaint]).
5. On March 1, 2025, I was served with the UD complaint.
6. On March 14, 2025, my answer was rejected for procedural defects without a rejection notice.
7. On March 17, 2025, Plaintiff's counsel filed a default request without notifying me by phone or email with service by USPS mail. (Ex. G [Default Request, postmarked 3/17/25]).
8. On March 18, 2025, at the ex parte hearing for stay of the Unlawful Detainer Proceeding, Judge Hesseltine refused to recognize the document I filed in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 (Emergency Ex Parte Application for Stay/ Motion to Vacate/ Answer ROA's 306-322) as an answer in this case, despite my clear and unambiguous intent that it be treated as so. (Ex. H [Minute Order]). I had intended to file the same document in both cases but the clerk refused to do so.
9. On March 18, 2025, shortly after the ex parte hearing the default and judgment were entered prematurely (Ex. B [Case Docket, ROA 12, 17-18]).
10. On March 19, 2025, my corrected answer, which included a challenge to Plaintiff's standing and subject matter jurisdiction, was rejected due to the default. The Supervising Deputy Clerk, Richard A, refused to provide the lawful authority for denying my right to file the answer and to challenge jurisdiction, which can be made at any time.

11. On March 22, 2025, a writ of possession issued, leading to my eviction (Ex. I [Case Docket, ROA 23]). I obtained this document from OC Sheriff Deputy Murillo who handed it to me along with the Notice to Vacate after threatening me with physical force to remove me if I did not vacate.

12. On May 8-9, 2025, the clerk refused to vacate the default (Ex. C [Jira Correspondence]).

13. Based on photographs I have received from a reliable witnesses, including one who lives in the same tract: 1) the entire interior of the kitchen of my home has been demolished rendering my home uninhabitable; 2) thousands of dollars in bamboo wood flooring on the stairs—and suspected throughout the upstairs bedrooms and hallway—has been torn out as partially evidenced in the following image depicting these materials in a heaping pile in the garage; and 3) the interior has been repainted. Based on the information I have received and more than 20 years of experience in construction, I estimate the unauthorized damage to my home caused by this demolition or other work to be $50,000 for repair or replacement. (Ex. D. [Photos]).

14. I believe an estimated $10,000 of my personal property in storage at the Spirit property has also been disposed of by Plaintiff based on emails received from his attorney: "I will instruct [my client] to dispose of these items on May 1 if you do not make arrangements" (Ex. D [Email]).
15. On May 19, 2025 (yesterday) at about 1300 hours, the same witness texted me with a picture of a notice that he had just witnessed someone post on the front property. The notice reads "This property has been determined vacant/abandoned and been reported to the mortgage servicer." I believe this notice was posted on the door at the direction of the purported first mortgage holder, Citibank N.A. as trustee of the New Residential Mortgage Loan Trust 2018-2 (holder status to be challenged in the bankruptcy adversary because it has not produced an endorsed note as required by the Cal. Comm. Code to Defendant). The witness, who is able to observe the property directly from their property, has repeatedly told me that they do not believe anyone is living at the property.
16. Based on all the foregoing, I believe the property is uninhabitable, and I believe Plaintiff does not reside there.
17. The 2017 judgment will be imminently challenged in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, with hearings set for July 3 and 10, 2025, but I seek an expedited hearing on June 19, 2025. (ROA 329).
18. I appealed the UD judgment (Case No. 30-2025-01482941).
19. I will notify Plaintiff's counsel on May 19, 2025, via email and phone.
20. All exhibits annexed hereto are true and correct copies of the documents they purport to be. In the instances where I have received photos or other documents from third parties, I believe the documents to be true and correct and have confirmed their validity from multiple sources.
21. I declare the foregoing is true and correct.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

TO THE COURT, ALL PARTIES, AND THEIR RESPECTIVE ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

Defendant Adam Bereki, appearing in propria persona, files this Answer to the Unlawful Detainer Complaint filed by Canjian Hou under duress and coercion as follows:

1. Response to Allegations in the Complaint

Defendant responds to each paragraph of the Plaintiff's Complaint as follows:

Defendant attempted to file a timely answer to this Complaint on March 14, 2025. The Clerk refused to file the document on grounds that it didn't not comply with rules of Court because each action of the document (i.e. ex parte application for stay, answer, and motion to vacate) needed to be filed separately. Defendant was (and remains) under duress and coercion and did not have time to prepare the documents in that manner. At the time he also did not have multiple copies of the same document to file separately. Defendant contends that rules of court or statutes cannot overrule or supersede rights secured by the Constitution (Miranda v. Arizona, 384 U.S. 436, 491 (1938)) including his right to a judicial determination of his rights and to file an answer to this complaint against him. The Clerk required Defendant to cross out the title pertaining to the Answer in this case against his will by stating that his emergency application document would not be filed unless he did so. It was never Defendants intent to waive his right to answer and he did not intend to do so by crossing any words out on the face page(s). He did so only under duress and was thereby prejudiced and denied due process to making a timely answer. Defendant contends the intention of the party is the soul of the instrument (Animus moninis est anima scripti) and the substance therein rules differences in form on the face page. Cf. Federal Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 5 "(4) Acceptance by the Clerk. The clerk must not refuse to file a paper solely because it is not in the form prescribed by these rules or by a local rule or practice." A true and correct copy of the document containing the answer and other substantive information he filed is attached hereto as Exhibit 1. See Dkt. 306, Case No. 30-2015-00805807. All statements made in Exhibit 1 and all documents in case 30-2015-00805807 and G055075 (Fourth District Court of Appeal) are incorporated as if fully set forth herein and verified by the declaration below. Defendant Requests this Court take judicial notice of these documents as required by law for the existence of the documents themselves and the statements made thereon, subject to determination for lawfulness and validity by this Court.

Defendant asserts the conflict of interest in this case (Exhibit 1) and requests it immediately be transferred to another County for the reasons stated therein.

In all instances where Defendant uses the word "denies", it is also intended to include "disputes".

Paragraphs 1, 2, 4, 8, 11, 12, 13, 14, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20: Defendant denies the allegations in these Paragraphs because Plaintiff is not the lawful owner of the property due to a defective title as evidenced in Exhibit 1 and the Exhibits referenced therein and therefore has no standing to bring this action. Consequently, any allegations related to Plaintiff's standing are without baseless and without merit and a continued fraud upon this Court (Exhibit 1).

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

Paragraph 3: Defendant denies he is an "individual" as that term is undefined. He appears in propria persona.

Paragraphs 5,7: Defendant denies the property is within this judicial district as the Superior Court of California is not a judicial Court based on his experience (Exhibit 1). As a result, venue is also improper.

Paragraph 6: Defendant denies this Court has subject matter jurisdiction based on Plaintiff's lack of standing and the fact that he has not been afforded a judicial determination of his rights in case 30-2015-00805807 that preceded this case and was a direct and proximate cause of Defendants ongoing injuries that led to the unlawful foreclosure sale.

Paragraph 9: Defendant denies the legal description of the property as he has not personally verified this information.

Paragraph 10: Defendant admits he is possession of the property.

Paragraph 15: Defendant admits he received these documents and immediately notified Plaintiff of fraud and other crimes pertaining to the property (Exhibit 1).

In the event Defendant missed any paragraphs, he intends they be denied.

2. Affirmative Defenses

Defendant asserts the following affirmative defenses to bar Plaintiff's claim for possession:

First Affirmative Defense: Wrongful Foreclosure

The Plaintiff's claim is barred because the foreclosure sale, upon which their title to the property is based, was wrongful and invalid. The foreclosure stemmed from a judgment in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 (Superior Court of California, County of Orange), which is void due to extrinsic fraud and lack of jurisdiction, as detailed in Exhibit 1. Without a valid foreclosure, Plaintiff's title is defective, and they have no legal right to possession.

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

Second Affirmative Defense: Void Judgment – Extrinsic Fraud

The judgment in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 is void because it was obtained through extrinsic fraud. Specifically, the plaintiffs in that action, Karen and Gary Humphreys, misrepresented the proceeding by pursuing what was effectively a criminal penalty (disguised as a civil remedy), depriving Defendant of fundamental due/ judicial process rights, including the right to a jury trial and counsel under the California Constitution and U.S. Constitution. This fraud prevented Defendant from having a fair hearing, rendering the judgment a nullity. A void judgment cannot support the subsequent foreclosure or Plaintiff's title.

Third Affirmative Defense: Void Judgment – Lack of Jurisdiction

The court in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 lacked subject matter jurisdiction to impose what amounted to a criminal penalty in a civil action. Under Article V, Section 1 of the California Constitution, only the executive branch has authority to prosecute criminal matters, and private parties such as the Humphreys lacked standing to initiate such a proceeding. Absent jurisdiction, the judgment is void ab initio, invalidating the foreclosure sale and Plaintiff's claim to the property.

Fourth Affirmative Defense: Lack of Standing

Plaintiff lacks standing to bring this unlawful detainer action because their title to the property is defective. Plaintiff's purported ownership derives from a wrongful foreclosure sale based on a void judgment, as described above. Without a valid title, Plaintiff has no legal right to possession, a prerequisite for an unlawful detainer claim under CCP Section 1161 et seq.

Fifth Affirmative Defense: Violation of the Bankruptcy Discharge

The Judgments in case 30-2015-00805807, G055075, and license suspension revocation ("Judgments") were all discharged by Defendant's bankruptcy, under duress and coercion in 2022. See Case No. 22-12076 U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Central District of California. The Judgement and suspension of Defendant's license for over five years, placed him in constructive custody, restraining him from earning a living in his profession as a

ADAM A. BEREKI
YOU WERE BORN TO BE FREE

general contractor. This resulted in impairing his private contracts and obligations, including the second mortgage that was foreclosed which Plaintiff bid on at the unlawful foreclosure sale. Because Defendant was forcibly restrained from earning a living as a general contractor and could not make pay his private contracts and obligations, any enforcement of those obligations (including foreclosure and this action) constitutes unlawful enforcement of the Judgment(s) in violation of 11 U.S.C. § 524. Under § 524 (a)(2) a discharge "operates as an injunction against the commencement or continuation of an action, the employment of process, or an act, to collect, recover or offset any such debt as a personal liability of the debtor, whether or not discharge of such debt is waived[.]"

Sixth Affirmative Defense: Additional Defenses

Defendant incorporates all other defenses stated in Exhibit 1.

Legal Basis: These defenses are permissible in unlawful detainer actions where title defects involve fraud or jurisdictional issues, as recognized in Vella v. Hudgins (20 Cal.3d 251, 1977). Additionally, a void judgment may be challenged at any time (People v. American Contractors Indemnity Co., 33 Cal.4th 653, 660 (2004)).

3. Prayer for Relief

WHEREFORE, Defendant Adam Bereki respectfully requests that the Court:

1. Deny Plaintiff's request for possession of the property and dismiss this suit for lack of standing;
2. Award Defendant costs and all time in defending this frivolous action;
3. Grant such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

DECLARATION OF ADAM BEREKI
VERIFICATION OF FACTS AND AUTHENTICATION OF EXHIBITS

I, Adam Bereki, declare under penalty of perjury that: 1) I have personal knowledge of the foregoing facts; 2) they are true and correct; 3) all Exhibits/Appendices annexed hereto are true copies of the documents they purport to be, except for organizational markings (e.g., bates numbering); and, 4) that all statements made in Exhibit 1 are true and correct. Legal conclusions or statements on information and belief are not facts made under penalty of perjury.

NOTICE OF ENTRY OF JUDGMENT

Question *

Good morning. My name is Adam Bereki. I am writing in regard to case#25-01459684. On 3/17/25 the plaintiff filed a request for entry of default. It was served by mail. I believe I had 5 days to receive the request and then several more days to respond. Depsite this, the Clerk entered the default judgment the next day on march 18. On march 19, I came to the court to file an answer in the case and was denied on the gorund that a default had already been entered. i believe this was a violation of due process as I was denied the opportunity to present my claims. I would like to discuss this issue with a supervisor. Please call me as soon as possible. My number is 949-241-6693.

Hello, because Unlawful Detainer cases are statutorily sealed, could you please provide the full name of the plaintiff as well as the property address? This will help me locate the case.

abereki@gmail.com Yesterday 1:19 PM

Good afternoon. Id be happy to. The full name of the plaintiff is Canjian Hou. The property address is 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA 92626. I have included a summary of the law I believe on this issue and why I believe I have been prejudiced and denied an opportunity to be heard unlawfully. I believe as a result that you, the clerk, have a non-discretionary, ministerial duty to immediately correct the record and notify all parties. Thank you for you time and careful attention in this matter.

CCP § 587: Requires that an application for entry of default (e.g., Form CIV-100) be mailed to the defendant's attorney of record or, if none, to the defendant's last known address, and that proof of such mailing be filed with the court. This ensures the defendant is notified before default is entered.

CCP § 585.5(a): Mandates that the plaintiff serve the default request "concurrently with or prior to" filing it with the court, ensuring timely notice. For UD cases, this applies to protect due process (Green v. Superior Court, 10 Cal.3d 616, 633, 1974; Bostanian v. Liberty Savings Bank, 52 Cal.App.4th 1075, 1080, 1997).

CRC 2.200–2.306: These rules specify service methods (e.g., mail, personal delivery) and timing. For mail service (CCP § 1013), used in this case (CIV-100), service is complete upon mailing, but a 5-day delivery delay applies, impacting notice reasonableness (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314, 1950).

Clerk's Authority to Enter Default:

CCP § 585(a): Authorizes the clerk to enter a default ministerially when the defendant fails to answer within the summons period (10 days in this case, ~March 11-13, 2025) and the plaintiff files a request (CIV-100) with proof of service (CCP § 587).

CCP § 1169 (UD Specific): In UD cases, if the defendant doesn't answer (within the summons period), the clerk may enter a default or, for possession-only judgments, a clerk's judgment, provided the request complies with CCP § 585(a) and includes a nonmilitary status declaration (CIV-100, Item 8). This is ministerial but requires proper notice and timing (Green, 10 Cal.3d at 633).

In this case, the plaintiff's March 17, 2025, default request (CIV-100) was mailed on March 17. 2025, ensuring no notice before the March 18 entry. This violates CCP § 585.5(a) and due process (Mullane), as I (the defendant) had no chance to respond.

Briana Jurado Today 8:27 AM

According to the proof of service, you were personally served a copy of the Complaint, Summons, UD-101, and form CP 10.5 on 3/1/25.

CCP 1167 allows you 10 days to respond to the complaint; you had until 3/14 to respond and because no response was submitted in the allotted time frame, the plaintiff was well within their rights to submit a Request for Clerk Default Judgment on 3/17/25.

If you'd like to discuss your legal options, please consider seeking legal aid or contacting Self-Help Services at 657-622-8511 or via email at SelfHelpCivil@occourts.org. You may also reach out to the Public Law Center at 714-541-1010 or visit their website for more information.

Dear Clerk of the Court,

The issue is not the plaintiff's right to file a Request for Clerk Default Judgment on March 17, 2025, but the failure to provide notice as required by law. CCP § 585.5(a) mandates that "where a default or default judgment is sought, the plaintiff shall file a request for entry of default or default judgment and serve it upon the defendant ... concurrently with or prior to filing the request with the court." The plaintiff's mail service on March 17, 2025 (CIV-100, Item 6), with a 5-day delivery delay (CCP § 1013), ensured I received no notice of the proposed default entry before the clerk's default entry on March 18, 2025, violating due process, which requires "notice reasonably calculated, under all the circumstances, to apprise interested parties of the pendency of the action and afford them an opportunity to present their objections" (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950)). CCP § 587 requires "an affidavit stating that a copy of the application has been mailed to the defendant ... and the date on which the copy was mailed," and while nonreceipt alone is not grounds to set aside a judgment, the premature entry before effective notice violates Green v. Superior Court, 10 Cal.3d 616, 633 (1974), which requires a reasonable opportunity to contest a default order in UD proceedings.

Additionally, I did attempt to file an answer twice, once on March 14, 2025 (see ex parte application case 30-2015-00805807) but it was rejected by the clerk. I attempted to file another answer on March 19, 2025, and the clerk rejected it on the grounds that a default had been entered. Allowing the required notice time for the request for entry of default clearly would have required the court to accept my answer on March 19. As a result of these due process violations, the Court has used procedural rules to violate due process and silence me from answering. I am bringing this to your attention now in the hope you will ministerially correct this injustice and avoid the need for appellate proceedings and/or other court resources in correcting this.

This notice violation renders the default entry invalid, as I was not apprised of the default request in time to respond and have been silenced from answering the complaint. I respectfully request you set aside the default judgment to ensure compliance with statutory and due process requirements.

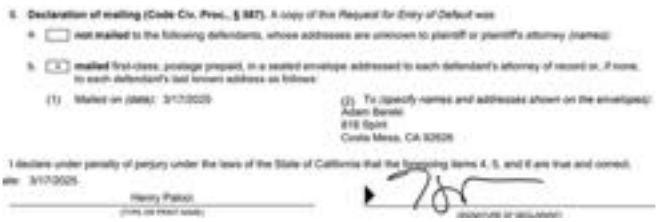

Sincerely,
Adam A. Bereki

See attached photo, it complies with CCP 587; this is from the Request for Default form on ROA:17

You had 10 days to respond to the complaint, NOT to the Request for Default.

I agree with you. I had 10 days to respond the the complaint. But I also had at least 5 days to respond to the request for entry of default. Here are two court of appeal cases directly on the subject: In Bank of America, N.A. v. La Salle, 243 Cal.App.4th 199 (2015), the plaintiff, Bank of America, filed an unlawful detainer action against defendant La Salle to recover possession of a property after a foreclosure sale. La Salle appeared through counsel but failed to timely answer the complaint, and the Bank filed a request for entry of default without notifying La Salle's attorney, leading to a default judgment on April 10, 2014. The trial court denied La Salle's motion to set aside the default, but the Court of Appeal reversed, holding that "The Bank's failure to provide notice of its intent to seek entry of default, in violation of its statutory and ethical duties, prejudiced La Salle's ability to oppose entry of default" (243 Cal.App.4th at 208). The court found the Bank violated Code of Civil Procedure section 587 by not mailing the default request to La Salle's counsel, breaching due process, and remanded with directions to set aside the default judgment.

In Shapell Socal Rental Properties, LLC v. Chico's FAS, Inc., 85 Cal.App.5th 198 (2022), plaintiff Shapell filed an unlawful detainer action against defendant Chico's for unpaid rent on a commercial lease. Chico's counsel appeared but did not timely answer, and Shapell filed a default request on September 8, 2020, without notifying Chico's counsel, resulting in a default judgment. The Court of Appeal reversed, holding that "The failure to provide notice to opposing counsel of an intent to seek default constitutes a breach of both ethical and statutory duties under Code of Civil Procedure section 583.130 and section 587, requiring reversal of the default judgment" (85 Cal.App.5th at 212). The court emphasized that the lack of notice violated statutory requirements and prejudiced Chico's ability to defend, mandating reversal to allow a defense on the merits.

I had no notice of the request for entry of default before the Court entered default. That violated my due process right to respond to the request for entry of default.

BJ Briana Jurado Today 9:41 AM

We're not going to vacate the default judgment; the attorney did their due diligence and the clerk processed everything correctly. If you want to argue against the judgment you may do so with the judge.

Thank you

You neglected to file an answer, and there were things you could have done after the fact that you didn't. As with your big lawsuit, you're looking for other people to blame.

There's really no benefit to engaging you because you don't listen anyway. I don't experience you as looking for solutions. It seems to me that you know that you can't win any of these cases and are looking to inflict the most misery possible on the most people.

For example, I note that you did not make an appointment to pick up the items you left behind at moveout. You could have picked up your stuff or mitigated your loss but instead you picked at the edges and attempted to preserve a record that you could sue on later. Given where we are now, my client is free to discard them if they haven't already.

Thank you,

UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT

Debtor.

Adam A. Bereki,

Plaintiff,

v.

Citizens Bank N.A.; MTC Financial Inc. d/b/a Trustee Corps; Canjian Hou; Henry D. Paloci; Henry D. Paloci III, P.A.; Citibank N.A.; NewRez LLC; Deputy Murillo; Sergeant X; Karen S. Naylor; Surety Doe; CHP Officer Doe 1; CHP Officer Doe 2; Does 3-12, Defendants.

Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC

Adv. No. [TBD]

Chapter 7

INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiff Adam A. Bereki, a former police officer with over twenty years of forensic investigation experience specializing in fraud and government corruption, brings this adversary proceeding to address egregious violations of his constitutional and bankruptcy rights stemming from a wrongful non-judicial foreclosure sale of his home at 818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA (the “Property”) on November 18, 2024.

2. The foreclosure, executed by Defendants Citizens Bank N.A. (“Citizens”) and MTC Financial Inc. d/b/a Trustee Corps (“Trustee Corps”), was triggered by a void 2017 state court judgment (Case No. 30-2015-00805807, Orange County Superior Court) obtained through extrinsic fraud by private parties lacking CRIMINAL prosecutorial authority. This judgment, imposing a $930,000 penalty for alleged unlicensed contracting, caused Plaintiff's financial ruin, enabling Citizens to declare a default and sell the Property for $371,688—far below its $1,142,000 fair market value—resulting in ~$815,241.50 in equity loss.

3. Defendants Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, Henry D. Paloci III, P.A. ("Paloci"), Deputy Murillo, and Sergeant X (name to be provided) furthered this harm by pursuing or enforcing an unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684, filed February 11, 2025) to evict Plaintiff UNDER THREAT OF FORCEFUL REMOVAL MADE BY THE COUNTY SHERIFF, despite notice of the foreclosure's invalidity.

4. This complaint seeks to void the foreclosure sale, cancel the Trustee's Deed, recover Plaintiff's exempt Property under bankruptcy law, determine the validity of Citibank's lien, address stay violations, and obtain equitable relief for trustee misconduct, asserting violations of the discharge injunction (11 U.S.C. § 524), unauthorized transfers (11 U.S.C. § 549), lien determination (11 U.S.C. § 506), stay violations (11 U.S.C. § 362), and constitutional protections.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

5. Plaintiff intends to commence a separate adversary proceeding to challenge the validity of the 2017 state court judgment (Orange County Superior Court, Case No. 30-2015-00805807) on constitutional grounds, including the lack of executive authority for private CRIMINAL prosecution under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b), the judgment's imposition of an excessive fine, its operation as a bill of pains and penalties, and its impairment of private contracts, as detailed in Plaintiff's ex parte application filed in the Superior Court on March 17, 2025 (Case No. 30-2015-00805807, Ex. 11). Plaintiff has intentionally separated these issues from the present adversary proceeding to focus exclusively on claims arising under bankruptcy law, including violations of the discharge injunction (11 U.S.C. § 524), unauthorized transfers (11 U.S.C. § 549), lien determination (11 U.S.C. § 506), stay violations (11 U.S.C. § 362), and equitable relief (11 U.S.C. § 105). The claims in this proceeding, particularly Defendant Citizens Bank N.A.'s bad faith foreclosure exploiting the effects of the 2017 judgment and Citibank N.A.'s fraudulent lien, are independent of and do not require a determination of the judgment's validity in the anticipated separate proceeding.

DRAFT

6. This Court has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1334 and 157(b)(2)(A), (B), (H), (K), (O) as this is a core proceeding concerning the administration of the bankruptcy estate, the validity of liens, stay violations, unauthorized transfers, and equitable relief.

7. Venue is proper in the Central District of California, where the bankruptcy case is pending and the Property is located (28 U.S.C. § 1409).

8. Plaintiff consents to the entry of final orders by this Court (28 U.S.C. § 157(c)).

9. Claims against Henry D. Paloci are exempt from Cal. Civ. Code § 1714.10, as Paloci owed Plaintiff an independent legal duty under Cal. Civ. Code § 1708 and acted for financial gain by pursuing the unlawful detainer action despite notice of the foreclosure's invalidity (Ex. 4, pp. 9–10, 19).

PARTIES

10. Plaintiff Adam A. Bereki is the debtor in Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC, residing at 3649 Metter St, Las Vegas, NV, due to threats of forcible removal by the county sheriff, and the sole owner of the Property via the Adam Bereki Living Trust.

11. Defendant Citizens Bank N.A. is a national banking association with headquarters in Rhode Island, which initiated the foreclosure sale.

12. Defendant MTC Financial Inc. d/b/a Trustee Corps is a California corporation and the trustee that executed the foreclosure sale.

13. Defendant Canjian Hou is an individual who purportedly purchased the Property at the foreclosure sale. The Superior Court awarded Hou a default judgment in an unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684). Plaintiff attempted to file an ex parte application as a response, which the Superior Court clerk refused to file, and the Superior Court judge in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 refused to recognize as an answer in the UD case. Plaintiff later attempted to file an answer challenging the UD case's subject matter jurisdiction, but the clerk again refused, claiming an answer could not be filed post-judgment.

DRAFT

14. Defendant Henry D. Paloci is an attorney, and Defendant Henry D. Paloci III, P.A. is his professional association, representing Hou and facilitating the unlawful detainer action.

15. Defendant Citibank N.A. is a national banking association claiming a first mortgage lien of $457,693.71 on the Property.

16. Defendant NewRez LLC is a Delaware limited liability company involved in the stay relief motion affecting the Property.

17. Defendant Karen S. Naylor is the Chapter 7 trustee appointed in Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC, responsible for administering the bankruptcy estate.

18. Defendant Surety Doe is the unknown surety providing Naylor's bond under 11 U.S.C. § 322(b), to be identified through discovery.

19. Defendants Deputy Murillo and Sergeant X (name to be provided) are Orange County Sheriff's Department officers who enforced the unlawful detainer action by serving an eviction notice on March 27, 2025, at the Property.

20. Defendants CHP Officer Doe 1 and CHP Officer Doe 2 (names to be provided) are California Highway Patrol officers who refused to fully, fairly, impartially, and independently investigate Plaintiff's complaints of the 2017 judgment's fraud and refused to intervene to stop the ongoing crimes/deprivations of rights (Case 22A426, pp. 50–51), aiding and abetting the wrongful foreclosure and unlawful detainer action (Ex. 11, pp. 14–15, 28–30).

21. Defendants Does 3-12 are unknown parties responsible for Plaintiff's damages.

DRAFT

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

22. On August 21, 2015, Plaintiff, through his solely owned company, The Spartan Associates, Inc. ("Spartan"), a previously licensed general contractor (LIC#927244), filed a state court action (Case No. 30-2015-00805807) against Karen and Gary Humphreys for unpaid construction work (~$82,000). The Humphreys, private citizens, cross-complained under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b), alleging Plaintiff was unlicensed and seeking disgorgement of $848,000 paid to him.

23. On March 28, 2017, Judge David Chaffee ruled Plaintiff was the contractor, not Spartan, and lacked a personal license, awarding the Humphreys $848,000 plus denial of Spartan's $82,000 claim—a $930,000 penalty—despite no evidence of harm or profits (Dkt. 193, Ex. 1).

24. This judgment was void ab initio due to extrinsic fraud and jurisdictional defects: the Humphreys, private citizens, lacked authority to prosecute the penal statute (§ 7031(b)), and the court mischaracterized the action as civil, denying Plaintiff criminal procedural safeguards, such as a jury trial and appointed counsel, required for penal disgorgement (Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71, 2020; Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619, 1973).

25. On appeal (Case No. G055075), the Fourth District Court of Appeal affirmed, erroneously labeling the penalty "equitable disgorgement" (Ex. 2), rejecting Plaintiff's due process defenses, including the lack of criminal safeguards, as detailed in the unpublished opinion.

26. The judgment and automatic licensing suspension under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7071.17, effective June 26, 2017, 90 days after the March 28, 2017, judgment for failure to pay (§ 7031(b)), without a hearing, forced Plaintiff into financial ruin, impairing his ability to pay a $62,523.24 home equity line of credit with Citizens (Ex. 3, pp. 1–12) and necessitating bankruptcy.

27. On December 8, 2022, Plaintiff filed for Chapter 7 bankruptcy (Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC) under duress, scheduling the Property and all related claims (Dkt. 11, Ex. 5).

DRAFT

On October 18, 2024, Plaintiff filed a motion to compel the trustee to abandon the 2017 judgment claims and Property-related claims (Dkt. 105), granted on December 31, 2024 (Dkt. 112), before case closure on January 29, 2025 (Dkt. 114, 11 U.S.C. § 554(c)).

28. On April 12, 2023, Citizens obtained relief from the automatic stay (Dkt. 45), despite Plaintiff's notices of the judgment's fraud (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7).

29. On July 10, 2024, Citizens declared a default and ordered Trustee Corps to commence a non-judicial foreclosure sale under Cal. Civ. Code § 2924 (Ex. 3, pp. 13–15).

30. On November 18, 2024, Trustee Corps sold the Property for $371,688, far below its $1,142,000 fair market value (¶ 29), to Hou (Ex. 3, pp. 16–23).

31. The sale generated a surplus of $304,758.50 after Citizens' $62,523.24 lien and $4,206.26 in trustee fees, insufficient to cover Plaintiff's $600,000 homestead exemption (Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 704.730, ¶ 30).

32. Plaintiff suffered ~$815,241.50 in equity loss ($1,142,000 value minus $371,688 sale price, assuming Citibank's $457,693.71 lien is invalid, ¶ 32).

33. Citizens knew of the judgment's fraud via bankruptcy notices (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7) but proceeded, breaching duties under Cal. Civ. Code § 1708 and good faith.

34. On February 11, 2025, Hou, through Paloci, filed an unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684, Ex. 4, pp. 27–47; Ex. 8), despite Plaintiff's notices of the sale's invalidity and offer to return surplus funds (Ex. 4, pp. 9–10, 19; Ex. 8).

35. On March 27, 2025, Deputy Murillo, under Sergeant X's supervision, served an eviction notice and threatened physical removal, despite Plaintiff's notice of the unlawful foreclosure and UD case's invalidity, as evidenced by the eviction notice (Ex. 9) and audio/video recordings (Ex. 10). Their failure to investigate violated duties under Cal. Civ.

Code § 1708, due process, and the First Amendment right to petition for redress (Ex. 11, pp. 38–40).

36. The continued denial of judicial proceedings to adjudicate the void 2017 judgment included the following court actions, which prevented Plaintiff from challenging its fraudulent basis and directly contributed to Plaintiff's insolvency (Ex. 11, pp. 14–15):

37. March 27–28, 2017: Superior Court of California, County of Orange (Case No. 30-2015-00805807) entered judgment against Plaintiff for $848,000 in "disgorgement" and denied $82,000 quantum meruit claim, finding Plaintiff an unlicensed contractor under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b), imposing a penal forfeiture disguised as equitable disgorgement (Ex. 1).

38. October 31, 2018: Court of Appeal of California, Fourth Appellate District (Case No. G055075) affirmed the judgment, deeming Plaintiff's claims meritless and upholding the $930,000 fine as equitable, not penal (Ex. 2).

39. March 15, 2019: Superior Court of California, County of Orange (Case No. 30-2015-00805807) denied Plaintiff's motion to vacate, citing the appellate court's final decision.

40. March 27, 2019: Supreme Court of California (Case No. S252954) denied Plaintiff's petition for review, providing no specific reason despite mandatory review claims.

41. October 7, 2019: United States Supreme Court (Case No. 18-1416) denied Plaintiff's petition for writ of certiorari, arbitrarily declining jurisdiction without reason.

42. February 6, 2020: United States District Court, Central District of California (Case No. 8:19-CV-02050) dismissed Plaintiff's case with prejudice, citing collateral estoppel and Rooker-Feldman doctrines, claiming lack of jurisdiction to review state court judgments.

DRAFT

43. November 12, 2020: U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit (Case No. 20-55181) dismissed Plaintiff's appeal as frivolous, without addressing substantive claims.

44. September 22, 2021: United States Supreme Court (Case No. Unknown, Emergency Petition 2021) returned Plaintiff's emergency petition for writs of error/habeas corpus unfiled, citing improper form despite constitutional rights claims.

45. September 15, 2022: Superior Court of California, County of Orange (Case No. 30-2022-01271693) denied Plaintiff's ex parte application for emergency stay, with Judge Leal finding no exigent circumstances and deeming habeas corpus inapplicable.

46. October 13, 2022: Superior Court of California, County of Orange (Case No. 30-2022-01271693) denied Plaintiff's petition for writ of habeas corpus and emergency stay, with Judge Cramin providing no lawful authority or reasoning.

47. November 10, 2022: United States Supreme Court (Case No. 22A426) denied Plaintiff's application for emergency stay, providing no reason pending further petition filing.

48. Plaintiff was insolvent at the time of the sale (¶ 24), supporting avoidance under 11 U.S.C. § 549(a).

49. The sale was involuntary, as Plaintiff's financial ruin stemmed from the void judgment (¶ 21).

50. If Citibank's lien is invalid, Plaintiff's total equity was ~$647,909.54 ($1,142,000 minus $62,523.24 Citizens' lien and $36,000 other claims, ¶ 29).

51. The Property was disclosed in bankruptcy schedules (Dkt. 11, Ex. 5), enabling avoidance under § 522(h).

DRAFT

52. The sale's gross inadequacy (~32.5% of market value) and irregularities (e.g., discharge violation, surplus shortfall) rebut the BFP v. Resolution Trust Corp. presumption (511 U.S. 531, 1994).

53. Plaintiff notified Citizens of the fraud during bankruptcy (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7), including a February 2, 2024, email (Ex. 7, pp. 49–50).

54. Trustee Corps refused to disclose bidder information or notify them of litigation (Ex. 4, p. 24; Ex. 8).

55. Plaintiff offered to return surplus funds to Hou, who refused (Ex. 4, p. 19; Ex. 8).

56. The sale price ($371,688) was grossly inadequate, causing ~$815,241.50 in damages (¶ 29).

57. Plaintiff spent ~$216,000 in time defending against the foreclosure and unlawful detainer (8 hours/day at $300/hour for 63 weekdays against Citizens/Trustee Corps; 6 hours/day for 36 days against Hou/Paloci, ¶ 29).

58. Additional damages include $19,668.92 in un-itemized Citizens' fees (Ex. 3, p. 72), $5,000 in estimated moving expenses, and $200,000 in tax base loss over 30 years (¶ 29).

59. Plaintiff's emotional distress, to be proven at trial, stems from the loss of his home and livelihood.

60. The unlawful detainer action lacks standing, as Hou's title derives from a void sale (¶ 31).

61. The statute of limitations for Plaintiff's claims is equitably tolled due to Defendants' ongoing fraud, the court's failure to address the 2017 judgment's invalidity (¶ 69), Trustee

DRAFT

Naylor's inaction (¶ 95–97), the unlawful detainer action (¶ 33), the denial of Plaintiff's ex parte application for stay in California court (Case No. 30-2015-00805807, Ex. 11), and Plaintiff's forced relocation from his home of nearly 20 years out of state, which prevented timely filing despite Plaintiff's diligent efforts (Dkt. 15, Case 22A426, Lantzy v. Centex Homes, 31 Cal. 4th 363, 370, 2003).

62. Plaintiff seeks equitable relief to restore his Property and prevent further harm.

63. This Court's intervention is critical to remedy these violations and protect Plaintiff's rights.

64. Plaintiff's bankruptcy schedules (Dkt. 11, Ex. 5) accurately reflect the Property's value and disputed liens.

65. The 2017 lien's enforcement violated Plaintiff's Fourth and Fifth Amendment rights.

66. Citibank's failure to file a proof of claim (¶ 109) negates their lien's validity.

67. The 2017 judgment's fraud is detailed in state court filings (Case 22A426, Ex. 11).

68. Plaintiff's QWRs (Exs. 21, 24) demanded proof of Citibank's debt, unanswered.

69. The foreclosure sale's proceeds were not distributed to the estate, harming creditors.

70. Naylor's inaction violated Local Bankruptcy Rule 4001-1 (Dkt. 15).

71. Plaintiff's adversary proceeding (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC) was dismissed without a hearing, violating FRBP 7001.

DRAFT

72. The district court's denial (Ex. 21) ignored Plaintiff's due process evidence.

STANDING

85. First Cause (Discharge Injunction Violation, 11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2)): Plaintiff has standing to challenge Citizens' violation of the discharge injunction, as he suffered an injury-in-fact (~$815,241.50 equity loss, $216,000 in time, ¶ 76) caused by Citizens' bad faith foreclosure exploiting the discharged 2017 judgment (¶ 75), redressable by voiding the sale and awarding damages (Prayer D, In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009).

86. Second Cause (Unauthorized Transfer, 11 U.S.C. § 549): Plaintiff has standing to seek avoidance of the unauthorized foreclosure transfer, as the injury (~$815,241.50 equity loss, ¶ 80) was caused by Citizens, Trustee Corps, and Hou's actions without court approval (¶ 80), redressable by recovering the Property or its value under § 550 (Prayer B, In re Gould, 401 B.R. 415, 426, 9th Cir. BAP 2009).

87. Third Cause (Wrongful Foreclosure, 11 U.S.C. § 522(h)): Plaintiff has standing under § 522(h) to avoid the wrongful foreclosure, as the involuntary transfer caused ~$815,241.50 in equity loss and harmed his $600,000 homestead exemption (¶ 85–88), traceable to Defendants' conspiracy (¶ 85), and redressable by voiding the sale and damages (Prayer A, In re Gebhart, 621 F.3d 1206, 1210, 9th Cir. 2010).

88. Fourth Cause (Misuse of Stay Relief, 11 U.S.C. § 105(a)): Plaintiff has standing to seek equitable relief for Citizens' misuse of the stay relief order, as the injury (~$815,241.50 equity loss, ¶ 91) was caused by Citizens' bad faith foreclosure (¶ 90), redressable by voiding the sale and sanctions (Prayer E, Marbury v. Madison, 5 U.S. 137, 177, 1803).

89. Fifth Cause (Unconstitutionality of Cal. Civ. Code § 2924): Plaintiff has standing to challenge § 2924's unconstitutional application, as Defendants' actions caused ~$815,241.50 in equity loss and constitutional violations (¶ 95–96), redressable by declaring § 2924 unconstitutional and voiding the sale (Prayer O, Lujan v. Defenders of Wildlife, 504 U.S. 555, 560–61, 1992).

DRAFT

90. Sixth Cause (Trustee Negligence, 11 U.S.C. § 105(a)): Plaintiff has standing to pursue Naylor's gross negligence, as her inaction caused ~$815,241.50 in estate loss and harmed his $600,000 exemption (¶ 101–102), redressable by damages and surcharge (Prayer P, In re Harris, 590 F.3d 730, 742, 9th Cir. 2009).

91. Seventh Cause (Citibank Lien Validity, 11 U.S.C. § 506(a), § 522(f)): Plaintiff has standing under § 522(h) to challenge Citibank's lien, as its fraudulent claim threatens his $600,000 exemption and estate surplus (~$943,782.76, ¶ 110–111), redressable by invalidating the lien (Prayer S, In re Reed, 940 F.2d 1317, 1321, 9th Cir. 1991).

92. Eighth Cause (Citibank Stay Violation, 11 U.S.C. § 362(k)): Plaintiff has standing to seek damages for Citibank's stay violation, as its post-petition actions caused ~$216,000 in expenses and distress (¶ 116), redressable by § 362(k) damages and sanctions (Prayer T, In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004).

93. Ninth Cause (Hou/Paloci Stay Violation, 11 U.S.C. § 362(k)): Plaintiff has standing to challenge Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A.'s stay violation, as their UD action caused ~$216,000 in expenses, $5,000 in moving costs, $200,000 in tax base loss, and distress (¶ 129), traceable to their conspiracy with Citizens (¶ 128), and redressable by § 362(k) damages (Prayer U, In re Kuehn).

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION: Violation of Discharge Injunction (11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2), Against Citizens)

73. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–72 as if fully set forth herein.

74. The 2017 judgment, discharged on March 27, 2023 (Dkt. 32, Ex. 6) and its lien avoided on June 22, 2023 (Dkt. 90), remained unadjudicated due to a continued chain of denial of judicial proceedings, directly and proximately causing Plaintiff's insolvency (Ex. 11, pp. 14–15). This denial included multiple court rejections of Plaintiff's attempts to challenge the void judgment, as detailed in ¶ 36, as void judgments require no time limit for challenge (People v. American Contractors Indemnity Co., 33 Cal. 4th 653, 660, 2004). Citizens knew through notices (Dkt. 102, 103; Ex. 7, pp. 43, 49–50; Motion for Withdrawal of Reference, Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21; Ex Parte Application, Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22) that adjudication was required, yet proceeded with default, exacerbating the harm. Citizens' bad faith, breach of Cal. Civ. Code § 1708, and unconstitutional § 2924 conspiracy (¶ 77) were not authorized by the stay relief order, enabled by the court's reckless disregard (Dkt. 15; Case 22A426, pp. 4–47).

DRAFT

75. Citizens' July 10, 2024, default declaration (Ex. 3, pp. 13–15) used the void 2017 judgment, which caused Plaintiff's insolvency, as the basis for declaring default, violating § 524(a)(2) by indirectly enforcing a discharged debt (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009). The ~$815,241.50 equity loss assumes Citibank's $457,693.71 lien is invalid, as Plaintiff alleges it was fraudulent and discharged in bankruptcy (Dkt. 32, Ex. 6). Citizens' actions constituted willful contempt of the discharge order (Dkt. 32), as they knowingly violated § 524(a)(2) with no fair ground to believe their default declaration was lawful, given Plaintiff's notices of the 2017 judgment lien's avoidance (Dkt. 90) and fraud (Dkt. 102, 103; Exs. 7, 21–22, Taggart v. Lorenzen, 139 S. Ct. 1795, 1801, 2019), warranting punitive damages (In re Paul, 534 F.3d 1303, 1306, 9th Cir. 2008).

76. Plaintiff suffered damages, including ~$815,241.50 in equity loss and $216,000 in time defending (¶ 29).

77. Plaintiff seeks an order voiding the sale, damages, and sanctions under § 524(a)(2).

78. Alternatively, Plaintiff seeks contempt sanctions under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a).

86. The 2017 judgment, discharged on March 27, 2023 (Dkt. 32, Ex. 6), with its lien avoided on June 22, 2023 (Dkt. 90), remained unadjudicated due to the systemic denial of judicial proceedings outlined in the Judicial Procedural History (¶ 36–47). These denials directly caused Plaintiff's insolvency, as void judgments require no time limit for challenge (People v. American Contractors Indemnity Co., 33 Cal. 4th 653, 660, 2004). Citizens was notified of the judgment's fraud through multiple filings, including bankruptcy declarations (Dkt. 102, 103), a February 2, 2024, email (Ex. 7, pp. 43, 49–50), the Motion for Withdrawal of Reference (Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21), and the Ex Parte Application for Temporary Restraining Order (Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22), rendering their foreclosure a willful violation with no fair ground of doubt (Taggart v. Lorenzen, 139 S. Ct. 1795, 1801, 2019).

DRAFT

87.1 The 2017 judgment's fraud, void for lack of prosecutorial authority and jurisdictional defects (¶ 24, People v. American Contractors Indemnity Co., 33 Cal. 4th 653, 660, 2004), caused Plaintiff's license suspension (¶ 26), denial of judicial remedy across state and federal courts (¶ 36–47), and insolvency (¶ 48), which were the proximate cause of the default exploited by Citizens' foreclosure (¶ 75), violating § 524(a)(2) by indirectly enforcing a discharged debt (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009). Citizens' foreclosure, relying on the void judgment's illegal effects (¶ 24, 48), is unenforceable, as courts will not aid claims founded on illegal acts (Asher v. Johnson, 26 Cal.App.2d 403, 79 P.2d 457, 1938; Lee On v. Long, 37 Cal.2d 499, 234 P.2d 9, 1951; Nathan v. Tenna Corp., 560 F.2d 761, 1977), violating public policy and bankruptcy's fresh start (Al-Ibrahim v. Edde, 897 F.Supp. 620, 1995; Local Loan Co. v. Hunt, 292 U.S. 234, 244, 1934).

88. Plaintiff suffered damages, including ~$815,241.50 in equity loss and $216,000 in time defending against the foreclosure (¶ 57–58), proximately caused by Citizens' willful violation of the discharge injunction through reliance on the illegal 2017 judgment's effects (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009; In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004). These harms, exacerbated by Citizens' knowledge of the fraud and discharge (¶ 86), warrant compensatory and punitive damages for egregious conduct (In re Paul, 534 F.3d 1303, 1306, 9th Cir. 2008).

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION: Avoidance of Unauthorized Post-Petition Transfer (11 U.S.C. § 549, Against Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou)

79. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–78 as if fully set forth herein.

80. The sale on November 18, 2024, was an unauthorized post-petition transfer of estate property under § 549(a), executed without court approval, as the Property remained in the estate until abandonment on December 31, 2024 (Dkt. 112, Dkt. 11, Ex. 5). The stay relief order (Dkt. 45), granted solely under § 362(d)(2), was invalidly granted, as the court violated its mandatory constitutional duty to ensure Plaintiff's due process by ignoring evidence of substantial equity ($592,946.29, Dkt. 15, ¶ 18) and the void 2017 judgment's fraudulent effects, which caused Plaintiff's alleged default and bankruptcy (¶ 48–49; Dkt. 15; Ex. 11, pp. 38–40). Despite notice of Plaintiff's exhaustion of state court remedies and their fraudulent denials (Case 22A426, pp. 4–12; ¶ 36–47; Motion for Withdrawal of Reference, Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21; Ex Parte Application, Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22), the court, acting as a 'gatekeeper,' directed Plaintiff to seek an injunction in state court during the March 1, 2023, hearing to stop Citizens' attempts to obtain relief from the stay to commence foreclosure proceedings, breaching its duty to examine evidence (In re Gould, 401 B.R. 415, 426, 9th Cir. BAP 2009) and provide a remedy (Marbury v. Madison, 5 U.S. 137, 177, 1803). This failure, part of a systemic denial of judicial remedy that forced Plaintiff into bankruptcy to seek a fresh start and emergency stay, constituted reckless disregard and fraud on the court, invalidating the order (Ex. 11, pp. 28–30). Even if valid, the order did not authorize Citizens' unconstitutional and illegal acts—bad faith foreclosure, breach of Cal. Civ. Code § 1708 duties, and conspiracy to use Cal. Civ. Code § 2924 to violate constitutional protections (¶ 77)—as these are not 'in accordance with applicable nonbankruptcy law,' rendering the sale unauthorized (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 22). Trustee Corps exacerbated the unauthorized transfer by refusing to provide bidder information or disclose litigation affecting the Property's title (Ex. 4, p. 24), further undermining the sale's legitimacy.

DRAFT

81. The Property was part of the bankruptcy estate (Dkt. 11, Ex. 5), and the sale diminished Plaintiff's exemption (¶ 28).

82. Plaintiff seeks to avoid the transfer and recover the Property or its value ($1,142,000) under § 550.

83. Defendants' actions were willful, warranting damages and costs.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION: Wrongful Foreclosure (11 U.S.C. § 522(h), Against Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou, Paloci, Paloci III, P.A., Murillo, Sergeant X, CHP Officer Doe 1, CHP Officer Doe 2)

84. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–83 as if fully set forth herein.

85. The sale was wrongful, relying on a void judgment (¶ 21), executed at a grossly inadequate price ($371,688 vs. $1,142,000, ¶ 41), and tainted by fraud (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7). Defendants Citizens and Trustee Corps conspired pre-sale to commit wrongful foreclosure by agreeing to execute the November 18, 2024, sale, despite notice of the

DRAFT

2017 judgment's fraud and discharge (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7, pp. 43, 49–50; Ex. 22). Defendants Hou, Paloci, Paloci III, P.A., Murillo, Sergeant X, CHP Officer Doe 1, and CHP Officer Doe 2 aided and abetted the conspiracy post-sale by: Hou and Paloci pursuing the unlawful detainer action after notice on February 4–17, 2025 (Ex. 4, pp. 9–10, 27–47); Murillo and Sergeant X refusing to fully, fairly, impartially, and independently investigate Plaintiff's complaints of the judgment's fraud and refusing to intervene to stop the ongoing crimes/deprivations of rights, instead serving the eviction notice on March 27, 2025, despite notice of the sale's invalidity (Ex. 9–10); and CHP Officer Doe 1 and Doe 2 refusing to fully, fairly, impartially, and independently investigate Plaintiff's fraud complaints and refusing to intervene to stop the ongoing crimes/deprivations of rights (Case 22A426, pp. 50–51, Ex. D, pp. 4905–5010), furthering the wrongful foreclosure's harm to the estate and Plaintiff's exemption (Ex. 11, pp. 28–30, In re Gebhart, 621 F.3d 1206, 1210, 9th Cir. 2010). Citizens' bad faith, breach of Cal. Civ. Code § 1708, and § 2924 conspiracy violated applicable nonbankruptcy law, unauthorized by the stay relief order and enabled by the court's due process failure (Dkt. 15). Plaintiff's emotional distress includes panic attacks, severe depression, and physical symptoms, as detailed in his bankruptcy declarations (Ex. 5).

86. Plaintiff has standing under § 522(h) to avoid the transfer, as it was involuntary and the Property was exempt (¶ 35).

87. Plaintiff seeks to void the sale, cancel the Trustee's Deed, and recover the Property.

88. Damages include ~$815,241.50 in equity loss, $216,000 in time, and emotional distress (¶ 29). Hou and Paloci's unlawful detainer action (Ex. 4, pp. 27–47) and refusal of surplus funds (Ex. 4, p. 19), Murillo and Sergeant X's eviction notice service (Ex. 9–10), and CHP Officer Doe 1 and Doe 2's refusal to investigate and intervene (Case 22A426, pp. 50–51), furthered the conspiracy, contributing to these damages.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Equitable Relief for Misuse of Stay Relief Order (11 U.S.C. § 105(a), Against Citizens)

89. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–88 as if fully set forth herein.

DRAFT

90. Citizens misused the stay relief order (Dkt. 45) by foreclosing despite notice of the judgment's fraud (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7). Citizens deliberately chose non-judicial foreclosure, avoiding judicial scrutiny that could have addressed the judgment's fraud (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42). By proceeding with a non-judicial foreclosure without judicial oversight, Citizens' actions, enabled by Cal. Civ. Code § 2924, functioned as a state-sanctioned punishment akin to a bill of pains and penalties, targeting Plaintiff for insolvency caused by the void 2017 judgment and denying Plaintiff due process to contest the sale's validity (Ex. 11, pp. 28–30, 38–40). Citizens' misuse involved bad faith, Cal. Civ. Code § 1708 breaches, and § 2924 conspiracy, unauthorized by the stay relief order's 'applicable nonbankruptcy law' requirement, enabled by the court's due process failure (Dkt. 15). Citizens received multiple notices of the fraud, including bankruptcy declarations (Dkt. 102, 103) and emails (Ex. 7, pp. 43, 49–50), yet proceeded with the sale.

91. This misuse caused irreparable harm, including equity loss and ongoing UD litigation (¶ 31).

92. Plaintiff seeks equitable relief to void the sale, impose sanctions, and prevent further harm.

93. The Court's inherent powers under § 105(a) support this relief.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Declaratory Relief for Unconstitutionality of Cal. Civ. Code § 2924 (As Applied, Against Citizens, Trustee Corps, Hou, Paloci, Paloci III, P.A., Citibank, NewRez, Murillo, Sergeant X, CHP Officer Doe 1, CHP Officer Doe 2)

94. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–93 as if fully set forth herein.

95. California Civil Code § 2924, as applied by Defendants Citizens Bank N.A., MTC Financial Inc. d/b/a Trustee Corps, Canjian Hou, Henry D. Paloci, Henry D. Paloci III, P.A., Citibank N.A., NewRez LLC, Deputy Murillo, Sergeant X, CHP Officer Doe 1, and CHP Officer Doe 2 to the November 18, 2024, foreclosure sale of Plaintiff's Property (818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA), is unconstitutional under Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 1, 7, 19, and U.S. Const. Amends. V, XIV, as it facilitated an unauthorized transfer of Plaintiff's home equity—a protected property interest—without due process or just compensation. Trustee Corps withheld litigation details from bidders (Ex. 4, p. 24), and Hou refused to return surplus funds despite notice (Ex. 4, p. 19), exploiting § 2924's lack of safeguards. Section 2924's omission of appraisal or fair market value requirements enabled the sale at ~32.5% of value, exacerbating the unconstitutional taking. Section 2924's failure to require promissory note recording facilitated fraud, as Defendants concealed title defects (Ex. 3, pp. 13–23).

DRAFT

96. The Property, valued at approximately $1,142,000, was sold for $371,688, resulting in a loss of ~$815,241.50 in equity (¶ 29), transferred to Defendant Hou without compensation, constituting a taking in violation of Cal. Const. Art. I, § 19 and U.S. Const. Amend. V (Tyler v. Hennepin County, 143 S. Ct. 1369, 1377, 2023). Section 2924's failure to mandate fair market value sales or require appraisals enabled this equity theft, violating Plaintiff's inalienable right to acquire, possess, and protect property (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 1).

97. Defendants' reliance on § 2924's non-judicial process, exploiting a void 2017 judgment (¶ 21), denied Plaintiff a pre-deprivation hearing to contest the sale's validity, violating due process under Cal. Const. Art. I, § 7 and U.S. Const. Amend. XIV (Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319, 335, 1976). Citizens and Trustee Corps proceeded despite notice of the judgment's fraud (Ex. 3, pp. 37–42; Ex. 7; Ex. 22). Hou, Paloci, Paloci III, P.A., Murillo, Sergeant X, CHP Officer Doe 1, and CHP Officer Doe 2 aided and abetted the conspiracy to violate Plaintiff's due process and takings rights by: Hou and Paloci pursuing the UD action after notice on February 4–17, 2025 (Ex. 4, pp. 9–10, 27–47); Murillo and Sergeant X refusing to fully, fairly, impartially, and independently investigate Plaintiff's complaints of the judgment's fraud and refusing to intervene to stop the ongoing crimes/deprivations of rights, instead serving the eviction notice on March 27, 2025, despite notice (Ex. 9–10); and CHP Officer Doe 1 and Doe 2 refusing to fully, fairly, impartially, and independently investigate Plaintiff's fraud complaints and refusing to intervene to stop the ongoing crimes/deprivations of rights (Case 22A426, pp. 50–51, Ex. D, pp. 4905–5010), contributing to the unconstitutional taking and punishment akin to a bill of pains and penalties (Ex. 11, pp. 38–40). By enabling the foreclosure without judicial oversight and without consideration for Plaintiff's equity interest, § 2924 operated as a state-sanctioned punishment, akin to a bill of pains and penalties, targeting Plaintiff for insolvency caused by the void 2017 judgment's fraud, denying due process and effecting an unconstitutional taking (Ex. 11, pp. 28–30, 38–40). Citizens' bad faith and Cal. Civ. Code § 1708 breaches via § 2924 were unauthorized by the stay relief order, exacerbated by the court's due process denial (Dkt. 15; Case 22A426, pp. 37–52).

DRAFT

98. Section 2924 constitutes state action, as it delegates coercive power to private parties to foreclose without judicial oversight, implicating constitutional protections (Lugar v. Edmondson Oil Co., 457 U.S. 922, 937, 1982; Shelley v. Kraemer, 334 U.S. 1, 20, 1948). The sale's gross inadequacy (~32.5% of market value, ¶ 41) and lack of procedural safeguards caused an erroneous deprivation of Plaintiff's property interest.

99. Plaintiff seeks declaratory relief that § 2924, as applied to the foreclosure sale, is unconstitutional, and an order voiding the sale and Trustee's Deed Upon Sale (Instrument No. 2025000040781, Ex. 3, pp. 16–23) as products of an unconstitutional process, restoring the Property to the bankruptcy estate.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Gross Negligence and Breach of Fiduciary Duty (11 U.S.C. § 105(a), Against Trustee Karen S. Naylor and Surety Doe)

100. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–99 as if fully set forth herein.

101. Trustee Karen S. Naylor's gross negligence and breach of fiduciary duty, evidenced by a pattern of inaction on the void 2017 judgment, Citizens' foreclosure, and Citibank's disputed lien, harmed the bankruptcy estate and Plaintiff's $600,000 homestead exemption (In re Harris, 590 F.3d 730, 742, 9th Cir. 2009). Her failure to investigate or challenge these issues, despite notice (Dkt. 15, Case 22A426, LBR 4001-1; Motion for Withdrawal of Reference, Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21; Ex Parte Application, Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22), and declaration of no assets (Dkt. 72, May 19, 2023), enabled the non-judicial foreclosure sale (November 18, 2024, ¶ 30) after the court inconsistently granted Citizens' motion for relief while denying Citibank's (Dkt. 44, ¶ 111), despite similar fraud concerns (Dkt. 15, ¶ 28; Dkt. 58, ¶ 77). This resulted in the theft of ~$815,241.50 in equity and denial of Plaintiff's exemption, undermining his fresh start (Slaieh v. Simon, 584 B.R. 28, 40, C.D. Cal. 2018). The court's erroneous dismissal and reconsideration denial (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Docs. 19, 27), which relied on Naylor's control over estate claims without addressing her inaction, exacerbated this harm. Naylor's failure to oppose Citizens' motion—despite notice of equity ($556,549.54, Dkt. 15, ¶ 18), unproven default (Dkt. 15, ¶ 28), and the fraudulent 2017 lien (Case 22A426, pp. 4–47)—or investigate allowed a sale that destroyed ~$647,909.54 in estate value ($1,142,000 − $494,090.46 in valid liens, Dkt. 15, ¶ 18), contrary to her duty to maximize assets (In re Gunnison Center Apartments, LP, 320 B.R. 391, 397, Bankr. D. Colo. 2005).

DRAFT

102. Surety Doe, as Naylor's bondholder under 11 U.S.C. § 322(b), is liable for losses caused by Naylor's gross negligence (In re AFI Holding, Inc., 525 F.3d 700, 703, 8th Cir. 2008). Damages include ~$815,241.50 in estate value loss and ~$600,000 in exemption loss.

103. Plaintiff seeks damages, surcharge against Naylor, recovery from the bond, and equitable relief under § 105(a).

SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Determination of Validity and Secured Status of Alleged Citibank Lien (11 U.S.C. § 506(a), § 522(f), Against Citibank N.A.)

104. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–103 as if fully set forth herein.

105. On December 8, 2022, Plaintiff filed for Chapter 7 bankruptcy (Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC, Dkt. 1), scheduling Citibank N.A.'s alleged first mortgage lien of $457,693.71 on the Property (818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA) as secured (Dkt. 11, Ex. 5). On February 15, 2023, Plaintiff amended his schedules, listing the lien as disputed and unsecured due to evidence of fraud (Dkt. 18; Dkt. 15, ¶ 2; Case 22A426, pp. 14–15).

106. On April 19, 2023, Citibank, through its alleged agent NewRez LLC, filed a Motion for Relief from Stay (Dkt. 44), claiming a $502,238.46 lien based on a July 5, 2005, promissory note ($595,000, First Horizon) and an undated, unattached allonge lacking proof of agency authority (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Ex. 15, pp. 14–17; Dkt. 58, Ex. 1, p. 4). Plaintiff opposed, alleging fraud and lack of standing (Dkt. 58, ¶ 8–54), and the court denied Citibank's motion, recognizing deficiencies in its claim, unlike its granting of Citizens' motion, which enabled the foreclosure sale (¶ 111). Citibank was notified of these issues through Plaintiff's Motion for Withdrawal of Reference (Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21) and Ex Parte Application for Temporary Restraining Order (Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22).

107. On July 14, 2023, Plaintiff filed an adversary proceeding (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Doc 1) to determine the validity and enforceability of Citibank's lien, prompted by Citibank's foreclosure attempts (Notice of Default, July 7, 2022; Dkt. 58, ¶ 9) and systemic denial of state court remedies, which provided no forum to adjudicate Citibank's claim due to fraudulent denials and jurisdictional defects, forcing Plaintiff into bankruptcy (¶ 36–47, Case 22A426, pp. 4–12; Dkt. 58, ¶ 1).

108. Plaintiff denies the note's validity, signatures, and transfers, alleging Citibank is not a holder/beneficiary (CCC §§ 3309, 9312(b), 9313, 9314) and engaged in fraudulent acts (CCC § 3202(b)). Citibank failed to produce the original note or account statements despite Qualified Written Requests (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Exs. 20, 24; Dkt. 58, Ex. 6, pp. 1–8), and no proof of claim was filed (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, ¶ 22). Under CCC § 3308(a), Plaintiff is not obligated to pay absent proof of debt, negating default (Dkt. 58, ¶ 49–54). The note, if valid, was discharged on March 27, 2023 (Dkt. 32, Ex. 6). Citibank and NewRez filed fraudulent documents (Notice of Default, Substitution of Trustee, Corporate Assignment of Deed of Trust, Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Exs. 11–13; Dkt. 58, Ex. 1, pp. 22–26), violating Cal. Penal Code §§ 470, 487, 182 (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, ¶ 36–37; Dkt. 58, ¶ 77). The allonge's appearance in Dkt. 44, absent in prior QWRs (Ex. 20; Dkt. 58, Ex. 6), and contradicted by Mr. Cooper's note claim (Dkt. 58, Ex. 3, p. 11, March 20, 2023), evidences fraud. The assignments are nullities without note transfer (Cal. Civ. Code § 1084; Carpenter v. Longan, 83 U.S. 271, 274, 1872), lack agent authority (Dkt. 58, ¶ 73–76, Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1971), and contain redactions (Dkt. 58, ¶ 19). Citibank lacks standing (CCC §§ 3501(b)(2), 9203, 3301; Dkt. 58, ¶ 8–15).

109. The court's dismissal of the adversary for lack of standing (Doc 19, August 31, 2023), followed by denial of reconsideration (Doc 27, October 13, 2023), was erroneous and part of a systemic denial of due process (¶ 36–47, Case 22A426, pp. 4–12; Dkt. 58, ¶ 54, 80). The court noted it would abstain to state court if standing existed (Doc 19, p. 4, n.4) but dismissed without addressing Plaintiff's fraud evidence (Doc 16, Dkt. 58, Exs. 1–6) or holding hearings (Docs. 19, 27), violating FRBP 7001. The district court's denial of Plaintiff's Motion for Withdrawal of Reference (Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21) and inaction on his Ex Parte Application for Temporary Restraining Order (Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22) furthered these denials. Plaintiff has standing under § 522(h), as his $600,000 homestead exemption (Dkt. 11, Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 704.730), unopposed by March 15, 2023, revested in him under § 522(l) (In re Reed, 940 F.2d 1317, 1321, 9th Cir. 1991), covering the $457,693.71 lien (Miller v. Huntington Nat. Bank, 2013 WL 593780, N.D. W. Va. 2013). Plaintiff scheduled a $50,000,000 claim including Citibank (Dkt. 11, Case 22A426, Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, ¶ 2), countering the court's "unscheduled" finding (Doc 27, p. 5, n.4). Referral to state court, known to deny remedy due to conflicts and jurisdictional defects (¶ 36–47, Dkt. 58, ¶ 1), would violate judicial redress (Marbury v. Madison, 5 U.S. 137, 163, 1803).

110. Trustee Naylor's failure to pursue the Citibank claim or challenge the fraudulent 2017 judgment, despite notice (Dkt. 15, Case 22A426, LBR 4001-1; Motion for Withdrawal of Reference, Case No. 8:23-cv-00711-PA, Ex. 21; Ex Parte Application, Case No. 8:24-cv-02509-AB-JC, Ex. 22), and declaration of no assets (Dkt. 72, May 19, 2023), breached her fiduciary duty (Slaieh v. Simon, 584 B.R. 28, 40, C.D. Cal. 2018). This inaction, unaddressed by the court's dismissal (Docs. 19, 27), enabled the non-judicial foreclosure sale (November 18, 2024, ¶ 30) by Citizens, whose motion for relief was granted despite similar fraud concerns, unlike Citibank's denied motion (Dkt. 44), resulting in the theft of ~$815,241.50 in equity, denial of Plaintiff's $600,000 homestead exemption, and loss of his fresh start by preventing a surplus (~$943,782.76, ¶ 101).

111. If invalid, the lien would yield ~$457,693.71 in equity, creating a ~$943,782.76 surplus for Plaintiff's exemption or the estate (In re Andrews, 80 F.3d 558, 561, 1st Cir. 1996).

112. Plaintiff seeks a determination under § 506(a) that Citibank's alleged lien is unsecured or invalid, avoidance under § 522(f) to the extent it impairs his exemption, a declaratory judgment that Citibank has no valid lien, and an order striking fraudulent documents (Exs. 11–13) from the Orange County Clerk-Recorder's records.

EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Violation of Automatic Stay and False Claim (11 U.S.C. § 362(k), § 105(a), Against Citibank N.A.)

113. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–112 as if fully set forth herein.

114. Citibank N.A., through its alleged agent NewRez LLC, violated the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(3) by attempting to perfect its alleged $502,238.46 lien post-petition, as detailed in ¶ 106–107. The introduction of an undated allonge in NewRez's Motion for Relief from Stay (Dkt. 44, April 19, 2023; Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Ex. 15, p. 17; Dkt. 58, Ex. 1, p. 4), absent in prior Qualified Written Requests (Adv. No. 8:23-ap-01075-SC, Ex. 20, March 29, 2023; Dkt. 58, Ex. 6, pp. 1–8) and contradicted by Mr.

DRAFT

Cooper's claim to hold the original note (Dkt. 58, Ex. 3, p. 11, March 20, 2023), was a post-petition act to falsely establish Citibank's lien status.

115. This act constituted a willful violation of the stay, seeking to control estate property without court approval (In re Del Mission Ltd., 98 F.3d 1147, 1151, 9th Cir. 1996), and a false claim misrepresenting Citibank's lien status with intent to deceive the court and estate, violating 18 U.S.C. § 152(4) (false claim), Cal. Penal Code § 115 (false filing), § 132 (offering false evidence), § 134 (preparing false evidence), § 182 (conspiracy), and FRBP 9011 (In re Eskew, 573 B.R. 317, 323, Bankr. N.D. Cal. 2017). The court's failure to address this fraud in its dismissal for lack of standing, despite noting hypothetical abstention (Docs. 19, p. 4, n.4; 27), furthered the conspiracy to defraud Plaintiff and the estate (¶ 107, Dkt. 58, ¶ 77).

116. The stay violation, compounded by Trustee Naylor's failure to challenge Citibank's false claim (Dkt. 72, May 19, 2023) and the court's inconsistent granting of Citizens' motion for relief despite denying Citibank's (¶ 111), caused Plaintiff injury, including legal expenses (~$216,000, ¶ 58) and emotional distress (¶ 59). This enabled the non-judicial foreclosure sale (November 18, 2024, ¶ 30), stealing ~$815,241.50 in equity and denying Plaintiff's $600,000 homestead exemption, undermining his fresh start (In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004).

117. Plaintiff seeks damages under § 362(k), sanctions under § 105(a), and a finding that Citibank's false claim via the allonge invalidates its lien, as part of the conspiracy to deprive Plaintiff of his Property (¶ 107, Dkt. 58, ¶ 77).

NINTH CAUSE OF ACTION: Violation of Automatic Stay (11 U.S.C. § 362(k), Against Hou, Paloci, Paloci III, P.A.)

126. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1–117 as if fully set forth herein.

127. Defendants Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A., willfully violated the automatic stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(6) by filing and pursuing an unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684, February 11, 2025, ¶ 34) to collect a discharged debt tied to the 2017 judgment (discharged March 27, 2023, ¶ 86, Dkt. 32) and enforce a void foreclosure sale

DRAFT

(¶ 30, 75), despite notice of Plaintiff's bankruptcy filing (Case No. 8:22-BK-12076-SC) and the judgment's fraud [Placeholder: Describe Notice Content, e.g., Ex. 4, pp. 9–10, 19; Ex. 8; Case 22A426, pp. 50–51]. Their knowledge of the discharge and fraud left no fair ground of doubt that their actions violated § 524(a)(2) and § 362(a)(6) (Taggart v. Lorenzen, 139 S. Ct. 1795, 1801, 2019).

128. Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A., acted with knowledge of the bankruptcy, as Plaintiff provided the bankruptcy case number and fraud details [Placeholder: Notice Details], yet conspired with and aided/abetted Citizens' bad faith foreclosure, which violated the discharge injunction by exploiting the discharged judgment's effects (¶ 75, In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009). Their pursuit of the UD action and default judgment [Placeholder: UD Judgment Details] furthered this conspiracy, seeking to control estate interests and enforce a discharged debt (In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004).

128.1 The 2017 judgment's fraud, void for lack of prosecutorial authority (¶ 24, People v. American Contractors Indemnity Co., 33 Cal. 4th 653, 660, 2004), caused Plaintiff's license suspension (¶ 26), denial of judicial remedy (¶ 36–47), and insolvency (¶ 48), which were the proximate cause of the default underlying the foreclosure enforced by Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A.'s UD action (¶ 34, 128), violating § 362(a)(6) and § 524(a)(2) by collecting a discharged debt (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009). Their UD action, relying on the void judgment's illegal effects (¶ 24, 48), is unenforceable, as courts will not aid claims founded on illegal acts (Asher v. Johnson, 26 Cal.App.2d 403, 79 P.2d 457, 1938; Lee On v. Long, 37 Cal.2d 499, 234 P.2d 9, 1951; Nathan v. Tenna Corp., 560 F.2d 761, 1977; Bassidji v. Goe, 413 F.3d 928, 2005; Franklin v. Mortgage Guaranty & Security Co., 57 F.2d 834, 1932; Al-Ibrahim v. Edde, 897 F.Supp. 620, 1995).

129. This willful violation caused Plaintiff damages, including ~$216,000 in time defending, $5,000 in moving expenses, $200,000 in tax base loss over 30 years, and emotional distress (¶ 57–59), proximately caused by Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A.'s UD action enforcing the illegal 2017 judgment's effects (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009; In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004). These harms, exacerbated by their knowledge of the fraud and discharge (¶ 127), warrant compensatory and punitive damages for egregious conduct (In re Paul, 534 F.3d 1303, 1306, 9th Cir. 2008).

DRAFT

130. Plaintiff seeks damages under 11 U.S.C. § 362(k), including ~$216,000 in legal expenses, $5,000 in moving expenses, $200,000 in tax base loss, and emotional distress, punitive damages for willful misconduct, sanctions under § 105(a), and a finding that the UD action and judgment are void as violations of the automatic stay.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Plaintiff respectfully requests the following relief:

A. An order voiding the November 18, 2024, foreclosure sale and canceling the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale (Instrument No. 2025000040781).

B. Recovery of the Property (818 Spirit, Costa Mesa, CA) to the bankruptcy estate under 11 U.S.C. § 550.

C. A determination that Citizens' lien is secured only to the extent of the sale proceeds, with surplus due to Plaintiff (11 U.S.C. § 506(a)).

D. Damages for violation of the discharge injunction, including ~$815,241.50 in equity loss, $216,000 in time defending, and all harms proximately caused by the illegal 2017 judgment's effects (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009; In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004), and, if the sale is not voided, a determination that Citizens' lien is secured only to the extent of the debt owed ($62,523.24), with any surplus due to Plaintiff (11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2), § 506(a)).

E. Sanctions against Citizens for misuse of the stay relief order (11 U.S.C. § 105(a)).

F. Declare the UD judgment (Case No. 30-2025-01459684) void due to Citizens' bad faith violation of 11 U.S.C. § 524, Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A.'s willful violation of 11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(6) through conspiracy and aiding/abetting, and as independent of any determination in the separate adversary proceeding challenging the 2017 judgment, with damages under § 362(k).

DRAFT

G. Costs of suit and attorney fees, if applicable.

H. A professional appraisal of the Property to confirm damages, if the sale is not voided.

I. Dismissal of the unlawful detainer action (Case No. 30-2025-01459684) with prejudice.

J. An accounting of all fees and costs charged by Citizens (Ex. 3, p. 72).

K. Emotional distress damages, to be proven at trial.

L. Punitive damages for Defendants' willful misconduct (Cal. Civ. Code § 3294).

M. All other relief the Court deems just and proper.

N. An order requiring surplus funds be returned to Hou, less Plaintiff's awarded damages, within five business days.

O. Declare that Cal. Civ. Code § 2924, as applied by Defendants to the November 18, 2024, foreclosure sale, violated Plaintiff's rights under Cal. Const. Art. I, §§ 1, 7, 19, and U.S. Const. Amends. V, XIV, by enabling the transfer of ~$815,241.50 in home equity without due process or just compensation, and void the sale and Trustee's Deed as unconstitutional.

P. Surcharge Trustee Naylor for ~$815,241.50 in estate losses and ~$600,000 in exemption losses, and recover against her bond under 11 U.S.C. § 322(b).

Q. Punitive damages for Citizens' willful contempt of the discharge injunction under 11 U.S.C. § 524(a)(2).

DRAFT

R. Injunctive relief to compel the court to adjudicate Plaintiff's claims regarding the 2017 judgment's effects and Citibank's lien validity, preventing further denial of judicial remedy under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a).

S. A determination that Citibank's alleged $457,693.71 lien is invalid or unsecured under 11 U.S.C. § 506(a), avoidance under § 522(f) to the extent it impairs Plaintiff's $600,000 homestead exemption, a declaratory judgment that Citibank has no valid lien, and an order striking fraudulent documents (Notice of Default, Substitution of Trustee, Corporate Assignment of Deed of Trust) from the Orange County Clerk-Recorder's records.

T. Damages under 11 U.S.C. § 362(k) for Citibank's willful violation of the automatic stay, including ~$216,000 in legal expenses and emotional distress damages, sanctions under § 105(a) for Citibank's false claim violating 18 U.S.C. § 152(4), Cal. Penal Code §§ 115, 132, 134, 182 (conspiracy), and a finding that the false allonge invalidates its alleged lien.

U. Damages under 11 U.S.C. § 362(k) for Hou, Paloci, and Paloci III, P.A.'s willful violation of the automatic stay, including ~$216,000 in legal expenses, $5,000 in moving expenses, $200,000 in tax base loss, emotional distress damages, and all harms proximately caused by the illegal 2017 judgment's effects (In re Kuehn, 563 F.3d 289, 292, 7th Cir. 2009; In re Dawson, 390 F.3d 1139, 1149, 9th Cir. 2004), punitive damages (In re Paul, 534 F.3d 1303, 1306, 9th Cir. 2008), and sanctions under § 105(a).

Hearing held, all participants appearing remotely.

Ex-Parte application for Emergency Stay of Unlawful Detainer Action is requested by defendant Adam Bereki.

The Court having fully considered the arguments of all parties, both written and oral, as well as the evidence presented, now rules as follows:

Ex Parte Application is denied by the Court.

The Court will not treat the Ex Parte Application as a new Complaint or an Answer to the Complaint for Case No. 30-2025-01459684. Defendant must file the Answer in the proper case (Case No. 30-2025-01459684) and not in this matter. Any new lawsuits must be filed as a new Complaint.

By virtue of the Writ of Execution for Possession/Real Property (eviction), issued out of the above court, you are hereby ordered to vacate the premises described on the writ.

|---|---|
| Eviction Address: | 818 SpiritCosta Mesa, CA 92626 |
| Final notice is hereby given that possession of the property must be turned over to the landlord on or before: | Wednesday, April 2, 2025 06:01 am |

Should you fail to vacate the premises within the allotted time, I will immediately enforce the writ by removing you from the premises. All personal property upon the premises at the time will be turned over to the landlord, who must return said personal property to you upon your payment of the reasonable cost incurred by the landlord in storing the property from the date of eviction to the date of payment. If the property is stored on the landlord's premises, the reasonable cost of storage is the fair rental value of the space necessary for the time of storage. If you do not pay the reasonable storage costs and take possession within fifteen (15) days, the landlord may either sell your property at a public sale and keep from the proceeds of the sale the costs of storage and of the sale (1988 CIV), or, if the property is valued at less than $700.00, the landlord may dispose of your property or retain it for his own use. (715.010(b)(3), 1174 CCP)

If you claim a right of possession of the premises that accrued prior to the commencement of this action, or if you were in possession of the premises on the date of the filing of the action and you are not named on the writ, complete and file the attached Claim of Right of Possession form with this office. No claim of right to possession can be filed if the prejudgment claim of right to possession was served as indicated on the writ unless the eviction is the result of a foreclosure.

NOTICE TO PERSON SERVED

WRIT OF EXECUTION OR SALE. Your rights and duties are indicated on the accompanying Notice of Levy (form EJ-150).

WRIT OF POSSESSION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY. If the levying officer is not able to take custody of the property, the levying officer will demand that you turn over the property. If custody is not obtained following demand, the judgment may be enforced as a money judgment for the value of the property specified in the judgment or in a supplemental order.

WRIT OF POSSESSION OF REAL PROPERTY. If the premises are not vacated within five days after the date of service on the occupant or, if service is by posting, within five days after service on you, the levying officer will remove the occupants from the real property and place the judgment creditor in possession of the property. Except for a mobile home, personal property remaining on the premises will be sold or otherwise disposed of in accordance with CCP 1174 unless you or the owner of the property pays the judgment creditor the reasonable cost of storage and takes possession of the personal property not later than 15 days after the time the judgment creditor takes possession of the premises.

EXCEPTION IF RENTAL HOUSING UNIT WAS FORECLOSED. If the residential property that you are renting was sold in a foreclosure, you have additional time before you must vacate the premises. If you have a lease for a fixed term, such as for a year, you may remain in the property until the term is up. If you have a periodic lease or tenancy, such as from month-to-month, you may remain in the property for 90 days after receiving a notice to quit. A blank form Claim of Right to Possession and Notice of Hearing (form CP10) accompanies this writ. You may claim your right to remain on the property by filling it out and giving it to the sheriff or levying officer.

EXCEPTION IF YOU WERE NOT SERVED WITH A FORM CALLED PREJUDGMENT CLAIM OF RIGHT TO POSSESSION. If you were not named in the judgment for possession and you occupied the premises on the date on which the unlawful detainer case was filed, you may object to the enforcement of the judgment against you. You must complete the form Claim of Right to Possession and Notice of Hearing (form CP10) and give it to the sheriff or levying officer. A blank form accompanies this writ. You have this right whether or not the property you are renting was sold in a foreclosure.

FOR THE COUNTY OF ORANGE– CENTRAL JUSTICE CENTER

The Spartan Associates, Inc.

Plaintiff and Defendant,

vs.

Karen Humphreys and Gary Humphreys,

Defendants / Cross-Complainants,

vs.

Adam Bereki,

Defendant.

Main Case No.: 30-2015-00805807
Related Case No.: 30-2025-01459684 (Unlawful Detainer)
Related Appeal Case No.: 30-2025-01482941

NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION TO VACATE VOID JUDGMENT
Hearing Res.: 74569641

INCORPORATED DECLARATION OF ADAM BEREKI IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO VACATE

FILED CONCURRENTLY WITH REQUEST FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE

TO THE COURT, ALL PARTIES, AND THEIR ATTORNEY(S) OF RECORD:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on July 17, 2025 ~~June 26, 2025~~, at 2:00 PM, in Department C23 of the Superior Court of California, County of Orange, located at 700 W. Civic Center Dr., Santa Ana, California, Defendant Adam Bereki ("Defendant") will move this Court for an order to:

1. Vacate the Void Judgment in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, entered on April 20, 2017, and appeal entered on October 31, 2018, Case No. G055075, as a bill of pains and penalties in violation of Cal. Const. Art. I, § 9 and U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10, and excessive fine in violation of Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17, along with other Constitutional violations (listed below) based on new evidence of extrinsic fraud and fraud on the court pursuant to the Court's inherent equitable jurisdiction, Cal. Const. Art. I, § 26,

U.S. Const. Art. VI, § 2. The new evidence includes a U.S. Supreme Court case, Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71 (2020) defining the nature and scope of the equitable remedy "disgorgement" used to conceal the penal forfeiture in this case and Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr. Co., 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201 (2020), recognizing the penal nature of Cal. Business & Prof. Code § 7031.

2. Declare the Law of the Case, Finality, Res Judicata and Collateral Estoppel Doctrines Inapplicable, as the judgment is void ab initio due to lack of personal and subject matter jurisdiction, extrinsic fraud, and constitutional violations, supported by the new evidence.
3. Order Restitution of all rights and property lost and damages incurred in accordance with law. In addition to the deprivation of rights and property evidenced herein and Defendant's Declaration in support, he will submit an accounting upon the Court's award of judgment in his favor for all expenses, rights, damages, and property lost as a result of the judgment. Some of these claims may require an additional opportunity for adversarial proceedings (i.e., emotional distress claims and the loss of his home in foreclosure sale).
4. Grant Declaratory Relief identifying each constitutional violation raised herein rendering the judgment void, including the unconstitutionality of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(a) and (b) as applied.
5. Provide other relief in accordance with law or equity as the Court deems reasonable and just.

This motion is based on the Court's inherent equitable authority, Cal. Const. Art. I, § 26, U.S. Const. Art. VI, § 2, and new evidence proving the judgment's punitive nature and voidness on the face of the record. It is supported by this Notice, the attached Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the Declaration of Adam Bereki, all pleadings in Case No. 30-2015-00805807, and appellate Case No. G055075, the concurrently filed Motion for Judicial Notice (including certified legislative history of Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b) as RJN Ex. 13), Exhibits 1–3 attached hereto, and any further evidence or argument at the hearing.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Defendant Adam Bereki moves to vacate the April 20, 2017, judgment in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 and the judgment in Court of Appeal Case No. G055075 issued October 31, 2018, a bill of pains and penalties imposing a ~$930,000 penalty ($848,000 under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b) and ~$82,000 denied under § 7031(a)) for alleged unlicensed contracting, in violation of Cal. Const. Art. I, § 9, U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10, and other due/judicial process violations. The judgment is void ab initio, due to lack of personal and subject matter jurisdiction, extrinsic fraud, fraud on the court, and due/judicial process violations, including no evidence Defendant personally performed construction work, as required by CACI 4560(3), and misapplication of § 7031(a) and (b) when, assuming Defendant violated the licensing laws which he disputes, § 7028.5 would have been the correct statute. Section 7031(b), as applied, is a penal action, not a civil equitable remedy under the law of unjust enrichment referred to as "disgorgement", imposing punishment without executive authority or criminal safeguards as confirmed by new evidence: Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr. Co., 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201, 1212 (2020) (§ 7031(b) imposes a punitive forfeiture, not equitable relief) and Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71, 79 (2020) (disgorgement as an equitable remedy limited to net profits, unlike § 7031(b)'s total forfeiture penalty when value is returned but not offset). As applied, § 7031(b) is unconstitutional, violates due/judicial process, the Excessive Fines Clause, and the prohibition on bills of pains and penalties. The Court has a mandatory, non-discretionary ministerial duty to vacate this facially void judgment pursuant to Cal. Const. Art. I, § 26 and U.S. Const. Art. VI, § 2, as both the letter and spirit of the law require immediate vacatur of judgments lacking jurisdiction (Katzberg v. Regents of Univ. of Cal., 29 Cal. 4th 300, 306–07 (2002) (unconstitutional acts are void under Cal. Const.); Courts cannot affirm void judgments, which are nullities subject to direct and collateral attack at any time (Bennett v. Wilson, 122 Cal. 509, 513–14 (1898) ("[a] void judgment is, in legal effect, no judgment. By it no rights are divested. From it no rights can be obtained. Being worthless in itself, all proceedings founded upon it are equally worthless. It neither binds nor bars any one"; Elliot v. Piersol, 26 U.S. 328, 340 (1828). The Court must grant restitution of all rights and property lost and damages caused by the effects of the void judgment and the automatic summary penal license suspension under § 7071.17.

II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

In 2012, Defendant's company, The Spartan Associates, Inc. (General Contractor License #927244), for which Defendant was the Qualifying Individual and Responsible Managing Officer, contracted with the Humphreys for a condominium remodel in Newport Beach (Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript 3/27/17] p.131, Lines 22-24 [Defendant is Qualifying Individual for Spartan's License]). All work on the project was by Spartan and its licensed subcontractors (Ex. 1: p. 125, Lines 2-8; p.140, Line 10 – p.143 Line 9 [Spartan and sub-contractors performed all work]; p. 129, Lines 12-15 [Spartan obtained building permits]; p.131, Line 25 – p.133, Line 8 [building permits admitted into evidence]; Ex. 2 [Building Permits]). The Humphreys paid Spartan and Defendant $848,000 but disputed ~$82,000 in money Spartan claimed it was owed. Spartan sued (ROA 2), and the Humphreys cross-complained under § 7031(b), alleging Defendant personally contracted without a license (ROA 144 [First Amended Cross-Complaint]). On March 28, 2017, Judge David Chaffee (Ret.) ruled Defendant was the unlicensed contractor, awarding $848,000 for "disgorgement" and denying ~$82,000 (ROA 193 [Minute Order 3/28/17]; RJN Ex. 1), despite no known evidence Defendant performed any work that required a license, as required by CACI 4560(3) (Decl. ¶ 15). The judgment was entered April 20, 2017 for "damages" (ROA 200; RJN Ex.1) despite no known evidence of "damages" presented at trial (Decl. ¶ 10). Defendant, self-represented, was misled about the action's penal nature, waiving jury trial (Decl. ¶'s 6, 7, 8). He was also denied counsel and all other heightened protections required in criminal proceedings (Id.). The ~$930,000 penalty, estimated 40 times his qualifying net worth (Decl. ¶ 12), triggered automatic summary license suspension under § 7071.17 (Decl. ¶'s 3, 12) causing an estimated $3 million in lost earnings. (Decl. ¶'s 2, 12). The Fourth District Court of Appeal (Case No. G055075) affirmed, and relief was denied by the California Supreme Court (Case No. S252954), U.S. Supreme Court (Case No. 18-1416), and U.S. District Court for the Central District of California (Case No. 8:19-CV-02050). (Decl. ¶ 19; RJN Ex.'s 1-12).

III. LEGAL STANDARD

A. Definition of a Facially Void Judgment

A judgment is void on its face when the defect rendering it invalid—specifically a lack of personal or subject matter jurisdiction or a fundamental due/judicial process violation—is apparent from the judgment roll or the court's record without requiring extrinsic evidence (Pittman v. Beck Park Apartments Ltd., 20 Cal. App. 5th 1009, 1020 (2018)). The judgment roll, per CCP § 670, includes the complaint, cross-complaint, judgment, and any documents referred to in the judgment, such as the trial record. Rochin v. Pat Johnson Mfg. Co., 67 Cal. App. 4th 1228, 1239 (1998) defines this standard: "A judgment void on its face because rendered when the court lacked personal or subject matter jurisdiction or exceeded its jurisdiction in granting relief which the court had no power to grant, is subject to collateral attack at any time. An attack on a void judgment may also be direct, since a court has inherent power, apart from statute, to correct its records by vacating a judgment which is void on its face, for such a judgment is a nullity and may be ignored." (Citations omitted). Voidness arises from: • Lack of Subject Matter Jurisdiction: The court lacked authority, such as by applying an incorrect statute and/or Plaintiff's failure to state a claim under a statute (Drink Tank Ventures LLC v. Real Soda in Real Bottles, Ltd., 71 Cal. App. 5th 528, 541 (2021) • Lack of Personal Jurisdiction: The court lacked authority over the defendant due to improper service of a criminal complaint (Albrecht v. United States, 273 U.S. 1, 8 (1923) (lack of proper service voids judgment)). • Due Process Violations: Fundamental procedural errors, such as imposing a judgment without evidentiary support or criminal safeguards, evident from the record (Pittman v. Beck Park Apartments Ltd., 20 Cal. App. 5th 1009, 1020 (2018), Thompson v. Louisville, 362 U.S. 199 (1960)). The court has a mandatory, non-discretionary ministerial duty to vacate a facially void judgment under Cal. Const. Art. I, § 26 and U.S. Const. Art. VI, § 2, as unconstitutional acts are without authority and void ab initio (Katzberg v. Regents of Univ. of Cal., 29 Cal. 4th 300, 306–07 (2002); Courts cannot affirm void judgments, which lack legal effect and are subject to collateral attack at any time (Bennett, Piersol, supra); Ware v. Stafford, 206 Cal. App. 2d 232, 239 (1962) (uncontroverted evidence of invalidity mandates vacatur)).

B. Equitable Jurisdiction to Vacate Void Judgments

Independent of statutory limits (which are intentionally not cited or relied on as statutes such as CCP § 473 cannot shield void and/or fraudulent judgments), the court's inherent equitable jurisdiction mandates vacatur of void judgments at any time, especially for extrinsic fraud or fraud on the court, without requiring facial voidness (Olivera v. Grace, 19 Cal. 2d 570, 574 (1942) (equity requires vacatur for fraud)). It is well established that equity will not permit a statute [such as § 7031(a) and/or (b) and/or CCP § 473] to be used as a cloak for fraud as statutes cannot shield fraudulent judgments and equity will not suffer a wrong to be without a remedy. Extrinsic fraud, such as preventing a fair hearing, requires vacatur (Estate of Sanders, 40 Cal. 3d 607, 614 (1985)). This is a mandatory non-discretionary ministerial duty as void judgments are nullities (Thompson v. Cook, 20 Cal. 2d at 569–73).

C. The Laws of Finality and of Case Do Not Apply to Void Judgments

The law of the case doctrine does not apply to void judgments or when new law alters the legal landscape. People v. Boyer, 38 Cal. 4th 412, 442 (2006). Additionally, "the doctrine is one of procedure, not jurisdiction, and it will not be applied where its application will result in an unjust decision, e.g., where there has been a manifest misapplication of existing principles resulting in substantial injustice" (Id. at p.441; citations and internal quotations omitted). New authorities (Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71 (2020); Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr. Co., 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201 (2020)) and evidence of fraud and constitutional violations negate its application.

The rule of finality of judgments promotes judicial economy by treating a final judgment as conclusive, but this principle does not shield void judgments, which lack legal sanction due to jurisdictional or procedural defects. The U.S. Supreme Court in Elliot v. Piersol, 26 U.S. 328, 340 (1828), California Supreme Court in Rochin v. Pat Johnson Manufacturing Co., 67 Cal. App. 4th 1228, 1239 (1998), hold that a judgment issued by a court without jurisdiction is void. It "neither binds nor bars any one" (Rochin at p.1240) "and form[s] no bar to a remedy sought in opposition [...], even prior to a reversal" (Piersol at p.329) and cannot, therefore, support execution or preclude direct or collateral attack.

E. The Doctrines of Res Judicata and Collateral Estoppel Do Not Apply

The doctrines of res judicata and collateral estoppel also do not apply, as the judgment was procured by extrinsic fraud through the Humphreys' and Bissell's conspiracy to usurp executive power under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(a) and (b), with judicial acquiescence, rendering the court without subject matter and personal jurisdiction (Rochin v. Pat Johnson Manufacturing Co., 67 Cal. App. 4th at 1239 (res judicata inapplicable to void judgments). Defendant contends that because the Superior Court lacked personal and subject matter jurisdiction and the appellate Court to affirm, there was no "actual litigation" that occurred and no "issues" were lawfully "decided". As a result, no order, "final and on the merits", was ever made. Applying preclusion would undermine judicial integrity, contrary to Lucido v. Superior Court, 51 Cal. 3d 335, 342–43 (1990) (preclusion cannot shield fraud). People v. Dutra, 145 Cal. App. 4th 1359, 1365 (2006) limits post-remittitur jurisdiction to valid judgments, not void ones (Olivera v. Grace, 19 Cal. 2d 570, 574 (1942)). The judgment's facial voidness (Pittman v. Beck Park Apartments Ltd., 20 Cal. App. 5th 1009, 1020 (2018)) and prior affirmances do not bar relief.

IV. THIS COURT HAS A MANDATORY NON-DISCRETIONARY MINISTERIAL DUTY TO GRANT RELIEF

This Court has a mandatory, non-discretionary ministerial duty to grant Defendant's Motion to Vacate the void judgment in Case No. 30-2015-00805807 and appeal in Case No. G055075, as they were procured through extrinsic fraud, lack of subject matter and personal jurisdiction, and violations of fundamental constitutional protections, resulting in irreparable harm. The California Constitution, Article I, Section 26, declares its provisions "mandatory and prohibitory," rendering any action in violation thereof void (Katzberg v. Regents of Univ. of Cal., 29 Cal. 4th 300, 306–07 (2002)). Vanhorne's Lessee v. Dorrance, 2 U.S. 304, 308 (1795), reinforces that judicial acts contravening constitutional mandates are "absolutely void," leaving courts no discretion to uphold them.

The judgment's defects constitute structural jurisdictional errors, as defined in Johnson v. Zerbst, 304 U.S. 458, 467–68 (1938), where the U.S. Supreme Court held that denial of the Sixth Amendment right to counsel deprives a court of jurisdiction, rendering the proceeding void. Here, the Humphreys' unauthorized criminal prosecution under Business and Professions Code § 7031(a) and (b), lacking executive authority (Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1), and the fraudulent concealment of the action's penal nature denied Defendant criminal safeguards, including counsel, jury trial, and proof beyond a reasonable doubt, tainting the entire framework of the trial (Weaver v. Massachusetts, 582 U.S. 286, 295–96 (2017). These structural jurisdictional errors, compounded by extrinsic fraud, render the judgment void ab initio, mandating automatic reversal without discretion (Johnson v. Zerbst, 304 U.S. at 467–68; In re Enrique G., 140 Cal. App. 4th 676, 685 (2006)).

The Humphreys' prosecution, misrepresenting a criminal action as civil, constituted extrinsic fraud, denying Defendant a fair hearing (Olivera v. Grace, 19 Cal. 2d 570, 575 (1942)). This fraud, compounded by judicial acquiescence, corrupted the judicial process, stripping jurisdiction (County of Ventura v. Tillett, 133 Cal. App. 3d 105, 110 (1982); Albrecht v. United States, 273 U.S. 1, 8 (1923)). The court's authority to vacate this void judgment is unaffected by prior appeals, as MacMillan Petroleum Corp. v. Griffin held: a court may set aside a void order at any time. An appeal will not prevent the court from at any time lopping off what has been termed a dead limb on the judicial tree—a void order. 99 Cal. App. 2d 523, 533 (1950). A void judgment "neither binds nor bars any one" (Rochin at p.1240) "and form[s] no bar to a remedy sought in opposition [...], even prior to a reversal" (Piersol at p.329).

People v. Dutra clarifies that post-remittitur jurisdiction rests on the law of case doctrine, which is limited to valid judgments. As a void judgment, the judgments in the instant case and appeal are outside this limitation, allowing vacatur at any time (Olivera v. Grace, 19 Cal. 2d at 574).

The Court's inherent equitable powers obligate it to set aside this void judgment at any time (Olivera v. Grace, 19 Cal. 2d 570, 574 (1942)). The ongoing irreparable harm—foreclosure of Defendant's home, loss of ~$1.2 million in equity, and destruction of his livelihood—underscores the urgency of this duty. Equity demands that this Court grant the motion to vacate, declare the judgment void, and restore Defendant's rights, as any discretion to uphold a void judgment would contravene the Constitution's supremacy as previously evidenced.

V. ARGUMENT

A. Section 7031(b) Is a Penal Action, Not a Civil Remedy

Legislative History Confirms Punitive Intent: The Legislative History of § 7031(b) (RJN Ex. 13) and specifically bates number page 860 thereof, explicitly confirms its punitive intent: "Under the bill, individuals may bring such an action even if the contractor has fully performed. In that case, those using the unlicensed contractor have not been harmed in any way, but are nevertheless authorized to sue to recover compensation paid. As a result, those using unlicensed contractors are arguably unjustly enriched because they are able to reap the benefits of the work done by the unlicensed contractor and are then authorized by statute to sue to recover from the contractor all compensation paid". See also MW Erectors, Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., 36 Cal. 4th 412, 426 (2005) (confirming Legislative intent to "impose a stiff all-or-nothing penalty"); (Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr. Co., 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201, 1212 (2020); Smith v. Doe, 538 U.S. 84, 92 (2003) (punitive intent indicates penal action)). This legislative intent to punish, rather than compensate, underscores the penal nature of § 7031(a) and (b) as applied.

Punitive Nature Voids Judgment: The judgment under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Codes § 7031(a) and (b) is void because it imposes a penal sanction without criminal safeguards, as evidenced in Hale v. Morgan, 22 Cal. 3d 388, 398–401 (1978). Hale holds that a statute is penal if it serves a punitive rather than remedial purpose, requires no proof of harm, and imposes disproportionate sanctions. Section 7031(a) and (b) as applied meet this criteria: they enforce a "stiff all-or-nothing penalty" to deter unlicensed contracting (MW Erectors, Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., 36 Cal. 4th 412, 426 (2005)), require no evidence of harm (Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr. Co., 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201, 1212 (2020); see also e.g. Grand Prospect Partners, L.P. v. Ross Dress for Less, Inc., 232 Cal. App. 4th 1332, 1357, (2015) ("[a]ny provision by which money or property is to be forfeited without regard to the actual damage suffered calls for a penalty and is therefore void")) are intended as deterrents (White v. Cridlebraugh, 178. Cal.App. 4th 506, 519 (2009) ("[t]he statute's harsh results are justified by the importance of deterring violations of the licensing requirements" [Citation]), are not remedial/ do not restore the status quo as the Humphreys were unjustly enriched by receiving both the benefit of $930,000 in custom remodel work and a ~$848,000 refund—approximately 40 times Defendant's qualifying net worth and 186 times the maximum $5,000 fine for the same offense under § 7028 (criminal statute)—without proportionality or ability to pay analysis. § 7031(a) and (b) as applied also bypass any judicial discretion evidencing that it functions as a Legislative penalty. By applying this penal statute without executive authority, criminal protections (e.g., jury trial, counsel), or excessive fines safeguards, the court lacked jurisdiction, rendering the judgment facially void.

Not Equitable Disgorgement: Equitable disgorgement is limited to "net profits from wrongdoing" after deducting legitimate expenses (ie value conferred) (Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71, 79 (2020)). Offsets were denied and no evidence showed profits or harm (ROA 193 [Minute Order for "disgorgement of funds paid" not profits]; Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript); ROA 144- First Cause of Action demanding "all sums paid" without reductions or offsets for expenses; Defendants claim for set off (ROA 166), was ignored making the ~$930,000 award a punitive forfeiture, not equitable disgorgement.

Private Prosecution Lacks Executive Authority: Sections 7031(a) and (b) target unlicensed contracting, a misdemeanor under § 7028 (maximum $5,000 fine), but allows private parties to impose penalties 186 times higher without executive authority for the same offense. Criminal prosecutions are exclusively reserved to the executive under Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1. The Humphreys' action was ultra vires, stripping jurisdiction.

Lack of Criminal Safeguards: By mislabeling § 7031(a) and (b) as civil, the court denied notice of penal consequences, jury trial, counsel, and proof beyond a reasonable doubt, which are required for punitive actions (In re Enrique G., 140 Cal. App. 4th 676, 685 (2006); Johnson v. Zerbst, 304 U.S. 458, 467–68 (1938) (right to counsel in punitive actions)).

B. The Duplicative Penalty Under § 7031(b) Constitutes Extrinsic Fraud and a Criminal Penalty

The judgment's imposition of a ~$930,000 penalty ($848,000 awarded under § 7031(b) and ~$82,000 denied under § 7031(a)) is facially void because it fraudulently requires Defendant to return compensation twice, covertly imposing a criminal fine within the definition of a public offense under Cal. Penal Code § 15, with the same elements as § 7028, through extrinsic fraud and without criminal safeguards. This duplicative penalty, misrepresented as a civil remedy (through 'civil' proceedings), denied Defendant a fair hearing and corrupted the judicial process (Estate of Sanders, 40 Cal. 3d 607, 614 (1985); Hazel-Atlas Glass Co. v. Hartford-Empire Co., 322 U.S. 238, 246 (1944)).

Defendant's company, The Spartan Associates, Inc. (License #927244), for which Defendant was the Qualifying Individual and Responsible Managing Officer, contracted with the Humphreys for a condominium remodel, performing all work through Spartan or its licensed subcontractors sub-contractors (Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript 3/27/17] p. 125, Lines 2-8; p.140, Line 10 – p.143 Line 9 [Spartan and subcontractors performed all work]; p. 129, Lines 12-15 [Spartan obtained permit]; p.131, Line 25 – p.133, Line 8 [building permits admitted into evidence]; Ex. 2 [Building Permits]). The Humphreys paid Spartan and Defendant $848,000, receiving equivalent value (Decl. ¶ 15), as no evidence in the judgment roll shows defective work or harm (ROA 144 [First Amended Cross-Complaint First Cause of Action for § 7031(b) alleging no evidence of harm or damages]; ROA 193 [Minute Order]-finding no evidence of harm or damages; (Decl. ¶ 10)). The Humphreys' First Amended Cross-Complaint under § 7031(b) (ROA 144) alleged Defendant personally contracted without a license, seeking "disgorgement" of all compensation paid. The court ordered Defendant to repay $848,000 (ROA 193 [Minute Order] awarding "Disgorgement of funds paid"), requiring him to return the same compensation twice—once through Spartan's licensed work and again through the judgment—without offsets for value provided. Defendants claim for set off (ROA 166), was ignored. This duplicative penalty is not equitable disgorgement, which requires deducting legitimate expenses to limit recovery to "net profits from wrongdoing" (Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71, 79 (2020)), but a punitive forfeiture, as the Humphreys retained ~$930,000 in remodel value yet received an $848,000 windfall (Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr. Co., 53 Cal. App. 5th 1201, 1212 (2020)). No evidence of Defendant's profits was admitted (Decl ¶11); Ex.1 Reporters Transcript]. Section 7031(b) mirrors § 7028, which criminalizes unlicensed contracting as a misdemeanor (max $5,000 fine), by targeting the same offense: performing or contracting for construction work without a license. Both statutes require identical elements—acting as a contractor without licensure—yet § 7031(b) imposes a penalty 186 times higher (~$930,000 vs. $5,000) without executive authority or criminal safeguards. Cal. Penal Code § 15 defines a crime or public offense as an act punishable by, inter alia, a fine, and Ex parte Clark, 24 Cal. App. 389, 394 (1914), holds that "punishment of any kind inflicted by law" is "essentially criminal." The ~$930,000 penalty, labeled "damages" (ROA 200; RJN Ex. 1 [Judgment Order]), is a fine for unlicensed contracting, rendering § 7031(a) and (b) covert criminal actions requiring criminal protections (In re Enrique G., 140 Cal. App. 4th 676, 685 (2006)). The Humphreys and their counsel, William Bissell, committed extrinsic fraud by misrepresenting this penal action as civil, inducing Defendant to waive his jury trial and forgo protections like counsel and proof beyond a reasonable doubt (Kulchar v. Kulchar, 1 Cal. 3d 467, 471 (1969)). No sworn information or criminal complaint was filed, required to vest the court with subject matter jurisdiction (Cal. Gov't Code § 100; Albrecht v. United States, 273 U.S. 1, 8 (1923)). Judge Chaffee's acquiescence, despite knowing § 7031's "draconian" effect (MW Erectors, Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., 36 Cal. 4th 412, 426 (2005); (Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript 3/28/17], p. 29, lines 13-15) entrenched this fraud, denying a fair hearing (Estate of Sanders, 40 Cal. 3d 607, 614 (1985)). The term "draconian" means excessively harsh or severe (Merriam-Webster Dictionary, https://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/draconian, accessed May 17, 2025). Section 7031(a) and (b)'s structure enables this fraud by transferring executive power to private parties, violating separation of powers (Cal. Const. Art. III, § 3; Art. V § 1; e.g. Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973)). The ~$930,000 penalty, approximately 40 times Defendant's qualifying net worth, is grossly disproportionate, imposed without proportionality analysis, and failed to account for his inability to pay it (Art. I, § 17; People v. Cowan, 47 Cal. App. 5th 32, 44 (2020). This constitutes a bill of pains and penalties, punishing without judicial process (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 9; U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10). The judgment roll confirms these defects: the First Amended Cross-Complaint First Cause of Action (ROA 144) targets the same offense as § 7028, and the judgment (ROA 193 [Minute Order) imposes a fine (total forfeiture) without evidence of harm, Defendant's personal work, profits, or offsets for value conferred. The court lacked subject matter and personal jurisdiction due to this unauthorized prosecution, rendering the judgment facially void.

C. The Judgment Is Facially Void Under Pittman and *Rochin

The 2017 judgment is void on its face, as the judgment roll demonstrates lack of subject matter and personal jurisdiction and due process violations. The Court has a mandatory, non-discretionary ministerial duty to vacate this fascial void judgment pursuant to Pittman and Rochman, supported by Cal. Const. Art. I, § 26 and U.S. Const. Art. VI, § 2, as unconstitutional acts are void (Katzberg, Dorrance, Bennett, Piersol) for the following reasons:

Due Process Violation (Penal Nature Without Criminal Safeguards): The ~$930,000 penalty imposed under § 7031(a) and (b) by a court lacking personal and subject matter jurisdiction (imposed without criminal safeguards) is a bill of pains and penalties, violating due/judicial process. The judgment roll shows: 1) First-Amended Cross-Complaint First Cause of Action (ROA 144): seeks a total forfeiture under § 7031(b) of "all sums paid" (Id. p.4) without offsets for benefits conferred, profits, or allegations of damages, admitting intent to punish Defendant for violating § 7028 in a civil action. See also First Amended Trial Brief ROA 168 ("[Defendant] [...] was unlicensed as a contractor in violation of [...] § 7028. As a consequence, [Plaintiff's are entitled to recover all sums [...]"; 2) Judgment: ([Minute Order] ROA 193; RJN Ex. 1) imposes a $848,000 penalty (and denies ~$82,000 under § 7031(a), totaling ~$930,000) labeled as for "Disgorgement of Funds Paid" and "damages" ([Judgment Order] ROA 200, RJN Ex. 1) without jury trial or counsel. § 7031(b) does not mention or authorize "disgorgement" an equitable remedy (Liu v. SEC, 591 U.S. 71 (2020)) or "damages". It imposes a "stiff all-or-nothing penalty" (MW Erectors, Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., 36 Cal. 4th 412, 426 (2005); Legislative History, p.860. RJN Ex. 13 [intending punishment]). Pleadings show: 1) Defendant's self-represented status (ROA 141); 2) Imposition of a duplicative penalty requiring Defendant to repay $930,000 already returned or provided through Spartan's licensed work, covertly imposing a criminal fine under Cal. Penal Code § 15 for the same offense as § 7028, without criminal safeguards (ROA 193; Eisenberg Village v. Suffolk Constr. Co., 53 Cal. App. 5th at 1212; Hale v. Morgan, 22 Cal. 3d 388, 398–401 (1978); Ex parte Clark, 24 Cal. App. 389, 394 (1914) (punitive fines are criminal)). This punitive penalty without safeguards is facially void under Pittman and Rochin.

Due Process Violation (No Evidence Defendant Performed Work): The judgment violates due process because no known evidence showed Defendant personally performed work, as required by CACI 4560(3) (Thompson v City of Louisville, 362 U.S 199, 204 (1960) (judgment without evidence violates due process)). CACI 4560(3) instructs that to establish a violation of § 7031(b) the claimant must prove the defendant "performed work requiring a contractor's license." The judgment roll shows: 1) First-Amended Cross-Complaint First Cause of Action (ROA 144): Focuses on Plaintiff's agreement(s) not Defendant's performance, relying on emails showing communication, not work performed; The Cross-Complaint alleges Defendant orally agreed to perform home improvement work and "performed services" until August 31, 2013, but also claims he "substitute[d] his corporation [Spartan] as the contractor on the project." This vague "services" allegation lacks specificity about licensed work as required by CACI 4560(3), is unsupported by trial evidence, and contradicted by the proceeding allegation that "[Spartan] [w]as the contractor on the project". The Humphreys' trial strategy, adopted by the court, relied on emails suggesting Defendant contracted, potentially satisfying only CACI 4560(1)(contracting), not CACI 4560(3) (performing licensed work). Previously, the Humphreys also represented in their Motion for Summary Judgment (ROA 66, p. ii) that the "undisputed facts" were that Spartan, a "licensed building contractor," entered the agreement. Their later claim that Defendant acted independently lacks evidence, as the record is void of any work in the emails being performed by Defendant or anyone for that matter because it never was (the project in the emails was abandoned when the Humphreys bought a second unit); 2) Minute Order (ROA 193): Labels Defendant an "unlicensed contractor" without evidence of work performed. 3) Trial Record (Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript]): Shows only Spartan and its sub-contractors performed the work (Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript 3/27/17] p. 125, Lines 2-8; p.140, Line 10 – p.143 Line 9 [Spartan and sub-contractors performed all work]; p. 129, Lines 12-15 [Spartan obtained permit]; p.131, Line 25 – p.133, Line 8 [building permits admitted into evidence]; Ex. 2 [Building Permits]); Defendant admittedly received checks payable in his name and did issue some checks payable for work from his named bank account in which these checks were deposited. Banking deposits or withdrawals do not directly evidence work performance (Defendant was the sole owner of Spartan whose profits (and losses) as a subchapter S elected corporation flowed through to him); 4) The Humphreys' failure to present direct evidence that Defendant personally performed work required to be licensed, despite Spartan being listed on the Newport Beach building permits as the contractor (Id.); Spartan's sign posted on the property (Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript 3/27/17] p.148 Lines 19 – p.149, Line 15; p. 154, Lines 9-10 Exhibit 30-1 received; Ex.3 (annexed hereto)) and Spartan receiving $758,000 in payments from the Humphreys (Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript 3/27/17] p.141 Line 17 – p.143, Line 9) confirms the judgment's lack of evidentiary support (under both the preponderance and beyond reasonable doubt standards) rendering it void. (Thompson, supra). This absence of evidence is facially void under Pittman and Rochin. Furthermore, Defendant, as the Qualifying Individual (the being who possessed the experience and met the exam requirements; Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript 3/27/17] p.131, Lines 13-24)) for The Spartan Associates, Inc. (License #927244), deemed a "licensee" under § 7096, was competent as a general contractor as determined by the Contractors State License Board and acted under his and Spartan's license. Spartan's license cannot survive without a qualifying individual.

Lack of Subject Matter and Personal Jurisdiction (Misapplication of § 7031(a) and (b) and Unauthorized Prosecution): The court lacked subject matter and personal jurisdiction by applying Cal. Bus. & Prof. Codes § 7031(a) and (b), penal statutes imposing a "stiff all-or-nothing penalty" to deter unlicensed contracting (MW Erectors, supra). The Humphreys lacked constitutional standing and the capacity to prosecute a penal action under § 7031(b), which requires executive authority (Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1). The judgment roll confirms these defects: 1) No sworn information, indictment, or criminal complaint was served, rendering the prosecution ultra vires (Buis v State, 1990 OK CR 28, p.4 (1990) ("jurisdiction of all justiciable matters can only be exercised [...] through the filing of pleadings which are sufficient to invoke the power of the court to act" (internal quotations omitted); Albrecht v. United States, 273 U.S. 1, 8 (1923) ("[a] person may not be punished for a crime without a formal and sufficient accusation even if he voluntarily submits to the jurisdiction of the court"; Cal. Penal Codes § 949, § 959 § 1382 (mandating dismissal). 2) Cross-Complaint (ROA 144) fails to allege specific licensed work by Defendant; 3) Judgment (ROA 193, 200) applies § 7031(b), awarding $848,000 and denying ~$82,000 under § 7031(a) (totaling ~$930,000), without addressing Defendant's licensee status (e.g Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript 3/27/17] p.131, Lines 13-24) (RJN, Ex. 1 [Minute Orders and Judgement Order]), orders relief without a criminal complaint filed on behalf of the People or under Executive authority per Cal Const. Art. V, § 1; 3) Trial Record (Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript 3/27/17] p. 125, Lines 2-8; p.140, Line 10 – p.143 Line 9 [Spartan and sub-contractors performed all work]; p. 129, Lines 12-15 [Spartan obtained permit]; p.131, Line 25 – p.133, Line 8 [building permits admitted into evidence]; Ex. 2 [Building Permits]) shows Spartan performed the work and was paid for the work. A Plaintiff must have standing for each type of relief sought (e.g. Summers v. Earth Island Institute, 555 U.S. 488 (2009)) and a lack of standing is a jurisdictional defect (People ex rel. Becerra v. Superior Court, 29 Cal. App. 5th 486, 496 (2018)). Plaintiffs lack the capacity or standing to any relief awarded and never stated (and lawfully cannot) state a claim as § 7031(a) and (b) were applied in this case. These jurisdictional errors, combined with the unauthorized prosecution, render the judgment facially void (Pittman, Rochin).

Applicability of § 7028.5 (Exemption for Individuals Under Licensed Contractor's Supervision): Assuming arguendo Defendant violated the licensing laws, which he contests, the court erred by applying § 7031(b) instead of § 7028.5, which exempts individuals acting under a licensed contractor's supervision from such penalties (§ 7028.5(a)). Defendant, as the Qualifying Individual for The Spartan Associates, Inc. (License #927244), deemed a "licensee" under § 7096, was competent as a general contractor as determined by the Contractors State License Board and acted under Spartan's and his license (the license cannot survive without his qualifying it). The trial record and unrebutted testimony confirm all work requiring a license was performed by Spartan or its licensed subcontractors, rendering § 7031(b) inapplicable. To the extent §7028.5 could have applied, the court violated due process by applying the wrong statute (Drink Tank Ventures LLC v. Real Soda in Real Bottles, Ltd., 71 Cal. App. 5th 528, 541 (2021)). However, like § 7031(a) and (b) as applied, civil courts lack jurisdiction to adjudicate § 7028.5 claims, which are enforced by the Contractors State License Board (administrative fines) or criminal courts (misdemeanor prosecution).

D. Constitutional Violations Rendering the Judgment Void

Each violation below mandates vacatur under Cal. Const. Art. I, § 26: Due Process Violations (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 7): • Misrepresentation of the action as civil (ROA 144, seeking § 7028 punishment as "disgorgement" and judgment as "damages") (Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950) (due process requires fair notice)). • Denial of jury trial due to reliance on misrepresentation (In re Enrique G., 140 Cal. App. 4th 676, 685 (2006); • Denial of counsel (Art. I, § 15; Johnson v. Zerbst, 304 U.S. 458, 467–68 (1938) (right to counsel in punitive actions; • Lack of personal jurisdiction: No criminal complaint filed • Unaddressed statute of limitations and set off defenses (ROA 166). • No evidence Defendant performed work (Thompson v. Louisville, 362 U.S. 199 (1960) • No evidence Defendant was a "person" required to be licensed (Thompson v. Louisville, 362 U.S. 199 (1960)• No evidence of harm or profits, with "damages" award (Thompson v. Louisville, 362 U.S. 199 (1960); ROA 193, 200; RJN Ex. 1) (Decl. ¶ 10)) • Excessive Fines (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 17;): The ~$930,000 penalty, ~40 times Defendant's qualifying net worth and 186 times § 7028's $5,000 cap, is grossly disproportionate, imposed without proportionality and Defendants ability to pay analysis (People v. Cowan, 47 Cal. App. 5th 32, 44 (2020). This bill of pains and penalties, imposed by a court acting coram non judice due to lack of jurisdiction, violates constitutional limits. Bill of Pains and Penalties (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 9; U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10): The penalty punished without judicial process, as the court lacked jurisdiction. Separation of Powers (Cal. Const. Art. III, § 3): The Humphreys' penal prosecution violated executive authority (Art. V, § 1, e.g Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973)). Right to Contract and Liberty (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 1, U.S. Const. Art I, §10): The mandatory summary penal license suspension imposed pursuant to the judgment and §7071.17 when Defendant was unable to pay the judgment (Decl. ¶ 12)) impaired Spartan's contracts with other clients, violating Defendant's right to contract and liberty and vested right to licensure and resulted in another bill of pains and penalties. Inalienable Rights (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 1): The judgment and license suspension, individually and/or collectively violated Defendant's inalienable rights to liberty (right to lawful court access; to pursue employment in an ordinary vocation of life; to a judicial determination of rights in the first instance), property (to pursue employment and earn a living; vested property right in contractor's license), privacy (to not be harassed by lawless claims and ultra vires action/punishment sanctioned by state authorities but without authority), and the pursuit of happiness (to not be harassed by lawless claims and ultra vires state action/punishment). Petition for Redress (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 3): The imposition of appellate cost awards (Case No. G055075, RJN Ex. 2) retaliated against Defendant's attempts to seek redress, violating petition rights; additionally, these rights were further violated by refusal of the Cal. Supreme Court, U.S. Supreme Court, and U.S. District Court to exercise jurisdiction to vacate the void judgment (Elliot v. Piersol, 26 U.S. 328, 340 (1828) (enforcement of void judgment is trespass).

E. Due Process Violations in Appeal as Final Judgment

The appellate judgment in Case No. G055075, issued October 31, 2018, constitutes a further due process violation, rendering it void. Justices Aronson, Goethals, and O'Leary denied Defendant a full, fair, and impartial appeal by affirming a facially void judgment without addressing the Humphreys' lack of prosecutorial authority, the penal nature of §

7031(b), or the absence of evidence supporting the penalty. The trial court's lack of subject matter and personal jurisdiction due to the Humphreys' unauthorized prosecution deprived the appellate court of authority to affirm, mandating dismissal or remand (Elliot, Barrett). Their opinion relied on inapposite cases (S.E.C. v. Huffman, 996 F.2d 800 (5th Cir. 1993); U.S. v. Philip Morris USA, 310 F.Supp.2d 62 (D.D.C. 2004)) irrelevant to state contractor statutes and to support 7031(b) imposes an "equitable remedy" or "disgorgement". This failure to engage with Defendant's arguments (ROA 300 [Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Opposition to Motion to Vacate]- Ex. A- Appellant Adam Bereki's Opening Brief on Appeal) coupled with the imposition of appellate costs, constituted a structural error denying due process (In re Enrique G., 140 Cal. App. 4th 676, 685 (2006)). The appellate court lacked subject matter jurisdiction to affirm an unconstitutional judgment (Piersol, Bennett, Rochin), making the appeal a bill of pains and penalties. The court must vacate both the trial and appellate judgments as courts cannot affirm void judgments, which are nullities (Piersol, Bennett, Rochin, Thompson, Hill, Ware)

F. Denial of Judicial Remedy & Lack of Forum for Relief

Defendant's exhaustive efforts to vacate this void judgment in state and federal courts have been denied (RJN Ex.'s 1-12) leaving this Court as the sole forum.

VI. EXTRINSIC FRAUD AND FRAUD ON THE COURT

The Humphreys, their attorney William Bissell, Judge David Chaffee (Ret.), and Appellate Justices Richard Aronson, Thomas Goethals, and Kathleen O'Leary committed extrinsic fraud and fraud on the court by misrepresenting a penal action as civil, preventing a fair hearing and undermining the judicial process. Additionally, Judge James Di Cesare's post-appeal conduct further entrenched this fraud. These actions are cited to demonstrate the judgment's voidness, not to seek personal liability against judicial officers in this Motion.

A. Legal Standards for Extrinsic Fraud and Fraud on the Court

Extrinsic Fraud Under California law encompasses "almost any set of extrinsic circumstances which deprive a party of a fair adversary hearing" (Estate of Sanders, 40 Cal. 3d 607, 614 (1985) (Citations omitted)). It occurs when a party is prevented from presenting their claim or defense, such as through concealment of material facts, failure to provide proper notice, or misrepresentation of the action's nature (City and County of San Francisco v. Cartagena, 35 Cal. App. 4th 1061, 1067 (1995) (concealment of facts constitutes fraud); (Decl ¶'s 5, 13)). Examples include inducing a party to forgo legal representation or misleading them about the proceedings' true character (Kulchar v. Kulchar, 1 Cal. 3d 467, 471 (1969) (misrepresentation of action's nature is fraud)). Relief from a judgment procured by extrinsic fraud is an equitable remedy, requiring vacatur to restore fairness (Olivera v. Grace, 19 Cal. 2d 570, 574 (1942)).

Fraud on the court involves conduct that undermines the integrity of the judicial process, such as presenting a false claim or deceiving the court about the proceedings' nature. It includes willful misrepresentations by parties, counsel, or judicial officers that mislead the court into acting without lawful authority (Hazel-Atlas Glass Co. v. Hartford-Empire Co., 322 U.S. 238, 246 (1944) When established, fraud on the court renders the judgment void and mandates vacatur to protect judicial integrity (Id.).

B. Evidence of Extrinsic Fraud

Misrepresentations by the Humphreys and Bissell: The Humphreys, through their attorney William Bissell, filed a cross-complaint under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(b) (ROA 144), presenting it as a civil action for "disgorgement." By misrepresenting the action as civil, they concealed its penal nature, denying Defendant criminal safeguards such as a jury trial, counsel, and proof beyond a reasonable doubt. This deception prevented Defendant from challenging the Humphreys' standing or invoking procedural protections, constituting extrinsic fraud (Estate of Sanders, 40 Cal. 3d 607, 614 (1985)). Defendant, self-represented and not trained in civil or criminal procedure (Decl. ¶7), relied on these misrepresentations (Decl. ¶'s 4, 9), appearing at the proceedings, participating, and waiving his jury trial, believing the action was a legitimate civil dispute. The Humphreys further concealed the penal nature by filing a proposed judgment order in favor of their first cause of action (for "disgorgement" ROA 197) and "damages" (ROA 199) and later serving it on Defendant. See signed order ROA 200; RJN Ex. 1) when they failed to present any known evidence of damages at trial, as required California Civil Code § 3281 and Chaparkas v. Webb (178 Cal. App. 2d 257, 259 (1960)) (requiring evidence of harm for damages) and failed to present any evidence Plaintiff profited. This misrepresentation concealed § 7031(b)'s criminal nature, imposing a duplicative fine under Cal. Penal Code § 15 for the same offense as § 7028 (the criminal statute for unlicensed contracting), fraudulently requiring Defendant to repay $848,000 already returned through Spartan's work, denying him a fair and impartial hearing (Estate of Sanders, 40 Cal. 3d at 614). When Defendant challenged jurisdiction— through pleadings evidencing his lack of knowledge of procedure and practice—the Humphreys sought and were awarded sanctions with the obvious intent of silencing and/or further punishing him in his attempts to tell truth and expose the fraud: ([Writ of Error], electronically received 4/18/17 (Not Entered on Docket) yet recognized as Motion to Vacate and Denied (Notice of Rejection, 4/18/17), ignored by Humphreys; ROA 244 [Bill of Particulars] challenging jurisdiction, filed on the docket as "Notice-Other" by the Clerk, ignored by Humphreys; ROA 256 [Motion to Compel Production of Bill of Particulars]; ROA 260 [Opposition to Compel and Request for Sanctions] filed by the Humphreys; ROA 263 [Reply to Opposition; Motion to Disqualify Judge]; ROA 269 [Sanctions Award] for abuse of discovery.

Judicial Complicity by Judge Chaffee: Judge Chaffee's failure to address the Humphreys' lack of executive authority under Cal. Const. Art. V, § 1 or the statute of limitations under CCP § 340 (ROA 166), despite his knowledge of § 7031(b)'s penal nature (MW Erectors, supra), denied Defendant a fair and impartial hearing, constituting a structural error rendering the judgment void. Chaffee, who presided over MW Erectors, knew § 7031imposes a "stiff all-or-nothing penalty" and admitted imposing a forfeiture, referring to the statute as the "bellwether case" (Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript 3/28/17] p.28, Lines 20-24). He also signed a judgment order for "damages" of $848,000 (ROA 200; RJN Ex. 1) without the Humphreys stating a claim for damages (ROA 144, 160) and despite no evidence of harm, contradicting California Civil Code § 3281 and Chaparkas v. Webb (178 Cal. App. 2d 257, 259 (1960)) (requiring evidence of harm for damages). Judge Chaffee acknowledged § 7031(b)'s punitive nature, stating, "The Supreme Court... found that the contractor's license law is draconian in its effect" (Ex. 1 [Reporter's Transcript 3/28/17], p. 29, lines 13-15). He went on to also identify the judgement as a "forfeiture". Id. Line 17. The term "forfeit" has, since the beginning of America, been used to refer to a fine and punishment. Austin v. United States, 509 U.S. 602, 613-614 (1993). These admissions, yet failure to apply criminal safeguards including denying Defendant counsel, further misrepresented the action as civil, constituting extrinsic fraud (Kulchar v. Kulchar, 1 Cal. 3d 467, 471 (1969)).

Appellate Justices' Affirmation of Fraud: Justices Aronson, Goethals, and O'Leary's affirmance of a void judgment in Case No. G055075, despite Defendant's appellate briefs explicitly raising the Humphreys' lack of standing, the action's penal nature, and due process violations, (ROA 300 Ex. A [Opening Brief]; RJN Ex.2 [Appellate Opinion] p.8 "Bereki contends the disgorgement remedy is penal in nature and, therefore, a contractor defending against such claim must be afforded all criminal rights and protects. Not so. Disgorgement is a civil consequence") denied a fair and impartial appellate hearing, constituting a systemic error (Estate of Sanders, 40 Cal. 3d 607, 614 (1985)). Their opinion mischaracterized § 7031(b) as an "equitable remedy", relying on inapposite cases like S.E.C. v. Huffman, 996 F.2d 800 (5th Cir. 1993) (federal securities case irrelevant to state contractor law and § 7031(b)'s penal nature), and U.S. v. Philip Morris USA, 310 F.Supp.2d 62 (D.D.C. 2004) irrelevant to state contractor statutes and to support 7031(b) imposes an "equitable remedy" or "disgorgement", and also directly evaded Cal. Supreme Court precedent: courts may not resort to equitable considerations in defiance of section 7031 Lewis & Queen v. N. M. Ball Sons, 48 Cal 2d. 141, 152 (Cal. Supreme Ct. 1957); MW Erectors, supra (confirming Legislative intent to "impose a stiff all-or-nothing penalty"). Equally troubling, neither § 7031 nor its legislative history mentions anything about "disgorgement" or an "equitable remedy". The Appellate Justices' refusal to engage with Defendant's arguments (ROA 300 Ex. A), including his citation of Town of Gilbert Prosecutor's Office v. Downie, 218 Ariz. 466 (2008) (addressing the penal nature of "disgorgement" and limitations of prosecutorial authority), and their dismissal of all his claims as "meritless" (RJN Ex.2 [Opinion], p.2) without meaningful and substantive analysis, denied a full, fair, impartial and independent appellate review and a fair hearing, corrupting the judicial process, perpetuating the extrinsic fraud and jurisdictional defects.

Judge Di Cesare's Post-Appeal Misconduct: Judge Di Cesare's refusal to vacate the void judgment, despite Defendant's February 19, 2019, motion citing fraud and lack of jurisdiction (ROA 294), denied a fair and impartial opportunity to challenge the jurisdictional defects, constituting a systemic error. Di Cesare misapplied People v. Dutra, 145 Cal. App. 4th 1359 (2006), which limits trial court jurisdiction post-remittitur to valid judgments, not void ones (Olivera v. Grace, 19 Cal. 2d 570, 574 (1942)). By shielding the fraudulent judgment, Di Cesare perpetuated the extrinsic fraud (Kulchar v. Kulchar, 1 Cal. 3d 467, 471 (1969)). Di Cesare's misapplication of Dutra, irrelevant to void judgments, denied Defendant a fair and impartial hearing, as it shielded a jurisdictionally defective judgment and prevented meaningful and substantive review of Defendant's fraud and jurisdictional claims perpetuating the enforcement of a void judgment (Elliot, supra).

C. Evidence of Fraud on the Court

False Claim and Judicial Acquiescence: The Humphreys and Bissell deceived the court by presenting a penal prosecution as a civil action, leading Judge Chaffee to apply civil procedures and impose a ~$930,000 penalty without criminal safeguards. Chaffee's failure to question their authority or the action's nature corrupted the judicial process. The Appellate Justices' affirmance, despite clear evidence of fraud, further undermined judicial integrity by ratifying an unauthorized prosecution (Hazel-Atlas Glass Co. v. Hartford-Empire Co., 322 U.S. 238, 246 (1944)). Di Cesare's refusal to vacate post-appeal entrenched this deception, allowing a void judgment to persist (Id.).

Ongoing Harm and Judicial Failure: The fraud's impact continues through the foreclosure of Defendant's home on November 18, 2024, loss of ~$1.2 million in equity, and eviction under threat of forceful removal by the County Sheriff rooted in the fraudulent judgment. This ongoing harm underscores the court's duty to vacate to protect its integrity (Hazel-Atlas Glass Co. v. Hartford-Empire Co., 322 U.S. 238, 246 (1944)),restore Defendants rights and property, and compensate him for damages as a result of this egregious miscarriage of justice.

D. Meritorious Defense

Defendant has a meritorious defense: had the action been properly identified as criminal, he could have challenged the Humphreys' standing, invoked criminal protections, and sought dismissal based on the statute of limitations. The absence of evidence that Defendant performed work or was a person required to be licensed, and the misapplication of § 7031(b) instead of § 7028.5 further support his defense (executive branch enforces § 7028.5)).

E. Conclusion

As applied, § 7031(a) and (b) are unconstitutional, enabling private penal prosecutions without due process, violating Cal. Const. Art. I, § 7, and the Excessive Fines Clause Art. I, §17. This is facially void, requiring the court to vacate the judgment.

The extrinsic fraud and fraud on the court denied Defendant a fair hearing and corrupted the judicial process, harming Defendant and others in similar cases. Merely providing a building called a court and characters purporting to play official roles does not constitute a full, fair, impartial and/or independent hearing, trial, or appeal. The appearance of procedurally proper proceedings was a sham, as Defendant's issues and evidence have never been meaningfully addressed, denying him a trial, appeal, and access to judicial proceedings altogether (In re Enrique G., 140 Cal. App. 4th 676, 685 (2006)).

The extrinsic fraud and constitutional violations reflect systemic issues with Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7031(a) and (b)'s penal application. See e.g. Judicial Council of California v. Jacobs Facilities, Inc., 239 Cal. App. 4th 882 (2015), an ~$22.7 million forfeiture was sought against a competent contractor for a licensing error, costing taxpayers $3.3 million according to a public records request received by Defendant. Similarly, Twenty-Nine Palms v. Bardos, 210 Cal. App. 4th 1435 (2012), imposed a ~$917,043 forfeiture, leading to bankruptcy (In re Bardos, Bankr. No. 10-41455-DS. Other cases include MW Erectors, Inc. v. Niederhauser Ornamental & Metal Works Co., 36 Cal. 4th 412 (2005) (~$1,322,247 forfeiture); Banis Restaurant Design, Inc. v. Serrano, 134 Cal. App. 4th 1035 (2005) (~$212,821 forfeiture); Hydrotech Systems, Ltd. v. Oasis Waterpark, 52 Cal. 3d 988 (1991) (~$110,000 forfeiture); White v. Cridlebraugh, 178 Cal. App. 4th 506 (2009) (~$84,621 forfeiture); and Davis Moreno Constr., Inc. v. Frontier Steel Bldgs. Corp., 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 116566 ($168,025 forfeiture). The preliminary analysis of these judgement orders may require further study for accuracy. These cases evidence systemic issues, as courts consistently impose penal forfeitures without criminal safeguards or jurisdictional scrutiny, necessitating vacatur to prevent further harm. Equity demands vacatur of the void judgment to restore Defendant's rights and prevent further harm to him and others. Defendant requests all relief requested in the Notice and Memorandum of this Motion.

DECLARATION OF ADAM BEREKI

I, Adam Bereki, declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California that:

1. I have personal knowledge of the facts herein, except where stated on information and belief.
2. The 2017 judgment was a bill of pains and penalties, procured through extrinsic fraud and fraud on the court, falsely alleging I personally contracted and performed work, with no known evidence I preformed work as required by CACI 4560(3). The $848,000 penalty under § 7031(b) required me to repay compensation already returned through Spartan's licensed work, constituting a duplicative criminal fine under Cal. Penal Code § 15 for the same offense as § 7028, imposed through extrinsic fraud and fraud on the court. The Humphreys lacked standing and capacity to prosecute a penal action, as no sworn information or indictment was filed and no criminal complaint was served on me. Each constitutional violation listed occurred, causing the summary suspension of my vested right to act as the qualifying individual on a general contractor license under § 7071.17 when I could not afford to pay the judgment. This unlawful suspension, another bill of pains and penalties, resulted in an estimated $3 million in lost earnings. These lost earnings are based on estimated income losses from 2017–2025 and are attributable to earnings that would have flowed through to me as the qualifying individual of a general contractor license whether Spartan's or any other I qualified for. I have incurred additional losses of over $5 million dollars in investigation and defense time to vacate this void judgment, calculated as hours spent at the rate of $300 per hour. This time is partially evidenced by my filings on the dockets of each case included as RJN Ex's 1-12, and the Exhibits attached to the Ex parte Application for Emergency Stay filed on 3/14/25 in this case, (ROA's 306-322). Expenses of approximately $1 million include legal fees, medical bills (emotional, psychological, and physical distress), office and stationary supplies and equipment, gas, court parking, etc. Upon judgment in my favor, or before if time permits, I will file a supplemental declaration with a detailed accounting of all lost rights property, and damages (e.g., ~$1.20 million in home equity), supported by financial records and affidavits.

3. The summary suspension of my contractor's license under Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 7071.17, ninety days after the April 20, 2017, judgment (ROA 200), deprived me of my liberty to pursue my livelihood as a general contractor without a judicial hearing or appeal process, constituting a bill of pains and penalties (Cal. Const. Art. I, § 9. U.S. Const. Art I. §10); As the Qualifying Individual for The Spartan Associates, Inc. (License #927244), I held a vested right, which was suspended or revoked despite evidence that Spartan was the contractor, as shown by Newport Beach building permits and the Humphreys' payments of $758,000 to Spartan as provided in the citations of evidence in the Memorandum of Points and Authorities of this Motion. I am not aware of any evidence presented by the Humphreys that I personally performed licensed work rendering the judgment and suspension void.
4. I relied on Karen and Gary Humphreys, William Bissell, and Judge Chaffee's representation that the proceeding in the Superior Court of California for the County of Orange, Case No. 30-2015-00805807 were civil.
5. I was never told I was being subjected to highly penal/criminal proceedings and that my vested right to act as a qualifying individual would be summarily suspended or revoked as additional punishment, thereby denying my right to occupation in my profession as a general contractor.
6. I was never informed of my right to assistance of counsel prior to trial or appeal to prepare a meaningful and substantive defense and did not receive assistant counsel at trial, on appeal, or anytime after, despite my request (RJN, Ex. 6 [Denial of Request for Counsel, U.S. District Court].
7. At the time of the trial I was not able to meaningfully and substantively represent myself because I had not received any formal training or education in civil and criminal procedure before trial or on appeal. I had little if any involved in the criminal aspect of prosecution during my time as a police officer as my duties focused on investigation, apprehension, and reporting, not prosecution.
8. I waived trial by jury, based on my belief and the representations of Karen and Gary Humphreys, William Bissell, and Judge Chaffee, that I was facing civil proceedings and that the proceedings would have the sanction of law and recognize and honor my inalienable and constitutional rights and property.

9. Had I known I was being subjected to highly penal/criminal proceedings include deprivation of my right to earn a living as a general contractor, I would have objected to any such unlawful proceedings prosecuted by the Humphreys and Bissell without lawful authority and in violation of my due/judicial process rights.
10. I am not aware of any evidence of damages that the Humphreys presented at trial that I or Spartan caused.
11. I am not aware of any evidence presented by the Humphreys at trial that I profited from their project and was thereby enriched, unjustly or otherwise.
12. The fine was excessive as my qualifying net worth (independent of disability pension and the ~$82k owed by the Humphreys to Spartan, some which would have passed through to me) at the time was approx. $23,000. The judgment was more than forty times this amount. This excessiveness resulted in the suspended/revoked my vested right to work as a general contractor under § 7071.17, resulting in an additional ~$3 million dollar penalty due to lost work as I was unable to pay the judgment, obtain a payment bond, or obtain vacatur in any court of California or the United States and ultimately was forced into bankruptcy. I repeatedly asked the Humphreys to come to an agreement so that I could notify the licensing board and have my qualifying individual status reinstated and resume work as a general contractor. They offered to settle for $300,000 which was still more than times my qualifying net worth.
13. The Humphreys terminated the project in August 2013. I cannot recall if Spartan received a "Notice of Cessation of Labor", but if not, believe it was produced by the Humphreys in discovery. The Notice, dated August 18, 2013, (Ex.5) addressed to Spartan (not me individually), orders Spartan to cease all construction activities at the Humphreys Project. I have never received a similar notice and believe this further evidences that the Humphreys knew their agreement was with and/or the work was performed by Spartan. See also the Humphreys Motion for Summary Judgment (ROA 66, p.ii) representing to the court that the "undisputed facts" were that "In April of 2012 The Spartan Associates entered into an agreement with the Humphreys for the performance of home improvement work on the Humphreys condominium unit" and that "The home improvement work to be performed by The Spartan Associates, Inc. on the Humphreys condominium unit had a value in excess of $500." I believe the Humphreys and Bissell also knew that they could not support a claim under §7031(b) unless these "undisputed facts" were swept under the rug. When they lost their Motion for Summary Judgment based on these facts, they simply changed them, with a few days more than a month before trial (ROA 127 scheduled for 1/17/17) they filed for leave to amend their cross-complaint with the new first cause of action under §7031(b) (ROA 139, 12/9/16) to not only defraud me but also ambush me and Spartan.

14. Based on my direct experience at trial and my forensic investigation of this case, I believe the Humphreys conspired with their attorney, William Bissell to use these proceedings disguised as civil with intent to defraud and punish me without lawful authority and destroy me financially over a dispute involving their home remodel. They knew that §7031(b) did not mention or authorize an equitable remedy, disgorgement, or damages. Their repeated representation of civil proceedings including their filings in this case, service of judgments and orders upon me, and the trial, were a lawless sham and fraud to steal money and property from me under force of the legislative, executive, and judicial powers of California and color of law that lack lawful authority. In furtherance of their conspiracy to defraud me and commit fraud and fraud on the court, they filed a Proposed Judgment Order for "damages" knowing no damages had been evidenced at trial. Their Memorandum of Points and Authorities in their Motion for Severance (ROA 160) admitted that "since the amount paid by the Humphreys to Mr. Bereki exceeds the amount of damages they are claiming [est.$350,000 [First Amended Cross-Complaint] if they were to prevail on their first cause of action, the trial of the remaining cause of action for damages would be unnecessary." (Id. p.5). Assuming arguendo, their allegations damages were $350k, the judgment they sought and were awarded, was nearly three times this amount and could, under no reasonable interpretation be considered "damages" when they intentionally severed their claim for damages. (ROA 160). Simply put, the Humphreys wanted something for nothing and thought they could perpetrate fraud on me and the court to get it.

15. Spartan provided $930,000 of custom remodel work including labor and materials to Karen Humphreys and Gary Humphreys that they requested for their home at 436 Via Lido Nord, Newport Beach, California. The Humphreys have not paid the remaining approx. $82,000 for the materials and labor (ROA 2) due at the time of invoice on or about August 1, 2013 and have not paid the interest due thereon through the date of this filing. If the Humphreys had an issue with Spartan or its sub-contractors work–fine–there is a judicial process to remedy those issues. This fraud and corruption of that process is not it!

16. As a result of the actions of the Humphreys, Bissell, Chaffee, Goethals, Aronson, O'Leary, and all other public officials (RJN Ex. 1-12, ROA's 306-322) who have refused to abide their sworn duty to take action to investigate and/or intervene to stop this lawless violences upon me and my family, I have and continue to suffer severe emotional distress and duress as a direct and proximate result. I began disclosing this emotional distress this in my Declaration filed as a First Amended Reply to Opposition of Motion to Compel Bill of Particulars, Motion to Vacate, and Disqualify Judge Chaffee for cause, dated October, 2, 2017 (ROA 267). The Declaration (p.3) stated:

> "I am experiencing emotional and psychological duress resulting from the domestic terrorism attacks by Plaintiffs, their counsel, and this court acting without lawful authority and in violation of numerous felony criminal codes as evidenced herein. I demand the court, Plaintiffs, and their counsel immediately cease and desist and am requesting an emergency protective order and civil harassment restraining order against William Bissell, and potentially Karen and Gary Humphreys and David Chaffee."
> Page 13 stated: "The Elements of Psychological and Emotional Distress I have experienced (and continue to to varying degrees) as a result of the continued unlawful actions of the court and William Bissell on behalf of Plaintiffs are: panic and anxiety attacks, severe depression including suicidal thoughts (no, I am not a danger to myself or others), severe headaches, neck and upper back tension, body tremors, loss of appetite, social inactivity, gut/digestion problems and pain, fear of physical and other harm, loss of liberty, and decreased ability to earn an income. My medical records are obviously confidential but will support thousands of dollars in Emergency Room visits to multiple hospitals, and observations, tests, and treatment by specialists including psychologists. I am currently under the care of a doctor whom I see three days per week to mitigate the intensity of stress in my body in an attempt to cope."

17. I declared these facts of distress again in a Declaration attached to the Notice of Motion and Motion to Vacate post remittitur (ROA 294, Exhibit E). In paragraphs 1 and 2, I stated:

> 1. I have been harmed financially, emotionally, psychologically, and physically by what I believe to be - including but not limited to -: fraud, gross negligence, abuse of process, intentional infliction of emotion distress, deprivations of my Rights and violations of due process by Plaintiffs Karen and Gary Humphreys and their Counsel, William Bissell, as evidenced in the Motion To Vacate Void Judgment filed forthwith on February 19, 2019, as well as previous motions I have filed in this case, such as the First Amended Reply To Opposition and Motion To Disqualify Judge For Cause on October 2, 2017.
> 2. I have been harmed financially, emotionally, psychologically, and physically by what I believe to be - including but not limited to -; fraud, gross negligence, deprivations of my Rights and violations of due process by David R. Chaffee, Kathleen O'Leary, Richard. M. Aronson, and Thomas M. Goethals, acting coram non judice as evidenced in the Motion To Vacate Void Judgment filed forthwith on February 19, 2019, as well as previous motions I have filed in this case, such as the First Amended Reply To Opposition and Motion To Disqualify Judge For Cause on October 2, 2017."

18. Based on my training and experience in law enforcement, I believe I am the victim of the following crimes, (this is not an exhaust list of crimes of Defendants): robbery (Cal. Penal Code § 211- forcible taking of my rights, liberty and property without lawful authority); grand theft (Penal Code § 187); burglary (Cal. Penal Code § 459- entering the Superior courthouse with intent to commit grand theft); conspiracy to commit the foregoing crimes on me by the Humphreys and Bissell (Cal. Penal Code § 182(a)(1)); conspiracy by the Humphreys and Bissell to falsely move and maintain the lawless proceedings against me under § 7031(b) (Cal. Penal Code § 182(a)(3)); and conspiracy by the Humphreys and Bissell to cheat and defraud me of my rights and property property, by any means which are in themselves criminal, or to obtain money or property by false pretenses or by false promises with fraudulent intent not to perform those promises (Cal. Penal Code § 182(a)(4)).

19. I continue to be afraid for my safety and that of my family due to these lawless acts of violence that continue to be perpetrated on us, including most recently the theft of our home and approx. $1.2 million dollars in home equity while all officials of State and government refuse to perform a full, fair, impartial and/or independent investigation and/or refuse to intervene to stop this lawless violence.

20. All exhibits are true copies of the documents they purport to be, with exception of nay bates numbering or other non-substantive marks I, or someone else may have made.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA; MARCH 27, 2017

WERE HELD IN OPEN COURT.)

THE COURT: GOOD MORNING, EVERYBODY. THIS IS THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC. VERSUS HUMPHREYS.

AND FOR THE RECORD, YOU ARE?

MR. RUSSO: GOOD MORNING, YOUR HONOR. SCOTT RUSSO ON BEHALF OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC.

THE COURT: MR. RUSSO, WITH YOU IS?

MR. BEREKI: ADAM BEREKI, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: MR. BEREKI, SPELL YOUR LAST NAME FOR ME, PLEASE.

MR. BEREKI: B-E-R-E-K-I.

THE COURT: AND YOU PRONOUNCE IT BEREKI?

MR. BEREKI: BEREKI. THE SECOND E IS SILENT.

THE COURT: GIVE ME A COUPLE WEEKS, I WILL GET IT THEN.

MR. BEREKI: SOUNDS GREAT.

MR. BISSELL: GOOD MORNING, YOUR HONOR. WILLIAM BISSELL FOR THE DEFENDANT/CROSS-COMPLAINANTS GARY HUMPHREYS AND KAREN HUMPHREYS.

THE COURT: GOOD MORNING.

MR. BISSELL: YOUR HONOR, I HAVE BEEN REFERRING TO

MR. BEREKI AS "MR. BEREKI" FOR OVER TWO YEARS NOW. SO IF I SAY "MR. BEREKI," IT'S NOT INTENDED TO SLIGHT.

MR. BEREKI: I WON'T BE OFFENDED.

THE COURT: I AM PRETTY SURE I HAVE BEEN SAYING "BEREKI" AS WELL FOR THE LAST COUPLE OF YEARS.

OKAY. SO SINCE REVIEWING, MY UNDERSTANDING IS -- THIS IS A COURT TRIAL OF HOW MANY DAYS?

MR. BISSELL: I WOULD THINK FOUR.

MR. RUSSO: IT WOULD BE FAIR.

THE COURT: AND WHAT HAPPENED TO OLD REPUBLIC SURETY ACCOUNT?

MR. RUSSO: I GUESS I HAVEN'T EVEN THOUGHT ABOUT THAT, YOUR HONOR. I AM ALSO DEFENDING THE SURETIES IN THIS.

THE COURT: I SEE YOU DOWN FOR SURETEC INSURANCE COMPANY, BUT I SEE THE LAW OFFICES OF HAUSMAN & SOSA REPRESENTING OLD REPUBLIC.

MR. BEREKI: YOUR HONOR, WE HAVE HAD DISCUSSIONS WITH BOTH THE SURETIES. THEY FELT I WAS COMPETENT TO HANDLE THE DEFENSE AND THEY DIDN'T WANT TO SPEND THE COST TO SEND AN ATTORNEY HERE. I DON'T HAVE A GREAT ANSWER FOR THAT, BUT THAT'S JUST WHAT HAPPENED.

MR. BISSELL: YOUR HONOR, I WOULD LIKE TO SHED SOME LIGHT ON THAT. THERE WAS A STIPULATION, I BELIEVE, SIGNED BY THE COURT WHERE OLD REPUBLIC -- OLD REPUBLIC ONLY, NOT SURETEC, WE ALL STIPULATED THAT THEY WOULDN'T

HAVE TO APPEAR, THAT THEY WOULD ABIDE BY WHATEVER RULING THE COURT HAD AS FAR AS THE LIABILITY OF THE BOND, THAT THE BOND WAS GOOD. THEY STIPULATED THE BOND HAD BEEN ISSUED, THE BOND WAS GOOD. THERE'S NO ISSUE THERE. AND THEY JUST FELT THAT TO COME IN HERE AND SIT -- AND WE ALL AGREED -- THROUGH FOUR, FIVE DAYS OF TRIAL, WHEN THEIR ISSUE REALLY WASN'T AT ISSUE, OTHER THAN THE LIABILITY, EVERYBODY STIPULATED THAT THEY WOULD GO WITH WHICHEVER WAY THE COURT RULED ON THE LIABILITY ISSUE.

THE COURT: SOUNDS FAMILIAR. HOPE I CAN FIND IT WITHIN THE FILE.

MR. BISSELL: THAT'S TO THE BEST OF MY RECOLLECTION.

MR. RUSSO: YOUR HONOR, THAT'S SURETEC'S POSITION ALSO.

THE COURT: BUT, AGAIN, I SEE YOU AS OF RECORD.

MR. RUSSO: FRANKLY, YOUR HONOR, THAT WAS SO LONG AGO, I FORGOT THERE WERE TWO. BUT THE ANSWER IS YES, I AM COUNSEL FOR SURETEC.

THE COURT: AND IT LOOKS LIKE WE HAVE A RETURN FROM THE CITY OF NEWPORT BEACH COMMUNITY PLANNING DEPARTMENT ON THE SUBPOENA YOU ISSUED.

MR. BISSELL: THERE SHOULD ALSO BE ONE FROM THE LIDO ISLE COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: SO THERE IS. HAVE YOU SEEN THE CONTENTS OF THESE?

MR. BISSELL: I HAVE NOT.

THE COURT: DO YOU WANT TO?

MR. BISSELL: I KNOW WHAT THEY ARE. THERE WERE COPIES OF DOCUMENTS OF WHICH WE HAD, SO, I ASSUME THAT'S ALL THEY'RE PRODUCING ALONG WITH THEIR DECLARATION AS TO BEING A BUSINESS RECORD.

THE COURT: LET'S LET MR. BISSELL AND MR. RUSSO HAVE A LOOK AT THE CONTENTS TO MAKE SURE EVERYTHING IS THERE. AND MR. BEREKI, OF COURSE.

MR. BISSELL: THAT'S WHAT WE ASKED FOR.

THE COURT: OKAY. WELL, WE WILL JUST LEAVE IT ON THE CLERK'S CALENDAR, AND WHEN YOU NEED IT, YOU WILL FILL US IN.

AND SO WITH REFERENCE TO THAT WHICH MR. BISSELL INDICATED, I HAVE IN MY HAND THE DOCUMENT ENTITLED "STIPULATION BETWEEN DEFENDANTS AND CROSS-COMPLAINANTS GARY HUMPHREYS, AN INDIVIDUAL, KAREN HUMPHREYS, AN INDIVIDUAL, PLAINTIFF AND CROSS-DEFENDANT SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC., A CALIFORNIA CORPORATION, AND CROSS-DEFENDANT OLD REPUBLIC SURETY COMPANY, A CORPORATION, RE: LIABILITY AND DAMAGES" -- AND THE ORDER THEREON. IT WAS FILED ON FEBRUARY 1, 2017. IT WAS -- SUBSTANTIALLY REFLECTS THAT WHICH MR. BISSELL INDICATED. I GUESS WE WON'T WORRY ABOUT OLD REPUBLIC -- SURE TO PAY IF THEY NEED TO.

ALL RIGHT. AND SO LET'S TALK FOR A SECOND

ABOUT EXHIBITS. MY UNDERSTANDING IS YOU ALL HAVE COME HERE TODAY WITH EXHIBITS, THE PLAINTIFFS' EXHIBITS NUMBERED 1 THROUGH 60 AND THE DEFENDANTS' EXHIBITS NUMBERED 1 THROUGH 60, OR SOMETHING ALONG THOSE LINES.

MR. RUSSO: IT'S ACTUALLY PLAINTIFFS' 1 THROUGH 137 AND DEFENDANTS' 1 THROUGH 62.

THE COURT: HOW DO WE FIX THIS PROBLEM?

MR. BISSELL: YOUR HONOR, WE HAD AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN COUNSEL -- AND THIS WAS BEFORE MR. BEREKI SUBSTITUTED OUT -- THAT WE WOULD TAKE NUMBERS 1 THROUGH 100 AND THEY WOULD TAKE NUMBERS 100 ON TO WHATEVER. WE HAVE OUR EXHIBITS KIND OF FINALIZED. WE KNEW THE EXTENT OF THE EXHIBITS. THEY WERE STILL WORKING PUTTING THEIRS TOGETHER. THEY DIDN'T KNOW HOW MANY THEY HAD SO THEY OPTED TO START WITH 100 ON INTO HOWEVER MANY THEY NEEDED.

THE COURT: TO INFINITY AND BEYOND.

MR. BISSELL: TO INFINITY AND BEYOND, YOUR HONOR.

MR. RUSSO: IT'S SIMPLY FIXED BY ADDING A TWO IN THE DEFENDANTS' EXHIBITS AND WE CAN GO FROM THERE. OR 200.

THE COURT: WELL, IF WE PUT A ONE IN FRONT OF YOUR NUMBER 1, I GUESS IT WOULD BE TEN RIGHT.

MR. RUSSO: WELL, WE HAVE 137.

THE COURT: PARDON?

MR. RUSSO: WE HAVE 137. I AM SUGGESTING IF WE STARTED WITH 200 ON THEIRS, WE WOULD BE FINE.

THE CLERK: I THINK IT'S EASIER IF WE PUT A FIVE OR THREE ON THE DEFENDANTS'.

THE COURT: SO 301 AND SO ON?

THE CLERK: BECAUSE MR. RUSSO HAS MORE THAN 100 AND DEFENSE IS ONLY 75.

THE COURT: SEEMS LIKE A GREAT IDEA.

OKAY. SO THE TWO OF YOU GET TO COLLECTIVELY MARK THOSE EXHIBITS, THE DEFENSE EXHIBITS. SO IT'S GOING TO BE 301 AND FOLLOWING.

MR. BISSELL: SHOULD I DO THAT NOW?

THE COURT: WELL, YOU MIGHT AS WELL BECAUSE I THINK I HAVE NOT HAD A CHANCE TO READ THE TRIAL BRIEFS YOU SUBMITTED. WE WILL TAKE 30 MINUTES, COME BACK AT 10:00 AND RE-JOIN AFTER I READ THAT, AND WE WILL GET ROLLING.

MR. RUSSO: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR. AS FAR AS THE READING OF THE BRIEFS, DO YOU RECALL THAT WE HAVE --

THE COURT: WE BIFURCATED.

MR. BISSELL: BIFURCATED. THE FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION WE TRIED FIRST. WE SUBMITTED A SEPARATE BRIEF ON THE FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION ALONE. I DON'T KNOW IF YOU WANT TO JUST FOCUS ON THAT AND WAIT --

MR. RUSSO: YOUR HONOR, MY UNDERSTANDING IS WE'RE NOT NECESSARILY TRYING THE FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION FIRST. WHAT WE'RE TRYING IS THE LICENSING ISSUES AND WHO THE

CONTRACT WAS WITH, AS BETWEEN THE CORPORATION AND MR. BEREKI. THAT WAS MY UNDERSTANDING OF THE BIFURCATION.

MR. BISSELL: THAT IS, IN ESSENCE, THE FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION.

MR. RUSSO: WELL, IF WE GO INTO THE WHOLE FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION, WE ARE TRYING -- THE WHOLE POINT TO NARROW THE CLAIM, AND THAT'S THE WHOLE CASE, WHICH IS SUBSTANTIALLY LONGER THAN THE BIFURCATION OF WHO THE CONTRACTORS WERE.

MR. BISSELL: NOT TRUE, YOUR HONOR. THE FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION ONLY GOES TO THE ISSUE OF WHO THE CONTRACTING PARTIES WERE AND THE LICENSING STATUS OF THOSE PARTIES. THERE'S NO ISSUES INVOLVING QUALITY OF WORKMANSHIP, NEGLIGENCE, FRAUD, NONE OF THE OTHER CAUSES OF ACTION APPEAR OR ARE A PART OF THE FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION. IT'S A DISTINCT SEPARATE CAUSE OF ACTION.

THE COURT: WELL, OKAY. LET ME GO REFRESH MY RECOLLECTION AS I READ THROUGH YOUR BRIEFS.

MR. RUSSO: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: SEE YOU IN ABOUT 30.

(RECESS.)

THE COURT: JUST TO CONFIRM, I DID NOT FIND PLAINTIFFS' TRIAL BRIEF IN MY STACK.

MR. RUSSO, DID I MISS IT?

MR. RUSSO: IT GOT FILED LAST NIGHT.
THE CLERK: LAST NIGHT?
MR. RUSSO: THAT'S WHEN I GAVE IT TO MY SECRETARY.
THE COURT: WHAT TIME? MIDNIGHT?
MR. RUSSO: PRETTY LATE, YOUR HONOR.
MR. BEREKI: I HAVE AN E-MAIL I COULD SEND OR I COULD READ IT.
THE COURT: MAYBE MR. RUSSO HAS A SPARE COPY OF HIS OWN.
MR. RUSSO: I DON'T, YOUR HONOR.
THE COURT: WE USUALLY LIKE TO GET COURTESY COPIES. IT'S PROBABLY OUT THERE IN THE BOWELS OF THE COMPUTER. DID YOU KNOW COMPUTERS HAVE BOWELS?
MR. RUSSO: I CAN ORALLY TELL YOU WHAT IT WOULD SAY, YOUR HONOR, IF YOU LIKE.
THE COURT: I WOULD RATHER READ IT. IN THE MEANTIME, JUST A QUICK DISCUSSION. I'M NOT SURE THERE'S A WHOLE LOT OF SUBSTANTIAL DIFFERENCE BETWEEN YOUR RESPECTIVE POSITIONS ON THIS BIFURCATION ISSUE. AT THE END OF THE DAY, MR. BISSELL'S POINT IS THE THRESHOLD ISSUE OF WHETHER OR NOT LICENSURE EXISTED. I HAVE NOT LOOKED AT ANY OF THE DOCUMENTS IN YOUR EXHIBITS YET. WITH RESPECT TO EITHER THE CONTRACT, I SEE REPRESENTATIONS IN MR. BISSELL'S PAPERS OF AN ORAL CONTRACT THAT CAUSES ME TO HAVE SOME CONCERN ALREADY. AND THEN I SEE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES AS A POSSIBLE PLAYER

LURKING ON THE HORIZON.

SO I DON'T THINK THAT WE'RE TRYING THE FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION IN THE SENSE OF DAMAGES SO MUCH AS WE'RE TRYING TO ASCERTAIN THE LICENSURE.

MR. RUSSO: I DON'T THINK THERE'S ANY DISPUTE THAT THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC. WAS LICENSED. THE QUESTION WAS WHETHER OR NOT THE HUMPHREYS AGREEMENT WAS WITH SPARTAN ASSOCIATES OR MR. BEREKI PERSONALLY.

THE COURT: IS THERE WRITTEN CONTRACT BETWEEN SPARTAN ASSOCIATES AND THE HUMPHREYS?

MR. RUSSO: NO. WE HAVE E-MAILS THAT FORM THE CONTRACT. IT'S FROM MR. BEREKI, AND HE WOULD CONTEND THAT WAS ON BEHALF OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

IS THERE SOMETHING IN THE LETTERHEAD THAT SAYS SPARTAN ASSOCIATES AND HUMPHREYS ENTER INTO ANY AGREEMENT? NO, THERE IS NOT.

THE COURT: OKAY. WE'RE FOLLOWING UP ON THAT BRIEF OF YOURS.

MR. RUSSO: OH, GOOD.

THE CLERK: IT WILL TAKE A COUPLE OF MINUTES.

THE COURT: OKAY. SO ALL RIGHT. I TRIED TO FOCUS ON THE FIRST AMENDED CROSS-COMPLAINT FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION. THIS IS AGAINST CROSS-DEFENDANT MR. BEREKI -- MR. BEREKI.

MR. BEREKI: IT'S FINE.

MR. RUSSO: I HAD IT WRONG FOR TWO YEARS.

MR. BEREKI: IT'S FINE.

MR. BISSELL: LET'S JUST GO WITH "BEREKI."

THE COURT: THE CAUSE OF ACTION SEEKS DISGORGEMENT OF THE FUNDS PAID TO THE TUNE OF $848,000. THE INDICATION IN THE CROSS-COMPLAINT IN APRIL 2012 ORAL CONTRACT WITH LAST SERVICES, AUGUST 21, 2013, THERE IS INDICATED IN THAT CAUSE OF ACTION SOME EFFORTS TO SUBSTITUTE THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC. AS THE CONTRACTING PARTY, BUT IT'S UNCLEAR AS TO HOW OR WHAT THAT WAS OR HOW IT WOULD WORK. I'M SURE THAT'S WHAT THIS TRIAL WILL CLARIFY FOR ME.

I ALSO SAY, MR. BISSELL, YOUR FILED REQUEST FOR STATEMENT OF DECISION AND WE WILL HAVE TO SEE. IF THIS IS A ONE DAY OR LESS TRIAL, WHICH SEEMS UNLIKELY IN THESE CIRCUMSTANCES, THEN IT WOULD BE TIMELY. IF IT IS MORE THAN A DAY, THEN IT IS PREMATURE.

MR. BISSELL: UNDERSTOOD, YOUR HONOR. I JUST WANTED TO COVER THE BASES.

THE COURT: COVER THE BASES. GOOD MAN, GOOD LAWYER. SO RATHER THAN WAIT FOR THE COMPUTER TO SPEW OUT SOMETHING SOME DAY, THERE PROBABLY ISN'T ANY REASON WHY WE CAN'T GET STARTED SINCE THE PRESENTATION FALLS TO THE CROSS-COMPLAINANTS TO START.

MR. RUSSO: PERFECT. WE CAN START WITH THE CROSS-COMPLAINANTS THEN.

THE COURT: DO YOU ALL FEEL CONSTRAINED TO GIVE ME

AN OPENING STATEMENT, OR DO YOU WANT TO JUST PUT ON YOUR EVIDENCE?

MR. BISSELL: THE OPENING STATEMENT MAY FLUSH OUT SLIGHTLY A BIT MORE THAN WHAT WAS IN THE BRIEF, AS FAR AS BACKGROUND AND FACTS.

THE COURT: IN THAT CASE, RIGHT SIDE, BEGIN.

MR. BISSELL: VERY WELL, YOUR HONOR. THANK YOU.

ONCE AGAIN, YOUR HONOR, WILLIAM BISSELL, REPRESENTING THE HUMPHREYS WHO ARE THE DEFENDANTS, CROSS-COMPLAINANTS IN THIS ACTION.

THIS OPENING STATEMENT IS JUST ADDRESSING, AS THE COURT HAS INDICATED, THE FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION PLED IN THE FIRST AMENDED.

THE COURT: CORRECT. WE WILL HOLD OFF ON THE GENERAL RUN OPENING STATEMENT UNTIL LATER.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR. THANK YOU.

FACTUALLY, THE WAY THIS CASE PLAYS OUT IN EARLY -- ACTUALLY, IN APRIL OF 2012, THE HUMPHREYS HAD PURCHASED A SMALL VACATION CONDOMINIUM UNIT IN NEWPORT BEACH. THEY LIVE UP IN CONTRA COSTA COUNTY, BAY AREA. THEY HAVE FAMILY AND FRIENDS DOWN HERE. BOTH HAVE CHILDREN DOWN HERE. THEY WANTED A PLACE WHERE THE FAMILIES COULD GET TOGETHER, KIDS COULD GO AND USE IT, FRIENDS COULD USE IT.

THE PROBLEM WAS THAT IT WAS A BUILDING THAT HAD BEEN BUILT IN 1955. IT WAS A RENTAL UNIT. IT WAS PROBABLY -- THERE WASN'T A WHOLE LOT THAT HAD BEEN DONE TO IT SINCE 1955. IT WAS OLD.

THE COURT: POSITIVELY ANTIQUE. IT'S ALMOST AS OLD AS I AM.

MR. BISSELL: STILL YOUNGER THAN I AM, YOUR HONOR.

IT NEEDED AN OVERHAUL. GARY HUMPHREYS HAD KNOWN MR. BEREKI THROUGH HIS BROTHER AND SON. MR. BEREKI HAD DONE SOME CONSTRUCTION WORK FOR BOTH OF THEM. AND IN FACT, MR. HUMPHREYS HAD MET MR. BEREKI AT HIS HOUSE WHERE MR. BEREKI WAS INSTALLING AN ENTERTAINMENT SYSTEM IN THE HOME.

THE HUMPHREYS, BEING FROM THE BAY AREA, DIDN'T KNOW ANY OTHER CONTRACTORS IN THE AREA.

THE COURT: ARE WE TALKING ELECTRONICS OR ARE WE TALKING ABOUT STRUCTURE?

MR. RUSSO: ELECTRONICS. WIRING. MAYBE STRUCTURAL TO THE EXTENT THAT YOU'RE INSTALLING A SUPPORT FOR A TV SCREEN, SOMETHING LIKE THAT, AS FAR AS MR. HUMPHREYS UNDERSTOOD. IT WASN'T HIS PROJECT. HE WASN'T VIABLY INVOLVED OR PAYING ATTENTION, BUT THAT WAS HIS UNDERSTANDING.

AGAIN, THE HUMPHREYS DIDN'T KNOW ANY OTHER CONTRACTORS IN THIS AREA. HIS BROTHER SAID, "HEY, WHY DON'T YOU GIVE ADAM BEREKI A CALL. HE DOES GOOD WORK FOR ME."

THE HUMPHREYS CONTACTED MR. BEREKI. THEY

SAID, "HEY, WE BOUGHT THIS CONDOMINIUM UNIT. IT'S SHABBY, IT NEEDS AN OVERHAUL. WOULD YOU BE INTERESTED IN LOOKING AT IT WITH US AND MAYBE DOING THE WORK ON THE PROJECT?

THEY WALKED THE PROJECT. MR. BEREKI COULDN'T BE MORE ENTHUSIASTIC. "AS A LICENSED CONTRACTOR, I HAVE DONE SEVERAL OF THESE TYPES OF JOBS. THIS IS WHAT I DO. I HAVE DONE WORK IN THE CITY OF NEWPORT BEACH. I KNOW THE CITY'S REGULATIONS. THIS IS RIGHT IN MY WHEELHOUSE. THIS IS SOMETHING WE WOULD BE VERY INTERESTED IN DOING. AND I ASSURE YOU YOU WILL BE MORE THAN HAPPY WITH THE RESULTS."

MR. BEREKI, A FEW DAYS LATER, I THINK IT WAS WITHIN THREE OR FOUR DAYS AFTER THEY WALKED THE PREMISES, MR. BEREKI SENT THE HUMPHREYS A PROPOSAL VIA E-MAIL. THIS PROPOSAL WAS ON MR. BEREKI'S PERSONAL ACCOUNT. THE PROPOSAL BASICALLY OUTLINED WHAT MR. BEREKI UNDERSTOOD THAT THE HUMPHREYS WANTED WITH REGARD TO THEIR RENOVATION OF THEIR CONDOMINIUM UNIT.

AND THE HUMPHREYS WENT THROUGH THAT AND THEY RESPONDED BACK VIA E-MAIL TO MR. BEREKI, IN WHICH THEY AGREED TO MANY OF THE ITEMS. AND THERE WAS MANY ITEMS THAT MR. BEREKI PROPOSED, AND NO, WE DON'T WANT TO DO THAT, MAYBE DO THIS INSTEAD. IN OTHER WORDS, HERE'S WHAT I PROPOSE, THE HUMPHREYS LOOKED AT IT AND SAYS "YES, THAT'S FINE. HERE'S THE CHANGES WE WANTED TO MAKE."

MR. BEREKI'S PROPOSAL, AS FAR AS FEES, WERE $500 A DAY FOR MYSELF AND $500 A DAY FOR MY PARTNER, MR. OVERLEY. MATERIALS WILL BE BILLED TO YOU AT THEIR COST, NO MARK UP, AND OTHER LABOR, AS NECESSARY, WILL BE BILLED AT COST. THE PROJECT WILL TAKE APPROXIMATELY TWO AND A HALF MONTHS AND SHOULD COST AROUND $143,000.

THIS WAS ALL MEMORIALIZED IN THE E-MAIL. WHEN I SAY THERE WAS AN ORAL AGREEMENT, THERE WAS AN ORAL AGREEMENT BUT IT WAS MEMORIALIZED IN THIS E-MAIL, THIS BACK AND FORTH BETWEEN THE HUMPHREYS AND MR. BEREKI. AND THAT IS DATED APRIL 5, 2012.

THE E-MAIL, AGAIN, WAS SENT ON MR. BEREKI'S PERSONAL E-MAIL ACCOUNT. IT WAS SIGNED OFF BY ADAM BEREKI. IT WAS -- IT MENTIONED MR. BEREKI ONLY AND HIS PARTNER, GLENN OVERLEY. THERE WAS ABSOLUTELY NO MENTION OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES OR SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION IN THAT E-MAIL.

THE HUMPHREYS WILL TESTIFY THAT THERE IS NO MENTION OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES OR SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION IN ANY OF THEIR CONVERSATIONS LEADING UP TO THE E-MAIL. THERE WAS NO MENTION OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES WHEN THEY WALKED THE PROJECT. THERE WAS NO MENTION OF SPARTAN PERIOD.

NOW, THIS GOES A LITTLE BIT BEYOND OPENING, BUT UNDER THE LAW, CONTRACTS ARE INTERPRETED AT THE TIME

THEY ARE ENTERED INTO, AND THEY ARE INTERPRETED BY THEIR OBJECTIVE INTENT, NOT SOMEBODY'S UNEXPRESSED INTENT. SO IF THERE WAS AN INTENT TO, HEY, I AM REALLY SPARTAN, WHERE YOU'RE REALLY ENTERING INTO A CONTRACT WITH SPARTAN, THERE WAS INDICATION OF THAT. THE HUMPHREYS HAD ABSOLUTELY NO INDICATION. THEY HAD NEVER HEARD OF SPARTAN AT THIS POINT IN TIME.

NOW, ONCE THE PROJECT STARTED -- AND I SHOULD SAY THAT THE PROJECT INITIALLY WAS ONE SMALL -- I THINK IT WAS A 900 SQUARE FOOT CONDOMINIUM UNIT, AND THE ORIGINAL QUOTE OF $143,000, TWO AND A HALF MONTHS IS BASED ON REFURBISHING THAT ONE UNIT.

WELL, SHORTLY AFTER THAT, THE HUMPHREYS BOUGHT THE ADJACENT UNIT. SO IT'S AN UPSTAIRS UNIT, IF YOU CAN PICTURE IT.

THE COURT: WHEN DID THAT PURCHASE TAKE PLACE? WHAT WAS THE DATE OF THAT PURCHASE?

MR. BISSELL: MAY, I BELIEVE. MAY OF 2012.

THE COURT: THAT WAS THE DATE OF THE PURCHASE WHEN THE ESCROW CLOSED?

MR. BISSELL: OF THE SECOND UNIT, YES, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: WHEN DID ESCROW CLOSE ON THAT SECOND UNIT?

MR. BISSELL: MAY OF 2012.

THE COURT: THANK YOU.

MR. BISSELL: SO THE PROJECT BECAME LARGER THAN

ORIGINALLY ESTIMATED. IT WAS GOING TO BE ROUGHLY DOUBLE BECAUSE YOU HAD TWO UNITS OF THE SAME SIZE AND THEY WERE BOTH IN SIMILAR SHAPE, THEY BOTH NEEDED THE SAME STUFF DONE.

FOR THE FIRST THREE MONTHS ON THIS PROJECT, UNTIL JULY OF 2012 -- I SHOULD PREFACE THIS. SHORTLY AFTER THE APRIL 5 AGREEMENT, E-MAIL AGREEMENT, IF WE COULD CALL THAT THE AGREEMENT, MR. BEREKI'S ACKNOWLEDGED THAT WAS THE AGREEMENT, AND THERE WAS NO OTHER AGREEMENT. THAT WAS THE ONLY AGREEMENT.

WITHIN TWO OR THREE DAYS AFTER THAT, MR. BEREKI CONTACTED THE HUMPHREYS. IT COULD HAVE BEEN WITHIN A WEEK AFTER THAT. CONTACTED THE HUMPHREYS AND SAID I AM REALLY EXCITED ABOUT THIS, AND WE'RE GOING FORWARD. I NEED $15,000 AS A DOWN PAYMENT TO PAY -- I'VE GOT A LITTLE BIT OF LABOR ALREADY INVOLVED IN THIS THING AND THIS WILL SEE ME THROUGH FOR ANOTHER WEEK OR TWO. WOULD YOU SEND ME $15,000.

MS. HUMPHREYS E-MAILS BACK AND SAYS FINE. WHO DO YOU WANT IT MADE PAYABLE TO? SHE DIDN'T KNOW WHETHER OR NOT IT SHOULD BE PAYABLE TO MR. BEREKI, MR. BEREKI AND MR. OVERLEY, HIS PARTNER, A COMBINATION OF THE TWO? SHE DIDN'T KNOW. MR. BEREKI RESPONDS BACK, HEY, TO ADAM BEREKI.

SO FOR THE FIRST THREE MONTHS ON THIS PROJECT, UNTIL JULY OF 2012, THE HUMPHREYS PAID MR. BEREKI

PERSONALLY $100,000.

AFTER THE $100,000 IN JULY OF 2012, MR. BEREKI, I THINK THE LIGHTBULB WENT ON IN HIS HEAD THAT I THINK I SHOULD BE RUNNING THIS JOB THROUGH MY CORPORATION. HE HAD A CORPORATION APPARENTLY. IT WAS SPARTAN. HE SENT THE HUMPHREYS AN E-MAIL SAYING WOULD YOU PLEASE MAKE PAYMENTS TO SPARTAN.

NOW, AT THAT SAME TIME, UP UNTIL THAT TIME, MR. BEREKI WAS NOT ONLY REQUESTING AND ACCEPTING PAYMENTS TO HIM PERSONALLY, HE WAS PAYING ALL LABOR AND MATERIAL ON THE JOB IN HIS OWN ACCOUNT, AND ACTUALLY IT WAS SOMEONE'S MOTHER'S ACCOUNT. NOTHING ON THE SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION ACCOUNT. SPARTAN DIDN'T EXIST ON THIS JOB UNTIL JULY WHEN MR. BEREKI SAYS PLEASE START MAKING PAYMENTS TO SPARTAN.

THE HUMPHREYS DIDN'T KNOW WHO SPARTAN WAS OR WHAT SPARTAN WAS. THEY FIGURED IT WAS AN ACCOUNT MR. BEREKI WANTED TO RUN PAYMENTS THROUGH, A DBA, WHATEVER. IT REALLY DIDN'T REGISTER WITH THEM. IT WASN'T EXPLAINED TO THEM, CERTAINLY, WHAT SPARTAN WAS, JUST PLEASE COULD YOU MAKE PAYMENTS TO SPARTAN.

IT WAS IN JULY OF 2012, WHEN MR. BEREKI MADE THIS REQUEST, THAT HE APPLIED TO THE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA FOR SPARTAN TO BE AN EMPLOYER. IT WAS IN JULY OF 2012 WHEN MR. BEREKI APPLIED AS SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION FOR WORKERS'

COMPENSATION INSURANCE ON THIS JOB. SO SPARTAN DIDN'T EVEN EXIST ON THIS JOB UNTIL JULY OF 2012 AFTER THE HUMPHREYS HAD ALREADY ENTERED INTO THE AGREEMENT, AFTER THE HUMPHREYS HAD PAID MR. BEREKI $100,000 PERSONALLY.

AND THEN FROM THAT POINT FORWARD, PAYMENTS WERE MADE BOTH TO MR. BEREKI AND SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION. $188,000 WAS PAID PERSONALLY TO MR. BEREKI AND THE BALANCE OF $848,000 MINUS $184,000 WAS PAID TO SOME COMBINATION OF SPARTAN OR SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION AT MR. BEREKI'S REQUEST.

AGAIN, THE HUMPHREYS THINKING THIS WAS SOME ACCOUNT OR SOME BUSINESS DBA THAT ADAM WANTED TO USE, AND THAT WAS FINE WITH THEM.

BUT THE POINT IS, CONTRACTS ARE INTERPRETED AT THE TIME THEY ARE ENTERED INTO. AT THE TIME THIS CONTRACT WAS ENTERED INTO, AND FOR THE FIRST THREE MONTHS, SPARTAN DIDN'T EXIST ON THIS JOB.

MR. BEREKI, AFTER THE FACT, TRIED TO APPARENTLY -- IT APPEARS THAT HE TRIED TO INSERT SPARTAN INTO THE JOB. IT WAS TOO LATE AT THAT POINT. THERE WAS NO CONTRACT THAT WAS ENTERED INTO BETWEEN SPARTAN AND HUMPHREYS. IT JUST DIDN'T EXIST, THERE ISN'T ONE.

THE CONSEQUENCES, OF COURSE, WERE BRIEF, AND THAT'S THAT MR. BEREKI WASN'T LICENSED. HE HAD NO LICENSE TO ACT AS A CONTRACTOR. MR. BEREKI WAS AN RMO FOR HIS CORPORATION, SPARTAN. THE LAW SAYS WE COULD BE

AN RMO, YOU CAN BE A RESPONSIBLE MANAGEMENT OFFICER, YOU CAN BE A RESPONSIBLE MANAGING EMPLOYEE, YOU CAN BE THE MANAGER, YOU CAN BE WHATEVER OF A PARTNERSHIP, CORPORATION, JOINT VENTURE, WHATEVER, BUT THAT DOESN'T GIVE YOU THE RIGHT TO GO OUT AND CONTRACT AS AN INDIVIDUAL. YOU HAVE TO HAVE A LICENSE AS AN INDIVIDUAL.

THE OTHER KEY HERE IS THAT MR. BEREKI -- MR. OVERLEY. MR. BEREKI REFERRED TO MR. OVERLEY IN THE AGREEMENT AS MY PARTNER, MY PARTNER MR. OVERLEY. MR. OVERLEY WORKED ON THE JOB. HE WAS PAID ON THE JOB FOR AT LEAST THE FIRST THREE MONTHS. THEN WHAT HAPPENED TO MR. OVERLEY, WE DON'T KNOW. THE HUMPHREYS FRANKLY NEVER MET MR. OVERLEY, NEVER SEEN HIM BEFORE. BUT HE WAS REPRESENTED TO BE MR. BEREKI'S PARTNER.

SO, AS HIS PARTNER, THERE WOULD HAVE TO BE, BY LAW, A LICENSE ISSUED TO THE TWO OF THEM AS A JOINT VENTURE OR PARTNERSHIP. EVEN IF BOTH WERE INDIVIDUALLY LICENSED, WHICH THEY WERE NOT, THEY WOULD STILL HAVE TO HAVE A JOINT VENTURE LICENSE. EVEN IF YOU COULD ARGUE THAT SPARTAN ASSOCIATES WAS SOMEHOW INVOLVED IN THIS JOB, OR IF THE HUMPHREYS HAD CONTRACTED WITH SPARTAN -- AND THAT'S THE KEY, IS WHO THEY CONTRACTED WITH, NOT WHETHER OR NOT SPARTAN WAS INVOLVED. SPARTAN COULD BE INVOLVED AS MUCH AS IT WANTS. IT COULD BE A SUBCONTRACTOR OF MR. BEREKI, IT COULD BE A CO-VENTURE

WITH MR. BEREKI AND MR. OVERLEY. IT CAN BE WHATEVER IT WANTS, BUT IT DIDN'T CONTRACT WITH THE HUMPHREYS.

AND IF IT COULD BE ARGUED THAT SPARTAN ASSOCIATES WAS SOMEHOW -- HAD SOMEHOW CONTRACTED WITH THE HUMPHREYS, IT WOULD STILL NEED TO BE A JOINT VENTURE LICENSE BETWEEN SPARTAN AND MR. OVERLEY, MR. BEREKI'S PARTNER. SO BEREKI HAS TESTIFIED UNDER OATH THAT MR. OVERLEY WAS AN INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR. THAT WAS HIS POSITION ON THIS JOB, INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR. SO ANY COMBINATION, ANY COMBINATION OF SPARTAN AND MR. OVERLEY, ANY COMBINATION OF MR. BEREKI AND MR. OVERLEY, ANY COMBINATION -- ANY COMBINATION YOU CAN COME UP WITH HAD TO HAVE A LICENSE ISSUED TO IT AS A JOINT VENTURE.

AND THE EVIDENCE WILL SHOW WE HAVE ASKED FOR THE PRODUCTION. THE BURDEN WILL SHIFT -- ONCE THE LICENSURE ISSUE BECOMES IN ISSUE, THE BURDEN SHIFTS TO THE CONTRACTOR TO PROVE LICENSURE. WE HAVE ASKED FOR PRODUCTION TODAY IN THIS TRIAL OF LICENSES ISSUED TO MR. BEREKI, INDIVIDUALLY, MR. OVERLEY, INDIVIDUALLY, OR TO THE TWO OF THEM AS A JOINT VENTURE, OR BETWEEN ANY COMBINATION OF THEM AND SPARTAN AS A JOINT VENTURE. AND I -- I STRONGLY SUSPECT THAT WE'RE NOT GOING TO SEE THAT LICENSE.

THE CONSEQUENCE OF THAT, YOUR HONOR, IS THAT, UNDER THE LAW -- AND IT'S A HARSH REMEDY AND -- THE COURT SHOULD UNDERSTAND THAT THE HUMPHREYS ARE PREPARED,

IF NECESSARY, TO -- YOU KNOW, WE CAN PUT ON EVIDENCE OF 18 MONTHS OF MALFEASANCE BY MR. BEREKI ON THIS JOB. NOT ONLY NEGLIGENCE, BUT OUTRIGHT FRAUD.

SO WE FEEL THAT THE DISGORGEMENT STATUTE, ALTHOUGH HARSH IN SOME INSTANCES, AND IN THIS INSTANCE IT'S NOT THAT HARSH, UNDER THE LAW, THE LAW IS VERY CLEAR THAT HARSH OR NOT, THE HUMPHREYS ARE ENTITLED TO RECOVER FROM MR. BEREKI ALL AMOUNTS PAID BY THEM ON THIS JOB. AND THAT AMOUNT TOTALS $848,000.

THANK YOU.

THE COURT: TURN TO MR. RUSSO.

MR. RUSSO: IF ONLY IT WAS SO SIMPLE, YOUR HONOR.

THERE'S NOT A DISPUTE HERE THAT THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC. IS LICENSED TO BE A CONTRACTOR WITH THE CONTRACTOR STATE LICENSE BOARD. MR. BEREKI IS -- MR. BEREKI IS THE RMO OF THAT COMPANY. HE'S THE SOLE SHAREHOLDER OF THAT COMPANY.

SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, THIS WAS NOT THEIR FIRST -- IT'S -- IT WAS NOT ITS FIRST WORK WITH THE HUMPHREYS FAMILY. THE HUMPHREYS HAVE FAMILY MEMBERS THAT SPARTAN ASSOCIATES DID PRIOR PROJECTS ON. THERE WERE TWO HOMES THAT WENT THROUGH SOME REMODEL WORK. THERE WAS A COMMERCIAL OFFICE BUILDING THAT MR. HUMPHREYS' BUSINESS IS IN WHERE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES DID THE TENANT IMPROVEMENT WORK ON THAT PRIOR TO THIS PROJECT. SPARTAN ASSOCIATES WAS AN ENTITY KNOWN BY THE

HUMPHREYS PRIOR TO THE HUMPHREYS ENGAGING SPARTAN ASSOCIATES FOR THIS PROJECT.

WAS MR. BEREKI A LITTLE LAX ON THE FIRST COUPLE OF CHECKS GOING TO HIM PERSONALLY? YES. BUT AT ALL TIMES THIS WAS A SPARTAN ASSOCIATES PROJECT. YOU WILL SEE -- THE EVIDENCE WILL SHOW THAT OVER $500,000 OF THE PAYMENTS FOR THIS REMODEL PROJECT FOR THE TWO WATERFRONT HOMES WERE PAYABLE TO THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

WHAT'S BEEN REFERRED TO HERE IN THIS CROSS-COMPLAINT IS THE DISGORGEMENT STATUTE FOR UNLICENSED CONTRACTING. THAT'S WHEN A PERSON WHO DOESN'T HAVE A LICENSE ACCEPTS MONEY FOR WORK WHERE A LICENSE WAS REQUIRED. SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, THE RECIPIENT OF MOST OF THAT MONEY, THE VAST MAJORITY, WAS A LICENSED CONTRACTOR SO THE STATUTE DOESN'T APPLY. IT IS NOT A QUESTION IN MY MIND OF WHO WE ARE CONTRACTED WITH, IT'S WAS THIS UNLICENSED WORK? CERTAINLY IT WAS NOT.

THE BUILDING PERMITS PULLED ON THIS PROJECT WERE PULLED BY SPARTAN ASSOCIATES. THE HUMPHREYS WERE WELL AWARE THAT THE BUILDING PERMITS WERE PULLED BY SPARTAN ASSOCIATES. EVERY SUBCONTRACT ENTERED INTO ON THIS PROJECT WAS ENTERED INTO BY THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC., NOT MR. BEREKI PERSONALLY. SO WE WILL HAVE THOSE IN EVIDENCE.

AT THE END OF THE DAY, THIS IS NOT TOO DISSIMILAR TO THE FACT THAT OFTEN CLIENTS WILL WRITE TO

AN ATTORNEY -- EVEN THOUGH THEY WANT THE CHECKS WRITTEN TO THE LAW FIRM, THEY WILL WRITE IT TO THE ATTORNEY AND THEY DEPOSIT IT INTO THE LAW FIRM'S ACCOUNT. AT THE END OF THE DAY, THE DISGORGEMENT STATUTE DOES NOT APPLY BECAUSE WE DO HAVE LICENSURE HERE, THE PROPER B LICENSE.

WE WILL GET INTO THE OTHER ISSUES, THE QUALITY OF THE WORK AND WHETHER OR NOT THERE WAS ANY OVERCHARGING AND ALL THAT, BUT THERE WAS A LICENSE. THERE WAS A B LICENSE. THE VAST MAJORITY OF THE MONEY WENT THERE. ALL THE PERMITS, ALL THE ENGAGEMENTS IN THIS WERE WITH THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC. THE HUMPHREYS WERE WELL AWARE OF THAT THE WHOLE TIME.

THE COURT: MR. BEREKI, TO YOU.

MR. BEREKI: JUST A FEW MINOR THINGS. I JUST WANTED TO TOUCH ON THE WORDS "ORAL AGREEMENT" THAT KEEP COMING UP. THAT BOX DOWN THERE WITH THE 4-INCH BINDERS ARE THE E-MAILS. THERE WAS OVER A THOUSAND OF THEM THAT HAPPENED BETWEEN MYSELF AND THE HUMPHREYS FAMILY, KAREN AND GARY, AND THE ARCHITECTS, ENGINEERS, PEOPLE INVOLVED WITH THE PROJECT. THERE'S HUNDREDS OF PAGES IN THOSE E-MAILS OF AGREEMENTS WHERE SOMETHING HAPPENED ON THE PROJECT AND I SAID, "HEY, WE GOT THIS PROBLEM, WHAT DO YOU WANT TO DO ABOUT IT?" THEY WOULD SAY, "YES, GO AHEAD AND SPEND THIS," OR "NO, DON'T DO THAT." TO ME, THAT WAS EITHER PERMISSION TO DO OR NOT TO DO SOMETHING, AND THAT, IN ITSELF, WAS AN AGREEMENT. SO THERE'S COUNTLESS OTHER FORMS OF AGREEMENT THAT WENT ON IN ADDITION TO THAT INITIAL ORAL AGREEMENT THAT YOU HAD.

THE COURT: LET ME ASK YOU, DID YOU PREPARE A FINAL TRIAL BRIEF HERE, SIR?

MR. BEREKI: I DID NOT, SIR.

THE COURT: OKAY. HOPEFULLY SOMEBODY ON YOUR SIDE OF THE TABLE, AT SOME POINT, WILL BE ABLE TO GIVE ME SOME LAW WITH RESPECT TO THE ISSUE OF E-MAILS VIS-A-VIS WRITTEN CONTRACTS AND WHETHER AN E-MAIL IN AND OF ITSELF CONSTITUTES A WRITTEN CONTRACT.

MR. BEREKI: YES, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: MR. RUSSO IS MAKING NOTES.

MR. RUSSO: YES, I AM, YOUR HONOR.

MR. BEREKI: JUST A NOTE ABOUT THE RESPONSIBLE MANAGING OFFICER ON THE LICENSE. I WASN'T, TO MY KNOWLEDGE, THE RMO. I WAS THE QUALIFIED INDIVIDUAL. I AM THE ONE THAT HAD THE WORK EXPERIENCE AND THE ONE THAT TOOK THE TEST TO OBTAIN THE LICENSE.

AND AS FAR AS GLENN OVERLEY AND MY REFERENCE TO BEING A PARTNER, HE'S A PARTNER THAT I WORK WITH. HE'S A FELLOW RETIRED POLICE OFFICER, LIKE I AM. AND JUST LIKE IN POLICE WORK I REFER TO PEOPLE AS MY PARTNER, HE'S MY PARTNER. HE'S MY MAIN GUY. WE WORK TOGETHER.

IT DOESN'T MEAN THAT I HAVE A LICENSE ISSUE WITH HIM OR A BUSINESS WITH HIM. IN FACT, WE RENTED

SOME SHOP SPACE. HE HAS A DIFFERENT COMPANY, AND I HAVE A DIFFERENT COMPANY. BUT TOGETHER ON THIS PROJECT, WE CAME TOGETHER AND PARTNERED TO DO THE WORK.

THAT'S ALL I HAVE, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: THANK YOU. SO LET'S START WITH MR. BISSELL. YOUR FIRST WITNESS, PLEASE.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR. THE CROSS-COMPLAINANTS CALL KAREN HUMPHREYS.

THE COURT: MS. HUMPHREYS, IF YOU WILL STOP RIGHT THERE, FACE THE CLERK, AND RAISE YOUR RIGHT HAND. SHE IS GOING TO SWEAR YOU IN.

THE CLERK: DO YOU SOLEMNLY STATE THAT THE EVIDENCE YOU'RE ABOUT TO GIVE IN THE CASE NOW PENDING BEFORE THIS COURT SHALL BE THE TRUTH, THE WHOLE TRUTH, AND NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH, SO HELP YOU GOD?

THE WITNESS: I DO.

THE CLERK: CAN YOU PLEASE STATE YOUR FULL NAME FOR THE RECORD AND SPELL IT.

THE WITNESS: KAREN, K-A-R-E-N, MOE, M-O-E, HUMPHREYS, H-U-M-P-H-R-E-Y-S.

THE COURT: GOOD MORNING, MS. HUMPHREYS. HAVE A SEAT RIGHT HERE, PLEASE.

THE WITNESS: THANK YOU.

THE COURT: HOW ARE YOU?

THE WITNESS: I AM OKAY.

THE COURT: LET'S TALK ABOUT THE CLARITY OF THE RECORD FOR A SECOND. THIS IS FOR EVERYBODY'S BENEFIT HERE. COUPLE THINGS. NUMBER ONE, SPEAK UP. EVERYBODY IN THE COURTROOM NEEDS TO HEAR WHAT YOU SAY. FEEL FREE TO PULL DOWN THE MICROPHONE. I DON'T GUARANTEE IT WORKS VERY WELL. USUALLY, IF YOU'RE CLOSER THAN ABOUT 4 INCHES, WE GET A LOT OF FEEDBACK AND TYPICALLY YOU BLOW EVERYBODY OUT OF THE ROOM. IF YOU'RE FURTHER THAN ABOUT 12 INCHES, IT DOESN'T PICK UP VERY WELL. SO THERE'S A SWEET SPOT IN THERE SOMEWHERE IF YOU NEED IT. I'M NOT SURE YOU REALLY DO. YOU HAVE A GOOD VOICE.

NEXT, IF YOU ARE ASKED A QUESTION THAT CALLS FOR A "YES" OR "NO" ANSWER, IF YOU WOULD USE THE WORD APPROPRIATE, YES OR NO. SOME PEOPLE LIKE TO SAY, "UH-HUH" OR "HUH-HUH." I'M NOT ACCUSING YOU, I DON'T KNOW YOU. I AM JUST LETTING YOU KNOW "UH-HUH" AND "HUH-HUH" LOOK BOTH -- BOTH LOOK THE SAME IN THE TRANSCRIPT FOR THIS TRIAL. THAT LEADS TO CONFUSION, WHICH IS SOMETHING WE CANNOT AFFORD.

THE WITNESS: ALL RIGHT. YES.

THE COURT: GOOD ANSWER. THE COURT REPORTER WHO IS SITTING RIGHT IN FRONT OF YOU, HIS JOB IS TO TAKE DOWN EVERY WORD SPOKEN IN THE COURTROOM. AND SO IT'S IMPORTANT TO KEEP IN MIND THAT EVEN A GOOD COURT REPORTER LIKE THE GENTLEMAN SITTING HERE, MR. DO, CANNOT TAKE DOWN TWO PEOPLE TALKING AT THE SAME TIME. WHAT THIS MEANS IS THAT, WELL, I KNOW YOU CAN ANTICIPATE THE

QUESTIONS, AND LIKE MOST OF US IN LIFE, YOU WOULD LIKE TO GET THIS OVER WITH, LET THE QUESTION BE FULLY POSED BEFORE YOU START RESPONDING TO IT. SIMILARLY, I WILL TRY TO NOT LET THE LAWYERS CUT YOU OFF MIDSTREAM. THAT WAY THE RECORD CAN BE CLEAR AND CLEAN, AND IF ANY REVIEWING COURT NEEDS TO LOOK AT IT, THEY WILL BE ABLE TO UNDERSTAND WHAT HAPPENED HERE.

READY TO GO?

THE WITNESS: I AM.

THE COURT: MR. BISSELL, TO YOU, PLEASE.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q GOOD MORNING, MS. HUMPHREYS.

A GOOD MORNING.

Q ARE YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND CURRENTLY THE OWNERS OF THE UPSTAIRS UNIT AT 436 VIA LIDO NORD?

A YES, WE ARE.

Q AND DID THAT PARTICULAR UNIT USED TO BE TWO SEPARATE UNITS?

A YES.

Q DID YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND BUY BOTH OF THOSE UNITS SEPARATELY?

A YES, WE DID.

Q AND WHEN DID YOU BUY EACH OF THOSE UNITS?

A WE BOUGHT THE FIRST UNIT IN NOVEMBER/DECEMBER OF 2011, AND WE BOUGHT THE SECOND ONE IN MAY OF 2012.

Q AND WHAT WAS YOUR PURPOSE FOR BUYING THOSE TWO UNITS?

A WE WANTED TO ESTABLISH A PLACE WHERE WE COULD HAVE SOME VACATION TIME AND SPEND MORE TIME IN OUR RETIREMENT WHERE WE WOULD BE CLOSE TO OUR FAMILY AND FRIENDS IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. MY PERSONAL HOPE WAS THERE WOULD BE GRANDCHILDREN COMING SOON. WITH THE FIELD OF DREAMS IDEA OF BUILD IT AND THEY WILL COME.

THE COURT: HOW DID THAT WORK OUT?

THE WITNESS: NOT YET.

THE COURT: OKAY.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q AND TO EXPAND ON THE FIELD OF DREAMS CONCEPT, WHERE IS THIS CONDOMINIUM SITUATED?

A IT'S ON LIDO ISLE, AN UPSTAIRS OF A TWO -- NOW A TWO-UNIT DUPLEX. IT HAS THE BEACH RIGHT IN FRONT OF IT.

Q AND AN UNOBSTRUCTED VIEW OF THE BAY?

A YES, IT IS ON THE BAY FRONT FACING BALBOA BAY BEACH CLUB, ACROSS THAT DIRECTION.

Q ARE YOU FAMILIAR WITH ADAM BEREKI?

A YES, I AM.

Q WHEN DID YOU FIRST MEET MR. BEREKI?

A I MET HIM ON APRIL 1ST, 2012.
Q AND WHAT WAS THE OCCASION OF YOUR FIRST MEETING WITH MR. BEREKI?
A GARY AND I MET WITH HIM AT THE SITE OF THE CONDO, INSIDE THE CONDO TO DO A WALK-THROUGH TO TALK ABOUT THE POSSIBILITIES OF UPGRADING IT WITH HIM.
Q AND YOU NEVER MET MR. BEREKI BEFORE THAT?
A I HAD NOT MET HIM BEFORE THAT DAY.
Q HAD YOU EVER SPOKEN TO MR. BEREKI BEFORE THAT DAY?
A I HAD NOT SPOKEN WITH HIM BEFORE THAT DAY.
Q AT THE TIME THAT YOU PURCHASED THE TWO CONDOMINIUM UNITS, HAD MR. BEREKI DONE ANY CONSTRUCTION WORK FOR YOU OR YOUR HUSBAND?
A NO, HE HAD NOT.
Q SO AFTER BUYING UNIT -- THE FIRST OF THE TWO UNITS, YOU HAD A WALK-THROUGH WITH MR. BEREKI ON THE PREMISES?
A YES.
Q AND DID YOU COMMUNICATE WITH MR. BEREKI AND WHAT YOU WERE THINKING OF HAVING HIM DO?
A YES. AS WE WALKED THROUGH, WE POINTED OUT THINGS WE THOUGHT NEEDED TO BE FIXED AND TALKED ABOUT IDEAS FOR UPGRADING IT.
Q CAN YOU DESCRIBE IN GENERAL WHAT YOUR THINKING WAS? WHAT DID YOU WANT TO HAVE DONE TO THE UNIT AT THAT TIME?

A YES, I CAN. THE UNIT HAD A GREAT LOCATION, BUT IT HAD BEEN USED PRIMARILY FOR A LONG PERIOD OF TIME AS A RENTAL UNIT. SO IT WAS IN BAD REPAIR WITH DIRTY CARPET AND DINGS AND MARKS ON THE WALLS, THAT SORT OF THING, AND IT WASN'T IN SHAPE FOR US TO ENJOY AS A FAMILY HOME YET. SO WE WANTED TO CHANGE OUT THE WINDOWS, WE WANTED TO GET THE ELECTRICAL UP TO CODE. IT WAS STILL IN THE ORIGINAL 1950S CODE ON THAT. AND, BASICALLY, FRESHEN IT UP, MAKE IT FEEL MORE WELCOMING.

Q DID YOU COMMUNICATE THAT TO MR. BEREKI?

A YES.

Q AT THE TIME OF THE WALK-THROUGH?

A YES.

Q DID MR. BEREKI INDICATE TO YOU THAT HE WAS INTERESTED IN DOING THE PROJECT?

A YES, HE DID. HE WAS VERY EXCITED ABOUT THE OPPORTUNITY, AND HE HAD A LOT OF IDEAS OF WHAT HE COULD DO TO HELP US CREATE THAT KIND OF A SPACE.

Q MS. HUMPHREYS, YOU MIGHT HAVE A FEW EXHIBIT BOOKS IN FRONT OF YOU -- I'M NOT SURE -- OR BEHIND YOU. THERE'S ONE THAT INDICATES IT IS DEFENDANTS' TRIAL EXHIBITS.

A YEAH, THIS ONE?

Q YEAH. COULD YOU PUT THAT IN FRONT OF YOU.

A YES.

THE COURT: ALL EXHIBIT BOOKS ARE SIZED AND DESIGNED TO INDUCE HERNIAS, SO BE CAREFUL.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q IF YOU WILL TURN TO -- IT'S TAB NO. 4 IN YOUR EXHIBIT BOOK, BUT ACTUALLY EXHIBIT 304.

A I CAN. BUT IT'S BLANK.

Q I'M SORRY. LET ME BACKTRACK. IF YOU -- WHAT HAPPENED TO IT?

THE COURT: POINT IT AT ME.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q WHAT ARE YOU SAYING?

THE COURT: IT IS MISSING AN EXHIBIT.

MR. BISSELL: I HAVE EXTRAS.

THE WITNESS: YOUR HONOR, I FORGOT MY READING GLASSES.

THE COURT: STEP ON OVER AND GET THEM, OR PERHAPS MR. HUMPHREYS CAN HELP YOU OUT.

MR. HUMPHREYS: OH, IS THIS IT?

THE WITNESS: YEAH.

MR. BISSELL: IS ANYBODY ELSE'S EXHIBIT BOOK MISSING NUMBER 4?

MR. RUSSO: MINE IS. THANK YOU.

THE COURT: I HAVE IT.

MR. BISSELL: ALL RIGHT.

THE COURT: LOOKS TO BE A GMAIL OF APRIL 6, 2012.

MR. BISSELL: THAT'S CORRECT.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q ALTHOUGH I'M GOING TO ASK YOU, INSTEAD OF FLIPPING FIRST TO NUMBER 4, IF YOU WOULD FLIP TO EXHIBIT NUMBER 303, TABBED 3 IN YOUR BOOK.

A YES.

Q HAVE YOU SEEN THIS DOCUMENT BEFORE?

A YES.

Q CAN YOU TELL US WHAT THAT IS?

A THIS IS A COPY OF E-MAILS THAT WERE SENT ON APRIL 5, 2012 FROM ME TO ADAM BEREKI AT HIS PERSONAL GMAIL ACCOUNT, AND IT ALSO INCLUDES THE TEXT OF THE E-MAIL HE HAD SENT TO ME EARLIER IN THE DAY.

Q SO THIS WAS A RESPONSE TO MR. BEREKI'S E-MAIL EARLIER THE SAME DAY?

A YES.

Q AND THIS EXHIBIT NUMBER 303 CONTAINS BOTH MR. BEREKI'S ORIGINAL E-MAIL TO YOU AND YOUR RESPONSE TO HIM?

A YES.

Q AND CAN YOU TELL ME IN GENERAL THE GIST OF WHAT MR. BEREKI'S COMMUNICATION WAS TO YOU IN THIS E-MAIL?

A HE HAD MEMORIALIZED A LOT OF THE CONVERSATION THAT WE HAD AND HE ALSO -- IT WAS HIS PROPOSAL FOR THE SCOPE OF WORK, BASICALLY, AND TALKING ABOUT THINGS THAT HE THOUGHT WE TALKED ABOUT.

Q OKAY. AND DID YOU READ -- DID YOU GO OVER HIS E-MAIL EARLIER IN THE DAY WITH MR. HUMPHREYS?

A YES, I DID.

Q DID THE TWO OF YOU DISCUSS THAT?

A YES, WE DID.

Q AND DID YOU UNDERSTAND IT TO BE MR. BEREKI'S PROPOSAL FOR THE WORK HE WANTED TO DO?

A YES, WE DID.

Q AND DID YOU TALK ABOUT THAT PROPOSAL WITH MR. HUMPHREYS?

A YES, WE TALKED ABOUT IT TOGETHER.

Q DID YOU COME UP WITH A RESPONSE TO MR. BEREKI'S PROPOSAL?

A YES, WE CREATED THIS RESPONSE TOGETHER.

Q IS THAT RESPONSE ALSO INCLUDED IN THIS APRIL 5, 2012, E-MAIL, EXHIBIT 303?

A YES.

Q DOES THE EXHIBIT YOU'RE REFERRING TO NOW, THE EXHIBIT 303, DOES THAT ACCURATELY DESCRIBE WHAT YOUR UNDERSTANDING WAS AS TO WHAT THE PROJECT WOULD ENTAIL AS OF APRIL 5, 2012?

A YES, IT DID.

Q AND IN GENERAL TERMS, WHAT WAS THAT UNDERSTANDING?

A MY UNDERSTANDING IS THAT WE WERE HIRING ADAM AND HIS PARTNER GLENN OVERLEY TO FRESHEN UP THE UNIT BY UPGRADING THE ELECTRICAL, DOING SOME CABINETRY WORK, REPLACING WINDOWS, PAINTING, THAT SORT OF THING.

Q AND DID MR. BEREKI INDICATE WHO IT WAS THAT HE WAS PROPOSING WOULD DO THIS WORK?

A YES.

Q AND WHO DID HE -- CAN YOU POINT OUT IN THIS EXHIBIT 303 WHERE MR. BEREKI IS INDICATING WHO HE'S PROPOSING TO HAVE -- TO DO THE WORK?

A YES, I CAN. ON PAGE 5, SECOND-TO-THE-LAST PARAGRAPH.

Q COULD YOU READ THAT PARAGRAPH, PLEASE?

A "AS I SHARED WITH YOU ON SUNDAY MY PARTNER GLENN AND I CHARGE $75" --

THE REPORTER: SLOW DOWN.

THE COURT: SLOW DOWN FOR THE COURT REPORTER. WHEN YOU ARE READING YOUR CADENCE PICKED UP BY A FACTOR OF ABOUT 50 PERCENT. HAVE YOU SEEN THAT COMMERCIAL YEARS AGO WITH THE GUY TALKING ABOUT 3,000 MILES AN HOUR ADVERTISING A PRODUCT THAT NOBODY TODAY REMEMBERS? WE WANT TO BE ABLE TO PAY ATTENTION, SO READ SLOWLY.

THE WITNESS: THANKS FOR THE REMINDER.

"AS I SHARED WITH YOU ON SUNDAY, MY PARTNER GLENN AND I CHARGE $75 PER HOUR FOR LABOR (EACH). DUE TO THE NIGHTMARE OF KEEPING TIMECARDS, ET CETERA, WE ALSO HAVE A REDUCED DAILY RATE OF $500 EACH. OUR WORKDAYS ARE USUALLY TEN TO 12 HOURS. WHERE POSSIBLE WE USE LABORERS TO HANDLE DEMOLITION, CLEAN UP, AND OTHER NON-SKILLED WORK SO WE CAN FOCUS ON THE SKILLED PORTIONS. THE LABORERS MAKE 15 TO $25 PER HOUR AND WE DO NOT MARK UP THEIR PAY. MATERIALS ARE PAID FOR SEPARATELY AND ARE ALSO NOT MARKED UP."

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q BY THE WAY, DID YOU ASK MR. BEREKI AT THIS TIME WHETHER OR NOT THERE SHOULD BE A WRITTEN CONTRACT BETWEEN THE TWO OF YOU?

A YES, I DID.

Q IS THAT IN THIS E-MAIL ALSO?

A YES. IT'S THE LAST PARAGRAPH.

Q AND CAN YOU READ THAT, PLEASE?

A "WE ARE LOOKING FORWARD TO WORKING WITH YOU TOO. DO WE NEED TO SIGN A CONTRACT BEFORE YOU GO AHEAD AND GET STARTED? YOUR DAILY RATE SOUNDS FINE."

Q DID MR. BEREKI RESPOND TO YOUR INQUIRY AS TO WHETHER THERE SHOULD BE ANY FORM OF WRITTEN CONTRACT BETWEEN THE TWO OF YOU?

A YES, HE DID.

THE COURT: EXCUSE ME FOR A SECOND, COUNSEL, I AM A LITTLE CONFUSED. I MUST BE MISSING SOMETHING. THE WAY I AM LOOKING AT THIS E-MAIL STRING, THE FIRST AT THE TOP DATED APRIL 5, 2012, SENT AT 5:41 P.M., SUBJECT, 436 VIA LIDO NORD. AND THIS IS AN E-MAIL FROM MS. HUMPHREYS TO MR. BEREKI, AND IT APPEARS TO BASICALLY BE THREE SENTENCES LONG.

FOLLOWING THAT, ON APRIL 5, 2012, AT 8:41 A.M., MR. BEREKI WROTE.

AND THEN ALL THE FOLLOWING PAGES GOING TO PAGE 6 APPEAR TO BE ALL PART OF THE E-MAIL MR. BEREKI SENT TO THE HUMPHREYS.

AND SO I WOULD UNDERSTAND THIS LAST PARAGRAPH TO BE MR. BEREKI INQUIRING AS TO WHETHER, QUOTE, WE NEED TO SIGN A CONTRACT BEFORE YOU GO AHEAD AND GET STARTED. THEN IT CLOSES WITH "BEST, ADAM BEREKI." PERHAPS THINGS HAVE BEEN MIXED TOGETHER IN SOME WAY. HELP ME OUT WITH THIS.

MR. BISSELL: IT'S VERY DIFFICULT, YOUR HONOR, AND I UNDERSTAND -- I UNDERSTAND HOW THE COURT SEES THIS BECAUSE A GOOD DEAL OF THE CORRESPONDENCE THAT WENT BACK AND FORTH BETWEEN MR. BEREKI AND THE HUMPHREYS ON THIS WAS ALL OF THIS NATURE. IT WAS MESSAGE SENT AND THEN INSERTED IN THAT MESSAGE WAS A RESPONSE. SOMETIMES IT WAS ALL IN CAPS, WHICH MAKES IT A LITTLE BIT EASIER. SOMETIMES IT WASN'T. BUT THAT WAS THE NATURE OF THE CORRESPONDENCE. I CAN PROBABLY CLEAR THIS UP BY SIMPLY ASKING MS. HUMPHREYS WHETHER OR NOT THAT LAST PARAGRAPH --

THE COURT: GO AHEAD, FIRE AWAY.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q WHETHER THAT LAST PARAGRAPH -- DID YOU DRAFT

THAT LAST PARAGRAPH, THE PARAGRAPH YOU JUST READ --

A YES.

Q -- OF EXHIBIT 303?

A YES.

MR. BISSELL: DOES THAT HELP, YOUR HONOR?

THE COURT: UNTIL SOMEBODY COMES ALONG WITH FURTHER CLARIFICATION.

MR. BEREKI: I AM HAPPY TO SAY --

THE COURT: YOU'RE NOT TESTIFYING YET.

MR. BEREKI: OKAY.

THE COURT: JUST HOLD YOUR PEACE.

MR. BEREKI: OKAY.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q YOU HAVE HEARD THE COURT'S CONCERN THAT IT'S DIFFICULT TO TELL WHO'S WRITING WHAT IN THIS E-MAIL, WHICH IS UNDERSTANDABLE.

IS THERE A WAY THAT -- IS THERE A WAY TO DIFFERENTIATE WHAT YOU WROTE VERSUS WHAT HE WROTE, WITHOUT GOING THROUGH EACH LINE AND IDENTIFYING THAT IS YOURS OR HIS?

A I BELIEVE SO.

Q OKAY.

A WHAT I DID WAS INSERT MY ANSWERS AFTER EACH SUGGESTION THAT HE MADE. SO IF WE JUST LOOK AT THE FIRST PAGE OF IT, THE "YES, FOR SURE" WAS MY RESPONSE TO HIS PROPOSAL TO REPLACE THE ELECTRICAL.

THE COURT: NOW IT COMES CLEAR. THANK YOU, MS. HUMPHREYS. NOW I UNDERSTAND.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q ACTUALLY, I THINK THE FOLLOWING EXHIBIT MIGHT FURTHER CLARIFY AS TO WHO OR WHAT.

WOULD YOU FLIP TO EXHIBIT NO. 4 ON YOUR TAB, WHICH IS 304.

A THAT'S --

Q HAVE YOU SEEN THIS DOCUMENT BEFORE?

A THAT'S THE EXHIBIT MISSING FROM THIS BINDER.

Q NOBODY GOT THAT TO YOU?

MR. BISSELL: MAY I APPROACH --

THE COURT: FEEL FREE TO TAKE IT UP.

MR. BISSELL: I GAVE IT TO MR. HUMPHREYS. I THOUGHT FOR SURE --

THE COURT: IT'S NOW THAT PAPER GLIDER THAT MR. RUSSO IS FLYING ACROSS THE COURTROOM.

MR. BISSELL: THERE YOU GO.

THE WITNESS: YES, I HAVE SEEN THIS BEFORE.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q CAN YOU TELL US WHAT THIS DOCUMENT IS?

A THIS IS A AN E-MAIL THAT ADAM BEREKI SENT FROM HIS PERSONAL ACCOUNT TO ME ON FRIDAY, APRIL 6, 2012.

Q NOW, IF YOU LOOK AT THE -- THE SECOND-TO-THE-LAST PARAGRAPH BEGINNING WITH, "AS FAR AS," DO YOU SEE THAT?

A YES.

Q IS THAT YOUR DRAFT, OR IS THAT MR. BEREKI'S DRAFT?

A MR. BEREKI'S.

Q COULD YOU READ THAT, PLEASE?

A "AS FAR AS THE CONTRACT GOES, NO, NOTHING NEEDS TO BE SIGNED UNLESS YOU PREFER TO. YOU ARE VERY DEAR FRIENDS AND YOUR WORDS/COMMITMENT IS ENOUGH."

Q NOW, WHEN MR. BEREKI SAYS "YOU ARE VERY DEAR FRIENDS," YOU MET HIM EXACTLY HOW MANY TIMES BEFORE THIS?

A ONCE ON THE WALK-THROUGH.

Q DURING ANY CONVERSATION WITH MR. BEREKI BEFORE HIS APRIL 5, 2012 E-MAIL TO YOU IN WHICH HE COMMUNICATED HIS PROPOSAL FOR THE PROJECT, DID HE EVER MENTION THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES DEAL?

A NO, HE DIDN'T MENTION SPARTAN.

Q DID HE EVER MENTION SPARTAN AT ALL?

A NO.

Q HAVE YOU EVER HEARD OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES IN CONNECTION WITH MR. BEREKI AT ANY TIME BEFORE APRIL 5, 2012?

A NO.

Q IN THE APRIL 5, 2012 E-MAIL FROM MR. BEREKI, EXHIBIT 303, IS THERE ANY MENTION IN THERE OF SPARTAN?

A NO.

Q IN APRIL 2012, DID YOU BELIEVE YOU WERE CONTRACTING WITH SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

A NO.

Q WHO DID YOU BELIEVE YOU WERE CONTRACTING WITH?

A I BELIEVED I WAS CONTRACTING WITH ADAM BEREKI AND HIS PARTNER, GLENN OVERLEY.

Q WHAT WAS THAT UNDERSTANDING BASED ON?

A IT WAS BASED ON THE EXCHANGE OF E-MAILS ON APRIL 5.

Q IF YOU WILL FLIP TO EXHIBIT -- IT'S NUMBERED FIVE IN YOUR BOOKLET THERE, BUT IT'S 305.

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS DOCUMENT BEFORE?

A YES.

Q CAN YOU TELL US WHAT IT IS?

A THIS IS A COPY OF A STRING OF E-MAILS BETWEEN MYSELF AND ADAM BEREKI ON FRIDAY, APRIL 13, 2012.

Q THIS IS ROUGHLY ONE WEEK AFTER THE APRIL 5, 2012 E-MAIL AGREEMENT?

A YES.

Q AND CAN YOU TELL US WHO INITIATED THIS E-MAIL STRING?

A MR. BEREKI.

Q WHAT DID HE ASK IN HIS INITIAL E-MAIL TO YOU?

A HE ASKED FOR A CHECK FOR $15,000 TO COVER MATERIALS AND LABOR.

Q WHAT DID YOU RESPOND?

A I RESPONDED THAT I COULD SEND HIM A CHECK AND I WANTED TO KNOW IF I COULD MAIL IT OR DID HE WANT IT WIRED TO A BANK ACCOUNT AND TO WHOM TO MAKE IT OUT.

Q AND WHY DID YOU WANT TO KNOW TO WHOM TO MAKE IT OUT?

A I WANT TO KNOW IF I SHOULD MAKE IT OUT TO ADAM BEREKI OR ADAM BEREKI AND GLENN OVERLEY.

Q WHAT DID MR. BEREKI RESPOND?

A HE RESPONDED, "YES, TOMORROW IS FINE. MADE OUT TO ADAM BEREKI. MY HOME ADDRESS IS."

Q IF YOU LOOK AT EXHIBIT NO. 6 IN YOUR BOOKLET, BUT IT'S NUMBERED 306, HAVE YOU SEEN THAT DOCUMENT BEFORE?

A YES.

Q CAN YOU TELL US WHAT THIS IS?

A THIS IS AN IMAGE OF A CHECK AND A DEPOSIT WITH CHASE BANK.

Q AND WHEN YOU SAY "AN IMAGE," IS THAT AN IMAGE OF A CHECK?

A YES, THERE'S AN IMAGE OF A CHECK ON THE PAGE.

Q CAN YOU DESCRIBE WHAT THAT CHECK IS?

A THIS IS A CHECK THAT I WROTE TO ADAM BEREKI FOR $15,000 ON APRIL 13, 2012.

Q THAT WAS IN RESPONSE TO HIS REQUEST OF THE SAME DATE?

A YES, IT WAS.

Q WHO WAS THAT CHECK MADE PAYABLE TO?
A ADAM BEREKI.
Q BY THE WAY, ON THE EXHIBIT 5 YOU JUST LOOKED AT, THE STRING E-MAIL, WHOSE E-MAIL ACCOUNT DID MR. BEREKI'S E-MAIL COME TO YOU ON?
A HIS PERSONAL E-MAIL ACCOUNT AT GMAIL.
Q AT SOME POINT, DID YOU HEAR OF SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?
A YES, I DID.
Q WHEN WAS THAT?
A IT WAS SEVERAL MONTHS INTO THE PROJECT IN JULY OF 2012.
Q HOW DID YOU HEAR OF SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?
A ADAM ASKED US TO START MAKING THE CHECKS OUT TO SPARTAN INSTEAD OF ADAM BEREKI.
Q DID HE TELL YOU WHY?
A NO.
Q DID HE EXPLAIN WHO SPARTAN WAS?
A NO.
Q DID IT MATTER TO YOU?
A NO, IT DIDN'T.
Q DID YOU HAVE SOME UNDERSTANDING OF WHO SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION WAS?
A I THOUGHT SPARTAN WAS, I GUESS, ANOTHER ACCOUNT THAT HE WANTED TO USE.
Q DID YOU EVER ENTER INTO ANY AGREEMENT WITH

SPARTAN ASSOCIATES ON THIS PROJECT?

A NO.

Q WERE YOU EVER ASKED TO ENTER INTO ANY SORT OF AGREEMENT WITH SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

A NO.

Q WERE YOU EVER PRESENTED WITH ANY TYPE OF AGREEMENT WITH SPARTAN ASSOCIATES ON THIS PROJECT?

A NO.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU. NO FURTHER QUESTIONS, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: MR. RUSSO, TO YOU.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MS. HUMPHREYS, WHAT'S HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES?

A HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES IS A COMPANY THAT DOES EARNED VALUE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM CONSULTING.

Q IS THAT YOUR HUSBAND'S BUSINESS, YOUR BUSINESS, OR A COMBINATION?

A IT'S NOT MY BUSINESS.

Q OKAY.

A MY HUSBAND STARTED THE BUSINESS.

Q OKAY. SO IS IT A CORPORATION, TO YOUR KNOWLEDGE?

A IT'S AN S CORP.

Q OKAY. ISN'T IT TRUE THAT HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES MADE SOME OF THE PAYMENTS TOWARDS THE CONSTRUCTION ON THE LIDO PROPERTY?

A NO.

Q YOU'RE SAYING NONE OF THE CHECKS CAME FROM HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES?

A ARE YOU ASKING ME --

Q YES.

A -- IF THE CHECKS THAT WE PAID ADAM BEREKI CAME FROM HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES?

Q SOME OF THEM, NOT ALL OF THEM.

A I HAVE NO KNOWLEDGE OF THAT.

Q OKAY. HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, WHERE IS THAT BUSINESS LOCATED?

A SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Q RESEARCH AVENUE IN IRVINE; CORRECT?

A IT IS NOW.

Q 9910 RESEARCH AVENUE?

A I DON'T KNOW.

Q OKAY. YOU ARE AWARE THAT SPARTAN ASSOCIATES DID THE TENANT IMPROVEMENTS AT YOUR HUSBAND'S BUSINESS OFFICE PRIOR TO THIS WORK ON LIDO ISLE?

A I HEARD THAT SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, ADAM, DID WORK AT THE OFFICE BUILDING BEFORE HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES MOVED INTO IT.

Q OKAY. AND --

THE COURT: WHEN DID YOU HEAR THAT?

THE WITNESS: I HEARD THAT A FEW MONTHS AGO.

THE COURT: AFTER THIS LAWSUIT WAS FILED?

THE WITNESS: YES.

THE COURT: ALL RIGHT. GO ON.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q ISN'T IT TRUE THAT ONE OF THE REASONS WHY YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND HIRED SPARTAN ASSOCIATES WAS BECAUSE OF ITS FINE WORK ON THE TENANT IMPROVEMENTS ON THE COMMERCIAL OFFICE BUILDING FOR YOUR HUSBAND'S BUSINESS?

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION, YOUR HONOR. HE'S MISCHARACTERIZING THE WITNESS'S TESTIMONY SAYING ISN'T IT TRUE THAT YOU ENTERED INTO A CONTRACT WITH SPARTAN ASSOCIATES. SHE'S TESTIFIED IT'S HER UNDERSTANDING THAT SHE ENTERED INTO A CONTRACT --

MR. RUSSO: IS THAT AN OBJECTION OR IS THAT A SPEAKING OBJECTION?

MR. BISSELL: IT'S AN OBJECTION.

THE COURT: SEEMS THE LOCAL, LOCAL RULE; I.E., MY RULE, NO SPEAKING OBJECTIONS EVEN IN COURT TRIALS.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: ASIDE FROM THAT, MR. RUSSO, IF YOU WILL KINDLY REPHRASE.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q ISN'T IT TRUE THE REASON YOU ENTERED INTO ANY RELATIONSHIP WAS BECAUSE OF HIS FINE WORK FOR YOUR HUSBAND'S OFFICE BUILDING?

A I DIDN'T ENTER INTO AN AGREEMENT WITH SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q DO YOU KNOW HOW MANY ADDRESSES MR. BEREKI USES?

A NO.

Q BECAUSE YOU KEEP REFERRING TO IT AS HIS PERSONAL E-MAIL. DO YOU KNOW IF THAT'S THE SAME AS HIS WORK E-MAIL?

A I ONLY AM FAMILIAR WITH THE ABEREKI@GMAIL.COM.

Q SO YOU DON'T KNOW IF THAT IS HIS PERSONAL BUSINESS OR ANYTHING; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q YOU DON'T KNOW -- YES, YOU DON'T KNOW; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q ISN'T IT TRUE THAT PRIOR TO THE LIDO PROJECT, YOU MET MR. BEREKI AT FAMILY OCCASIONS OF YOURS?

A I HAD NEVER MET MR. BEREKI BEFORE APRIL 1ST.

Q ISN'T IT TRUE THAT HE ATTENDED YOUR MOTHER-IN-LAW'S FUNERAL PRIOR TO THIS?

A I DON'T KNOW.

Q ISN'T IT TRUE THAT HE ATTENDED YOUR BROTHER-IN-LAW'S FUNERAL PRIOR TO THIS?

A I DON'T KNOW.

Q OKAY. HE ATTENDED AND ACTUALLY SAT AT THE FAMILY TABLE AT YOUR SON'S WEDDING; CORRECT?

A I REMEMBER HIM BEING INVITED TO THAT WEDDING --

Q OKAY.

A -- WHICH WAS AFTER 2012.

Q YOU WOULD AGREE THAT HE WASN'T A FOREIGNER TO YOUR FAMILY; CORRECT?

A I HAD NEVER MET HIM. HE HAD NO FAMILIARITY TO MY FAMILY THAT I WAS AWARE OF PRIOR TO APRIL 1ST.

Q YOU WOULD AGREE, MA'AM, THAT YOU FELT THAT YOUR AGREEMENT WITH WHOEVER YOU WERE HIRING AS A CONTRACTOR WAS ADEQUATELY MEMORIALIZED IN YOUR E-MAILS WHICH ARE EXHIBIT NUMBER 303; CORRECT?

A I FELT THAT -- THAT ADAM PROPOSED A SCOPE OF WORK IN THE FIRST E-MAIL, AND OUR RESPONSE WAS AN ACCEPTANCE OF THAT PROPOSAL.

Q SO YOU HAD A MEETING OF THE MINDS AND IT WAS DOCUMENTED IN THE E-MAILS; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q SO IT'S NOT THAT THERE'S NO WRITING, IT'S JUST THE WRITING IS E-MAILS AS OPPOSED TO SOMETHING SIGNED; CORRECT?

A I HAD A CONCERN WHETHER WE NEEDED MORE THAN THAT, WHICH IS WHY I ASKED HIM ABOUT IT IN MY E-MAIL. BECAUSE I AM FAMILIAR WITH HAVING TO SIGN CONTRACTS WHEN YOU HIRE PEOPLE TO DO WORK FOR YOU.

Q YOU HAVE HIRED CONTRACTORS TO WORK ON OTHER VACATION HOMES; CORRECT?
A YES.
Q OKAY.
A OH, NO -- YES.
Q WELL, YOU HAVE TWO VACATION UNITS ON MAUI; CORRECT?
A YES.
Q OKAY. AND YOU HAVE BEEN THROUGH THE PROCESS OF REMODELING PROJECTS; CORRECT?
A YES.
Q OKAY. AND YOU WANTED A LICENSED CONTRACTOR FOR THE WORK ON YOUR LIDO PROPERTIES; CORRECT?
A YES.
Q OKAY. AND BECAUSE YOU KNEW YOU WERE GOING TO BE DOING PLUMBING AND ELECTRICAL AS WE CAN SEE IN EXHIBIT NO. 303; CORRECT?
A I WANTED LICENSED WORK DONE, YES.
Q OKAY.
A WITH PERMITS.
Q DID YOU, PRIOR TO STARTING THIS RELATIONSHIP, DOUBLE-CHECK TO MAKE SURE THAT THERE WAS A LICENSE FOR THIS SINCE PERMITS HAD TO BE PULLED?
A NO. I TOOK ADAM AT HIS WORD THAT HE HAD A LICENSE.
Q DID MR. BEREKI EVER TELL YOU -- WELL, HE TOLD

YOU HE WAS LICENSED; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q AND YOU'RE SAYING YOU DIDN'T REALIZE THAT THAT LICENSE WAS IN THE NAME OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES; YOU THOUGHT IT WAS PERSONAL TO HIM?

A I HAD NEVER HEARD OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q DID YOU EVER CHECK?

A DID I CHECK WHAT?

Q TO SEE WHETHER OR NOT MR. BEREKI'S LICENSE WAS PERSONAL OR IN HIS BUSINESS NAME.

A NO.

Q I HATE TO DO THIS TO YOU, BUT WE GOT MULTIPLE BINDERS. ONE OF THEM IS MARKED ONE TO 65. I'M GOING TO WORK OFF THAT ONE AS OPPOSED TO THE ONE YOU WERE JUST LOOKING AT.

THE COURT: WELL, SPEAKING OF HERNIA, YOU MAY HAVE SET A NEW RECORD. I THINK THIS IS THE BIGGEST BINDER I HAVE SEEN. THIS MAY INDIVIDUALLY BE THE BIGGEST BINDER I HAVE EVER SEEN IN THIS DEPARTMENT.

MR. RUSSO: I HAD A HARD TIME CARRYING THOSE UP TODAY.

THE COURT: EXHIBIT NUMBER?

MR. RUSSO: 38, THANK YOU.

MR. BISSELL: YOUR HONOR, I DON'T HAVE THE BENEFIT OF THOSE EXHIBITS. IF I COULD TAKE A LOOK.

MR. RUSSO: SURE.

THE COURT: I GUESS MR. RUSSO COULDN'T CARRY A FOURTH BECAUSE THESE WERE TOO HEAVY. THE STRAW THAT BROKE THE CAMEL'S BACK.

MR. RUSSO: WE SEND EACH OTHER DROPBOXES OF THE EXHIBITS.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MS. HUMPHREYS, DO YOU RECOGNIZE --

A I HAVEN'T --

Q I'M SORRY, MA'AM.

THE COURT: IT'S ALSO HARD TO WORK WITH.

THE WITNESS: AM I LOOKING FOR 38?

MR. RUSSO: YES, MA'AM.

THE COURT: YOU WEREN'T CONSERVING TREES, I CAN TELL YOU THAT.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MS. HUMPHREYS, DO YOU RECOGNIZE EXHIBIT NO. 38 AS THE TERMINATION NOTICE IN WHICH YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND TERMINATED THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES FROM THIS PROJECT?

A THIS IS THE FIRST TIME I HAVE SEEN THIS.

Q YOU WERE AWARE THAT YOU -- DID YOUR HUSBAND SHARE WITH YOU THAT A TERMINATION NOTICE WAS SENT TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

A NO.

Q YOU WEREN'T AWARE OF IT?

A NO.

Q OKAY. I WOULD LIKE YOU TO TURN TO --

THE COURT: BY THE WAY, JUST SO THE RECORD IS CLEAR, YOU CHARACTERIZED THIS AS A TERMINATION NOTICE. IT'S ACTUALLY STYLIZED AS NOTICE OF CESSATION OF LABOR AND IT INDICATES THE LAST SENTENCE, QUOTE, "THIS NOTICE OF CESSATION OF CONSTRUCTION AND RELATED ACTIVITIES SHALL REMAIN IN EFFECT AND SHALL BE BINDING UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE FROM THE UNDERSIGNED," END QUOTE. IT DOESN'T STRICTLY SOUND LIKE A TERMINATION NOTICE.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q WAS IT ON OR ABOUT AUGUST 28, 2013, THAT YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND TERMINATED MR. BEREKI FROM THIS PROJECT?

A YES.

Q ARE YOU AWARE OF ANY NOTICE OTHER THAN THIS NOTICE HERE FOR THAT TERMINATION?

A NO.

Q MA'AM, CAN YOU PLEASE TURN TO EXHIBIT NUMBER 34.

A YES.

Q MA'AM, YOU ARE AWARE THAT A BUILDING PERMIT HAD TO BE BULLIED FOR THIS PROJECT?

A YES.

Q AND YOU KNEW THAT ONLY A LICENSED CONTRACTOR COULD PULL A BUILDING PERMIT?

A I DON'T KNOW THAT I KNEW THAT, BUT IT MAKES SENSE.

Q YOU CAN SEE THAT THE BUILDING PERMIT WAS PULLED BY THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC.?

A YES. IS THIS ON NOVEMBER 14, 2012? THIS ONE?

Q YES, MA'AM.

AS A MATTER OF FACT, MR. BEREKI E-MAILED YOU A COPY OF THE BUILDING PERMIT FOR THIS, DIDN'T HE?

A I DON'T RECALL.

Q MA'AM, CAN YOU TURN TO EXHIBIT NO. 31 IN THAT SAME BINDER.

A YES.

Q WERE YOU WORKING ON INTERIOR PLANS WITH MR. BEREKI FOR THE LIDO PROJECT?

A I'M SORRY, I WAS READING. CAN YOU RESTATE YOUR QUESTION, PLEASE?

Q SURE.

DID YOU WORK WITH MR. BEREKI REGARDING INTERIOR PLANS FOR THE PROJECT?

A YES.

Q OKAY. AND IS THIS AN EXAMPLE OF THE INTERIOR PLANS, WHAT WE SEE IN THIS EXHIBIT 31?

A THIS DATED AUGUST 23RD, 2013?

Q YES, MA'AM.

A I WASN'T WORKING WITH HIM ON PLANS IN AUGUST OF 2013.

Q OKAY. DO YOU KNOW IF YOUR HUSBAND WAS?

A HE WAS NOT.

Q MA'AM, DID IT MATTER TO YOU WHETHER OR NOT YOUR CONTRACTOR WAS ADAM BEREKI VERSUS SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

A DID IT --

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION. IRRELEVANT.

THE COURT: SUSTAINED.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MA'AM, CAN YOU TURN TO EXHIBIT NO. 32.

A YES.

Q LOOKING AT PAGE 1 OF EXHIBIT NO. 32, MA'AM, IS THAT YOUR E-MAIL TO MR. BEREKI ABOUT PAYMENT TO SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?

A NO.

Q IS YOUR E-MAIL ADDRESS KMOEHUMPHREYS@YAHOO.COM?

A YES.

Q AND THE JULY 19, 2012, 1:59 P.M. E-MAIL AT THE TOP OF EXHIBIT 32-1, IS THAT FROM YOU?

A YES, TO ADAM BEREKI.

Q OKAY. AND IT SAYS THERE, "I JUST GOT BACK FROM WIRING $45,000 TO THE SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION ACCOUNT"?

A YES.

Q OKAY. SO YOU KNEW AT THIS POINT IN TIME THAT YOUR PAYMENTS WERE GOING TO SPARTAN; CORRECT?

A THIS WAS THE FIRST PAYMENT I MADE TO SPARTAN

CONSTRUCTION AFTER ADAM ASKED ME TO, INSTEAD OF WRITING CHECKS TO HIM, TO WIRE MONEY INTO THIS NEW BANK ACCOUNT.

Q OKAY. THROUGHOUT THIS PROJECT, ENGINEERS HAD TO BE HIRED; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q ARCHITECTS HAD TO BE HIRED?

A YES.

Q AND YOUR AGREEMENT WITH MR. BEREKI WAS THAT WHATEVER THOSE COSTS WERE FOR DESIGN PROFESSIONALS, THAT WAS GOING TO BE A COST PAID FOR BY YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND; CORRECT?

A NO.

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION. RELEVANCY.

THE COURT: I WILL ALLOW THE QUESTION.

THE ANSWER WAS NO.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q DO YOU KNOW WHAT THE TERMS WERE FOR YOUR AGREEMENT WITH MR. BEREKI?

A YES.

Q OKAY. AND AMONGST THOSE TERMS WAS THAT HE WAS TO BE REIMBURSED FOR PAYMENTS FOR DESIGN PROFESSIONALS; CORRECT?

A THE TERMS OF OUR CONTRACT AGREEMENT AS OF APRIL 2012 WERE THAT WE HIRE MR. BEREKI AND GLENN OVERLEY FOR $500 A DAY AND WE WOULD PAY FOR ACTUAL COSTS OF LABOR AND MATERIALS. THE LABOR WOULD BE 15 TO $25 AN HOUR. THAT WAS THE TERMS OF OUR AGREEMENT.

Q SINCE THEN, MA'AM, YOU HAVE DISCUSSED WITH YOUR HUSBAND THE FACT THAT YOU HAD AGREED TO REIMBURSE MR. BEREKI FOR ANY DESIGN PROFESSIONALS EXPENSES; CORRECT?

A NO.

Q WERE YOU AWARE --

THE COURT: THIS IS A GOOD TIME FOR A 10-MINUTE RESTROOM BREAK. WHAT DO YOU THINK?

MR. RUSSO: SURE THING, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: MR. BEREKI, SO YOU KNOW, AFTER MR. RUSSO IS COMPLETE, THEN YOU HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY TO ASK SOME QUESTIONS AS WELL.

MR. BEREKI: THANK YOU FOR THAT, YOUR HONOR.

(RECESS.)

THE COURT: MS. HUMPHREYS, COME ON BACK.

THE WITNESS: COME ON DOWN.

THE COURT: MR. RUSSO, BACK TO YOU, PLEASE.

MR. RUSSO: SURE.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MS. HUMPHREYS, YOU SAID THAT YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND MADE ALL THE PAYMENTS TO BEREKI & ASSOCIATES; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q YOU OPENED UP THE BINDERS MR. BISSELL WAS ASKING ABOUT RIGHT THERE TO TAB NUMBER 15?

A YES.

THE COURT: THE DEFENSE BOOK?

MR. RUSSO: YOU KNOW, LET ME MAKE IT EASIER. LET ME MAKE A REPRESENTATION. TAB 15 IN THAT BOOK IS THE SAME AS THE FIRST DOCUMENT, TAB 32, WHAT WE HAVE IN FRONT OF YOU, SO WE DON'T HAVE TO OPEN TWO BOOKS.

THE COURT: ALL RIGHT. 32.

MR. RUSSO: YEAH, LET'S MAKE IT EASIER.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MS. HUMPHREYS --

MR. BISSELL: THAT'S YOUR 32?

MR. RUSSO: FIRST PAGE.

MR. BISSELL: OH, 32-SOMETHING?

MR. RUSSO: 32-2, I APOLOGIZE.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q WE WERE TALKING ABOUT 32-1 A MOMENT AGO BEFORE THE BREAK, MS. HUMPHREYS, AND YOU WERE SAYING THAT $45,000 WAS THE FIRST TIME THAT YOU WERE AWARE OF MAKING A PAYMENT TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES; CORRECT?

A ON JULY 19, 2012, I WIRED $45,000 TO SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION. THAT WAS MY FIRST PAYMENT TO THEM.

Q OKAY. LET'S GO TO 32-2, SAME AS EXHIBIT NUMBER 15 IN THE DEFENDANT'S BOOK -- OR 315 IN THE DEFENDANT'S BOOK.

IS THIS AN ACCURATE LIST OF ALL THE PAYMENTS MADE ON THIS PROJECT, MA'AM?

A I BELIEVE SO.

Q OKAY. LET'S GO THROUGH THE NEXT DOCUMENTS IN THE SAME EXHIBIT, 32.

SO 32-4, THAT'S THE FIRST CHECK FOR THE $15,000 FROM YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND'S JOINT ACCOUNT TO MR. BEREKI; CORRECT?

A NO. THIS CHECK IS DATED MAY 17.

Q OKAY.

THE COURT: WHAT HAPPENED TO 32-3?

MR. RUSSO: I DON'T KNOW.

MR. BISSELL: I THOUGHT THAT WAS A CHECK COMPILATION.

THE COURT: 32-2.

MR. RUSSO: I DON'T KNOW WHAT HAPPENED.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q BUT 32-4, IS THAT A CHECK PAYABLE TO MR. BEREKI?

A 32-4 IS A CHECK THAT I WROTE TO MR. BEREKI ON MAY 17, 2012.

Q OKAY. IF WE GO BACK A PAGE TO 32-2, WE SEE THAT THERE'S A RUNNING COMPILATION OF HOW MUCH MONEY WAS PAID IN THE RIGHT-HAND COLUMN; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q OKAY. SO WOULD THIS BE THE SECOND CHECK IN THAT COMPILATION DATED MAY 17, 2012, SO THE SECOND $15,000?

A YES.
Q OKAY. NOW I ASK YOU TO TURN TO 32-5.
A I AM THERE.
Q OKAY. AND AT THIS POINT IN TIME, YOU WERE WRITING THIS $50,000 CHECK TO SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION; CORRECT?
A NOVEMBER 15, 2012, SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION, $50,000, SIGNED BY ME.
Q AGAIN, THAT WAS FROM THE JOINT ACCOUNT; CORRECT?
A YES.
Q THE NEXT CHECK, 32-6.
WHAT IS THIS CHECK, MA'AM?
A THIS CHECK IS DATED AUGUST 31, 2012, MADE OUT TO SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION FOR $30,000, AND SIGNED BY GARY HUMPHREYS.
Q AND THIS SEEMS TO BE FROM A DIFFERENT ACCOUNT. DID HE HAVE HIS OWN ACCOUNT?
A WE HAVE SEVERAL DIFFERENT FAMILY BANK ACCOUNTS.
Q OKAY.
A THIS WAS ONE OF OUR PERSONAL BANK ACCOUNTS. AND THAT'S MY WRITING MAKING OUT THE CHECK.
Q ARE YOU A SIGNATORY ON THAT ACCOUNT?
A THEY ARE ALL LINKED TOGETHER, SO I BELIEVE SO, YES.

Q OKAY. GO TO 32-7, MA'AM.
A YES.
Q SO YOU HAD ALREADY -- AT THIS POINT IN TIME YOU HAD ALREADY BEEN WRITING CHECKS TO SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION. AND THEN THIS ONE, 32-7, IS $30,000 PAYABLE TO MR. BEREKI.
DO YOU SEE THAT?
A YES.
Q AT THIS POINT IN TIME, HAD MR. BEREKI TOLD YOU THAT THE PAYMENTS WERE TO BE MADE TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?
A HE TOLD US THAT IN JULY OF 2012.
Q OKAY. BUT NEVERTHELESS, YOU WROTE A CHECK TO HIM PERSONALLY IN DECEMBER FOR THE $30,000; CORRECT?
A I DIDN'T WRITE THIS CHECK.
Q DID YOUR HUSBAND WRITE THIS CHECK?
A IT LOOKS LIKE HIS HANDWRITING AND HIS SIGNATURE.
Q OKAY. 32-8, LET'S GO TO THE NEXT CHECK.
THIS IS ANOTHER $30,000 CHECK TO MR. BEREKI; CORRECT?
A YES.
Q AND DID YOU WRITE THIS ONE, OR DID YOUR HUSBAND?
A MY HUSBAND.
Q OKAY. 32-9.
NOW THIS ONE IS A LITTLE BIT DIFFERENT. IS

THIS A CHECK THAT YOU WROTE?

A NO.

Q OKAY. WAS THAT YOUR HUSBAND'S HANDWRITING ON THAT CHECK?

A YES.

Q IT SAYS ADAM BEREKI, SPARTAN ASSOCIATES ON IT; CORRECT?

A MY COPY IS UNCLEAR. I CAN SEE IT SAYS ADAM BEREKI AND SCRIBBLE.

Q OKAY. YOU CAN'T SEE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES IN THE SECOND PART?

A I CAN BELIEVE THAT THAT'S WHAT IT SAYS, BUT I CAN'T READ IT AS THAT.

Q FAIR ENOUGH.

LET'S GO TO 32-10.

IS THIS A WIRE TRANSFER THAT YOU PREPARED OR THIS IS YOUR HUSBAND?

A I PREPARED THIS WITH THE BANKER.

Q OKAY. AND WAS THIS -- HOW MUCH WAS THIS PAYMENT FOR, MA'AM?

A I THINK IT SAYS $30,000.

Q OKAY. AND DO YOU KNOW TO WHICH ACCOUNT THIS WAS WIRED?

A THE RECIPIENT SAYS ADAM BEREKI AND THERE'S AN ACCOUNT NUMBER WRITTEN BELOW IT.

Q DO YOU KNOW IF THAT ACCOUNT WAS FOR SPARTAN

ASSOCIATES OR FOR MR. BEREKI?

A I DON'T.

Q GO TO 32-11.

IS THIS ANOTHER WIRE THAT YOU PREPARED?

A ALONG WITH THE BANKER, YES.

Q OKAY. AND WAS THIS TO THE SAME ACCOUNT AS THE LAST WIRE?

A I WOULD HAVE TO COMPARE THE NUMBERS.

Q OKAY. DO YOU KNOW WHETHER OR NOT THIS WAS TO MR. BEREKI'S PERSONAL ACCOUNT OR THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES' ACCOUNT?

A THE RECIPIENT IS ADAM BEREKI.

Q OKAY. YOU MENTIONED HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES. THAT'S A CORPORATION; CORRECT?

A HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES IS AN S CORPORATION --

Q OKAY.

A -- TO MY UNDERSTANDING.

Q OKAY. WHO WERE THE SHAREHOLDERS OF HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES?

A NOW?

Q HOW ABOUT --

A WHEN IT WAS FOUNDED?

Q FOUR YEARS AGO.

DO YOU KNOW?

A I APOLOGIZE FOR TALKING IN THE MIDDLE OF THE QUESTION.

THE COURT: IT'S OKAY.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q DO YOU KNOW, MA'AM, WHO THE SHAREHOLDERS WERE FOR HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES?

A AT WHAT PERIOD OF TIME?

Q DO YOU KNOW AT ANY TIME?

A YES.

Q HOW ABOUT IN 2012?

A YES.

Q WHO WAS THE SHAREHOLDERS?

A GARY HUMPHREYS.

Q OKAY. WERE THERE -- AT SOME POINT IN TIME WERE THERE OTHER SHAREHOLDERS OF HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES?

A YES.

Q WHEN WAS THAT, MA'AM?

A NOW.

Q OKAY. LET'S TURN TO EXHIBIT 32-12, MA'AM.

DO YOU RECOGNIZE 32-12?

A I HAVE NEVER SEEN IT BEFORE.

Q OKAY. SO IS THAT YOUR -- I SEE A SIGNATURE. IS THAT -- CHRIS HUMPHREYS, IS THAT YOUR SON?

A CHRIS HUMPHREYS IS MY STEPSON.

Q OKAY. AND DO YOU RECOGNIZE HIS SIGNATURE ON THIS CHECK?

A NO.

Q OKAY. DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS AS A $90,000

CHECK FROM HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, INC., THE CORPORATION, TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

A YES.

Q SO IT WAS, IN FACT, THE CORPORATION THAT PAID SPARTAN ASSOCIATES THIS CHECK ON JULY 31ST, 2013; CORRECT?

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION.

THE COURT: SUSTAINED.

MR. BISSELL: FOUNDATION.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q DO YOU KNOW WHO PAID THE $90,000 TO MR. BEREKI AS EVIDENCED BY THIS $90,000 CHECK?

A ARE YOU ASKING ME IF THIS CHECK SAYS IT'S PAYABLE TO ADAM BEREKI?

Q WELL, IT'S FROM A CORPORATION --

A TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q SO HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, THE CORPORATION, TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q LET'S GO TO THE NEXT CHECK, 32-13.

DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS CHECK?

THE COURT: WHY DON'T WE GO INDIVIDUALLY -- SINCE I NOTICED THAT ALL OF THE FOLLOWING CHECKS APPEAR TO BE DRAWN ON THE HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, INC. ACCOUNT, PERHAPS YOU CAN COLLECTIVELY ASK ABOUT THEM AND SPEED IT UP A LITTLE BIT.

MR. RUSSO: OKAY.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q OKAY. THE NEXT CHECKS, 90,000, 95,000, 75,000, 60,000, 80,000, ALL OF THE REMAINING CHECKS THAT WERE IN THE ACCOUNTING ARE ALL ACTUALLY PAID BY THE CORPORATION, HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, INC., TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q AND THOSE ARE THE MONIES THAT YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND ARE TRYING TO SEEK BACK AS PAID BY YOU IN THIS CROSS-CLAIM; CORRECT?

A I DON'T KNOW THAT.

MR. RUSSO: I DON'T HAVE ANY FURTHER QUESTIONS AT THIS TIME.

THE COURT: MR. BEREKI.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q HI, KAREN.

YOU TESTIFIED THAT WE HAD A CONTRACT; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q OKAY. AND DID YOU BELIEVE THAT THE SIGNING OF YOUR NAME ON THE E-MAIL AGREEMENT OR ON THE AGREEMENT CONTRACT THAT WE HAD WAS YOUR AGREEMENT TO THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THAT CONTRACT?

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION. CALLS FOR A LEGAL CONCLUSION.

THE COURT: SUSTAINED.

MR. BISSELL: LACK OF FOUNDATION THAT SHE SIGNED IT.

THE COURT: SUSTAINED.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q WOULD YOU AGREE THAT YOUR TYPING YOUR NAME ON AN E-MAIL CONSTITUTES YOUR SIGNATURE -- CONSTITUTES YOUR SIGNATURE?

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION. LEGAL CONCLUSION.

THE COURT: SUSTAINED.

I AM AFRAID I MAY HAVE PUT YOU OFF A LITTLE BIT ON THIS PARTICULAR POINT. MY REQUEST IS THAT YOU STATE THE WORD "OBJECTION" AND THEN THE LEGAL BASIS FOR IT WITHOUT THE SPEAKING OBJECTION THAT WOULD FOLLOW THE LEGAL BASIS.

MR. BISSELL: UNDERSTOOD, YOUR HONOR. I WILL TRY TO FIND THAT MIDDLE GROUND.

THE COURT: PERFECT.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q YOU TESTIFIED THAT, PURSUANT TO OUR CONTRACT, THAT YOU WOULD BE PAYING FOR THE ACTUAL COSTS OF ALL LABOR AND MATERIALS; IS THAT CORRECT?

A I BELIEVE MY TESTIMONY WAS THAT WE AGREED TO PAY YOU AND YOUR PARTNER GLENN $500 A DAY AND THE ACTUAL

COSTS OF LABOR AND MATERIAL, THE LABOR BEING 15 TO $25 AN HOUR. LABOR AND SUPPLIES -- SUPPLIES AND MATERIAL AND THE LABOR, YES.

Q SO WHAT I AM GETTING AT IS YOU WERE AGREEING TO PAY FOR THE ACTUAL COSTS FOR ALL THE LABOR THAT SPARTAN INCURRED, AS WELL AS ALL THE MATERIALS THAT SPARTAN PURCHASED FOR USE IN THE PROJECT?

A NO. MY AGREEMENT WAS WITH ADAM BEREKI AND GLENN OVERLEY. I HADN'T HEARD OF SPARTAN.

Q OKAY. WERE YOU AGREEING TO PAY FOR -- WAS IT YOUR UNDERSTANDING THAT YOU WERE AGREEING TO PAY FOR THE ACTUAL COSTS OF LABOR AND MATERIALS THAT WERE USED ON THE PROJECT?

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION, YOUR HONOR. RELEVANCY AS TO THIS CAUSE OF ACTION. MIGHT BE RELEVANT --

THE COURT: SUSTAINED.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q COULD YOU PLEASE TURN TO EXHIBIT 31. IT'S WHAT WE --

THE COURT: IN THE VERY BIG BOOK?

MR. BEREKI: IN THE VERY BIG BOOK, YOUR HONOR.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q AND WE NEED TO GET TO 31-49.

YOU TESTIFIED THAT YOU HAD NEVER -- OR WERE NOT WORKING ON INTERIOR OR EXTERIOR DESIGN PLANS IN AUGUST 23 OF 2013; IS THAT CORRECT?

A YES.

Q ISN'T IT TRUE IN AUGUST -- ON AUGUST -- IN AUGUST OF 2013 YOU ACTUALLY CAME TO THE JOB SITE TO MEET WITH BOTH MYSELF AND BRYAN LEFEVER PERTAINING TO INTERIOR AND ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN ELEMENTS?

A IN THE BEGINNING OF AUGUST WE MET WITH YOU, YES.

Q AT THAT TIME, HAD YOU RECEIVED THIS -- OR PRIOR TO THAT DATE, HAD YOU RECEIVED THIS COMPILATION OF INTERIOR AND EXTERIOR DESIGN ITEMS?

THE COURT: REFERENCING THE ENTIRETY OF EXHIBIT 31?

MR. BEREKI: YES, YOUR HONOR.

THE WITNESS: WELL, THIS ONE IS DATED AUGUST 23. I HAD RECEIVED SOMETHING SIMILAR TO THIS.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q PRIOR TO OUR MEETING?

A MY RECOLLECTION IS AT THE MEETING THAT BRYAN SHOWED US SOMETHING THAT HE PUT TOGETHER. PRIOR TO THE MEETING, I RECEIVED SOME THINGS ABOUT FURNITURE AND DESIGN CONSIDERATIONS, YES.

Q OKAY. AND AT THE MEETING, DID WE GO OVER THIS SPECIFIC PRESENTATION STARTING WITH 31-49?

A I DON'T KNOW.

Q OKAY. I'M GOING TO REPRESENT TO YOU THAT WE DID.

AND THEN SUBSEQUENT TO OUR MEETING, DID YOU

RECEIVE A COPY OF THIS AUGUST 23 PRESENTATION?

A IT LOOKS FAMILIAR. I CAN'T BE CERTAIN.

Q OKAY. CAN YOU TELL ME HOW IT LOOKS FAMILIAR?

A IT CONTAINS THINGS THAT WE TALKED ABOUT BUYING, FOR EXAMPLE, THE FAN ON 3161 AND THE CHAIR ON 3166.

Q HOW ABOUT THE SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION LOGO? WAS THAT ON THE PRESENTATION THAT YOU REVIEWED?

A I DON'T KNOW.

Q CAN YOU PLEASE TURN TO EXHIBIT 31-46.

A YES.

Q HAVE YOU EVER SEEN THIS DOCUMENT BEFORE?

A NO.

Q DO YOU KNOW WHAT IT IS?

A IT SAYS IT'S A FLOOR ASSEMBLY.

Q DO YOU THINK THAT WOULD BE THE FLOOR ASSEMBLY BETWEEN THE UPSTAIRS UNIT AND THE DOWNSTAIRS UNIT?

A PROBABLY.

Q OKAY.

THE COURT: OUT OF CURIOSITY -- THIS IS TO MR. BEREKI -- DID THE HALF-INCH LAYER OF PLYWOOD REPRESENT THE SUBFLOOR, OR IS THAT AN EXTRA LAYER, IN YOUR UNDERSTANDING?

MR. BEREKI: THE ACTUAL SUBFLOOR, YOUR HONOR, WAS THE THREE-QUARTER TONGUE-AND-GROOVE STRUCTURAL 1 PLYWOOD, AND THEN THERE WAS ANOTHER LAYER OF HALF-INCH

PLYWOOD ABOVE THAT.

THE COURT: OVER THE GENIEMAT?

MR. BEREKI: YES. THE GENIEMAT WAS THE SOUND ISOLATOR.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q WERE YOU AWARE THAT I SENT THIS DOCUMENT ON 3146, 3147, AND 3148 TO -- VIA E-MAIL TO GARY?

A NO.

Q GARY NEVER SHARED THESE DOCUMENTS WITH YOU?

THE COURT: TOO MANY FIRST NAMES TEND TO CAUSE CONFUSION. WHEN YOU SAY "GARY," I DON'T KNOW WHO YOU'RE TALKING ABOUT.

MR. BEREKI: I'M SORRY, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: SO GIVE A FULL NAME WHEN YOU ASK THAT QUESTION.

MR. BEREKI: YES, YOUR HONOR.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q SO GARY HUMPHREYS, YOUR HUSBAND, NEVER SENT YOU THESE DOCUMENTS; CORRECT?

A HE DIDN'T SEND ME 3146 AND 47, CORRECT.

Q OKAY. ON EACH -- ON EACH OF THESE DOCUMENTS, IT SAYS SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q DO YOU KNOW THE ADDRESS FOR THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC.?

A NO.

Q YOU NEVER SENT A CHECK TO THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC.?

A I DON'T KNOW THE ADDRESS OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC. I KNOW THE ADDRESS FOR ADAM BEREKI. 818 SPIRIT LANE, I BELIEVE.

Q DID YOU KNOW THAT THE ADDRESS FOR THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC. IS THE SAME ADDRESS FOR ADAM BEREKI?

A NO.

Q DID YOU EVER MAIL A CHECK TO THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INC. AT 818 SPIRIT, COSTA MESA, CALIFORNIA?

A I DON'T RECALL.

MR. BEREKI: THAT WILL BE ALL. THANK YOU.

THE COURT: MR. BISSELL, BACK TO YOU THEN.

MR. BISSELL: JUST A COUPLE, YOUR HONOR.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q YOU WERE GIVEN AN ADDRESS AT WHICH TO SEND CHECKS; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q THAT WAS ALL CHECKS?

A YES.

Q NOW, THAT ADDRESS WAS GIVEN TO YOU BY MR. BEREKI --

A YES.

Q -- BEREKI?
A YES.
Q A 818 SPIRIT LANE, COSTA MESA ADDRESS?
A YES.
Q WERE YOU EVER GIVEN ANOTHER ADDRESS SAYING THIS IS SPARTAN ASSOCIATES' ADDRESS BY MR. BEREKI?
A NO.
Q YOU WERE ASKED TO LOOK AT EXHIBIT 34. THAT WAS THE BUILDING PERMIT, I BELIEVE, FOR THE PROJECT?
A IT'S LABELED INSPECTION CARD.
Q INSPECTION CARD.
AND DOES IT INDICATE WHEN THAT CARD OR THE BUILDING PERMIT WAS ISSUED ON THIS JOB?
A IT'S DATED AT THE TOP, 11/14/2012.
Q NOVEMBER 14, 2012 --
A NOVEMBER 14, 2012.
Q OKAY. AND MR. BEREKI BEGAN ON THIS JOB ON APRIL 2012?
A YES.
MR. BISSELL: NO FURTHER QUESTIONS, YOUR HONOR.
THE COURT: MR. RUSSO.

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. RUSSO:
Q MS. HUMPHREYS, CAN YOU TURN TO EXHIBIT 30.

A YES.
Q HOW OFTEN DO YOU VISIT THE JOB SITE, MA'AM?
A HOW MUCH DID I VISIT THE JOB SITE?
Q YES.
A I DON'T RECALL A NUMBER. I WOULD SAY RARELY.
Q OKAY. LOOKING AT EXHIBIT NUMBER 30, THIS IS THE JOB SITE; CORRECT?
THE COURT: TALKING ABOUT 30-1?
MR. RUSSO: YES, YOUR HONOR.
THE COURT: WOULD YOU LIKE TO MAKE A PRELIMINARY OFFER OF PROOF WITH RESPECT TO THE DATE AND PHOTOGRAPHER FOR THIS PHOTOGRAPH?
MR. RUSSO: I WILL MAKE AN OFFER OF PROOF BASED ON WHAT MR. BEREKI JUST TOLD ME THAT THIS WAS TAKEN IN APPROXIMATELY DECEMBER 2012.
THE COURT: BY MR. BEREKI?
MR. BEREKI: YES, YOUR HONOR.
THE COURT: OKAY.
BY MR. RUSSO:
Q MA'AM, ISN'T IT TRUE THAT WHEN THE CONSTRUCTION STARTED ON THIS PROJECT, MR. BEREKI HUNG A SPARTAN ASSOCIATES SIGN, THE SAME SIGN WE SEE HERE IN THE TOP-RIGHT CORNER OF EXHIBIT 30-1, ON THE PROJECT?
A I DON'T KNOW THAT.
Q OKAY. YOU SAID YOU VISITED THE PROJECT SPARINGLY. WHEN YOU WERE THERE, DIDN'T YOU SEE A

SPARTAN ASSOCIATES SIGN ON THE PROJECT?

A I DON'T RECALL.

Q WAS THERE CONSTRUCTION FENCING AROUND THE PROJECT?

A I DON'T RECALL.

Q OKAY.

MR. RUSSO: THANK YOU. NO FURTHER QUESTIONS.

THE COURT: MR. BEREKI?

MR. BEREKI: NOTHING FURTHER, YOUR HONOR.

MR. BISSELL: NO QUESTIONS, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: OKAY. IN THAT CASE, THANK YOU. YOU MAY STEP DOWN.

THE WITNESS: THANK YOU.

THE COURT: WHO IS YOUR NEXT WITNESS?

MR. BISSELL: NEXT WITNESS IS GARY HUMPHREYS, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: MR. HUMPHREYS. WELL, WE CAN GO FOR FIVE -- EIGHT MINUTES, AND THEN CONTINUE ON UNTIL LUNCH, THAT IS.

THE CLERK: DO YOU SOLEMNLY STATE THAT THE EVIDENCE YOU'RE ABOUT TO GIVE IN THE CASE NOW PENDING BEFORE THIS COURT SHALL BE THE TRUTH, THE WHOLE TRUTH, AND NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH, SO HELP YOU GOD?

THE WITNESS: I DO.

THE CLERK: CAN YOU PLEASE STATE YOUR FULL NAME AND SPELL IT FOR THE RECORD.

THE WITNESS: GARY, G-A-R-Y, C., HUMPHREYS. H-U-M-P-H-R-E-Y-S.

THE CLERK: THANK YOU, SIR.

THE WITNESS: GRAB MY WATER, IS THAT ALL RIGHT?

THE COURT: THAT'S PERFECTLY FINE. BRING IT WITH YOU. AND GOOD MORNING, MR. HUMPHREYS. HOW ARE YOU?

THE WITNESS: HOW ARE YOU?

THE COURT: BETTER THAN EVER. THANKS.

MR. BISSELL, TO YOU, PLEASE.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q MR. HUMPHREYS, YOU HAVE HEARD YOUR WIFE TESTIFY AS TO THE TWO OF YOU BUYING THIS CONDOMINIUM UNIT ON LIDO ISLE AND THE REASONS YOU BOUGHT IT.

IS THAT CONSISTENT WITH YOUR UNDERSTANDING, OR IS ANYTHING DIFFERENT THAN YOU UNDERSTOOD IT?

A NO, THAT'S EXACTLY THE WAY I UNDERSTOOD IT.

Q ARE YOU FAMILIAR WITH ADAM BEREKI?

A YES, I AM.

Q WHEN DID YOU FIRST MEET MR. BEREKI?

A I THINK IT WAS IN THE FALL OF 2011.

Q AND WHAT WAS THE CIRCUMSTANCES?

A I WAS VISITING MY BROTHER IN VILLA PARK, AND HE WAS PUTTING IN A KIND OF A SOUND SYSTEM.

Q AND DID YOU SPEAK TO HIM AT THAT TIME?
A NOT MORE THAN HELLO, NICE TO MEET YOU, THAT KIND OF THING. I REALLY DIDN'T SPEAK WITH HIM.
Q BEFORE YOU PURCHASED THE CONDOMINIUM UNITS IN NEWPORT BEACH WITH YOUR WIFE, HAD MR. BEREKI DONE ANY CONSTRUCTION FOR YOU?
A NO, HE DID NOT. HOWEVER, HE CLEARLY DID SOME FOR MY BROTHER AND MY SON.
Q THAT WOULD BE BOTH -- WITH REGARD TO YOUR SON, YOUR SON OWNS THE BUILDING, YOU RENT SPACE -- YOUR BUSINESS RENTS SPACE FROM?
A YES.
Q THE CONSTRUCTION WORK THAT MR. BEREKI DID FOR YOUR SON WAS -- PART OF THAT WAS ON THAT BUILDING?
A YES, IT WAS.
Q THAT WAS PRESUMABLY UNDER SOME SORT OF AGREEMENT WITH MR. BEREKI AND/OR SPARTAN AND YOUR SON?
A YES.
Q DID YOU HAVE ANY INVOLVEMENT IN ANY OF THOSE DISCUSSIONS BETWEEN YOUR SON AND MR. BEREKI CONCERNING WORK TO THE PREMISES WHERE YOUR OFFICES ARE LOCATED?
A NO.
Q WERE YOU EVER PRESENT DURING CONVERSATIONS BETWEEN MR. BEREKI AND YOUR SON CONCERNING WORK DONE TO THE PREMISES WHERE YOUR OFFICES ARE LOCATED?
A NO.

THE COURT: PERHAPS WE COULD EXPLORE A LITTLE BIT. I AM SURE I HEARD MS. HUMPHREYS TESTIFY THAT THE OFFICE FOR HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES MOVED INTO THIS BUILDING SOMETIME AFTER THAT CONSTRUCTION WAS DONE. PERHAPS I AM MISTAKEN ON THAT, BUT I WOULD LIKE TO HAVE SOME IDEA ON THE PROXIMITY AND LOCATION AND SO ON TO THE MOVE, IF THERE WAS A MOVE.

MR. BISSELL: UNDERSTOOD, YOUR HONOR.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q THERE WAS A POINT IN TIME WHERE HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES WAS NOT OCCUPYING THE PRESENT LOCATION ON RESEARCH -- IS IT RESEARCH DRIVE IN IRVINE?

A CORRECT.

Q AND WHEN DID IT MAKE THE MOVE -- FIRST OF ALL, WHERE WAS IT LOCATED PRIOR TO ITS MOVE TO RESEARCH DRIVE?

A ON TUSTIN AVENUE IN THE CITY OF ORANGE.

Q OKAY. AND WHEN DID IT MOVE FROM TUSTIN AVENUE, CITY OF ORANGE, TO RESEARCH DRIVE IN IRVINE?

A I WOULD BE GUESSING. I CAN'T SAY FOR SURE. I DIDN'T HANDLE -- I WASN'T INVOLVED IN IT OR I COULD PROBABLY TELL YOU, BUT I CAN'T REMEMBER EXACTLY WHEN.

Q WHEN IT MOVED INTO THE PREMISES ON RESEARCH DRIVE, HAD TENANT IMPROVEMENT WORK BEEN DONE, TO YOUR KNOWLEDGE, TO THE BUILDING PRIOR TO YOUR MOVING IN?

A IT WAS SET UP LIKE WE WANTED IT. I DON'T KNOW

IF THAT MEANT IT NEEDED MODIFICATION BEFORE WE MOVED.

Q DO YOU REMEMBER MR. BEREKI DOING TENANT IMPROVEMENT WORK AFTER YOU MOVED YOUR BUSINESS TO THE RESEARCH DRIVE LOCATION?

A NO, I DON'T.

Q OKAY.

THE COURT: GENERALLY, I DON'T WANT MR. HUMPHREYS TO GUESS. SO THERE MAY BE AN OPPORTUNITY LATER TO GET MORE INFORMATION.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q YOU SAY YOU CAN'T RECALL EXACTLY WHEN YOU MOVED FROM TUSTIN AVENUE IN ORANGE TO RESEARCH DRIVE. IS THERE A REASON WHY YOU CAN'T RECALL? WERE YOU NOT INVOLVED IN THE MOVE?

A I WAS NOT INVOLVED IN THE MOVE AT ALL. MY PRIMARY ROLE WAS TO BE OUT ON THE ROAD CONSULTING. I DO VERY LITTLE AROUND THE OFFICE AND EVERYTHING ASSOCIATED WITH THE PHYSICAL PLANT.

Q SO --

A SO --

Q SO THERE'S A POINT IN TIME WHERE YOU SHOWED UP TO WORK IN TUSTIN -- ON TUSTIN AVENUE, AND THEN THERE WAS A PERIOD OF TIME WHERE YOU JUST STARTED SHOWING UP TO WORK IN IRVINE DRIVE; IS THAT CORRECT?

A YES. THEY TOLD ME WE HAD MOVED AND WHERE IT WAS LOCATED.

Q BUT YOU'RE NOT EXACTLY SURE WHEN THAT MOVE TOOK PLACE BECAUSE YOU WERE ON THE ROAD?

A EXACTLY.

Q DO YOU RECALL THE YEAR AT LEAST?

A 2010 TO '12. I AM JUST TOTALLY GUESSING.

Q OKAY. DO YOU RECALL WHEN YOU FIRST DISCUSSED WITH MR. BEREKI THE POSSIBILITY OF HIM DOING CONSTRUCTION WORK ON YOUR CONDOMINIUM UNIT?

A YES. THAT WAS IN SPRING OF 2012.

Q ALL RIGHT. AND CAN YOU DESCRIBE THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THAT DISCUSSION?

A I BELIEVE HE CALLED ME A NUMBER OF TIMES. WE FINALLY SPOKE FOR A FEW MINUTES TO JUST SAY HELLO TO EACH OTHER. THE REAL MEETING OCCURRED ON THAT DAY WE MET ON APRIL OF 2012 AT THE JOB SITE. WE HAD A RENTER IN THERE PRIOR TO THAT. WE COULDN'T GO IN VERY EASILY, SO THAT'S WHY WE WAITED UNTIL THEN.

Q WAS THE RENTER NO LONGER THERE AS OF APRIL 1, 2012?

A I THINK THAT'S CORRECT.

Q OKAY. AND YOU HEARD -- YOU HEARD MS. HUMPHREYS TESTIFY AS TO WHAT WAS DISCUSSED AT THE MEETING ON THE SITE AND THAT MR. BEREKI EXPRESSED ENTHUSIASM FOR THE JOB.

DO YOU CONCUR WITH THAT TESTIMONY?

A ABSOLUTELY. HE WAS HIGHLY EXCITED; SAID THAT

WHAT I SAW AT MY BROTHER'S IS NOTHING COMPARED TO WHAT HE'S DONE BEFORE IN NEWPORT BEACH; THAT HE WAS REALLY EXCITED ABOUT TAKING THIS JOB ON. GIDDY. CLEARLY EAGER.

THE COURT: LET'S STOP THERE AND GO TO LUNCH ON THE SIDE NOTE OF HUSBAND AGREEING WITH WIFE.

THE WITNESS: GOOD.

THE COURT: ON THE CONTRARY, I THINK WE WILL PROBABLY SEE -- WE SEE IT A FAIR AMOUNT AT MY HOUSE. WHY NOT? ALL RIGHT, EVERYBODY. SEE YOU BACK AT 1:30. HAVE A GOOD LUNCH.

THE WITNESS: THANKS. YOU TOO.

(RECESS.)

AFTERNOON SESSION

(THE FOLLOWING PROCEEDINGS

WERE HELD IN OPEN COURT.)

THE COURT: SORRY FOR THE DELAY. I HAD TO TRACK DOWN THE BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONS CODE SECTION APPLICABLE TO OUR CASE.

SIR, COME ON DOWN.

THE WITNESS: THANKS.

THE COURT: MR. BISSELL, BACK TO YOU, PLEASE.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q MR. HUMPHREYS, BEFORE THE BREAK, YOU JUST TESTIFIED THAT THE TESTIMONY THAT YOUR WIFE HAD GIVEN THIS MORNING AS FAR AS WHAT YOU WANTED DONE TO THE UNIT, WHAT WAS DISCUSSED WITH MR. BEREKI, THAT WAS BASICALLY --

THE COURT: HE ABSOLUTELY AGREED WITH EVERYTHING SHE SAID. WE HAVE THAT DOWN.

THE WITNESS: EXACTLY RIGHT.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q DID MR. BEREKI TELL YOU AT ANY TIME PRIOR TO APRIL 5, 2012, WHAT HIS QUALIFICATIONS WERE FOR DOING THIS PROJECT?

A YES, HE DID.

Q WHAT DID HE TELL YOU?

A HE TOLD ME HE HAD DONE A NUMBER OF PROJECTS IN NEWPORT BEACH, SPECIFICALLY, AND WEST COVINA, ORANGE COUNTY, SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA IN GENERAL THAT WERE EVEN MORE COMPREHENSIVE THAN THIS PROJECT. AND I FELT GOOD WHEN HE FINISHED TELLING ME THE STORY THAT HE WAS MORE THAN QUALIFIED TO HANDLE THIS JOB.

Q DID HE TELL YOU HE WAS A LICENSED CONTRACTOR?

A YES, HE DID.

Q HOW DID THAT COME UP?

A I THINK I ASKED HIM, ARE YOU A LICENSED CONTRACTOR, JUST TO MAKE SURE. AND HE AFFIRMED THAT HE WAS.

Q DID YOU BELIEVE HIM WHEN HE TOLD YOU HE WAS A LICENSED CONTRACTOR?

A YES, I DID.

Q WOULD YOU HAVE HAD MR. BEREKI DO THIS JOB FOR YOU IF YOU BELIEVED THAT HE WAS NOT A --

A ABSOLUTELY NOT. I HAVE HEARD SOME TERRIBLE HORROR STORIES ABOUT THOSE SITUATIONS.

Q IF YOU WILL TURN --

A I HAVE TWO BOOKS HERE.

Q IT'S THE ONE THAT'S DEFENDANTS' EXHIBITS.

A IS THAT THE BIG ONE?

THE COURT: IT MAY BE BEHIND YOU, SIR.

MR. BISSELL: I THINK IT'S THAT ONE.

MR. RUSSO: THAT ONE.

THE WITNESS: DEFENDANTS' TRIAL EXHIBITS.

MR. BISSELL: YES.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q IF YOU WILL TURN TO WHAT'S TABBED IN YOUR BOOK --

A I COULDN'T HEAR, SORRY.

THE COURT: TURN TO TAB 3.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q TAB 3.

A OKAY. I'M THERE.

Q HAVE YOU SEEN THAT DOCUMENT BEFORE?

A YES, I HAVE.

Q AND YOU HEARD YOUR WIFE TESTIFY THIS MORNING THAT -- EXCUSE ME.

YOUR HONOR, IS IT ALL RIGHT TO QUESTION HIM ALONG THOSE LINES, OR DO YOU WANT ME TO GO THROUGH THE WHOLE SCENARIO OF ASKING HIM EVERY QUESTION THAT I ASKED MS. HUMPHREYS ABOUT THE UNDERSTANDING OF WHAT THIS WAS?

THE COURT: TAKE YOUR BEST SHOT.

MR. BISSELL: THANKS, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: WHICHEVER WAY YOU LIKE.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q YOU HAVE SEEN THIS DOCUMENT BEFORE, HAVE YOU NOT?

A YES, I HAVE.
Q WHEN DID YOU FIRST SEE THIS?
A ON THAT DATE OF APRIL 5TH OF 2012.
Q AND THIS DOCUMENT HAS BEEN IDENTIFIED AS A -- KIND OF A TWO-STRING E-MAIL BETWEEN YOURSELF AND MR. BEREKI. IS THAT YOUR UNDERSTANDING?
A MR. BEREKI, MYSELF, AND MY WIFE.
Q COULD YOU TELL US WHAT YOUR UNDERSTANDING OF THIS DOCUMENT WAS?
A IT WAS KIND OF OUR ACCEPTANCE, AND IN SOME CASES A REJECTION OR ASKING FOR CLARITY OF THE SUGGESTIONS HE MADE IN WHAT I HAVE CHARACTERIZED AS A PROPOSAL IN THE PRIOR TAB.
Q DID -- THE E-MAIL FROM MR. BEREKI AND YOU AND YOUR WIFE'S RESPONSE TO MR. BEREKI, IT WAS ALL CONTAINED IN THIS ONE DOCUMENT. DID THAT SET FORTH WHAT YOUR UNDERSTANDING WAS AS FAR AS THE PROJECT WAS CONCERNED FROM APRIL 5, 2012?
A YES, IT DOES.
Q DURING ANY OF YOUR CONVERSATIONS WITH MR. BEREKI, LEADING UP TO THE APRIL 5, 2012, E-MAIL CORRESPONDENCE, DID MR. BEREKI EVER MENTION SPARTAN TO YOU?
A NO, HE DIDN'T.
Q YOU'VE READ THE EXHIBIT -- THE E-MAIL EXCHANGE BETWEEN YOU AND YOUR WIFE AND MR. BEREKI, EXHIBIT 303.

DOES THE NAME SPARTAN APPEAR ANYWHERE IN THAT E-MAIL?

A NO, IT DOESN'T.

Q AT ANY TIME BEFORE MR. BEREKI STARTED WORK ON THE PROJECT, HAD YOU EVER HEARD OF SPARTAN?

A NO, I HADN'T.

Q WHO DID YOU BELIEVE YOU WERE CONTRACTING WITH AS OF APRIL 5, 2012, FOR THIS PARTICULAR PROJECT?

A ADAM BEREKI AND HIS PARTNER, GLENN OVERLEY.

Q NOW, YOU HAD NEVER MET MR. OVERLEY BEFORE; IS THAT CORRECT?

A THAT'S CORRECT.

Q DID MR. BEREKI EXPLAIN ANYTHING ABOUT HIS PARTNER, WHAT HIS QUALIFICATIONS WERE?

A I DON'T RECALL THAT HE DID.

Q YOUR UNDERSTANDING THAT YOU WERE CONTRACTING WITH MR. HUMPHREYS (SIC) AND HIS PARTNER IS BASED ON WHAT, THEN?

A WITH MR. BEREKI AND HIS PARTNER IS BASED ON THIS E-MAIL AND EXHIBIT 3. YOU SAID HUMPHREYS. THAT'S WHY I SAID --

Q I'M SORRY.

A -- BEREKI AND HIS PARTNER, GLENN OVERLEY. IT WAS BASED ON THIS E-MAIL, YES.

Q I WILL DO THAT OFF AND ON. I APOLOGIZE.

MS. HUMPHREYS HAS ALREADY TESTIFIED AS TO EXHIBIT 306, WHICH WAS THE MAY 13, 2012 CHECK. IT'S OUR EXHIBIT, NUMBER 6.

YOU'VE SEEN THAT CHECK BEFORE; CORRECT?

A YES, I HAVE.

Q AND YOU AND YOUR WIFE MADE FURTHER PAYMENTS TO MR. BEREKI ON THIS JOB; CORRECT?

A YES, WE DID.

Q IF YOU WILL FLIP TO TAB NUMBER 15 IN THE EXHIBIT BOOK YOU HAVE IN FRONT OF YOU.

A OKAY. I'M THERE.

Q CAN YOU IDENTIFY THAT DOCUMENT FOR US?

A YES. IT'S AN EXTRACT OF CHECKS AND WIRE TRANSFERS FROM KAREN AND ME, SOMETIMES HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES TO ADAM BEREKI OR SPARTAN.

Q IS THIS CHECK EXTRACT A COMPILATION PREPARED BY YOU UNDER YOUR DIRECTION?

A PREPARED UNDER MY DIRECTION.

Q BY WHO?

A MY ACCOUNTANT.

Q AND DOES THIS EXHIBIT REFLECT ALL PAYMENTS MADE BY YOU AND YOUR WIFE ON THIS JOB?

A I BELIEVE IT DOES.

Q WHAT WAS THE DATE OF THE FIRST PAYMENT TO SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?

A JULY 19, 2012.

Q SO AT SOME POINT, HAD YOU HEARD OF SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?

A YES. IN THE JULY TIME FRAME, A FEW MONTHS INTO THE PROJECT.

Q AND HOW DID YOU HEAR OF SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?

A ADAM ASKED US TO START MAKING CHECKS TO SPARTAN.

Q DID HE EXPLAIN TO YOU WHY?

A NO.

Q DID YOU ASK HIM WHY?

A NO.

Q DID HE EXPLAIN TO YOU WHO SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION WAS?

A NO.

Q DID YOU HAVE ANY SORT OF UNDERSTANDING OF WHO YOU THOUGHT SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION WAS?

A I JUST FIGURED IT WAS A SEPARATE ACCOUNT OR DBA THAT HE WAS USING. I DIDN'T THINK ABOUT IT, QUITE FRANKLY.

Q AT ANY TIME DURING MR. BEREKI'S INVOLVEMENT ON THIS PROJECT, DID HE EVER APPROACH YOU WITH A PROPOSED CONTRACT FROM SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?

A NO.

Q DID HE APPROACH YOU WITH ANY TYPE OF PROPOSAL FROM SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?

A NO.

Q WAS THERE ANY POINT DURING MR. BEREKI'S INVOLVEMENT IN THIS PROJECT IN WHICH YOU THOUGHT THAT

YOU HAD CONTRACTED WITH SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?

A NO.

MR. BISSELL: NO FURTHER QUESTIONS, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: MR. RUSSO.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q WHEN YOU WENT TO THE PROJECT AND SAW THE SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION SIGN IN FRONT OF IT, DID YOU ASK QUESTIONS ABOUT THAT?

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION, YOUR HONOR. ASSUMES FACTS NOT IN EVIDENCE.

THE COURT: SUSTAINED.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q HOW MANY TIMES DID YOU GO TO THE PROJECT, SIR?

A THREE TO FIVE.

Q IN THE YEAR AND A HALF?

A THAT'S ABOUT RIGHT.

Q OKAY. AND YOU SAW THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES SIGN ON THE PROJECT?

A NO.

Q DID YOU WALK AROUND THE WHOLE PROJECT WHEN YOU GOT THERE?

A NOT NECESSARILY.

Q DID YOU LOOK FROM THE STREET AND NOT GO SEE

WHAT WAS GOING ON WITH THE WORK?

A I WENT AND SAW WHAT WAS GOING ON WITH THE WORK.

Q OKAY. CAN YOU TURN TO EXHIBIT 30. IT'S THE OTHER BINDER, SIR.

A OH, OKAY. 30. I'M THERE.

Q I WILL ADDRESS YOUR ATTENTION TO PAGE 30-1, THE FIRST PAGE.

A OKAY.

Q DO YOU SEE IN THE TOP-RIGHT CORNER OF THE PICTURE, THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES SIGN?

A I SEE THAT NOW.

Q YOU ARE SAYING YOU NEVER SAW THAT?

A NEVER SAW IT.

THE COURT: PERHAPS WE CAN GET SOME ORIENTATION.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q SIR, CAN YOU TELL ME WHAT IS DEPICTED IN 30-1?

A IT LOOKS LIKE THE FRONT END OF THE CONDOMINIUM ON THE BEACH SIDE THAT HAD BEEN OPENED UP.

Q OKAY. SO IF WE ARE INSIDE LOOKING TOWARDS ME ON THIS PICTURE --

A YES.

Q -- AM I LOOKING AT WATER OR TOWARDS THE STREET?

A YOU'RE LOOKING AT WATER.

Q OKAY.

THE COURT: SO IS THERE A STREET BETWEEN THE WATER AND THE FRONT OF THIS HOUSE?

THE WITNESS: NO.

THE COURT: SIDEWALK?

THE WITNESS: YES.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q WERE YOU AWARE, SIR, THAT THAT SIGN WAS ORIGINALLY POSTED ON THE FRONT OF THE HOUSE WHEN CONSTRUCTION BEGAN, BUT THE OWNER'S ASSOCIATION REQUIRED THAT IT BE REMOVED?

A NO.

Q YOU WEREN'T AWARE OF THAT?

A I WAS NOT AWARE OF THAT.

Q OKAY. SIR, DID YOU LOOK INTO THE LICENSURE OF MR. BEREKI?

A NO.

Q SO YOU DIDN'T CHECK TO SEE WHETHER OR NOT MR. BEREKI HAD A LICENSE HIMSELF; CORRECT?

A NO.

Q CAN YOU TURN, SIR, TO EXHIBIT NO. 32 IN THE BOOK BEFORE YOU.

A OKAY. I'M THERE.

Q SIR, CUTTING TO THE CHASE, ARE ALL THE CHECKS THAT ARE IN EXHIBIT NO. 32 THE CHECKS THAT MAKE UP THE CHECK REGISTER THAT WE HAVE DISCUSSED BEFORE, WHICH IS 32-2, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE FIRST $15,000 CHECK

MISSING?

A YES.

MR. RUSSO: OKAY. I WILL MOVE INTO ADMISSION EXHIBIT 32.

THE WITNESS: SORRY?

THE COURT: ANY OBJECTION?

MR. BISSELL: LET ME JUST MAKE SURE.

THE COURT: THIRTY-TWO CONSISTS OF PAGE 1 OF AN E-MAIL STRING DATED VARIOUSLY. AT THE TOP, JULY 19, 2012, THE NEXT ONE, JULY 19, 2012; THE NEXT ONE, JULY 20, 2012; THE LAST AT THE BOTTOM, FEBRUARY 1, 2017.

PAGE 2 IS THAT WHICH YOU PREVIOUSLY SHOWED, EXHIBIT 315, THE EXTRACTED CHECKS, PREPARED AT MR. HUMPHREYS' BY HIS ACCOUNTANT.

FOLLOWING THAT, 32, PAGE 4 -- THERE IS NO 32-3 BY THE WAY.

32-4 THROUGH 32-17, COPIES OF CHECKS PAYABLE EITHER TO MR. BEREKI AT VARIOUS TIMES OR TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, INCORPORATED. SOME CHECKS DRAWN ON THE HUMPHREYS' PERSONAL ACCOUNT. SOME REFLECTED AS WIRE TRANSFER. AND THEN TOWARDS THE END, A SERIES OF CHECKS DRAWN ON THE ACCOUNT OF HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, INCORPORATED.

MR. RUSSO: COULDN'T HAVE DONE IT BETTER MYSELF, YOUR HONOR.

MR. BISSELL: NO OBJECTION, YOUR HONOR.

YOUR HONOR, DO YOU PREFER TO HAVE EXHIBITS ENTERED ALL AT ONCE AT THE END OF THE CASE?

THE COURT: IN A COURT TRIAL, I REALLY DON'T CARE. AND FOR OUR PURPOSES ON THIS PARTICULAR BIFURCATED MATTER, PROBABLY BETTER IF WE JUST DO THEM AS THEY COME.

SO 32 RECEIVED.

(EXHIBIT NO. 32 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q SIR, WERE YOU AWARE THAT A BUILDING PERMIT HAD TO BE PULLED ON THIS PROJECT?

A THE BUILDING PERMIT HAD TO DO WHAT?

Q THAT A BUILDING PERMIT HAD TO BE PULLED ON THIS PROJECT.

A I'M ASSUMING --

THE COURT: MIGHT BE PULLED -- PULLED IS ALMOST A TERM OF ART FOR THE CONSTRUCTION BUSINESS. SO PROBABLY THE QUESTION REPHRASED AS, WERE YOU AWARE OF WHETHER OR NOT THE CITY REQUIRED A PERMIT TO BE ISSUED FOR THE PERFORMANCE OF THIS WORK.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q WERE YOU AWARE THAT THE CITY REQUIRED A BUILDING PERMIT TO BE ISSUED FOR THE PERFORMANCE OF THIS WORK?

A I AM NOW.

THE COURT: GOOD QUESTION.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q AND WERE YOU AWARE, SIR, THAT SPARTAN ASSOCIATES WAS THE APPLICANT FOR THAT BUILDING PERMIT?

A NO.

Q WERE YOU AWARE, SIR, THAT ARCHITECTS OR CIVIL ENGINEERS HAD TO BE HIRED FOR THIS PROJECT?

A I BELIEVE SO LATER.

Q AND WERE YOU AWARE, SIR, THAT IT WAS SPARTAN ASSOCIATES THAT HAD TO CONTRACT WITH THE CIVIL ENGINEERS?

A NO.

Q WERE YOU AWARE, SIR, THAT -- WHAT DESIGN PROFESSIONALS WERE YOU AWARE OF ON THIS PROJECT, SIR?

A I THINK THE ONLY NAME I REMEMBER IS WONG.

Q OKAY. AND DO YOU KNOW WHAT HIS PROFESSION WAS?

A I DO NOT.

Q WERE YOU AWARE, SIR, THAT EVERY SUBCONTRACT TO A PROJECT WAS WITH SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

A I WAS NOT.

Q OKAY.

MR. RUSSO: NO FURTHER QUESTIONS.

THE COURT: MR. BEREKI?

MR. BEREKI: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q YOU MENTIONED A LITTLE BIT EARLIER ABOUT HEARING TERRIBLE WAR STORIES ABOUT CONSTRUCTION. CAN YOU GIVE US AN IDEA ABOUT WHAT YOU HEARD ABOUT --

THE COURT: LET'S NOT GO THERE.

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION. RELEVANCY, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: SUSTAINED.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q DID ALL YOUR FAMILY MEMBERS TELL YOU THAT SPARTAN HAD DONE A GOOD JOB ON THEIR PROJECTS?

A NO.

Q THEY DIDN'T?

A NO.

Q WHAT DID THEY SAY?

A ADAM BEREKI DID A GOOD JOB. I NEVER HEARD THE NAME SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q OKAY. SO THEY TOLD YOU THAT ADAM BEREKI HAD DONE A GOOD JOB ON ALL THEIR PROJECTS?

A YES.

Q AND YOUR BUSINESS OFFICE, THE WORK THAT YOU SAW DONE THERE, DID YOU FEEL THAT A GOOD JOB HAD BEEN DONE?

A YES.

Q OKAY. WERE THERE ANY COMPLAINTS ABOUT THE WORK PRODUCT ITSELF?

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION. VAGUE.

THE COURT: WELL, IT'S COMPOUND BECAUSE WE ARE NOW WELL AWARE THERE ARE MULTIPLE PROJECTS. SO I WILL SUSTAIN ON COMPOUND AT THIS POINT.

YOU CAN FOLLOW UP, MR. BEREKI.

MR. BEREKI: MR. --

THE COURT: LET ME CLARIFY SINCE I KNOW YOU'RE NOT A LAWYER. BASICALLY IF YOU WANT TO ASK A QUESTION LIKE THAT, YOU NEED TO ASK PROJECT BY PROJECT AND ANOTHER COLLECTIVELY.

MR. BEREKI: OKAY.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q WERE THERE ANY COMPLAINTS ABOUT THE WORK THAT SPARTAN DID ON YOUR -- AT THE HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES OFFICE BUILDING ON RESEARCH?

A I NEVER HEARD SPARTAN ASSOCIATES. SO I HAVE TO SAY NO, THERE WERE NO COMPLAINTS.

Q OKAY. WERE THERE ANY COMPLAINTS ABOUT THE WORK THAT ADAM BEREKI DID AT YOUR -- AT THE HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES OFFICE ON RESEARCH?

A NO.

Q OKAY. DO YOU HIRE CONTRACTORS IN YOUR BUSINESS?

A NOT CONSTRUCTION CONTRACTORS. CONSULTANTS, MANAGEMENT CONSULTANTS, ACCOUNTANTS, PEOPLE, EXPERTS IN NUCLEAR PHYSICS, THAT KIND OF THING.

Q OKAY. BUT YOU REFER TO THEM AS CONTRACTORS; CORRECT?

A CONSULTANTS, ASSOCIATES, THOSE KIND OF TITLES.

Q OKAY. COULD YOU PLEASE TURN TO EXHIBIT 40.

A OKAY. I'M THERE.

Q OKAY. AND THEN I ASK YOU TO GO TO EXHIBIT A WHICH BEGINS ON 40-8.

A OKAY. I'M THERE.

Q CAN YOU READ THE TITLE OF THIS PAGE THAT'S IN BOLD FOR US, SIR?

A HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, INC., INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR AGREEMENT.

Q SO IN YOUR COMPANY, WHAT DOES THIS INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR AGREEMENT APPLY TO?

MR. BISSELL: RELEVANCY, YOUR HONOR. OBJECTION.

THE COURT: SUSTAINED.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q WAS YOUR TESTIMONY THAT YOU DON'T HIRE CONTRACTORS IN YOUR COMPANY?

A I AM SAYING THAT WE REFER TO THEM AS CONSULTANTS OR ASSOCIATES. I WASN'T SURE WHAT THE EXACT AGREEMENT NAME IS. IN FACT, I'M CONFIDENT IT'S CHANGED.

Q WOULD THOSE CONSULTANTS BE HIRED UNDER THIS INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR AGREEMENT?

MR. BISSELL: SAME OBJECTION. RELEVANCE.

THE COURT: SUSTAINED. LET ME INDICATE TO YOU,

MR. BEREKI, I CONSIDER THERE TO BE SOME DIFFERENTIATION. I UNDERSTAND YOUR POINT IN TERMS OF TITLE, INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR CONTAINED ON THIS ATTACHED EXHIBIT TO EXHIBIT 40, BUT IT WOULD BE RELEVANT AND GERMANE IF THIS WAS A CONTRACT TO PERFORM CONSTRUCTION-TYPE CONTRACTING WORK. HIRING SOMEBODY TO DO THE FUNCTION OF A MANAGEMENT CONSULTANT IN THE REALM OF MR. HUMPHREYS' BUSINESS, I THINK, IS AN ENTIRELY DIFFERENT THING, AND, THEREFORE, NOT RELEVANT.

MR. BEREKI: WHERE I'M COMING FROM IS THAT MR. HUMPHREYS, IN MY KNOWLEDGE, IS A MANAGEMENT CONSULTANT. HE WROTE THE BOOK ON PROJECT MANAGEMENT. AND IT -- HE MAY NOT BE INVOLVED IN CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS LIKE THIS AS MUCH, BUT HE DOES STATE THAT IN HIS WORK, THAT HIS MANAGEMENT PRINCIPLES, THAT HE BOTH TEACHES AND IS A SELF-PROCLAIMED EXPERT IN --

THE COURT: ASK HIM ABOUT THAT.

MR. BEREKI: OKAY.

THE COURT: I KNOW YOU'RE JUST ABOUT TO DO THAT.

MR. BEREKI: YES, I WAS, SIR.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q OKAY. I'M GOING TO HOLD UP WHAT HAS NOT YET BEEN MARKED. WELL, IT IS ON THIS EXHIBIT -- ON THE LIST, BUT THIS BLUE BOOK. IT SAYS, "PROJECT MANAGEMENT USING EARNED VALUE," BY HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES.

DID YOU WRITE THIS BOOK, SIR?

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION. RELEVANCY.
THE COURT: YOU CAN ANSWER YES OR NO.
THE WITNESS: YES.
BY MR. BEREKI:
Q AND IN THIS BOOK, ARE THERE PRINCIPLES RELATING TO THE HANDLING OF CONTRACTS?
A YES.
Q WOULD YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE EXTENSIVE EXPERIENCE IN VARIOUS TYPE OF CONTRACTS?
A FOR GOVERNMENT FUNDED CONTRACTS OVER $100 MILLION WHERE THERE'S A VERY SPECIFIC REQUIREMENT FOR A THING CALLED EARNED VALUE MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS.
Q OKAY. SO HOW ABOUT AN ACTUAL COST OR A COST-PLUS CONTRACT, DO YOU HAVE EXPERIENCE IN THAT?
A MANY OF MY CLIENTS HAVE COST PLUS CONTRACTS.
Q OKAY. AND WOULD YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE EXTENSIVE EXPERIENCE IN PROJECT MANAGEMENT?
A IN EARNED VALUE PROJECT MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS, YES.
Q OKAY. SO DURING THE PROJECT, DID I EVER ASK YOU TO MAKE A CHECK OUT TO LEGOLAND TO BUILD YOUR PROPERTY?
A I DON'T THINK SO.
Q OKAY. DID I ASK YOU TO MAKE A CHECK OUT TO JUDGE CHAFFEE?
THE COURT: WELL, LET'S NOT BE FACETIOUS.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q HOW ABOUT PINKBERRY, THE ICE CREAM MANUFACTURER?

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION. RELEVANCE.

THE COURT: SUSTAINED.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q SO YOU HAVE STATED THAT YOU HAVE EXPERIENCE IN CONTRACTS AND PROJECT MANAGEMENT, YET YOU ARE ALLEGING THAT A SUBSTITUTION OCCURRED OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES INTO THE PROJECT, AND DESPITE ALL OF THIS EXPERIENCE, WOULD YOU AGREE THAT THAT DID NOT SEND UP A RED FLAG TO YOU?

THE COURT: I WILL SUSTAIN MY OWN OBJECTION AS TOO MANY WORDS.

MR. BEREKI: OKAY.

THE COURT: SEE IF YOU CAN GO BACK AND REFRAME THE QUESTION. USUALLY, QUESTIONS, SINCE YOU'RE CROSS-EXAMINING -- LET ME EXPLAIN. SINCE YOU'RE CROSS-EXAMINING, YOU GET TO ASK LEADING QUESTIONS. I DON'T KNOW IF MR. RUSSO HAS GIVEN YOU THE LECTURE ON LEADING AND NON-LEADING QUESTIONS.

MR. RUSSO: WE HAD A FULL NIGHT OF IT LAST NIGHT.

THE COURT: OKAY.

MR. BEREKI: I AM JUST A ROOKIE, THOUGH.

THE COURT: A LEADING QUESTION IS ANY QUESTION THAT'S DESIGNED OR INTENDED TO PUT WORDS INTO THE MOUTH OF THE WITNESS THAT ADOPTS THE QUESTION BY SAYING YES.

MR. BEREKI: OKAY.

THE COURT: LEADING QUESTION. YOU WENT TO THE STORE LAST NIGHT, DIDN'T YOU? THE ANSWER WILL BE YES OR NO. PRESUMPTIVELY, THE ANSWER IS GOING TO BE YES. WHILE YOU WERE AT THE STORE, YOU BOUGHT A SIX PACK OF BEER, CORRECT? PRESUMPTIVELY, THE ANSWER WILL BE YES.

SO WHAT'S THE NON-LEADING FORM? NOT THAT YOU NEED TO KNOW THIS RIGHT NOW, BUT I WILL CLOSE THE BIG PICTURE. THE NON-LEADING FORM IS ANY QUESTION THAT EMPLOYS THE JOURNALIST'S TOOLS. WHAT ARE THE JOURNALIST TOOLS? WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE, WHY, HOW. WHERE DID YOU GO LAST NIGHT? CAN'T BE ANSWERED JUST YES OR NO. I WENT TO THE STORE. WHAT, IF ANYTHING, DID YOU BUY WHILE YOU WERE AT THE STORE? NOTICE I STUCK AN EXTRA CLAUSE IN THERE, "IF ANYTHING." THERE IS A TECHNICAL REASON FOR THAT, BUT YOU DON'T NEED TO WORRY ABOUT THAT. ANSWER, CAN'T BE YES OR NO. ANSWER, I BOUGHT A SIX PACK OF BEER.

THE REASON I AM SAYING THIS TO YOU IS THAT, TYPICALLY, LEADING QUESTIONS ARE SHORT, TO THE POINT. PREFACING WITH LONG PARAGRAPHS OF INFORMATION IS BASICALLY TESTIMONIALS THAT DON'T REALLY WASH VERY WELL AROUND HERE. YOU WANT TO ASK SHORT QUESTIONS, ALLOW THE WITNESS TO SAY YES OR NO. THE LONGER THE QUESTION IS, THE MORE I START GOING, I'M NOT GOING TO REQUIRE A "YES" OR "NO" ANSWER. I'M GOING TO LET THE WITNESS TAKE OFF

AND GIVE SEVERAL PARAGRAPHS OF RESPONSE TO THAT.

BECAUSE, OFTENTIMES, WITH THE LONGER QUESTION, THERE ARE CERTAIN BUILT-IN ASSUMPTIONS THAT MAY OR MAY NOT BE ACCURATE. AND AS WE HAVE ALREADY SEEN, MR. HUMPHREYS AND MRS. HUMPHREYS HAVE DONE A GOOD JOB OF DIFFERENTIATING TO LEADING QUESTIONS. YOU HAD A CONTRACT WITH SPARTAN, DIDN'T YOU? THAT'S THE SHORT VERSION OF WHAT ACTUALLY WAS ASKED. THE ANSWER, I DIDN'T HAVE A CONTRACT WITH SPARTAN AT ALL. I HAD A CONTRACT WITH MR. BEREKI.

MR. BEREKI: THANK YOU.

THE COURT: IT COULDN'T BE ANSWERED YES OR NO. THAT IS THE PROBLEM.

MR. BEREKI: I UNDERSTAND.

THE COURT: NOW, TO GET THE CHAFFEE FULL COURSE, YOU'RE GOING TO HAVE TO READ THE COUNTY BAR JOURNAL NEXT MONTH, BUT IN THE MEANTIME -- OR LAST QUARTER. MR. RUSSO PROBABLY GAVE YOU A COPY OF THE ARTICLE I WROTE ON LEADING QUESTIONS. IN THE MEANTIME, IT'S JUST IMPORTANT TO KEEP IN MIND THAT IT'S BEST TO HAVE YOUR QUESTION WRITTEN OUT. AND I KNOW IT'S A LITTLE LATE IN THE GAME FOR THAT, BUT AS WE GO THROUGH THIS TRIAL, YOU WANT TO WRITE OUT YOUR QUESTIONS SO THAT YOU WILL HAVE A GOOD FLOW. THERE'S NOTHING WRONG WITH READING QUESTIONS OR AT LEAST REFERRING TO NOTES SO YOU KNOW WHERE YOU'RE GOING.

MR. BEREKI: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: OKAY.

MR. BEREKI: I WILL TAKE THAT TO HEART.

THE COURT: ALL RIGHT. BACK TO IT, SIR.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q DID IT SEND UP A RED FLAG TO YOU WHEN YOU WERE ASKED TO WRITE A CHECK TO SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?

A NOT REALLY.

Q WOULD IT SEND UP A RED FLAG TO YOU IF YOU THOUGHT YOU HAD A CONTRACT WITH ADAM BEREKI AND YET ADAM BEREKI IS ASKING YOU TO PAY SOMEONE ELSE?

A NO. I THINK THAT'S THE SAME QUESTION.

MR. BEREKI: I THINK I WILL BE DONE FOR NOW.

THE COURT: OKAY. MR. BISSELL, BACK TO YOU.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q MR. HUMPHREYS, MR. RUSSO, NOT SO MUCH BY YOUR TESTIMONY, BUT INDICATED TO YOU, REPRESENTED TO YOU THAT ALL SUBCONTRACTS ENTERED INTO ON THIS PROJECT WERE BY SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION. I ASK YOU TO FLIP TO TAB NUMBER 51 --

A OF THE BIGGER BOOK --

Q -- OF THE DEFENDANTS' BOOK, THE SMALLER OF THE TWO.

A YOU SAID 51?

Q 51, YES.

THE COURT: "SMALL" IS SUCH A RELEVANT TERM.

MR. BISSELL: SMALLER OF THE TWO.

THE WITNESS: OKAY. I'M AT 51.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q HAVE YOU SEEN THAT DOCUMENT BEFORE?

A I THINK I HAVE.

Q IS THIS A DOCUMENT THAT WAS PRODUCED BY MR. BEREKI IN CONJUNCTION WITH THIS LAWSUIT?

A YES.

Q THIS PURPORTS TO BE A WORK AUTHORIZATION TO WONG & ASSOCIATES?

A YES.

Q AND YOU MENTIONED THAT WONG WAS A NAME THAT YOU RECOGNIZE AS BEING ONE OF THE CONSULTANTS ON THIS PROJECT?

A I DO NOW, AND I SEE THE TITLE CONSULTING ENGINEER.

Q WHO IS THIS WORK AUTHORIZATION DIRECTED TO? WHO'S THE CLIENT? UP AT THE TOP, UPPER LEFT.

A OH, CLIENT, SORRY. ADAM BEREKI.

Q AND WHO AT THE BOTTOM RIGHT-HAND PORTION, WHO'S THIS WORK ORDER APPROVED BY?

A ADAM BEREKI.

MR. BISSELL: NO FURTHER QUESTIONS, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: MR. RUSSO?

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q I DON'T WANT TO DO TIT FOR TAT, BUT CAN YOU TURN TO EXHIBIT 33, SIR.

A IN THE OTHER BOOK?

Q YES, SIR.

A 33?

Q YES, SIR.

A I'M AT 33.

Q LOOKING AT 33-1, SIR, DO YOU SEE THE CONTRACT OF RUSSELL'S CRANE SERVICE?

A I SEE RUSSELL CRANE SERVICE IN THE UPPER LEFT-HAND CORNER.

Q WHO IS THE CLIENT OUT HERE, BILLED TO?

A BILLED TO IS SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION AND THE DATE IS JANUARY OF 2013.

Q OKAY. MOVING TO PAGE 3-2, SIR, THE GEOLOGIST FOR THIS PROJECT?

A HARRINGTON GEOTECHNICAL ENGINEERING, INC.

Q WHO WAS THE CONTRACTOR FOR THIS?

A IT'S THE JULY 25 OF 2013, MR. ADAM BEREKI, SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION.

Q MOVING ON, SIR. EXHIBIT 33-3, THE NEXT PAGE --

A YES.

Q -- INVOICE FOR THE WINDOWS?

A CALIFORNIA GLASS AND WINDOW.

Q SOLD TO WHO, SIR?

A ON MARCH 26 OF 2013, SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION.

Q SIR, TURN TO 33-5. CONTRACTED WITH ANAHEIM HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING. WHO'S THE CONTRACT WITH?

A DATED MAY 27, 2013, SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION. AND IT SAYS "EQUALS ADAM."

Q NEXT PAGE, 33-6, SIR.

PROCOAT, INC. WHAT DID THEY DO ON THIS PROJECT?

A PROCOAT, INC., IT'S DATED, AGAIN, MARCH 22 OF 2013. IS THERE A SCOPE OF WORK ON HERE SOMEPLACE I SHOULD BE FINDING?

Q DO YOU KNOW WHAT THIS WAS FOR, SIR?

A I DO NOT.

Q DID YOU HAVE TO HAVE A WATERPROOFING SUBCONTRACTOR?

A I DON'T KNOW.

Q NEXT PAGE, 33-7,SIR. SHORELINE FABRICATORS, WHAT DID THEY DO FOR YOU?

A IT SAYS TO FABRICATE AND INSTALL ONE 10-FOOT LONG GUTTER. GUTTER TO BE MADE FROM 24-GAUGE STAINLESS STEEL AND TWO, THREE-INCH LONG NO-HUB THUNDERBIRD DRAINS AT EACH END.

Q AGAIN, THIS WAS FOR SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION; CORRECT?

A IN APRIL OF 2013, SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION.

Q OKAY. LAST ONE, 33-8. HELIX ENVIRONMENTAL PLANNING, WHAT DID THEY DO FOR YOU, SIR?

A PROVIDE ENVIRONMENTAL CONSULTING SERVICES FOR THE RESIDENTIAL REMODEL OF NEWPORT BEACH. AGAIN, DATED JANUARY 16 OF 2013. I ASSUME THE SUBJECT COVERS.

Q AGAIN, THIS WAS WITH SPARTAN; CORRECT?

A SORRY. YES --

Q THANK YOU --

A -- IT'S WITH SPARTAN.

Q -- SIR.

MR. RUSSO: NO FURTHER QUESTIONS.

THE COURT: MR. BEREKI.

MR. BEREKI: NOTHING FURTHER, YOUR HONOR.

MR. BISSELL: YOUR HONOR, I WOULD REQUEST TO -- I WOULD MOVE INTO EVIDENCE EXHIBITS 302, 303 --

THE COURT: HOLD ON A SECOND. START OVER AGAIN.

MR. BISSELL: 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, AND 315.

THE COURT: ANY OBJECTION TO 302?

MR. RUSSO: NO, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: MR. BEREKI?

MR. BEREKI: NO.

THE COURT: YOU'RE A PART OF THIS TOO.
MR. BEREKI: NO.
THE COURT: ALL RIGHT. 302 RECEIVED.
(EXHIBIT NO. 302 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)
THE COURT: 303.
MR. RUSSO: NO OBJECTION.
MR. BEREKI: NO OBJECTION.
THE COURT: RECEIVED.
(EXHIBIT NO. 303 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)
THE COURT: 304.
MR. RUSSO: NO OBJECTION.
MR. BEREKI: NO OBJECTION.
THE COURT: ALSO RECEIVED.
(EXHIBIT NO. 304 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)
THE COURT: 305.
MR. RUSSO: NO OBJECTION.
MR. BEREKI: NO OBJECTION.
THE COURT: RECEIVED.
(EXHIBIT NO. 305 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)
THE COURT: 306 IS THE COPY OF THE CHASE CHECK, $50,000. ANY OBJECTION?
MR. BEREKI: NO OBJECTION.
MR. RUSSO: NO OBJECTION.
THE COURT: RECEIVED.
(EXHIBIT NO. 306 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)
THE COURT: LASTLY, 315, THIS IS THE SUMMARY OF

CHECKS PAID OVER THE COURSE OF THE RUN OF THIS EVENT. ANY OBJECTION?

MR. RUSSO: IT'S -- I OBJECT THAT IT'S DUPLICATIVE OF THREE -- I'M SORRY -- OF 32. AND I BELIEVE THERE'S AN ABSENCE OF FOUNDATION FOR IT.

THE COURT: SO DID YOU MOVE 32?

MR. RUSSO: I DID.

THE COURT: THERE IT IS. I JUST DIDN'T NOTE IT IN MY BOOK. WELL, CONSIDERING THE FACT THAT 32 IS IN EVIDENCE, DO WE NEED TWO OF THEM?

MR. BISSELL: AGAIN, YOUR HONOR, I DON'T HAVE THEIR EXHIBIT BOOK. I'M GOING TO HAVE TO TAKE A --

THE COURT: TAKE A LOOK.

MR. BISSELL: AS LONG AS IT'S TRULY DUPLICATIVE --

MR. RUSSO: IT IS.

MR. BISSELL: -- WE DON'T.

THE COURT: WELL, ONE DIFFERENCE I CAN TELL YOU RIGHT NOW. 32-2, WHICH IS THE PAGE IN QUESTION, ON MY BOOK, THERE ARE A SERIES OF RED CHECKMARKS. THEN THERE ARE SOME BLUE INITIALS NEXT TO, IT LOOKS LIKE, THE BEREKI ENTRIES AND THEN SOMEONE IN BLUE HAS CIRCLED THE BALANCE OF 848,000.

MR. BISSELL: TO ME, THOSE ARE INSIGNIFICANT. SO I HAVE NO OBJECTION TO 32 COMING IN.

THE COURT: OKAY. WE WON'T DOUBLE DOWN ON THAT ONE.

MR. BISSELL: ALL RIGHT.

THE COURT: THANK YOU, SIR, YOU CAN STEP DOWN.

THE WITNESS: THANK YOU, SIR.

MR. BISSELL: YOUR HONOR, AT THIS TIME, CROSS COMPLAINANTS CALL ADAM BEREKI TO THE STAND.

THE COURT: MR. BEREKI.

MR. BEREKI: YOUR HONOR, MAY I RUN TO THE BATHROOM REALLY QUICK?

MR. BISSELL: ABSOLUTELY.

MR. BEREKI: THANK YOU. I WILL BE RIGHT BACK.

THE COURT: WE WILL GO OFF THE RECORD FOR A SECOND.

(OFF THE RECORD.)

THE CLERK: DO YOU SOLEMNLY STATE THAT THE EVIDENCE YOU'RE ABOUT TO GIVE IN THE CASE NOW PENDING BEFORE THIS COURT SHALL BE THE TRUTH, THE WHOLE TRUTH, AND NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH, SO HELP YOU GOD?

THE WITNESS: I DO.

THE CLERK: CAN YOU PLEASE STATE YOUR FULL NAME AND SPELL IT FOR THE RECORD.

THE WITNESS: ADAM, A-D-A-M, ALAN, A-L-A-N, BEREKI, B-E-R-E-K-I.

THE CLERK: THANK YOU.

THE COURT: COME ON DOWN, MR. BEREKI. HAVE A SEAT. NOW, I NEED TO EXPLAIN SOMETHING TO YOU SINCE I HAVE JUST GIVEN YOU A LITTLE BIT OF CHAFFEE ON EVIDENCE ALREADY. BECAUSE YOUR POSITION IS ADVERSE TO

MR. BISSELL'S CLIENTS, EVEN THOUGH MR. BISSELL IS CALLING YOU, HE GETS TO ASK LEADING QUESTIONS OF YOU. ON, QUOTE, CROSS-EXAMINATION, MR. RUSSO IS GOING TO HAVE TO ASK YOU NON-LEADING QUESTIONS. AND TO THE EXTENT YOU WANT TO ASK YOURSELF QUESTIONS, I JUST WILL UNDERSTAND THAT YOU'RE GOING TO BASICALLY ASK YOURSELF NON-LEADING QUESTIONS. AGAIN, THOSE ARE THE WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHY, AND HOW QUESTIONS.

THE WITNESS: IS IT MY UNDERSTANDING THAT YOU'RE GOING TO GIVE ME A PERIOD OF TIME AFTER THIS TO ASK MY OWN QUESTIONS --

THE COURT: OH, SURE.

MR. BEREKI: -- TO HAVE A SMALL DIATRIBE OF MY OWN.

THE COURT: YOU'RE GOING TO BE UNDER OATH ASKING YOURSELF QUESTIONS TO WHICH YOU HAVE TO GIVE TRUTHFUL ANSWERS.

MR. BEREKI: YES, SIR. THAT WILL BE --

THE COURT: THERE IS A CERTAIN IRONY THERE. I DON'T KNOW WHY.

ALL RIGHT. MR. BISSELL, TO YOU, PLEASE.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q MR. BEREKI, IF YOU WILL TURN TO TAB NUMBER 2

IN DEFENDANTS' EXHIBIT BOOK, EXHIBIT 302.

A I'M THERE, SIR.

Q YOU RECOGNIZE THAT DOCUMENT?

A YOU SAID 302; CORRECT?

Q 202.

THE COURT: NO, 302. TAB --

MR. BISSELL: I'M SORRY. SORRY.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q 302, TAB NUMBER 2.

A I DO RECOGNIZE THIS DOCUMENT.

Q AND DID YOU DRAFT THAT?

A YES.

Q AND ON WHOSE E-MAIL ACCOUNT WAS THAT DOCUMENT SENT TO THE HUMPHREYS?

A THE ADAM BEREKI E-MAIL ACCOUNT.

Q DID SPARTAN HAVE AN E-MAIL ACCOUNT AT THIS TIME?

A I BELIEVE IT DID.

Q OKAY.

A HOWEVER, ADAM BEREKI WAS THE E-MAIL ACCOUNT THAT I USED FOR SPARTAN.

Q IF YOU WILL FLIP TO EXHIBIT -- YOUR EXHIBIT NOW, IN YOUR EXHIBIT BOOK, 39 -- 35-13.

A I'M SORRY. SAY AGAIN.

Q EXHIBIT 35-13.

A OKAY.

OKAY.

Q DO YOU RECOGNIZE THAT DOCUMENT, SIR?

A I DO.

Q WHAT IS THAT?

A THIS IS A CONTRACT WITH -- BETWEEN THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES AND ADP AND GUARD. ADP PROVIDED PAYROLL SERVICES AND GUARD PROVIDED WORKERS' COMP SERVICES.

Q AND WERE THOSE SERVICES TO BE PROVIDED IN CONNECTION WITH THE PROJECT YOU WERE DOING FOR THE HUMPHREYS?

A YES, SIR.

Q WHEN I SAY "THE HUMPHREYS," I'M TALKING ABOUT THE HUMPHREYS PROJECT ON LIDO NORD. DO YOU UNDERSTAND THAT, SIR?

A YES.

THE COURT: LET'S BE CLEAR. THE CONTRACT ITSELF ENCOMPASSES PAGE 35-11 THROUGH -13; IS THAT RIGHT?

THE WITNESS: YOUR HONOR, I BELIEVE IT ENCOMPASSES 35-1 THROUGH -- MAYBE THE ENTIRE 35 EXHIBIT. IT IS.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q SO IF YOU LOOK AT THE BOTTOM OF PAGE 35-13, THERE'S AN E-MAIL ACCOUNT THERE, IS THERE NOT?

A YES.

Q AND THAT E-MAIL ACCOUNT IS ADAM@THESPARTANASSOCIATES.COM?

A YES.

Q AND YOU WERE USING THAT E-MAIL IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE HUMPHREYS PROJECT?

A YES, SOMETIMES, I DID.

Q WELL, DID YOU JUST NOT TESTIFY THAT YOU ALWAYS USE THE ADAM BEREKI E-MAIL IN CONJUNCTION WITH SPARTAN ASSOCIATES FOR THIS PROJECT?

A I DID NOT USE THE WORD "ALWAYS."

Q BACK TO EXHIBIT 302. TURN TO PAGE 5 OF THAT EXHIBIT.

ARE YOU THERE?

A I'M THERE, SIR.

Q OKAY. NOW, AT THE LAST COMPLETE PARAGRAPH, YOU MENTIONED WHAT YOU AND YOUR PARTNER PROPOSED TO CHARGE THE HUMPHREYS ON THIS PROJECT; CORRECT?

A IN RELATING TO THIS DOCUMENT, IT'S NOT ON THIS DOCUMENT, NO.

A NO. IT WOULD BE 304; RIGHT?

Q NO.

A OKAY. 302, PAGE 4, YES. I'M HERE NOW.

Q SECOND TO THE -- THE LAST COMPLETE PARAGRAPH ON THE PAGE, THAT'S A PROPOSAL BY YOU AND YOUR PARTNER AS TO WHAT YOU TWO INTEND TO CHARGE THE HUMPHREYS ON THIS PROJECT?

A NO. IT'S A PROPOSAL FROM SPARTAN ABOUT WHAT THE LABOR RATE OF ADAM BEREKI AND GLEN CHARGE ON THE PROJECT.

Q OKAY. CAN YOU POINT TO ANYWHERE IN THAT DOCUMENT WHERE THE NAME SPARTAN IS MENTIONED?

A IT'S NOT.

Q NOW, THE COST OF THE WORK THAT YOU ESTIMATED AT THAT TIME, UNDERSTANDING THAT THE SCOPE CHANGED, IT WAS $143,000?

A ACTUALLY, THERE WERE TWO PROJECTS, WHAT WE DESCRIBED IN THIS E-MAIL AS PHASE ONE AND PHASE TWO. PHASE ONE WAS TO BE SOMEWHAT OF A COSMETIC REMODEL OF THE UNIT ITSELF, AND THAT WAS TO BE ABOUT $68,000, IS WHAT I ESTIMATED.

AND THEN THERE WAS ANOTHER PHASE OF THE PROJECT THAT WE SPOKE ABOUT, WHICH WAS PUTTING A DECK ON TOP OF THE UNIT BECAUSE THE HUMPHREYS INDICATED THEY WANTED TO HAVE LARGER DECK ENTERTAINMENT SPACE, AND THAT WOULD BE SOMETHING THAT WOULD BE RESEARCHED AND DISCUSSED OR AGREED UPON LATER. AND THAT AMOUNT WAS 75,000.

SO I THINK IF YOU ADD THE 68 AND 75, IT'S 143. BUT THE 75, TO MY RECOLLECTION, WASN'T YET AGREED UPON. IT WAS SOMETHING WE WERE GOING TO RESEARCH ON.

Q IT WAS YOUR ESTIMATE?

A YES.

Q IN THE LAST PAGE OF THIS E-MAIL, HOW DO YOU SIGN OFF?

A BEST, ADAM BEREKI.

Q NOW, YOUR PARTNER, MR. -- YOU TESTIFIED THAT -- YOU MENTIONED IN YOUR OPENING STATEMENT THAT MR. OAKLEY -- MR. OVERLEY WAS YOUR PARTNER ON THIS PROJECT?

A YES.

Q HE WAS AN INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR?

A NO. WELL, AN INDEPENDENT LICENSED CONTRACTOR, OR JUST AN INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR IN THE TERMS OF HOW YOU WOULD FILE A TAX RETURN FOR HIM?

Q HOW YOU WOULD FILE A TAX RETURN?

A YES, HE WAS TREATED AS AN INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR.

Q HE HAD NO INVOLVEMENT WITH SPARTAN OTHER THAN PARTNERING WITH YOU; CORRECT?

A ARE YOU REFERRING TO ME AS SPARTAN OR ME AS ADAM BEREKI?

Q EITHER/OR.

A OKAY. I THINK TO MAKE IT CLEAR, I'M UP HERE AS A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES. AND TO NOT DIFFERENTIATE THOSE ISSUES, I WOULD APPRECIATE IF YOU WOULD CLARIFY IN YOUR QUESTIONS WHICH ONE YOU'RE REFERRING TO OR JUST ASSUME THAT I'M ALWAYS TALKING FROM THE PLACE OF SPARTAN.

THE COURT: THE WITNESS'S COMPOUND OBJECTION IS SUSTAINED.

REPHRASE.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q READING FROM THE DEPOSITION THAT YOU GAVE IN THIS MATTER AT PAGE -- BEGINNING OF PAGE -- I'M SORRY -- 98, BEGINNING LINE 10 --

THE COURT: ALL RIGHT. HOLD ON A SECOND. 98, LINE 10. GOING TO WHERE?

MR. BISSELL: TO LINE -- I'M SORRY -- LINE 10 -- I'M SORRY -- TO LINE 13.

THE COURT: ANY OBJECTION?

MR. RUSSO: NO.

THE COURT: GO AHEAD AND READ.

MR. BISSELL: LET'S SEE.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q "QUESTION: MR. OVERLEY, WAS HE -- DID HE HAVE ANY INVOLVEMENT WITH SPARTAN?

"ANSWER: HE WAS AN INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR, YOU MIGHT SAY."

IF YOU WILL FLIP TO EXHIBIT 303, THE -- I'M SORRY. 305, IF YOU WOULD, SIR.

A OKAY. I'M HERE.

Q DO YOU RECOGNIZE THAT DOCUMENT?

A YES.

Q AND IN THIS DOCUMENT, YOU'RE COMMUNICATING WITH THE HUMPHREYS AND YOU'RE ASKING THEM TO CUT YOU A CHECK FOR $15,000; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q AND MS. HUMPHREYS, IN RESPONSE TO YOUR REQUEST, ASKS YOU WHO SHE SHOULD MAKE THE CHECK OUT TO.

DO YOU SEE THAT?

A I DO.

Q WHO IS IT THAT YOU'RE ASKING TO MAKE THE CHECK OUT TO?

A ADAM BEREKI.

Q IS THERE ANYTHING IN THE EXHIBIT 3 -- EXHIBIT 303 AGREEMENT THAT WOULD -- YOU CONTEND WOULD PUT THE HUMPHREYS ON NOTICE THAT THEY WERE CONTRACTING WITH ANYONE OTHER THAN YOU AND YOUR PARTNER, MR. OVERLEY? CAN YOU POINT TO THAT?

A IN THESE DOCUMENTS, NO.

Q IS THERE ANYTHING IN THE E-MAIL YOU SENT TO THE HUMPHREYS ON APRIL 13, THAT'S EXHIBIT 305, WHERE YOU'RE ASKING FOR PAYMENT AND ASKING THE PAYMENT BE MADE PAYABLE TO ADAM BEREKI, THAT WOULD PUT THE HUMPHREYS ON NOTICE THEY HAVE CONTRACTED WITH ANYONE OTHER THAN YOU?

A NO.

YOU'RE SPEAKING DOCUMENT SPECIFIC ONLY?

Q WELL, DID YOU HAVE CONVERSATIONS WITH THE HUMPHREYS PRIOR TO APRIL 5, 2012 WHERE YOU INDICATED TO THEM THAT YOU WERE GOING TO BE DOING THIS JOB WITH SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION AND NOT ADAM BEREKI?

A I BELIEVE THEY UNDERSTOOD IT WAS WITH SPARTAN

CONSTRUCTION.

Q ANY CONVERSATIONS TO THAT EFFECT?

A YEAH, I TOLD THEM THAT THAT'S WHAT MY COMPANY IS, SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION.

Q WHEN DID YOU TELL THEM THAT?

A DURING THE DAY WE MET THERE ON LIDO. I BELIEVE, AS MR. HUMPHREYS SAID, HE DID ASK FOR -- IF I WAS LICENSED AND I DID SAY THAT I WAS AS SPARTAN AND REFERRED HIM TO THE CALIFORNIA STATE LICENSE BOARD TO CHECK THE LICENSE NUMBER.

Q READING AGAIN FROM YOUR DEPOSITION OF PAGE 61, LINES 5 THROUGH 9.

"QUESTION" --

THE COURT: HOLD ON.

MR. BISSELL: I'M SORRY.

THE COURT: ANY OBJECTION?

MR. RUSSO: NO OBJECTION.

THE COURT: GO AHEAD.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q "QUESTION: ASIDE FROM TELLING YOU WHAT THEY WANTED, DID THE HUMPHREYS EVER MANAGE THE PROJECT?

"ANSWER: OH, YES.

"QUESTION: DID THEY HIRE CONTRACTORS?

"ANSWER: ME.

NOW, YOU REQUESTED AND RECEIVED PAYMENTS FOR A NUMBER OF MONTHS AND ACCEPTED PAYMENTS MADE OUT TO ADAM

BEREKI ON THIS JOB; CORRECT?

A CAN YOU STATE THAT AGAIN, PLEASE.

Q FOR A NUMBER OF MONTHS INTO THIS PROJECT, YOU ACCEPTED PAYMENTS FROM THE HUMPHREYS MADE OUT TO ADAM BEREKI; IS THAT CORRECT?

A YES.

Q FOR A NUMBER OF MONTHS ON THIS PROJECT, YOU PAID YOUR LABOR AND MATERIALS WITH CHECKS DRAWN ON THE PERSONAL ACCOUNT OF ADAM BEREKI AND/OR YOUR MOTHER; IS THAT CORRECT?

A CAN YOU ASK THOSE QUESTIONS ONE AT A TIME, PLEASE.

Q UNTIL JULY OF 2012, YOU PAID YOUR OWN LABOR AND MATERIALS ON THIS PROJECT ON CHECKS DRAWN ON EITHER YOUR PERSONAL ACCOUNT OR THEY WERE PAID ON CHECKS DRAWN ON YOUR MOTHER'S ACCOUNT; IS THAT CORRECT?

A NO.

Q NOW, YOU HAVE A -- YOU BROUGHT VOLUMES OF DOCUMENTS. CAN YOU POINT TO EVIDENCE OF A SINGLE PAYMENT MADE IN CONNECTION WITH THIS JOB TO ANYBODY, LABOR, MATERIALS, CONTRACTOR, THAT WAS PAID ON AN ACCOUNT BY SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?

A I BELIEVE THE PAYMENTS FOR THE SHOP SPACE RENT WERE FROM SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION.

Q SHOP SPACE RENT?

A YES.

Q YOU BELIEVE THAT YOU PAID THE SHOP SPACE RENT ON CHECKS DRAWN FROM SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION?

A AT THIS MOMENT I BELIEVE I DO. I HAVE TO CHECK TO VERIFY THAT.

Q YOU HAVE BEEN ASKED TO PRODUCE THOSE DOCUMENTS. DO YOU HAVE THOSE DOCUMENTS?

A I HAVE THE CHECKS THAT SPARTAN WROTE, YES.

MR. BISSELL: CAN WE HAVE THE WITNESS PRODUCE THOSE DOCUMENTS? WE HAVE ASKED HIM TO PRODUCE THOSE. THEY WERE NOT PROVIDED IN DISCOVERY. WE DON'T BELIEVE THEY EXIST.

THE COURT: I WILL VACATE. YOU GUYS CAN SPEND ABOUT TEN MINUTES, THE THREE OF YOU, GO OVER THE PRODUCTION. LET MS. BOLCE KNOW WHEN YOU ARE READY TO RESUME.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

(RECESS.)

THE COURT: MR. BISSELL.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: HOW ARE WE DOING?

MR. BISSELL: I THINK WE'RE READY.

THE COURT: PROCEED.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q MR. BEREKI, YOU HAVE HAD A CHANCE TO SIT DOWN WITH MR. RUSSO, CORPORATION'S COUNSEL, TO LOOK OVER THE CHECKS YOU HAVE. YOU HAVE BEEN ASKED TO PRODUCE ANY

CHECKS PAYABLE ON THE -- A SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION ACCOUNT TO ANYBODY INVOLVED ON THIS PROJECT BEFORE, SAY, JULY 15, 2012.

YOU'VE MADE A SEARCH OF YOUR RECORDS?

A THE ONES THAT I HAVE AVAILABLE, YES. IT WASN'T UNTIL YOU ASKED THE QUESTION THAT I REALIZED THAT THAT CHECKBOOK I USED ON THIS PROJECT ACTUALLY BEGAN WITH CHECK 001 IN JULY. SO THERE MUST BE ANOTHER CHECKBOOK THAT IS OUTSTANDING THAT I DON'T HAVE BECAUSE THE BANK ACCOUNT HAS BEEN CLOSED DOWN FOR AT LEAST THREE YEARS NOW.

Q BOTTOM LINE IS YOU CAN'T PRODUCE A SINGLE RECORD OF PAYMENT TO ANYBODY ON THIS JOB ON A SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION ACCOUNT PRIOR TO JULY OF 2012; IS THAT CORRECT?

A I'M NOT SAYING I CAN'T PRODUCE IT. I'M SAYING I DON'T HAVE THAT INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO ME RIGHT NOW.

Q YOU WERE ASKED TO PRODUCE IT AND YOU HAVEN'T PRODUCED IT.

A I WASN'T AWARE THAT IT EXISTED.

Q ISN'T IT TRUE THAT SPARTAN -- AS FAR AS THIS PROJECT WAS CONCERNED, SPARTAN DIDN'T EVEN EXIST UNTIL JULY OF 2012?

A THAT'S NOT TRUE.

Q YOU DIDN'T APPLY TO THE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION FOR -- TO REGISTER SPARTAN AS AN EMPLOYER UNTIL JULY OF 2012; IS THAT CORRECT?

A THAT IS CORRECT.

Q AND YOU DIDN'T APPLY FOR WORKERS' COMPENSATION ON THIS JOB WITH SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION UNTIL JULY OF 2012; IS THAT CORRECT?

A THAT IS CORRECT, BECAUSE --

Q BOTH --

A -- SPARTAN DID NOT OPERATE WITH EMPLOYEES PRIOR TO THAT -- PRIOR TO THE NECESSITY TO DO SO ON THIS PROJECT. THIS PROJECT DEEMED EMPLOYEES WITH WORKERS' COMPENSATION NECESSARY.

Q AND IF YOU FLIP TO TAB NUMBER 51 IN THE BOOK, DEFENDANTS' BOOK IN FRONT OF YOU, DO YOU SEE THAT DOCUMENT?

A I BELIEVE I DO. 51?

Q TAB 51 IS DEFENDANTS' EXHIBIT 351. THAT IS YOUR TAB 51.

A YES.

Q DO YOU RECOGNIZE THAT DOCUMENT?

A I DO.

Q AND WHAT IS THAT?

A IT IS A WORK ORDER AUTHORIZATION TO BEGIN -- FOR WONG & ASSOCIATES TO BE A CONSULTING ENGINEER ON THE PROJECT.

Q WHAT'S THE DATE OF THAT?

A 8/14/2012.

Q AND WHO'S THE CLIENT ON THAT?
A ADAM BEREKI.
Q AND WHO APPROVED THAT?
A ADAM BEREKI.
Q IF YOU WILL TURN TO EXHIBIT --
A AND I WOULD ALSO LIKE YOU TO LOOK AT THE ADDRESS THAT SAYS 436 VIA LIDO NORD, AND THAT'S WHERE SPARTAN'S BUSINESS LICENSE WAS REGISTERED AS WELL, IS AT 436 VIA LIDO NORD.
Q THANK YOU.
A SURE.
Q IF YOU WILL TURN TO TAB 55, CROSS-COMPLAINANTS' EXHIBIT 355.
A OKAY.
Q THIS IS A COLLECTION OF 36 DIFFERENT CHECKS.
A OKAY.
Q YOU CAN THUMB THROUGH THOSE. DO YOU RECOGNIZE THOSE CHECKS? LET ME KNOW WHEN YOU'RE READY.
A YES, I APPEAR TO RECOGNIZE THEM.
Q OKAY. THESE ARE ALL CHECKS THAT WERE IN PAYMENT OF SOME COST INCURRED IN CONNECTION WITH THE HUMPHREYS PROJECT?
A YES. THEY APPEAR TO BE.
Q AND ON WHOSE ACCOUNT WERE EACH OF THESE CHECKS DRAWN?
A CAN YOU JUST LET ME KNOW IF THERE ARE ANY THAT

SAYS ROSE AND BEREKI AT THE TOP. OTHERWISE, I WILL JUST SAY THEY ARE ALL FROM ADAM'S ACCOUNT.

Q IN THIS PARTICULAR EXHIBIT, I WILL REPRESENT TO YOU THAT NONE OF --

A OKAY. THESE ALL CAME FROM THE ACCOUNT OF ADAM BEREKI.

Q MR. BEREKI, AT THE TIME THAT YOU CONTRACTED WITH THE HUMPHREYS, DID YOU POSSESS A CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE ISSUED IN YOUR NAME?

A ISSUED IN MY NAME, NO.

Q AT THE TIME THAT YOU PERFORMED WORK ON THIS PROJECT, DID YOU POSSESS A CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE ISSUED IN YOUR NAME?

A NO.

Q AT THE TIME THAT YOU CONTRACTED WITH THE HUMPHREYS, DID YOU AND MR. OVERLEY POSSESS A JOINT VENTURE CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE ISSUED TO THE TWO OF YOU AS A JOINT VENTURE?

A NO.

Q AT THE TIME -- AT ANY TIME WHEN YOU WORKED ON THIS PROJECT, DID YOU AND YOUR PARTNER, MR. OVERLEY, POSSESS A JOINT VENTURE CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE ISSUED TO THE TWO OF YOU?

A NO.

Q AT THE TIME THAT YOU CONTRACTED -- ENTERED INTO THE CONTRACT WITH THE HUMPHREYS ON THIS PROJECT,

DID SPARTAN ASSOCIATES AND MR. OVERLEY POSSESS A JOINT VENTURE LICENSE ISSUED TO THE TWO OF THEM?

A CAN YOU SAY THAT AGAIN, PLEASE.

Q AT THE TIME THAT YOU -- THAT YOU CONTRACTED WITH THE HUMPHREYS, DID THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES AND MR. OVERLEY POSSESS A JOINT VENTURE CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE ISSUED BY THE CALIFORNIA CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE BOARD?

A WELL, YOUR QUESTION ASSUMES THAT I CONTRACTED WITH THE HUMPHREYS AND I AM SAYING THAT SPARTAN ASSOCIATES CONTRACTED WITH THE HUMPHREYS. SO.

Q ALL RIGHT. LET'S USE THE DATE. AS OF APRIL 5 -- AS OF APRIL 5, 2012, DID SPARTAN ASSOCIATES AND MR. OVERLEY JOINTLY POSSESS A JOINT VENTURE CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE ISSUED BY THE CALIFORNIA CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE BOARD?

A NO.

Q AT ANY TIME DURING -- AT ANY TIME BETWEEN APRIL 5, 2012 AND SEPTEMBER 31, 2013, DID THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES AND MR. OVERLEY POSSESS A CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE ISSUED TO THEM AS JOINT VENTURES?

A NO.

MR. BISSELL: NO FURTHER QUESTIONS, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: MR. RUSSO.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MR. BEREKI, WHO PERFORMED THE WORK AT THE VIA LIDO NORD PROJECT?

A THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q WERE YOU EVER DOING ANY OF THE WORK IN YOUR PERSONAL CAPACITY AS OPPOSED TO ON BEHALF OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

A NO.

Q LET'S GO TO EXHIBIT 32, SIR.

A IN OUR BOOK?

Q YES.

A OKAY. OKAY.

Q DIRECTING YOUR ATTENTION TO 32-2, WHICH IS THAT REGISTER.

A OKAY.

Q THE FIRST $100,000 IN CHECKS WERE PAYABLE TO ADAM BEREKI; CORRECT?

A CORRECT.

Q AND THEN AFTER THAT, WAS ALL THE MONEY PUT INTO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES' ACCOUNTS AFTER THAT FIRST $100,000?

A YES.

Q OKAY. SO EVEN IF THE CHECK WAS PAYABLE TO ADAM BEREKI LATER ON, IT STILL WENT TO SPARTAN; CORRECT?

A CORRECT.

Q OKAY.

A AND EVEN THOUGH I ASKED THEM TO MAKE THE CHECK TO SPARTAN, THEY STILL MADE IT TO ADAM BEREKI, BUT IT STILL WENT IN THE SPARTAN ACCOUNT.

Q DURING THIS FIRST PERIOD, IT LOOKS LIKE THAT LAST CHECK BEFORE THINGS SWITCHED OVER WAS JUNE 22, 2012. WHAT WAS THE WORK THAT WAS GOING ON ON THIS PROJECT?

A PRIMARILY -- WELL, THE FIRST THING WE DID WAS TO GET THEM PACKED UP AND MOVED. SO I HAD TO BUY ALL THE MOVING SUPPLIES AND PAY FOR THE LABOR TO HAVE EVERYONE PACK UP ALL OF THE BELONGINGS THAT BELONGED TO THE HUMPHREYS -- THEIR PERSONAL BELONGINGS WERE THERE -- AND ALL OF THE FURNITURE. AND THEN WE TOOK THAT VIA TRAILER TO THE SHOP THAT HAD BEEN RENTED FOR USE ON THIS PROJECT AND PUT UP STEEL VERTICAL SHELVING, WRAPPED THE FURNISHINGS AND OTHER THINGS IN PLASTIC TO THEN BE PALLETIZED AND PUT IN STORAGE WHILE WE WERE WORKING ON THE PROJECT.

Q SO YOU HAD TO RENT STORAGE FOR ALL THEIR STUFF?

A I HAD THE STORAGE, AND, YES, I USED THAT TO STORE THEIR STUFF.

Q OF THIS $100,000, BEFORE EVERYTHING WAS TRULY SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, A PORTION OF IT WAS FOR RENTING A PLACE FOR THEIR STUFF AND MOVING IT THERE; CORRECT?

A THAT'S ONE ASPECT, YES.

Q OKAY. TO YOUR KNOWLEDGE, DOES THAT REQUIRE A CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE?

A NO.

Q OKAY. WHAT ELSE DID YOU DO?

A THERE WAS SIGNIFICANT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN THE HUMPHREYS AND I AND MY TEAM ABOUT DESIGN ISSUES. I WAS GOING TO BUILD THEM A CUSTOM MARQUIS, AND THERE WAS OTHER DESIGN FACETS THAT WERE DISCUSSED GOING BACK AND FORTH. SO A SIGNIFICANT AMOUNT OF TIME WAS SPENT ON THAT.

Q WAS THAT ANYTHING THAT REQUIRED A CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE?

A NO.

Q WHAT ELSE DID YOU DO?

A WE STARTED DEMOLITION.

Q OKAY. NOW, TELL ME ABOUT THE DEMOLITION OR TELL THE COURT ABOUT THE DEMOLITION. WAS THERE ANYTHING AS FAR AS A REMOVAL OF THE FOUNDATION DURING THIS PERIOD?

A NO.

Q WAS THERE ANY REMOVAL OF STRUCTURAL WALLS DURING THIS PERIOD, PART OF ANYTHING GOING ON WITH SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

A IF YOU MEAN A LOAD-BEARING WALL BY STRUCTURAL WALL, NO. WE TORE DRY WALL OR PLASTER OFF THE WALL AND THAT IS A STRUCTURAL ELEMENT. BUT AS FAR AS PULLING OUT

THE WALL AND MOVING THE STRUCTURE OR ANYTHING LIKE THAT, NONE OF THAT OCCURRED.

Q WAS THERE ANYTHING YOU DID DURING THIS FIRST PERIOD THAT REQUIRED A CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE?

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION. LACK OF FOUNDATION.

THE COURT: SUSTAINED.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q DO YOU KNOW, SIR, WHETHER OR NOT ANY OF THE WORK YOU PERFORMED REQUIRED A CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE?

MR. BISSELL: SAME OBJECTION.

THE COURT: TO THIS QUESTION, YOU CAN ANSWER YES OR NO.

THE WITNESS: AT THIS MOMENT, I RECALL THAT MOST EVERYTHING WE WERE DOING WAS DEMOLITION, THAT THERE WAS NOT ACTUAL CONSTRUCTION GOING ON. I HAVE TO REALLY LOOK BACK AT THE PICTURES AND REALLY GET A FEEL. BUT IF THERE WAS ANY WORK GOING ON, IT WAS VERY, VERY MINUTE.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q YOU ARE FAMILIAR WITH A C21 CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE FOR DEMOLITION?

A IT'S -- YES.

Q OKAY. THAT'S WHEN STRUCTURAL ELEMENTS ARE REMOVED; CORRECT?

A CORRECT.

Q OKAY.

A OR BUILDINGS ARE MOVED OR SIGNIFICANT SHORING

IS INVOLVED.

Q TO THE BEST OF YOUR RECOLLECTION, DID ANY OF THE DEMOLITION WORK THAT YOU PERFORMED FALL WITHIN THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE C21 LICENSE?

A NO.

Q LATER ON IN THE PROJECT, WERE THERE MORE STRUCTURAL ELEMENTS INVOLVED?

A YES.

Q AND BY THEN, YOU HAD STRUCTURAL ENGINEERS AND DESIGN PROFESSIONALS?

A YES.

Q AND A PERMIT WAS PULLED; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q WHO PULLED THE PERMIT?

A SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q NOW, YOU SAID THAT DURING YOUR MEETING WITH THE HUMPHREYS, THE ISSUE OF LICENSURE CAME UP; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q AND WHAT DID YOU TELL THEM?

A THAT I HAD A LICENSE. THAT I, SPARTAN, HAD A LICENSE.

Q DID YOU ASK THEM TO LOOK IT UP?

A I THINK HOW IT HAPPENED WAS THERE WAS A MENTION OF IT BY GARY HUMPHREYS, AS HE HAD SAID, AND THAT THERE WAS -- WHEN HE SAID THAT, IT TRIGGERED MY MEMORY THAT I HAD SAID TO HIM THAT HE COULD LOOK IT UP ON THE STATE'S LICENSE BOARD TO VERIFY THAT, IN FACT, SPARTAN DID HAVE A LICENSE.

Q THE PRIOR PROJECTS, INCLUDING THE OFFICE BUILDING WHERE MR. HUMPHREYS' BUSINESS IS, WHO PERFORMED THAT WORK?

A THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q WHO WAS PAID FOR THAT WORK?

A THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q WHO CONTRACTED FOR THAT WORK?

A THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q IN JULY OF 2012, YOU APPLIED FOR THE WORKERS' COMP FOR THIS PROJECT; CORRECT?

A CORRECT.

Q AND WHO APPLIED FOR THAT?

A THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q AND WHY DID YOU NEED TO APPLY FOR IT THEN AS OPPOSED TO NOT HAVING IT BEFORE?

A THE WAY THAT THIS PROJECT ENDED UP, I WAS GOING TO BE USING A LOT OF UNSKILLED LABOR. USUALLY, GENERALLY SPEAKING, SKILLED LABOR YOU CAN 1099 AND TREAT AS AN INDEPENDENT SUBCONTRACTOR. HOWEVER, IN THIS CASE, BECAUSE I WAS HIRING PEOPLE THAT WERE UNSKILLED, I NEEDED TO TREAT THEM LEGALLY AS AN EMPLOYEE, AND SO THAT'S WHY THE EMPLOYEE ACCOUNT WAS SET UP.

Q WHEN MR. HUMPHREYS PAID YOU OR WHEN YOU WERE BEING PAID BY HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, DID THAT RAISE ANY

RED FLAGS WITH YOU?

A NO.

Q WITH THE EXCEPTION OF -- THERE WAS ONE ENGINEER, I BELIEVE, THAT THE CONTRACT WAS WITH YOU PERSONALLY; CORRECT?

A NO. IT HAS MY NAME ON IT, BUT THERE WERE SOME ISSUES WHERE PEOPLE PUT MY NAME ON CONTRACTS EVEN THOUGH IT WAS SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION. JUST LIKE THE HUMPHREYS WROTE CHECKS TO ADAM BEREKI, AND I ASKED THEM TO PUT SPARTAN ON THERE. IT'S JUST A REAL -- YOU KNOW, IT WASN'T -- I WASN'T -- THE WORD USUALLY COMES TO MIND AS ABLE ABOUT IT. I JUST WENT WITH THE FLOW.

Q WHAT KIND OF LICENSE DOES SPARTAN HAVE?

A A B.

Q WHAT'S ITS LICENSE NUMBER?

A 927244.

Q WAS IT ACTIVE DURING THE ENTIRE TIME OF THIS PROJECT?

A YES.

Q WHO'S THE RESPONSIBLE MANAGING OFFICER OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

A I DON'T THINK I'M CLASSIFIED AS THE RMO, BUT ADAM BEREKI IS THE QUALIFYING INDIVIDUAL, THE ONE WHO HAD THE WORK EXPERIENCE AND TOOK THE EXAM.

Q THE BUILDING PERMIT FOR THE PROJECT, IS THAT FOR UNIT 34?

A THIS IS ONE OF THEM, YES.
Q OKAY. DID YOU SHARE -- WELL, 34 IS ONE OF THE BUILDING PERMITS?
A YES.
Q HOW MANY WERE THERE, SIR?
A THREE THAT SPARTAN HAD ISSUED.
Q DID ADAM BEREKI INDIVIDUALLY EVER APPLY FOR A BUILDING PERMIT FOR THIS PROJECT?
A NO.
Q OKAY.
MR. RUSSO: MOVE INTO ADMISSION EXHIBIT 34.
MR. BISSELL: NO OBJECTION.
THE COURT: RECEIVED.
(EXHIBIT NO. 34 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)
THE COURT: THIRTY-FOUR IS ONE OF SEVERAL. WHICH ONE IS THIS IN ORDER? IS IT THE FIRST? THE LAST?
BY MR. RUSSO:
Q LOOKING AT EXHIBIT 34, SIR, IS THERE MORE THAN ONE BUILDING PERMIT HERE, SIR?
A YES. THERE ARE TWO AND A THIRD IS IN ANOTHER LOCATION.
Q WHAT IS THE OTHER LOCATION, IF YOU KNOW?
A I BELIEVE IT'S UP IN THE BEGINNING.
NO. I DON'T HAVE AN EXHIBIT LIST HERE IN THIS BINDER.
Q IT'S ALL RIGHT.

A IT'S UNDER SCE, WHICH IS A DOWNSTAIRS --

Q OKAY. SO THREE BUILDING PERMITS WERE PULLED AND IT WAS ALL BY SPARTAN ASSOCIATES; CORRECT?

A YES.

MR. RUSSO: WELL, AGAIN, MOVE INTO ADMISSION EXHIBIT 34, THE COMPLETE EXHIBIT.

MR. BISSELL: NO OBJECTION, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: WELL, 34 IS RECEIVED. BUT LET'S BE CLEAR. 34-1 APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN ISSUED ON NOVEMBER 14, 2012. AM I CORRECT?

MR. BISSELL: YES.

THE COURT: MR. RUSSO?

MR. RUSSO: THAT'S WHAT IT SAYS. IT'S ACTUALLY THE INSPECTION.

THE COURT: 34-2, IT LOOKS LIKE A MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL, PLUMBING COMBINATION PERMIT, AND IT APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN ISSUED ON NOVEMBER 14, 2012. LEFT-HAND COLUMN, TOWARDS THE MIDDLE OF THE PAGE.

MR. RUSSO: YES.

THE COURT: AND THEN 34-3 LOOKS TO BE A PLUMBING SEWER LINE PERMIT. AND I'M HAVING TROUBLE FINDING A DATE OF ISSUANCE.

MR. RUSSO: 4/11/2013. IT'S MIDWAY ON THE LEFT.

THE COURT: OKAY. ARE THERE ANY OTHER PERMITS ISSUED FOR THIS PROPERTY OTHER THAN THESE THREE FOR THIS PROJECT?

THE WITNESS: THERE ARE ONLY TWO. AND THE SECOND PAGE, YOUR HONOR, THAT SAYS "CANCELED/EXPIRED," THIS IS -- ULTIMATELY WHAT HAPPENED WAS WHEN THE NEXT CONTRACTOR TOOK OVER, THEY CANCELED THIS PERMIT. SO THAT PAGE ISN'T AN ACTUAL PERMIT.

SO JUST TO BE A LITTLE BIT MORE CLEAR, THE YELLOW PAGE THAT YOU SEE, 34-1, THAT'S ONE PERMIT. THE SECOND ONE IS THE CANCELLATION OF THAT. AND 34-3 IS THE SECOND PERMIT ITSELF FOR PLUMBING AND SEWER LINE. AND THE THIRD PERMIT WAS FOR THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EDISON TO PUT A BIG PIPE UNDERGROUND AND RUN IT TO A NEW POWER UNIT AT THE BUILDING.

THE COURT: GOING FROM WHAT, 100 AMP TO 200 AMP SERVICE?

THE WITNESS: ABOUT THAT, YES.

THE COURT: GO AHEAD.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MR. BEREKI, EXHIBIT 35, ARE THESE ALL THE DOCUMENTS PERTAINING TO THE PAYROLL AND WORKERS' COMP FOR THE PROJECT?

A YES.

MR. RUSSO: I MOVE INTO ADMISSION EXHIBIT 35.

THE COURT: ANY OBJECTION ON PAYROLL?

MR. BISSELL: I'M NOT SURE I HAVE SEEN IT. LET ME TAKE A QUICK LOOK.

THE COURT: TAKE A LOOK, OF COURSE.

MR. RUSSO: SURE.

MR. BISSELL: NO OBJECTION, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: RECEIVED.

(EXHIBIT NO. 35 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MR. BEREKI, CAN YOU TURN TO EXHIBIT 33, PLEASE.

A I'M HERE.

Q CAN YOU TELL ME IN SUMMARY, ALTHOUGH WE HAVE ALREADY BEEN OVER THESE DOCUMENTS, WHAT IS EXHIBIT 33?

A I WENT THROUGH SOME OF THE WORK ORDERS. I PICKED OUT A HANDFUL OF THEM. THESE ARE BASICALLY WORK ORDERS OR CONTRACTS BETWEEN SPARTAN AND OTHER COMPANIES THAT WERE HIRED TO DO WORK SPECIFICALLY ON THE LIDO PROJECT.

MR. RUSSO: MOVE INTO ADMISSION EXHIBIT 33.

MR. BISSELL: NO OBJECTION.

THE COURT: RECEIVED.

(EXHIBIT NO. 33 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)

THE WITNESS: ACTUALLY, THERE'S ANOTHER EXHIBIT IN THERE, A TIMECARD.

THE COURT: WHICH PAGE WILL THAT BE?

THE WITNESS: 33-4, YOUR HONOR.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MR. BEREKI, DID YOU PROVIDE ACCOUNTINGS TO THE HUMPHREYS FOR THIS PROJECT?

A I DID.

Q OKAY. AND THE ACCOUNTINGS, WERE THEY -- DID THEY DESIGNATE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES AS THE ONE BILLING THEM?

A YES.

Q OKAY.

A ALL WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE FIRST ONE, I THINK IT WAS -- THE FIRST THREE MONTHS THERE WAS SOME SORT OF -- THIS IS AN EXCEL SPREADSHEET. JUST HOW I HAD ALWAYS DONE IT IN THE PAST, BUT SINCE IT BECAME -- THIS JOB BECAME EXTREMELY COMPLEX, I SWITCHED OVER TO QUICKBOOKS AND QUICKBOOKS STARTED GENERATING THIS OUTPUT, AND THE OUTPUT SAYS THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES ON IT.

THE COURT: NOW, MR. RUSSO, WHAT I'M HEARING IS THERE WERE AT LEAST TWO ACCOUNTINGS.

MR. RUSSO: I THINK THERE WERE A LOT OF THEM.

THE COURT: MAYBE WE NEED TO GO OVER IT.

MR. RUSSO: SURE.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MR. BEREKI, CAN YOU TURN TO EXHIBIT NUMBER 39.

A SURE.

OKAY.

Q CAN YOU TELL ME WHAT EXHIBIT 39 IS, SIR?

A THIRTY-NINE IS A PARTIAL INVOICE BY THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES TO HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, INC.

THE COURT: WHAT'S THE DATE?

THE WITNESS: THERE IS NO DATE ON HERE, YOUR HONOR. BUT I CAN GIVE YOU -- IT WAS PRIOR IN FEBRUARY OF 2012. TWO MONTHS PRIOR TO THE LIDO PROJECT.

THE COURT: THIS IS AN ACCOUNTING WITH RESPECT TO THE WORK DONE ON RESEARCH DRIVE?

THE WITNESS: YES, SIR.

THE COURT: OKAY.

THE WITNESS: THIS WAS A PROJECT HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES BUSINESS HIRED SPARTAN TO DO AT THEIR BUSINESS OFFICE.

THE COURT: OKAY. GO AHEAD.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q SO DID YOU UNDERSTAND MR. HUMPHREYS TO BE THE PRESIDENT OF HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES?

A YES.

Q OKAY. SO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES HAD ALREADY DONE THIS PROJECT AND INVOICED HIS BUSINESS FOR IT; CORRECT?

A YES.

MR. RUSSO: MOVE INTO ADMISSION NUMBER 39.

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION. RELEVANCE, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: OBJECTION SUSTAINED.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q MR. BEREKI, DID YOU INTERACT AT ALL WITH MR. HUMPHREYS REGARDING THE PROJECT AT 9910 RESEARCH DRIVE?

A THAT WOULD DEPEND UPON WHAT YOU MEAN BY INTERACT. I BELIEVE HE SHOWED UP THERE ONE DAY WITH CHRIS WHILE I WAS WORKING ON THE PROJECT. I SAID HI TO HIM AND THIS AND THAT. I THINK THAT WAS OUR ONLY INTERACTION ABOUT THIS --

Q OKAY.

A -- ABOUT THAT PROJECT.

Q CAN YOU TURN TO EXHIBIT NO. 18, SIR.

A SURE.

Q FINALLY FOUND THE ACCOUNTING. WHAT IS EXHIBIT 18?

A EXHIBIT 18 APPEARS TO BE ALL OF THE ACCOUNTINGS AND ASSOCIATED E-MAILS FOR THE PROJECT.

Q WAS THIS SOMETHING THAT YOU SUBMITTED TO MR. AND MRS. HUMPHREYS?

A YES.

Q OKAY.

A VIA E-MAIL.

Q WHEN YOU STARTED --

THE COURT: WHAT DATE?

THE WITNESS: EACH ONE OF THEM IS A DIFFERENT DATE, YOUR HONOR. THEY WERE SPACED OUT ABOUT A MONTH EACH.

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q SO WHAT WAS YOUR PROCEDURE AS FAR AS PROVIDING ACCOUNTINGS TO THE HUMPHREYS?

A I WOULD, GENERALLY SPEAKING, INCUR WORK IN THE FORM OF -- OR DO WORK IN THE FORM OF LABOR AND PURCHASE MATERIALS FOR THE PROJECT, AND THEN I WOULD PUT THEM INTO EITHER WHAT BEGAN AS THE SPREADSHEET. AND LATER I HIRED MY MOM, WHO'S AN ACCOUNTANT OR BOOKKEEPER, I SHOULD SAY, VERY EXPERIENCED IN THIS TO THEN DO THE PAYROLL AND PUT THE APPROPRIATE CHARGES TO BILL THEM, TO BILL THE HUMPHREYS.

Q HOW WOULD THESE ACCOUNTINGS BE SENT TO THE HUMPHREYS?

A VIA E-MAIL.

Q OKAY. SO LET'S LOOK AT THE SIXTH PAGE OF EXHIBIT 18.

A OKAY.

Q I SEE NEAR THE HOLE PUNCH, THE MIDDLE, IT SAYS "THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES."

A CORRECT.

Q OKAY. FROM THIS POINT FORWARD, DID ALL THE ACCOUNTINGS THAT YOU PROVIDED TO THE HUMPHREYS HAVE THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES ON IT?

A I BELIEVE -- I BELIEVE SO, YES.

Q DID THE HUMPHREYS EVER ASK YOU ABOUT THAT OR QUESTION IT?

A NO. I THOUGHT IT WAS CLEAR AS DAY, THEY UNDERSTOOD.

Q TOWARDS THE END OF EXHIBIT 18, STARTING ROUGHLY AT PAGE 49, WE NOW HAVE E-MAILS AS PART OF THIS EXHIBIT.

A CORRECT.

Q WERE THESE -- AND THEN YOU GOT A NUMBER OF PAGES, PERHAPS MAYBE ANOTHER 60 PAGES.

A CORRECT.

Q WERE THESE E-MAILS ASSOCIATED WITH THE TRANSMITTAL OF THE ACCOUNTING WITH THE SPARTAN ON IT TO THE HUMPHREYS?

A YES.

Q DID YOU HIRE DESIGNERS FOR THE HUMPHREYS PROJECT? OR HOW DID THAT GO AS FAR AS THE INTERIOR DESIGNING?

A I PRIMARILY DID IT, BUT I ALSO HIRED PEOPLE TO HELP ME OUT ON CERTAIN ASPECTS ON THAT.

Q AND THE DESIGNERS WHO WERE HIRED, WERE THEIR INVOICES PASSED ON THROUGH YOUR ACCOUNTING TO THE HUMPHREYS?

A YES.

Q HOW ABOUT THE ENGINEERING SERVICES, WERE THOSE PASSED ON?

A YES.

Q WERE THERE ANY OTHER DESIGN PROFESSIONALS ENGAGED WITH THIS?

A YES.

Q WHO ELSE WAS THERE?

A BRYAN LEFEVER.

Q WHAT WAS HIS PROFESSION?
A HE'S AN INTERIOR DESIGNER.
Q OKAY. AND DID BRYAN CONTRACT WITH THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES OR THE HUMPHREYS DIRECTLY?
A THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.
Q OKAY. AND THEN HE PASSED THAT ALONG?
A YES.
Q WHO ELSE DID YOU HAVE TO HIRE FOR THIS?
A I HIRED A PLUMBER, AN ELECTRICIAN, NUMEROUS UNSKILLED WORKERS. I HIRED A FOREMAN, AN ENGINEER, AN ARCHITECT, CRANE OPERATORS, METAL FABRICATORS, PEOPLE TO RE-ALIGN THE SEWER DRAIN UNDERNEATH THE HOUSE BECAUSE IT WAS ROTTEN. OTHER PEOPLE, OTHER CARPENTERS. A CONCRETE EXPERT. A CONCRETE SUBCONTRACTOR. A FIRE SPRINKLER SUBCONTRACTOR AND PAVING SUBCONTRACTOR. THAT'S WHAT'S COMING TO MIND.
Q OKAY. SIR, OF THE MONIES THAT WERE PAID, HOW MUCH OF IT WAS PAID THROUGH THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES ACCOUNT?
A I BELIEVE THAT NUMBER IS $758,000.
Q AND --
A GO AHEAD.
Q FINISH. I'M SORRY.
A OH, THAT'S FINE. THAT'S IT. $758,000.
Q OKAY. SO SOME OF IT YOU HAVE -- SOME OF THE FIRST $100,000 WENT INTO YOUR PERSONAL ACCOUNT. DID

SOME OF IT GO INTO THE SPARTAN ACCOUNT?

A 10,000 DID, YES.

Q SO 90 WENT IN YOUR PERSONAL ACCOUNT, 10 WENT INTO THE SPARTAN ACCOUNT; CORRECT?

A CORRECT.

Q AND THEN ALL THAT MONEY WAS SPENT BY SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, THE LICENSE CONTRACTOR ON THIS PROJECT; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q OF THE MONIES THAT THE HUMPHREYS SPENT ON THIS PROJECT, HOW MUCH OF IT WENT TO ADAM BEREKI, ALTHOUGH -- EVEN THOUGH YOU PAID IT OUT FOR WORKERS ON THIS?

A I'M SORRY. CAN YOU SAY THAT AGAIN?

Q SURE.

YOU HAD $100,000 IN CHECKS IN THE BEGINNING OR WIRES THAT WENT INTO -- THAT WAS MADE PAYABLE TO ADAM BEREKI; CORRECT?

A CORRECT.

Q OKAY. AND ALL THE REST OF THIS WAS ULTIMATELY MADE PAYABLE TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, OR THE CHECKS WERE, EVEN THOUGH YOU REQUESTED THAT SPARTAN ASSOCIATES WOULD DEPOSIT IT IN THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES BANK ACCOUNT; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q AND SPARTAN ASSOCIATES PERFORMED ALL THE WORK ON THIS PROJECT; CORRECT?

A YES. WELL, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THESE SUBCONTRACTORS THAT WERE HIRED, YES.

Q OKAY. THROUGH ITS SUBCONTRACTORS?

A I'M SORRY?

Q THROUGH ITS SUBCONTRACTORS --

A YES, YES. YES.

MR. RUSSO: I DON'T HAVE ANY FURTHER QUESTIONS.

THE COURT: MR. BISSELL?

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q JUST A POINT OF CLARIFICATION, MR. BEREKI. YOU TESTIFIED THAT THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES IS A LICENSED CONTRACTOR.

A YES.

Q ISN'T IT TRUE THAT THE --

A EXCUSE ME.

Q -- THE LICENSE FOR THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES HAS BEEN REVOKED BY THE CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE BOARD?

A WHAT I TESTIFIED TO WAS AT THE TIME OF THE PROJECT THE LICENSE WAS IN GOOD STANDING OR VALID, YES.

Q AND SINCE THEN IT'S BEEN REVOKED; CORRECT?

A WELL, IT WAS EXPIRED BECAUSE THE COMPANY DISSOLVED. AND WHEN THERE'S A DISSOLUTION OF A COMPANY,

THE LICENSE GOES WITH IT.

Q SIR, YOU'RE AWARE THAT THE LICENSE HAS BEEN REVOKED, AREN'T YOU?

A IT SHOWS A REVOKED STATUS, YES.

Q YOU KNOW WHY IT WAS REVOKED; CORRECT?

A I --

Q AND IT'S NOT BECAUSE THE CORPORATION IS DISSOLVED; CORRECT?

A CORRECT.

Q SO YOU HAD CONVERSATIONS WITH AN ATTORNEY IN SAN DIEGO ABOUT THE PROBLEM INVOLVING THE LICENSE. IT HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH A CORPORATION BEING DISSOLVED; IS THAT TRUE?

A I'M SORRY. SAY THAT AGAIN.

Q AS FAR AS THE REASON FOR THE LICENSE BEING REVOKED, IT HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH THE CORPORATION BEING DISSOLVED --

A NO. THE LICENSE IS NOT REVOKED BECAUSE THE CORPORATION IS DISSOLVED. I SAID THE LICENSE WAS EXPIRED BECAUSE THE CORPORATION DISSOLVED. AS OF RIGHT NOW, THE LICENSE SHOWS REVOKED, HOWEVER.

Q CORRECT.

AND THAT WAS BECAUSE OF SOME ILLEGAL ACTION TAKEN AGAINST THE LICENSE; CORRECT?

A I WOULD SAY IT WAS ILLEGAL ACTION TAKEN AGAINST THE LICENSE. AN ARBITRATION PROCEEDING WAS CONDUCTED WITHOUT MY PRESENCE, AND AN AWARD WAS ISSUED WITHOUT SPARTAN BEING ALLOWED TO ATTEND IT TO DEFEND ITSELF. THAT'S AN ILLEGAL PROCEEDING IN MY BOOK.

Q AND AS LONG AS WE ARE ON THE AREA OF THE LAW, YOU TESTIFIED TO WHAT'S REQUIRED AND WHAT ISN'T REQUIRED AS FAR AS A CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE, WHAT TYPE OF WORK REQUIRES A LICENSE, WHAT TYPE OF WORK DOESN'T. YOU HAVE TESTIFIED TO THAT.

CAN YOU TELL US BRIEFLY -- CAN YOU EXPLAIN TO US WHAT YOUR UNDERSTANDING IS OF WHAT WORK IS A LICENSE REQUIRED FOR.

A IT DEPENDS ON WHICH LICENSE YOU'RE TALKING ABOUT.

Q SAY A GENERAL BUILDING LICENSE, B LICENSE.

A A GENERAL BUILDING LICENSE, I BELIEVE YOU HAVE TO DO TWO OR MORE TRADES TO BE ABLE TO USE YOUR LICENSE ON A PROJECT. IF YOU'RE DOING THAT SINGLE TRADE, IT HAS TO BE DONE BY THAT LICENSEE.

Q DO YOU HAVE ANY KNOWLEDGE AS YOU SIT HERE TODAY AS TO WHAT TYPE OF WORK IS A LICENSE REQUIRED FOR?

A WHAT TYPE OF WORK A LICENSE IS REQUIRED FOR. I'M NOT SURE I'M UNDERSTANDING YOUR QUESTION, SIR.

Q OKAY. WELL, YOU HAVE TESTIFIED TO AS CERTAIN AREAS OF THE WORK THAT YOU SAY SPARTAN ASSOCIATES DID THAT DIDN'T REQUIRE A LICENSE.

A OKAY.

Q WELL, IF YOU KNOW WHAT A -- IF YOU KNOW THAT A LICENSE WAS NOT REQUIRED, OR YOU BELIEVE THAT YOU KNOW THAT A LICENSE WAS NOT REQUIRED FOR CERTAIN WORK, THEN THE QUESTION IS: DO YOU HAVE AN UNDERSTANDING OF WHAT KIND OF WORK A LICENSE IS REQUIRED FOR?

A YES.

Q CAN YOU TELL US?

A FRAMING, PLUMBING, ELECTRICAL, DRYWALL, ROOFING, STUCCO, CONCRETE. THOSE ARE THE ONES THAT ARE COMING TO MIND RELATIVE TO THIS PROJECT.

Q AND AS FAR AS -- HOLD ON ONE SECOND, PLEASE.

HAVE YOU EVER READ THE CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE LAW OR ANY SECTIONS OF THE CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE LAW THAT EXPLAINS WHEN A LICENSE IS REQUIRED?

A I'M SURE I HAVE, SIR.

Q OKAY. AND DO YOU KNOW -- ARE YOU FAMILIAR WITH THE TERM OF "THE WORK OF IMPROVEMENT" IN CONNECTION WITH CONTRACTING WORK?

A IMPROVEMENT?

Q HAVE YOU EVER HEARD THAT TERM BEFORE?

A HOME IMPROVEMENT I HAVE HEARD.

Q OKAY. ARE YOU FAMILIAR WITH ANY KIND OF MONETARY THRESHOLD THAT CAN'T BE CROSSED WITHOUT HAVING A CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE FOR ONE DOING HOME IMPROVEMENT WORK?

A THAT DEPENDS WHAT -- IT DEPENDS WHAT HOME

IMPROVEMENT WORK IS DEFINED AS. AND YOU CAN'T -- GO AHEAD.

Q CAN YOU TELL ME WHAT YOUR DEFINITION OF "HOME IMPROVEMENT WORK" IS?

A I REALLY HAVEN'T THOUGHT ABOUT IT BEFORE.

Q YOU HAVE MENTIONED THAT THE -- YOU SENT ACCOUNTINGS TO THE HUMPHREYS UNDER A SPARTAN ASSOCIATES HEADING. BUT THIS ALL OCCURRED SOMETIME IN JULY OF 2012?

A ALL THE INVOICES WERE NOT SENT IN JULY, NO.

Q BUT I'M TALKING ABOUT INVOICES WHERE -- THAT SHOW ANY INDICATION OF SPARTAN ASSOCIATES ON IT.

A I BELIEVE BEFORE THEN, THERE WEREN'T. IT WAS JUST AN EXCEL SPREADSHEET. AND I NOTIFIED THEM THAT I WAS DOING A ACCOUNTING CUTOVER TO THE QUICKBOOKS.

Q AND THIS ACCOUNTING CUTOVER TO THE QUICKBOOKS, THAT COINCIDED WITH THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES APPLYING TO THE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION TO REGISTER WITH THE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION AND IT COINCIDED WITH THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES APPLYING FOR WORKERS' COMP INSURANCE ON THIS JOB?

A YES.

MR. BISSELL: YOUR HONOR, I HAVE NO FURTHER QUESTIONS, BUT I MOVE INTO -- REQUEST TO BE MOVED INTO EVIDENCE EXHIBITS 341, 351, 355 -- I'M SORRY. I RETRACT EXHIBIT 341. WE DID NOT REFER TO THAT.

MR. RUSSO: SO 351, 355?
MR. BISSELL: YES.
MR. RUSSO: OKAY. I HAVE NO OBJECTION.
THE COURT: ALL RIGHT. 351 RECEIVED.
(EXHIBIT NO. 351 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)
THE COURT: 355 ALSO RECEIVED.
(EXHIBIT NO 355 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)
THE COURT: I WOULD GO AHEAD AND TAKE TEN MINUTES, RESTROOM BREAK, AND THEN COME BACK. AND MR. BEREKI MAY HAVE SOME QUESTIONS OF HIMSELF.
(RECESS.)
THE COURT: OKAY. PRESSING ON.
MR. BEREKI?
MR. BEREKI: I WOULD JUST LIKE TO GO OVER EXHIBIT 30 IN THE PLAINTIFFS' BOOK.
THE COURT: THE PHOTOGRAPHS?
MR. BEREKI: THE PHOTOGRAPH, JUST THE 30-1, SIR.
THE COURT: OKAY. I'M AT 30-1.
MR. BEREKI: I HAD TWO SIGNS, TWO SPARTAN SIGNS. ONE WAS PUT UP ON THE WATER SIDE OF THE BUILDING, THE OTHER WAS ON THE STREET SIDE. THE ASSOCIATION ASKED ME TO TAKE DOWN OR TURN DOWN THE SIGN ON THE STREET SIDE.
THE COURT: APPROXIMATELY WHAT DATE WAS THAT THAT IT WENT DOWN?
MR. BEREKI: WITHIN A COUPLE OF DAYS AFTER SPARTAN BEING ON THE PROJECT.

THE COURT: OKAY.

MR. BEREKI: THE WOMAN PATROLS THE PLACE LIKE IT'S NOBODY'S BUSINESS.

SO THEN THIS SIGN WASN'T ALWAYS ON THE OUTSIDE OF THE BUILDING HERE. IT WAS AS LONG AS I REMEMBERED IT OR OFTEN COULD TO PUT IT UP, BUT THE OTHER SIGN THAT HAD GONE ON THE FRONT OF THE BUILDING WAS INSIDE THE GARAGE.

THE COURT: WHEN YOU SAY "INSIDE THE GARAGE," YOU MEAN IT WAS HUNG ON THE WALL INSIDE THE GARAGE, OR IT WAS JUST LEFT STANDING --

MR. BEREKI: IT WAS HUNG ON THE WALL INSIDE THE GARAGE. AND ON-SITE THERE WAS ALSO --

THE COURT: WAS THE GARAGE OPEN OR CLOSED ALL THE TIME?

MR. BEREKI: DURING BUSINESS TIME, OPEN.

THE COURT: OKAY.

MR. BEREKI: WE HAD TURNED IT INTO A BARN DOOR TYPE OF THING AFTER REMOVING THE GARAGE DOORS.

ALSO ON THE SITE WAS IN-CASE-OF-AN-EMERGENCY WRITING, AND IT HAD MY PERSONAL CELL PHONE NUMBER ON IT, BUT IT SAID THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

THE COURT: OKAY.

MR. BEREKI: OR SPARTAN CONSTRUCTION, I'M SORRY.

I WOULD LIKE TO ALSO REFER TO EXHIBITS -- I BELIEVE IT'S -- THERE WAS A LEASE FOR A SHOP SPACE THAT WAS USED IN CONJUNCTION WITH THIS PROJECT. THAT LEASE

BEGAN IN MARCH OF 2012. AND THE PAYMENTS FOR THAT SHOP -- WELL, THE HUMPHREYS' FURNISHINGS WERE STORED IN THAT BUILDING BEGINNING THE DAY THAT WE BEGAN WORK ON THE PROJECT.

THE COURT: SO WAS I TO UNDERSTAND THERE WAS A SHOP AND A STORAGE SPACE?

MR. BEREKI: CORRECT.

THE COURT: GO ON.

MR. BEREKI: AND THAT SHOP SPACE WAS RENTED IN SPARTAN'S NAME.

AND FINALLY, TO SHOW SPARTAN'S HISTORY, CAN WE TURN TO EXHIBIT 39. MR. HUMPHREYS -- OR MR. RUSSO HAD ALREADY GONE OVER 39-1.

THE REMAINING EXHIBITS HERE ARE EACH OF THE SPARTAN INVOICES THAT I HAVE IN RECORD FOR ALL OF THE WORK THAT SPARTAN HAD DONE FOR THE HUMPHREYS' FAMILY MEMBERS, INCLUDING THEIR EXTENDED FAMILY MEMBERS. AND ON ALL OF THESE INVOICES, YOU WILL SEE THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES LOGO. ON MANY OF THEM, YOU WILL SEE GENERAL BUILDING CONTRACTOR WITH THE LICENSE NUMBER DOWN BELOW. THESE WERE PRIMARILY FOR MR. HUMPHREYS' SON, HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES' OFFICE BUILDING, CHRIS HUMPHREYS' MOTHER, CHRIS HUMPHREYS' MOTHER- AND FATHER-IN-LAW. AND ON EVERY PROJECT THIS IS HOW THEY WERE INVOICED.

THE COURT: OKAY. I SEE IT. NEXT.

MR. BEREKI: THAT'S ALL, YOUR HONOR.
THE COURT: MR. RUSSO, ANY FOLLOW-UP?
MR. RUSSO: NO, YOUR HONOR.
THE COURT: MR. BISSELL, HOW ABOUT YOU?
MR. BISSELL: I THINK JUST ONE OR TWO QUESTIONS, YOUR HONOR.
BY MR. BISSELL:
Q MR. BEREKI, YOU REFERENCE THE EXHIBIT, I THINK IT WAS 30.1, SHOWING A SIGN ON THE CONSTRUCTION SITE.
AND YOU'VE BEEN ON CONSTRUCTION SITES BEFORE; CORRECT?
A HAVE I BEEN ON CONSTRUCTION SITES?
Q YES. YOU'RE FAMILIAR WITH CONSTRUCTION SITES, ARE YOU NOT?
A YES.
Q IT'S PRETTY COMMON FOR ALL SORTS OF CONTRACTORS TO -- WHOEVER IS INVOLVED WITH THE JOB USUALLY CAN OR DOES HANG THEIR SIGN ON THE PROTECTIVE -- EITHER THE PROTECTIVE FENCING AT THE CONSTRUCTION SITE OR THE SITE ITSELF, ALL THE VARIOUS SUBCONTRACTORS, PAINTERS --
A THAT'S NOT BEEN MY EXPERIENCE, ACTUALLY. MOST PROJECTS THAT I HAVE SEEN, THE GENERAL IS THE ONLY ONE THAT PUTS THEIR SIGN UP BECAUSE THEY WANT THE BUSINESS TO SUBCONTRACT ALL THE OTHER SUBS.
Q SO FROM YOUR EXPERIENCE, IT'S NOT -- IT'S NOT USUAL OR IT'S UNUSUAL FOR A SUBCONTRACTOR TO HAVE HIS SIGN ON THE PROJECT?

A I CANNOT RECALL A PROJECT WHERE I HAVE SEEN A SUBCONTRACTOR'S SIGN ON THE PROJECT. THE ONES THAT ARE COMING TO MIND RIGHT NOW ARE -- ESPECIALLY ONE AT MY GYM, SNYDER LANGSTON, THERE ARE PROBABLY 20 SUBCONTRACTORS WORKING THERE AND NOT ONE HAS A SIGN UP EXCEPT FOR SNYDER LANGSTON BECAUSE THEY'RE THE GENERAL.

Q IF YOU WILL FLIP TO EXHIBIT 48 IN THE DEFENDANTS' -- TAB 48, EXHIBIT 348 IN THE DEFENDANTS' BOOKLET.

A 48 YOU SAID, SIR?

Q YES. TAB 48. ACTUALLY EXHIBIT 348.

A OKAY.

I'M HERE.

Q FLIPPING TO PAGE 048-002.

A OKAY.

Q DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS DOCUMENT?

A I BELIEVE SO.

Q YOU TESTIFIED THAT YOU ENTERED IN A SHOP LEASE AS THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES, OR DID I MISUNDERSTAND YOU?

A NO, I DID. I BELIEVE I DID.

Q IF YOU WILL FLIP TO PAGE 048-006 --

A RIGHT.

Q -- PARAGRAPH 1.1. CAN YOU TELL US WHO IT SAYS THE LESSEES ARE.

A GLENN OVERLEY AND ADAM BEREKI, JOINTLY AND SEPARATELY, GO DOORS AND SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q DOING BUSINESS AS; CORRECT? YOU FORGOT THE DBA.

A DBA GO DOORS/SPARTAN ASSOCIATES. GO DOORS IS GLEN'S COMPANY AND SPARTAN ASSOCIATES IS -- I'M THE SHAREHOLDER. IT'S MY COMPANY, SPARTAN ASSOCIATES.

Q AND IF YOU FLIP TO PAGE 48-039.

A 039?

Q 039, THE SAME EXHIBIT.

A OKAY.

Q THE BOTTOM OF THE PAGE FOR LESSEES, WHO IS SIGNING THIS LEASE?

A ADAM BEREKI ON BEHALF OF SPARTAN.

Q ARE YOU -- DO YOU HAVE A DIFFERENT PAGE THAN I HAVE? I DON'T SEE "ON BEHALF OF SPARTAN." DO YOU SEE "ON BEHALF OF SPARTAN" THERE?

A WELL, AS THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES REPRESENTATIVE, YES. I SIGN MY NAME ON THE BACK OF THE SPARTAN CHECKS TOO. SAME THING. IT SAYS ABOVE, "THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES."

THE COURT: I'M SORRY. WHERE ARE YOU POINTING WHEN YOU SAY IT SHOWS ABOVE THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

THE WITNESS: AT THE VERY TOP OF THE DOCUMENT, IT SAYS "LEASE MODIFICATION AGREEMENT, GLENN OVERLEY AND ADAM BEREKI, JOINT AND SEPARATELY, GO DOORS, DBA SPARTAN ASSOCIATES."

THE COURT: THANK YOU.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU. NO FURTHER QUESTIONS, YOUR HONOR.

MR. RUSSO: JUST MOVE INTO ADMISSION EXHIBIT 30-1.

THE COURT: ANY OBJECTION FOR 30-1?

MR. RUSSO: THE PICTURE WITH THE SIGN.

MR. BISSELL: NO OBJECTION, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: 30-1 IS RECEIVED.

(EXHIBIT NO 30-1 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)

MR. BISSELL: YOUR HONOR, WE REQUEST MOVING INTO EVIDENCE EXHIBIT --

THE COURT: WAIT A SECOND. LET ME GET TO -- AND MR. BISSELL?

MR. BISSELL: EXHIBIT 348.

THE COURT: IN ITS ENTIRETY.

MR. BISSELL: YES.

THE COURT: ANY OBJECTION?

MR. RUSSO: NO OBJECTION.

MR. BEREKI: NO OBJECTION.

THE COURT: 348 RECEIVED.

(EXHIBIT NO. 348 WAS ADMITTED INTO EVIDENCE.)

THE COURT: THANK YOU, SIR. YOU MAY STEP DOWN.

THE WITNESS: THANK YOU.

MR. BISSELL: YOUR HONOR, CROSS-COMPLAINANTS REST ON THE FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION --

THE COURT: WELL, HOLD ON A SECOND. I'M LOOKING FOR A LITTLE CLARIFICATION BEFORE YOU CAN SAY REST --

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU.

THE COURT: -- BECAUSE WHAT I SEE CONTAINED -- GIVE ME A SECOND TO FIND IT.

EXHIBIT 32-2, THIS IS THE PLAINTIFFS' VARIATION OR THE PLAINTIFFS' ITERATION OF THE EXHIBIT YOU OFFERED, BUT WE DIDN'T WANT TO DOUBLE DOWN.

MR. BISSELL: THE COMPILATION OF CHECKS?

THE COURT: COMPILATION OF CHECKS WHICH WE WENT OVER IN SOME DETAIL. AND SO WHAT I SEE ARE BASICALLY A SERIES OF CHECKS WRITTEN DIRECTLY ON THE ACCOUNT OF YOUR CLIENTS. AND THEN I SEE A SERIES OF CHECKS WRITTEN ON THE ACCOUNT OF HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, INC. WHICH IS NOT A PARTY IN THIS ACTION. WHILE THERE'S TESTIMONY AT THIS TIME MR. HUMPHREYS IS THE SOLE SHAREHOLDER OF THE CORPORATION, ADMITTEDLY AN S CORPORATION, ALTHOUGH AN S CORPORATION ONLY HAS CERTAIN TAX RAMIFICATIONS, IT DOESN'T REALLY CHANGE THE NATURE OF THE CORPORATE ENTITY, PER SE, IN TERMS OF ITS PERSONHOOD.

SO THE QUESTION IS: HOW DO YOUR CLIENTS FIT INTO THE PICTURE IN TERMS OF RECOVERY? SHOULD THEY RECOVER FOR CHECKS THAT A SEPARATE LEGAL ENTITY WROTE?

MR. BISSELL: I CAN HAVE MR. HUMPHREYS ADDRESS THAT ISSUE. WOULD YOU LIKE HIM TO RE-TAKE THE STAND AND I CAN ASK HIM ABOUT THAT?

THE COURT: WELL, IT'S YOUR CASE. I AM NOT TRYING TO TRY YOUR CASE.

MR. BISSELL: IF THE COURT HAS A QUESTION, I WOULD LIKE TO ADDRESS --

THE COURT: I THINK MR. RUSSO HAS RAISED THE ISSUE. THAT IS CERTAINLY WHAT I WAS HEARING FROM THE TEN OR SO QUESTIONS MR. RUSSO WAS ASKING. IT'S A FAIR QUESTION THAT NEEDS TO BE ADDRESSED EITHER IN TERMS OF TESTIMONY OF MR. HUMPHREYS AND/OR, I DON'T KNOW, MAYBE YOU WANT TO CONSIDER AMENDING THE COMPLAINT. THAT'S NOT WITHIN MY PURVIEW OF THIS. AND I'M SURE MR. RUSSO WOULD HAVE AN OBJECTION TO THAT, OR MR. BEREKI.

MR. BISSELL: I AM REQUESTING THAT I RECALL MR. HUMPHREYS TO THE STAND SO THAT WE CAN CLARIFY THAT ISSUE FOR THE COURT.

THE COURT: LET'S DO THAT.

MR. BISSELL: OKAY. GO AHEAD.

THE COURT: COME ON DOWN, MR. HUMPHREYS. YOU'RE STILL UNDER OATH. IT DIDN'T WEAR OFF.

FURTHER DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q MR. HUMPHREYS, IF YOU WILL TURN TO, IN THE DEFENDANTS' EXHIBIT BOOK --

A OURS?

Q THAT'S OURS.

-- EXHIBIT 315.

A 15?

THE COURT: TAB 15.

THE WITNESS: TAB 15, I'M THERE.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q ARE YOU THERE?

A YES.

Q AND YOU HAVE TESTIFIED THAT THIS WAS A COMPILATION OF CHECKS THAT YOU PREPARED UNDER YOUR DIRECTION ON YOUR ACCOUNT; CORRECT?

A YES.

Q NOW, YOU WILL SEE BEGINNING WITH CHECK DESIGNATED AS NUMBER 11 --

THE COURT: YOU KNOW WHAT, LET'S TAKE THE EXHIBIT THAT WAS RECEIVED, WHICH IS EXHIBIT 32.

THE WITNESS: OUT OF THE OTHER BOOK?

THE COURT: OUT OF THE BIG BOOK.

MR. BISSELL: OKAY.

THE COURT: MR. RUSSO WILL BE HAPPY TO SHARE THAT BOOK WITH YOU. IN PARTICULAR, 32 HAS THE BACKUP IN TERMS OF COPIES OF THE CHECKS THAT WERE WRITTEN. SO IT'S A LITTLE EASIER TO DELINEATE WHICH ONES WERE WRITTEN ON THE HUMPHREYS' PERSONAL ACCOUNT AND WHICH ONES WERE WRITTEN -- WERE DONE VIA A WIRE TRANSFER, WHICH ONES WERE DONE VIA CHECKS ON THE

HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, INCORPORATED ACCOUNT.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q ARE YOU WITH ME ON --

A I'M AT 32 --

Q DASH TWO?

A DASH TWO.

Q OKAY. NOW, DOES THAT APPEAR TO BE -- ASIDE FROM RED CHECKMARKS AND SOME BLUE INK NOTATIONS, DOES THAT APPEAR TO BE THE SAME CHECK COMPILATION THAT YOU HAD PREPARED UNDER YOUR DIRECTION?

A YES.

Q IF YOU WILL NOTICE, BEGINNING WITH CHECK 11 THROUGH -- SORRY.

THE COURT: 17?

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q IF YOU FLIP TO EXHIBIT 32-12, SAME EXHIBIT, JUST THE BACKUP --

A OKAY. I'M THERE.

Q ALL RIGHT. YOU WILL SEE THAT THAT'S A CHECK DATED JULY 31ST, 2013, AND THAT'S DRAWN ON HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES' BANK ACCOUNT?

A YES.

Q ALL RIGHT. IS THERE A REASON WHY THIS CHECK WAS DRAWN ON THE ACCOUNT OF HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES?

A YES.

Q CAN YOU TELL US WHY THAT WAS?

A QUITE A FEW OF THE TIMES. THIS WAS WHEN I HAD A LARGE PROJECT GOING IN TEXAS. I WASN'T IN TOWN. AND ADAM WOULD CALL AND SAY, "I NEED MONEY RIGHT AWAY." AND I WOULD SAY, "SEND IT, OFFICE," AND EITHER BOB OR CHRIS, THE TWO THAT HAVE SIGNATURE AUTHORITY, WOULD SEND IT. AND THEN THEY WOULD FACTOR IT UP AND THROW IT ON MY W-2. SO IT'S JUST AN EXPEDIENCY MEANS.

Q LET'S NOT GO QUITE SO FAST THROUGH THAT BECAUSE I DIDN'T QUITE FOLLOW THAT.

THE COURT: I AM GLAD I WASN'T THE ONLY ONE.

THE WITNESS: OKAY.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q YOU ARE SAYING THERE WAS TIMES WHEN YOU WERE OUT OF TOWN AND MR. BEREKI WOULD CALL AND SAY I NEED PAYMENT?

A YES.

Q AND YOU WEREN'T AVAILABLE TO ISSUE A CHECK ON YOUR OWN ACCOUNT?

A THAT'S RIGHT.

Q SO YOU CALL SOMEBODY FROM HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES AND SAY I NEED YOU TO CUT A CHECK TO MR. BEREKI OR SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

A EXACTLY.

Q AND THEY WOULD DO THAT?

A YES.

Q AND WAS THERE A RECONCILIATION AS FAR AS THE PAYMENT MADE BY THE COMPANY AND YOU REIMBURSING THE COMPANY FOR ANY PAYMENTS MADE BY THEM AT MR. BEREKI'S REQUEST?

A YES. EVERY QUARTER THEY HAVE TO FACTOR IT UP FOR TAXES AND PAY THE IRS AND THE STATE.

Q SO --

A SO IT WAS JUST AN EXPEDIENCY MEANS.

Q I UNDERSTAND IT'S EXPEDIENCY.

BUT IS IT TRUE THAT, FOR INSTANCE, CHECK NUMBER 32-12 MADE PAYABLE TO THE SPARTAN ASSOCIATES FOR $90,000, YOU, MR. HUMPHREYS, AND YOUR WIFE, MRS. HUMPHREYS, PERSONALLY ENDED UP PAYING THAT AMOUNT?

A THAT'S CORRECT.

Q WOULD THE SAME BE TRUE FOR CHECK NUMBER 32-13?

A YES.

Q ANY CHANGE IN THAT? ANY DIFFERENCE IN THE PROCESS?

A SAME PROCESS EVERY TIME.

Q DID YOU, IN FACT, PAY HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES $95,000 AS REIMBURSEMENT FOR THEIR CHECK NUMBER 16819 PAYABLE TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

THE COURT: PERHAPS A BETTER QUESTION WOULD BE, DEFINE OR DESCRIBE WHAT FACTORING IT UP WOULD ENTAIL, PLEASE.

MR. BISSELL: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

BY MR. BISSELL:

Q OKAY. FACTORING IT UP --

A SO TO YIELD --

Q NO. JUST TELL US WHAT FACTORING IT UP IS, PLEASE.

A FOR ME TO HAVE A $95,000 CHECK, I PROBABLY HAD -- I'M THROWING OUT A NUMBER -- 140,000 OF TAXABLE INCOME, AND THE DIFFERENCE WENT TO THE IRS OR STATE AT THE END OF EACH QUARTER. AM I MAKING SENSE NOW? IN OTHER WORDS, KAREN AND I PAID FOR EVERY BIT OF THESE THAT SAY HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES AT THE END OF EACH QUARTER.

Q HOW WAS THAT DONE?

A ON MY QUARTERLY INCOME TAX ESTIMATED PAYMENTS.

Q WELL, THAT'S YOUR QUARTERLY INCOME TAX ESTIMATED PAYMENTS. HOW IS HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES REIMBURSED FOR THE $95,000 REPRESENTED ON THEIR CHECK TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES THAT'S EXHIBIT 32-13? HOW WERE THEY REIMBURSED?

A BY KAREN AND I EARNING THE INCOME, 140,000 OR WHATEVER. AND THEN 45 WENT TO THE STATE OR FEDS AND THE REST WENT TO HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES.

Q SO WHEN YOU SAY "FACTOR UP," ARE YOU SAYING THAT PAYMENT TO YOU THAT YOU EARNED, INCOME TO YOU FROM HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, WAS DEDUCTED FROM YOUR PAY BASED ON CHECKS THEY HAD WRITTEN TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES AND

MR. HUMPHREYS (SIC)?

A YES.

Q IS THAT WHAT "FACTORING IT UP" MEANS?

A THAT'S A TERM THAT I HAVE USED. SORRY. YES.

Q AND WAS THAT THE SAME ACROSS THE BOARD WITH ALL CHECKS WRITTEN ON HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES, INC. CHECKS TO MR. HUMPHREYS -- TO MR. BEREKI OR SPARTAN ASSOCIATES?

A YES, IT IS.

Q AND ON EACH OF THOSE CHECKS, WAS THERE WHAT YOU CALL FACTORING UP; I.E., THEY DEDUCTED FROM YOU INCOME THAT YOU HAD EARNED WORKING FOR THE COMPANY AND APPLIED THE INCOME TO THEMSELVES AS REIMBURSEMENT?

A YES, THAT'S EXACTLY RIGHT. AM I EXPLAINING IT VERY WELL? ARE WE OKAY?

MR. BISSELL: I HAVE NO FURTHER QUESTIONS, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: WE WILL FIND OUT AFTER MR. RUSSO AND MR. BEREKI HAVE THEIR CHANCE TO ASK YOU QUESTIONS.

FURTHER CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q WHY DO YOU HAVE A CORPORATION, SIR?

A WHY DO I HAVE A CORPORATION?

MR. BISSELL: OBJECTION. RELEVANCY.

THE COURT: YOU CAN ANSWER.

THE WITNESS: TO PROVIDE CONSULTING SERVICES TO MY CLIENTS.

BY MR. RUSSO:

Q AND AS THE SHAREHOLDER, THAT SHIELDS YOU FROM PERSONAL LIABILITY; CORRECT?

A IN A SMALL FASHION, YES.

Q OKAY. AND THE HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES FILES ITS OWN TAX RETURNS EVERY YEAR?

A AS AN S CORP, I BELIEVE THEY FLOW IT THROUGH TO ME.

Q SO THE COMPANY FILES A TAX RETURN AND YOU GET A K-1; CORRECT?

A I DON'T REMEMBER THE NUMBER, BUT I KNOW I GET A FORM.

Q OKAY.

A OKAY.

Q YOUR PROFITS; CORRECT?

A SAY AGAIN?

Q YOUR PROFITS FROM THE COMPANY; CORRECT?

A PROFITS OR LOSSES.

Q AND YOU ALSO GET A W-2 FROM THE COMPANY AS AN EMPLOYEE FOR YOUR SALARY; CORRECT?

A CORRECT.

Q OKAY. AND AT NO POINT IN TIME DID YOU EVER WRITE A CHECK BACK TO HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES FOR ANY OF

THESE CHECKS THAT WERE WRITTEN TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES; CORRECT?

A WELL, BECAUSE THEY HANDLED IT IN THE ACCOUNTING.

Q OKAY. ULTIMATELY ALL YOU'RE SAYING IS YOU HAD TO ACCOUNT FOR IT AS REVENUE; CORRECT?

A SAY AGAIN?

Q ULTIMATELY, ALL YOU'RE SAYING IS YOU HAD TO ACCOUNT FOR IT AS REVENUE; CORRECT?

A REVENUE?

Q YES.

A I DON'T UNDERSTAND. TRY ME AGAIN.

Q YOU'RE SAYING THAT YOU -- THIS MONEY THAT HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES PAID ULTIMATELY WAS ATTRIBUTED TO YOU AS REVENUE ON YOUR W-2; CORRECT?

A WHEN YOU SAY "REVENUE," PART OF MY PAYROLL? IS THAT WHAT YOU'RE SAYING?

Q YES.

A OKAY.

Q BUT AT NO POINT IN TIME DID YOU WRITE A CHECK BACK TO HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES FOR THESE PAYMENTS IT MADE TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES; CORRECT?

A I HAVE AN INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR. THEY LOOK AT EVERY LITTLE NUMBER EVERY QUARTER AND SIGN OFF. THERE'S NO GAIN -- I WORK IN THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT BUSINESS. THERE ARE NO GAMES TO BE PLAYED

EVEN IF ONE WAS SO INCLINED TO DO SO.

Q THE ANSWER TO THE QUESTION IS NO, YOU DID NOT WRITE CHECKS BACK TO HUMPHREYS & ASSOCIATES FOR THE MONIES PAID TO SPARTAN ASSOCIATES; CORRECT?

A OKAY.

MR. RUSSO: THANK YOU. NO FURTHER QUESTIONS.

THE COURT: MR. BEREKI, HOW ABOUT YOU?

MR. BEREKI: I DO, JUST A COUPLE, YOUR HONOR.

FURTHER CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. BEREKI:

Q DO YOU CARRY YOUR PERSONAL CHECKBOOK WITH YOU WHEN YOU TRAVEL?

A NO.

Q DO YOU CARRY A BUSINESS CHECKBOOK WITH YOU WHEN YOU TRAVEL?

A NO.

Q HOW DO YOU PAY FOR CORPORATE EXPENSES WHEN YOU TRAVEL?

A WITH A CREDIT CARD OR CASH.

Q OKAY. DURING THE PROJECT, DID WE EVER HAVE DISCUSSIONS ABOUT SETTING UP A REGULAR PAY SCHEDULE SO THAT THERE WOULDN'T BE ISSUES AROUND EXPEDIENCY, AS YOU CALL THEM?

A I DON'T REMEMBER IF WE DID.

Q THERE WAS NUMEROUS TIMES. I WILL REPRESENT TO YOU THAT WE SPOKE ABOUT --

THE COURT: YOU'RE NOT TESTIFYING YET.

MR. BEREKI: OKAY. NO FURTHER QUESTIONS.

THE COURT: MR. BISSELL?

MR. BISSELL: PARDON ME?

THE COURT: ANY MORE ON YOUR SIDE?

MR. BISSELL: NO, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: THANK YOU, MR. HUMPHREYS. YOU CAN STEP DOWN.

THE WITNESS: THANKS.

THE COURT: AND WITH THAT, I TAKE IT --

MR. BISSELL: WE REST, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: REST AS TO THIS PHASE?

MR. BISSELL: AS TO THE FIRST PHASE.

THE COURT: MR. RUSSO?

MR. RUSSO: SPARTAN ASSOCIATES RESTS AS TO THIS PHASE.

THE COURT: MR. BEREKI?

MR. BEREKI: I REST, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: I WISH I COULD REST. LET'S DO THIS. I NEED TO THINK ABOUT THIS A LITTLE BIT AND LOOK AT YOUR EXHIBITS. LET'S RE-JOIN TOMORROW MORNING, 9:30.

MR. RUSSO: YOUR HONOR --

THE COURT: LET'S SEE WHERE WE GO AFTER THAT.

MR. RUSSO: OKAY.

MR. BEREKI: THANK YOU, YOUR HONOR.

THE COURT: GOOD NIGHT, EVERYBODY.

WERE HELD IN OPEN COURT.)

THE COURT: GOOD MORNING, EVERYBODY.

MR. RUSSO: GOOD MORNING, YOUR HONOR.
